Social Agencies In Pointe Cooperate to Aid Persons in Need

To bring about a closer cooperation of the social agencies working in Grosse Pointe Township, monthly meetings of representatives of the several agencies are held at the Neighborhood Club. Among the organizations represented are: Neighborhood Club, St. Vincent de Paul Society, the police departments, the public schools system, churches, department of health and the Lions Club.

One of the main objects of the meetings is to avoid duplication of effort. All agencies are asked to "clear" through the Neighborhood Club, where records of work done can be kept. This, it is felt, will make possible the relief of all persons in need, and avoid needless duplication of effort by two or more agencies.

The police departments will make a record of all families moving into the district, and report to the central office cases which they believe are likely to become public charges.

The meetings at the Neighborhood Club are held the first Thursday of the month.

NATIONAL HOME OF FOREIGN WAR VETERANS IS ORPHANS' REFUGE

Regarded as the greatest humanitarian project ever sponsored by a veteran organization, the V. F. W. National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, erected in 1925 as a shelter for the children and widows of deceased veterans, has become one of the primary motives for existence for the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. and its Ladies Auxiliary.

The chief purpose of the V. F. W. National Home from the start was to provide an ideal home and living conditions for the children of former comrades. Youngsters are being maintained at the home, fed, clothed, educated and equipped with vocations at the expense of the organization until they are able to make their own way in the world at large. In her home at 1036 Devonshire road, Mrs. Stanley C. Morgan will entertain the women of the Jefferson avenue Presbyterian Church at a tea Thursday commencing at 1 o'clock to benefit the Friendship Home. Mrs. D. D. Spellman will give a talk on the Passion Play, Mrs. Robert F. McKee will sing and Mrs. Fred W. Krapp accompany. Assisting Mrs. Morgan at the affair will be Mrs. Richard Locke, Mrs. F. L. Cobb and Mrs. E. J. Taubly.

Ladies' Society of Mt. Olive to Hold Bake Sale

The Mt. Olive Ladies' Society will give another baked goods sale next Saturday from 10 until 6 o'clock in the vacant store building on Mack avenue at Neff road (formerly occupied by the Crochford Cleaners). Home baked bread, doughnuts, pies and cakes will be sold.

Judging by the last sale the ladies expect another real day on Saturday, and have made arrangements for a larger supply of those articles which were in such favorable demand the last time. Remember the place and the day, and come. For further information call Mrs. J. Engelmann, Hickory 9473-R.

Differences in Halos

In art the nimbus, or halo of light encircling the head of Christ, is usually of gold, enriched with a cross—a triangular nimbus for the Father, a square one for a person still living, and disk or fillet-shaped for a saint or martyr.

New Officers Named at Recent Meeting to Head D.A.R. Unit

At the meeting of Fort Pontchartrain Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held Friday afternoon March 20th at the Hotel Statler, the following staff of officers, recommended by the nominating committee, was unanimously approved by the membership for the coming year, subject as usual, however, to confirmation at the annual meeting in May.

Mrs. Roy R. Riddle was chairman of the Nominating Committee, which was composed of Mrs. Charles E. Holmes, Mrs. Merrill Cross, Mrs. A. H. Aldinger and Mrs. Ralph Johnston. Their recommendations for officers for next year were:

Regent—Mrs. O. D. Heavenrich; 1st Vice-Regent—Mrs. R. V. Allmar; 2nd Vice-Regent—Mrs. A. W. Myers; Rec. Secy.—Mrs. Karl G. Scheirer; Cor. Secy.—Mrs. T. L. Danielson; Treasurer—Mrs. W. L. Mutton; Registrar—Mrs. E. J. Savage; Historian—Mrs. E. M. Toms; Chaplain—Miss Thelma Palmer; Paraphrenarian—Mrs. Raymond Foulkrod;

Directors—Miss Pearl E. Lockhart, Mrs. A. L. Webb, Mrs. K. I. Guest.

President of Cadette Society, Children of the American Revolution—Mrs. Wm. F. Catlin; "Dr. Edgar" De Witt Jones invited the Chapter to attend the dedication of a Washington Monument proposed to be placed in its Central Woodward Christian Church. This dedication would be a part of the national wide-bicentennial observance of the birth of Washington in 1932. So far as is known this is the only memorial of the kind planned for Detroit or Michigan.

Mrs. Charles H. Mooney, State Chairman of Ellis Island work, explained the present needs of the immigrants, for whom the Chapter is preparing its annual contribution, under the direction of Mrs. Dean Gray, Americanism Chairman of the Chapter. The Cosmopolitan Club was represented not only by Mrs. Mooney, who was its organizing president, but also by Mrs. Albert Harwith, who told of the activities of the Russian group in the club. She explained that the membership of 400 represented 40 different nationalities, each group being limited to fifteen members. Mrs. Harwith, who is a graduate of a European University and was a practicing dentist in Russia, is custodian of the flag in the Club, an honor of which she is very proud. She pointed out that members of her Russian group, attired in beautiful native costumes, took part recently in the "Parade of the Nations" in a pageant staged by the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs. She also told of the first being 21-18.

DETROIT ALL-STARS TAKE SECOND GAME OF SERIES

Before a crowd estimated at close to 600 persons, the Detroit All-Star Settlement Team gained a decisive victory over the Cleveland All-Star team at the Cleveland Y. M. C. A. last Saturday night by a score of 37 to 23.

The Detroit team started the game with the same lineup as last week, with the exception of Murphy, who started in place of LeHoy. This team played through the entire first half of the game and left the floor with a 22 to 5 lead. The entire team then left the floor and five substitutes were sent in to start the third quarter. The play of these boys was very ragged throughout as evidenced by the 24 to 18 score at the end of this period.

The starting lineup was again rushed into the game at this time, and again their superiority was evident with the score ending 37 to 23 in their favor.

Murphy, of Grosse Pointe, with nine points, was the high scorer of the game, closely followed by Keegan, of Grosse Pointe, and Milkovi, of Delray, who tied with 8 points each.

V. V. V. GIRLS WIN AT JACKSON

In a very rough and poorly handled game, the V. V. V. Girls defeated the Jackson Eels at Jackson last Saturday night. There were numerous fouls committed by both teams, and at times the game appeared more like football than basketball. The Grosse Pointe girls managed to score more baskets and won, 28-20. The line-up:

The Neighborhood Club Junior Boys team defeated the Jefferson Methodist Church team at the Neighborhood Club Thursday, March 19th, by the score of 47-15. This was the second meeting of the season for these teams, the score of the first being 21-18.

The play of the victors showed a great improvement over the previous meeting, with Keegan, Creech and Darling of the victors, and Carter, of the losers, playing a stellar game throughout.

Defer P. T. A. Meets Monday, March 30

The George Defer P. T. A. will hold the annual election of officers at their next meeting, on Monday, March 30th, at 7:45 o'clock. A very interesting program has been arranged, including an elaborate display of magic by Professor Cecil. Dorothy Barber of Defer School and Renee Cholote, pupils of Professor Igo will play a violin duet.

High School Expects Increased Enrollment

An enrollment of 1520 pupils in the school has been prophesied by Mr. John R. Barnes, principal, for September, 1931, an increase of 183 pupils over the present enrollment of 1337.

From 1925 to 1930 the junior high has increased from 598 students to 824; while the senior high record shows an increase of 208 pupils or a rise from 305 pupils to 513.

The Camp Fire Girls of the Neighborhood Club (Waakiya Group) have planned a card party to be held on Friday evening, March 27th. They are most anxious to make this affair a success, as the proceeds will be used for camp and various handicraft materials. Tickets are being sold by all the girls and may also be had at the Neighborhood Club. There will be a prize for each table and refreshments.

The Neighborhood Club house basketball tournament will be held on the following Wednesday and Thursday nights during April: 8 and 9, 15 and 16, and 22 and 23.

As there are only four teams entered, we have decided to make it a round robin affair with each and every team meeting each other twice in the course of the tournament. At the close of this time, the team leading in games won will be adjudged the winner. In case of a tie, the two tied teams will play one game to decide a winner.

This tournament is open to only the teams playing their home games at the Neighborhood Club; namely, the following: G. P. A. C., N. A. C., Racqueteers and Neighborhood Club Juniors.

The entry fee is $2.00 per team, payable in advance on or before April 8th, 1931.

All contestants must be bona fide members of the Neighborhood Club and each does for 1931 must be paid before the first game is played; otherwise, they will not be allowed to participate in any of the remaining games.

Coaches and managers of these four teams are requested to fill out an entry form at once so that these entrants can be checked before that time.

High School Teacher Has Interesting Hobby

Mr. O. Lincoln Igo, music instructor at the Grosse Pointe High School has a very choice collection of autographs in his possession.

Mr. Igo acquired this amazing collection at a series of concerts at Northwestern University. Some of the famous people are: Madame Schumann-Heink, famous Metropolitan Opera star; Percy Grainger, noted pianist; Richard Bonelli and Florence Macbeth, both members of the Chicago Civic Opera company; Nanette Guilford and Dusolina Giannini, both members of the Metropolitan Opera company; Frederick Bour, a pianist; Peter C. Lutkin, director of music at Northwestern; Emilio Bogliunni, principal cellist of the Chicago Symphony, who was recognized as the best cellist in South America at the "tender" age of twelve years; John M. Beattie, head of the public school music department at Northwestern.

Now comes the noted Mr. E. Ruckle, who taught singing. It was for Mr. Ruckle that Mr. Igo played his first clarinet solo. Poor Mr. Igo couldn't even coax a noise from the clarinet.

C. M. T. C. ENROLLMENT IN STATE NEARS QUOTA, SAYS NEWBERRY

With 829 applications to attend the Citizens' Military Training Camps in Michigan this year already received, more than half the quota of 1600 for the state has been completed, Phelps Newberry, Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War, announced today, giving figures for the first twenty days of enrollment, ended March 20th.

"Detroit with 275 applications is also past the half way mark in filling its quota of 540," Mr. Newberry said in his statement.

"Eleven counties in the state have already passed their quotas," the statement continues. "The counties are Gogebic, Delta, Cheboygan, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Wexford, Missaukee, Oscoda, St. Joseph, Branch, and Monroe. A dozen other counties are almost up to their quotas.

"Never before has there been such a response to Citizens' Military Training Camps on the part of young men. This remarkable interest is due to the appeal that these camps have to the young men who attend them. These young men are not only applying early to be sure of being able to attend the camps this year, but many of them have friends whom they wish to have attend camp with them. The result is that enrollments are increasing tremendously in all localities from which young men have previously attended the Citizens' Military Training Camps."

Mr. Newberry issued a warning that those wishing to attend the Camps this year should make their applications at once. "Counties are not held to their quotas and those who have exceeded their quotas may still send in applications until the state quota is filled," he said. "Usually this isn't complete until in June or July just before the camps are held. However, with more than half the state quota completed before

Walter Heirs in Person at the Fisher Theater

Marion Davis in Laurence E. Johnson's stage success "It's a Wise Child," is the feature screen attraction at the Fisher theater this week. Robert Z. Leonard who directed Miss Davies in "The Bachelor Father" is also responsible for the direction of this smart picture with brilliant dialogue. The supporting cast is unusual in size and acting ability and includes Polly Moran, James Gleason, Marie Prevost, Sidney Blackmer, Lester Vail, Johnny Arthur, and Clara Blandick.

On the stage the famous Hollywood screen comedian, Walter Heirs appears in person. Heirs, who weighs two hundred and thirty pounds is at home in this atmosphere having started his theatrical career in vaudeville. He heads a peppy stage show "Sketches" over which Bob Nolan presides. The internationally famous Uyenyo Japs amaze with extraordinary feats, Merrick and Allen are accordion aces and the Lambert Ballet contribute new dance routines.

Mary Pickford in "Kiki" at The United Artists

Mary Pickford in "Kiki," a picture which will surprise even the most rabid Pickford fans is now playing at the United Artists theater. The famous play, as adapted by Sam Taylor, celebrated as a screen writer and director of the star in "My Best Girl" and "Coquette," is great fun, and swift and sparkling entertainment. "Kiki" is a vehicle for laughter. No matter how serious the situation may be for the characters involved, the complications, and the dialogue as well, are always screamingly funny to the audience.

The play stands the true test of light comedy in that the situations and comic relief are sustained by a solid groundwork of dramatic incident, through which the heart interest runs as a gleaming thread. The settings, comprising among others, a theatre stage and a magnificent private apartment, are luxuriously and lavishly produced from original designs by William Cameron Menzies, the supervising art director.

Presbyterian Church of the Covenant

There will be special Palm Sunday service at the Covenant Presbyterian church next Sunday, March 29. Bible School meets at 9:30 a. m. Morning worship at 10:45. The Rev. Alfred S. Nickless will preach on "The Many Crowned Christ."

The Young People's Group and the Tuxis Society meet at 5:30 p. m. for a social hour. The Devotional Hour is at 6:30. At 7:45 the choir will give the cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," by Maunder. There will be a Passion Week service Wednesday, April 1, at 7:45, with special music. The pastor, Mr. Nickless will speak.

There will be a Good Friday Candle-Light Communion service in the Covenant Presbyterian Church at 8:00 p. m. The public is invited.

TRUE TALES OF THE TELEPHONE

A Billionth of an Inch To the layman, a billionth of an inch seems too small to conceive, much less actually to measure. For the telephone engineer, however, such infinitesimal quantities often determine success or failure.

In order to study the properties of permalloy and other magnetic materials, for example, Bell Laboratories scientists have found it necessary to make minute measurements of the changes in length of specimens when subjected to magnetization. Through the use of specially designed apparatus employing delicately balanced mirrors, glass screens and photo-electric cells, it is possible to determine, in a centimeter of length a change in the order of one-tenth of the diameter of an atom, or something like a billionth of an inch.

Such a length is so incredibly small that if it were possible to manufacture paper equally thin, over a million sheets would have to be piled one on top of the other in order to obtain a thickness equivalent to that of ordinary tissue paper. So delicate is the measuring apparatus that it is specially mounted to guard against building vibrations and is sealed in a vacuum to protect it against changes in external temperature.

New Books Added to Grosse Pointe Library

"Commercial Art," by Guy F. Cahoon. This practical book on the essentials of commercial art presents fully and in detail the fundamental principles of drawing for reproduction, how to sell, and the many time saving methods that may be used successfully. "Coronado's Children," by J. Frank Dobie. Down through the ages have come the tales of lost mines and buried treasures of the southwest, which Frank Dobie recounts here with a great deal of charm.

"The Navajo Indians," by Mary Roberts Coolidge and Dane Coolidge. A colorful account of Navajo life and customs. Arts and crafts, folklore and legends abound in this colorful account of this largest and most virile tribe of Indians of North America.

"The Fall of the Russian Empire," by Edmund A. Walsh. An interesting and exciting picture of the last days of the Romanovs, revolution and the rise of the Soviet government.

"Fifty Games of Solitaire," edited and illustrated by Paul W. Kearney. Solitaire enthusiasts will find new possibilities of enjoyment in this compilation of games for two or more players ranging from the games of pure chance to those requiring skill.

"The Dance," by Margaret N. H'Doubler. A discussion of interpretive dancing as taught in the colleges and its relation to general culture. Numerous poses and illustrations, will be helpful to both pupil and teacher.

"The Sea and the Jungle," by H. M. Tomlinson. A new revised edition of the widely known book. This tale of the voyage made in a tramp steamer from England to Brazil and up the Amazon through jungles of darkness and mystery is beautified by woodcuts.

"Children in the Nursery School," by Harriet M. Johnson. A clear and practical presentation of the workings of an experimental nursery school with emphasis upon a study of the child activities from 14-36 months.

Wynn Wright Speaks on Elizabethan Drama

In his speech on Shakespearean drama to a group of students in the school auditorium on Wednesday afternoon, March 11, Mr. Wynn Wright, dramatics director of WWJ, brought out some of the characteristics about the stage and acting of that time and compared them with the present stage and acting.

In the Elizabethan time the reason for the rhyme at the ending of each act was to let the audience know it was finished. This was done because there were no curtains," Mr. Wright said. The stage differed from the present stage in that the back stage was narrow with a wide down stage. Today the back stage is wide with a narrow down stage," Mr. Wright explained.

There have been many methods of staging a play since the Elizabethan age but they are traveling in a cycle back to the method of Shakespeare's time, he said. "There is one way in which the Elizabethan time, was the same as today. When the people came to a play they always brought tomatoes and eggs to throw at any actor who did not come up to their estimation and this practice is still carried out," Mr. Wright told his audience.

The most important reason for producing Shakespeare, Mr. Wright said, is that Shakespeare was the greatest dramatist who ever lived. "The classics are kept because only in the classics has the actor an opportunity for learning his art," continued Mr. Wright. "Shakespeare develops a standard for actors. There is a rare beauty in the old dramas that is not seen in the modern ones. They also keep alive the art of costuming."

At the conclusion of this speech he answered questions from various members of the audience.

Junior High School to Enter Pupils in Contest

Mildred Carroll and Virginia Rowe are the champion spellers of the seventh and eighth grades, respectively, of the Grosse Pointe High School. They won their laurels Friday, March 6, in a spelling bee held in this school. These two girls were picked from their grade team consisting of ten pupils each. The teams were chosen from a group made up of the three best spellers from each seventh and eighth grade second. The runner-up for the seventh grade was Florence Allard, and for the eighth grade, Betty Holiday.

The following is a list of the seventh and eighth grade section teams who met to determine the ten best spellers from each grade:

- 7B-1: Helen Jeal, Frances Marsack, and Shirley Stuart. 7B-2: Herman Eord, Catherine Ferland, Bernice Thomas. 7B-3: Fred Champine, Eileen Ferland, Elizabeth Theunissen. 7A-1: Richard Morris, Mary Ann

These teams will compete against each other to determine the school champion who will represent Grosse Pointe High in the district spelling bee.

Ronald Colman's "Devil to Pay" at the Riviera

mantic comedy concerned with the amusing adventures of a debonaire who does well, comes to the Riviera theater during the week of March 28th. An original screen play from the pen of Frederick Lonsdale, author of "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," "The High Road" and other New York and London stage successes, "The Devil to Pay" emerges as one of the most engaging and diverting Ronald Colman pictures to come to the audible screen in some time.

In "The Devil to Pay" Ronald Colman is cast as a modern, irresponsible gentleman of leisure who has devoted his life to the spending of his father's fortune. And, as might be imagined, he also knows a beautiful woman when he sees one. Which is very often. But complications ensue when Ronald, out of a clear sky, falls head over heels in love with a charming and beautiful girl who is engaged to a rather dull nobleman. Ronald, however, concerns himself not with the nobleman but with the girl.

G. M. T. C. Enrollment In State Nears Quota

(Continued from Page One) The season has begun, it is certain that the entire quota will be completed within a few weeks. Last year the state quota was completed two months before the date of the camps, and there were 663 applicants above the quota. Naturally we regret to have to refuse young men the opportunity of attending these camps because the quotas are already filled, and the government will not permit us to send more than the number provided by the War Department.

(Continued from Page One) degree. Eventually, additional cottages will be added with a chapel, a gymnasium, administration building, athletic fields, play grounds, and other developments to complete the plans contemplated by the Board of Trustees.

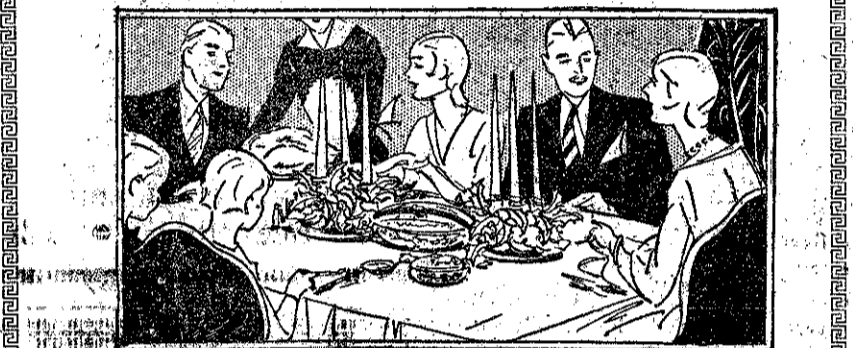

Herein lies one of the first answers to the veteran who asks, "Why should I belong to a Veteran Organization?" Every veteran owes it to his comrades, his dependents and to himself to give his support to at least some veteran organization. Lt. Edw. A. Hoffman Post, No. 116 meets every first and third Tuesday at 3663 Concord Avenue. A special meeting to celebrate the Post's 12th anniversary will be held at Forrester Hall, 7714 Mack avenue on Friday evening, March 27th. Every eligible veteran is invited to attend this meeting and bring his discharge in order that he may fall in line with America's Overseas Veterans.

Developing Powers of Observation in Child

Teach a child to be observant of everything around him, and you give him one of the soundest starts in life, for observations are very rarely wasted.

The Japanese are a race who appreciate to the full the value of observation, and their babies are taught it unconsciously almost from their cradles. They learn it as a game. The Japanese mother will give her child a tray of objects to look at for a few minutes, then the tray is taken away and the child tells her all about its contents. It is quite a thrilling game when there are lots of things to remember, and children take to it very quickly.

To be able to observe swiftly and accurately will often help one very substantially in life. To take in one's surroundings quickly, and to be able to sum up characters fairly accurately, are two very useful assets and each derived to a certain extent from observation.

When there are decisions to be made, it is possibly the man or woman who has been taught to observe from childhood who stands the best chance of making happy ones.

Cobra Worshipers Hold Deadly Reptile Sacred

Every year the dreaded cobra is responsible for the death of many thousands of persons in India, but so sacred is the snake considered that it is deemed to get the Hindu to assist in killing one.

In many Hindu houses these deadly reptiles have regular homes, and are daily fed with milk, and solemnly worshipped morning and evening.

At a place known as Subramanyam, cobras are to be found in practically every house, and on certain festival occasions special services are held in their honor in the temple, thousands gathering from long distances to participate.

Although at any moment some member of the households harboring the snakes might accidentally be bitten—which means certain death—no one dares destroy the cobra on account of its sanctity.

Even where the living snake is not worshiped images of the cobra, carved in stone, are common, and in the early morning one can frequently see men and women offering gifts before these "snake shrines."

Quality in Marble

Marble which may be grained with beautiful shadings, while it is beautiful in appearance, in reality is not pure marble. The colored marble is that which at some time has been fractured and during the period of consolidation following coloring matter has made its way into the fracture and brought about the grain that is so desirable in certain classes of marble installations.

Black and grayish shades are due to the presence of carbonaceous matter, usually flake graphite. Red, pink or reddish-brown shades indicate the presence of manganese oxides. Hydrous oxide of iron accounts for the yellow-brown, yellow and creamy shades, while other colors, such as the bluish tints, are so far of undetermined sources.

All for Fashion

As to teeth, the Wakamba tribal custom was for all men to have them sharply filed to a point, after the fashion so prevalent in parts of the Congo and popularly supposed to denote cannibal propensities. As if this were not enough, they often extract their own teeth, then take those of animals, sheep or hartbeast, file their ends, shape their bases, and screw them into the vacant sockets. When first I read of this in a popular book I refused to credit it, but it is a sober fact.—Julian Huxley in Saturday Review.

Forestry is a Business

Successful forest management demands application of the same investment principles that are applied in other successful businesses, viz., to perpetuate the values which will no longer earn satisfactorily. The land and improvement values, writes B. F. Kirkland in the Journal of Forestry, are mostly incapable of recovery except through continued use as part of forest property. The chief knack of forest management consists in an analysis of and proper order of the recovery of the tree investment.

Popular Northern Name

Eric denotes "ever royal" or "always king," from the two Teutonic words, "ei" (ever) and "rik" (a king or ruler). It was a famous name among the old Scandinavian and northern races who wrote it as Eirik and Baric. It has also a feminine form—Erica. Eric has been used for centuries among the old royal families of the North, because of its splendid meaning. Our most familiar form is "Richard" (stern king), and three kings of that name have sat upon the throne of England.—Montreal-Herald.

Good Library System

A novel system for promoting student reading of good literature is used by the Portland (Maine) public library. Books are sent to every school in the city, one book to each pupil, and interchanged until every pupil has read every book. Last year more than 900 books had a circulation of 75,000.

Hi-Y Members Feted by G. P. Girl Reserves

The Hi-Y Club of the Grosse Pointe High School were entertained by the members of the Girl Reserves of the High School recently. There were several members of the faculty attending, namely: Mr. William Mann, sponsor of the Hi-Y; Miss Elizabeth Heskett and Miss Wilma Crow, sponsors of the Girl Reserves; Dr. S. M. Brownell, superintendent of schools; Mr. John R. Barnes, principal; Mr. A. E. Trippensee, assistant principal; and Mr. Charles E. Leavitt.

The group was addressed by Dr. Brownell and Mr. Barnes, and they expressed the hope that the two clubs would keep on with their good work and as far as possible have more meetings together.

After the dinner, which the boys voted a complete success, dancing and card games were held in the girls gymnasium.

Buster Keaton Stars in Comedy at Hollywood

Buster Keaton gets a "break" in his latest comedy, "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," which is appearing at the Hollywood theater starting Sunday. Here is a role that fits the straight-faced comedian perfectly. He depicts a shy and reticent bill-poster who through no efforts of his own achieves the reputation of a "great lover." In a desperate attempt to uphold this reputation he becomes involved in an uproarious series of amorous affairs which are brought to a swift conclusion when the jealous husband appears on the scene with a gun.

Keaton's antics start the laughs rolling and they are kept rolling by the rest of the imposing cast, which includes the lanky Charlotte Greenwood, who scored on the stage in the original role, Reginald Denny, Cliff Edwards, Sally Eilers, Dorothy Christy and Joan Peers.

Fans who are curious to see what a famous movie star's home is like will have that chance when they see "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." The Keaton swimming pool, his gardens, his dog, and practically all the inside rooms of his Beverly Hills home were used as the settings for the picture.

Eddie Loughton, the popular master of ceremonies and his Hollywood Merry-makers with their new arrangements are backed on the stage bill by superb vaudeville offerings. Dancing, musical numbers, comedy and novelty are found in abundance. Bob Clarke furnishes one of his specialty songs on the organ, and there are numerous screen shorts including a Color-Tone Review titled "Crazy House."

Starting Thursday is "Gentlemen's Fate" with John Gilbert and all new stage show.

As usual on Tuesday and Wednesday nights the Hollywood will give away free $300 on each of these nights, and on each Friday and Saturday night a Free New Ford Sedan.

Punch and Judy Theater News

Charlie Ruggles hits the high spot of his career in "Charley's Aunt," which comes to the Punch and Judy on Friday and Saturday, March 27 and 28. This comedy of life at Oxford University offers the inimitable comedian limitless opportunities for fun making of which he takes every advantage. The result is a laugh marathon. Nobody could possibly sit through this performance without having his funny bone tickled—and Ruggles is the central figure every time.

On the same program will be shown "Bottom of the World," an authentic talking picture of the thrills and hardships faced by the Kohl Larsen Expedition at the "South Pole." It is the rare, unbelievable story of the strangest and queerest creatures in the world.

Has a husband the right to beat his wife? This is the question which was asked the members of the cast of "Free Love," the comedy-drama of marital difficulties, when the script called for Conrad Nagel's "knocking out" his wife. The question precipitated a controversy which lasted throughout the making of the entire picture, in which Genevieve Tobin, Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts are featured with Nagel. When the arguments, also the filming of scenes, were finished the cast was still divided. Possibly audiences at the Punch and Judy theater on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, March 29, 30 and 31 may decide the issue.

In selecting Barbara Stanwyck to play the role of Anne Vincent in "Illicit" coming to the Punch and Judy theater on Wednesday and Thursday, April 1 and 2, Warner Brothers were influenced by her ability to portray delicate sex situations in a subtle and inoffensive manner. The story of the picture is a daring one. As Anne Vincent, Miss Stanwyck is seen as a modern maid who has her own thoughts on life and love. She does not think husbands make good lovers and prefers a life with her sweetheart, rather than be united with him in wedlock.

William Powell, creator of the well-remembered "Natural" Davis of "Street of Chance," and more recently seen in the absorbing drama, "For the Defense," is starred in a new and fascinating drama, appropriately entitled "Man of the World." This picture, with Carol Lombard, and Wynne Gibson in leading supporting roles, is now at the Michigan theater.

In "Man of the World" William Powell is cast as a suave, debonair and cultured gentleman who, in the Paris of frivolity and unsophisticated tourists, lives by his wits, framing wealthy Americans on scandalous charges and then extracting large sums of money from them. While carrying out one of his schemes Powell falls in love with the beautiful niece (Carol Lombard) of the man he hopes to blackmail. Determined to begin life anew, Powell tells Carol of his past and asks her to be his wife. Carol accepts and Powell makes plans to jilt his pretty and devoted accomplice (Wynne Gibson).

Tap Dancing Taught in G. P. Night School

New material is being developed for future Ziegfeld shows at the Grosse Pointe High school as Mr. Berdun, tap dancing instructor in the night school trains his classes in the new chorus steps. Who knows, perhaps the bright lights may some day carry the name of some star who first started dancing in the Grosse Pointe High school night school? Stranger things have happened!

You Can't Skip a Step in the Building of PROSPERITY

PROSPERITY is built in three steps. The second cannot be reached before the first, nor the third before the second. Yet there is a large class in America that is trying to skip that first step. It is to this class that we appeal.

You who are employed and who enjoy an income diminished either slightly or not at all; you are trying the impossible. The first step in building Prosperity is Normal Buying. The second step is Normal Employment. The third step is Normal Production, or Prosperity itself. But you are not buying normally. You are foregoing luxuries to which you are accustomed, and even doing without necessities. You have followed the leader into a Buyers' Strike. Wherefore, then, your bellowing for Prosperity?

Until you, the employed, Buy Normally, there can be no Normal Employment. And until there is Normal Employment there can be no Normal Production, or Prosperity. It is in your hands, the hands of each individual employed person. Delay if you will. Buy if you are in earnest about this Prosperity business, resume Buying Normally.

High School Cafeteria
Caters to Other Schools

Every day the cafeteria of the Grosse Pointe High school makes up approximately 400 lunches and sends them to four schools. These schools are Cadieux, Trombly, Richard and Defer.

The students of these various schools buy tickets in the morning which entitle them to a noon lunch.

The lunch consists of one hot dish, bread and butter and a dessert. Soups and salads may be ordered by special request.

The lunches are taken to these schools by a covered truck, and then distributed.

Night School Adds Popular Sports

The night school of Grosse Pointe High school has added several interesting courses to its regular schedule. The popular sport, Badminton, is being offered along with deck tennis, both of which are taught by Miss Doris Tefft on Monday nights from 9:30-9:30.

A class in tap dancing has been included in the schedule being taught by Mr. C. Berdun who formerly taught tap dancing at the Grosse Pointe Yacht club. The tap classes are held every Friday night, it was learned from Mr. A. E. Trippensee recently.

High School Aquatic Club to Present Gold Medals for Swimming

The Boy's Aquatic club of the Grosse Pointe High school will present gold medals to the boys passing a swimming test compiled by Mr. Frank Banach, advisor of the club. The test will include speed at varying distances and with different styles of swimming used; performing four fancy dives satisfactorily; distance swimming; and a few forms of life saving and artificial respiration.

It is expected that no more than five boys will pass the test, as it is considered very difficult.

New Gym Suits Add Uniformity to Classes

All the girls in the physical education department of the Grosse Pointe High School are delighted that at last the new gym suits are in the book store where they may be purchased for the sum of $1.85.

The seventh and eighth grade suits are blue with a short sleeve and small collar. The senior girls' suits, green, sleeveless and collarless.

The gym classes are much more colorful and uniform in the new suits.

The New Goal
A life devoted to the acquisition of wealth is useless unless we know how to turn it into joy. And this is an art that requires culture and wisdom.—County Home.

Intricacies of Kinship
Part of Southern Life

Perhaps one of the most characteristic modes of behavior in the South is the business of kinship, in which particular the southerner surpasses even the New Englander, Howard Mumford Jones writes, in Scribner's Magazine. It sometimes seems to me that everybody in Virginia, or South Carolina or Georgia is related to everybody else.

If a marriage takes place, the fact is conversationally recorded; their comment turns at once to the question of the family ramifications involved. If a political appointment is announced, it soon appears that the appointee is cousin to somebody else.

The system is so intricate that the tactful northerner, after one or two unhappy blunders, learns to preface any comment on a public character, literary, political, or what not, with the polite hope that the subject's relatives will not misunderstand his remarks.

In a day when the family is supposed to be breaking up, the business of "claiming kin" in the South probably is less patent than it used to be; yet it is one of the most powerful forces in southern life, and one the implications of which, I believe, few southerners realize.

Had Strong Objection to Oversupply of Rain

One summer during a record-breaking drought in Georgia the colored brethren and sisters congregated for the purpose of praying up a rain.

The parson was on his knees reasoning with the Almighty in the following words:

"Good Lawd, dis kentry am dried up! She sho' am parched! De crops am done cooked en de watah supply am runnin' low! Yo' people am sufferin' scandalus. Sen' a rain, good Lawd! Sen' a rain! Not none o' dem drizzle-drazzle rains dat don't do no good noh get nowah! Sen' a big rain; a gully-washer; a trash-lifteh."

"Hol' on dah, pabson!" shouted an old lady in the back of the church, rising excitedly from her knees. "Hol' on wah yo' is at! Don't yo' go pray in' foh no trash-lifteh rain! I done buried mah son-in-law jist yistiddy!" —Collier's Weekly.

Egyptian Curse Believed

Ignoring arguments against the curse of the pharaohs, there are few in Ireland who do not retain their belief that the tomb of the kings of Egypt must remain untouched. In Ireland are heard many tales regarding the touching of graves of even the poorest of the people. Should a body be buried in a wrong grave in the west of Ireland none of the relatives would sanction any change. A woman visiting Ireland from the United States was shocked at the condition of the family burial places, and had great difficulty in gaining permission to have the cemetery drained and improved. On the west coast the raising of a body after burial is supposed to bring a great storm.—Detroit Free Press.

Not to Be Outdone

"You don't seem to have any notorious spots here?" said the exclaiming tourist to the guide at the famous beauty spot.

"You know, in the last village we stopped at they showed us a place where a man had lain in wait for his rival in love, and had attacked him with a fiendish gusto."

The guide had never heard of this terrible crime, but his professional pride was roused.

"That is quite true, sir," he answered; "but you are not aware, perhaps, that the villain afterwards made his escape to this village, and you are standing on the very spot where he threw away that fiendish gusto!" —Weekly Scotsman.

Gave Bride a Shock

A clergyman recently gave a young woman of his acquaintance a very bad quarter of an hour. On her wedding day he sent her a telegram which, as received, ran: "John 4:18."

On looking up the text the girl was horrified to read: "For thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband."

After they had restored the young woman to consciousness, inquiry was made at the telegraph office, when it was found that the operator had omitted the letter or numeral indicating the first Epistle. John 4:18 reads: "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear."—London Tit-Bits.

Magnificent Elm

Although New England is the leading habitat of the elm, the record specimen is to be found at Marietta, Ohio. It is reputed to be about 500 years old. It has a girth at the waist of the trunk of twenty-seven feet two inches, and at eighteen inches from the ground is thirty-two feet. Originally it had a spread of 185 feet, but recently this has had to be cut back fifteen feet. At about eight feet above ground it divides into five great branches, each as large as an ordinary full-grown elm.

Congested Chicago

Chicago is the most congested city in America. Of 40 leading cities in the United States, the average population is 5.92 persons per acre. This compares with 11.63 people to the acre in Chicago, according to recent figures.

of the giving of souvenir spoons to mothers of 16 babies born to different members of the Russian group. After her talk, she graciously responded to queries from members, all of whom showed much interest in her address.

In the musicale arranged by Mrs. J. L. Danielson, Music Chairman, which closed the program, Mrs. Helen Kennedy Snyder, contralto, favored the Chapter with the following selections: "The Nightingale," Whelpley; "In the Luxembourg Gardens," Kathleen Manning; "Trees," Rosbach; "Wake Up," Phillips.

Her second group of songs was composed of the following: "Deep in My Heart," Aylward; "Gray Days," Johnson; "The Bird I Love the Best," Johnson.

Between Mrs. Snyder's two groups of songs, Mrs. Robert Dukes, pianist, gave brilliant rendition of: "Dedication," Schumann-Liszt; "Reflections in the Water," Claude De Buzzy; and "Romance," Frank La Forge.

One of the new members proposed by the Registrar was Mrs. John Marshall of Virginia, birth, a lineal descendant of Chief Justice John Marshall, both her husband and herself being descended from this ancestor through different sons.

Arrangements were outlined for the Chapter to attend Henry Ford's Historic Greenfield Village in a body in the near future.

High School Dramatic Club Plans New Play

The senior dramatic club of the Grosse Pointe High School, having completed and obtained success in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" are planning to produce several plays in the little auditorium on the third floor. These plays will not be open to the public, admission being by invitation only.

Mr. Axel Gruenberg, sponsor, wishes to announce that next fall the dramatic club intends to produce its first annual review. It is something that has never been undertaken by any Grosse Pointe High School organization before.

Bathub Once Unpopular

William Thompson of Cincinnati was a friend of the bathtub, he had in his home in 1842, that he exhibited to his guests at his Christmas party. Before the guests were given baths in the new household conveniences, and the bathtub secured two columns in the city newspapers the next day, in which the bathtub was denounced as a luxury and of keeping with the democratic spirit of the times.

The revival now in progress continues to and includes Lord's Day, March 29, 1931. John Calhoun Taylor is giving excellent talks, telling the old, old story of Jesus and His love every night this week at 7:45. Don't forget, Evangelist Taylor preaches this week, and of course Saturday night also. Take advantage of the opportunity to hear this man, Taylor. You will find your time well spent, and hear something to your benefit.

Lord's Day, E. G. Rockiff will be the speaker. Morning meetings: Bible

Eastminster Presbyterian Church

E. JEFFERSON AT MANISTIQUE
Carl E. Kircher, Pastor

Next Sunday we plan on making Palm Sunday a memorable occasion. This will begin with special services in the Sunday School, led by Superintendent Paul Hurr.

At 11:00 a. m. the choir will give appropriate special Palm Sunday music. The pastor will speak on "Hearts that Wave."

The Christian Endeavor Societies at 6:15, under Mrs. Mill's leadership will observe the occasion.

At 7:30 the choir, under Mr. Beer, will give the famous oratorio "Crucifixion" by Stainer. A short sermon on the "Crucifixion" will be given in connection with it.

Thursday of next week we will have our communion services, at 7:30 p. m. Friday we will take part with the other churches of our vicinity in the "Good Friday" union services held at the Baptist church.

School, 9:45; Worship, 11:00. Evening: Gospel Service, 7:30.

English Class Work Clever Soap Projects

The English II classes of the Grosse Pointe High School, under the direction of Miss Frances Griffin have just completed their projects of the story of Treasure Island. The projects are cleverly done in clay, soap and wood. There were some most unusual maps, among the collection made of a composition of salt and flour.

Committee Lays Plans
Before Students Soon

The qualifications for attendance at the honor banquet of the Grosse Pointe High School as recommended to the faculty by the student affairs committee have been accepted by the faculty and are soon to be presented to the students, it was announced at a meeting of student affairs committee held Thursday, March 12. Discussion of plans submitted concerning standards and regulations for clubs was held, although no definite decision was reached.

H. S. Hold Ceremonies

The recognition ceremony for the Junior Girl Reserves of the Grosse Pointe High School was held Wednesday. All charter members who had written their pledges were to have received their arm bands and been officially recognized as Girl Reserves. Last week was "health week" for the Girl Reserves. One saw health posters, made by the club members, throughout the school.
