Hearty Welcome Given Rev. Wayland Zwyer At Baptist Church

The Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church has begun a new chapter in its history under the leadership of the Rev. Wayland Zwyer who came to Detroit the first of this month. The opening services of his ministry have attracted large congregations and considerable favorable comment. He has introduced himself with forceful, practical sermons which showed an understanding of modern social and religious conditions.

Members of the church and congregation have given Mr. Zwyer a wholehearted welcome, feeling that they have in him an executive as well as a preacher who will be able to lead this well-organized and well-equipped church into an even greater prosperity than it has enjoyed. At his recognition service, Dr. Ralph Taylor Andem, executive secretary of the Michigan Baptist Convention, spoke for the Baptists of the state, and Dr. Ralph C. McAfee brought the welcome of the Detroit Council of Churches. In response, Mr. Zwyer spoke on the kind of a religion this day demands, pointing out that "a present danger is that we limit or modify our service for God and humanity in accordance with the prejudice and fashion of the times, that we excuse ourselves in terms of expediency. Men are too ready to deny personal guilt, too anxious to avoid personal effort, too willing to find justification in the fact that their habits and motives are in agreement with the majority. There is no salvation either for the individual or for the world in such attitudes."

Mr. Zwyer came to Detroit from the largest Baptist church in Trenton, New Jersey, bringing a background of experience and training that fits him for his present task. His boyhood home was that of a Baptist parsonage in Pennsylvania. Graduating from High School at fifteen, he went to a state normal school and then taught in the public schools for two years. Before he was twenty-two he had graduated from Denison University and had received a commission as first lieutenant and chaplain in the army. Following thirteen months of service during the war as the youngest man who had until that time even held a chaplain's commission in the United States army, he returned to school, graduating in 1922 from Crozer Theological Seminary and receiving that same year the degree of Master of Arts from the University of Pennsylvania for graduate work. His student pastorate was in Ridley Park, a suburb of Philadelphia. He was then pastor in Clarion, Pennsylvania, from where he went to Trenton. The pleasant personality of Mrs. Zwyer has even in this brief time endeared her to the hearts of the members of the Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church. The new pastor and his wife and their daughter Barbara have made their new home at 145 Chalmers avenue.

Plans for the service this coming Sunday which Mr. Zwyer strictly limits to sixty minutes, include a Harvest Home Festival at 7:30 p. m., an annual event sponsored by the young people. Mr. Zwyer's subject will be, "The Things We Ask For." At the 11:00 a. m. service he will preach on the subject: "When You Do Not Feel Like a Christian."

Two-Weeks Mission At St. Paul's

A two weeks' mission will be conducted in St. Paul's Catholic church, Lake Shore road, beginning Sunday, October 25th. The Paulist Fathers, McNab and Robert, will be in charge. The church will be reserved for ladies during the first week's services, and for men during the second week. While the mission is primarily intended for Catholics, a cordial invitation is extended to non-Catholics, who may wish to attend, especially to the doctrinal lectures to be given each evening at 8:00 p. m.

Mrs. J. A. Belanger Now Conducting Classes in French and Reading

Mrs. J. A. Belanger, formerly a resident of Grosse Pointe for many years, this week announced that she is conducting a class in the study of the French language and also a class in lip reading for the hard of hearing.

The classes are being held in Mrs. Belanger's present home at 2925 Cadillac avenue, Detroit.

"Why not make French your hobby," asked Mrs. Belanger this week? "Languages are a great asset in society, in business and travels," she stated.

For persons hard of hearing, Mrs. Belanger urges them to keep their contact with their family, their friends and the world and to escape the loneliness and dependency of the deaf by taking lessons in lip reading.

Southeastern Teachers Training School

The Southeastern Teachers' Training Institute, which held its first session of a ten week period at the Jefferson Avenue Methodist Church on Thursday evening, October 15, met with great approval of those present. About 50 teachers enrolled on the first night and listened with enthusiasm to the messages brought to them from the instructors of the various departments. It is expected the number will reach the 100 mark at the next session. Thursday evening, October 22. Classes will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock, and will last through until 9:30 o'clock, with an assembly period of twenty minutes. As this is a community improvement classes are open to all persons interested in this great undertaking.

Pointe Grade Teams Lose Gridiron Test To Lakeshore 'Subs'

The Lakeshore High School reserve team ran through the Grosse Pointe High School's ninth, tenth and eleventh grade teams to a score of Lakeshore 32, Grosse Pointe 0, Friday, October 16 at the Grosse Pointe High School gridiron, 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard.

The game started at 3:30 p. m., with the eleventh grade team fighting for Grosse Pointe. Lakeshore, however, ran through the Pointers pushing them to their ten-yard line for the end of the first quarter.

Coach Forrest Geary of Grosse Pointe, put the ninth grade "A" team in for the first half of the second quarter. Immediately Lakeshore scored their first touchdown and ran the other point. The ninth grade "B" team went in for the second half of the second quarter, but they were badly out-matched and at the end of the first half the score stood Lakeshore 13, Grosse Pointe, 0.

The third quarter was fought during a heavy rain the tenth grade trying to support the blue and gold, but Lakeshore ran through her line.

The fourth quarter was battled by the ninth grade "A" team, and the tenth and eleventh grade teams, each playing for three-minute intervals, but not succeeding to hold the raging Lakeshore. Seventy-four players played for Grosse Pointe. The final score was Lakeshore 13, Grosse Pointe 0.

There is to be another game for the Grosse Pointe grade teams Tuesday, October 27, with the De La Salle Reserves at Grosse Pointe.

Vernier Parent Teachers Hold Meeting

The second regular Mason-Vernier Parent Teachers Association meeting will be held at Mason School October 27.

TAXPAYERS' WARNING

James M. Rasmussen, Township Treasurer, issued a statement this week, cautioning Grosse Pointe taxpayers against paying delinquent or current taxes to any agent who might call on them for payment.

The statement of Mr. Rasmussen followed the receipt of a letter by him from Herman R. Lau, treasurer of Wayne County in which Mr. Lau pointed out that taxes are being collected under false pretenses throughout the county by "very polished crooks."

Mr. Lau's letter follows: "Recently, it has come to the attention of the office of the County treasurer, that taxes are being collected under false pretenses throughout the county by some very polished crooks."

"May we suggest that you give the public warning not to pay to any source other than your office or the office of the County treasurer."

U. of D. Gridders To Battle Mountaineers from West Virginia

With their first major test of the season against the Golden Avalanche of Marquette University now converted into a Titan win, Coach Charles E. Dorais' University of Detroit gridmen are busy preparing for the western invasion of the West Virginia Mountaineers this Friday evening. The game will be the last nocturnal contest on the Titan's 1931 card.

The Mountaineers will be led this year at Detroit by their new coach, Earl "Greasy" Neale, who first came into sports prominence as an outfielder for the Cincinnati "Reds" National League baseball team. He is a product of West Virginia Wesleyan and has held coaching positions at Muskingum College, West Virginia Wesleyan, Marietta College, Washington and Jefferson College and the University of Virginia. In 1921 his W. and J. team was selected as eastern champions, defending the honors of this section in the annual Tournament of Roses encounter.

Neale has a veteran squad for this third meeting between Detroit and West Virginia that numbers among its players nearly three full teams of hold-overs from last year's varsity roster. Only three regulars and three substitutes have been lost through graduation. The trio of vets who have finished their grid careers at the Mountaineer school are Captain Walter "Red" Gordon, who won several All-Eastern mentions at guard last year; Eddie Bartrug, who is a brilliant ball-carrier and punter; and Eugene Joseph, end.

The Detroit team has outgained each of its opponents thus far this year and will concentrate on offensive play during the week's drill. Dorais was more than satisfied at the showing of his players against Coach Murray's Marquette squad and will probably retain the same lineup for the Mountaineers. This eleven contains the following Titans: Captain Johnny Hackett and Norbert Reisterer, ends; Johnny Motras and Joe Beer, tackles; Joe Weise and George Hess, guards; Cliff Marsh, quarterback; Rock Parsaca and Johnny Tooker fullbacks, and Pete Rajkovich, fullback.

Football Game Sunday At Neighborhood Club

The Hamtramck Bushway Post, will play the strong Maroons of Royal Oak at the Neighborhood Club Field, Sunday, October 25, at 3:00 p. m. Admission 50 cents. Children 15 cents.

The boys put up a whale of a game against the Lasky Furniture Co., (State Champions), and deserve the patronage of every football fan in Grosse Pointe.

Last Sunday one of the boys lost a football uniform, will the person who found same, return to the Neighborhood Club.

School Board Meets Specially to Adjust Cadieux Zone Problem

At a special meeting of the Grosse Pointe School Board held last Monday evening in the Cadieux School building, the recommendation of Dr. S. M. Brownell, superintendent of schools, was adopted in regards to the policy of the Board in transferring children residing in the Cadieux school district to the Defer and Trombly schools.

The Board considered the problem at the request of a group of parents in the Cadieux school district who protested against the policy of the school district in having their children transferred from school to school from one school term to another.

The recommendation of Dr. Brownell which the Board adopted provided for the permanent location of children in either the Defer School or the Trombly school so far as it was for the best interests of the parents, the children and the school district to keep them in their respective school.

The group of parents from the Cadieux district have thus been assured that their children will not in the future be required to attend one school one year and another school the following year.

Fox in London Cemetery

After prolonged sleuthing the mystery of dead birds and half-eaten rabbits, which had been found in the City of London cemetery, was cleared. A gravedigger found a large, well-fed brown fox sheltering among the tombstones. The animal, which escaped, is believed to have a lair in the cemetery.

Football Game Sunday At Neighborhood Club

The Women's Guild of St. Columba Church is giving its first public card party of the season in the St. Columba Parish House, East Jefferson and Manistique avenues on Wednesday, October 28th, at one o'clock. This is something of a departure from the usual afternoon gatherings in that it opens with the serving of an elaborate dessert and beverage. Prizes are to be provided for each table. A sale of baked good will also be carried on during the afternoon. The women of this guild are also holding all-day sewing meetings every Wednesday, beginning at ten in the morning, in preparation for the St. Columba Christmas bazaar December 9th.

Dorais Publishes Book

Charles E. Dorais, athletic director at the University of Detroit, has published a book entitled "The Forward Pass and Its Defense." He dedicates his work to Knute Rockne, his old pal and receiver of many a winning pass, recalling the days when the Dorais-to-Rockne passing combination revolutionized the fall sport.

Pointe Players Stage Rehearsals for Club's Program on Nov. 6

The Grosse Pointe High School's Pointe Players Dramatic Club has been preparing for the last week a play, "The Queen's Husband," which is to be presented at 8:15 o'clock Friday and Saturday evenings, November 6 and 7. This play, while it has not the literary standing as last year's play, "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," has won considerable mention in New York and is expected to be acted even better than last year's play, because of the experience gained by the cast.

This is to be the first play to be directed by a student, Jeanne Harding, and its successors are expected to be directed in the same manner. The leading roles of the play are, King Eric VIII, acted by George Lloyd; Queen Martha, acted by Mary Sibley; Princess Ann acted by Ethel Beals and Frederick Granton acted by Thomas Groehn. This three-act comedy is to last two hours and has thirty students working on it with the help of only two of the faculty, Miss Lucille Cornell and Axel Gruenberg, and no other school organizations except the Dramatic Club.

Salvation Army Corps Here Host to Council Meet of 100 Officers

One hundred officers of the Eastern Michigan division of the Salvation Army are in council with Commissioner and Mrs. W. A. McIntyre, Central Territorial leaders, and Lt. Colonel and Mrs. Albert S. Norris, Divisional Commanders, at the Detroit No. 5 corps on Dundee at Grand River avenue.

The Councils last two days. The first day is given over to organization business, the discussion of pension plan, missionary effort, general maintenance and future activities of the Army. These discussions are interspersed with spiritual sessions. Today the officers will be guests of Lt. Colonel and Mrs. Norris at a luncheon.

The group takes in territory as far north as Cheboygan and west as Lansing. These meetings are part of the four Commissioner and Mrs. McIntyre make each year covering his territory which extends from Chicago west to Colorado and east to Ohio.

The Salvation Army has 33 branches in Eastern Michigan alone in addition to the Industrial and Rescue Homes, Hotels, Children's Home and other institutions.

Reception Plans Made By Mothers Club for Faculty and Parents

Invitations have been issued by the Mothers Club of the Grosse Pointe high school for a musical tea and reception to the faculty, parents and seniors of the school October 28th, at eight o'clock. Following a brief business meeting, words of greeting will be extended by Dr. S. M. Brownell, superintendent of Grosse Pointe schools and Mr. Charles A. Parcells, president of the school board. Mr. John R. Barnes, principal, will elucidate on the new triad certificate of graduation briefly.

Mrs. Miles L. Sutton and Mr. Otto H. Mann will present a musical skit in costume: Miss Lillian Rheinhold will give two readings and Mr. Thomas E. Richings will render two vocal numbers accompanied by his son, Donald. Tea will be served in the high school cafeteria.

AT THE THEATRES

CIVIC THEATER

"Philip Goes Forth" George Kelly's latest comedy, fresh from a Broadway run, will have its first presentation in Detroit, next week at the Detroit Civic theater, opening Monday night, Oct. 26 and closing Sunday night, November 1.

George Kelly is the author of the most amusing plays which the American stage has seen in the past ten years. "The Show-off," "Craig's Wife" and "The Torchbearers" are among a few of his successes. "Philip Goes Forth" was produced by Laurence Rivers, Inc., at the Biltmore theater in New York, last season.

He lives in a typical New York boarding house patronized by the struggling artists, actors and musicians who throng New York.

As a special attraction, the Detroit Civic theater is bringing Maurice Browne in "The Unknown Warrior," to Detroit, for two performances, Sunday afternoon, November 1, and Monday evening, November 2. This is the play which swept Europe two or three years ago, but has never been produced in this country. Maurice Browne is bringing his English company to the United States for a special eight weeks tour, and Detroit will be the only city to see this famous play at reduced prices. Tickets are on sale now. Maurice Browne is the producer of "Journeys' End."

CASS THEATER

Francine Larrimore, who last was seen in Detroit in Rachel Crothers' "Let Us Be Gay," will appear in Guthrie McClintic's production of a new comedy, "Brief Moment," by S. N.

Behrman, in the Cass theater in that city, on Monday night, October 26, prior to the New York premiere, under the auspices of the Dramatic League of Detroit. The engagement is for one week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. Of interest is the stage debut in this play of Alexander Woolcott, journalist and "the early book worm" of the radio.

Miss Larrimore, recognized as one of the leading actresses of the American theater, is the niece of the late Jacob P. Adler, the famous Yiddish actor of American and European stages. She has been acting since she was a child and became a star following her appearance in Cosmo Hamilton's "Scandal." Among the many plays in which she has been seen are "Nice People," "Chicago," and "Let Us Be Gay."

The scene of "Brief Moment" is New York of the present day, but it escapes the conventional newly rich set or the uppish younger generation which have become the bugabear of the stage in recent years. Behrman is the author of "The Second Man" and

"Meteor," two of the Theater Guild's more important productions in which Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne acted. McClintic opens his season in the Belsaco theater in New York with "Brief Moment." Among the many productions McClintic has been responsible for are "The Dover Road," "Saturday's Children," "The Trial of Mary Dugan," "Crime," "The Green Hat," "The Letter," "The Age of Innocence," "Dishonored Lady," "Jealousy" and "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," in which his wife, Katharine Cornell, has acted for eight months and will present in Detroit next spring.

In addition to Alexander Woolcott, the cast supporting Miss Larrimore in "Brief Moment" will include Louis Calhern, Paul Harvey, Boris Marshakov, Frances Rich and Helen Walpole. Jo Mielziner, who did the scenery for "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," has designed the setting for "Brief Moment."

RKO DOWNTOWN

When love begins, to show signs of inconstancy, is it worth fighting for?

A particularly interesting view of this engrossing question is said to be taken in "Rebound" the Donald Ogden Stewart stage success which has been transferred to the talking screen by RKO-Pathe.

As its name implies, the story deals with a girl who catches the man she loves on the rebound of his dismissal by another. The waxing and waning of their martial affections, the trials and triumphs of their life together, are treated in light comedy fashion.

Ina Claire, whose charm and talent contributed to the stage presentation, is again seen in the stellar role, while Robert Ames plays opposite her. Others in the cast include Myrna Loy, Hedda Hopper and Robert Williams. "Rebound" will follow the hit picture, "Spirit of Notre Dame."

ORCHESTRA HALL

Among the season's promised theatrical productions perhaps that which will center unusual interest is Yushin's Russian Revue, "The Blue Bird," a scheduled to reach Detroit Monday, November 9th, for four performances at Orchestra Hall, under the management of James N. Devoe.

Well known European critics state that if anything can ever shake the widespread impression that all art originating in the land of Tolstoy is gloomy, it is the performance of this organization from the land of the former Czar. Happy ingenueness is said to be the very life-breath of the entertainment, in which fantasy and drollery play the chief parts, and beauty is the only tyrant permitted to hold the stage.

"The Blue Bird," which, however, has no connection with Maeterlinck, is an expressionistic panorama of life as it has been lived in all climes and all ages. With the aid of all the arts of the theater—music, color, gesture, lighting—applied in a manner as effective as it is original, the dozen or more sketches comprising each program, all widely different in form and character, succeed in an uncertain manner in capturing much of the fleeting liveliness of life which is both the aim and privilege of art to portray to the public. "The Blue Bird" artists are all Russian, and their versatility is said to be remarkable.

Reviewing "DEVOTION"

Produced by RKO-Pathe Directed by Robert Milton

The Cast:

Shirley.....Ann Harding Trent.....Leslie Howard Harrington.....Robert Williams Mr. Mortimer.....O. P. Heggie Mrs. Mortimer.....Louise Closser Hale Sergeant Coggins.....Dudley Digges Mrs. Coggins.....Allison Skipworth A light and cheerful little affair "Devotion," sympathetically directed and delightfully played. The sort of thing that would have been quite impossible in other hands than those of Ann Harding and Leslie Howard; for the story is weak, illogical and for sheer fancifulness must be taken in the same spirit that one would take fairies and Peter Pan.

Shirley Mortimer meets Trent, a barrister engaged in trying to save a certain artist's neck from the noose; falls in love with him, and disguised in a frumpish manner applies at his flat, (the scene is set in London) for the position of governess to his little boy. As Mrs. Halifax, the girl fusses over Trent, and in due course the artist Harrington, is freed and calls on her. Time passes—Harrington persuades Shirley to pose for him, demanding that she remove the awful wig. Trent, invited to dine with Mr. Mortimer, is charmed with his beautiful daughter, a sketch and a little brain work enable him to put two and two together. The disguise discovered and love on both sides should make everything all right, but here to involve things a little Mrs. Trent appears on the scene. There are misunderstandings, Harrington's proposal, temporary sorrows and inevitable readjustments.

For a man on the point of hanging for the murder of his wife, Harrington appears too cheerful, it hardly appears logical that content with a brief expression of the mental stress of the last hour of his trial, a man could so lightly turn to new adventure. And the complication of using him as a rival for Trent seems rather silly somehow and very moviesque. The story does not bear taking apart, there are too many holes—it is the charm of the players, and the method in which they put over the whimsicalities of the fairy story that make it an enjoyable picture.

Sounds and Shadows

Sketches—Paul Lucas.

Paul Lucas, suave master of every situation, coolly assured, you remember his characteristic city man of "Shop-worn Angel," the artist of "Women Love Once,"—feeding the goldfish, one eyebrow delicately lifted, never violent, always effectual. Born and educated in Hungary, scholar, airman, actor of Comedy theater, Budapest. First screen appearance in "Samson and Delilah," in Berlin. Seen playing on the Budapest stage in "Antonia," Lucas was persuaded to come to the United States where "Loves of an Actress" introduced him to American audiences.

The charming play "The Goose Hangs High," to be made by Paramount, co-starring Peggy Shannon and Buddy Rogers.

"Mata Hari," in production with splendid cast, consisting of Greta Garbo, Ramon Novarro, L. Barrymore, and Lewis Stone.

Jeanette MacDonald to play with Maurice Chevalier in "One Hour With You," and also in "Only a Dream," the former to have Oscar Straus music.

"Frankenstein," finished and expected in Detroit before long, has Colin Clive in the role of Dr. Frankenstein, John Boles playing Victor, and Boris Karloff the monster Frankenstein creates.

Having finished the above mentioned picture, James Whale will next turn his directorial attention to "The Impatient Maiden," from "The Impatient Virgin," by Donald Henderson Clarke.

Are you Hard of Hearing? Is your child hearing affected? Do you know any one who is suffering from deafness?

Do you want to keep your contact with your family, your friends and the world. You will not know the loneliness and dependency of the Deaf if you take lessons in Lip Reading.

Mrs. J. A. Belanger formerly of Grosse Pointe is eminently prepared to give instruction in Lip Reading to children and adults. Appointments 9 to 11 a. m., every morning. Studio, 2925 Cadillac Blvd., Detroit, Mich. (adv)

Eastminster Presbyterian Church

The Eastminster Presbyterian church will observe Every Member Church Sunday next Sunday morning. Every member of the congregation is urged to be present, a rally day for the church. The pastor, Carl E. Kircher, will speak on "Building Walls." At 7:30 p. m. there will be a song service led by Mr. Yeoman of the Y. M. C. A. Rev. Kircher will begin a series of evening sermons on practical subjects, as follows: "Adventures in the Hereafter," being the subject of the series. The subject for the coming Sunday night is "Need We Fear Death?" Nov. 1st the subject will be, "Where is the Soul From Death to The Judgment?" Nov. 8th, "Can We Talk With The Dead?" Nov. 15th, "Is There a Personal Devil?" Nov. 22, "What is the Nature of Heaven?" Nov. 29, "Is There a Place of Eternal Punishment?"

The Girl Scouts are organizing a troop in the church. All girls are invited to join. The men are beginning a Mens' Club which welcomes all men to its fellowship. The mid-week services on Wednesday are beginning the study of First John.

About one hundred persons were present last Wednesday evening at our School of Missions. Classes begin at 7 o'clock and are preceded by a supper. The school will be conducted for five more Wednesday evenings and is open to all who wish to attend, from beginners to adults.

Belle Baker In Person on The Fisher Stage

Belle Baker, famous singing comedienne of more than a dozen legitimate productions of Broadway, is appearing in person at the Fisher theater in Detroit this week.

Miss Baker, who is known the world over for her famous songs, heads the giant stage show frolic in which an array of vaudeville artists are featured. Bob Nolan, the smiling master of ceremonies, and the Fisher synopators furnish the gay music.

On the screen this week Bebe Daniels is appearing in a richly romantic and dramatic picture, "Honor Among Lovers."

Myrna Loy, Joel McCrea and Pat O'Brien added to "The Lost Squadron" cast.

When Phillips Holmes completely recovers his health, he will make "Wild Beauty," sharing honors with Nancy Carroll.

RKO is making plans to film "Girl Crazy," the Gershwin operetta.

America's Trust in God

Perpetuated on Coins

The religious motto "In God We Trust" first appeared on the coins of the country in 1864. It was the result of the increased religious fervor brought on by the Civil war. The then secretary of the treasury, S. P. Chase, received many appeals from people all over the country urging that the Deity be recognized on the American coins in a like manner as those of foreign nations.

Secretary Chase wrote to the director of the mint at Philadelphia, November 30, 1861, stating that "no nation can be strong except in the strength of God, or safe except in his defense. The trust of our people in God should be declared on our national coins. You will cause a device to be prepared without unnecessary delay with a motto expressing in the fewest words possible this national recognition."

Several forms were suggested. Some of the coins prepared in 1862 bore the motto "God Our Trust" and some coined in 1863 were marked "God and Our Country." The familiar form of the motto was decided upon and the two-cent pieces which appeared in 1864 were the first to carry it. The motto is not used on all coins.

Normal Human Instinct for Beauty in Clothes

One reason why clothes, or at least the clothes of men, excite so little interest is that they have become drab, and this drabness is excused on the ground that clothes are meant to be useful and comfortable; and usefulness and comfort have ceased to be associated with beauty in modern life. Neither reason, of course, is true. Clothes are worn to enhance human dignity, and, at bottom, only such comfort is wanted as shall not interfere with the prevailing mode. The women who starved and sliced themselves in order to keep slim, who will cripple their limbs with hobbled skirts when these are the wear, and crucify their feet when pointed toes and high heels are the fashion, display a normal human instinct. Men have suffered much and gladly to wear patent leather shoes at garden parties in the height of summer, and have choked themselves rapturously with tall, stiff collars; and comfort means little to them so long as they remain convinced of the rightness and fitness of both.—Osbert Burdett in the London Saturday Review.

Anatomical Names

In the body, one might find a bunch of grapes, a cuckoo bill, a small pan and a millstone, according to Lloyd Edwin Smith, writing in Hygeia Magazine. Many parts of the body were at first named by the old Romans and the Greeks for the commonplace objects that they seemed to resemble.

The bunch of grapes (or its name means that in Latin) is the red lobe of the palate, the uvula. It hangs down from the soft palate as a bunch of grapes would hang between two leaves. The coccyx (cuckoo bill in Latin) was named because the curvature of these four bones at the end of the vertebral column were thought to look like the bill of a cuckoo.

The patella is the movable bone in the knee. Patella in Latin means a small pan.

Opium in Commerce

Opium is the dried milky juice of the unripe capsules of a poppy which for this product has been cultivated through many centuries. Every species of poppy is capable of yielding it to a greater or less extent. Opium is procured by making incisions in the poppy head or capsule, taking care not to penetrate its cavity. The juice then exudes in drops, and after being allowed to remain for a day upon the edges of the incision it is scraped off—a brownish, jellylike material. As the soft opium accumulates it is molded into roundish lumps or irregular flattened cakes of various sizes and put aside to dry. When of proper consistency it is generally wrapped in leaves and sent to market.

Ancient Roman "Racket"

Crassus, reputed to have been the richest man of his time, amassed a great fortune by his ingenious operation of a private fire department in old Rome. When a fire would break out, he or one of his agents would rush to the owner and offer to buy the burning structure at a very low figure. The owner usually would sell for almost nothing to get some salvage. Thereupon, Crassus would call up his fire brigade and, in many cases, put out the blaze. In this way he became owner of a great many buildings. It is hinted by early writers that when business was dull his agents may have had a hand in starting an occasional conflagration.

Woman Suffrage in 1797

Why has it never been imagined that the right of election should be extended to women? Why! but because by the law of nations and perhaps also by the law of nature, that sex is dependent on ours; and because, therefore, their voice would be governed by the relation in which they stand in society. Therefore it is, sir, that with the exception of companies in which right of voting merely affects property, it has never been in the contemplation of the most absurd theorists to extend the elective franchise to the other sex.—Charles James Fox in Speech on Parliamentary Reform, 1797.

The first basket ball practice of the season has been called for this Friday, October 23rd, at 7 p. m. All members interested please turn out.

It Is Smart To Talk French

Why not make French your hobby. Languages are a great asset in society—in business and travels, your knowledge of French is of no value to you in your contact in the world unless you can talk it.

Conversation is the important factor. Mrs. J. A. Belanger, formerly of Grosse Pointe is now giving instruction in French conversation in a most practical and efficient method at her studio, 2925 Cadillac Blvd. A call, Hlckory 3764-W, between 9 and 11 every morning will assure you of an interview at the hour most convenient to you. A very special tuition fee is now offered on private lessons. Adv.

Ronald Colman Heads Bill at United Artists

Ronald Colman is in his first adventure romance picture in two years, in "The Unholy Garden," now playing at the United Artists theater. In the picture Colman takes the part of an adventure loving rogue fleeing from the arms of the law.

The story, jammed full of thrills, action and adventure, takes place in a far flung outpost of civilization where criminals have gathered safe from the law. Colman finds security from the arms of the law but not from the arms of his women.

Paul Lukas Appearing on Michigan Screen Bill

Paul Lukas heads the cast of "Beloved Bachelor" which is now current at the Michigan theater with Dorothy Jordan and Charles Ruggles in the supporting cast.

Paul Lukas, young San Francisco sculptor, lives in a large studio apartment with two other artists, Charlie Ruggles, wine-bibbing bonvivant, and Harold Manjir. Paul is deeply in love with charming Vivienne Osborne, and their marriage is imminent. Vivienne is jealous of Leni Stengel, professional model for many of Paul's prize-winning sculptures. Leni is the widow of Paul's best friend. She supports herself and little daughter, Betty Van Allen, by modelling.

"Left Over Ladies" is State Theatre Attraction

"Left Over Ladies" now at the State theater made its debut with a splendid cast of stars from stage and screen. Marjorie Rambeau, Walter Byron, Alan Mowbray, Claudia Dell, Dorothy Rewier, Rita LaRoy and Roscoe Karns are among the more prominent in the cast.

Just as the name implies "Left Over Ladies" is a story of ultra modern marriage divorce, and careers. Claudia Dell separates from her husband whom she loves in order to pursue her career as an author. She shares an apartment with Marjorie Rambeau, a former opera star, who lives now with her memories and with the aid of a good deal of liquor.

Joan Crawford at the Publix Riviera

Joan Crawford in "This Modern Age" scores a triumph in the type of role which won her earlier fame and fortune. She is supported by a cast that boasts many star names and includes Neil Hamilton, Monroe Owsley, Marjorie Rambeau and Pauline Frederick.

Mary Astor, Ricardo Cortez slated for "Pick Up," the Louis Weitzenkorn story.

Memorial Recognized as Enduring Work of Art

To a member of the wonderful family of Adams it fell to leave the world one of the most beautiful memorials to a woman in existence anywhere, the masterpiece of Saint-Gaudens in Rock Creek cemetery in Washington. It was in 1872 that Henry Adams married Marian Hooper, the daughter of Robert William Hooper of Boston. For years they lived in Washington. John Hay has left the opinion that there never had been such a salon there as that over which she presided. Those were the years of the close intimacy of Adams, Hay and Clarence King. Henry Adams and his wife used to read together and ride together and that alternation constituted a large part of their lives. It was in 1885, when Richardson was building the well-known adjacent houses of Hay and Adams, that Mrs. Adams, who had been in ill health, "died suddenly under peculiarly tragic circumstances," as the event is described by Allen Johnson, the historian.

Adams, heavily stricken, went off to Japan with John LaFarge and in the East came into contact with the oriental habit of contemplation of the enigma of life and death. That idea Saint-Gaudens represented in bronze, and mankind is indebted to him and to Adams for an enduring masterpiece. Soames Forsythe said only what all must say, that it "is great art."—Exchange.

Famous French Castle Built by English King

The Chateau Gaillard, built by Richard Coeur de Lion, is one of the most picturesque ruins in France today. It is between Rouen and Paris and was built by the English king, who is said to have been his own architect. It was erected in one year, with walls 14 feet thick. Richard called it his "Saucy Castle," as it was built in defiance of Philip Augustus, king of France.

When the French king saw it he vowed, "I will take it, were it made of iron," to which Richard replied, "And I will hold it, were it made of butter."

Richard died in 1199 and Philip took the castle by siege, but the garrison surrendered only at the point of starvation. Henry V of England retook the castle after a siege of 16 months, when the ropes were worn out with which the besieged drew water from the well. The castle was considered the best specimen of military architecture in Europe.

"Saucy Castle" remained intact until 1604, when King Henry IV of France dismantled it, lest a stronger than he turn it into a stronghold.

City of Immortals

The city of the Medici, Dante, Boccaccio, Savonarola, Raphael and scores of others mighty in the Renaissance must never be passed by. No matter what your interest in life, Florence has something for you. When Bayard Taylor was there he said it was the cheapest and most charming city in Europe. He breakfasted for five cents, dined for twelve cents and saw the opera every night for ten cents in a good seat. It is yet a good city to live in, if you want to live well and at small cost. Here you can wander over the Ponte Vecchio, track some of the work of Michaelangelo, meet George Eliot's Romola, walk in the very homes of Duse, Galileo, Mrs. Browning, Amerigo Vespucci and, near the Arno, see where Shelley wrote his most famous ode.—Exchange.

Laws to Curb Indians

Laws against nudity on the public streets during daylight hours once adorned ordinance books of Phoenix, Ariz. It was disclosed in a survey intended to eliminate regulations of horse-and-buggy days. The laws applied to Indians who came to town virtually naked in the good old days. It also was necessary, old records show, to curb the Indians in other ways. Grass was grass to the Indian, so he thought nothing of feeding his ponies on the carefully tended lawn of a prominent citizen. So a law was passed against feeding Indian ponies on private lawns and another one was enacted saying that horses and vehicles should not be parked on sidewalks.

Use for Water Clock

Used by the Babylonians several centuries before Christ, the water clock has become essential in the manufacture of paint. It is declared the simplest means of testing ever invented. The old water clock was a cone with a tiny hole in the bottom, which, when inserted in a jar of water, was known to fill to a certain level within an hour. In its new field, the cone is inserted in varying grades of paints, the viscosities of which are measured by the length of time it takes each sample to fill the cone to a certain level.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Caterpillar's Ears

Caterpillars have shown the ability to hear. Certain sounds result in sudden movements of the body. But where are their ears? Doctor Allard's experiments showed that the caterpillar's sense of hearing is aided by hairs that absorb sound.

To prove this, experimenters coated the hairs with shellac or weighted them with water or flour or even singed them off. Then, when noises were made, the caterpillar did not respond. The fact that its hairs had been deadened made it deaf.

Unmixed Evil

Vanity costs money, labor, horses, men, women, health and peace, and is still nothing at last—a long way leading nowhere.—Emerson.

"Platinum Blonde" Opens at Paramount

Jean Harlow, the ravishing beauty of the screen, portrays the title role in "The Platinum Blonde," which is now being shown at the Paramount theater. Miss Harlow, who won such a big success in "Helen's Angels," and followed this with big hits, in "Smart Money" and other successes has been given a really important role in this new production. She is supported in the picture by Loretta Young and Edward Williams, a newcomer of the screen from the stage.

Washing Dishes Isn't All

Viewpoint is that place where one stands and looks at washing dishes an hour and a half every day as drudgery and pounding a typewriter eight hours a day as a career.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Early American Colleges

American colleges of the Eighteenth century were not much better than what would be nowadays called high schools, and as late as 100 years ago arithmetic was still a regular freshman course of study.

Bride Carried Horseshoe

When Miss Jean McGregor became the bride of Rev. R. Leonard Small in Lothian Road church, Edinburgh, Scotland, she carried in her bouquet a horseshoe tied with blue and white ribbon. The horseshoe had been presented to the bridegroom, a well-known football player, for luck prior to a gridiron contest.

Sunrise Vigil

Three thousand people who kept vigil all night at Stonehenge, England, recently were rewarded at dawn by seeing the sun exactly behind the friar's heel of the great sun temple and to touch with its first rays the center of the altar stone. This beautiful sight can be seen only one day in the year. Just as the sun's rays made the altar stone glow, a bird perched on it and trilled its song of dawn.

Weigh Moving Trains

Scales that record weights up to 400 tons and strong enough to withstand the shock of a locomotive passing over them, are now being employed by the railroads to weigh moving trains. The scales are constructed in 75-foot sections suitable for weighing, while in motion, the longest and heaviest cars now in use.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Non-Purring "Cats"

All members of the cat family do not purr. The cheetah and tiger purr and the puma, or cougar, makes a noise similar to a purr. The following members of the cat family do not purr: Leopard, lion, lioness, ocelot, serval and caracal.

Grain Growers' Friends

The small wasplike insects often seen swarming around grain are beneficial, as they are attacking and killing weevils and moths which ruin the crop.

Immense Bible

The largest Bible in the world is said to be the Bible printed by Louis Waynal and his daughter, Theresa, of Los Angeles. It weighs 1,004 pounds and is 8 feet high. The makers spent about two years printing it by hand.

"Life Span 100 Years"

The natural duration of human life is more than one hundred years, according to a famous French doctor, himself ninety-nine years old. He adds that a man who dies at the age of eighty-five dies young.

Door Knobs

Sometimes your doorknobs fail to turn the latch and open the door. Usually it is because the set screws in the handle are loose. It is a good idea to oil the latch and tighten the screws every so often.
