VILLAGERS FLEE $100,000 FIRE

Brownell Gets 3 Year Contract with Sharp Salary Increase from Board; Berns Protests Aloma Theatre Has Gala Re-opening

Park Theater Made Modern at Cost of $40,000; Talkies Now

A gala opening for the Aloma Theater, Wayburn and Charlevoix avenues, formerly known as the Grosse Pointe Park Theater, was held this week.

More than $40,000 was spent in remodeling the house, among the new equipment installed being complete sound apparatus for the presentation of sound and talking motion pictures.

The interior of the auditorium has been done over in a Spanish motif, and from the exterior now hangs a huge electric sign, spelling out the name "Aloma" for all to see.

Lochmoor Registers

Registration of all qualified electors of the Village of Lochmoor who have not registered will take place, Tuesday, February 18th, at Lochmoor municipal building, in preparation for the annual election to be held March 10. The Board of Registration will be in session from 8:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. February 18, to effect the registrations.

Up to that date, the village clerk, Philip T. Allard, will register all qualified electors.

The sound equipment is Western Electric, one of the pioneers in the development of talking pictures, and is the best and most modern of its type. The installation of this equipment will allow the management to present all of the newest and greatest films exactly as they are presented in the downtown deluxe houses.

TERRACE IN VILLAGE SCENE OF MIDNIGHT FIRE; FIREMAN HURT

Damage which, it is estimated, will reach a total of $100,000 was caused by a fire which last Friday night swept a terrace apartment building at 321-339 Rivard boulevard, Grosse Pointe Village.

The fire started in the basement of the apartment occupied by Harry W. Griffith, 329 Rivard boulevard, treasurer of the Briggs Commercial & Development Co. The interior of his home was destroyed.

An investigation by J. T. Brisson, chief of the village fire department, has caused him to believe the fire was caused either by rubbish piled in a coal bin, from spontaneous combustion, or from lighted cigarette butts that had been dropped into a box near the bin.

Medical Men in Club

Medical men with offices in the Grosse Pointe Township district recently formed a luncheon club and elected Dr. B. A. Warren president. The club meets once a month in the Neighborhood club house. It has a membership of 15.

The doctors are unanimously in favor of opening the Cottage Grove hospital on Oak Street. They feel with the continuous growth of Grosse Pointe we need the other hospital.

Teach Piano in Schools

Piano lessons are to be available at the Grosse Pointe schools, as the result of a decision made at the board of education meeting this week. Dr. S. M. Brownell, superintendent of schools, proposed a plan to enable instruction to be had at an exceptionally low rate, and his plan was accepted by the board. Students must take the lessons after school hours. Outside instructors will give the lessons under the direction of the school system's music department.

Notice to Candidates for Township Offices

Last day for filing for the various offices of Grosse Pointe Township will be Wednesday, Feb. 12. The Township Board will hold a special meeting that night at the Township Hall to give the candidates who wish to file an opportunity to do so.

Gabriel Richard School Two Weeks Behind

Bad weather has caused a two week delay in the construction schedule of the new Gabriel Richard School, according to a contractor's report at the last meeting of the Board of Education. Sixteen days were lost, due to the inclement weather. Some of this time may be made up with the return of favorable weather, the board was informed. The members expressed themselves as not being in favor of holding the contractor to a schedule that borders on the unreasonable and one which might be disrupted by bad weather.

Gas Escapes from Sewer Perils 22 Men Working

Twenty-two men, at work in a sewer at the Eight-Mile road and Jefferson avenue, Grosse Pointe Shores, were in danger of death last Thursday, when one of them disconnected a gas line and was unable to find the cutoff. Otto Guarino, 23, of 64 Wiggins avenue, was overcome and was resuscitated by a rescue squad from the Detroit City Gas Co. Later he was treated at Receiving Hospital.

Return to California

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Hubbard of Grosse Pointe, have returned to Pasadena Calif., where they are to spend the winter at the Huntington Hotel.

They arrived on the day of the formal opening of the hotel, January 23, when a dinner, entertainment and ball lunched the social season.

Hotels in this popular southern California resort city report an increase in the number of winter visitors as compared with this time last year, the stock market drop apparently not affecting those who regularly winter here.

Russell Alger's Will Probated; Son and Daughters Legatees

The will of the late Russel A. Alger, of Grosse Pointe, was filed in Probate Court this week. It revealed that Mr. Alger left the bulk of his estate to his son, Russell A., Jr., and two daughters, besides providing a bequest of $5,000 to the Detroit Newsboys Association.

The two homes in the Grosse Pointe district, one in Grosse Pointe Farms and the other the building known as "The Moorings," were left to the

Insurance Counsel Now

At the last meeting of the board of education, President Fred M. Sutter recommended to the trustees a plan to obtain an insurance counsel who, for a certain fee, would advise the board at all times on their insurance problems.

Ice Boat Races

The first ice boating regatta of the season at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, scheduled for last Sunday, was postponed until next Sunday because of soft ice. The races will start at noon, when Class A yachts will vie for points on the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Trophy Class R boats will compete for merchandise prizes, as will the R and B boats. The races are to be under the auspices of the Lake St. Clair Ice Yachting Association.

Roadway Is Proposed Over Fox Creek in Anti-Flood Project

A project involving $1,138,000 for flood protection at Fox Creek, and which will tie in with the present work being done on the Black Marsh Ditch project in Grosse Pointe, has been presented to the Detroit Council.

The project has been approved by the City Plan Commission. Five alternate suggestions, besides the one approved by the commission, were presented, the costs in some running as high as $2,900,000.

Under engineering studies submitted by John W. Reid, commissioner of public works, all the property on the west bank of the creek would be condemned and a dike erected equal in height to the concrete wall now protecting the east bank.

From an engineering standpoint, the plan approved will permit of the creek channel being enclosed later on if desired, and a roadway built over it, Reid said. This is similar to the manner in which Black Marsh Ditch now is being covered over in the Grosse Pointe section.

To Sell Kerby School

Fred M. Sutter, president of the board of education, has been named a committee of one to meet with councilmen of Grosse Pointe Farms to fix a valuation for the Kerby school building and plot. The Farms Council is anxious to purchase the property as the site of a new municipal hall, but to date has not been able to come to terms with the board of education as to the purchase price. Mr. Sutter's appointment was made in the hope of effecting a conciliation.

Sutter Made Terms As Post Is Not a "Political Football"

A three year contract providing for a total salary increase of $2,000 a year before the contract expires, was tendered to Dr. S. M. Brownell, superintendent of schools, at the regular meeting of the board of education last Monday night.

The resolution directing the contract be offered to Dr. Brownell, was drawn up and presented to the board by President Fred Sutter.

Those who supported Sutter's resolution were John R. Watkins, Charles A. Parcels and Charles Poupard. The strongest support for the resolution came from the bloc comprised of Watkins, Sutter and Parcels. Poupard voted in favor of it, when it seemed certain of passage no matter which way his vote was cast, and only after he opposed its passage during the discussion.

Congratulations

There's a new arrival at the home of Dr. S. M. Brownell, superintendent of schools. His name is Richard Miller and, when he arrived he weighed nine pounds, nine ounces. Mrs. Brownell is reported doing nicely. Richard is their first child.

Julius L. Berns was the only one to offer vigorous opposition to the measure and the only one to vote against it. He objected to the terms of the contract, particularly because it was offered on a three year, rather than a shorter, basis.

Dr. Brownell now draws a salary of $6,000 a year. His present contract expires July 1. The new contract provides a salary increase of $1,000 for the first year; an additional $500 during the second and the final raise to $8,000 annually for the third year.

Nurses Home

A new home for nurses at the Cottage Hospital, the gift of Mrs. John S. Newberry, was to be opened this week. It is on Ridge road between Lewiston and Oak streets, and has accommodations for 30 hospital attaches besides attendants. The equipment and furnishings were donated by Mrs. Emory L. Ford. The nurses, at present, are using the old hospital building on Oak street for their living quarters.

"a" at Gala Re-opening this week

Remodeled and redecorated to bring it up to the highest standards of theaters, the "Aloma," the former Grosse Pointe Park theater at Wayburn and Charlevoix avenues, ushers in a new era in the amusement circles in Grosse Pointe Park. Under the capable management of Albert Heuser and pledged to a policy of latest film stories, the "Aloma," equipped with the latest sound and talking devices promises the opportunity of many enjoyable evenings to residents in the Park and the Grosse Pointe district as a whole, for it is they who have made possible the improvements and modernization of the theater by their loyal patronage in the past.

"The board has been very generous," Dr. Brownell said, "but as a matter of fact, I am not so much interested in the compensation as I am in the job."

Sutter's leadership in the renewing of the contract was based on his contention that he wanted "to remove the political aspect of the superintendent's position."

With a change of personnel in board members, he said he thought a superintendent's position might be endangered, should it be held under a short time contract which would cause it to be a political plum to be awarded for services rendered.

This argument was refuted by Berns, who pointed out that the majority of board members, three of them, at least, always remain on the board while the terms of two others are expiring. Never is the personnel of the board changed entirely at any one time, he declared, with the result that the holdover members of the board would be in control of any situation which might arise as to the renewing of the superintendent's contract or the replacing of him by some one else.

"It strikes me as unusual," he declared, "that the superintendent's contract should be brought up for consideration at this time, as it does not expire until July, and customarily is considered at the same time that teacher's contracts are drawn, late in April."

"As a personal service contract, he could break it at any time and leave the board without a remedy. That is why I am opposed to the long term offered, and furthermore we don't know yet whether his ideas are right or not, and it occurs to me we will not know for the next year or so whether he is going to be as valuable to us as this contract intimates."

Parcells voiced the sentiments of the Parcells-Sutter-Watkins bloc when, in a three minute speech congratulating the board on its action in tendering the contract to Dr. Brownell, said in part:

"We are keeping faith with our original plans." He then went on with high words of praise for Dr. Brownell's abilities and his projects.

Terrace in Village Scene of Midnight Fire: Firemen Hurt

State, city and insurance officials, following a complete investigation, announced Tuesday that the conflagration started in a refuse box in the basement. Others who concurred in the belief that the origin was in the refuse box included P. R. Karn, deputy state fire marshal; S. M. Peterson, of Detroit Insurance Agency, and R. C. Loughheed, chief engineer of the Michigan Inspection Bureau. Loughheed further explained that the fire started near the box, which he said, was the only place in the basement which appeared to have been touched by the fire.

The fire swept up through the three stories of the Griffith apartment to the roof. Carl R. Meek, an architect who was returning with friends from a party at the Punch and Judy theater, rescued Sally Green, a maid in the Griffith home, carrying her from her room on the third floor.

Josephine Ann Fisher, three-year-old daughter of W. J. Fisher, an associate in the bonding and insurance business of John L. Gillespie, former police commissioner of Detroit, was carried to safety by her father. He, also, had just returned from the Punch & Judy theater.

William H. Mason, a fireman from the Farms department, fell from a ladder and was injured. He is the son of the chief of police of Lochmoor.

Frank Cronin, fire commissioner of the village, rescued "Bill" a prize winning wire hair fox terrier, owned by Mr. Griffith. Mr. Cronin found the dog huddled under a bed on the second floor and carried him to the street. The animal was suffering from the smoke and it was necessary to revive him with the police department inhalator.

The estate was listed as consisting of $50,000 and upwards in personal property and $50,000 and upwards in real estate. The will directed that a bequest of $50,000 be given to Mrs. Alger, and that then enough of the assets be held back to insure the payment to her of $50,000 annually.

Bequests of $5,000 each were made to the son and the two daughters, Mrs. Caroline Fay Miller and Mrs. Josephine A. Chaney and, after a few other bequests, it was provided the residue be divided among them equally. The assets held in trust to provide the yearly income for Mrs. Alger, also are to be divided equally among the three children upon her death.
A bequest of $25,000, as a "slight token of esteem" was left to Lawrence J. Howard; Mrs. Alger was given $1,000 to distribute among the servants and $5.00 for such charities as she may designate.

The executors named were Mrs. Alger, the son and James O. Murfin.

ALOMA

Draws Aside the Curtain on a World of Sound!

Home of all that is finest and best in Sound and Moving Pictures from the four corners of the earth.

REMEMBER ...years and years ago...the very first time you went to a movie? Remember the thrills of "The Great Train Robbery"....the one reel romances of Vitagraph days? Remember, too the incongruity of it all at first? Of lovers' lips moving soundlessly....of Bill Hart's pistols flashing pantomime in the backroom of a frontier bar?

Remember....later...."The Birth of a Nation," and the first large orchestra following the shifting shadows racing through the first Griffith epic? Still later came the day of the mighty organ....great and versatile instrument, which projected every mood of the silver screen into the hearts of the audience.

For 12 years we have kept pace with the moving picture industry — always striving to give our patrons the best obtainable.

AND NOW we have added the very latest equipment to present to you the very finest Sound and Screen pictures.
