REGULAR MISSISSIPPI delegates refused to accept a compromise of a credentials dispute calling for them to take oaths to support the national ticket. Representatives of the Mississippi Freedom group would attend the convention as "honored guests", except for two who would be seated as official delegates-at-large. Few regulars signed the oath and accepted the compromise. Most refused, and some left the convention.

HAVING CAUSED 200 million dollars in damage to the Florida peninsula, Hurricane Cleo was reported by forecasters to have lost most of its fury. The hurricane's force was cut to 75 miles an hour, though parts of north Florida and Georgia coasts were still being rampaged. Luckily, there were no Florida deaths recorded as a result of the severe weather.

NEGOTIATIONS resumed in the 50-day-old Detroit newspaper strike, the longest walk-out in Detroit's newspaper history. Mediators met with both unions, and talks were to reconvene Tuesday at the Sheration Cadillac Hotel. Malcolm Lovell, chairman of the Michigan State Mediation Board, said the talks were encouraging, but would not disclose any hint of settlement. Meanwhile, 100 non-striking workers picketed in front of the Free Press building protesting conditions.

CONGRESS got back to work Monday with several highly controversial matters blocking an early adjournment. The Senate opened debate on the "Medicare" program, a proposal which is a rider to a House passed bill to give a 5 per cent boost in cash retirement benefits for persons receiving Social Security. The House refused to approve the Medicare plan. There are also the reapportionment issue, and a limited health-care package sponsored by Senator Abraham Ribicoff, pending. One piece of legislation did get through as President Johnson signed the food stamp bill Monday night.

HOPES OF THE EASING of tensions in one of the world's major trouble spots was stilled as the Geneva Conference with its efforts to solve the Cyprus situation, came to a dead stop. Dea Achinson, former secretary of state, announced that he will return home to the United States in the middle of the week. Forecasters predict new outbreaks of violence in the fear-ridden Cyprus.

Awaits Landscaping to Hide Nakedness

The new library on the High School campus will be put into use when the students return to classes next Thursday, September 10. The addition to the school facilities stands starkly in the midst of the expanded parking area. Plans have been made to do extensive planting around the building, which needs it. It is to be hoped the Board of Education doesn't skimp. The expanse of bare brick needs a lot of clothing.

All Bond Issues Proposed by City Beaten by Voters

Electorate Rejects Proposals to Improve Condemned Sewer System, Buy Neighborhood Club Land and Finance Public Works Garage

Despite urgent pleas from City officials, voters in Grosse Pointe City soundly defeated all three proposed City bond issues Tuesday. The bonds, if approved, would have raised property taxes by approximately $3.99 per $1,000 assessment over a period of 20 years.

At the same time, three amendments to the City charter were easily approved, leading City Manager John Cantwell to call the results "half a victory."

The half lost was the expensive half. Proposal A was a $100,000 request for funds to pay for a new Department of Public Works garage which is now near completion on a site behind the City offices in Maumee avenue near St. Clair avenue. This proposal was beaten, 1,062 to 659.

Mr. Cantwell said the garage will still be paid for, but the money will have to come from cutting back on a projected curb and sidewalk program, from selling City-owned land for an estimated $50,000, and from anticipated taxes.

Club's Deal Also Beaten

Proposal B, defeated by 961 to 741, would have provided a $200,000 package for additions to the City's recreation area by the purchase of six acres of land belonging to the Neighborhood Club.

And Proposal C was a re-

Expert Tells Citizens of School Needs

Advisory Group Hears Detailed Report After Survey by Dr. Felix J. McCormick

"My basic recommendation is for the Grosse Pointe Public School System to build a high school to accommodate from 1500 to 1700 students." This was among the major conclusions presented Monday night by Dr. Felix J. McCormick to the Citizens' Advisory Committee meeting at the Grosse Pointe Public Library.

Dr. McCormick, the professional consultant retained by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education to survey school plant needs of the district, with special attention to the senior high school area, presented an oral report based upon his exhaustive and comprehensive study.

The field of his research included the history of the school district and the community, population and enrollment trends in the local and metropolitan area, a careful scrutiny of the floor plans of all the existing buildings in the school system, and two personal inspection tours of Grosse Pointe.

Late Surge Gives Winner Narrow Edge

Nedzi Overcomes 2,000-Vote Deficit In Final Tally From 288 Precincts

A late surge of votes in the 14th Congressional District's Democratic primary gave Congressman Lucien Nedzi a narrow victory over Congressman Harold M. Ryan in one of the most hotly contested battles in Michigan's primary election this week.

The final tally of the 288 precincts in the Fourteenth showed Nedzi polled 26,801 to Ryan's 23,942 votes.

Nedzi, who is rounding out his first term in Congress, will face George Bashara, 711 Balfour, Grosse Pointe Park, in the general election November 3.

Ryan, who has represented the Grosse Pointes in Congress since 1962, took an early lead in the ballotting, but fell behind when late tabulations came in Wednesday morning. He and Nedzi were thrown into the same district by a reapportionment of Michigan's 19 congressional districts this year.

Bashara, 63-year-old attorney and veteran Republican party worker, easily outpolled his three opponents in the Republican primary. They were Frank J. Skierski, 50, of Hamtramck, former First District chairman; Alexander W. Strong, 52, Hamtramck, restaurant owner, and Larry Ruther, 32, 985 Nottingham, Grosse Pointe Park, a contractor.

In the main statewide election, Gov. George Romney trounced his lone Republican challenger, former State Senator George N. Higgins, by an 8-1 margin.

Higgins, Ferndale auto dealer and chairman of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, campaigned against a state income tax and for the election of Senator Barry Goldwater as President. Romney so far has declined ot give Goldwater his endorsement.

Congressman - at - Large Neil Staebler was unopposed in his bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

A three-way contest for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate ended in victory for Mrs. Elly Peterson, of Charlotte.

Mrs. Peterson, who recently was assistant national chairman of the Republican party, defeated James F. O'Neil, of Livonia, member of the State Board of Education, and Edward A. Meany, Grand Haven sales manager.

She is the first woman ever to be nominated for the Senate in the State's history.

Her November opponent will be Senator Philip A. Hart, Democrat, who is finishing his first term. He had no primary opposition.

Albert J. Thorburn, 44, of 521 Lakepointe, Grosse Pointe Park, won the GOP nomination for the First District of the State Senate, defeating four other con-

Bar Owners To Challenge LCC Decision

Verdonckts Claim Penalty Too Stiff for Charged First Violation

The owners of a Park bar, who have been penalized by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, on a charge of serving minors, announced that they will appeal. The confiscation of their Class C license has been withheld pending an appeal hearing.

Challenging the commission's ruling are Maurice and Albertine Verdonckt of 15300 Mack avenue, owners of the Verdonckt Bar.

As owners of the bar, the Verdonckts were charged with selling to minors and allowing minors to consume on the premises, although they were not aware of the offense.

A newly hired bartender was responsible for the law infraction, but under State law, owners of establishments selling alcoholic beverages for consumption are held liable, whether or not they are aware that minors are, or have been served.

Seven-Day Suspension

The Verdonckts are appealing a seven-day suspension of the license, effective September 21, and a fine of $150, and a 30-day additional suspension if the fine is not paid. The penalty was imposed on July 11.

The bar owners had taken advantage of a recent LCC policy which permits persons charged with liquor law violations to accept a verdict by the commission without a defense hearing.

The Verdonckts, according to

Public Schools to Open Thursday, Sept. 10; Staff Meetings Being Conducted

Conferences Necessary to Smooth Start of New Term; Dr. George Walter to Address All Teachers at Parcells Wednesday

With all members of the administrative and supervisory staff of the Grosse Pointe Public School System on duty since Monday of this week, final plans for the opening of school have been formulated. The administrative staff met Tuesday morning to review plans, assignments and other matters prior to the opening of the school year.

The Experience Workshop for new employes of the professional staff is being conducted Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week. The three-day session provides opportunities for the new teachers to have a thorough briefing on policies and procedures of the school system in general, and of their assigned buildings in particular.

Tuesday and Wednesday, September 8 and 9, will be devoted by the schools' staff to a series of meetings and conferences necessary for the beginning of the year. Major meeting of the two-day series has been scheduled for 10:30 a.m. in the auditorium of Parcells Junior High School.

Dr. Walter to Speak

The principal address at this occasion will be provided by Dr. George Walter, Director of Teacher Education at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis. Others who will greet the assemblage of school system employes will include Edward J. Pongracz, president of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, Dr. Charles H. Wilson, Superintendent of Schools, and Paul Jablonski, president of the Grosse Pointe Teachers' Association.

Jablonski, chairman of the session, will present Dr. Wilson, who will deliver his greetings to the staff. Pongracz is slated to introduce Dr. Walter.

A football star in both high school and college, Dr. Walter now feels that the highest achievement of all undergraduate days was being chosen college poet laureate. A graduate of Lawrence College, Dr. Walter completed his graduate work at Ohio State University.

A former high school English teacher and coach, Dr. Walter has also held a number of important administrative posts in education. These include the principalship of Washington Park High School in Racine, Wisconsin, and seven years' service as Dean of Men at Lawrence College.

Likes Big Outdoors

A college professor during the academic year, Dr. Walter spends his summers swinging an axe and hiking the trails in the back country of Glacier Park, Montana, working for the National Park Service.

Throughout the years he has maintained his interest in athletics and has also been active in the community theater movement.

Dr. Walter, well-known as a speaker throughout Wisconsin has a reputation for dynamism, humor and throught-provoking wit in his presentations. It is expected that his timely remarks will set a lively pace for the two-day series of meetings that precede the beginning of classes in all schools of The Grosse Pointe Public School System on Thursday, September 10.

During the afternoon and all day Wednesday, the total staff will be involved in departmental, guidance, and grade group meetings within the various school buildings.

SANS TIRE-WHEEL

George Wilson of 22813 Sunnyside, St. Clair Shores, parked his car near the north fence of the Woods Theater lot on Thursday, August 27, while attending a movie. He told Woods police that when he returned to the vehicle, he discovered that someone had stolen the left front tire and wheel. He did not give the value.

Piggy Bank Thief Also Gets Shoes

Daylight Robbery in Park Home Consummated During Half Hour House Was Empty

A burglar broke into a Park home in broad daylight, during a half hour absence of the housewife, and stole the contents of a piggy bank, and exchanged a pair of worn shoes for a pair belonging to the woman's husband.

Entered was the home of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Fiscus, 979 Balfour road. The burglary occurred between 10:15 a.m., at which time Mrs. Fiscus left the house, and 10:45 a.m., the time of her return, on Monday, August 31.

Mrs. Fiscus told investigating officers that when she arrived home, she discovered that the window of the side door had been broken, but the door locked. She called authorities immediately.

The policemen established that the burglar had entered the house and checked dresser drawers in the bedrooms. In the master bedroom, the thief found a piggy bank, which he broke open and pocketed approximately $3 in change. Before leaving, he took off his shoes, and exchanged them for a pair belonging to Mr. Fiscus.

Mrs. Fiscus said that as she was leaving the house, she noticed a white male, about 40-45 years old, six feet tall, weighing about 170 pounds, blond hair and unshaven, and wearing a blue jacket and pants, near her house.

She said the stranger walked about two houses away, then walked toward her residence. She said she thought nothing of this, and left the premises.

Police Chief Arthur Louwers said that the suspect appeared to have walked on Jefferson, coming from Detroit, and saw Mrs. Fiscus leaving, and apparently decided to break into her home.

GAS RATES CUT

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company on Tuesday, September 1, reduced its rates by $1,725,000 a year, in conformity with an order of the Michigan Public Service Commission, agreed upon after discussions with the utility. The rate reduction will apply to September bills, which generally reflect customers' use of gas during the previous 30 days. The average saving to Detroit area customers who heat their homes with gas will be $1.63 per year.

Township Vote Ousts Putnam

Incumbent Supervisor Ernest C. Putnam of the Township of Grosse Pointe (Grosse Pointe Shores) was voted out of office Tuesday in an upset election.

He was beaten in the Republican primary by Robert A. Hackathorn. The vote was 372 for Mr. Hackathorn, 318 for Mr. Putnam. Mr. Putnam had been supervisor of the township, a non-paying job carrying a two-year term, since 1950.

In other voting in the primary election, Thomas K. Jefferis, renominated for clerk; Adolph L. Damman for treasurer, Gilbert T. Jerome for trustee, and Victor H. DeBaeke for justice of the peace.

Fred Duemling, Albert J. Klick, Stanley Vernier and Melvin Yacks were nominated for constables.

Nomination is considered tantamount to election in the township. There were no Democratic candidates on the primary ballot, and Mr. Jefferis said none is expected to be named.

Political Signs Violating Law

Police officers of the five Pointe departments have been instructed to tear down all political signs posted anywhere on public property, it was disclosed by the respective police chiefs on Thursday, August 27.

It was revealed that not only do the signs clutter up the neighborhoods and create an unsightly atmosphere, but city ordinances prohibit posting of any type of signs on public property.

Persons apprehended putting up signs on public property are subject to fines and imprisonment, or both, according to the laws of each community.

It was pointed out, however, that the posting of signs on private properties is another matter, and is not covered by any ordinance, if property owners allow such posting.

Durant Retains District Power

Richard C. Durant apparently retained his tight hold over the 14th District Republican organization in Tuesday's primary elections, though once again taking a personal licking from State Rep. Robert Waldron.

With returns incomplete from all 288 precincts in the district, Durant was considered to have held his lead, losing strength in some areas, but gaining delegates from the Pointes.

Durant himself was beaten, 385 to 114. In addition, his two brothers-in-law, Earl and Palmer T. Heenan, were also defeated in their bids. Earl by Wilber M. Brucker, Palmer by Kenneth W. Kurtz.

But Durant claimed gains in the third and fifth precincts of Grosse Pointe Park, where Szabolcz Mesterhazy and Ralph S. Young Jr. were elected as pro-Durant delegates, and in Grosse Pointe Farms, where at least one of his supporters, James R. Teetzel, was elected.

Durant's regular party organization, fought bitterly by the Republican Citizens-14th District organization, already had four delegates in Grosse Pointe Woods.

GP Park Police Break Up Crime Ring of Teenagers

A beam of a probing flashlight during the early morning hours of Thursday, August 27, was spotted by Park police cruising silently in the streets and resulted in the arrest of three teenage Detroit boys pilfering parked automobiles.

At 3:45 a.m., Sgt. Thomas Martin and Patrolman Richard Warren, were cruising on Wayburn when Martin observed a flashing beam of light near a parked car.

The police car rolled silently on the street and pulled up alongside a parked car in which two youths sat. The officers jumped out, and Martin placed the youths under arrest.

In the meantime, two other teenagers, who were rifling parked cars, saw the policemen and fled away on foot, Warren in pursuit, also on foot. The chase led through back yards and over fences.

In one back yard, the fleeing youths separated, one fled in to the left and escaped and the other continued on his course and ran into an open garage in the 1300 block of Wayburn, and hid under an automobile inside.

While Warren was engaged in the chase, Martin radioed for assistance and two other Park car crews were dispatched to help in taking John Coleman, 18, of 5233 Fischer, and a 16-year-old boy, to the station.

At the garage, Warren, with service revolver drawn, ordered the hiding youth to come out from under the car. The boy, Buford Langford, 18, of 3357 Heidelberg, emerged and surrendered without incident. He was taken to the station.

Summer Use of Schools' Pools Called Impractical

In response to a Letter to the Editor which appears in today's issue, the question has been raised as to why the pools in the Grosse Pointe School System are not used during the summer months.

The four indoor pools, at Pierce, Parcells, Brownell, and the High School, used by students throughout the school year, are also available to the public every night and Saturday mornings for recreational and instructional purposes. But only until June. As soon as hot weather sets in, the pools close down and are idle until the school bells ring in September.

The reason for the shut-down, according to Harold J. Husband, assistant superintendent in charge of administrative services, is that there has never been felt to be a sufficient demand to warrant the expense of operating, servicing, maintaining, and staffing the pools. Because all of the five Grosse Pointe municipalities have either beach or other swimming facilities (Grosse Pointe Farms is the only municipality that doesn't have a pool), which are open to its residents from Memorial day to Labor day, the summer facilities were felt to be adequate.

Also, the pools have to be completely drained and serviced sometime during the year, a project which usually takes two weeks. It can take longer, however, as at Parcells one year when tiling repairs required five weeks of work.

Three or four years ago, the question of using the school pools in the summer was brought

How Pointers Cast Ballots

Voters in Grosse Pointe were less confused than election officials Tuesday. They followed the trends in state and congressional races, voted on the hard-to-find tax proposals and candidates for the new Court of Appeals, and resisted the temptation to switch party loyalties in the big and complicated balloting.

But election officials, surprised at the turnout, were late reporting tally figures. The result, as we go to press, is that some races are still in doubt.

Charles Heise, clerk of Grosse Pointe Park, did not compute totals in a tally sheet listing 107 names, one county-wide proposition, and covering seven precincts.

ROMNEY BIG WINNER

But the voters, as they did in the rest of the state, gave Governor George Romney an overwhelming margin over George N. Higgins, Ferndale automobile dealer. Romney led in the City by 13-1, the Farms and Woods by more than 12-1, and in the Shores by nearly 9-1.

As she did throughout the state, Mrs. Elly Peterson of Charlotte led the balloting for the GOP nomination for the U.S. Senate, in a close race against James F. O'Neil of Livonia. Mrs. Peterson carried the Farms, the Woods and the Shores, and Mr. O'Neil won in the Park and the City.

The biggest winners in Grosse Pointe, after Governor Romney, were George Bashara, of 71 Balfour, running for the GOP nomination to Congress from the 14th District, and Robert Waldron, of 532 University place, running for re-election to the State Legislature.

Against one opponent from the Pointe area, Larry Ruther, of 985 Nottingham, and two candidates from the Hamtramck side of the new district, Bashara piled up a surprisingly large total. Though he was not expected to win, he carried the district by more than 2-1, on the basis of incomplete returns, and averaged better than 4-1 in the Grosse Pointes.

Waldron, running against Ralph Young, Jr., of 1330 Wayburn, G.P. Park, amassed comparable totals in all the district.

In the First Senatorial district, which takes in the Park, the City and the Farms, and which has been redrawn this year so that Republicans are given a solid chance of victory, Albert Thorborn, of 521 Lakepointe, G.P. Park, was the apparent winner. He ran second to Fred Harding, of 10410 E. Jefferson, Detroit, in the City, but won by big margins in the Farms and the Park.

For the new Court of Appeals, to which six were nominated and three will be elected in November, City voters preferred John D. Watts, Harry Dingeman, Jr., and John Gillis, son of Detroit Judge Joe Gillis. Farms voters picked Gillis, Dingeman and Thomas Foley, and Woods residents picked Watts, Gillis and retiring Lieut. Gov. T. John Lesinski. Voters in the Shores, like those in the City, picked Gillis, Watts and Dingeman.

Candidates for the Court, which will act as an intermediate appelate court under the new Constitution, were nominated as non-partisans. The Court will be divided into three districts, with three judges selected from each district, Wayne County is District One.

On the Democratic side, Harold Ryan, who represented the Pointes in the State Senate for years before going to Washington, carried the Pointes easily, despite his squeaker victory over Rep. Lucien Nedzi of the old First District.

Democratic nomination is tantamont to election.

The GOP nominee is William Ferguson, 50, of Detroit.

The Democratic choice for sheriff is Peter L. Buback, who had no trouble turning aside the challenge of Common Councilman Philip Van Antwerp and a host of other contenders.

City's Bond Issues Lose

quest for funds totaling $1,320,000 for expansion of the City's storm and sanitary sewer system. This proposal came closest to passage, being beaten only by 915-826.

Officials of the Michigan Board of Health, after an inspection, called the sewer system a "critical hazard" to the health of the community.

The Board asked that action be taken soon to correct dangerous unsanitary conditions that arise as a result of periodic flooding.

According to Mr. Cantwell, the State Board is "empowered to compel action on our bad sewer system if we do not take immediate action ourselves."

What the State will do now, Mr. Cantwell said, he does not know.

Not Unexpected

Defeat of the three proposals, though a severe blow to the hopes of City officials, was not entirely unexpected. More than one voter was heard Tuesday in line at Maire School saying that he didn't understand the details, but if the bonds were going to cost him money, he was against them.

Defeat of the bond proposals, like the defeat of Detroit's school bond plan, is attributed more to taxpayer revolt against the federal government than against the local program. Officials say the local bond issues are the only place where a voter feels he can strike back against high taxes.

The charter amendments, which do not change the tax structure, were passed by hefty majorities. The amendment to change the city fiscal year from April to July 1, to conform with most other governments, passed by 1502 to 536.

An amendment which will change the purchasing procedure, to require City Council review of bills totaling more than $1,000, instead of $100 as at present, passed by 1230 to 772, and a third amendment to change the time limit for filing claims against the City was passed by a vote of 1409 to 622.

Bar Owners

information received, felt that since the new bartender had committed the offense, it was committed in their establishment, and therefore, they are responsible. They were not in the bar at the time the violation was discovered by Park police.

Never Cited Before

The Verdonckts, who have been operating their bar in strict accordance with the law, have never been cited before the LCC at any previous time, and have been "running a good, clean business," according to Park police officials.

When notified of the imposed penalty, the Verdonckts claimed it was "too stiff," especially since this was the first offense charged against them, and announced they will appeal the LCC decision.

Crime Ring

At the station, a check of the license plate of the car in which Coleman and the younger boy were sitting at the time of the arrest, showed that the vehicle had been stolen in Detroit, and is owned by Ernest W. Woolridge, an Air Force service man stationed at Selfridge Air Force Base, Mt. Clemens.

Park Det. James LaPratt said that the boys admitted breaking into and pilfering from 10 to 15 cars in Wayburn and surrounding areas. Five other car thefts were cleared by the youths, the detective said.

All three teenagers implicated the boy who escaped capture and his name and address was given to Detroit police, who later took the escaped boy into custody.

The boys told LaPratt that they have been operating since July 1, and stole cars to drive to different areas, where they broke into and stole articles from parked automobiles.

The three teenagers in Park custody were released to Detroit for further investigation and prosecution, LaPratt said.

tenders. He will do battle with Attorney George S. Fitzgerald, 62, 1334 Buckingham, Grosse Pointe Park, the winner in a seven-man contest for the Democratic nomination.

Fitzgerald is former Democratic national committeeman for Michigan.

State Rep. Robert E. Waldron, 44, of 532 University Place, Grosse Pointe, won the Republican nomination for another term in the Legislature, where he is the GOP floor leader in the House.

The Democratic nomination went to William B. Fitzgerald, 33, of 273 McKinley, Grosse Pointe Farms, an insurance executive and son of George Fitzgerald.

In county contests, Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen captured the Democratic nomination for another term. He beat Joe B. Sullivan, his chief opponent in 1962, and several other candidates.

School Pools

up, Mr. Husband said, but dropped. Perhaps the discontent over the water conditions in the Farms (the woman who wrote the letter is a resident of the Farms) has prompted the query again.

Unless they were opened as part of the regular summer school program, Mr. Husband said that opening the pools for recreational purposes would require a joint effort by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education and the separate municipalities. Possibly an arrangement could be worked out as in the Park, wherby some of the schools' basketball facilities are open to the public. In this case, the Board of Education pays the utility costs while the Park pays for attendance expenses.

In addition, in the event that a new high school is built, Mr. Husband mentioned that it might be constructed to make a pool more suitable for summer use. The pool could be shut off from the rest of the building, and a hallway could lead directly outside, making it unnecessary to keep the rest of the building open.

Teacher Tenure Now in Effect

Statewide teacher tenure went into effect for 1,414 school districts and 78,000 teachers in Michigan on Friday, August 28. Last year at this time only 60 systems had tenure provisions for their teachers.

Basically, tenure is a means of providing continuity in the school programs of Michigan children and a measure of job stability for those teachers who have shown themselves to be competent as well as properly certificated.

Tenure is much more important to children and their educational programs than it is to teachers. No school system can continue to hire competent teachers and maintain a good school program if there is a high rate of turnover among its teaching staff. Moreover, the best teachers will not apply for positions in a district offering little employment security. A vital factor in any school program is providing the continuity that will improve the work and implement new ideas.

Under tenure, once a teacher successfully completes a probationary period of two years he may be freed from the necessity of reapplying for the position year after year.

The new tenure act does not forbid the firing of a teacher. However, it does require that a teacher be given a written notice of the reasons for his dismissal as well as providing for hearing procedures and other protections against arbitrary dismissal.

Bagmen Busy Around Polling Places

Voters arriving to cast their ballots on Tuesday found that something was "in the bag" long before the votes were counted. City officials had magnanimously covered the parking meters with paper bags, possibly with the idea in mind of helping the electorate to approve the proposed bond issues. This is the alley between Kercheval avenue and Maire School.

Bagwell, Pingel Seek MSU Post

Paul D. Bagwell, twice candidate for Governor of Michigan, and John S. Pingel, president of Ross Roy Inc., Detroit and New York advertising agency, have announced that they will seek the Republican nomination for trustee, Michigan State University. Candidates will be selected by the State Republican Convention at Cobo Hall, September 19.

Both men are now members of the MSU Board of Trustees. They were appointed by Governor Romney in January of this year to fill the vacancies created by the new State constitution.

Mr. Pingel is an alumnus of MSU, having graduated with a B.A. degree in 1939. While there he was selected as an All-American triple-treat halfback. His business career began in the Advertising and Sales Promotion Department of the Dodge Division, Chrysler Corporation. He entered the Army in 1941—was discharged in 1945 with the rank of Lt. Colonel, with a Bronze Star and Purple Heart.

On return to civilian life he became an Administrative Assistant at MSU. In 1947 he moved to Reo Motors as Director of Advertising, then to Chrysler Corporation as Fleet Sales Representative. In 1949 he joined the Brooke, Smith, French and Dorrance advertising agency, becoming Vice President in 1955. In 1960 when BSF&D merged with Ross Roy, Inc., he was named executive vice-president. In July of this year he was elected president.

His community and public service activities include: Member Board of Trustees, Michigan State University; Member Board of Trustees, Oakland University Foundation; Member Board of Trustees, Grosse Pointe University School; Member Executive Board Boy Scouts, Detroit Area Council; Member of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce; Director of Community Action for Detroit Youth; Director of the Senior Center in Detroit; and Elder of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Mr. Bagwell has a long experience in higher education. After receiving a Bachelor's Degree from the University of Akron and a Master's Degree from the University of Wisconsin, he became an instructor in MSU's department of Speech, Radio and Dramatics, in 1938, and was made head of the department in 1942. Two years later the university created a department of Written and Spoken English, which also was given to Bagwell. From 1952 to 1958 he headed the Department of Communication Skills.

In 1958 he resigned to run for Governor as the Republican nominee. On his return to MSU he was made Director of Scholarships and Financial Aid. Running for Governor again in 1960, he came within 40,000 votes of victory. In 1961 he resigned from MSU to enter business. At present he is President of KS Funds Inc. This is a nationwide investment firm specializing in raising investment capital for gas and oil exploration and development in U.S. and Canada.

In addition to his work in education, Mr. Bagwell has taught and directed executive training programs for the Ford Motor Co. and the Michigan Farm Bureau. Also he is a member of a long list of business, educational and public service organizations; has been officer of many. A life-long Republican, he has long been a leader in party affairs.

Shoplifter Drops Loot in Chase

A shoplifter who escaped a pursuing youth after threatening to knife him, is being sought by Farms police. The items stolen by the fleeing man were recovered underneath an automobile where they had been tossed.

Farms police received a call from Jack Harrington, manager of Sears, Mack and Moross, in which he disclosed that an employe had witnessed a man stuffing knit shirts into a big bag, and then walked out of the store.

Thomas Van Tiem, 19, of 1960 Fleetwood, who also saw the man, gave chase. The shoplifter ran west on Mack to a parking lot adjacent to 18780 Mack, the youth behind him.

As the pursued and pursuer entered the lot, the shoplifter turned to Van Tiem and said, "Don't get too close to me, or I'll cut you with my knife."

Van Tiem told police that he did not see a knife, but the man held his hand in his pocket as though he had one. Following this, the youth said, the man threw the bag with the shirts under a car, and was last seen fleeing west on Mack.

The shirts, valued at a total of $12, were recovered and returned to the store.

Harrington told police that the man had been seen in the store on previous occasions.

The shoplifter was described as being Negro, medium dark complexion, between 40 and 45 years old, six feet tall, weighing 210 pounds, and wearing a reddish brown knit shirt, brown pants and a brown felt hat.

Trouble-makers never care to get ahead—all they want is a chance to get even.

Expert Tells Citizen Advisory Committee About School Needs

tion to survey the community," the veteran educator stated "That was to give a hard look with no strings attached, to the school plant needs of Grosse Pointe," Dr. McCormick added.

Monday's meeting of the Citizens' Advisory Committee was the latest of a series held this summer and chaired by Kenneth Koppin, former mayor of Grosse Pointe Woods. The group of 31 leading citizens was formed at the request of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education to study the need for a proposed second high school to serve the Grosse Pointe community.

Dr. McCormick, a registered engineer on the staff of Columbia University, and also an associate of the Institute of Field Studies, documented his address with a series of charts.

His chart, "Summary of School Plant Data 1963-64," indicated the "desirable" capacity of the system's buildings, as well as their "emergency" capacity. The criteria for the former was 20 pupils in each kindergarten, 25 in each elementary classroom, and approximately the same number in all secondary classes.

The emergency category was calculated upon a basic class size of 30 at the elementary level, with enrollments in secondary classes much higher than generally accepted as desirable.

Undesirable Situation

"All top quality school systems should operate below the desirable figure," Dr. McCormick said. "For the Grosse Pointe schools the total "desirable" enrollment would be 10,164 based on the formula generally accepted by educational planners. (Enrollment of the schools in May, 1964, was 11,139 almost 1000 students above the desirable figure.)

By Dr. McCormick's standards the public schools have adequate space for 5,600 elementary students, a figure he felt should be reduced by 5 per cent in a system wishing to provide a high quality program emphasizing individualized instruction. With an elementary enrollment of 5,950, six of the 10 buildings are now operating above the ideal desirable capacity, the consultant added.

At the junior high school level, the desirable capacity of the three buildings is 2,552, with an actual enrollment of 2,891. Dr. McCormick pointed out that one building, Parcells, with an ideal capacity of 836, will probably have a student population of more than a thousand when school opens next week.

High School Crowded

At Grosse Pointe High School the desirable capacity is 2,017 and there were 2,558 students enrolled last year. Dr. McCormick added that the main building and its various annexes would operate best at 1,900, with no more than 1,450 in the largest structure.

Dr. McCormick cautioned the members of the Citizens' Advisory Committee to be aware of the problem of divorcing fluctuations in school and community population projections from the long-term needs of the school district.

"For example," he said, "my figures show that while the total public school enrollment of over 11,000 may dip to below 10,000 by 1975, the overall trend beyond that date is upward. It is difficult to make a decision in 1964 for the future, but this is the problem faced by the community now."

The consultant said that even where the trend shows a slight dip, a serious problem will exist at the high school. "I am proposing these estimates as a guide for future action. I urge the school system to review the figures every year, or even every six months in order to keep abreast of the trends," he added.

One of Nation's Best

McCormick urged the members of the committee not to let the school system go downhill. "Keep a high outlook to maintain Grosse Pointe as one of the best 20 systems in the nation," he concluded.

As he neared the end of his formal presentation, Dr. McCormick listed certain assumptions that an expert in the field could draw from the data gathered and reproduced on the visuals for the benefit of the committee. These were:

1. The population of the school district is expected to go from its current 66,000 figure to approximately 80,000 by 1980.

2. During a six-year period ending in 1970 some 1900 new residential units will be constructed.

3. Between 1970 and 1975 an additional 900 units may be provided through modification of local zoning ordinances that would permit multi-story dwellings.

4. Families moving to the Grosse Pointe area during the first half of the decade of the 1970's will probably be similar in size to arrivals in the last five to seven years, but those in the second half of the decade will probably move in with more children of school-age. Dr. McCormick added that expansion of the school population is dependent upon the continued desirability of Grosse Pointe residence and the maintenance of the high quality of the public schools.

5. The current birthrate, 9.8 per thousand, will rise to 15 by 1975, then will decline to 13 or 14 per thousand.

6. A base line for long-range planning in the Grosse Pointe Public School System should be on a population of 80,000, with a birth rate of 14 per thousand.

7. The percentage of private and parochial students in the community will continue to be from 30 to 34 per cent of the total school population, as is now the case.

Long-Range Program

Recommendations for a sound, long-range building program for the Grosse Pointe Public School System made by Dr. McCormick include these points:

1. Any program should consider not only the immediate, but also the future needs of the district.

2. Fullest and most efficient use of existing buildings should be made.

3. The pattern established should be completely adaptable to future changes that might be necessary.

4. The early stages of the program should provide for the needs of the next five to 10 years as foreseen by available existing data.

5. The program should lend itself to rapid implementation and should move rapidly to solve the major problems quickly.

6. Any program begun should be reviewed in terms on the long-range goals.

7. The building program should be flexible enough to permit modifications and it should be an open-ended solution rather than one which would hinder or slow expansion at any level.

"I recommend that the system build from the top down and stay away from piece-meal patterns of construction," Dr. McCormick said.

Answers Questions

At the close of the formal presentation, Chairman Koppin opened the meeting to questions and discussions by the membership.

Queried on the adequacy of the Vanderbush-Baker site, Dr. McCormick's opinion is that its development will require careful planning and added that the size does not present any insurmountable problem.

Arthur G. Sherman, Jr., president of the P-TA Council, prefaced a motion by reminding the committee that he and his organization have been urging a solution to the school housing problem for some time. He requested that the committee take action, saying, "I move the acceptance and endorsement of Dr. McCormick's report by this committee and that this committee urge implementation on the recommendation by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education."

The motion was tabled until the September 14 meeting pending study by the entire membership of the minutes of the August 31 meeting.

Club Sponsoring Trips for Teens

The beginning of the school year isn't the end of summer fun and travels for Grosse Pointe teens. The Neighborhood Club, in cooperation with the Detroit Council of the American Youth Hostels, is sponsoring two trips for the September 18-20 weekend.

One group will canoe on the scenic Jordan River and hike in the Sleeping Bear Dunes area. The cost will be $17.

Horseback-riding enthusiasts may go on a pack trip through Michigan's newest cross country riding trail. They will stay at Sky Valley Ranch Friday evening and Blue Lake Hostel on Saturday. The weekend cost is $40.

Reservations and payment for both trips must be made at the Neighborhood Club office, 702 Notre Dame, before Monday September 14. For further information, call the Neighborhood Club, TU 5-4600.

Burglar Loots Home in Woods

A burglar broke into a Woods home, one day prior to the return of the residents who were on vacation.

On Sunday, August 30, police received a call from Mrs. Lillian Schauer of 4666 Somerset, Detroit, in which it was disclosed that the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Warner, 1984 Country Club, had been forcibly entered and items stolen.

Det. Albert Abend said that the thief entered the home by removing a screen from a window over the kitchen sink, and crawling through. All the bedrooms on the second floor of the house had been completely ransacked, he said.

A wooden box that had contained a set of stainless steel flatware, was found empty and on the stairs leading to the side door, the detective said. A set of keys in a key case was found in the front yard bushes.

A neighbor, George Ravel of 1976 Country Club, told police that he noticed the kitchen light on, and the side door open at about 11 p.m.

When the Warners returned home on Sunday, August 31, they took inventory and informed police that the burglar had taken an oil painting copy of a little girl with a kitten, titled "Chums"; an electric transistor radio; 20 Kennedy half dollars; and the set of stainless steel flatware. The total value of the loss was not given.

Keeping Schools in Shape Calls for Careful Planning

J. Harold Husband, Assistant Superintendent - Administrative Services for The Grosse Pointe Public School System this week reported that the extensive summer maintenance program carried on in all the buildings and on all the grounds of the buildings was nearing an end.

"Under the direction of Tom LaJoie, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, the head engineers of all the buildings, and the men on our various crews who have worked so hard all summer, a wide variety of projects have been carried to completion," Husband said.

While a detailed report of all the projects would be too extensive to present here, a sampling of some of the main points of the maintenance program carried out during the summer of 1964 will give the reader some idea of its nature and scope.

For example, the parking lot at Mason School was paved, while additional hard-surfaced playgrounds were provided at Maire, Ferry, Poupard, Richard and Trombly. A new scoreboard was installed at the football field of Grosse Pointe High School. Repairs were made to the sidewalks at all buildings, and trees lost though Dutch Elm Disease were replaced.

In 11 of the building extensive painting was done in the classrooms, offices and corridors. The summer of 1964 saw the continuation of modernizing the lighting facilities in the older buildings of the school system.

All heating and ventilating equipment was carefully examined and repaired if necessary. An extensive job of caulking was completed on the exterior of Grosse Pointe High School, including work on the clock tower. The pumps and filters of the system's swimming pools were repaired and readied for use beginning next week.

All desks and chairs throughout the system were repaired and the program of replacing obsolete equipment was continued. All audio-visual equipment was repaired, as was office equipment in the commercial departments of the system's four secondary schools.

Building alterations included enlarging the libraries at Defer and Poupard and a modernization of the corridors at Defer. Acoustical materials were added to the older buildings as part of the continuous program of plant modernization.

The program of maintenance devised and carried out in The Grosse Pointe Public School System leaves little to chance. A manual of some 50-odd pages outlines the general principles of operation and maintenance in effect in the public schools here.

These include not only the detailed duties of the various plant personnel but also information on the types of fire extinguishers found in the various buildings, tips on accident prevention, and the thousand and one items—small and large—that require constant or periodic attention.

The listing of points on the summer program of maintenance includes 33 items under cleaning and renovation, seven under mechanical. During the summer all the clocks get a scrubbing, as do all the rooms and hallways. Cork and blackboards and woodwork are washed thoroughly.

The boilers are all cleaned, as are the turbine tubes. All valves are repacked, while the fans are checked. The outsides of the boilers are washed and painted and the boilers are checked for air leaks.

The maintenance program consists of much work, attention to detail, and a year-round schedule that pays dividends for the continuous education of boys and girls of Grosse Pointe.

Braille Classes To Open Sept. 24

Classes in Braille Transcription will be held in the Friendship Room of the Main Library, Kercheval and Fisher, every Thursday morning, beginning Thursday, September 24, from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Any one interested in taking this course should contact either Mrs. G. W. Myers, TU 2-7186, or Mrs. Gerald Fitzgerald, TU 1-1810.

Since it is the desire to keep the class fairly small in order to provide each student more personal attention, enrollment must necessarily be limited. Therefore, interested persons are urged to call as soon as possible.

There is a great need for brailled books for blind patients and other blind persons. The work is extremely interesting and satisfying.

This work can be done at home, and a person can give as much, or as little time, as desired.

For further information call Mrs. Myers, or Mrs. Fitzgerald.

FOOD FAIR Markets — WE GIVE S&H GREEN STAMPS

Labor Day, 1964...and Food Fair Salutes All Working Americans!

It's America's workers, our greatest resource, who have made possible both the Freedom and Prosperity we enjoy today. In times of war, our workers have exchanged their tools for weapons to protect us, while their fellows produced the materials they needed to defeat our enemies. In times of peace, their skills have brought us the blessings of the highest standard of living the world has ever known. Their work has contributed mightily to the progress that has made this country "first in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of its countrymen". Like all America, we pay tribute to them on their day . . . and pledge our continued effort to serve them in OUR work to the very best of our ability.

They Also Teach During Vacation

As usual this past summer, a number of the staff members of The Grosse Pointe Public School System were called upon by other educational institutions to carry out a variety of professional assignments. The skills and specialized competencies of the local instructors were in demand by elementary and secondary schools, as well as by institutions of higher learning.

Hawaii was the destination of two members of the elementary staff. Mrs. Katherine Templeton of Maire and David Ehlert of Monteith journeyed to the mid-Pacific to fill elementary teaching assignments at the Kamehameha Schools in Honolulu.

Two veteran summer school instructors of the staff of the Harvard-Newton teaching program returned again to the Massachusetts campus as master teachers. Bruce Westling, science coordinator at Fierce, worked in his field of interest, while Robert Welch, newly appointed coordinator of the Wicking Library at Grosse Pointe High School, taught English.

Those from the local public schools who were recruited by other institutions of higher learning include Miss Mary Lu Eyster, third grade teacher at Poupard, who returned to the campus of the University of Connecticut. As in past summers, her duties included the teaching of courses in methods of arithmetic and reading instruction.

Dr Glen Cooper, Principal of Defer School, was invited by Oakland University to instruct a course in the teaching of social studies on the Rochester campus.

Ronald Buehler, curriculum assistant in the schools' Department of Instruction, served at the University of Detroit in audio-visual education.

Andrew Balas, reading and English instructor at Grosse Pointe High School, directed a reading clinic for the public schools of Chillicothe, Ohio, this summer.

John J. Wenzel Takes His Vows

John Jacob Wenzel, S.J., pronounced perpetual vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience in Clarkston, Mich., on August 22.

These vows, taken after a two year novitiate, are an important step in the Society of Jesus toward the Roman Catholic priesthood.

Rev. Father Marshall L. Lochbiler, S.J., rector of Colombiere College received the vows of Mr. Wenzel and the ten other men in his class.

Mr. Wenzel received his high school education at Grosse Pointe High School. He attended Western Michigan University for three years and Marquette University for one year before entering the order in 1962.

He will now begin a thirteen year course of training, including the study of humanities, philosophy, theology, and three years of teaching in one of the high schools of the Detroit province of the Society of Jesus.

The Society of Jesus is the largest men's religious order in the Roman Catholic Church. The order's purpose is summed up in its motto: Ad majorem Dei gloriam (For the greater glory of God). The Jesuits include among their works all those of the Church, and in this country are chiefly devoted to education. They administer and staff the University of Detroit, Loyola University of Chicago, Marquette University, Fordham University, and Boston College.

Mr. Wenzel is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Jacob F. Wenzel, 295 Cloverly road, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Maire School Remodeling Brings Many Improvements

As they surveyed the results of the year-long program of renovation and remodeling that has recently been completed in their building, Principal John Hammel and his Maire School staff examined the improved facilities in use for the first time and pronounced the results "excellent."

"We feel that the improvements will enable us to serve our pupils with much more efficiency. We have breathing space and elbow room—at long last," commented Hammel on the completed addition.

"The remodeling program has provided us with so many features that we have long needed, that I am hard pressed to decide which improvement is the most beneficial to the smooth operation of the building," said Principal Hammel. "Many changes and improvements were made in a variety of areas," he added.

The third floor playroom has been converted to an enlarged library facility, embodying the concept of the Instructional Materials Center. It will house a variety of new media required by an up-to-date instructional program, in addition to the building's enlarged collection of books.

A large music room with instrument storage facilities and a hi-fi and recorder occupy the end of the ground floor. Mrs. Anibel Lucatsky plans to employ the electronic devices in her vocal and instrumental music classes by recording the children's performance and playing it for them to hear and to make improvements.

The new classroom on the second floor will be occupied by fifth grade teacher, Guido Sabella. As patrol sponsor, he has need for the big room for group meetings.

Also added to the building is a conference room to be used by the specialists who service the building. It will be used for small group work by the speech correctionist and the remedial reading specialist.

The fire escape from the third floor has been eliminated and replaced by an enclosed stairway to make it a more suitable emergency exit. This is a necessary precaution because the third floor will be used more than it was in the past.

The main office has undergone a complete face-lifting. It now provides for a large work space for the building's secretary, an expanded reception room, a clinic, a combined storage room and bookstore, an office for the principal, and a workroom. Yellow walls and gold draperies provide the finishing touches.

In addition, the kitchen area has been remodeled, a storage space for custodial equipment has been provided, and a grounds' room added.

"It has been a busy month to be ready for the opening of school, but we are now all set to go," Principal Hammel said. "The entire staff is looking forward to the beginning of the year. We all expect to be able to do an even better job for the boys and girls of Maire with our improved physical plant."

Thief Makes Meanest List

Candidate for the meanest person is the thief who broke into a Woods home on Tuesday, August 25, while the bereaved family was at a funeral wake for a loved one. The thief escaped with a small sum of cash.

Entered was the home of Mrs. Sarah Selehowski, 1665 South Renaud road, who, with her family, were at the wake of her husband, Joseph, who died August 23.

Woods Det. Albert Abend said that the burglar entered the home by prying off the screen from a rear window and opening the window. Dresser drawers in all three bedrooms of the house were emptied and the contents dumped on the floor, he said.

Mrs. Selehowski told police that the last person left the house at 7:30 p.m., and the first one to return, arrived home at 9:30 p.m.

Abend said that the thief forced open the garage door, but found no door leading into the house, then went to the rear window where he made a successful entry.

All that is known to be missing, the detective said, is $50 in cash. Nothing else appeared to have been taken.

An investigation is still being made, Abend said.

Alert Officers Arrest Suspect

A Detroit man, whose bleeding knuckles aroused the suspicions of a cruising Park police car crew, was arrested in the early morning of Monday, August 31, and turned over to Detroit authorities for investigation.

According to Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers, Police Sgt. Henry Coonce and Patrolman Richard Warren, while on the Mack avenue beat at 2:05 a. m., saw a man standing next to a building on the Detroit side of the thoroughfare.

The officers stopped to question the man, Edward V. Sturm, 39, of 3210 Coplin, and noticed that his right hand was bleeding. They also noticed blood on the broken window of the building, and some on the sidewalk.

In their report, Coonce and Warren stated that Sturm admitted breaking the window with his fist. Sturm was arrested and officers of Detroit's Conner Station, Fifteenth Precinct were called, and they took the man in custody.

Sturm was taken to the Conner Station and held for questioning and for investigation of a possible breaking and entering.

LARCENY REPORTED

Michael Coleman of 69 Webber place, complained to Farms police on Tuesday, August 25, that an unknown person stole the side view mirror and the radio antenna from his car, parked on McKinley, at Kercheval.

Old Car Festival September 12-13

If you've ever wanted to see hundreds of old-time autos chugging and purring about like they did in the days of yesteryear, then be sure and attend the fun-filled 14th annual Old Car Festival, at world famous Greenfield Village September 12-13.

The most outstanding show of its kind in the world, the Festival features 300 beautifully restored automobiles from the 1896-1925 era in a two-day exhibition of driving thrills and surprises.

Sponsored by Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village in cooperation with the Flint Chapter of the Veteran Motor Car Club of America, the Festival draws vintage autos here from all over the United States and Canada.

Dozens of exciting driving skill exhibitions are slated from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on both days, putting automobiles and drivers alike through some gruelling yet colorful competition.

While the driving skill 'games' are underway, some of the splendid old autos are driven slowly around three exhibition tracks, where motoring experts explain the historic and unique features of the various vehicles over loudspeakers.

Adding to the fun of it all are authentic old - time motoring costumes worn by participants. Practically every driving crew will be attired in the colorful clothing that corresponds to the production periods of their particular automobile.

This exciting, colorful event, like many others held at Greenfield Village, really seems to make the past come to life. When shining, showroom condition Stutzes, Deusenbergs, Cords, Pierce Arrows, Fords, Maxwells and a host of other historic cars drive through the enchanting streets of Greenfield Village, visitors to the great shrine of Americans come as close as they ever will to reliving the days of America's early motoring past.

This spectacular, entertaining and educational event is included in the regular admission price to Greenfield Village ($1.40 for adults, 50c for children, with special rates for family groups).

On Saturday, September 12, beautifully restored autos from the 1917-1925 production era compete for top general excellence awards. Following this, on Sunday, historic vehicles from the 1896-1916 era are judged in similar competition.

Participants in this grand automotive event are members of outstanding antique automobile clubs. The Veteran Motor Car Club of America, the Antique Automobile Club, the Historical Car Club of America and the Historical Automobile Society of Canada will all be represented.

Lord Montagu of Beaulieu, famed British antique auto expert, will be the principle speaker at the participants' meeting, to be held in the Henry Ford Museum Theatre, September 12, at 8 p.m.

An outstanding antique automobile collector, Lord Montagu is owner of the Montagu Motor Museum at Beaulieu, second largest tourist attraction in England. He is also the publisher of the Veteran and Vintage car magazine.

Men's Chorus Invites Singers

The Grosse Pointe Men's Chorus sponsored by the War Memorial will start its 1964-1965 season on Monday evening, September 14, at 8 o'clock in the Center's Alger House.

Under the direction of Wilbur Bezeau, Choirmaster of the Eastminister Presbyterian Church, the group cordially invites all Pointer's interested in male chorus work to join.

There is no embarrassing audition to be gone through. All that is asked is a love for music and a desire to sing. The Chorus usually numbers around 30 members and offers fine fellowship as well as musical oultet.

Mr. Bezeau rehearses the Men's Chorus weekly on Monday nights from 8 to 10 o'clock. Concerts are given twice a year in the Center's Fries Auditorium and in addition the group sings at many community occasions throughout the Pointes and sparks many church and fraternal affairs.

The Grosse Pointe Men's Chorus is a venerable institution. It was founded in the days of World War II when the group used to make it a point to see each group of draftees off to war. Members include men of all ages from high school through retirees. The membership fee is a nominal $5 to cover the cost of music and direction.

Park Firemen Given Report

William Hunt, president of the Grosse Pointe Park Fire Fighters Association, and a delegate to the 1964 International Convention of Fire Fighters held in San Diego, Calif., August 16 through 21, made a report to his organization.

Hunt said that he will work during his off-duty hours to compile all data gathered at the convention regarding his department's working conditions, wages and hours.

He disclosed that incumbent William D. Buck of St. Louis, Mo., was reelected president of the International Fire Fighters Association, and Al Abertoni, of Oakland, Calif., was elected secretary-treasurer.

Hunt said that Buck, in a speech to the delegates, disclosed firemen throughout the United States and Canada, have been joining the international organization in unprecedented numbers, with the profession now 90 percent organized.

Buck further stated "growing disparity between police and fire wages is a major threat to the standards of fire fighters. We will be forced in the immediate future to expend considerable time, energy and resources, if we are to block this latest device to diminish the role of the fire fighter."

Hunt disclosed that a majority of the 97 resolutions presented at the convention by Locals, were supported and adopted.

"I was most pleased to be seated as a delegate among men of such high caliber," Hunt said. "The businesslike manner in which delegates conducted themselves and the procedure in which differences were resolved, was an indication, to me, that these men should proudly bear the name Professional Fire Fighters."

Hunt also disclosed that while on vacation and at the convention, the Park Fire Department's Rules and Regulations were altered in part, to read that all officers of the Fire Department shall not be members, or be affiliated with any labor association.

He said he has sent a written request to Fire Chief William Graul and City Manager Robert Slone, that consideration be given to any change in the Rules and Regulations, giving members of the Park Fire Department, free choice of whether or not they wish to associate with the 115,370 members of the IFFA across the North American continent.

Hunt claimed that this request was not given proper consideration, and the Rules and Regulations were changed.

Although affiliated with the AFL-CIO, IFFA members cannot strike for any reason. The prime objective of the organization is to seek legislation for the betterment of fire fighters, through their respective Legislatures.

In July, the Farms council approved and recognized the Farms Fire Fighters Association, and its membership in the IFFA, but Park officials refuse to recognize the Park Fire Fighters Association, which has been in existence for years.

Young Driver Has Troubles

Billy Flatt, 18, of 22496 Wildwood, St. Clair Shores, was arrested by Park police on warrants charging him wth failing to pay fines for two traffic violation tickets received last May. The tickets were for having no valid operator's license, and for varying his course in traffic without signaling.

He was arraigned before Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger on Wednesday, August 26, found guilty as charged, and was sentenced to five days in the Wayne County Jail and fined $50 for the no license violation, and fined $10 for the second offense.

Flatt had an extremely bad driving record, the list of which was shown to the people in the court room, with a remark by Judge Belanger in which he stated that the record was the longest he had ever seen for traffic violations.

It was disclosed that Flatt's driver's license had been taken from him for one year, and that he was on probation to Detroit authorities for traffic offenses.

Detroit police re-arrested Flatt, when he was released from the County Jail, for violation of probation, and will extract full penalties.

DRIVER PENALIZED

John Pasner, 39, of 884 Dickerson, Detroit, a Michigan resident for more than two years, was arraigned before Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger on Wednesday, August 26, for driving a motor vehicle without ever acquiring a Michigan operator's license. He was found guilty as charged. The penalty was $75, or 10 days. Pasner was in the Park jail for 16 hours before someone arrived to pay the fine.

Rash of Bicycle Thefts Reported

City police records show a rash of bicycle thefts for the month of August with an unusually high percentage is unrecovered. Of the 17 reported lost or stolen bikes, police have been unable to find 11. Usually they are able to recover practically all of them, reports Cpl. MacEachern.

Bicycle thefts have been a problem to police all year. Since February, 60 bikes have been reported missing. Of these, 42 have been located.

Most of the bikes are taken from either the City Park or the Kercheval shopping district.

Of the 11 bikes as yet unfound this month, five had no license, thus making them even more difficult to locate. Police warn bicycle riders to be sure to obtain licenses for their bikes, and to lock them when not in use.

Bike licenses may be obtained at the City police station, on Maumee, at a cost of 50 cents. Either the serial number and name of make or the bike itself must be brought in.

Accused Man Awaiting Trial

William T. Long, 26, of 4601 Eastlawn, Detroit, was bound over for trial in Wayne County Circuit Court by Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger, following an examination hearing held on Wednesday, August 26. Long was released on $500 bond.

Judge Belanger found sufficient cause for trial for Long, who is accused of stealing a $500 two-way, short-wave cab dispatch radio from a taxicab owned and parked on the lot of the Grosse Pointe Cab company, Lakepointe and Charlevoix, on August 13. Long had entered a plea of not guilty.

The accused man, a former employe of the cab firm, was arrested by Park police, who arrived at the scene just as Long was returning to the cab to retrieve his tools, said to have been used in removing the radio.

Arresting officers said that they found the cab radio in Long's automobile, parked on the street nearby.

An alert citizen, on hearing a noise at 3:43 a.m. on August 13, looked out of his window, saw someone near a cab, and promptly called police.

Art Institute Extends Hours

Beginning Tuesday, September 8, The Detroit Institute of Arts will introduce extended museum hours, announced Willis F. Woods, director.

The Detroit Institute of Arts will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Tuesday through Friday. On Saturday and Sunday, museum hours will be 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The museum will be closed on Mondays and holidays.

"This extended schedule should offer greater convenience to the constantly increasing number of visitors to The Detroit Institute of Arts," Woods commented. "Additional evening and morning hours will accommodate persons employed on various shifts or attending irregularly scheduled classes."

The Detroit Institute of Arts will be closed on Labor Day, September 7.

Use Extra Care During Holiday

On your Labor Day week end look out for people doing these things, warns the State Safety Commission: Speeding too fast for conditions, disregarding stops signs or other traffic controls, failing to yield right of way, and being under the influence of alcohol. These are part of the motorists' seven deadly sins—the seven traffic violations most identified with fatal and other traffic tragedies.

Take speeding for instance. Most people identify this with speeds of 80 miles and higher per hour—and this is common enough. There are plenty of instances, however, where 50, 40, and even 35 miles per hour are too fast no matter how impatient you feel about it. In crowded or residential areas, in stretches of traffic moving at a slow pace, the impatient heavy-foot driver is not only an irritant to others but a practical time bomb. Some self-appointed authorities enjoy putting all the blame on the "slow" driver. Check it out some time—your slow man may just be obeying the posted speed limits. These are posted for established reasons.

On the other hand, maybe the slow driver is moving at the speed his common sense tells him he can travel. A lot of us tend to overdrive our sight distance and reaction time. At 70 miles per hour the average passenger vehicle will move 77 feet before the driver can decide what to do. Even with your "lights on for safety" it's still 77 feet.

One thing we would urge on senior citizens and other drivers who like to take it easy—don't make a crusade out of it on a highway designed for faster travel. There is room in this country for both kinds. And for the big-foot tribe—70 miles an hour is OK on the expressway—if you have all your faculties—but it can be sheer murder in a different environment.

Speed too fast for conditions is associated with 44 per cent of all fatal accidents on the highway. That would mean 744 people in Michigan alone last year. It could have been less if some of them had gone slower, thought faster, and buckled their seat belts.

To Honor Deal At State Fair

Ralph Deal, 1808 Hampton road, will be among the 31 teachers ,educators and school administrators honored for outstanding contributions to education in the annual Teachers' Day program at the 115th annual Michigan State Fair.

The presentations will take place on the stage of the Music Shell on Friday, September 4 at 2 p.m. Each of the recipients will be awarded a plaque.

Deal, recently named Michigan Teacher of the Year, teaches Russian and Music Appreciation at Grosse Pointe High School.

He had charge of developing the curriculum in Music Appreciation and Russian at Grosse Pointe. He taught at Conway, Iowa, Galina and Elmhurst in Illinois before taking his present post.

Deal received his bachelor's degree from the University of Iowa and a master's from Wayne State University.

He is a member and past president of the Grosse Pointe Local of the American Federation of Teachers.

Teachers Turn Students Again

Among the instructors from the Grosse Pointe Public School System who spent their summer in the role of students were three members of the Richard staff. Miss Lillian Goodwyn studied at Michigan State, selecting work in reading, measurement and evaluation, and psychology. Mrs. Carla Gutow began to study toward an MA degree at Wayne State. Elmer Lepp enrolled at Teachers College, Columbia University, for eight semester hours' work.

Miss Sarah Allan, music teacher at Trombly School, earned six semester hours from Temple University on a "Field Survey of European Music," which took her on a specialized Continental tour.

Full Scale Art School Offered

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center for the first time this fall is extending its Art School to cover batik work, sculpture, portraiture, and hooked rugs in addition to basic drawing and beginning and advanced painting.

Three masters of fine art from Cranbrook have been added to the Center's faculty. They include William P. Martmer who was born and brought up in Grosse Pointe, Ray Fleming, Jr., who now instructs at Mercy College, and Robert L. Kidd whose specialty is weaving. These three men were chosen for teaching at the War Memorial by a committee of the Grosse Pointe Artists Association assisted by internationally famous painter Hughie Lee-Smith.

Mr. Martmer will offer a class in Life and Beginning Portraiture. A model will be provided. The class will be conducted on Wednesday afternoons from 1 until 3 o'clock beginning September 16 and continuing through December 2. Twelve two-and-a-half hour lessons will be offered for a fee of $30.

Mr. Martner also plans a class in sculpture to be held Wednesday mornings from 9:30 to 12 o'clock, again beginning on September 16. Work will be done in the Center's former basement kitchen. The sculpture will be affected in terra cotta, plasticine, and wax for bronze castings. This course is offered for a fee of $30 for twelve two-and a half hour lessons.

Because space is limited class enrollment must be held to a very small number. Advance enrollment will be greatly appreciated.

Ray Fleming, Jr. will offer a Basic Drawing and Painting class for beginning and intermediate art students on Tuesday evenings beginning September 15 from 7:30 to 10 o'clock.

He also is offering an unusual course known as Explorations in Batik which exciting media lends itself to wall hangings, fabrics, and draperies. It is the art of designing with wax and dye on fabric. Both of his classes are offered in a series of twelve two-and-a-half hour lessons for $30.

Robert Kidd will offer the designing and construction of hooked rugs in a Tuesday night course from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. It will not be necessary to have looms for this class and a maximum amount of creativity will be stressed. The class whil be limited to 15 and the fee is $30 for 12 lessons.

Professor Robert Wilbert of Wayne State University will continue his popular classes in oil painting to be offered both Friday mornings and afternoons beginning September 18. Instruction will be given in composition, technique, and the expressive concerns of the media.

Both classes are open to beginners as well as to experienced painters. In the morning class special emphasis will be placed on problems in design while the afternoon group will work toward a consideration of drawing as it relates to painting. Twelve three-hour lessons are offered for $36.

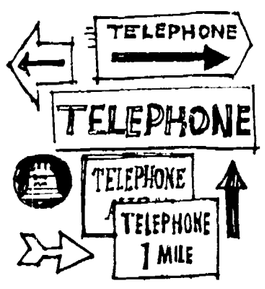
MICHIGAN BELL

"GET THE BIG PICTURE" is a traffic safety rule we stress with our drivers at all times—but especially now that school is starting again. Every telephone company worker who drives one of our cars or trucks is taught to be especially alert whenever a youngster appears anywhere in the "big picture"—behind or to either side of his vehicle, as well as ahead. That way, a child's impulsive decision to stop or change direction can be seen in time to avoid injury. "Get the big picture"... just one of the good habits Michigan Bell instills in its driver employees through a company-wide, year-round safety education program.

SAVE STEPS BEAUTIFULLY! Put a colorful extension phone wherever you'd like to reach, not run, for your calls. Wall phone, desk phone, Princess® phone ... there's a style and color for every room. Call our Business Office to order yours today.

POINT TO REMEMBER—telephones are everywhere. And that's exactly what makes your phone so valuable to you. Because your doctor, your TV repairman, your son's school all have phones of their own, you can reach them instantly and easily. And that goes for countless other people and companies you may need to talk with in a month's time. In fact, Michigan Bell now serves over 3,300,000 telephones throughout the state, each adding to the potential usefulness of your phone.



Hunt Club Swimmers Show Good Promise for Future

By Mike Granger

Although not a member of the Michigan Inter-Club Swimming Association, the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club had several dual meets this past season. The team, under the supervision of Coach Ray Kaye, defeated the Detroit Golf Club twice, the Detroit Boat Club, and the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. They lost close meets to the Country Club and to Lochmoor. The team has several fine swimmers who deserve recognition.

In the younger age group, Charley Dunlap has a great deal of potential. Only five, Charley has been under 24 seconds for a 25 meter sprint. Charlie's sister, Vallery, who is just seven, is another. Henkle, Becky Simon, Jamie Thompson, and Cliff Peabody are the top swimmers. Nene, just 10, has gone 18 flat for 25 meters.

Paul Riedt and Mitch Simon are the leading 11-12 boys, while Gloria Schmidt and Laurie Simon, younger sister of Mitch, are top girl swimmers. Laurie and Becky Simon both are top swimmers for Lochmoor.

The 13-14 age-group produced one top female swimmer, Kathy Champion.

Curt and Wally Schmidt are the leading boy swimmers in the older age-group. Curt swims in the 13-14 age-group, while Wally swims in the 15-16 age-group.

This season was Ray Kaye's first year as coach of the Hunt Club team. Kaye's swimming career includes three years at Denby, and several years at Detroit Institute of Technology, before his graduation from Wayne State University. In addition Ray has served as assistant Coach at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club for one season.

Invention Aids Winter Driving

An invention by four Michigan State Highway Department employes may help improve winter driving conditions on highways across the nation next winter.

The device, which does a better job of controlling the spread of ice-melting chemicals on high-speed highways, was designed and developed by Specifications Engineer A. J. Karpus, Field Equipment Supervisor William Kutcha, and Equipment Inspectors Mike Ottosen and Leo Tift.

The State Administrative Board has authorized the department to license the commercial manufacture and sale of the device.

The four employees have patented the spreader, which fits on the back of a snow plow truck, but have turned it over to the highway department.

The board ruled that no royalties or fees would be paid by manufacturers, "since the use of the system will contribute to highway safety in all states, counties and municipalities."

Not only does the spreader contribute to safety, it has saved the department several hundred thousand dollars because of its increased efficiency.

It permits the driver to match the speed of the spreader to that of the truck, and to change the width of the area covered to match conditions.

Rose Home Service lets you relax and enjoy your home without sharing it with nasty ants in the kitchen, moths in the closet or mice in the basement.

And, no more worries about the dog or the kids sampling any highly toxic pest powders that might be spread around.

Even in homes clean enough to eat off the floor, roaches smuggle their way in. And unless you're smarter than they are, they stay.

That's where the Rose Man shines! He's a skilled, professional pest control expert. On regular inspections he provides preventive protection as well as immediate control, all for only pennies per day. States and stages of human progress will be explored in the Bible Lesson on "Man" at all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Bible selections will include the following from Romans (ch. 12): "Be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include these lines (p. 296): "Progress is born of experience. It is the ripening of mortal man, through which the mortal is dropped for the immortal. Either here or hereafter, suffering or Science must destroy all illusions regarding life and mind, and regenerate material sense and self. The old man with his deeds must be put off."

LARCENY REPORTED

Some Clubs Cost Too Much

The price of meat nearly ruined a brief summer holiday for me. I refer to the prices we pay here at home, compared to what residents of other sections of the country are taxed for the privilege of putting a steak on the table.

With my destination Hanover, N.H., and the target a weekend reunion with classmates at Dartmouth College, I flew to Albany, N.Y. two weeks ago, then rented a car for the beautiful drive up past Saratoga Springs and Lake George, then into lovely Vermont, through Rutland and up through Sherburne Pass to cross the mountains and drop down into New Hampshire.

I kept the car six days and covered a considerable "passle" of real estate before flying back from Pennsylvania, after visiting my summer place in the Poconos to see a few children and grandchildren. I'm an inveterate radio listener when I motor and a constant victim of the broadcasting brethren. It keeps one more or less informed and quite often supplies entertainment for a lone tourist. The one sour note which kept constantly creeping into my craw, was the market announcements . . . especially in New England. The purveyors of food in that section of the country don't give the wireless tapper much of a chance to escape. And they especially love to lure with price quotations.

I had to hear it three or four times before I was certain I was being told that prime and choice government-graded porterhouse steak was available in them there parts for 95 cents per pound. When it finally sank in, it brought me up with a start . . . a start that started me figuring how deeply I'd been gouged in my local purchases of good beef. I recalled, bitterly, that I've been paying $1.55 per pound for porterhouse in Wrigley's, (our fancy neighboring emporium which we laughingly call our club). That's because we see so many of our friends there, obviously enjoying the same sucker game in which we are participants. And the employes are all real pals and the nicest guys and gals, even though they can't supply the answers to questions we've asked . . . like, how come prices often seem higher there.

I recalled that a few weeks back I dropped into Wrigley's late one Saturday afternoon to pick up a steak or two. The stock was naturally sadly depleted at that hour, but there was the same price on a few ragtag hunks of porterhouse . . . $1.55 per pound. I hustled over to the A & P, went to the meat department and asked to have a porterhouse cut to order. A perfectly beautiful steak was handed me, priced at $1.05 per pound. It "ate real good" as we used to say in whatever part of the country we happened to be whenever such an expression merited saying . . . as good as any we've ever had.

I submit that a 50-cent per pound differential between two stores just a few blocks apart makes one ponder. And when the eastern lads were offering me the same product for 60 cents per pound less I began to get real mad. Unless my sense of geography is hideously askew, the meat centers of the land are far nearer us than they are to New England. They can't give us any transportation charges nonsense.

As I said, I don't get any satisfactory answers to my questions, but I'm going to keep asking them, and would appreciate company. I also think I'll request that the club dues be lowered in other departments. It really isn't that much fun to belong.

Food for Thought

We don't know the historical buff who should be credited with the following, but we found it interesting enough to pass on to our readers.

Two U.S. Presidents--Lincoln and Kennedy--were concerned with civil rights for Negroes.

Lincoln was elected in 1860; Kennedy was elected in 1960.

Both were shot on Friday.

Both were killed in the presence of their wives.

John Wilkes Booth was born in 1839; Lee Harvey Oswald in 1939.

Both Booth and Oswald were Southerners.

Both supported causes in disfavor with the general public.

Both were murdered before they could be tried.

Both Presidents lost sons by death while in the White House.

Lincoln's secretary (whose name was Kennedy) urged him not to go to the theatre at which he was slain; Kennedy's secretary (whose name was Lincoln) urged him not to go to Dallas.

Both slain Presidents were succeeded by men named Johnson.

Both Johnsons were Southerners and Democrats.

Both Johnsons served in the United States Senate before becoming President.

Andrew Johnson was born in 1808; L. B. Johnson born in 1908.

Andrew Johnson was NOT reelected as President.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I commend you on your editorial in the August 20th edition on the mistreatment given dumb animals by the Wayne University Medical School. In my opinion every citizen of the community and the state should be behind a movement to stop such practices.

It is my understanding that Wayne State University, as well as the Medical School, are supported by State funds, and I believe your newspaper would be doing a distinct service for our four-legged friends if it would sponsor a campaign to withhold our tax dollars from an institution which allows such inhumane practices.

Yours truly,
James T. Fitzpatrick,
979 Hidden Lane.

Aug. 26, 1964.

Dear Sir:

Because of the agitation about a swimming pool at the Farms Pier, it has been brought to my attention that the pools in the Grosse Pointe School System are not in use all summer. (Before going further, I am in favor of a pool at the Pier regardless of school pool use.)

The question that presents itself is why do we have a winter recreation use of these pools and not a summer? Surely, if the public can be admitted to these buildings after school and evenings in the winter, the same safeguards can be used in the summer months. The buildings must be open anyway for summer school classes and maintenance work.

Our young people need work and could be hired as lifeguards and members of clean - up squads.

The pools, already built and financed, stand idle from mid-June to mid-September when the public wants and needs more recreational facilities in the area.

Sincerely,
(Mrs. T. J.) Pauline McKey.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

The great American Reading Public—do you ever wonder who they are? A new book has just appeared, edited by Roger H. Smith, and composed of articles from the winter of 1963 issue of DAEDALUS (the journal of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences) plus some new material, and entitled: THE AMERICAN READING PUBLIC: WHAT IT READS, WHY IT READS.

In the introduction, the editor tells us that this group buys nearly $2 billion worth of books every year; approximately 270,000,000 copies of magazines every issue, and more than 60,000,000 newspapers every day (and 48,000,000 on Sunday). It would seem, from this, that almost everyone is a reader of something at some time. And so this book "is concerned with the person for whom reading is an act of engagement, whether for professional reasons or recreation or both." Some articles are written from the standpoint of the publisher; others come from American higher education, and from interested and informed observers. Altogether, they represent an important part of communications in America in the 1960's.

This volume opens with several essays on reading. One, by Reuben A. Brower, is critical of the textbooks used in schools, leaving the student inadequately prepared when he enters college. Another, by Benjamin De Mott, is concerned with the passive reader. The author feels that total involvement should be present in reading.

The next two sections deal with publishing, commercial and otherwise. I found the first article by Dan Lacy filled with interesting statistics. As far as the book industry goes, the two biggest sectors are the publication of textbooks and encyclopedias. Total receipts for the first, in 1961, were $385 million; the second, $345 million. The next largest consists of book clubs with receipts of about $115 million and representing over 75 million books. Next comes children's books with sales of $103 million. Specialized and professional books would come next with sales of around $85 million. Paperback profits total about $97 million (representing about 305 million books). Of all the book-publishing enterprises in the United States, only about $87 million (or 7.5 percent) represents hard-cover, adult "trade" publishing. This would include general books for adult consumption, such as novels, biographies, histories, popular books on science, politics and economics, poetry and essays. And this is of particular interest to us, the librarians, as it represents a very large portion of books included in a library the size of ours. And since the economics of this small segment of the industry determines the character of the literature published in our country, the author goes on to examine it in detail, and with more statistics.

Section 4: "The reader and the book: areas of contact"—deals with bookshops, book-selling, and finally, there is a chapter, written by Emerson Greenaway, on the American Public Library. Here, Mr. Greenaway (Director of the Free Library of Philadelphia) presents the library as the people's reading center and university. Here again are interesting statistics. "A total of 205,279,000 volumes were circulated for home use in the city and county libraries in 1939. By 1960 this figure has grown to 454,706,000, an increase of 121% over the 1939 figures, and there are no signs of abatement at the present time.

Mass media in print is the next topic considered, dealing with paperbacks, periodicals and newspapers. (Incidentally, the subject most often treated in these articles would seem to be the recent expansion of the paperback). The last section is devoted to literary criticism and book reviewing, with two Yale professors, Henri Peyre and John Hollander, offering thoughtful critiques of American book reviewing. Henri Peyre feels that "we need critics and reviewers who will not fear to be adventurous, to enlighten the public, to formulate judgments of value, and to write with zest and style." John Hollander is quite forthright. "Whatever is wrong with reviewing in America has been growing steadily worse." He then goes on to mention an article some years ago in HARPER'S by Elizabeth Hardwick wherein she denounced the world of book-reviewing in American mass publications, attacking the failure of critical responsibility, poor writing and even denaturing of the expertise of very competent critics when they occasionally write for weeklies with a large circulation.

THE AMERICAN READING PUBLIC concludes with a sample review, again taken directly from DAEDALUS, bringing to an end a stimulating and well-written symposium for all who are interested in books and reading.

"What an I do about this pain?"

By Fred KOPP, R. Ph.

Customers often ask questions like this. And every year we sell perhaps a ton of pain relievers. Relievers. That's the point. We can sell simple analgesics, but we can't prescribe drugs to eliminate the cause of pain. Diagnosing and prescribing are in your physicion's province. We, as professional pharmacists, work with doctors, providing the drugs they order. So, if you have any kind of a persistent pain, see your physician. We shall be pleased to provide any medication which may be prescribed.

The vacation of MR. and MRS. JAMES McMAHON, their daughters MARTHA AND LAURA, and MISS CONSTANCE RYAN, of Stanhope, was more than just a pleasure trip. As participants in the first National YWCA Conference on Outdoor Recreation and Conservation, the representatives from the Macomb YWCA got a new look at a subject which is becoming more and more a nationwide concern as a result of the nation's fast-growing population and rapid disappearance of open land.

Laurance S. Rockefeller, honorary chairman of the Outdoor Recreation Resources Review Commission, urged the conference participants meeting at Jackson Lake Lodge, Wyoming, in the heart of Grand Teton National Park to return to their homes to work with other community leaders in helping all to realize that outdoor recreation and conservation must be seen to be as much a social need as good hospitals, good schools, highways, and so on.

Center Groups Need Workers

Two very worthwhile services are conducted in a volunteer basis at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

One, the Cancer Center, whose workers are known as the Crusaders, meets Mondays between the hours of 10 in the morning and 3 in the afternoon. Here workers are badly needed to prepare raw materials for the many sewing groups in Grosse Pointe who make cancer pads.

They also finish pads in various sizes themselves and service all the patients in the Grosse Pointe area with them. Further, the Center serves as a collection depot for all the pads made by the groups in the community.

It is not necessary to stay from 10 until 3 o'clock but any time that one can devote to this service during that period is greatly apreciated.

In addition to a plea for workers the Crusaders also would appreciate the donation of any clean, white, ironed material which can be used in the making of cancer pads.

The second volunteer group at the War Memorial is the Service Guild for Children's Hospital meets every Tuesday between the hours of 10 and 3. Some ladies work right through, bringing sandwiches and brewing a cup of tea in the auxiliary kitchen. This group makes bandages, swabs, bronchoscopies, and other supplies badly needed by the Children's Hospital. This is the only group permitted by the Children's Hospital to work outside the hospital's walls.

After a certain number of volunteer hours workers receive a uniform cap and eventually after much devoted work they are rewarded with a Children's Hospital uniform. From time to time this group has donated special equipment to the hospital, one of which was an incubator.

Both of these service organizations are open to women of all ages and every worker's efforts are much appreciated.

To Sell Hats At Bon Secours

The Bon Secours Hospital Guild is having a fall hat sale on September 8, from 12 until 4 o'clock, at the Hospital, 4680 Cadieux road, in the Science Hall. The hats will be in all colors and sizes and none will cost more than $3.98.

The Guild will have its general meeting that same day at 1 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

DEAD-END

The way of the transgressor is a rough, one-way street that leads nowhere.

Frank Whitton Claims Bride

Phyllis Florence Ashlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Ashlin, of Wayne, was married on August 21 to Frank H. Whitton, Jr., son of the senior Whittons, of Los Angeles, formerly of Hawthorne road.

A reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents followed the ceremony in St. Albans Episcopal Church Chapel.

The newly married couple will return to this area in late December to establish their home.

INVITATION TO THIEVES

City police checked the Active Real Estate building, 17266 Mack avenue, and the Dr. Clinic, 17700 Mack avenue, when they found the doors to both left wide open. The check found everything in order and the doors were locked.

Wilford Lee Claims Bride

Carole Elizabeth Pendorf, daughter of the William Pendorfs, of Ann Arbor, became the bride of Wilford Lee, son of the Howard Lees, of Rivard boulevard, Saturday, at an afternoon ceremony at Mount Hope Methodist Church, Ann Arbor.

The maid of honor was Carlene Clark and the bridesmaid was Kathy Fraser.

Best man was Jeff Strayer and Marshall Noecker and Chris Lee were ushers.

After a brief wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Farmington.

Detroit Garden Club Plans Luncheon, Show

The Detroit Garden Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at the War Memorial on Wednesday, Sept. 9. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock, followed by a flower show which has been prepared by Mrs. Afton Himick and her committee.

Mrs. Matthew Kaskela and Mrs. Orville O. Rex will be the day's hostesses.

It would be easy to convince anyone that today's folding money is printed on flypaper.

Dance Planned For Single Set

Grosse Pointe's single set will touch off the fall season this Labor Day weekend with an opening dance in the Crystal Ballroom of Fries Auditorium on Friday evening, September 4, at 9 o'clock.

Known as the Center Club, these 20 and 30 year old single business and professional men and women in the Grosse Pointe area have mapped out a gala social program of dances on the first Friday of each month. In addition to the dances, theater parties, trips to football games, bowling and bridge sessions, and cocktail parties are planned.

As a special feature of the opening affair all the new single teachers in Grosse Pointe's public and private school systems are being invited as special guests.

Roston Clark's Orchestra will play throughout the evening in the candlelit ballroom overlooking Lake St. Clair where a buffet table will dispense refreshments to groups seated at cafe tables.

Couples, of course, are welcome to the dance but dates are in no way necesary. It is usual for young men and women to come unattached in groups and a welcoming committee makes certain that people are introduced and made welcome. Attire for the evening is business suits for the men and afternoon dresses for the women.

Offer Children Culture Course

A cultural program for preschool children ages 3 to 5 is being offered for the second time this year at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Classes will be held on Wednesday mornings from 9:30 to 11 beginning September 9 and continuing through November 11.

The program which proved so successful last spring has been worked out by three qualified teachers and young mothers, Mrs. Mary Ann Hughes, Mrs. Lee Peters, and Mrs. Helen Doelle.

The course of study enables the children to discover the worlds of art, music, and literature at a level which they can grasp and which fascinates them. Child craft or art for children for instance, features primitive pictures from the dawn of civilization.

Music is brought to the very young students by actually letting them handle simple toy instruments. They also cut out instruments from magazines and learn of the different families of instruments through recordings such as "Billy Finds His Baton". They learn rhythm in marching and through finger fun.

Literature and drama are introduced through the "Mr. Bear" poems, selections from "Under the Green Umbrella" which is the story about a toy pipe, and a dramatization about "Pinnochio" set to records.

The classes take place at low little tables in the Center's Recreation Room under the constant supervision of the three teachers. The classes necessarily must be limited and since last year they proved so popular the Center suggests early paid enrollments. The cost is $25 for 10 lessons.

Senior Ladies Invited to Center

One of the most delightful and appreciated groups sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center is the Senior Ladies Club which welcomes into its membership and to its functions all Pointe women over 60.

The group meets regularly the second and fourth Wednesdays beginning in September and continuing through July. Composed of over 100 members, the group gathers in the panelled Josephine Gregory Room of Alger House at 12:30 for a light luncheon snack and an afternoon of card playing, chit chat, and sometimes a special program. In September their meeting dates are the 9th and the 23rd.

The club provides an opportunity for older women to meet and form enjoyable friendships. In addition to enjoying each other, the ladies always put in a penny for each year of their ages from which fund get-well cards are sent to members who may from time to time be ill and from which birthday cards are purchased for members. The ladies also have a little project which interests them annually, namely contributing gifts, (often things which they have made themselves) to the Children's Hospital at Christmas time.

Many of the ladies drive and are happy to pick up those who do not have transportation. Often times daughters are happy to chauffeur their mothers and their mother's friends. If any Senior Lady would like to be introduced to the group, by calling the Center it will be arranged for her to be picked up the first time.

Cooperative Nursery Plans Luncheon Meeting

The Christ Church Cooperative Nursery will hold its membership business meeting at a luncheon Friday, September 11, at 12:30 o'clock.

Hostess in her Yorkshire road home will be Mrs. Dwight P. Black, the 1964-65 president.

A DIFFERENCE

Don't judge a man on weekdays by the kind of company he keeps on Sundays.

Shores Garden Club to Meet

The Grosse Pointe Shores Garden Club will meet in the home of Mrs. Arthur Hirt, of Lochmoor Boulevard, on Friday, Sept. 4, at 12 o'clock. Luncheon will be served. Mrs. Hirt will be assisted by Mrs. Carl Johnson and Mrs. Kenneth Strang.

The program will be a prelude to the Grosse Pointe Garden Center Flower Show, "Autumn Comes to Grosse Pointe."

Fashion Show Set for Sept. 10

A tea and fashion show by Jacobsons for the benefit of the Holy Ghost Mission Seminary will be held on Thursday, September 10, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

HEADLIGHTS STOLEN

A thief stole both headlights from his automobile on Tuesday, August 25, Ben W. Eyhing, 22, of 629 University, told Farms police. He told authorities that his auto was parked in a lot at the rear of a bar at Mack and Kerby at the time of the theft.

PEACEFUL LIVING

The world was better off when most theories were progressive, but non-explosive.

Grates-Kaye Rites Observed Saturday

Reception at DYC Follows Ceremony at Our Lady Star of the Sea Church; Newlyweds Travel to Canada; Will Live in Warren

Our Lady Star of the Sea Church was the setting for the marriage, August 29, of Margaret Mary Kaye to Jerome Anthony Grates.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Kaye of North Renaud road. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grates of Lochmoor boulevard.

The former Miss Kaye chose an all white wedding gown of silk organza with an applique of lace flowers and hand sewn seed pearls. The Chapel train of applique lace extended from a high rising bow above the waist. The wedding veil fashioned of silk illusion, fell from a delicate pearl crown. Her bouquet was a cascade of roses and white orchids.

Shirley Kaye was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a full length empire gown with a white crepe skirt and moss green velvet bodice.

Dressed identically were the bridesmaids, Judith Bessert and Patricia Besimer. They all carried bouquets of white carnations intertwined with green ribbons.

Paul Susalla served as Mr. Grates' best man. The ushers were Peter Besimer and Richard Jefferies.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kaye wore a dress of gold chiffon with matching veiled hat and shoes. The bridegroom's mother wore a silk shantung dress of cocoa brown with matching jacket. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the Detroit Yacht Club in the newly decorated Harmsworth and Silver Cup rooms.

After a trip to Canada, the young couple will live in the President's Village in Warren, Mich.

NEW START

Center Offers Dance Classes

Ballroom dancing classes for boys and girls will be offered this fall at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial under the direction of Ted and Lillian Forrest, whose successes at the Hunt Club and in Bloomfield have put them in great demand.

Classes are being set up for young people in grades five through nine. The classes are offered on Thursday afternoons at 4:30 for boys and girls in grades five and six beginning September 17 and continuing through December 17.

On Friday beginning September 18 there is a weekly 6:45 p.m. class for 7th and 8th graders, and alternate Fridays from 8 to 10 o'clock an advanced class for older students. Fifteen hour-long classes are offered in each series for a fee of $15. Included at the end of the season is a gala party in Fries Crystal Ballroom complete with orchestra, favors and refreshments.

In addition to learning the traditional ballroom steps and the current popular dances all the young people receive a thorough training in social deportment and gain ease and poise.

Enrollments are being taken in advance since it is necessary to have classes balanced properly between boys and girls.

All classes are limited to approximately 50 students.

Sometimes a gal stands before a mirror while dressing so she can see what's going on.

World Series of Sailing Being Conducted at GPYC

By Frank McBride

The North American Yacht Racing Union's sailing championship for the Clifford D. Mallory Trophy got underway at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club over the weekend. Crews and race officials from around the United States and Canada began arriving early Sunday morning.

The activities began with the skippers and crews being introduced to the Crescent Class Sailboats in which the series will be sailed. None of them had ever sailed on these boats before. They were checked out on the boats by a committee headed by Dick Hill designer of the boats. Many of the boat's owners were on hand to help the crews find gear and explain how to use it. This was a very nice gesture on the part of the boat owners. Also on hand were Howard and Spike Boston complete with sewing machine to help keep the sails in top condition.

After a trial race around a 3-mile triangular course the crews returned to the club for briefings and meetings. The skippers drew numbers for the boat in which they would start the series. Each crew will sail one race in each boat. There is a regular round robin system set for the rotation of the boats.

First Race Monday

Monday morning the first Official Race was conducted under ideal sailing conditions. The wind was from the northwest at about 10 mph. The committee used an Olympic Course which is a triangle with two additional legs to windward and one to leeward. This type of course is considered by sailors to be the best test of a boat and crew.

After the start of the first race Monday morning the fleet divided into two groups with one group heading out into the lake and the other heading toward the Grosse Pointe shore. For some time it appeared that the boats out in the lake would be first to the mark, but this all changed as the boats got wind shifts off of Gaukler Point. The in-shore boats were in the favored position. This existed again in the afternoon

Winner of the first race was G. Shelby Friedrichs and his crew. Tom Dreyfus and Roy Troendle of the Southern Yacht Club, New Orleans, La. They were followed by Scott Allan, Newport Harbor Yacht Club, Balboa, Calif.; Stanley Horan, Corinthian Yacht Club, Cape May, N.J.; Richard Sullivan, Scituate Harbor Yacht Club, Scituate, Mass.; Ronald McFarlane, Pacific International Yacht Club, Seattle, Wash., Ted Bowser, Hudson Yacht Club, Hudson, Quebec, Canada; Bill Butz, Jr., Cedar Lake Yacht Club, Slinger, Wisconsin; MacNeil Sturgess, Pine Orchard Yacht Club, Pine Orchard, Conn.

Wins Two in Row

In the afternoon the second race of the series was conducted with the conditions being approximately the same as in the morning. The committee used the Olympic Course again. The boats finished in the following order: 1st G. Shelby Freidrichs, New Orleans; 2nd Richard Sullivan, Scituate, Mass.; 3rd Scott Allan, Balboa, Calif.; 4th Ted Bowser, Hudson, Quebec; 5th MacNeill Sturgess, Conn.; 6th Ronald MacFarlane, Seattle; 7th Bill Butz, Wisconsin. Stanley Horan withdrew for hitting a course mark

The series is comprised of eight races with two scheduled for each day. The committee may, at its discretion, conduct three races in a day when good conditions prevail in order that the full complement of races be sailed should bad weather or lack of wind become a problem.

Club Plays Host

On Tuesday evening the participants were invited to a dinner party at the Detroit Yacht Club. Wednesday evening the Detroit Boat Club was to host the crews, skippers, and race officials. The trophy will be presented at the banquet to be held on Thursday evening at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. All members of the D.R.Y.A. are invited to attend the final banquet at GPYC. Reservations should be made by calling the GPYC, TU 4-2500 by noon Thursday.

The course is being patrolled by the United States Coast Guard and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police since the event has an international flavor.

OFFICER PROMOTED

Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers disclosed that effective as of Thursday, August 27, School Safety Officer George Blair has been promoted from patrolmen to corporal in the Uniform Division. The new corporal will still remain as school safety officer, the chief said.

The strain of today's work and tomorrow's worrying is too heavy a burden for anyone.

Wins Scherer Memorial Trophy

BARBARA ROCHFORD (left), was the winning Junior Sailor at the Crescent Sail Yacht Club's Annual Regatta August 22 and was awarded the J. OTTO SCHERER MEMORIAL TROPHY, presented for the first time by MRS. SCHERER (right). The late Mr. Scherer, in whose memory the award was made, dedicated himself to encouraging and training young skippers. He made outstanding contributions in furthering the sport of sailing in this area. In skippering the winning boat for Crescent and winning the trophy, Barbara was assisted by her crew of Beth Hollerback and Michael Chandler.

Luffers and Lubbers

By Anne Boynton

First place honors were pretty well dominated by Bayview Yacht Club, the Detroit Yacht Club, and Crescent Sail Yacht Club at last Saturday's regatta sponsored by the Edison Boat Club. Each club came through, winning six of the 25 classes represented.

The Detroit River Yachting Association's 15-mile course off the Canadian shore was sailed by 225 boats. Warm weather prevailed, a pleasant switch from the drenching sailors received at the Crescent Sail Yacht Club regatta the week before.

In Class A, Bayview's Tom Hanson, who usually comes out on top in Dauntless III, was forced to settle for a close second. Winner was Don Sucher, of Great Lakes Yacht Club, in Tigress, with an elapsed time of 3:37:50.

The winners of Classes B and C could practically be filled in before the race began. Unbeatable Don Smith of Bayview produced a 3:40:25 time in Yare to come out on top in Cruising B. Cruising C was, of course, won by Karl Ness' and Maurice DeClercq's Flying Buffalo in 3:43:18.

Roy Barbier of Crescent also won another Cruising C-II race in his boat, Roulette. Cruising D results showed Frank Taylor of Crescent winning in Mitzi.

Marc Lonesk Trains With Midshipmen

Midshipman Third Class Marc A. Lonesk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lonesk of 15306 Kercheval, is among 744 Naval Academy Midshipmen who have completed two weeks of amphibious warfare indoctrination at the Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Va.

The Annapolis sophomores arrived in Norfolk, Va., on July 24 aboard 14 ships of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet. Led by the ASW support aircraft carrier USS Essex and the guided missile cruiser USS Little Rock, the task group, with its midshipmen embarked, had spent a month participating in anti-submarine exercises in the North Atlantic.

The summer curriculum was specially designed to acquaint the young trainees with both the Navy and Marine Corps aspects of an amphibious assault. Demonstrations, operation of amphibious equipment and active participation in a wide variety of practical drills cover all aspects of amphibious operations.

City Club Opens 46th Season

September will be a busy month socially and educationally for members of the Women's City Club of Detroit, and many Pointers are taking part in the planning of the 46th fall season.

First on the agenda is "A Day for the Queen of Hearts", a bridge benefit (for the decorating fund), to take place the afternoon and evening of September 15.

Mrs. Paul Marco, of Oxford road, Mrs. Elmer Benzin, of Lochmoor boulevard, Mrs. Herman P. Sattler, of Webber place, Mrs. Otto Lundell, of Lochmoor boulevard, and Mrs. Carrol N. Traxler, of N. Popular Smorgasbord dinners will start again on Saturday, September 19. Following the dinner, a number of prizewinning movies will be shown including "Fount and Blue" and "Yugoslavia Beckons."

Members who have ever enjoyed swimming at the City Club's beautiful blue-green Pewabic tile pool are invited for a Reunion Splash Party and luncheon September 21, beginning at 10 a.m.

On September 23, at 11 a.m., Mrs. George W. Romney will be guest speaker. A reception and luncheon will follow her talk.

Finally, James T. Fitzpatrick, of Hidden lane, will show his pictures of Easter and Pitcairn Islands as well as Finland, Russia and Poland following the first fall Club Night dinner September 24.

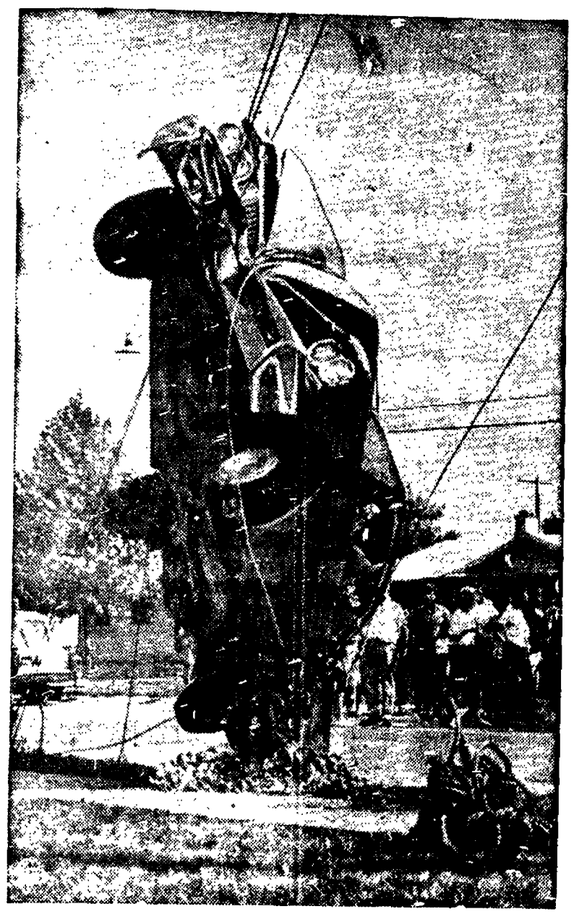
IN LONDON FOR SOUTHEAST ASIA TALKS—Arriving at London Airport, Henry Cabot Lodge, former U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam now on a tour for President Johnson, makes a solemn point. He is in London for talks with British government officials concerning the United States policy in Southeast Asia. (Radiophoto)

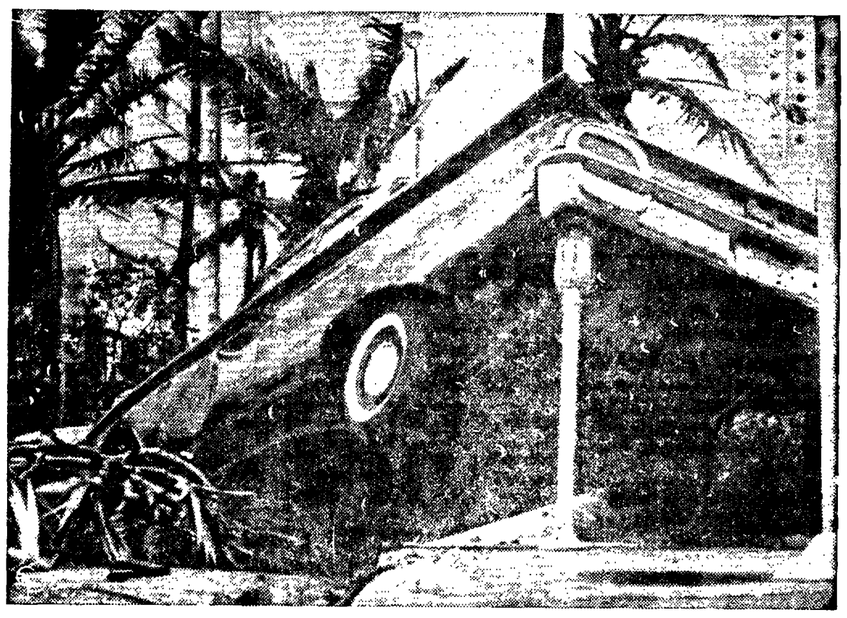
FOLKSY HUMPHREY—Hubert H. Humphrey, Democratic candidate for vice president, is shown back home in Minnesota feeding the family ducks and squeezing out a few tunes.

FINAL RITES FOR GRACIE ALLEN—George Burns (left), Jack Benny and Burns' son, Ronnie (behind his father) leave Forest Lawn's Church of the Recessional in Hollywood, Calif., after final rites for Gracie Allen, who died following a heart attack at home.

A "FIRST"—The first woman state motor vehicles director in the nation will be June Strelecki (above) of Irvington, N.J., assuming legislative approval. Miss Strelecki, 36, was nominated by New Jersey's Gov. Richard J. Hughes. She is an attorney.



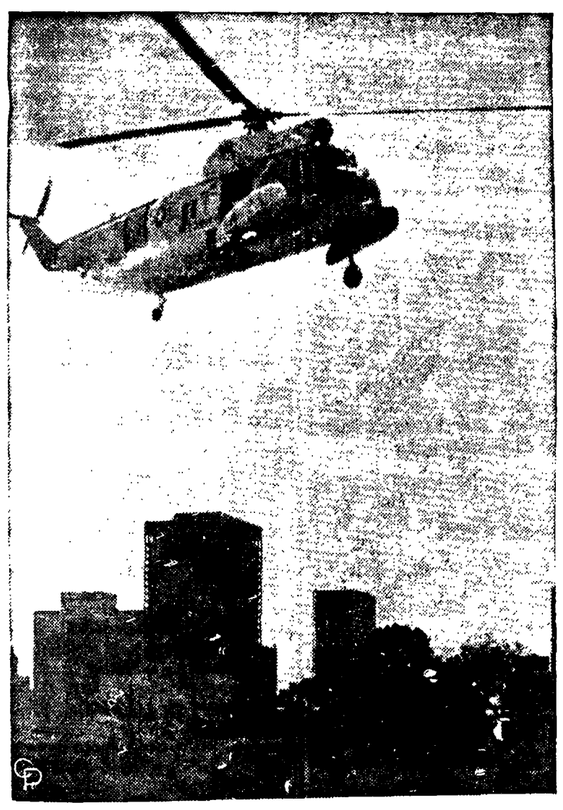
SHE REACHED INTO THE BACK SEAT AND . . .—After she was helped out of her car, Marline Bowman, 21, Logansport, Ind., told police she reached into the back seat to pat down papers blowing around, and her car climbed eight feet up a guy wire on a utility pole.



OVERPARKED—Hurricane Cleo picked this car up and hung it over the parking meter in Miami Beach, Fla. Cleo's damage is being added up to around $50 million.

KEATING ENDORSED—Despite his refusal to support the Goldwater-Miller ticket, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating wins the endorsement of the New York State Republican Party at its convention in New York City. He is seeking a second term. Holding Keating's hands aloft in victory are Gov. Nelson Rockefeller (left) and ex-Gov. Thomas Dewey.

$1.5 MILLION — Pamela Mason smiles in Santa Monica, Calif., after reportedly agreeing to a settlement in excess of $1.5 million to dissolve her 24-year marriage to actor James Mason. The settlement was announced just before the 48-year-old TV actress was to take her divorce petition into Superior Court. The Masons have two children, Portland, 15, and Morgan, 10.



FIGHTING SLEEPING SICKNESS—A U. S. Coast Guard helicopter spreads insecticide dust in Houston, Tex., to stem the sleeping sickness epidemic. The encephalitis disease is carried by culex mosquitoes. Sickness has spread to other cities.

A BEEF IS HEARD—A skirmish erupts in St. Cloud, Minn., as National Farmers Organization members stop a cattle truck on its way to market. Trucker Jesse Martin of Long Prairie, Minn., was hauling cattle from Staples, Minn., to St. Paul. Police broke it up.

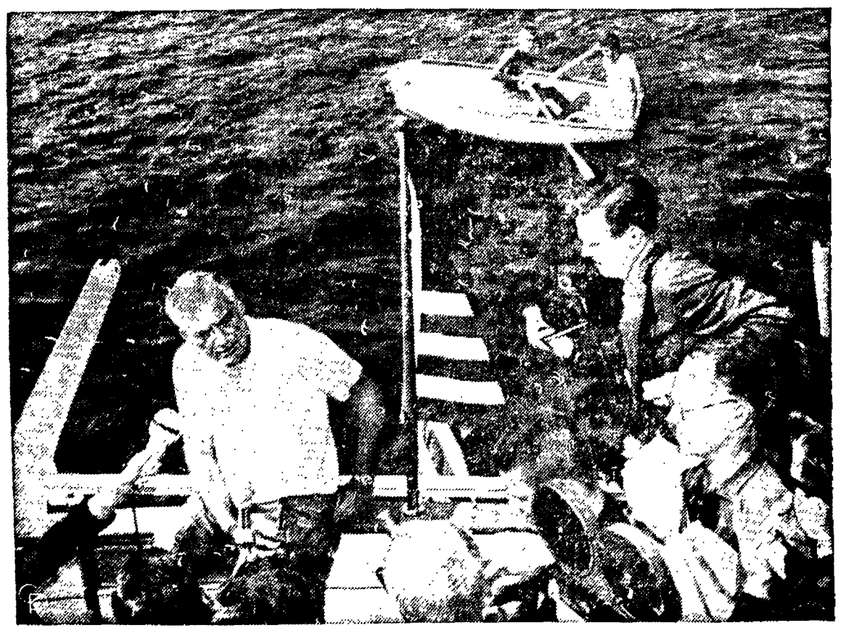
THE FIRST woman letter carrier in a hundred years of delivery service in Kansas City, Mo., is Mrs. Janice Fletcher, whose husband Clark also carries the mail. Here she checks in, starts out with a sack of mail, and manages to quiet a boxer dog. A federal ruling states that no distinction shall be made between men and women in hiring mail carriers.

HELD AFTER RIOTS—A man who bills himself as Shaykh Muhammad, leader of the "Black Nationalists," sits in police headquarters in Philadelphia following a police raid on his African-Asian Culture Center in the heart of North Philadelphia. He was held in $10,000 bail as a probe into the three-day riot in the "black-belt" was started by police.

BUKAVU LIBERATED—A Congolese army armored car patrols in Bukavu after the town's liberation from Gaston Soumaliot's Red-directed rebels. Note the bodies. (Radiophoto)

U.S. "WARDEN"—New U.S. director of prisons will be Myrl E. Alexander (above), Southern Illinois University professor and head of its Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections. Alexander, 54, will succeed James V. Bennett, who retires Aug. 28 or his 70th birthday.

A DIP IN THE ROAD—Wreckers remove car of Samuel Halvern, 60, from the Presidential Motor Lodge swimming pool in Hyannis, Mass. Halvern, from Long Island City, N.Y., turned into what he thought was the driveway and wound up in 12 feet of water.



VACATIONING Barry Goldwater lounges on rail of the yacht Sundance as he chats with newsmen off Catalina Island. "My political bones tell me," he said, that announcement of a negotiated settlement in Viet Nam will come before election day.

BEARDED and tanned as he ends a week's vacation at sea, Barry Goldwater looks toward the Balboa Bay Club as the yacht Sundance docks at Newport Beach, Calif. He flew to his Phoenix, Ariz., home to open his presidential campaign in Prescott, Ariz., later in the week.

IN THE FARMS, near Charlevoix, this colonial offers three bedrooms and two full baths. There is also a separate dining room and a family room. Impeccably maintained and ready to move into . . . if you are just shy of thirty thousand dollars.

HERE'S A GEM of a house in the Shores, and located just a couple minutes walk to the brand new park swimming pool. The floor plans put a master bedroom and bath on the first floor, with two more bedrooms and another bath upstairs. Priced to be snapped up at $32,500.

EXACTLY FITS the description outlined by so many of today's home buyers — Colonial architecture, approximately ten years old, four bedrooms, at least two and a half baths, large family room, and in "the right location." On a limited access street in the Shores. $50,000.

ON ONE OF the most popular streets in the City, Lincoln Road, you can mave into this center hall French home, which boasts five bedrooms and three baths on the second floor. Perfect for the family which wants to remain in the thirty thousand price bracket.

IF YOU ARE one who has often driven by one of the few, jewel box French houses with their charming Mansard roofs, which are attractively scattered throughout The Pointe. If you have said to yourself, "Why doesn't that house ever go on the market?" If this be your idea of "creme de la creme". Then ring us up and we'll show you this petite palace. The perfect small house with elbow room.

ON VENDOME we will show you one of the best examples of a large English manor house ever built in The Pointe. In the same neighborhood, but around the corner on Cloverly Road, we offer another large English house which will wow you with the charm woven into it by its present owner.

ON GRAND MARAIS we are offering a traditional center hall colonial with four gigantic bedrooms on the second floor and another on the third for family or stay-in help. The generous proportions are reflected throughout, and we quote as an example the 32' long living room. The large kitchen has been re-done as has also an immense basement recreation room. We feel this home is priced quite fairly at $42,500.

WHY LOOK hither and thither for that ideal ranch home with 1½ baths, three bedrooms, dining room, and a family room? We'll even throw in a two-car attached garage and all for UNDER $40,000.

"Politeness is an easy virtue, costs little, and has great selling power."

Fifty-three contestants for the Miss USA-World beauty pageant were in Detroit last week and they invaded the Pointe en masse on at least three occasions. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Tompkins, of Windmill Pointe Drive, invited the young ladies to a garden party they were having for the Commodore's Club, an organization founded by Mr. Tompkins for past Commodores of clubs affiliated with the Detroit River Yachting Association. Also on hand was Jayne Mansfield, one of the judges for the show.

The beauty contestants journeyed to the Pointe twice more while they were here to be made even more beautiful. They had their hair done at David's on Friday and again on Monday, the day of the contest.

The envy of the toddler set on McKinley avenue is a three-year-old who is sporting a white visor cap with numerals proclaiming that she is Dartmouth, class of 20. The cap is a gift from her grandfather who, found along with his colleagues at the Dartmouth class reunion, that something had (1) either happened to his head size in the years intervening since graduation or (2) that someone had sent the caps in children's sizes.

You get personalized service . . . when you advertise in the Grosse Pointe News. And if you don't believe it, we can furnish references. Here's an example: Last week a Grosse Pointe family advertised for a nursemaid to live "in their happy home" and help with the care of twin girls. A few days later, a nursemaid telephoned our classified advertising department regarding her ad which had not been run because she had missed our deadline.

Liking the sound of the nursemaid's voice and remembering the promise of a happy home, our classified ad taker telephoned the mother of the twin girls and told her about the nursemaid.

It looked as if a connection had been made until the mother discovered that the nursemaid's only reference was in Cleveland, O. But wait, the nursemaid's former employer, whose reference was glowing indeed, was the best friend of the young mother and the only person she knows in Cleveland. Result: a misplaced nursemaid has been placed, and two twin girls are now enjoying the loving care entendered by a mother and a mother's helper!

Survival of the Fittest. Visitors to Beirut, frightened by the speed and nonchalance of Lebanon's cabdrivers, are surprised to learn that the accident rate is low. "It shouldn't surprise anybody," explained a cabby. "All the bad drivers are now dead."

In Connecticut's gilt-edged Fairfield County, the owner of a valuable poodle received a phone call from the dog warden's office informing her that her pedigreed pet had been impounded. "Before you pick him up at the pound," she was instructed, "you must first stop at the police station to pay his fine." Since the sheltered canine had never been involved in any previous brush with the law, his indignant mistress asked haughtily on what grounds he was being charged.

"He's being held," she was told, "on a morals charge."

Canteen Conversation

By Rick Mills

This week the parents of Grosse Pointe teens were asked some questions about teenagers "going steady." Here are their replies.

What are the advantages of going steady?

KENNETH LOCKE: "By my own experience, I can say that a teen settles down quite a bit when he is going steady."

DR. KENNARD JONES: "From my experience, it depends on the individual. I appreciated someone I could depend on and I think she felt the same way. I can't see anything wrong with going steady among teenagers. If you do 'play the field', however, you should try to find something good in everyone you meet. This will help you to become more expert in classifying people."

MRS. FRAN COUGHLIN: "Going steady bolsters self respect in teens at a time when they feel insecure."

What are some of the problems created by going steady?

MR. LOCKE: "You can't get enough experience with other personalities, and test your likes and dislikes with other people."

MRS. COUGHLIN: "Sometimes teens become too involved with one person and when they do find that they want to 'break up', they cannot do so without hurting someone's feelings. Also the emotional involvements can rise into something that teens are not ready to handle. The big problem for parents is to know how and when to give their help and advice."

DR. JONES: "Moral problems are always present, but this is no more of a problem than it was in my day. We just forget how it was when we were teenagers. We see things in a different perspective. I cannot help worrying about cars; a temptation has been made more accessible. A car has become a necessity today. If we as parents, however, keep teaching our kids from birth, when they are teens they will have a solid moral and educational foundation and won't get into trouble. I have quite a bit of faith in teens of today."

Why do teens go steady?

MR. LOCKE: "I suppose they enjoy the security. If a boy is going steady, he does not have to ask different girls out and possibly suffer the frustration of being turned down."

MRS. COUGHLIN: "I believe it depends greatly on the individual. Some just follow the crowd, to conform. In other cases, 'going steady' means exploring a new kind of relationship."

DR. JONES: "In my case, I felt more secure with the friendship of a few people rather than a great many. If you are an extrovert, possibly you should 'play the field'. An introvert might find that going steady is right for him. This is only one idea, it really depends on the individual. I would like to say in conclusion, that if you ever get into a tight spot, a situation in which you need help, try calling on the one with all the answers, God. This can really help!"

The statements made by both parents and teens seem to indicate that there is considerable understanding and communication between the two generations. I hope that all families are lucky enough to enjoy this important "freedom of speech" in their home. Only love and understanding can make a framework in which the teen can mature. And through love and understanding the family is held together.

MRS. JACK B. FREY, OF WASHINGTON ROAD

By Betty Collins

The problems of today's college-educated housewives and mothers who need "stimulating" outlets for their creativity have been discussed alike by educators and anthropoligists; by the mass media and Margaret Mead. Some women have begun to refer to themselves as "horrible examples." One woman who does not need "The Feminine Mystique" to point the way is Mrs. Jack B. Frey, of Washington road.

As a wife and mother who is also a business woman, Mrs. Frey's days are filled with myriad activities, most of which she finds fascinating. Her most engrossing interest, aside from her family, is a party decorations business, called Party Makers, of which she and Mrs. Larry Tisdale, of Rivard boulevard, are the founders and co-owners.

Now six years old, Party Makers began when Mrs. Frey and Mrs. Tisdale were working together on decorations for the Christmas party given by the High School Mothers' Club. They enjoyed the work so much that they decided to continue making party decorations as a hobby. The demand for their wares was great, however, and the hobby soon turned into a business which could, if they would let it, turn into full time occupations for both women.

Cover Wide Range

Mrs. Frey and Mrs. Tisdale have built a large clientele for Party Makers by making arrangements and favors that people can't find anywhere else. Their projects may range anywhere from making four bridge tallies for a card party to planning and executing the complete inside and outside decorations for a party of 500 people.

According to Mrs. Frey, organizations frequently contact Party Makers for projects when they are unable to find enough members with the time or inclination for artistic work. Party Makers did the Cottage Hospital Christmas booth for the October bazaar, and has prepared the decorations for the Boat Club's Aqua Follies for two years.

Party Makers also sells its decorations to several local stores. The ladies have vivid memories of the time they made 5,184 items within a month's time, for a large department store at Christmas. They dislike assembly work, however, and would prefer to do small parties where they might co-ordinate place cards, cocktail napkins, favors, and centerpiece.

At Christmas time, the ladies retail direct to the customer by opening a shop for two months where people can buy arrangements or the materials and directions to make their own arrangements.

The ladies really prefer, at the Christmas season, to help their customers make their own decorations. Trimming one's own house seems almost to be a part of the holidays, believes Mrs. Frey.

Have Home Work

Mrs. Frey's five-year-old colonial home always is decorated gloriously for the Christmas season, as she makes much of all family occasions. Each year Mrs. F. also closets herself in the kitchen for about five days to make Christmas cookies, from the Pennsylvania Dutch recipes which are part of her heritage as a former resident of Lancaster, Pa. She usually sends about 70 to 80 dozen of these cookies to her husband's office for their office party.

Feeling that a new home requires old furniture, Mrs. Frey has scattered antiques which are meant to be lived with and not merely looked at, throughout her house. Most of her antiques have been passed down through the family, however, as Mrs. Frey believes that family pieces are the ones that have meaning and charm.

When it comes to art work, however, Mrs. Frey's favorites are of a newer vintage: more particularly paintings by her husband. She has proudly hung a number of these in the living room.

The Frey home is an intensely personal one, built to the family's specifications and constructed for easy maintenance and the sort of informal living that means there really IS "always room for one more."

It is the perfect backdrop for their lively family of five, which include three teenagers. They are Prue, a junior at Middlebury College, in Vermont; Roger, a senior at the High School and page 2 editor of the Tower; and Doug, a high school sophomore whose major interest is photography.

Had Exchange Student

Last year there was, in addition Eiji Kawamoto, a Japanese exchange student here with the American Field Service, which is a favorite Frey project. This year, the Freys are assisting the AFS in an advisory capacity, as counselors for a Swiss boy who is living in a local home.

The Freys pursue many family interests. One of them is the Russian language. They have gone through the stage, says Mrs. Frey, where they have named everything after its Russian equivalent. Mrs. Frey, who protests being called Mom, is nicknamed "Motts" meaning "mother" in Russian, by her children.

Another family project which became a family pastime was that of learning to sail. Several years ago the Freys bought a Lightning boat, about 20 years old, christened it Yerf (Frey spelled backwards), and took family lessons from a young man from the Crescent Sail Yacht Club. The lessons "took" and this year the family purchased a new fiberglass Interlake, which the children can handle easily.

An activity which Mrs. Frey pursues with her husband is membership in a Great Books group to which they have belonged for nine years. She says that the fact that her husband "is a brain" has helped her over the rough spots encountered in completing 16 readings a year. Their Great Books Group, which is the senior one of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, has no regular leader. The members take turns and Mrs. Frey leads about one a year.

Unlike those who strive to find meaningful ways to spend their time, Mrs. Frey finds that ideas for projects come faster than her ability to keep up. Perhaps this is because she does not always seek to do the exotic, but finds enjoyment in the more conventional pastimes, as well.

Some of her interests, past and present, include PAT Council, Scouts, Mothers Club, co-director of Tuxis Shows for Memorial Church, her sorority, Pi Beta Phi, and five bridge clubs.

Mrs. Frey admits that she "can't stand inactivity," but wishes that she did have time, or could make the time to concentrate, to become a specialist "in something." Ruefully, she calls herself a "Jack of all trades."

In fact, by making the most of every minute and enjoying every day, Mrs. Frey has become a Master in the art of living.

Ballet Classes Now Forming

The Center's Ballet School under the direction of Mary Ellen Cooper, graduate of Toronto Royal Conservatory, will enroll students on Friday, September 18, between 3:30 and 5:30 and on Saturday, Sept. 19, between 9:30 and 2:30.

Miss Cooper teaches the Cecchetti method which is the traditional Italian ballet. She is the daughter of one of Detroit's most distinguished musical families, her father and uncle having been with the Detroit Symphony since its inception. Her mother, a former concert pianist, accompanies the ballet classes.

Miss Cooper accepts pupils beginning age 5. Classes are held in the Center's recreation room Mondays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays after regular school and both morning and afternoon on Saturdays. The fee is $21.60 for 12 one-hour lessons for ages 5 through 10 and $24 for ages 10 or over.

Miss Cooper likes to interview all her new students so that they may be placed in the proper group according to age and ability. At the end of the year the young ballerinas have a chance to perform in an evening of ballet in Fries Auditorium. In addition to learning the classic ballet routines, they gain a great deal in a sense of rhythm, balance, and poise.
