REPORT OF GOOD SAMARITAN WORK DONE BY GROSSE POINTE LIONS CLUB

A report of the charitable work done by the Grosse Pointe Lions Club, in cooperation with the Neighborhood Club, was made public today, with the announcement that $466.97 of the Goodfellow fund was spent during the first three months of the year.

This fund was made possible by the sale of copies of the Grosse Pointe Review at Christmas time, when approximately $1,700 was collected. It was decided to distribute the money over the year, rather than to expend it all at Christmas time.

Tales of hunger, unemployment and illness are contained in the report, and also the joy with which the help was received by the needy families. In many cases the father of the family would not accept help except with the provision that he be allowed to repay the money at such a time when he is in better circumstances. The work is being carried on through the tireless efforts of Charles Dupont, chairman of the activities, who has obtained, or is trying to obtain work for many of the poor fathers.

Urges Playgrounds Be Closed; Games, Recreation Curbed

Trustee John Watkins at the regular School Board meeting, last Monday evening, in the High school building emphatically put himself on record as favoring a Sunday ban on the use of school playgrounds.

The matter of the Sunday use of school playgrounds by adults, including in playground ball and other recreational games, is an old one for the School Board, and has tried the steel of the trustees in previous wrangles with residents in the district.

Passes The Bar

William F. Dorn, editor of the Grosse Pointe Review was among the 127 law school graduates who successfully passed the state bar examination held at Lansing, April 28, 29 and 30. He resides at 403 St. Clair avenue.

Fred Sutter, president of the School Board, introduced the Sunday playground issue at the meeting, Monday, by voicing the protests of residents on Nottingham avenue—in the vicinity of the Defer school playground — to the disturbances raised there on Sundays by those engaged in playing games.

In introducing the subject, Sutter suggested to the Board members the advisability of determining a definite policy regarding the Sunday use of playgrounds as it has proven a vexatious one and is bound to prove even more a one in the light of proposed Junior High school program. It was Trustee Sutter's suggestion that the hours the playgrounds remain open be restricted on Sundays.

Watkins here took up the issue and in unequivocal terms denounced those who found occasion to visit the playgrounds on Sundays and engage in active games, saying:

"What change has come over this world, that school grounds have to be open on Sunday? When I was a boy, Sunday meant 'Sunday School,' and that only." (At this point, Mr. Watkins was asked by Mr. Meyers, editor of the Civic News, whether he still attended Sunday School. To this Mr. Watkins replied, "My life is an open book on that score.")

"Sunday is a day of rest for me," continued Watkins, who at this point began to ramble off quotations recalled at random from the Bible regarding the observance of Sunday.

Pearson Compiles A Scale of Points

Each year more and more flower, fruit and vegetable shows are staged by the ever increasing number of local garden clubs and each year brings with it the perennial question as to what scale of points should be used in judging and so that no difficulties will arise and all participants in the contest will be fully satisfied.

To assist these garden clubs, Tom Pearson of Grosse Pointe, former president of the Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society, has compiled a booklet "Judges Scale of Points for Horticultural Exhibitions." (Continued on Page Two)

Great Comedy Cast Presents "Aviator"

"The Aviator," the Warner Brothers' all-talking Vitaphone farce comedy which comes to the Punch and Judy theater on Friday and Saturday brings the last word in aerial acrobatic stunts and quite the most amusing dialogue ever to reach the audible screen.

The "head man" is Edward Everett Horton, past master of slapstick comedy—at this moment starring in this type of role on both stage and screen.

A supporting comedy role is played by Johnny Arthur, remembered for his clever comedy work in "The Butler and Egg Man," and the superb portrayal of a weakling in "The Gambler."

Edward Martindel, former star of comic opera, and for many years seen in important film roles, is a member of the cast as is Armand Kalis, the Frenchman with the savvier face.

Winnie Lightner on State Theatre Screen

In less than a year's time Winnie Lightner has emerged as the cleverest comedienne developed by the talking screen.

Her particular brand of boisterous humor is put across with an unrestrained technique that is something quite new to film acting.

"Gold Diggers of Broadway"

Although she is a recent favorite, Winnie Lightner is by no means unknown to the patrons of either vaudeville or musical comedy.

Winnie was born in Greenport, Long Island. She was, however, brought up by an uncle who lived in Buffalo and when she decided to become a singer, she eagerly accepted a chance to appear at Shay's theater in that city.

"High Treason" at the Punch & Judy Theater

A forecast of life and love in 1940 is promised in the Gaumont-Tiffany all-talking picture, "High Treason," presenting Jameson Thomas, Benita Hume, Humberston Wright and Basil Gill at the Punch and Judy theater Sunday and Monday, May 11 and 12.

1940, according to this story from a play by Pemberton Billing, will be a purely mechanical age. Television and wireless will be used instead of newspapers. Helicopters and airplanes will alight and depart from specially constructed landing stages on the tops of buildings.

The plot revolves around a beautiful young girl ardently devoting her energy to a Peace League of which her father is the European Vice-general, and a handsome young Major of the European Air Force.

Maurice Chevalier at United Artists Theater

Maurice Chevalier, the irrepresible Parisian bad boy, singer of roughish intimate songs and entertainer extraordinary, is starred by Paramount in a new romantic comedy, "The Big Pond," at the United Artists theater last night.

In "The Big Pond" Chevalier is cast as an impoverished nobleman who, on the invitation of his prospective and belligerent father-in-law, sails for America bent on becoming a successful business man.

Vilma Banky Talks at Madison Theater

Vilma Banky, Hungarian film star, and Victor Seastrom, director of such outstanding cinema achievements as "The Scarlet Letter" and "He Who Gets Slapped," make a joint entrance into the all-talking picture field in Miss Banky's starring vehicle, "A Lady to Love," at the Madison theater next week.

Although Miss Banky spoke a few lines in her last picture, "This Is Heaven," the new production will be her first all-talking endeavor.

Average Printed Word Not Long Remembered

In a work published in 1822 it is said there were at that time 1,000 books published yearly in Great Britain, on 600 of which there was a commercial loss, on 200 no gain, and only on 100 any considerable profit.

Of the 50,000 books published in the Seventeenth century, the volume states, not 50 are remembered. Of the 80,000 published in the Eighteenth century, not more than 300 are considered worth reprinting.

Since the first writings, 1,400 years before Christ, in 32 countries, only about 500 works of all writers had sustained themselves against the devouring influence of time.

America's Great Charm

Not all the changes in the trend of travel have taken place from this country to Europe. If no foreigner ever comes to this country for the same reason Americans travel abroad—that is, in search of beauty, culture or entertainment—we can console ourselves with the knowledge that the European industrial regards us with the keenest curiosity.

Mass production and the wonders accomplished in the United States are on the tongue of every business man and manufacturer in Europe. They hear tales of extraordinary achievements and they are coming to this country in increasing numbers to see whether the trick is turned—and, if so, how.—Nation's Business.

Grades of Silk

Silk is graded for thickness of thread, the size being measured in deniers. The French denier weighs one-twentieth part of a gramme. The basis for raw and thrown silk adopted by the permanent committee of the Paris International congress of 1900 was a fixed length and a variable weight, the standard of length being 450 meters and the weight the denier.

Where "Charlie" Landed

In the Outer Hebrides, where solitude may be had in wholesale quantities, lies the tiny island of Eriskay, about three miles long and two miles wide. It was in July, 1745, that Charles Stuart landed on this rock spot, and, feeling the ground of his family's ancient kingdom under his feet for the first time, exclaimed, "I am come home."

Sailsmanship

A youth recently mounted the net-work of Brooklyn bridge with the evident object of ending it all. "Come back," called a big-hearted sailor, "you have everything to live for."

"I ain't," retorted the youth, climbing still higher. "Aw, come on down and we'll talk it over. Life ain't so worse."

A little more coaxing, and the intending suicide relented. For fifteen minutes life was discussed in all its channels aspects. Then they arose—and both jumped off.—Army and Navy Journal.

Railless Railroading

It is related of a certain engineering officer, formerly of the A. E. F., that, in the course of an inspection tour in France, he noticed that most of the ties were scored. After several miles of line had been inspected, and the scored ties continued to be much in evidence, he remarked to the French officer accompanying him: "How long did you run the railroad, anyhow, before you laid rails on the ties?"—Railway Age.

SEVEN SENIORS CHOSEN

Having chosen the upper third of the senior class in scholarship, the faculty committee of the Grosse Pointe High School is choosing the seven from a possible sixteen students to become members of the National Honor Society. Who these students are will be announced in a near-future assembly, according to Mr. Jerome Burr, principal.

TROPHIES DISPLAYED

The trophy display in the lower corridor of the High School has occasioned much comment this week. The trophies are the property of Wade Hoffman, a senior, who has done extensive outboard motor racing in the interests of the Caille Motor Co. The cups were all won in class B, C, and free-for-all.

Hoffman won the world's class "B" amateur championship at the Harmsworth regatta in 1928, which he held for a short time. Wade has raced all over the country and has had many thrilling experiences. Once, while racing at Jamestown, N. Y., he was leading a field of Western New York champions when his boat overturned, striking him in the head as it hit the water. He was unconscious for some time, being picked up by a patrol boat.

G. P. H. School Wins Chorus Contest

The Grosse Pointe High School boys' glee club took first place and the mixed chorus took second place in the Michigan state music contest at Ann Arbor last Friday, according to the results announced this week. The contest is under the auspices of the state department of public instruction. The mixed chorus of Ann Arbor High School won first place in its class. Flint Northern High School placed second in the boys' glee club competition. The girls' glee club of Grosse Pointe High School also competed in the contest, but was not awarded a place. The glee clubs went to Ann Arbor, accompanied by Mr. John Finch, teacher of music in the high school. The girls were dressed entirely in white, while the boys wore white flannels, blue coats and black ties. Winning the state title for the lower peninsula in two events reflects great credit upon the High School chorus members and upon their teacher, as well as upon the school system as a whole.

How Fledgling Cuckoo Ousta Its Bedfellows

Early birds, says the New York Times, lured north by early spring warmth, do well to avoid cuckoos as neighbors when they start nest building. The cuckoo mother lays its egg in the nest of some other bird and flies away without another thought for the cares of motherhood. The fledgling, newly hatched, rewards the hospitality of its hosts by shoving their eggs out of the nest and wolfing all of the food the devoted pair continue to bring to the nest. Fresh proof of the unsocial habits of the cuckoo was brought forward at a meeting of the Linnean society in London by an English scientist. Last summer he photographed the young birds in the very act of ousting their bedfellows. The pictures taken show that the bird slips one wing under the egg, rolls it up on his back and then slowly shoves it up to the edge of the nest and over, "like a human workman walking backward and rolling a heavy barrel up a steep incline with his shoulders." The scientist reports that one cuckoo, only a day and a half old, threw out the same egg 15 times within the hour, it being caught and replaced each time.

Latin and Greek Names Popular With Learned

In medieval times a custom prevailed among learned men of changing their names into Latin or Greek appellations, says a writer in the New York Times Magazine. Desiderius Erasmus was formed out of the family name Gerard, which in Dutch signifies amiable—"Ger, all," and Aerd, "nature." This was first changed to the Latin name Desiderius, of much the same significance, and later into the Greek Erasmus. An amiable reformer, originally named Hertz Schwartz (black heart), elegantly turned this into the Greek name Melancthon. The celebrated Reuchlin, whose name in German means "smoke," considered it more dignified to smoke in Greek, by the name of Capnio. The vulgar name of a great Italian poet was Trapasso; but when the learned Gravia resolved to devote the youth to the Muses, he gave him a mellifluous name—Metastasio.

Not So Modern

Youth sometimes finds it isn't so strictly modern in its ways after all. A high school lad was making some mysterious telephone calls at home. He talked in that strange, garbled language known as "plg latin," so that his mother wouldn't understand his conversation. For a week the strange words echoed over the family telephone. Then suddenly the telephone conversation went back to straight English. The boy's mother knew the "lingo" well. "Why we used to talk it when I went to school," she told her son.—Detroit News.

In the Same Light

Jimmy's father was a playwright, and Jimmy had just arrived home at the end of school term. The father took the report and read it. It was not very favorable. "Look here, young man, they don't say very nice things about your work." "Coming up in the train, Dad," retorted Jimmy with a grin, "I was reading about the play you had produced last night, and they didn't say—" "Better have your lunch," said the playwright quickly.—Answers.

Collections of Noises

A British film company has a rather extensive phonographic library of the sounds which they are likely to have use for in the making of film pictures. This includes the sound of the surf, shots, crowd noises, cheering, hissing, train sounds and similar ear disturbers. The results are said to be very satisfactory, although the process is more costly.

Golf Stars and Gary Cooper at Michigan

Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell, America's most prominent golf stars head the Michigan theater's program Friday making their first stage appearance in Detroit. Both former national open champions will be seen on the stage demonstrating their most interesting trick shots and giving many valuable pointers on the game to golfers. On the screen Gary Cooper, recently seen as the breezy, two-gun hero of

"The Virginian," is again cast in a similar role in Paramount's latest romantic-melodrama, "The Texan." Based on the famous O. Henry story, "A Double-Dyed Deceiver," this picture is endowed with vivid action, dreamy romance and the typical O. Henry surprise twist, adding a vital punch to the really thrilling climax. In "The Texan" Cooper is cast as the Lian Kid, a quick-on-the-draw, likable cowboy who finds unexpected adventure and love in the far flung pampas of South America. Impersonating the runaway son of a wealthy Spanish senora, the Kid plans to work himself into the good graces of his "mother" and then under cover of night, steal away with the family gold. But two things stand in his way. One is his love for the beautiful Consuelo, a distant cousin of the senora with whom he falls in love. The other is the startling discovery he makes revealing that it was he who killed the senora's real son in a gun fight in Texas. Packed with dramatic interest that builds up in convincing fashion through one unusual and fascinating scene after the other, and finally culminating in a real O. Henry surprise climax, "The Texan" emerges as one of the most interesting and distinctive pictures of the year. Gary Cooper as the Lian Kid is perfectly cast, giving one of the best performances of his career. And Fay Wray as the beautiful Consuelo interprets the most important role she has yet had on the talking screen. Miss Wray, more stunning than ever, plays with restraint and evident sincerity that brings depth and a believable quality to her portrayal. Others in the cast who do good work are Emma Dunn as the Senora, Oscar Apfel, as the suave, notorious crook and James Marcus as the psalm-singing, gun-toting sheriff.

School Census to be Taken Next Week

In compliance with the Michigan state law, the Grosse Pointe Board of Education will conduct the school census beginning next Monday. The state law requires that the school census shall be taken the last twenty days of May each year.

The census is necessary, for it is upon its enumeration of children of school age that the state bases the funds it furnishes each school district. The Board of Education will receive from $12 to $15 for each child between five and twenty years of age.

Among the questions to be asked at each residence are:

1. Full name and place of birth of all persons living in the home. (This includes parents, children, relatives, roomers and employees if living in the home.)
2. Date of birth by month, day, year, of all persons under 20 years of age.
3. Complete names and place of birth of parents or guardians, in case child is not living with his parents.
4. Name of school that each child attends.
5. Whether the house is owned or rented.
6. Telephone number.

The school census is not in any way related to the federal census which was taken recently. The school census is taken annually.

Urges Playgrounds Be Closed; Games, Recreation Curbed

"Furthermore, if we don't want to open the playgrounds on Sunday, we (the school board) don't have to open them. There is nothing unreasonable at all about our closing the playgrounds to the public entirely on Sunday."

President Sutter however was a little more moderate in attacking the problem and apparently seemed to be appreciative of the fact that the school playgrounds are public property, paid for and maintained by the taxpayers and that under the law under which the school district is presently operating, school buildings and grounds are to be used for community center purposes. This would include their being utilized for recreational pursuits.

"However," said Mr. Sutter, "it is our duty to prevent the playgrounds from becoming public nuisances and a policy should be adopted to accomplish this end. Reasonable restrictions as to the hours the playgrounds are open on Sunday should be adopted."

The discussion terminated with Sutter counseling the members of the board to investigate personally the conditions at the Defer playgrounds next Sunday, and to be ready for definite action on the matter at the next meeting.

Trustee Watkins' parting shot to this suggestion was: "Yes, if we don't get shot by some of those residents down there when we are down there investigating."

The Varsity Club of the High school presented its first annual spring dance last Friday in the boys' gym. The decoration theme was unique and somewhat different from the usual style that has been followed by most decorating committees in decorating the gym.

Blue and gold streamers strung from one side of the balcony to the other formed the temporary ceiling with blue and gold cambric covering the side lights, no top lights being used.

Russ McFarland's orchestra, which furnished something new in the line of snappy music, was placed diagonally across the east corner of the gymnasium on a raised platform.
