EFFICIENCY, ECONOMY MARK TERM OF HARRY I. DINGEMAN IN OFFICE

Efficiency and economy have been demonstrated by Harry I. Dingeman, Republican candidate for re-election to the office of Wayne County Drain Commissioner.

To explain how this waste has been possible it is necessary to digress and outline the legal procedure which under the State Law must be followed in building drains under the direction of the Wayne County Drain Commissioner.

HENRY G. NICOL HAS AN ENVIABLE RECORD; DUE TO BE RE-ELECTED

Among the candidates in the Circuit Court Commissioner race at the September 9 Primary election, the name of Henry G. Nicol stands out with remarkable prominence because of his competence in handling the Circuit Court Commissioner's position and the excellent record he has chalked up for himself during many years in public service.

Born in Detroit and having lived there all his life, Judge Nicol has followed the city's stupendous growth and is fully cognizant of its many needs. After completing his secondary course in metropolitan grammar and high schools, he entered the University of Michigan where he was graduate with a Bachelor of Laws degree.

The unusual growth of Detroit has increased the volume of work handled in the court until the docket was literally flooded with litigation. It demanded a man of proven capability to cope with the tangled mass of cases and Detroit elected Judge Nicol to the job. He ran on the Republican ticket and has been returned to the Commissioner's bench at each subsequent election.

Mrs. Frederick M. Alger's Reply to Grant Hudson

Detroit, Michigan, August 22nd, 1930 The Honorable Grant M. Hudson, 415 Capital National Bank Building, Lansing, Michigan.

You assert that during the last four years you have said very little about Prohibition on the floor of Congress. This fact, of course, is of no importance. A Congressman uses a very small percentage of his time in speaking on any subject. It is the amount of time that you have spent working for Prohibition that really counts.

With equal frankness I will say that after careful scrutiny of the Board of Directors of the Association against the Prohibition Amendment, and of our own Board, or of either of them, that the affairs of the country, both political and moral, could be more safely entrusted to their hands than to the hands of the Anti-Saloon League's directors and large donors.

It might cut down one? And did you not further say that there may be as high as three hundred thousand aliens within the Congressional Districts wholly or partly included by Wayne County. If such are the facts, it is a necessary conclusion that you worked to reduce the Congressional representation from Wayne County.

as originally reported out of committee, would have been another coercive measure which arbitrarily would have made criminals out of ten thousands of morally innocent men, women and children.

Your tenth paragraph is trivial. Why should we women not have a separate organization to promote specific legislation which we believe essential to the public welfare.

The eleventh paragraph of your letter is the finest tribute to Senator Person that you could have made. Originally, he did believe in Prohibition, and did vote for prohibition.

Your twelfth paragraph is again only a personal complaint. Your position on Congress, you have advertised so that we are familiar with it.

If open statements through the Public Press and by radio as to our policies and intentions constitute "sniping and shooting in the back" I am afraid that you are in the process of being treacherously assassinated.

Will you please explain why we should tell the voters of the Sixth District who offered your opponent and supporter, Mr. Robert Cook, money to withdraw from the race and campaign for Senator Person?

In answer to your eighth paragraph, Senator Person has stated that, if elected, he will be independent of any organization.

In conclusion, Mr. Congressman, we intend to ring our door bells. But in spirit, every time we ring our door-bells we ring our church bells.

Grant Hudson Fought to Prevent Large Centers from Having Just Representation in Congress

To Replace Grant Hudson for Congressman from the Sixth District Primary Election September 9th

Write Person for Congress Club

Murphy Bldg. Highland Park

GRANT HUDSON, Congressman from the Sixth District, joined in the conspiracy of the Anti-Saloon League to prevent Detroit, Lansing, Flint, Pontiac and other large cities from having their rightful representation in Congress, based on the 1920 census.

Detroit alone has been entitled for the past ten years to four or more additional Congressmen and electors, who are the ones who elect the President and Vice-President of the United States.

The 1930 Census has just been taken and there is every reason to believe that Hudson and the Anti-Saloon League will fight to prevent Michigan from having the additional Congressmen and electors to which it is entitled under the provisions of the Constitution of the United States.

Hudson has done nothing for business, labor, industry or agriculture. Yet his district is the largest industrial district in Michigan and contains one of the best farming sections in the state. He has only one idea in mind—to carry out only the objects of the Anti-Saloon League.

He tells us that the present business depression is only imagination. Are we going to continue this man in Congress as our representative so he can keep on misrepresenting us? Our answer must be no for our own good.

Senator Seymour H. Person has served many years in the Michigan legislature and Senate. He has a long, successful record that justifies us in sending him to Congress in place of Hudson.

Vote and work for Senator Person for Congress. Write for free copy of his record.

Feature Sunday, Monday

"Journey's End," the war play that had played around the world before it was a year old, and that raised an obscure author to fame, defies the biggest dramatic convention by not having a woman in it or a love story—and yet it is crammed with vital love interest.

In the Tiffany all-dialogue production of this R. C. Sheriff masterpiece, coming Sunday and Monday to the Alamo theater, a key of romance is struck when Lieut. Osborne, gray-haired and three years in war service, tells Lieut. Raleigh, young and just arrived in the front line trench, to "think of it all as romantic—it helps."

The first love interest shows in the hero worship of the schoolboy Raleigh for his idol, Stanhope. He comes into the trenches and finds his idol wearing clay feet, but he understands why and how he came a drunkard and still sees him as his hero.

Second is the love of Stanhope for Raleigh's sister. She is never seen—not even her photo is shown to us, but if she were there before you you could not have a more poignant love story than is told you with her absent.

Third is the love for home and the nice things of life to which every man has a right—that all these men had before the hysteria of nations sent them to war—before they were herded in dark, damp, rat-infested, vile-smelling holes underground—and then sent out to be blown to destruction in the name of love of country—patriotism!

James Whale directed "Journey's End," a story that he knows probably even better than its author, for he has directed many of its stage productions. George Pearson supervised and RCA Photophone recorded. Colin Clive, by special permission of Maurice Browne, Ltd., plays the role of Capt. Stanhope. David Manners plays young Raleigh, Ian Maclaren is Osborne and others are Billy Bevan, Anthony Bushell, Jack Pitcairn, Thomas Whiteley, Charles Gerrard and Warner Klinger.
