

DRIVE FOR COMMUNITY FUND TO OPEN HERE OCT. 19—MRS. ALGER

Dancing Classes Will Be Conducted by Miss Mary Hazel Benedict

Dancing classes, under direction of Mary Hazel Benedict, will begin during October at the Neighborhood Club. This marks the fifth year for Miss Benedict at the Club.

All forms of classical dancing are offered in the classes, including ballet technique, toe or soft shoe dancing, folk dances of Spain and the Orient as well as of many other countries; Denishawn method of music visualization, and improvising according to the individual interpretation of the pupil, and the new modern German type of expression; limbering and stretching for building up or reducing in rhythmic movement (this work particularly adapted to women); and tap dancing with special attention to precision.

Very young children receive careful instruction to further dramatic and rhythmic development. This school offers unusual opportunities in that it is a branch of the New York Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn School of dancing. Miss Benedict has performed as partner of Ted Shawn in Concert Dance programs throughout the east.

Board Members Visits Schools

The Grosse Pointe School Board made its scheduled tour of inspection of school buildings and properties last very satisfactory, according to Dr. S. Tuesday morning and found conditions M. Brownell, superintendent of schools, who conducted the Board members on the tour.

"The inspection tour," said Dr. Brownell, "resulted in the Board members observing at first hand conditions throughout the school system and all highly commended the favorable appearances of the buildings and grounds."

"Everyone of the Board members was impressed with the absolute cleanliness that prevailed and I myself was delightfully surprised in the improved conditions that were to be observed throughout the system."

The entire School Board consisting of Charles A. Parcells, J. Lee Barrett, John R. Watkins, Walter S. Conely and Charles Poupard made the tour of inspection, visiting the High School, the Gabriel Richard School, the Kerby and Defer schools.

Shoemaker on "Fire Prevention"

William P. Shoemaker Commissioner of Public Safety in Grosse Pointe Park in a statement this week on "Fire Prevention," said:

"It is difficult to rally luke warm support to a losing cause as the average citizen seems to regard the war against fire. It is hoped however that fire losses will be reduced by the continued efforts of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, Fire Chiefs Associations, etc., plus the earnest aid and Co-operation of the interested property owner. It is an undebatable fact that the rate of destruction by fire has been steadily increasing from year to year. The way to keep down fire losses is not an involved or expensive process. Statistics show that next to the moral hazard, carelessness is one of the primary causes of fire. The average citizen does not believe he is creating any fire hazard when he discards a lighted cigarette, cigar stub or when he casts aside a burning match, but the records of fire losses tell a different story.

It is not the smoking habit alone that evidences how much we pay for our carelessness indifference. "Electric flat irons left in contact with combustible material while the presser goes away for a minute, filling fuse holders with pennies, that cut pipes with a blow torch, placing matches in wooden boxes, are but a few of the many causes which are responsible for many Fire Department runs. While in many cases the damage resulting from the above causes may be small, in the aggregate the total is large, and there is no assurance that a fire due to any of these causes may or may not seriously endanger life. "A most effective field for fire prevention is in homes and stores where paper, boxes and loose wrapping materials are apt to be strewn about. If such material is not carefully baled or got rid of, it constitutes a very definite fire hazard. One of the most fruitful possibilities for fire prevention lies in the inspection of business places by members of the Fire Department."

"The Theatre, shop or store owner should welcome the firemen when he pays an inspection visit even more than when he is welcomed when he comes dashing to the fire. Fire prevention means constant vigilance on the part of each of us. Instead of a Fire Prevention Week, why not a Fire Prevention Day, and that day be every day in the year."

Titans Ready to Meet Western State Friday at U. of D. Stadium

A much-altered University of Detroit Titan varsity grid team will take the field for the first regularly scheduled game of the season with Western State Teachers College at the U. of D. Stadium on Friday evening, October 2.

At center in the revised lineup will be Harvey Wrathel, of Mooresburg, Ill., who came to Detroit as an end, playing one of the terminals for his yearling eleven. He was moved to tackle at the start of fall practice this year. An abundance of tackle material (Continued on Page Four)

Conditions in Ireland By P. J. Duggan

Patrick J. Duggan, of Three-Mile Drive, who recently returned from Ireland has the following to say about conditions there: Ireland like so many other countries is suffering from the world wide depression but to a much lesser degree. In view of the fact that she is not an industrial center, unemployment is not as keenly felt as in the United States. However being an agricultural country, Ireland is likely to suffer for a time at least due to overproduction in other countries, and the consequent dumping of foreign agricultural products in Ireland.

Oats and barley are the chief grain crops, wheat not now being grown to any great extent. The only new crop which is grown is sugar beet. How far the production of sugar by this means will be a success is as yet difficult to determine.

A great deal of improvement has taken place in recent years in the breeding of live stock and the production of eggs and butter for the foreign markets. A high standard is now insisted upon by law and all exports have to be graded.

A protective tariff has been imposed on boots and clothing with good results of increasing home production and relieving unemployment. On the whole one may say that much improvement has taken place under a native government though there is yet need for a great deal of careful planning and able administration in many spheres of national life.

been for the greater part of the season. This week the calendar has an outstanding date for the debutante, Miss Ellen Baxter Peabody, for her devoted grandmother, Mrs. Harriet N. Atterbury will honor her at a debutante tea the afternoon of October 3 at the Grosse Pointe Club. This charming event will be followed by a dinner at Mrs. Atterbury's home on Beverly road, Grosse Pointe Farms, to which 30 of the younger set have been invited. After the dinner the young people plan going to the Country Club for dancing.

Appeal For Generous Contributions to Fund as Drive Is Planned

Announcement was made this week by Mrs. Russell A. Alger of the opening of the annual Community Fund drive in Grosse Pointe on October 19 and coupled with the announcement was an earnest appeal by Mrs. Alger for extremely generous contributions this year due to the increased expenditures of the Neighborhood Club, the Grosse Pointe agency of the Community Fund.

"The Neighborhood Club agency," Mrs. Alger stated, "on account of the increased number using the Club had to increase the size of their budget. In the year 1919, the Club on Oak street served 20,027 and the budget was $12,738.20. In 1930, the Club served 119,639 and the budget was $24,553.

"In the present great depression, the benefit of community work is realized more and more by the greater numbers coming to the Club building and grounds.

"I earnestly ask Grosse Pointers to make their contributions generous in the extreme this year, so the Club may continue its full scope of work."

Indicative of the scope of activity and work of the Neighborhood Club during the 1930 year is the following report:

Two hundred forty-six families were supplied with food and fuel. One hundred sixty-three children and adults were given clothing, making a total of 5,867 garments.

One thousand, eight hundred twenty-four home calls were made and 1,109 persons came to the office for advice and assistance.

Will You Help?

Relief to the unemployment situation in Grosse Pointe is the purpose of the recent establishment of a "Thrifty Shop" in the Neighborhood Club and residents of the Pointe are urgently requested to assist in the project by donating any articles for which they have no further use. A telephone call to Niagara 0771 will bring someone from the Club to pick up any articles.

Hospital and medical care, dental work, orthopedic appliances were prepared for 38 persons. Forty-two families were given milk, with a total of 8,439 quarts.

There were 64 clubs and classes meeting weekly, with an enrollment of 1,140 covering activities for men, women and children in educational as well as recreational groups. Special training in a Pre-school class was given 48 children.

The Visiting Nurse Association established a station at the Neighborhood Club in 1930, the nurse making 1,134 calls in this community during the year.

During the summer months, the playground is under the direction of a trained worker. Two hundred eleven children were given an opportunity for organized play.

Ferry To the Rescue

Wilbur H. "Ping" Ferry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Ferry, 344 Neff road, is always one of the first to begin fighting a fire whenever such a novelty occurs at Dartmouth College where he is enrolled in the senior class.

Risking his life, "Ping," a member of the football team, raced into the blazing three-story wooden structure of Sigma Chi Fraternity House, groped his way up two flights of tottering stairs and recovered $250 belonging to Thomas Maskillison, Quincy (Mass.) varsity basketball player.

One student was injured and 12 others barely escaped death early Tuesday morning when fire destroyed the building. (Continued on Page Four)

At The Theatres

CASS THEATER

The next attraction at the Cass theater will be Clark and McCullough in "Here Goes the Bride," a satirical musical comedy which Peter Arno will present for a ten-day engagement beginning tonight.

Mr. Arno makes his debut, not only as a producer, but also as an author, for he has written the book of "Here Goes the Bride." Well known for his satirical drawings, Mr. Arno recently spent, several months in Reno and while there, wrote this musical comedy based on life in the divorce center.

Clark and McCullough need no introduction to Detroit theatergoers. Their last appearances here were in "The Ramblers" and "Strike Up The Band." In addition to the comedians, the cast includes Nana Bryant, George Murphy, Audrey Dale, Eric Blore, John Gallaudet, Dudley Clements, Pauline Caskins, Carolyn Hughes, Ann Roth, Victoria Cummings, Frances Langford and Jackie Mason. Miss Langford is Rudy Vallee's protegee. The music and lyrics are the work of

John W. Green and Edward Heyman, who wrote the song hit "Body and Soul." Additional musical numbers are by Richard Myers. Edward Clarke Liddle has directed. "Here Goes the Bride" and Russell Markert has staged the dances and ensembles. Adolph Deutsch and his orchestra are featured. There are 85 in the cast.

Civic theater. This will be the second play of the Civic theater's winter season, and it is scheduled for a week's run.

"The Truth Game" was written and acted in by Ivor Novello, the versatile London playwright, actor, composer and musician. It ran for almost a year in London and for several months in New York, last season at the Ethel Barrymore theater. The New York company included Mr. Novello, Billie Burke, Phoebe Foster and Viola Tree. The plot has been cleverly woven around a rich and attractive young widow who loses her fortune if she marries again, and an impetuous young chap who meets her at a party and falls violently in love with her.

Allyn Gilyin and Virginia Morgan the new feminine members of the Civic theater company will be introduced in "The Truth Case," Allyn playing the leading role of Rosine Brown and Virginia taking the sophisticated part of Vera Crombiss.

LAFAYETTE THEATER

"A Modern Virgin," which recently completed a long and successful run on Broadway, and in Chicago's loop, is a delicious blending of lively comedy and alluring romance, with overtones of gripping dramatic swoop. Its story centers around a daring, innocent and wealthy young miss who proves to be mischievous and unmanageable in the hands of a strict guardian—a maiden aunt. Kept in seclusion and intrigued by love and life, her deepest emotions just waiting to be awakened, the vivacious young girl endeavors to find adventure and excitement in her own manner—one which leads her to what seems to be certain calamity. Her puritanical fiancé arranges a clever plan with his friends that will make her satisfied with the shelter of his arms, but matters take an unexpected turn. The result is a merry and infectious comedy, bubbling over with wit and humor.

Michigan, "Road to Singapore." Bill Powell in story set in tropical heat; two men and one woman, one the husband, the other the man who loves her, and threatens to take her away from him.

United Artists, "Palmy Days." Eddie Cantor becomes involved in a fake astrologer's plans, falls into the bakery business, loses the payroll in a loaf of bread. * * * Eddie always comes out more or less whole.

Fisher, "Honor of the Family." Bebe Daniels in film adaptation of the famous Balzac novel.

Paramount, "Monkey Business." The Marx Brothers, in a series of predicaments with a sea captain, gunmen, customs inspectors, immigration officials, and gangsters.

State, "Murder at Midnight." One of these little affairs, where murder starts the excitement, and things happen.

RKO Downtown, "Bad Company." With Helen Twelvetrees, John Garfield and Ricardo Cortez.

Caught Plastered.—A Radio Picture. Directed by William Seiter.

The Cast: Tommy Tanner.....Bert Wheeler Egbert Higginbotham.....Robert Woolsey Mother Talley.....Lucy Beaumont Peggy Morton.....Dorothy Lee Watters.....Jason Robards From the moment of their arrival aboard the baggage car, Tommy Tanner and Egbert Higginbotham are destined to make as much a success of "Caught Plastered," as they do of the drug store which they take under their joint wing. They are a pretty bright pair of boys, these vaudevillians out of a job, full of bright ideas, bright hopes, and anything but bright prospects; at least Egbert is, he things up things to do, and Tommy backs him up. The story? oh, yes, the story—well these boys homeless, and very empty, having blarneyed their way onto a street car, find a dear old lady in tears at the prospect of going to the old lady's home, because her drug store is a failure. So the boys adopt her, or she them, and they set out to make a success of the store. Their methods are dynamic to say the least, Egbert's fertile brain comes into full play, and their methods are a knockout. Then a crooked Johnny named Watters plots the drug store site, and a dark plot it hatched to get the boys to sell lemon soda (potent stuff you know?) and they are caught feeling very gay indeed, much gayer in fact than anyone has a right to feel.

The story is only a frame for Wheeler, Woolsey and Lee, to hang their clowning onto. It's quite good clowning at that, and a lot pleasanter than some of their other attempts. Dorothy Lee is an endearing little person, though this one doesn't give her a chance to use her sprightly toes, and she adds a gentleness to the slap-sticking of the other two of the team.

SOUNDS AND SHADOWS If I had the job of re-christening Lily Damita, I would have chosen the Spanish equivalent of "little firefly," instead of Damita or "Little lady," chosen by ex-King Alfonso, when she appeared in a command performance before the Spanish court. For a more uncertain little bit of consummate energy seldom struck the American stage than Lily Damita, when she played in "Sons o' Guns," in New York. Born in Paris, the daughter of an actress, she was reared in convents in Portugal, Spain, and Greece, later studying the dance in Belgium. After the World War Lily danced in the ballet of the Opera de Paris and later, at the age of nineteen was chosen to succeed Mistinguette, as the star of the Casino de Paris Revue. True cosmopolite, exuberant child, excellent "copy" for reporters, always colorful in her way of doing things, her name associated with royalty the world across, front page publicity, yet never scandalous. Many people think she has been miscast in the films in which she has been featured or starred in America, which might account for the fact that she has never received the same adulation from picture fans that she received either on the stage or in Europe, where the name Damita means wild-fire, and I for one think that she has yet to make the film that will make picture audiences as enthusiastic over her, as they are over several colder blooded witches.

Mr. Theodore Dreiser's sorrow over the manner in which his "An American Tragedy," was treated, seems to have been absorbed in the landscape. Not only do we cease hearing the rumble of the great man's wrath; but become aware, with slightly raised brows, that two other of his stories are under consideration for film purposes. One, "Jenny Gerhart," at R. K. O., the other, "Fine Furniture," at First National.

"Devotion," completed, and expected in Detroit quite shortly: Ann Harding will continue almost at once in the film adaptation of the Harry Lang story "Prestige."

Few Wood-Carvers Left As far back as 4000 B. C. we know that people liked to cut designs in wood with a sharp instrument, and excavations in Egypt have shown that people of that ancient time were skillful at the art. From that date on, in almost every land, carving has been a widespread and popular art.

But today, in most parts of the world, wood-carving exists only in the hobby or pastime of whittling. The hand working of wood is too slow for this rapid machine age. Only in Switzerland, France and, to a lesser extent, England, does the art hold its place among other occupations, and even in these countries there is little demand except for the work of the most famous carvers.

Fellow Enthusiasts Pleasant portrait of the law in a moment of relaxation: Walking along a lane in a southern suburb of Manchester I noticed in front of me several small boys grouped about a policeman, who had got off his bicycle to speak to them. They carried pickled jars and tattered muslin nets, and were gazing at him with awe. "Poor kids," I thought, "surely the law is being overzealous in this case." As I passed the group I saw that the policeman was holding his hands in front of him two feet apart. "If had funny-colored scales," he was saying, "and it was that big."—Manchester Guardian.

Old Frankfurt Few cities with the trend of modern progress driving them so hard, can have preserved so completely the ancient streets and buildings of their old beginnings as has Frankfurt in Germany. Frankfurt has kept almost intact the fourteenth-century houses, guild houses, chapels and cloisters, such as they were built. Round the cathedral whole blocks of old buildings have been swept away, leaving that fine old structure unencumbered, but the perfect square of the "Romerberg" remains.

Bebe Daniels Stars in Drama at the Fisher Bebe Daniels charming star of numerous film successes, is starred in "Honor of the Family," which is being shown at the Fisher theater this week. The picture has been adapted from one of Balzac's great love stories. This famous French author has written several novels that have sold into the millions of copies. "Honor of the Family," which is said by many to be his outstanding success, is a modern 1931 love drama.

Eddie Cantor in 'Palmy Days' at United Artists Eddie Cantor in his latest triumph "Palmy Days" makes the United Artists theater, where it is the featured attraction, appear to be riding the crest of prosperity or like pay day at the gold mines. Everybody is excited and raving over the world famous comedian and the picture if, of, for and by Cantor.

Marx Brothers in 3d Week at Paramount The Four Marx Brothers are now in the third week of their record breaking engagement at the Paramount theater. Their new picture of "Monkey Business" has shattered all attendance records and has proven itself to be a bigger hit than their previous hits of "Animal Crackers" and "Cocanuts."

Mother-Daughter Council Holds Open Day A day devoted to the interests of the mothers and daughters of Detroit is being sponsored by the Mother-Daughter Council, Wednesday, October 7, from 10 a. m. to 4 P. M. the entire house of the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs, 4811 Second Boulevard, corner Hancock, will be thrown open for this meeting. All mothers are welcome. It is desirable that this day shall be of real service to the mothers and daughters of Detroit. One of the vital points to be stressed will be maternal care. At 10:30 the Visiting Nurse Association will give a demonstration of the care of mother and baby. There will be a demonstration of fire prevention by the Public Safety Committee. From 11 to 12, problems of the home and family will be discussed. Miss Marie Racey, Parental Advisor for the Board of Education, will be in charge.

The afternoon speakers will be Dr. Ward Seelye, of the Board of Health, and Miss Irma E. Voigt, dean of women of the University of Ohio. After Dean Voigt spoke at the N. E. A., which was held in Detroit last spring, so many requests came for a return engagement that the Mother-Daughter Council prevailed upon her to speak at this meeting. Her subject will be "Our Attitude Toward the Younger Girl."

Throughout the Club House will be displays of hand craft, pottery, hooked rugs, fruit and vegetable canning, art work, needlework, posters and table serving by the various groups affiliated with the Council. The groups represented will be: Cosmopolitan Club, Merrill-Palmer School, Tau Beta Community House, Board of Health, Dodge Community House Parental Advisory Department of the Board of Education, Catholic Study Club, League of Catholic Women, Girl Reserves of the Y. W. C. A., Health Department of the Y. W. C. A., Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Vocational Department of Board of Education, Vocational Department of Board of Education, Visiting Nurse Association, Girls' Friendly Society, Recreation Department, Public Safety Committee, Jewish Center, Parent Teachers' Association, Sophie Wright Settlement, Mother's Club of Jewish Centre, Detroit Council of Church Women.

Luncheon will be served at 1:30. Reservations should be made on or before October 6, by calling Columbia 5295. The Officers of the Mother-Daughter Council are President, Mrs. Herbert F. Prescott, first vice-president, Miss Harriet Beard, second vice-president, A. C. Halligan, recording secretary, Mrs. Jean B. Chamberlain, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Philip Kaplan, treasurer, Mrs. R. D. Blair. With the exception of the luncheon, everything is free.

Special Trains Will Bring 50,000 To W. O. W. Dedication Special trains of Woodmen of the World members and their families from all sections of the United States and Mexico will bring more than 50,000 people to the formal dedication of the William Alexander Fraser Chapel and Bird Sanctuary, which will be held November 22 at San Antonio, Texas, according to W. A. Fraser, president of the Woodmen of the World with headquarters at Omaha, Nebraska. Railroads have indicated that special rates will be offered from leading vicinities of the country. T. J. Taylor will be in charge of the delegation from Michigan.

The dedication program is to last three days. Leading speakers with national reputations have been issued invitations to make addresses during the program. The principal speaker on November 22 will be Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, who is Treasurer of the Woodmen of the World. Senator Sheppard is the author of the 18th Amendment and a speaker of national reputation. A mammoth barbecue with pork, beef, and mutton products from the farm of the Woodmen of the World Memorial Hospital will be served without cost to the Woodmen of the World Pilgrims attending the dedication.

"Leading Church Dignitaries from all faiths will take part in the program," said Mr. Fraser. "The Woodmen of the World Chapel is a universal church in which every denomination will be represented. Regardless of religion, everyone can hold services in the Chapel." President Fraser has announced the plan to a half million members of the Association by which they may earn their way to the dedication through the performance of service to the Woodmen of the World. The Association expects in this way to pay the expenses of several thousand members.

The Bird Sanctuary was built following a study of the Bok Tower and Bird Sanctuary in Florida, and other structures in various parts of the World. The Chapel will have a patio with a beautiful fountain especially designed, according to Mr. Fraser. The exterior of the Chapel will be of Indiana limestone, and of a unique architectural design. Dark oak with large ceiling beams will be used in the interior. The main stained glass window of the Church will be a production of Tiffany of New York. Another window of the Chapel contains an art memorial dedicated to the States in which the Woodmen of the World does business. Special landscaping has helped to make the Chapel one of the most beautiful structures in all of Texas. Phelps and Dewees of San Antonio are the architects. All

"Road to Singapore" Heads Michigan Bill

"The Road to Singapore" brings William Powell back in a strong dramatic role of bold men and fearless women caught in the fiery love that a tropical retreat induces. Doris Keayon, Marian Marsh and Louis Calhern appear in the principal roles. Calhern under the spell of the tropics asks Doris to become his wife, although he has no deep everlasting love for her. He asks her because he is a man and she a woman. Powell, who is not the marrying kind finally becomes infatuated with Doris after she has married Calhern and tells her husband that he is taking her away with him. A surprising dramatic climax brings the picture to a satisfactory conclusion.

New Eastown Theater at Harper-Van Dyke

The new Publix Eastown theater, located at the corner of Harper and Van Dyke avenues in Detroit, had its gala opening on Thursday, October 1st. The Eastown, which is the latest link in the Publix chain of theaters in Detroit, will be operated under the banner of the Publix Greater-Talkie Theaters. This group of outlying theaters now includes the Riviera, Alhambra, Tuxedo, Annex, Centre, Ramona, Redford, Birmingham Royal Oak and the new Eastown.

'Murder at Midnight' Now at State Theater

Mystery is piled upon mystery and thrill follows thrill in "Murder at Midnight," a sensational new picture which is now having its first Detroit showing at the State theater.

The story is one that grips a person from the very beginning. The first murder occurs right at the start of the picture and from then on the plot becomes more and more involved. No one knows how the crimes are committed or who is responsible for them. As in most mystery plays, the most unsuspecting person in the whole picture finally is proven to be the guilty man.

Device for Heating Drinks
A loggerhead used in making old-fashioned drinks was an iron tool having a long handle ending in a ball or bulb. It was heated and thrust into the prepared drink to heat it. Lowell said: "The loggerhead, whose hissing dip, timed by wise instinct, created the bowl of drink."

Can Escape From Noise
Not long ago an intellectual Frenchman gave utterance to a cry of alarm in a journal, signaling that soon it would be impossible to find a corner in all French territory distant enough from the noise and disturbance of a railroad, highway, factory, or amusement resort; any refuge where one may still enjoy the quietude and tranquillity of nature.

He demanded the creation of a zone of silence where there may never be any of these discordant and enervating intrusions. In our own country, with its greater density of population, the problem is still more acute. There is only in the forest of Saint Hubert a little space where there is no railroad or tramway track; where the highways are sufficiently far away that the pollution of motor cars does not penetrate. The only sounds that break the silence in this bit of Arcadia are the harmonies of nature: The songs of the birds, the chirping of the crickets, the rustling of the leaves and the murmur of the brooks.

One must walk to get there, of course, and carry one's own provisions, for there is no tavern nor even a cottage, where one may obtain refreshment in this quarter of St. Hubert's wood. Behold a bourne, in all its picturesqueness, which will be the goal of many wearied with the raucous clamor of the crowded haunts of men—but only of those who have not forgotten how to walk. Forward, march to the zone of silence.—Le Soir, Brussels.

And She Could Not See Why She Was Disliked
The Long Island woman who is so indignant because her neighbors don't like her was telling one of them of the brilliant device whereby she outwitted her nursemaid.

"The cheatingest creature," said the Long Island woman, "that you ever saw. My dear, I can't trust her one second. But I managed to get even a little bit. There's only one train to New York between noon and six o'clock, and I've found that if I turn the clock back a half hour on her day off the dumb thing doesn't notice and gets to the station late. And then, having nothing to do, she comes back and takes care of the baby until the next one."

"How clever," said the neighbor, and gave the Long Island woman a look. "It was the most amazing look," said the Long Island woman to her husband that night. "Absolutely, Albert, I'd have taken oath she hated me. I can't imagine what for."—New York Sun.

Age of Alloys
The use of alloys has become so general that it is rare to encounter pure metal in any of the arts or industries. New alloys have made it possible to build engines which have a weight of only two pounds per horse power and have brought the locomotive and automobile to their present state of efficiency. The useful life of such implements as shovels, picks, plows and knives of various kinds, has been greatly prolonged. One of the most valuable discoveries of recent times is that a small amount of copper added to iron and steel, greatly reduced the tendency to corrosion and this has been the means of adding greatly to the serviceability of these metals. Stainless steel is the result of this discovery.

Word of Obscure Origin
The derivation of the word "news" is obscure. A popular theory is that the word is made up of the first letters of the names of the four principal points of the compass—north, east, west and south. Before the era of newspaper events of general interest were posted in public places under the heading N. E. W. S. For example, if a story was from a northern point it was put under the N column, and if from the west, under the W column. Gradually the four letters were used as one word.

Then, too, the word may be the plural of the word "new." During the Middle Ages it was written as newes, news, and newys.

History of Machine Guns
At the Boston navy yard there is a curious multiple-firing gun which was captured in Korea in 1870 and which bears a Chinese inscription giving 1807 as the year of its manufacture. There were repeating guns of early manufacture in Europe also. Samuel Pepys' diary speaks in 1662 of an English gun which would fire seven shots in quick succession. There were numerous inventions along these lines in France, England, America and elsewhere during the next 200 years.

The first practical employment of machine guns in warfare, though, was in the Civil war, and the gun then used was that invented by Dr. R. J. Gatling of Indianapolis in 1851.

Sturgeon Harmless Fish
Though powerful in appearance, the sturgeon, the biggest fish in the Great Lakes system, is incapable of harm. Lacking teeth, its only defensive armament consists of its bony tail, with which a good-sized specimen can easily knock a man from his feet. Sturgeons sometimes grow to a weight of 150 pounds. Feeding is a laborious process, for they must swim slowly along the bottom, sucking up worms, molluscs and minute marine life. A small reddish worm, living in mud, is the favorite article of diet.

Insulin is used now to increase the weight of thin persons because of the enormous appetite it produces.—Col.

"Drop Too Much" Fatal

to Gentle Bumblebee
The gentle, inoffensive bumblebee sometimes, it is to be feared, takes a drop too much! The nectar of flowers which is turned into honey by bees is heady stuff, as bumblebees find when, in the closing days of their lives, they have little to do but feast, and then are tempted too deeply.

One is often seen in later summer days affectionately clasping a flower to his bosom, as if he dare not trust either his legs or his wings. If gently stroked, he waves a leg in a comically yet sadly maudlin way. It is not uncommon to see one rolling top-heavy in flight, and falling about on the ground like any human toper.

But even when drunk, the bumblebee never shows anything but the mildest manners. He is so gentle by nature that he will make way on a flower for a fly wishing to take his place, even though he falls to the ground and lies in an undignified position on his back.

Death comes to him mercifully as he takes his last sips of the last flowers of summer. Too drowsy to fly home, he clings to the flower though night is falling, and is gently slain by frost in his sleep.—Exchange.

Epitaph That Appears to Require Unraveling

In Chilvers Cotton churchyard is a highly complicated epitaph, which goes beyond anything ever carved on the gravestones of most countries. It reads as follows:

"Sacred to the memory of ANN wife of WILLIAM HILL who died Feb. 1, 1857 aged 37 years also ANN wife of the above who died June 2, 1857 aged 67 years also ANN mother of the above who died March 7, 1857 aged 77 years also HARRIET daughter of the above who died Dec. 14, 1846 aged 18 years "Take ye heed, Watch and pray, for ye know not when the time is."—Mark xiii, 33."—Collier's Weekly.

Wales Land of Castles
Wales, long called the "British Tyrol" is also a great land of castles, and Harlech on the summit of its lofty rock, is one of its most famous. It is not far from Narmouth and about a mile from the little seashore town of Harlech. The well known battle song, "March of the Men of Harlech" occupies a high place in Welsh minstrelsy, and both song and castle have made it a rendezvous for tourists today, many of whom come for the golf links which are among the best in Wales. The castle was erected by Maelgwyn, prince of North Wales about 550 A. D., but on the site was a yet older castle. It was once occupied by Owen Glendower, ancestor of the Tudor kings, and Margaret of Anjou once found an asylum there. The song dates from the Wars of the Roses.

Honey in the Radiator
Honey is a year-round friend of the motorist, according to C. A. Reese, bee specialist of the Ohio department of agriculture. Reese said that in the winter honey provided a good anti-freeze solution for the radiator, and that in the summer it helped to keep the radiator cool, due to its high boiling point. He pointed out, however, that while there were advantages to having honey in radiator water, there were likewise disadvantages. Honey, he said, will pass through openings too small for water, thus endangering cylinders.

Ambitious
George decided, after he got into high school, to take some lessons on the piano, so he could add to the gaiety of the youthful gatherings. Of course his first studies were those for young beginners, so when his aunt asked him how he was getting along he replied rather dryly: "Well, I'm working on a piece called 'Two Little Grasshoppers,' now, but I'm going to work real hard, and get over to the back of the book to 'The Elephants' Birthday Party!'"

Turtle Racing
The only species of racing turtles are the box and gopher turtles. Galapagos turtles (a giant race of land turtles now nearly extinct), when captive in zoological gardens, can be made to move in any desired direction by holding a pole to which a banana or a carrot is attached in front of their noses. In gopher turtle races the turtles were released from beneath tubs in the center of a circle and travel to the margin, and the one which first reaches the edge is the winner.

Light in Sea Water
That latitude has a far-reaching effect on the distance light will penetrate sea water has been proved by scientists in recent investigations, still uncompleted. It was found that thirty-three degrees north latitude, light of a certain intensity penetrated to 800 meters, while at 50 degrees it went to 500 meters' depth, and at 67 degrees the same intensity was recorded at a depth of only about 200 meters.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Honey Production

Cyclonic Belts

The most advanced or progressive parts of the world are the regions of cyclonic storms. Two chief features of cyclonic regions are rainfall in moderate abundance at all seasons and weather subject to marked changes every few days. Most of the United States, together with southern Canada and most of Europe, lies in the great northern cyclonic belt.

Hospitable Indians

Handbook of American Indians says: "Hospitality, distinguished from charity, was a cardinal principle of every Indian tribe. The narratives of many pioneer explorers and settlers, from De Soto and Coronado, Amidas and Barlow, John Smith and the Pilgrims down to the most recent period, are full of instances of wholesale hospitality toward the white strangers, sometimes at considerable cost to the hosts."

States Laid Waste by

Grasshoppers in 1874

In 1870, it was noticed in the Middle West that grasshoppers were becoming more numerous. Year by year they kept on increasing, until in 1874 their onslaught amounted to a national catastrophe. In that year an area including the states of Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Wyoming, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, New Mexico, Indian territory and Texas were overrun by the northern visitors. The loss in crops was estimated at $50,000,000. It is reported that they came in swarms that darkened the sun, that their forms carpeted the fields, that they swarmed over houses and ate shingles and clapboards, and that in many cases, despairing families left their homes and fled as from the guns of an invading army.

Some of the ranchers tried to herd them as they would cattle, strangely enough, with some success where the safety of a pet orchard or field was the object. Men, women and children, armed with leafy branches, would form a line to divert the oncoming swarm. "To drive grasshoppers successfully," stated an agricultural bulletin, "one must make use of every advantage possible. Drive down hill, or on a level, with a gentle wind and only during the heat of the day. With conditions favorable they are easily driven if not hurried too much."

Feet to the East Once

General Burial Custom

In the early Christian cemeteries of Great Britain and northern Europe, all grave plots were laid out east and west and burial was with the feet to the east. The custom arose, according to Stimpson's account, from a legend that Christ was placed in the sepulcher with his head to the west, Matthew 24:27—"For the lightning cometh unto the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be"—is quoted as authority for the belief that bodies of Christians should be buried with the feet to the east, so that on the morning of the resurrection they will be facing the east and can hurry to meet the Lord. In Wales the east wind is known, for this reason, as "the wind of the dead man's feet." Investigation of graves before the Christian era, however, has shown that among pagan peoples the same custom was observed. In America, some Indian tribes bury their dead with the feet to the east so that when they rise they will face the rising sun.

Chinese Praise of Tea

Authentically it may be said that the first record of tea in China is to be found in the historical narratives of Lo Yu, wrote Edward R. Emerson in "Beverages, Past and Present." Lo Yu was chronicler of the Tang dynasty and his writings are of such a character that there can be no doubt as to their truthfulness. Lo Yu records that tea was in universal use in the Sixth century and that it had grown so popular in 798 A. D. that Emperor Tih-Tsung put a tax on its consumption. Referring to the benefit to be derived from the use of tea, Lo Yu says: "It tempers the spirit and harmonizes the mind, dispels lassitude and relieves fatigue, awakens thought and prevents drowsiness, lightens or refreshes the body and clears the perceptible faculties."

Historic Old Fort

Fort McHenry, Md., a former United States military post, was located on Wheatstone point, Patapsco river, about three miles from Baltimore, Md. It was first occupied by the military in 1775, and was made a permanent fortification in 1794. During the War of 1812 when the British attacked Baltimore the approach to the city by water was defended by Fort McHenry. Fifteen thousand shells were thrown into the fort with comparatively little injury, the loss consisting of only four men and 24 wounded. At dawn when Francis Scott Key saw the American flag still floating, he wrote "The Star-Spangled Banner."

New Rule Suited Twain

Mark Twain once went to borrow a book from a neighbor's library. The owner said he would be happy to accommodate him, but he had adopted a rule that any volume taken from his library must be used on the premises.

The next week the neighbor dropped over for the loan of Mark's lawn mower.

"Take it and welcome," chirruped Mark, "only under a recently adopted policy it is only to be used on the premises."—Golden Book Magazine.

Hiking

See the country at its best by traveling on foot, a veteran hiker, Walter S. Chansler, tells Hygela Magazine readers. Hill countries offer better travel than level countries because of the variety of scenes. Carry with you only the bare necessities, including a light weight bed, tent, dried foods, a few extra clothes, and cooking utensils, he advises.

Saved "Bossy's" Life

At Abingdon, Va., C. H. Hayter's 800-pound cow went for a stroll. She fell into a cistern. The cistern was 18 feet deep and contained 8 feet of water. Volunteers placed a chain halter about the cow, then water was pumped into the cistern and the victim "floated" to the surface. Aside from a few bruises, she was unhurt.

If we persist in thinking life is futile, we are not going to get much out of it except disappointments.—Toledo Blade.

Howard A. Starret Urges Voters To Use Franchise

As Howard A. Starret, the taxpayers' candidate for mayor, approaches the primary election October 6th, confidence grows in his campaign headquarters and he calls upon all citizens to be sure and vote.

"What is needed in city government today is some of the hustle and push of that distinctly American institution—the American salesman," said Howard A. Starret, in a recent talk. "City government cannot be compared to our great corporations. City government lacks the salesmen, the comparison of products, the firing line of competition. City government is just an assessment corporation."

If we could inject into government the spirit of that great class of our Detroit people, the salesmen and saleswomen we would find taxes reduced and the endeavor to make Detroit a place where any Detroit manufacturer could compete against the world. These sales people, if they thought in terms of city government could bring great good to civic affairs. In the "Committee of 51" their civic interest when once aroused, has been of tremendous help in various campaigns such as the opposition to the subway assessment, against the shortening of the redemption period of mortgages and in various campaigns that the "Committee of 51" has fought," said Mr. Starret.

ing one of Dartmouth's finest fraternity houses. Practically every occupant of the house lost all his personal belongings.

The fire occurring less than two weeks after the opening of school, created a sensation. Hundreds of lightly-clad students rushed from their sleeping quarters to watch or aid the fire fighters.

Responding to three alarms, the Dartmouth student fire department, of which "Ping" has been a member since he was a freshman, joined with village firemen in the hopeless battle against the flames. William Morton, varsity quarterback, is chief of the student fire fighters.

In February Wilbur and another student were the first to reach a fire which destroyed a home just across the Connecticut River across from "Fraternity Row." The fire broke out in the closing hours of the annual Dartmouth "St. Moritz" ice carnival. Wilbur helped direct the placing of hose provided by the Hanover volunteer fire department.

Mr. Ferry, who is treasurer of the Packard Motor Car Co., and his wife have another son at Dartmouth, a freshman. The young man is Robert R. Ferry, more familiarly known as "Pong."

and the loss of George Howell, first string pivot, through injuries caused the change. Wrathel has never played center before and will need considerable training at snapping the ball back to the carriers.

The Titan team will show a new set of halfbacks in Chris Shearer and Johnny Tooker. Scheerer played quarterback last year and is considered the best punter on the squad. He made the longest Titan gain in the DePaul fray when he skirted right end for 32 yards. Tooker is a sophomore who wins the call over two seniors, Bill O'Neill and Louie Berg. He prepped at St. Augustine High at Kalamazoo.

Norbert Reisterer, soph end, has emerged first best from a triangular battle for the left end position with Walter Campeau and Hugh Cicotte, reserves last year. Rocky Parsaca has been moved back to the fullback berth he held last year.

Cheered by their convincing victory over Ferris Institute by a 25 to 0 score in their curtain raiser, the Western State Hilltoppers are eagerly awaiting their most important game of the season with the Titans. Coach Mike Gary has been pointing his men for the Detroit encounter and will have them in perfect condition for their big test. Eight regulars from last year, five reserve lettermen, five other reserves, and fourteen members of the 1930 undefeated yearling combination make up the Hilltopper squad.

Neighborhood Club Activities

A gym class for intermediate girls is being held on Tuesdays from 4:00 to 5:00, to play volley ball, basket ball and running games.

Two Toy Bands are being organized—one for girls from 10 to 12 years of age, to meet on Thursday from 4:00 to 5:00; the other, for girls from 6 to 10 to meet Wednesday from 4:00 to 5:00.

The Pre-School will open October 5, for children from three to five.

The Neighborhood Athletic Club of Grosse Pointe held its first business meeting after the summer months in order to elect new officers for the coming year.

Results of the election were: Irving Froehlich, president; Hazen Heitman, vice-president; Frank Senesi, secretary; Jack Yount, treasurer, and John Verbiest, athletic manager.

The social committee was selected and immediately began plans for a dance which will be given during the first week in November. Members chosen for social committee work were Joseph Brisson, chairman; Harold Otto and Sidney Radlow.

Publicity work was allotted to Walter Froehlich and Frank Senesi.
