School Boards Plans Cadieux School Bond Issue Election Soon

An approximately $300,000 bond issue election is being planned by the School Board to be held in the School District in April, it was learned at the Board's meeting, Monday evening. The bond issue is proposed to provide funds for the construction of the new Cadieux elementary school which the Board plans to erect on Cadieux road, near Kercheval avenue.

At the Board's Monday evening meeting, the architect's designs of the proposed school were accepted and the Board authorized the preparation of floor plans. Two sketches or designs of the new school were submitted by the architect for the Board's consideration. One known as plan "A" provides for flat roofs on the wings of the structure and the other plan, known as plan "B" provides gable roofs on the wings.

The architect estimated the construction of the building under plan "A" would be $292,000 and under plan "B" approximately $235,000 additional.

No definite date for the bond issue election was fixed nor was the amount of the bond issue specifically determined by the Board.

Park Police Capture Burglar in Bedford Rd. Home with Loot

Grosse Pointe Park police captured a burglar in the home of Clarence W. Figel, 1390 Bedford road, early this week.

The Figel family left two weeks ago on a winter vacation and their home was unoccupied when Patriome Arthur Henry and Jesse Gipson, finding a side door unlocked, caught the prowler, who gave his name as George Myers, 44 years old, no address.

Police said Myers carried a suitcase filled with clothes and burglar's tools and that on his person they found jewelry and a number of rare coins believed stolen from some collection. The loot is unidentified, the suspect refusing to say whether it was taken from the Figel home or some other.

Myers was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Walter Schweikart at Grosse Pointe late Tuesday, pleaded not guilty and was remanded to the county jail, in default of $10,000 bond, to await trial in circuit court.

Fire Departments in Farms, Shores Save 'Ed' Vernier's Home

Prompt and efficient action by the fire departments of Grosse Pointe Shores and Grosse Pointe Farms today is generally credited with having saved the home of Edmund C. Vernier, Grosse Pointe Township supervisor, from the fire that early this week razed the Embassy Club, nearby. The "smoke-eaters" from the two departments are reported to have bent their efforts to prevent the flames and sparks from reaching the Vernier home while at the same time endeavoring to place the flaming night club under control.

The fire which attracted numerous residents to the scene from their nearby homes occurred early Monday morning. Damage estimated at $150,000 was reported to have been done to the club.

Neighborhood Club Activities

Anyone interested in boxing as a recreational exercise for health and body building, or as a profession, should talk it over with Mr. Curro at the Neighborhood Club. Instruction will be given every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The Dancing Party, given by the V. V. V. Girls for the benefit of their basketball team, was a huge success. Good music by the Blue Moon entertainers, and a good floor, as well as a

SOCIETY

By DOROTHY DEE

A great deal of enthusiasm is being shown by Detroit society in the English game, badminton, which has recently been taken up at the various clubs in town. This was proved by the large assemblage of followers who gathered at the Grosse Pointe High school Saturday evening to witness the matches, played by skilled players, including a world's champion, four Canadian stars, a mixed quartet from Windsor and players from Boston.

Following the exhibition the players were taken to the Country Club, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Renville Wheat. Supper and dancing were enjoyed by a large number of guests. The supper tables were attractively centered with arrangements of pink, white and yellow tulips and jonquils.

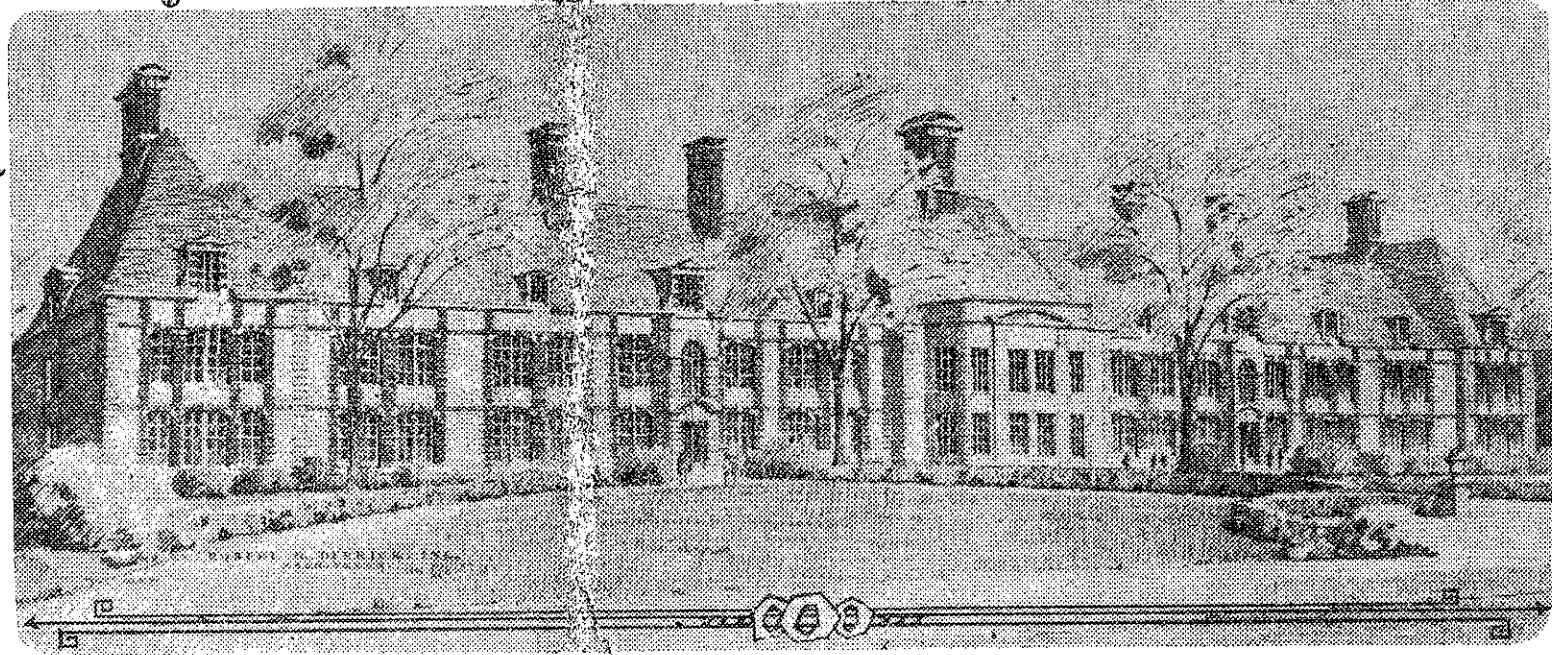

Among those noted at the club were Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Palmis, Jr., Jr. and Mrs. Dan Platt Caultkins, Mr. and Mrs. J. Vincent Dwyer, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stroh, Mr. and Mrs. John F. ## Hundreds Attend Dedication Exercises For New School

Several hundred Grosse Pointe residents attended the formal dedication exercises, Tuesday evening, for the recently opened Gabriel Richard elementary school, located on McKinley road, near Kercheval avenue in Grosse Pointe Farms. Above is shown the architect's drawing of the complete school but the left half is yet to be constructed and will be when increased enrollment requires it. The school is named for Father Richard, a founder of the University of Michigan and of the earliest Detroit schools. The present unit has a capacity of 750 pupils and cost approximately $375,000. It is one of the few elementary schools equipped with radio reception facilities in the classrooms.

Parent-Teachers of Gabriel Richard to Meet February 10th

The next meeting of the Pere Gabriel Richard School Parent Teacher Association will be held in the auditorium of the school on Tuesday evening, Feb. 10 at 8 p. m.

The program will consist of a review of the regular business meeting and several musical numbers by the Richard School Boys Chorus. The lecturer, Dr. Katherine Green, is particularly fitted by virtue of her position in child psychology work at the University of Michigan to lecture on the subject, "The Child and the Home."

Smethurst's Gas Station Seeks to Please Public

One of the oldest service stations on Mack avenue, operated by James W. Smethurst and Sons, today is an independent station and is offering the motoring public their own choice of gas and oils, it was announced by Mr. Smethurst, early this week. For years the firm has specialized in car washing and greasing as it has facilities available to handle six to eight cars at one time. The station is located on the corner of Mack and Buckingham avenues and for car owners desirous of having their cars called for and delivered, which service is also given by telephone, the number is Hickory 1027.

Village News Items

Attention of Village residents is called to two important notices published in this issue of The Review; one referring to registration of qualified electors who are not now registered, and the other to the necessity of securing dog licenses during this month for the year beginning February 1st. A reasonable time is allowed by ordinance in which all unlicensed dogs are impounded and if a license is not taken out within the prescribed time, these dogs are sold or destroyed.

February 17 is the last date on which candidates for office in the Village may file nominating petitions for election. These petitions are to be obtained at the Village Clerk's office and the filing fee of $5.00 paid when such petition is filed.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a complete copy of an ordinance amending the so-called "Nuisance Ordinance," and all residents are urged to carefully read the same and note its provisions. This ordinance is based upon one very similar to it which has been in effect in Pasadena, California, for a long while and the validity of which has been upheld in several instances by the Supreme Court. The necessity for an ordinance of this kind is obvious in a high class residential community and its adoption is the result of many complaints made by citizens against certain disorders and conditions which have sometimes jeopardized the peace and well-being of the adjacent neighborhood.

Grosse Pointe High Mother's Club Notes

The last meeting of the Mothers' Club took place January 28th, and was one of the most enjoyable meetings ever held by this club. The speakers of the evening were Mrs. Walter Nelson, who is the State Chairman of the National Women's Party, and Miss Marie Rasey, Parental Adviser for the Detroit Board of Education. Mrs. Nelson talked on the "Michigan State Laws for Women," and Miss Rasey talked about the understanding that should exist between parent and child, with special stress on the problem of the adolescent child. Both were most instructive and enjoyable speakers.

The musical part of the program was ably carried on by Miss Josephine Caroline an accomplished pianist and Mr. Finch, whose songs, accompanied by Mr. Staffed, are always enjoyed. A lunch rounded out this thoroughly enjoyable meeting.

February 25th at 7:45 will be the date of the next meeting in the High School auditorium.

Advertising Big Aid to Merchant: Field Head

The world may beat a path to the door of the well-known maker of the "best mouse trap"—but in these days it takes newspaper advertising to get the word on that path.

John McKinley, president of Marshall Field & Company, Chicago, so advised the hundreds of out-of-town merchants yesterday at the opening session of the Interstate Merchants' Council.

"Conceding that a merchant must sell merchandise correctly styled, fairly priced and courteously presented, he will find newspaper advertising the most trenchant of all helps in correctly and profitably disposing of the merchandise," he said.

Snay Now President of Grosse Pointe Farms

The resignation of Kenneth L. Moore as president of Grosse Pointe Farms was accepted early this week by the Village Council and Joseph Snay, trustee, was named to fill the vacancy. The vacancy on the Village Council caused by the appointment of Snay to President was filled by the appointment of John Grylls who had recently announced his candidacy for that post at the Spring election.

For the four constable positions, five candidates are entered and they are: Andrew T. Phillips, Samuel Gordon, F. Frank Defer, Joseph Trombley and Louis W. Shampine.

As all the candidates are running on one ticket, the Democratic ticket, the primary election scheduled for March 2 will determine the office holders for the next year in the Township.

In Grosse Pointe Park, no primary election will be held and the election will take place March 9. Beautiful Normandy

The beauty of Japan in the cherry blossom season cannot surely surpass the Normandy landscape in the spring-time white with apple blossoms. The Grand Val d'Etretat and the surrounding country seem as though covered with snow at this time of the year; and no better view of it can be gotten than from the golf links on the cliffs, close to the famous Porto d'Aval. Etretat is so easily reached nowadays it is becoming almost a "fall-the-year-round" resort.

Inky Bath of Mud

The Czechs have at Pstanya a famous mud bath which is worth seeing, even if you do not take it. It is a pitch black mineral mud deposited in the water courses of the springs in great quantities. A thick layer is spread on a sheet, on which the patient lies, while the mud is hot. Attendants plaster it over the body till the patient looks like an armored knight—the black prince, if you like. Then, after being swathed in it for about ten minutes, the perspiration being wiped from the face at intervals, the patient is immersed in the mud bath, the mud at the bottom and the hot water being impregnated with sulphur.

Chemistry of the Car

If it were possible to dissect an automobile and reduce it to its original shape, it would be found that more than 100 different substances enter into its composition. Without chemicals and modern chemical research the modern automobile, although primarily mechanical in its construction, would be only a vague dream. To a marked degree the automobile must depend, especially for its refinements, on chemicals.

Zircon Not Unlike Diamond

The gem stone nearest in appearance to the diamond is colorless zircon. The index of refraction of this mineral approaches that of the diamond, but it lacks the dispersive properties of the diamond and does not show the bright red and blue flashes of the latter stone. The zircon has a hardness less than that of the diamond. These stones are found in Ceylon, but are usually obtained by decolorizing colored stones by careful heating. They are sometimes called Madura diamonds. They are classed as semi-precious stones and are valued at about $10 per carat.

Curious

Two poultry men were discussing their egg production in the presence of a small lad. As the lad and his father were nearing home the lad said: "I want to see the 50 per cent things our hens have been laying."

Victory Made History on Plain of Marathon

The ancient Marathon was a small town on the eastern coast of Attica, about 20 miles northeast of Athens. There is a modern village of this name, but the site of the ancient Marathon is occupied now by a town called Vrana. Along with neighboring towns, the old Marathon belonged to an ancient Hanseatic league called the Tetrapolis. This league, claimed a very early origin, legend carrying it back to the time of Theseus, and it survived until after the Fourth century B. C.

Alter Road Resident Returns Home After Eight Years in Africa

Under Year's Contract
The huge diamond, gold, copper and palm oil concessions are operated largely by conscript labor," said Mrs. Smith. "The concessionaires require thousands of laborers and it has been customary for officials of the colonial government to help enlist able-bodied men."

"The men are placed under a contract for one year, receiving wages of approximately 25 francs, or 90 cents, a month and their food. Those who violate their contract are imprisoned and almost invariably die in confinement," she said.

Mrs. Smith explained that the native made of the Congo will not labor of his own accord.

However, the government exacts a head tax equal to one month's wages from every male adult each year," the missionary explained, "and it is necessary for them to enter the employ of white men at least one month each year."

Mrs. Smith painted a depressing picture of forced labor in the construction of government roads. Able-bodied natives, including women, are required to devote a period of each year to the road gangs.

Clears Home Government

"I have seen tiny babies lying in the tall grass at night beside the right-of-way while their mothers worked on the roads," said Mrs. Smith. "They often contract pneumonia and many have died in mission hospitals."

Mrs. Smith asserted that the Belgian government had made sincere efforts to halt the exploitation of the native and that participation by colonial officials in the conscription of contractor labor has been without the cognizance of the home government.

"The future of the natives of the Congo is not promising," said the missionary. "White civilization has been literally forced upon them, with the result that they have been divorced from their natural tribal life.

Spilled by "Civilization"

"Until the development of the big concessions, the natives lived in villages and were governed by a rigid tribal code. The white man's prestige has fallen tremendously since the World War when the black soldiers saw the white men engaged in wholesale slaughter, contrary to the law they had imposed upon their colonial subjects."

"The black has broken with his tribal life and has adopted many of the unfortunate habits of the white man. The obligation of the missions must be to help the native adopt the beneficial parts of the white man's civilization and to encourage a return to the stability of the tribal life."

Mrs. Smith was born in Detroit and attended Eastern and Cass Technical high schools, before entering Iowa State college. In Iowa she met her husband, and in 1922 the pair joined the American Baptist Foreign Missions society. She studied tropical medicine in Brussels, Belgium, before taking up her work in the Congo.

Honor Students at Grosse Pointe High

Phyllis Johnson and George Belanger have been announced as the outstanding girl and boy graduates of the Grosse Pointe High school, in the January 1931 class.

Their names will be engraved on two silver cups that were presented to the school by the Mothers' Club. They were selected by the faculty at the same time that members of the Cum Laude chapter of the National Honor Society were chosen. Phyllis ranked the highest among the girls in this selection, and George, highest among the boys.

The basis of selection is outstanding scholarship, leadership, service, character and citizenship. Both rank high scholastically and have outstanding records of extracurricular and service activities in the school.

Phyllis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Johnson of Washington road, and George is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Belanger of University Place.

Sunday morning at 11:00 a. m., Dr. Moore will preach on the subject, "When the Guidance Fails," the concluding number in a series of addresses on the general theme of "Divine Guidance." Last Sunday's discussion outlined in a most impressive manner four laws underlying preparation for guidance, vividly illustrated by notable examples of men who have put these laws to the acid test of personal experience and found them to be trustworthy.

At the evening worship hour, 7:30 o'clock, Dr. Moore will preach on the theme, "Conversion by Correspondence." If you can't get in to the morning service, come in the evening. You will be amply repaid. The Sunday evening discussions are also somewhat in the nature of a series, following a definite line of thought having to do with the divine processes in the transformation of human life.

Other services of the day are: Sunday Bible School at 9:45, Senior Epworth League at 6:00 p. m. and Intermediate League at 6:45 p. m. Junior Church for boys and girls at 11 a. m.

"The Criminal Code" at Hollywood Theater

Replete with romance and thrills and carrying a poignant love story, "The Criminal Code," Theater Club Trophy prize winner as the best play of the year, comes to the Hollywood Theater Sunday for a four-day engagement. Walter Huston, Phillips Holmes, Constance Cummings and Mary Doran are among the featured players.

The story of "The Criminal Code" possesses something of the same swiftness and atmosphere of "The Big House." It tells of a lad who drinks a little too much in celebration of his 20th birthday, kills a man and is sent to prison for 10 years. He serves six dreary years and then suffers a nervous breakdown. The warden, who years before in the role of state prosecutor, had sent him over the road, gives him a job in his household as chauffeur. It is then that he falls desperately in love with the warden's daughter. A stool pigeon is murdered in the jail and the hero is the only one who knows the identity of the killer. However, he refuses to violate the "criminal code" by becoming a squealer and as a result his approaching parole is cancelled and he is sent to the dungeon.

Another big stage show has been provided. There are several big time visiting acts, including an elaborate musical comedy revue and comedy acts. Eddie Loughton and his Hollywood Merry-makers, Bob Clarke at the organ, a Mickey Mouse cartoon, news reel and the regular special attractions are also offered.

As usual on Tuesday and Wednesday nights the Hollywood will give away free $300.00 on each of these nights, and each Friday and Saturday nights a free new Ford Sedan.

good crowd, combined to make the party an event of the season.

The V. V. V. Girls added another well earned victory to their record last Monday night when they defeated Toledo by a score of 19-15. The game was fast and furious, both teams fighting hard. Plenty of action was displayed and the fans who turned out were well rewarded. The outstanding player for the V.'s was Bastien and Elston starred for the Ohio girls.

Sixty children who are members of the Neighborhood Club were taken to the Shrine Circus last Monday afternoon, as a reward for regular attendance, through the courtesy of the Detroit Community Union. A bus was chartered to transport the children to and from the State Fair grounds. From the many happy faces upon their return, it is certain that they enjoyed thoroughly the outing.

U. of D. Radio Bill

James Fitzgerald, L. L. D., executive secretary of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul and national authority in the field of social science and economics, will be the speaker on the University of Detroit radio program at 6:45 Monday evening February 9 over WJBK, (1370 Kc., 219 Meters). Doctor Fitzgerald, who is lecturer on sociology at the university, will discuss some phases of Detroit's unemployment problem.

Maronites Largest of Lebanon's Many Cults

Biblical Lebanon, Asia's only Christian state and the smallest one in the world, has seven different confessions among its 826,618 inhabitants, according to the last census. Despite mass emigration among people of their faith, Christians again maintain their majority. The largest group is the Maronites with 214,313 adherents. In addition there are 20,448 emigrants of this faith in the United States who still pay taxes to the homeland. They form one of the oldest Christian churches. Its history goes back as far as the Fourth century, retaining Aramaic as the church language. Since the Middle Ages, the Maronites have recognized the pope, although they have a patriarch of their own. There are only 5,421 Protestants in the Lebanese republic. The ancient churches such as the Syrian Jacobite and the Assyro-Chaldean claim the majority of 11,000 church-goers classed among the minorities. Next to the Maronites in strength are the Sunnite Moslems with 136,040 and the Shites with 113,530.

Much Sunken Treasure May Soon Be Salvaged

Many of the difficulties of deep-water salvage have been successfully overcome, and the prospects are that much wealth will be recovered from the sunken hulks of the sea bed. One of the chief factors which have contributed to this success is a new diving apparatus, invented by a Kiel firm and used with great success. It looks like the conning tower of a submarine and has a trunk made of steel, the upper portion of which consists of windows of hard glass. This trunk not only contains measuring and respiratory apparatus, but also a telephone and buoyant tanks. These tanks enable the diver to obtain complete control of his equilibrium. If he wishes to descend he lets water in through a tube. If, on the other hand, he wants to ascend, he blows it out with compressed air. With this it is possible to make descents of 500 feet, and there are many ocean-laden wrecks on the floor of the ocean within that distance of the surface.

Rich Level Tracts in the Scottish Highlands

The region known to the world as the Highlands of Scotland has no political or civil boundary. Separated by only a vague line of demarcation from the division called the Lowlands, the Scottish Highlands may be briefly described as that portion of the north and northwest of Scotland in which the Celtic language and manners have less or more lingered until modern times. The "Highlands," as it is usually called, extends diagonally across Scotland from Nairn on the Moray firth to Dumbarton on the Clyde; but the mountainous part of the counties of Banff, Moray, Aberdeen, Kincardine and Perth here also understood to be included in the designation "Highlands." Caithness might be excluded as being a generally level country; but throughout the Highlands there are rich level tracts, none being more so than the eastern division of Ross-shire. The Hebrides or Western Isles are included in the Highlands, but the isthmus of Orkney and Shetland, though to the north, are distinctly excluded, by reason of the Norse origin of their inhabitants.

Forty Centuries Ago

One-way traffic was in use nearly 4,000 years ago in the Neolithic, or Stone Age, camp on the famous Trundle hill overlooking Goodwood race course, in Sussex, England. Dr. Ceall Curwen, the archeologist, who has been conducting excavations on the site, states, "It is certain that one way into the camp was used only as an entrance and the other as an exit. These camps are extremely rare; there are only a dozen in the whole of England; the date of this camp is approximately 2000 B. C. The most interesting Neolithic find was that of a large semi-circular block of stone with a hole being worked up into a ridge with sharp flint marks radiating from it; possibly an early method of making fire."

Charleston "Sugar House"

The old Sugar house at Charleston, S. C., was the name given to the workhouse, a place of detention for fugitive slaves and the punishment of slaves and free negroes. It was here that the lashes were applied, and hence the name Sugar house. The workhouse was under the care of a commission of five citizens, with a master or keeper. It was a city institution and was conducted under the ordinances, with prescribed rates for the care of the inmates—dieting, lodging, number of lashes, etc. The building stood on the corner of what is now known as Logan and Magazine streets and was destroyed by fire in the conflagration of 1861.

Antlers Grow Quickly

Deer's antlers are shed completely every year, between January and March. It takes about four months, or until about August, for the new ones to reach full growth. When the antlers are dropped, the roots or pedicles exposed are rough disks of bone belonging to the frontal bone of the skull. In a week or so this is covered by the dark brown skin of the head and then the new antlers begin to develop. The material of which they are composed is similar to that which forms hair. The antlers of a healthy vigorous elk or caribou will grow at the rate of one-third of an inch per day, or more, once they are fairly started.

His Noise Brings the Coin

Begging for the funds with which to rebuild a temple, an old Chinaman has for 23 years been traversing the streets of Peking. As an evidence of his holy character he wears a skewer passing through his cheeks and protruding on either side. His method of extracting the coin is unique. He carries a huge wooden gong which is known as "Buddha's Ear," and taking up a position in front of a native home he makes a deafening noise until some member of the family comes out and gives him an adequate coin. If the amount meets with his approval he will move on, otherwise he remains until the sum is increased.

Tall Cork Trees

Cork trees of Spain and Portugal grow to be 50 feet tall.

Found There Was Limit to Customers' Patience

At the time of the rush into the Palmer gold field, in northern Queensland, Australia, justice was rough but fair, observes the Dunedin (N. Z.) Star, in quoting an incident of the day. The one storekeeper there, when stocking, took up a barrel of horse-shoe nails, thinking that they would readily sell to diggers who, in loading their pack horses, eliminated to the last ounce everything of weight that was not eatable. As it chanced, however, there was no demand for the nails. Every man who had a horse carried a few in his pocket. After the nails had been on his hands for a while he struck the brilliant idea that he would force sales by refusing to sell any four or sugar or rice unless the buyer also purchased an equal weight of nails.

For a time the men grumbled, but bought and, not heeding the nails, put them back in the barrel, so that they became to the storekeeper what the cruise was to the widow. Eventually the swindle got wind and a big rumpus ensued. About a hundred diggers assembled and took charge of the store. They weighed the nails, paid full price, chucked them into the creek, and on a signboard made of casement wood they notified all and sundry: "No more nails."

Rich Level Tracts in the Scottish Highlands

The region known to the world as the Highlands of Scotland has no political or civil boundary. Separated by only a vague line of demarcation from the division called the Lowlands, the Scottish Highlands may be briefly described as that portion of the north and northwest of Scotland in which the Celtic language and manners have less or more lingered until modern times. The Hebrides or Western Isles are included in the Highlands, but the isthmus of Orkney and Shetland, though to the north, are distinctly excluded, by reason of the Norse origin of their inhabitants.

Swimming Power of Fishes

For the medium-sized fresh-water fishes the maximum swimming speed appears to be about seven miles an hour, with the possibility of a bound at nearly three times this rate. More detailed observations will be needed to show variations with species, sex, water temperature, physiological conditions, and so on. Among salt water fishes the sword fish is known to attain a speed of approximately 60 miles per hour. The bureau of fisheries says that the dolphin and carp are said to outswim the fastest vessels.

Interview Didn't Count

While Lynde M. Walter, first editor of the Boston Transcript, was ill, in the last two years of his life, the editorial burden fell on Joseph Palmer, E. A. Smalley writes in that paper. Palmer's one claim to fame was that he alone of newspaper men was accorded an interview by Charles Dickens on the latter's first visit to Boston. The interview lasted an hour. Palmer told all about his efforts in obtaining the interview in the paper but printed not one word of what was said.

Male and Female "Mockers"

The bureau of biological survey says that there is no way of distinguishing the sexes in mocking birds by the plumage, since it is identical for both sexes. It is possible to tell the sexes apart by the song of the adult bird, since the male is a better singer, and in the fact that the female sometimes does not sing at all.

"Blue Angel" at United Artists

Overflowing with the richest of screen values—direction, acting, photography and eye and ear interest "The Blue Angel" opened at the United Artists theater. The lavish production features two of the screen's most outstanding figures, Marlene Dietrich and Emil Jannings.

In "The Blue Angel," which can be called "epic" without fear of contradiction, there is enough entertainment material to make three films of similar length. Three good films, at that. So concentrated, so intense, is the entertainment fare served up in this delectable film dish, that the most voracious film fan's appetite cannot but be appeased by it.

"Fighting Caravans" Coming to Paramount

"Fighting Caravans," the thrilling and spectacular drama of the battling pioneers who beat new trails across the continent, is the tremendous screen attraction coming to the Paramount theater. Gary Cooper, the romantic hero of "Morocco," has the starring role while Lily Damita, the fiery beauty of "Cock-Eyed World," is seen as his new sweetheart. Ernest Torrence and Tully Marshall, who won fame by their roles in "The Covered Wagon," head the supporting cast that includes such names as Eugene Pallette, Fred Kohler and Eve Southern.

Reminders of Past Ages

Dinosaur canyon, situated in the almost inaccessible region of the Hopi Indian reservation in Arizona, was unknown to United States Indian agents or the white pioneers of the territory until Hubert Richardson, keeper of the Cameron trading post, was told of it by an Indian whose confidence he had gained. The result was that the National Geographic society sent a research party into the section which uncovered dozens of dinosaur tracks, cut deep into the rocks and said to have been imprinted there by prehistoric monsters about 30,000 years ago.—Detroit Free Press.

Interview Didn't Count

While Lynde M. Walter, first editor of the Boston Transcript, was ill, in the last two years of his life, the editorial burden fell on Joseph Palmer, E. A. Smalley writes in that paper. Palmer's one claim to fame was that he alone of newspaper men was accorded an interview by Charles Dickens on the latter's first visit to Boston. The interview lasted an hour. Palmer told all about his efforts in obtaining the interview in the paper but printed not one word of what was said.

Male and Female "Mockers"

The bureau of biological survey says that there is no way of distinguishing the sexes in mocking birds by the plumage, since it is identical for both sexes. It is possible to tell the sexes apart by the song of the adult bird, since the male is a better singer, and in the fact that the female sometimes does not sing at all.

Church of Christ Lochmoor

The Little Church in the Wildwood. Visit our Bible School next Lord's Day morning at 9:45 and enjoy with us the study of Matthew 13. (The Parable of the Sower). Continue to come and travel with us through the entire New Testament.

Remain for morning worship which commences at 11 o'clock and notice our likeness to the churches you read about in the New Testament in our order of worship.

Do you like to sing the old time songs and hear the plain simple story of Jesus and His Love, then come to the evening service at 7:30.

There's a welcome awaiting you. The preacher will make the message clear and plain and if you yet are not already pointed Zionward you will want to get aboard the Old Ship of Zion.

There's a midweek meeting too, that you might want to attend, Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.

If you live in East Detroit there is a meeting at 213 Boulder Avenue on Friday evening at the same hour.

This church is preparing for Revival Services in early spring, March 15 to 29 inclusive. For further information phone Niagara 4447.

Faith Lutheran Church

The series of sermons on "Death and the Future Life" will be concluded
