

SCHOOL BUDGET UP 14 PER CENT, TAX RATE INCREASED TO $6.22

Vernier Continues to Fight State on Mack Avenue Improvement

Edmund C. Vernier, supervisor of Grosse Pointe Township, who is voicing the protest of the Township against the State's proposed widening of Mack avenue within the Township limits, today was to head a delegation of residents at a meeting taking place in the school house located at Nine Mile road and Mack avenue, Macomb county.

The meeting is being called by the State Highway commissioner for the purpose of confirming the tax roll for the widening improvement.

Vernier's mission at the meeting was to convince the State authorities of the unnecessary and inadvisability of the improvement being undertaken at this time and also to show the inequality of the assessment on the Grosse Pointe district in comparison with other districts through which the improvement will run.

Failing in this, Vernier intimated that court action would be resorted to in a last and final effort to delay the improvement.

Norbert Neff III

Norbert Neff, Village clerk, following his extensive labors in preparing and directing the Fourth of July celebration program staged by Grosse Pointe Village in the Village Park, last Friday, was taken ill, and has left for a trip on the lake for one week. His illness is not regarded as being serious and no alarm is felt by friends due to his absence, it being generally held that his indisposition is caused principally from overwork, and upon his return from the short lake trip, he will have fully recuperated.

Residents in the Township are urged by Supervisor Vernier to join in the protests being made to the Highway commissioner either by communication with him on the matter or by personal call. The tax rate resulting from this widening improvement, Vernier stated, is a substantial one and if it is allowed to be spread on the tax roll and payment required considerable opposition to the purpose for which it was levied will rise. But then it will be too late, he stated. Now is the time to defeat the project, he added.

"Fourth" Observed in Village With Program of Fireworks, Dancing

Grosse Pointe Village turned out "en masse" at the Village Park, Fourth of July to participate in the sixth annual Independence Day celebration program arranged by the Village authorities under the direction of Norbert Neff, Village clerk, and an able committee of Villagers headed by Napoleon E. Desrocher. An attendance in excess of 10,000 Village residents and friends was estimated to have been present during the interesting program which reached its climax with the staging of a gigantic fireworks display. The program devised to inculcate a stronger community feeling among the residents of the village was a scintillating success in all respects. Particularly was the general air of neighborliness and social feeling noted among those in attendance.

Starting at 7 o'clock with a parade of the children present and the distribution of patriotic favors in the form of hats and flags, the program progressed in orderly fashion with a flag raising ceremony and a band concert followed by dancing in the temporary casino erected in the park for the occasion. As darkness settled, the first pyrotechnic pieces were ignited, inaugurating the beautiful fireworks display that gripped the interest of the thousands in the park and the hundreds seated in cars parked on streets adjacent to the park. No accidents were reported to have occurred to mar the success of the affair.

Voice Desire For A Park "Waterfront Park in Park" Is What Residents Want and Need; Tell it to Garska and Council

Many times during the past warm summer days, this question has been propounded by housewives and other residents of the Park, "Wouldn't it be nice if we had a park near the lake, like the Village, where we could go during the day with the children?"

And invariably the answer is, "It certainly would be. It is exactly what is needed here."

You who are reading these lines and residing in the Park have probably asked this very question or made this very reply but if perchance not, you at any rate share the same feelings.

A "Waterfront Park in the Park" has been suggested time and time before to the Park council in a very fragmentary way and without any conviction of the need and appreciation of it expressed to any one individual member of the Council at any time by residents.

The members of the Park council are cognizant of the need of the Park and are anxious to fill this need. But they can not act and as a matter of fact will not act unless they know they are doing what a majority of the residents of the Park want them to do.

It is for you Mrs. Jones, and you Mrs. Smith and your neighbors and your neighbor's neighbors to pause a moment in your daily routine and note in a communication to a member of the Park council whom you know or if you don't know any, address the note to Mr. Alfred Garska, president of the Park, stating your thoughts concerning a "Waterfront Park in the Park." It is sufficient to state that you believe a park is necessary and sign your name. Then have other members of the family or household do the same. Now is the time for action on this matter. Write today. The members of the council and Mr. Garska are awaiting your communication before going ahead with the project.

GROSSE POINTE SOCIETY

By DOROTHY DEE

A ceremony of the utmost simplicity united in marriage Mr. Alger Chaney and D. Dwight Douglas, both of Grosse Pointe, at the summer home of Mrs. Chaney's mother, Mrs. Russell A. Alger, at York Harbor, Me., Saturday afternoon. The Rev. Dr. Millinger, of York Harbor, officiated.

Mrs. Chaney, who was unattended, wore a gown of pearl gray chiffon and lace, modeled after the prevailing mode, with long flowing lines, an ankle length skirt and natural waistline, and distinguished by a close-fitting lace bodice and short sleeves. The skirt was fashioned with inserts of lace. She wore a shoulder bouquet of lavender orchids.

Mort Newhall, of Philadelphia, served Mr. Douglas as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas left for a wedding trip to Honolulu and upon their return will live in Detroit. After Sept. 1 they will be at home in the John T. Woodhouse, Jr., House on Grosse Pointe boulevard.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were: Colonel and Mrs. Frederick M. Alger, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney T. Miller, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Campbell, of Grosse Pointe, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Alger, Jr., of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Caulkins and their son, Ralph, spent the week-end with Mr. Caulkins' mother, Mrs. Horace J. Caulkins, at Gratiot Beach. They have returned and will leave Friday for their summer home at Pointe aux Pins.

Mr. and Mrs. Alger Sheldon, Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Thurber, Miss Elizabeth Bass, of Easton, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Benson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Herbert Micou and J. Jenness Newcomb sailed Friday aboard the "Trident" for a week-end at the Old Club. They returned Sunday night.

The Grosse Pointe Yacht Club announces a bridge-luncheon tomorrow, with Mrs. C. F. Bielman concluding her series of lectures on progressive contract. Weather permitting, play will be on the veranda. The committee in charge includes Mrs. M. J. Cosgrove, chairman, Mrs. J. L. Hickey and Mrs. C. J. Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jay Louwers, nee Florence Elizabeth Diegel, have returned from New York and Long Island where they spent their honeymoon last Saturday morning in the St. Paul's church, Grosse Pointe Farms. Interment was in the St. Paul's cemetery.

Mr. Neff, for 25 years proprietor of the famous East End Hotel, the rendezvous of many Detroit political leaders, died in his home Wednesday after a month's illness. He was a member of a family that has lived in Grosse Pointe nearly a century, his father, Christopher Neff, taking a Government homestead there about 1837. The Neff farm was bounded by Lake St. Clair and Gratiot avenue.

Mr. Neff married Catherine Poley, of St. Catharines, Ont., who died five years ago. He was a deputy sheriff under Dr. Duffield Stewart, of Detroit, and had served since 1918 as a member of the Grosse Pointe Public Works Commission. He was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters, the Knights of Columbus and Otsiketa Club of Grosse Pointe.

He leaves a daughter, Winifred, at home, and two sons, Leonard J., at home, and John A. Neff, 459 Neff road.

Asleep On Their Rights Park Residents Fail to Protest Closing of Defer Playground on Sundays to School Board

Asleep on their rights is the accusation that can now be justly hurled at those residents in the Park who in the past have been wont to patronize the Defer playgrounds on Sundays. To date, fully two weeks have elapsed since the School Board's ban on the use of the Defer playground on Sundays has gone into effect and the residents who have been and are being prevented from using the playground have stood meekly by and have seen their rights and privileges trampled upon without protest.

Investigation has brought out that numerous groups of children have availed themselves of the opportunity to play on the Defer grounds on Sundays, in addition to the numbers of adults, who, prevented from recreating during the week by force of employment, have seized the opportunity also, to play a game of baseball and indulge in other innocent athletic pursuits for recreation and exercise.

Now this opportunity has been taken from them and they are content to do nothing about it.

The law under which Grosse Pointe School district is operating explicitly states that school grounds and buildings are for recreational and community purposes, but are subject to reasonable regulations as to their use by the School Board of the district. Certainly not, in the wildest flight of the imagination, can the closing of the playground on Sunday, which is the only time numbers of residents have to use the playground, be regarded as a reasonable regulation.

Equally questionable on the part of the School Board in its attempts to pacify a group of militant residents in the vicinity of the Defer playground, resulting in the Sunday closing order—is its permitting the playing of tennis on the playground courts, while it discriminates in wholesale fashion against every other use of the playground such as the use of the swings and other play apparatus there, by barring children from them on Sundays.

The School Board's act, sponsored by Trustee John Watkins has also caused this paradoxical situation to exist—a playground director retained because of his special training and ability to conduct and supervise the operation of a playground and paid by the taxpayers of the School District is as a matter of fact obliged under the School Board's orders to bar the use of the playground to those seeking admittance on Sunday and to curb as far as within his power the spirit of legitimate recreation seekers. He veritably has been turned into a "policeman."

The School Board, represents the entire school district populace, and in its fairness in dealing with all matters concerning the residents of the community, will listen in an impartial manner to any protest from those residents who are being prevented from using the Defer playgrounds, if a protest is made. The action resulting would be accordingly. The next meeting of the School Board is scheduled for July 21.

L. M. McGERVEY, OF THE ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION LEAGUE, SAYS HOME CARELESSNESS CAUSES POISONING

"Carelessness in the kitchen has been the cause of most of the food-poisoning cases investigated by Federal food officials during the last five years, according to the Department of Agriculture.

An outbreak of true food poisoning can leave in its wake so much grief that those whose duty it is to preserve the purity of America's foods must act upon the slightest suspicion that a tainted food endangers the public, says the report. Many reports have led food officials on wild-goose chases, but where food poisoning has occurred the fault has usually been with the preparation of the food in the home or public kitchen, and not with the food itself.

During the 24 years of enforcement of the Food and Drugs Act many types of poisonings have been investigated. Instances have been found where rat poisons, insecticides or heavy metals, such as lead or cadmium, accidentally have got into food. But more cases have been of the so-called "ptomaine" poisoning type, the growth of harmful bacteria in food improperly prepared or carelessly handled.

State Police School Is Opened in Park Bldg.

The Grosse Pointe Park municipal building has been selected to house the Michigan State Police training school. The school is being conducted under the direction of Captain William Cross, former chief of police of Highland Park. Sixty-one candidates are enrolled to date and classes are to be held daily for a three-weeks' period during which all phases of police work will be studied.

School District Tax Rate Up $1.63; Budget for Year is $874,610

The Grosse Pointe School district tax rate for the current year will be $6.22 per $1,000 assessed valuation compared with a rate of $4.59 last year, an increase of $1.63 per $1,000 assessed valuation, it was announced this week by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education.

A total of $874,610 is to be raised in taxes this year to care for the needs of the School district according to the budget approved by the School Board at its last meeting. This is an increase of $110,032 over the amount of the budget last year when $764,578 was sought in appropriations, an increase of 14 per cent.

The increase in the budget, the School Board explains, is caused by the increased enrollment in the schools in the district, necessitating additional quarters and an increased teaching staff. It was pointed out that the new Gabriel Richard elementary school was to be pressed into service during the new school year and also the Trombly addition to care for the rising school enrollment.

Phillips in Race

Andrew T. Phillips, well-known constable of the Grosse Pointe district, and who resides at 1100 Beaconsfield avenue, Grosse Pointe Park, has thrown his hat in the ring for the office of County Drain Commissioner. Petitions in behalf of his candidacy are now being circulated in the district by friends who are rallying to the cause with full confidence of his election. Phillips will be a candidate on the Republican ticket for the drain commissioner's office at the primary election to be held September 9.

Total enrollment in Grosse Pointe schools during the school year just closed in June was 2,918, the School Board reports, compared with an enrollment of 2,574, an increase of 345 or 13.4 per cent.

Summary of proposed expenditures during the coming school year compared with the last school year follows: 1930-31 1929-30 General Control $44,690 $51,313 Operation 112,905 98,715 Maintenance 13,625 8,575 Instruction 349,350 287,830 Fixed Charges 14,500 5,000 Auxiliary Charges 38,980 39,785 Capital Outlay 14,450 14,300 Debt Service 285,130 259,060 Total $874,610 $764,578

WOMAN ATTORNEY ANNOUNCES BID FOR JUDGE OF PROBATE OFFICE

A practicing attorney in Detroit and Michigan courts for five years, during which time she has handled many juvenile court cases, Mrs. Koon has had experience and training which she believes particularly fits her for the position of probate judge.

Widowed twelve years ago, she supported a daughter and worked her way through the Detroit College of Law, graduating in 1925 and winning admittance to the bar the same year. Feeling the need of further education, she began studying in the University of Detroit and graduated in June, this year, as a Master of Law.

She has had a wide experience for the past 26 years as Accountant, Auditor, and Secretary and since 1917 has developed and sold subdivisions in Wayne County including McIntyre Park in the Marygrove section. "There are numerous examples of women who are successful probate judges," Mrs. Koon says. "In our own State, at Muskegon, Probate Judge Ruth Thompson has had outstanding success. Tropical Animals That Once Lived in Britain

There are many mammals in our zoological gardens which we look upon as strange beasts and associate with tropical countries, or places quite as remote.

At one time the hippopotamus was fairly common in and on the borders of our rivers. This huge creature was to be found on most of the English and many of the Welsh rivers south of Lancashire and Durham.

In the earlier Pliocene epoch a gigantic swine, as large as the tapir, reached England, and it may have lingered on to the time when man first took up his abode here.

Of Course Henry Had Sent That Letter, but—

He kicked off his wet shoes, slid his tired feet into a pair of carpet slippers. He sat down in the easy chair with a sigh of relief.

Spanish Homes

Of all the Mediterranean styles of architecture in use today, there is probably none more popular or better known, especially for residential purposes, than the Spanish with its life and color.

Colonial Architecture

When speaking of Colonial buildings, none should be included of a date later than 1776. In New England most of the buildings of Colonial times were of wood and were built by carpenters who were also shipbuilders.

Buffalo Bill Preferred

Warren accompanied his parents on a visit to his grandmother's house. After dinner he wished to go outside and play with Shep, a big dog belonging to the family next door.

Historic American Flag

The flag which floated over Fort McHenry in 1814 and inspired Francis Scott Key to write "The Star Spangled Banner," is in the National museum in Washington.

Bible and the Ballot Box

An amusing election incident is reported from Gáblonz. In Czechoslovakia there is compulsory voting.

Martha Anne, a first grade pupil, came home from school a little tired and vexed. Things had not gone to suit her, for this is what she told her mother.

"Two Black Crows" at Paramount Theater

Following the signal success of their first picture, "Why Bring That Up?" Moran and Mack's second production has been eagerly awaited by the hosts of movie-goers.

"Old Nick" in Ireland

Because Ireland is the island of the saints, the Irish are not afraid of the devil, though he has left his mark in many parts of the Emerald Isle.

Ancient Counterfeiters

Money forging was a flourishing business among the ancient Romans, judging from finds at Treves, Prussia, of tools and matrices for the coining of denarii.

Diet of a Crow

One-fifth of the diet of a crow is composed of insects, including many destructive insect pests.

Jack Oakie in Person at Michigan Theater

Jack Oakie, the big grin boy of the talking motion pictures, is at the Michigan theater in person, bringing his irrepressible smile to gladden the local horizon.

The current screen attraction at the Michigan theater is "Sweet Mama." It is a First National picture presenting Alice White in the principal feminine role.

A new leading man, David Manners, plays opposite at the head of a fine supporting cast. Among others in the picture are Kenneth Thomson, Lee Moran, Rita Flynn, Richard Cramer and Ralph Elliott.

"Sweet Mama" presents an entirely new slant, it is said, on the always interesting dramatic possibilities of gangsters and their chorus girl friends in modern big town life.

Woman Attorney Announces Bid

County as the place in which to prove that delinquent children are better off in private homes than in institutions. Muskegon County was selected because the Foundation investigated Judge Thompson's record and was greatly impressed.
The Foundation found that little progress has been made in Wayne County in handling the problems of delinquency. I believe that the probate court offers a chance for women to exercise the talents peculiar to their sex in giving delinquent children a better opportunity than they have had in the past.
Juvenile delinquency is higher in Detroit than in any other city in the country, according to all available information. In its most recent survey, the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor pointed out that while the trend of delinquency is downward-most everywhere, it is on the increase in Detroit, I see little hope of betterment until we realize that the delinquent child is almost always the victim of a bad home environment, and cannot be benefitted by further social injustice, such as being thrown in a juvenile prison for weeks without a hearing, denied the right to see his parents, tried in secret, and condemned by people who substitute as judges.
Juvenile delinquency is a social disease born of social and economic conditions. Its remedy must come through probate court.

Esther Ralston at Fisher in Person

Esther Ralston, golden girl of the screen, is appearing in person at the Fisher theater this week, in a new cycle of songs and dances. Bruz Fletcher, popular song writer, accompanies her on the piano. Miss Ralston was last seen in Detroit on the talking screen with George Bancroft in "The Mighty". This is her first time here in person.
Also on the stage this week are Frank McConville, famed comic; Stanley Bros., Song and dance act, and the Fisher Ballet.
On the screen Reginald Denny, with Miriam Seegar, in "What a Man," a hilarious comedy of a rich but ragged Romeo who is dared by a girl to fall in love.
Denny admits he had lots of fun making "What a Man!". He says he has even broken down the force of the adage that a woman always gets the last word in any argument. In one scene with Miriam Seegar, he delivers a monologue six minutes in duration, without permitting her to get in one word. "Couldn't you manage to get a word in some place?" Miss Seegar was asked at the studio. "I should say not," said Miss Seegar, "when that boy gets going, a poor, defenseless woman hasn't a chance to get a word in edgewise."

Weekly Catch of Herring
The weekly catch of herrings of Yarmouth, England, exceeds 300,000,000.

"Hold Everything" at Riviera Theater

A veritable sensation has been created in Detroit by Warner Bros.' newest all-talking, all-color production "Hold Everything," playing at Public Riviera theater starting Saturday, July 12th. This hilarious comedy represents the proverbial last word in screen entertainment, and presents an all-star cast which includes Winnie Lightner, the rollicking comedienne-star of "Gold Diggers of Broadway," Joe E. Brown, the funniest comedian in motion pictures today; Sally O'Neil, the pretty snappy little Irish girl who has suddenly become one of the most popular of the screen's younger players.
In addition to the above-mentioned players, George Carpentier, the famous French prize fighter, also has a featured role in this vehicle. In one scene of "Hold Everything" Carpentier engages in a rousing ring battle for the heavyweight championship of the world.
Sammy Dibert and the Riviera Sencanders are presenting, during the same week, a novel stage production called "Steppin' In Straws," featuring a cast of Broadway entertainers. Don Miller, at the grande organ, offers another of his popular organologues.

"Troopers Three" at the Punch and Judy

Uncle Sam's roughest riders, troopers of the U. S. Cavalry, are the heroes of "Troopers Three," a spectacular outdoor all-talking picture produced by Tiffany with all sorts of approval and cooperation of the cavalry division. It is to be shown Sunday and Monday at the Punch and Judy theater and Rex Lease. Roscoe Karns and Slim Summerville portray the three rookies with whose adventures the story is principally concerned.
Comedy is the keynote of "Troopers Three." Rex Lease, whose personality is so charming that he has been able to play wise-cracking roles and still be popular, plays the hero, a wise guy whose greatness is unappreciated by everyone except himself. He and two pals of assorted sizes and dispositions find themselves signed up to ride a horse for three years for Uncle Sam.
The pretty daughter of a First Sergeant supplies the romantic interest. She is rushed by the hero and falls kerflop, but he is not in the habit of doing his loving seriously and doesn't get really wise to the state of his heart until he gets a good thrashing from a sergeant who also loves her. The girl is played by Dorothy Gulliver. Others in the cast are Tom London, Walter Perry and Joseph Girard. RCA Telephone recorded.

"This do in remembrance of Me" was the command of Jesus to His disciples concerning the observance of the Lord's Supper. Until Christ returns in fulfillment of His promise, this memorial is to be observed by His followers. No command of Christ should be disobeyed. In obedience to His command, the ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the eleven o'clock service next Sunday morning. The pastor will give a brief communion meditation on the subject, "Christ Our Passover."
Perhaps you have been told that Baptists reserve the privilege of the Lord's Table to their own members and that other Christians are not permitted to commune. This is not true of the Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church, or of any other Baptist church with which the pastor is acquainted. The ordinance is announced as "The Lord's Table," and is free to all of the Lord's children, of whatever denominational affiliation. If you have never attended the beautiful worship service and communion as observed in a Baptist church, attend next Sunday morning.

Table with columns for RESOURCES and LIABILITIES. Includes rows for LOANS AND DISCOUNTS, REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES, BONDS AND SECURITIES, RESERVES, COMBINED ACCOUNTS, SAVINGS DEPOSITS, and STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Wayne.

I, E. G. Kay, Cashier, of the above named bank do solemnly swear, that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief and correctly represents the true state of the several matters therein contained, as shown by the books of the bank.

Two hundred people attended the happy one hour evening service last Sunday night. Two hundred people were spiritually refreshed and enriched by the gospel singing and message. The pastor announced that he would be in his pulpit every Sunday evening this summer and conduct the most attractive service possible. You are urged to attend at least once—for we believe coming once will create an appetite for more. If you are a stranger in the city, or if your church has no evening service during the summer, a cordial welcome awaits you at the Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church.
"Who Is a Christian?" You have doubtless met folks who belong to churches but you think they do not act like Christians. You will be interested to know whether they really are Christians or not. Mr. Allen will speak on this topic next Sunday evening. The service is from 8 to 9 o'clock. But if you like fine music, do not miss the organ recital for fifteen minutes preceding the evening service. Mrs. Winifred Douglass uses to advantage the large three manual organ with its beautiful harp and chimes.
In case of trouble, sickness, or spiritual need, the pastor of the Jefferson Avenue Baptist church is always available for a spiritual ministry of helpfulness. Call Rev. Arthur V. Allen, Lenox 2039.

Kerchevals 10, Frogs 2. N. A. C. 12, St. Clare 1.

Listen, boys and girls! Do you remember the "grand time" you used to have on the Neighborhood Club playground last summer? Do you remember the very attractive gifts we sewed, the story hour, the songs, the games. And do you remember the marvelous times we had on Friday when we had very special entertainments. Of course you would not forget them and we want you to come over again this summer and join us. Miss Bidgeway cannot be with us but Miss Frost has her books with all the honor points from last year and she has arranged the good times according to former years. Soon we shall begin work on the plays to be given in August and we invite you to come over and join us now. We meet every day at one o'clock and spend the entire afternoon having a good time. This Friday we are going to have a pet show. Won't you come and bring your favorite pet. We will be looking for you.

"As we were coming home, I told her I wasn't going to take her out with me July 4. I told her I was going to Canada with some boys. She became angered. We had words and I left her near her home. That was the last I saw of her.

"Bernice wore an engagement ring I gave her. We were engaged three years. She loved me dearly and she told me several times if she couldn't have me, she'd kill me and herself, too. She took things seriously and often told me how much she cared for me. We quarreled often, though, over petty things."

According to Arthur F. Keeney, the girl's father, she had been dependent several weeks over her love affair.

"When we came home last night, we found Bernice's wrist watch, her hat crumpled and her beads broken," he said. "They were piled together on the table. She was our only child. She graduated from Eastern High School in June, 1929, and she was considered one of the prettiest girls of the class. She was attending business college and was planning on entering Michigan State Normal College this fall."

Hope to Find Use for Black Mamba's Poison

In the black mamba, spitting cobra of Africa, Dr. Adolph Moneileser of New York, expects to find a cure for epilepsy and rheumatic afflictions.

Several years ago one of the spitting cobras was placed in the Bronx zoo. He immediately began spitting at every passerby. His aim is perfect even in the dark forest, and in the light of the reptile house he must have felt certain that he was blinding hundreds of people every day. Stimulated by his long procession of victims he spat and spat.

After a while the cobra noticed that the victims did not sink down and die, and that the venom was collecting upon the glass in front of him. Thereupon, he refused to spit, and even though zoo visitors collected in front of his cage and made faces at him, he ignored their presence and saved his venom.

The poison was removed from the glass and since has been used for experimental purposes. Additional black mambas are being imported, and experts eventually hope to prove that this deadly denizen of the jungle has his teleological place and that even cobras spit together for good.

Molasses Once Thought to Have Healing Power

In England, molasses is called treacle and was once considered a medicine; the word is derived from the Greek through the Latin theriaca, meaning an antidote against the bite of poisonous animals. In old medical practice, theriaca Andromachi or Venice treacle was a compound of sixty-four drugs pulverized and reduced with honey to an electuary. It was supposed to cure venomous bites. When sugar cane began to be cultivated on a large scale, its stick product was called by the name of the drug which it resembled in consistency. By some curious reasoning, this entirely new and different substance was thought to have healing power. John Westley, who was keenly interested in medicine, tells of putting warm treacle to the soles of his feet as a cure for erysipelas.—Good Health Magazine.

Musical Seals

Some twenty miles up the Koettlitz glacier, we were surprised to find many seals, and came to the conclusion that they swam up the subglacial stream which I named the Alph river. On one occasion I prodded one of these seals with my ice ax. After some sneezes and grumbles he proceeded to sing to me. He lay over on his side and produced a whole octave of musical notes from his chest, ranging up to a canary-like chirrup. Later I found that Doctor Wilson and Doctor Racovitz had already recorded the musical ability of Antarctic seals.—From "Antarctic Adventure and Research," by Griffith Taylor.

Reverse English

A Tyneside shipbuilder, anxious that his son should learn how to pronounce English in the beautiful way that his legal adviser, a Londoner, spoke it, apprenticed his lad to work in the lawyer's office so that he might learn English as it was then pronounced in London, smiles Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, noted lexicographer. The son spent two years in his clerical position before the father was able to come to town on a visit. Then he called on the lawyer and asked about the boy. Much to his amazement the lawyer replied in Tyneside English, which the youngster had been able to teach him without assimilating any of the cockney dialect.

Unless you patch the roof and put new paper on wall then I clear that. Later if you do not do I shall sue you damage for working hours. Many time the worked had done how-ever midnight rain, next morning all clothes wet I have start all over and waste my time for nothing.—Letter from a New Jersey Chinese laundryman to his landlord.

Efficiency

Some time ago a section foreman was severely criticized by the roadmaster for the careless handling of track material for his men.

"For instance," said he, "a few days ago one of your men was seen to thoughtlessly throw a spike into the weeds. Don't you realize they cost money?"

"I know they do," returned the foreman, "I had my men spend three days looking for that spike."—R. R. Magazine.

The Right Number

Little Alene, four years old, overheard her mother tell some one on the telephone that he had the wrong number and could get the right number by calling the operator again.

A little later Alene was heard talking over her toy telephone and saying, "This is the right number. If you want the wrong number you will have to call somebody else."

About 750 people gathered at the Country club on Friday to celebrate the Fourth. Tennis, golf and polo received their full share of attention, as several interesting matches were staged.
