Guardian Bank Is New Name of the Jefferson Savings Bank Here

September first will mark another important step in the successful history Bank of Grosse Pointe, making the association with the powerful Guardian Detroit Union Group, Inc., complete. The bank a unit of the Guardian Group, which has resources exceeding $500, 000,000, in October, 1929.

Established in 1923 to meet the increasing demands of the growing community for greater banking facilities, the Tefferson Savings Bank was successful from the very outset. Managed by men whose knowledge of local requirements had been obtained thru close association with the development of the district, the growth of the first two years exceeded the most optimistic expectations of the directors. In 1926 capital stock was increased from the original $60,000 to $100,000 and the surplus from $15,000 to $25,000. Since that date the surplus and undivided profit accounts have been substantially built up from earnings, in addition to dividends which have been paid since January, 1925.

Present resources exceed $1,000,000.

Change of name will not mean that the management or directors of the bank will be changed, it being one of the most strictly adhered to policies of the Guardian Group that its units be directed by men who live in and know their communities and the needs of their customers from long association with them. Membership in the Guardian Group brings to each unit the greater resources, experience and dacilities that only huge corporations can

Junior High Program In School System Is Opposed by Conely

The School Board's policy of providng for a Junior High school division in of the Jefferson Savings Bank when the educational system in Grosse the name will be changed to Guardian Pointe, was questioned by Walter S. Conely, newly elected member of the Board at a meeting last Monday eve-

Mr. Conely announced at the Board meeting that he was opposed to the classification of a Junior High School education Program in the curriculum and advocated the return to the "8-4" plan of education, (By the "8-4" plan is meant eight years of primary or elementary schooling and four years of high school education in contrast to the Junior High School classification or the '6-3-3" plan which is in force at present and provides for six years of elementary schooling, three years of Junior High work and three years of Senior High School education.

"A Junior High School system," said Mr. Conely, "is an unnecessary expense to the School District.

Report Delayed

The expected report of Carl H. Chatters, director of the Municipal Advisory Council for Detroit banking institutions, showing how and where $50,000 could be saved in the current year's school budget, has not been received as yet, according to Walter S. Conely, member of the Grosse Pointe School Board. Mr. Conely in a School Board meeting recently, stated that Mr. Chatters had told him $50,000 could be out from the school budget without impairing the efficiency of the School system. Mr. Chatters was to submit a report showing how this saving could be effected, according to Mr. Conely.

Lee Barrett, member of the School Board, expressed the contrary opinion to Mr. Conely, stating that to adopt the expense to the School District.

Mr. Barrett pointed out that the educational system had been developed and at present is being developed to provide for Junior High School education at a considerable expenditure of public funds. To change this, he said, would prove inadvisable from an educational standpoint and uneconomical from a financial consideration.

Mr. Conely then introduced a resolution providing for an extensive survey to be made by the School Board and the Superintendent of schools on the relative merits of the Junior High school plan of education and the "8-4"

The motion was introduced three times by Mr. Conely before one of the School Board members would second it. Finally Charles Poupard seconded the resolution and a vote was taken. The polling of the four School Board members present, resulted in a 2 to 2 vote. Charles Parcells, president of the Board, and Lee Barrett voting "No" on the resolution, and Poupard and Conely voting "yes." The resolution, lacking a majority of the Board, failed to pass. John R. Watkins was

The measure of our power is in our depth of spiritual concentration. Nothing taken root in soil constantly turned over. Nothing finds rest in a life with no quiet depths. Like the Master we must find a "wilderness," where, for awhile, we can hush life's clamorous voices and quietly wait for God to speak. That is what prayer means; that is what public worship provides. The shallow Christian may make both the occasional substitute for steady and persistent spiritual effort. The serious Christian hears in both Christ's constant reminder: "Come ye yourselves apart and rest awhile."

JEFFERSON SAVINGS BANK

GUARDIAN BANK OF GROSSE POINTE

The change in name is being made to identify this bank more closely with the Guardian Detroit Union Group, Inc., of which it is a unit.

Eight years ago this bank was founded by men living in the Grosse Pointe district. Through the intervening years, thoroughly familiar with the problems of the customers of the bank, these men have been ever alert to meet the demands and cope with the needs of Grosse Pointe citizens and business establishments. Their every effort has been directed to the building up of a strong and permanent financial structure, both in the bank itself and the community as a whole.

This bank will continue, as in the past, to be directed by Grosse Pointe men. The following officers and directors will continue to serve you:

by Means of Tea Leaves

A few of the ancient superstitions that have drifted down to present days are quite amusing. Some of them work in well when one is planning an evening's jollification, as, for instance, the telling of fortunes by means of tea leaves. Tea grounds, floating in the cup were supposed to indicate company, soft ones representing a woman and hard ones a man. When small, the guest was expected to be a large person; long grounds foretold a tall visitor. If the grounds were thrown under the table the guest was expected to remain over night, or longer, but if left in the cup, the call would be of short duration. Grounds remaining in a cup after the tea had been taken imparted still further knowledge. The cup was turned about several times and placed bottom up on the saucer, when the turning process was continued for a few times before setting the cup upright and studying the grounds. An open pathway through the grounds indicated a journey, its length depending on the length of the path. When the cup was turned sideways, if any tea ran out tears were anticipated on the journey. A ring of grounds, with a small dot in the center, represented wish, and the owner of the cup was advised to think of what was most deeply desired, as it would certainly be granted.—American Agriculturist.

"Red Hat" Bestowed on

Cardinals as a Symbol The red hat, the most conspicuous feature of the insignia of Roman Catholic cardinals, dates as a vestment from 1245. In that year it was bestowed on secular cardinals by Pope Innocent IV as a symbol of their readiness to shed their blood for Christ and the church. Gregory XIV in 1591 extended the privilege of wearing the red hat to cardinals belonging to religious orders. As now made, the ecclesiastical hat is scarlet in color and has a small, flat crown and a broad brim with cords and tassels of special patterns hanging over it. It is placed on the head of the newly appointed cardinal by the hand of the pope at a public consistory, but the hat is very seldom worn afterward. Instead it is usually laid aside until the funeral obsequies of the cardinal, when it is placed on his catafalque. In the absence of the cardinal, and sometimes after his death, the red hat may be hung from the roof of the cathedral. The color of the cardinal's hat has become known as cardinal red. and a species of American finch is called the cardinal bird or the red cardinal because of the brilliant plumage of the male.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Use for Waste Lumber

Conservation of the nation's forests promises to become a reality through a scientific utilization of waste timber. according to the American survey bu-

"Moden science has evolved a process of making wood boards from waste lumber that doubtless eventually will become an important factor in solving the timber conservation problem." a bureau bulletin says. "By this process edgings, slabs and short lengths of natural forest-grown timber from the sawmills, material formerly sent to the trash burners as worthless, are reduced by terrific explosions from steam guns to a fibrous mass, which is subjected to heat and pressure until it is converted into strong, smooth, grainless boards."

Chinese and Anesthetics

Some of the Arabian authorities speak of a form of anesthesia by inhalation, wrote Charles H. LaWall in "Rour Thousand Years of Pharmacy." This probably was derived from the Chinese, for Hua To, the Hippocrates of China, is said to have taught this practice and used for the purpose a combination of aconite, datura and henbane. It was revived in the Thirteenth century, when it was called the 'soporific sponge." And all this, comments the author, from a people who were so despised as to warrant a special clause in the litany of the English church during the period of the Crusades, which read: "From the Turk and the Comet, good Lord, deliver us."

Auction and Contract Bridge

Auction bridge originated in India. The first record of it is found in a letter, published in the London Times. January 16, 1903, outlining the game and referring to it as "the new game of auction bridge for three players." The Bath club made it a fourhanded game and in 1907 the Portland club took it up. The first American code of laws of auction bridge was issued by the New York Whist club in 1910. Contract bridge dates back to 1913 or 1914. In 1915 the New York Whist club considered codifying its laws, but decided that the game was not settled enough for set rules.

Costly Tongue Wagging The undesirable immigrant who made disparaging remarks about the admirable government was not let off with the penalty of mere deportation, wrote Henry W. Lawrence in "The Not-Quite Puritans." It would be more nearly accurate to say that he was first punished on the spot, and then his remains were deported. Thus, in 1631, the General court at Boston ordered "that Philip Ratliffe shall be whipped, have his ears cut off, fined 40 pounds, and banished out of the limits of this jurisdiction, for uttering

OPEN LETTER

August 18, 1931 Honorable Wilbur M. Brucker, Governor, State of Michigan, Lansing, Michigan. Dear Sir:

We have noted with interest the speak-easies" and the destruction of Press announcements of your statewide campaign for the suppression of the traffic in "white mule" whiskey. Such an effort is most laudable but cannot be anything but a quixotic jousting with windmills, unless your effort are openly directed at the roots of this great evil: i. e., the National Prohibi-

The exposure of the last few days have clearly proven all anti-prohibition contentions that conditions, not only in urban but also in rural communities, are far worse under the unenforcible and anti-social National Prohibition Laws than ever before, even at the height of the "saloon era," and that a definite reversal of governmental attitude is imperative if crime is to be reduced and temperance increased.

We feel justified in asking you, as Chief Executive of the State of Michigan, by means of this open letter, for an expression of your opinion as to whether or not it will be possible to remedy these horrible conditions without revision of the National Prohibi-

Yours very truly, (Signed) Mary E. Alger, (Mrs. Frederick M. Alger) Michigan Chairman, Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform.

Bearded Presidents John Quincy Adams was the first President who wore any beard, a mere tuft on each side of the face. Beards of some kind or other, such as sidewhiskers, mustaches, etc., were worn by the following: Van Buren, Lincoln, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Benjamin Harrison, Roosevelt, Cleveland and Taft.—Exchange.

World's Machinery

The world absorbs annually about $5,500,000,000 worth of machinery. The production of this equipment employs over 2,000,000 workmen; the number employed in each of the leading countries, the United States, Great Britain and Germany, is nearly equal-about 500,000 in each country. — United States Commerce Reports.

Chocolate in Church

Spanish ladies of the New world, where the cocoa bean, parent of our modern cocoa, chocolate, milk chocolate, chocolate candy and chocolate bars, was discovered, were so delighted with this new drink that they had it carried after them when they went to church. The Aztec word for cocoa or chocolate means "food of the gods" so that it was not inappropriate to drink chocolate during devotions.

Human, True To Life Story on Fisher Screen

"The Bargain," with Lewis Stone, Doris Kenyon, Charles Butterworth, Evalyn Knapp, John Darrow and others. is the current screen hit at the Fisher theatre. It is a story that might be true of almost any family. The central character in the story is portrayed by Lewis Stone. He is a successful business man who feels that he has creative ability as an artist, and that in the struggle for a living he has been forced to give up his unusual talent. Doris Kenyon is the loyable wife, while John Darrow is the son. This son is engaged to a beautiful girl played by Evalyn Knapp.

"Muskegon"

Th name "Muskegon" is an Ojibwa Indian word meaning, according to most authorities, "marshy water" or "wet prairie"; one authority, however. gives its meaning as "Tamarack," from the abundance of these trees on the river banks. There is a popular myth that an Indian dropped his mus ket into the water from his cance and as it disappeared, exclaimed, "Musket gone."-Detroit News.

Lucky Whalers Found

Fortune in Ambergris Captain Ingbrigtsen, of the Aukra Whaling company, recently secured a whale worth a hundred times as much as any ordinary single whale. The average whale is worth about £400 for the oil obtained from its blubber. The one killed by Captain Ingbrigtsen was worth more than £40,000. It was not a very big whale, and it gave no more blubber than usual. But when it was being cut up members of the crew gave a sudden shout of astonishment and delight. Within the whale was found a shapeless lump of yellow matter weighing more than a hundredweight.

That by no means beautiful lump was ambergris, one of the most valuable substances in the world, for it is worth $20 an ounce, or more than five times as much as gold. Ambergris is in great demand by perfumers, for it has the property of making the odor of any scent to which it is added almost everlasting. Only two larger pieces have ever been found. It is found only in the sperm whale, and is supposed to be a growth caused by the sharp beaks of the cuttlefish on which the whale lives.-London Tit-

World Apt to Neglect Its Great Benefactors

Humphrey O'Sullivan was a world benefactor, but he posed as a mere business man. He invented the rubber heel as a necessary sequel to the development of hard streets and side walks. Few of the so-called minor inventions have given so much relief and prevented so much injury as the resilient heel. The great benefactors are not always acclaimed. The man who invents a new gun or deadly gas or blows up a town is more likely to be conspicuously honored than is the student, scientist or mechanic who tries to help humanity. The inventor of the machine gun was, judged by street standards, a greater man than the one who developed the Concord grape. Jesse James was more prominent than Burbank. The heroes of the workbench, farm, shop and library are not the ones who reap the grapes of public favor. Somehow humanity prefers a killer to a builder. O'Sullivan died almost neglected. The same week a fat, degenerate gangster died in the same city of New York and he had a $20,000 funeral and several miles of press notices.-Tulsa World.

Water Supply Long a Worry An occasional water shortage is nothing new in New York. Even as far back as 1786 it was a matter of concern, as indicated by a writer who

"A want of good water is a great inconvenience to the citizens, there being few wells in the city. Most of the people are supplied every day with fresh water, conveyed to their doors in casks, from a pump near the head of Queen (Pearl) street, which received it from a pond almost a mile from the city. Several proposals have been made by individuals to supply the citizens by pipes, but none have been accepted.-New York

Hunger Now Good Form Every school child used to be asked

these two questions: Do you live to eat? Or do you eat to live? When he replied that he ate to live, his teacher was gratified by his intelligent discrimination.

Now the fashion has changed-appetite is stylish, and hunger is in good form, according to the etiquette tipsters of the Woman's Home Companion. They assert that society is now unanimous in ruling that nowadays no one wishes to eat merely to live. It is recognized frankly "that eating has a part in mental happiness, efficiency and good health."

Odd Headache "Cure"

In the Sixteenth century to cure a headache, the patient took a mixture of pepper and mustard, rolled into a ball about the size of a bean, and rolled it on his tongue. He was to eat nothing, but was to keep rolling this awful mixture in his mouth until cured, says an article in a Boston paper.

The "evil humors" of the head were supposed to be drawn by the pellet in the mouth. Without a doubt, the patient thought he had the evil humors in his mouth after rolling the mixture around for a few minutes.

Monkeys Are Troublesome Mischievous wild monkeys which live in the mountains around the historic Japanese town of Nikko are worrying villages by raiding fields and poultry yards. The worst depredations are reported from the Fukushima prefecture where, according to villagers, the monkeys are chasing horses into the hills. A Japanese, Zainiwazuka, recently reported that while cutting hay his horse disappeared. He gave chase and saw the pack animal in a distant valley with a monkey leading him into the hills.

Mills on Wheels Visit Farms Instead of the farmer going to the

Once-Glorious Babylon Pathetic in Its Fall

Always the hostile nations of the Near East have largely prevented archeologists from digging into the remains of the ancient cities there; but since the World war overturned authority there, the excavations are beginning to look like the Kimberley diamond mines. Museums in all civilized countries are piling up the remnants of the early peoples. But we learn little about them. Pottery, though it be collected by tons, and necklaces, earrings and indestructible personal adornments tell us little of the inhabitants of Ur, of Assyria and Babylon. The lack of a literature makes everything lack. We can understand what the Greeks thought, what they said and their daily behavior; but the older races are dumb. As Bill Nye said, "Babylon is a good illustration of a town that does not keep up with the procession. Compare her today with Kansas City." were reading about this Babylon, just the other day. Every twenty-four hours the train to Bagdad snorts by Babylon that way. It whistles, but does not stop, and if the traveler is rapid of eye he may read on a rail-road sign: "Babylon-Train Halt Here to Pick Up Passengers." Could any of the shattering denunciations of this great and terrible city to be read in the Bible be more bitter?-St. Louis Globe Democrat. *

Scientists on Track of Sun's Effect on Plants The old astrologers imagined that the configuration of the planets controlled the destinies of individual men. The modern astronomer regards astrology as nonsense.

It is interesting, however, to note that each day brings to light more connections between the earth and the rest of the universe, not erratic and superstitious connections such as the old astrologers imagined, but physical connections which can be explained on the basis of science.

The sun is important to life. Without its heat and light life would not be possible. The process by which plants convert the carbon dioxide of the air and the water of the soil into starches and sugars is only possible with the energy of sunlight.

In addition, recent studies at the Mayo foundation tend to indicate that the various wavelengths of sunlight have varying effects upon plants, some even acting as brakes or checks upon certain processes.

Finally, there are the mysterious cosmic rays coming in from outer stellar space. These rays are so penetrating that they pass through and through all living organisms. Perhaps some day they will be found to play some fundamental role in life proc-

Too Much

An actress who has a standing invitation to visit any theater she chooses and ask for a box, took advantage, of this privilege a night or two ago, with disastrous results! Presenting herself at the box office, she gave her name and demanded a free pass. "Never heard of you," replied the booking clerk, tersely. "It' can't be done." Furious, she sought the management, who apologized profusely, and sent a commissionaire back with her to the box office. But an even worse humiliation awaited her here, for the good fellow blundered horribly. "Give this lady a free seat at once,"

he insisted, pompously. "She's a wellknown actor's mother!" - London Opinion.

Bad Break

The late Raymond Hitchcock was asked in Los Angeles one day if it was true that when he was present ed to Queen Alexandra he said: "Well, queen, I am sure glad to have you know me."

The comedian denied the story. "That would have been a faux pas or bad break," he said. "It would have been worse than Cornelius Huck's hospitable invitation to hir city guests at supper, 'Have some more, folks. Ye jest got to have some more,' he said. 'We're goin' to give it to the hawgs anyway.'"

Moons Named Months

The names of the Indian months or moons were usually derived from nature, says Dan Beard, famous woodsman in Boys' Life. Thus, the Blackfeet say winter is the first moon, after the first snowfall, the time when the year changes. What we call January thaw they call Chinook, the thawing wind; the moon when the buffalo calves are black. In speaking of spring they say, "when the geese come," June is time for high waters. July and August are home days. October is a real fall month, for it is the moon when the leaves fall.

Uncle Sam's Battleships

Under existing statute laws our battleships and armored cruisers are named for states of the Union; our cruisers for cities. Torpedo boat destroyers are named for distinguished naval officers, for heroic enlisted men, for secretaries of the navy, and in a few instances for United States senators and congressmen distinguished in the naval committees, and for distinguished inventors. Mine sweepers are named for the various birds. Submarines are designated by letters and numerals.

Fighters on Foot

The history of the word "infantry" traces the term back to the name given to the page of a knight.
