

HINT LADIES AUXILIARY UNIT OF TOWNSHIP LEGION POST FORMING

George Defer P. T. A. Meet January 19 to Hear Dr. Henderson

The Parent-Teacher Association of the George Defer School will hold its regular meeting in the auditorium of the school Tuesday January 19th, at 8 o'clock, at which time Dr. W. D. Henderson, director of the extension division of the University of Michigan will discuss "The Fundamentals of Character Training."

Dr. Henderson has been a member of the university faculty for over 25 years, teaching mainly in the field of the physical sciences. He has however given much time to the study of current educational, political and social problems and nearly every community in the state has heard him speak on these problems.

Another interesting part of the program will be furnished by Master Charles Vaseau, a piano pupil of Mr. Rudolph Luckner, who will render several piano selections.

After the meeting light refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria.

Fort Ponchartrain Chapter of D. A. R. Hear Pennsylvania

"Whither, America?" is the title of the address by Rev. C. L. McKee, President of the Institute of Practical Arts, of Old Concord, Pennsylvania, to be given at Hotel Statler, on Friday afternoon, January 15, before members and guests of Fort Ponchartrain Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution. The program will follow the usual one o'clock luncheon.

Mrs. B. L. Connelly, who heads the hostess committee will be assisted by Mrs. Homer H. Groce, Mrs. C. E. Ferguson and Mrs. W. L. Nutten.

Fort Ponchartrain Chapter has experienced an unusually active holiday season. A box of one hundred ninety gifts from chapter members was sent to Kate Duncan-Smith School at Grant, Alabama through the patriotic education chairman, Mrs. J. J. Powels. Two boxes, one of jams and jellies and the other of gifts, were sent to the American Legion hospitals at Battle Creek, through the Americanism chairman, Mrs. Dean Gray. After the January meeting Mrs. Gray expects to dispatch a box of books for the Merchants' Marine Library Branch at Sault Ste. Marie, as well as a number of games, toys and books to the Boys' Club of Detroit. A Christmas party with a tree and gifts was arranged for fifty children and their mothers at the International Institute. A New Year's Day reception and tea for new citizens given at the Highland Park Y. W. C. A. was attended by more than two hundred guests who were undeterred by the inclement weather. The hostesses were Mrs. O. D. Heavenrich, regent, Mrs. R. V. Allman and Mrs. A. W. Myers, vice-regents. Assisting in greeting the guests were Mrs. T. L. Danielson, Mrs. K. I. Guest, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Catlin, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hoffman, and Messrs. Heveanrich, Myers, Marshall, Nutten, and Lawrence Myers. The Misses Betty Shaw, Elizabeth Guest, Edith Carlin, Ruth Carlin and Barbara Myers acted as pages and assisted about the rooms. Judge Toms gave a five minute talk on the privileges of citizenship, stressing the intelligent use of the vote. Vocal and instrumental selections were furnished by Marjorie Daly, pianist. Joseph Lorin, violinist, accompanied by Samuel Lorin; Winifred Moore, pianist; Mrs. Sobesky, soprano and Ted Robbins, tenor.

Owl Not Long Lived

Carl W. Neumann, a German authority, says that the life expectancy of the owl is 68 years, but this is not unusually long compared with that of other birds, such as the falcon, vulture, golden eagle, swan, goose, elder duck, raven and parrot.

Silence and Success

Success may be attributed to three things—one is silence, the second is more silence and the third is still more silence.—Ivar Krenzer.

Secular History

Profane history means secular. Profane is the opposite of sacred or religious history.

Neighborhood Club Activities

A. O. C. GIRLS

The A. O. C. Girls are having a Wa-fle Party this Thursday evening, at 6:30 in the Club Dining Room.

BLUE BIRDS

The Blue Birds will meet this Thursday afternoon, January 14th, at 4:00 instead of Saturday morning. The project for this term is fitting out a doll house with match-box furniture.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The Camp Fire Girls are planning a hike on Saturday, January 16th, at 7:00 to Gauley's Point. A Bunco Party is also being planned for the near future.

LADIES' BRIDGE CLUB

The Ladies' Bridge Club started Monday, January 11th, at 2 o'clock. Cash prizes were won by Mrs. Winter, Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Magar.

V. V. V. GIRLS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

The annual election of officers of the V. V. V. Girls Athletic Club took place last Friday evening, at their monthly business meeting for January. The following girls were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

President, May Stock; vice-president, Eva Blatz; secretary, Carol Turner; treasurer, Leona Bundy.

Initiation for nine prospective members will be held on Friday, January 15th, and plans for a Pre-Lenten Dance to be given on Saturday, February 6th were discussed. Several committees for music, tickets, flowers, publicity and decorations were appointed. Leona Bundy, chairman of entertainment, has charge. Watch the Grosse Pointe Review for further announcements about the dance.

Mothers Club To Hold Annual Scholarship Card Party, Jan. 20

The Grosse Pointe Mothers' Club will hold their Annual Scholarship Card Party at the Grosse Pointe Furniture Shops on Wednesday afternoon, January 20th, at 2 p. m. Mrs. Frederick Schroeder has provided both individual and door prizes. Her assistants include Mrs. A. S. Schlingman, Mrs. Frank Scott Clark Jr., Mrs. L. W. Rowe, Mrs. W. E. Neumeyer, Mrs. J. L. Schaeffer, Mrs. R. G. Schram, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. S. Verne Taylor and Mrs. Lawrence Mattice.

The regular monthly meeting of the Grosse Pointe Mothers' Club of Grosse Pointe High School will be held on Monday evening, January 25th at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Lawrence Mattice, the program chairman, has arranged an interesting talk by Miss Helen Hogge, director of the Psychological Clinic of the Highland Park schools and the Grosse Pointe High School Glee Club directed by Mr. John Finch, will present a medley of vocal numbers.

Plans for Carnival At S'Eastern Near Completion—Bedell

Plans for the gigantic benefit carnival at Southeastern high school are moving along in great shape, according to Wm. M. Bedell, of 687 Washington road, general chairman in charge.

The big party, scheduled for Saturday, January 23, will continue from 4:00 to 11:00 p. m., and will offer as one of its feature attractions a basketball game with Grosse Pointe High school.

The game will start at 8:00 sharp; it will be preceded by a reserve game beginning at 6:45 p. m.

Voting among the student body for Carnival Queen has been very spirited during the past week, with Martha White, one of the editors on the school newspaper, well out in front.

A recent scoop by the committee planning the carnival is the securing of John Matthews and his ventriloquist dummy "Bozo." Mr. Matthews, world famous sleight-of-hand expert, is President of the International Association of Amateur Magicians.

Matthews, a practicing lawyer, will give two half-hour performances in the auditorium, as well as serving as prosecuting attorney attached to the Kangaroo Court. Pity the poor larceny defendant. Surely, Matthews will find the goods on him!

Featuring the sporting events will be an attempt by Southeastern's boy wonder, James Gilhula, to break his own world's record in swimming races. He

WEEKLY CHAT

By A. A. FIKKINGTON

Old Man Janus is a very disappointed individual and is raising a rumpus with most anybody and everybody. There is a storm brewing in the office if I don't miss my guess, and there will be much ado about something of great importance unless the unforeseen happens very soon.

Perhaps the anemometer or the thermometer is undergoing a depression all of its own and it might mean that Old Man Janus will lose his job unless some immediate pressure is brought to bear to bring about snow and ice within the next few days.

Even Old Saint Nicholas is in for a raking over the coals by the indignant youngsters that were given skates and sleds unless something is definitely done.

Perhaps a long distance call will force Santa to intercede or perhaps we will have to send back loads and loads of skates and sleds much to the discomfiture and discontentment of many youngsters.

Little Tommy has his sled close beside his crib and every morning when he goes to the window to peep out "What a disappointment!"

Even the grownups that planned for months and months to take that annual old-fashioned sleigh ride are doomed to disappointment and jingle bells will be as far out of the picture as horses are.

To have a friend is to be one.

St. Ambrose Society To Stage Pre-Lenten Card Party Thursday

The ladies of the Altar Society of St. Ambrose Parish wish to announce that their pre-Lenten card party will be held in the gym at Maryland and Hampton, on Thursday evening, January 21. Bunco, pedro, five hundred and bridge will be played with table prizes for each, also valuable door prizes. Price of admission will be fifty cents.

The ladies also wish to announce that on Thursday afternoon of each week they hold a popular priced card party at twenty-five cents in the school hall, Wayburn at Hampton, beginning promptly at 2:15 p. m. These games being progressive are awarded with first and second prizes for highest score also door prizes.

Pointe Swimmers Win From Mt. Clemens and Even Football Defeat

Grosse Pointe "evened up" the stain Mt. Clemens gave her this fall in football in a swimming meet Friday, at the Bathers pool. The final score was 52-12 favor of Grosse Pointe. Grosse Pointe won all first places in the swimming events and all but one second. Mt. Clemens however took first place in diving, Covet spoiling the perfect score the Pointers were piling up.

Grosse Pointe's next swimming meet is to be held in the Grosse Pointe High school swimming pool and is to be Friday, January 23 at 3:00 p. m. with Southeastern. This meet promises to be one of the most interesting of Grosse Pointe's meets this year, as James Gilhula, candidate for the Olympics, is swimming on the Southeastern team. He will swim the 100 and 220 yard free-style.

SOCIETY

By Dorothy Dee

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Schlotman departed from their Grosse Pointe Shores home last week to bask in the sunshine at their winter home in Belle-air, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harry will move the first of next month from Washington road to Fisher road, Grosse Pointe. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Clark, who have been residing in the Indian Village Manor, will occupy the Harry house on Washington road.

John J. Bradley Jr. of Cadieux road, Grosse Pointe Village, left last week-end for New York City to be gone a month.

Mrs. Homer S. Johnson of Balfour road, Grosse Pointe Park, is leaving January 15 for a round of visits in Florida. Mrs. Johnson will be accompanied by her daughters, the Misses Kathryn and Betty Johnson.

Mrs. George Gillespie Harris of Berkshire road, Grosse Pointe Park, has as her guest Mrs. Earl Wayne Webb of Yonkers, N. Y.

The new home which the Baron and Baroness Carl Karlson Wijk (Catherine Kresge) are making ready on Cloverly road, Grosse Pointe Farms, is about completed and they are planning to move into it shortly.

Mrs. F. Caldwell Walker of Vendome road, Grosse Pointe Farms, left for New York City. Mrs. Walker will visit her sister, Mrs. William Rockefeller.

Mrs. E. Jahnke of Lincoln Road will entertain the Northeastern Women's Club at her home Monday, Jan. 18th. Luncheon will be followed by bridge.

Third Defeat Handed Pointe Cagemen, 19-7 By Port Huron 'Five'

Again Grosse Pointe's basketball team goes out with the losing end of the score. Port Huron sadly defeated the Pointers Friday night 19-7. At the beginning of the game, Grosse Pointe kept up with the Huron boys, but towards the end of the second quarter, the Pointers began to lag. The score at the end of the first quarter was 1-1. From the latter part of the second quarter to the end of the game, Port Huron stepped to the front. Neither team played spectacularly.

Township Radio WRDR Made 7697 Broadcasts In 1931, Neff Reports

A total of 7,697 broadcasts were made from WRDR during the year of 1931, of which 5,414 were runs. A total of 237 arrests were made by officers in scout cars; 282 accident runs were made in which 138 persons injured were taken to hospitals; 22 stolen cars were recovered in that period.

A beautiful etching by Mr. Chas. A. Barker is on view at the Neighborhood Club, 17145 Waterloo Avenue. The original plate is a gift by Barker to the Fellowship of Art Students.

Aye, and Rapidly! Common sense, also, grows no commoner!—Ft. Wayne News-Sentinel.

American Legion Post In Township Growing: Headquarters Sought

The growth of the Grosse Pointe Legion Post is gratifying. The Community is assured that it is now well established and the benefits of a well-organized body of World War Veterans along social lines should plainly be visible. The ultimate to work forward to is of course a suitable headquarters. Many examples of that which may be accomplished along these lines are in evidence in many parts of the country. In the eastern part every town and hamlet has its own home. There are the meeting halls with reading, lounging and dining rooms, pool rooms, armory and historical room, perhaps a bowling alley, and all have a real cellar. Community affairs are always participated in, even the Prohibition Societies cannot stage an affair without a guard of honor from the local legion headquarters. It is this cooperative spirit which makes real community endeavor possible. There is the guidance of Boy Scout affairs, Americanization affairs, welfare, school awards of annual legion trophies in scholastic standing, athletics, etc. all under the care of the especially appointed post officers. This is the ideal community spirit for which to work. Our participation in community affairs should be deeply appreciated, for without our sacrifices there would be no such thing.

When it comes to putting color into affairs in which organization have they more than the American Legion? Flags, color guards, rifles, sabres, drums, uniforms, medals, campaign ribbons, even down to the mascot, and all handled by those especially conversant with the usage of all. So much for color, what organization has a corner upon sociality? Wasn't there plenty of that in the stirring days at the front or aboard ship? If the associations and friendships nurtured during these days are worthy of continuation, then we have the opportunity in building up our post. Otherwise we lose our identities in a community and become merely an individual.

Let us all put our shoulder to the wheel and bring in those eligible, in the meantime at the meetings we will endeavor to add a little color, and the time when we will have an organization of which to be proud, will not be far distant. There are rumors that the ladies of the community would like to enter in on the good work, with an auxiliary unit. This will help immensely. Good luck to them.

Michigan Resident Is Awarded Military Post

Lieutenant Colonel Oscar Westover, Air Corps, who was born in Bay City, Michigan and appointed to the Military Academy from that state, has been named assistant to the Chief of the Air Corps of the United States army with the rank of brigadier general, according to information received by Major General Frank Parker, commanding the Sixth Corps Area. General Westover is a graduate of the Bay City, Michigan High School. He is another high ranking army officer who has climbed from private to general. He served as a private in Company K, Third Battalion, Engineers, from September 4, 1901 to June 15, 1902 when he was discharged to accept an appointment to West Point.

Graduating from the Military Academy in 1906 he was appointed a second lieutenant of infantry and continued in the infantry until 1917 when he transferred to the Signal Corps with the rank of captain. He was a colonel in the Signal Corps during the world war, and in June, 1919 was detailed to the aviation section. In 1920 he reverted to his regular army rank of major and was transferred to the Air Service. He became a lieutenant colonel in 1930.

At the time of his appointment as assistant to the Chief of the Air Corps, General Westover was instructor and chief of the Air Corps Subsection of the Command and General Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

High School News Briefs

Mr. John R. Watkins, former U. S. District Attorney spoke to an assembly of eighth and ninth grade students last Thursday on the subject "Law as a Vocation."

He outlined the procedure necessary to become a lawyer and the qualities essential for success in that profession.

That medals will be awarded in June to members of the band orchestra who have fulfilled all necessary requirements, has been announced by Mr. O. Lincoln Igou.

It is necessary to take lessons or practice outside of regular meetings, obtain a "B" average in scholarship and take part in all band orchestral events outside of regular school activities in order to be eligible for a medal.

"This should stimulate interest in band or orchestral work which is outside of the required study," states Mr. Igou.

The following staff for the senior play, "The Goose Hangs High," has been chosen by Miss Ruth Craine, 12A sponsor and Mr. Axel Gruenberg, director. John Parsons, property manager; Mary Robinson, house manager; Elsie Andrews, assistant; Edwin Allan, business manager; Wilbur Kay, and Helen Albyn, assistants.

The play will be presented the evening of January 29.

"Practice makes perfect" is a motto put into practice by the seventh and eighth grade cooking class under the direction of Miss Jetta Thompson. The girls have studied how to serve and what to serve, for the largest part of the semester. Now they are divided into groups, and are entertaining guests in the housekeeping apartment.

The seventh grade guests, teachers and girls of the homemaking class, are served breakfast.

The eighth grade guests, mothers of the girls serving, are served luncheon.

At The Theaters

DETROIT CIVIC THEATER

"Once in a Lifetime," the George Kaufman-Moss Hart smash hit of last season on Broadway, will be produced at the Detroit Civic theater for the first time in Detroit, next week, opening Monday evening, Jan. 18 and closing Sunday evening, Jan. 24.

The play is a comedy on affairs as they are conducted in Hollywood, and although this is by far the most hilarious takeoff of one of America's greatest industries, the motion picture people recognize its value and are arranging to screen it.

"Once in a Lifetime" was produced by Sam Harris at the Music Box, with George Kaufman in the original cast. He came before the curtain on the opening night and insisted that three-fourths of the play was written by Moss Hart. "Once in a Lifetime" ran as a hit all through the New York season and then came on the road for a successful tour, missing Detroit.

The plot concerns George Lewis, May Daniels and Jerry Hyland, small time vaudeville actors who conceive the idea that when the talking pictures are invented, Hollywood is the place for them. They open a school of voice culture and then the fireworks start. Miss Bonstelle has been particularly fortunate in securing the rights to this very successful comedy.

RKO DOWNTOWN THEATER

After a season of exceptional success on the screen, where she has appeared in many outstanding pictures, Miss Irene Rich returns to vaudeville for a few months and will headline the bill at the RKO Downtown theater on Saturday.

Long a popular favorite in pictures, Miss Rich has the reputation of portraying sweet and gracious characters, middle-aged women of elegance and charm, to such perfection that her services are in constant demand by all the major studios. In her vaudeville appearance Miss Rich is presenting a one-act playlet called "Ask Your Wife," assisted by an experienced cast of Broadway players.

Dolores Del Rio, beautiful and exotic Spanish-American star of the screen, returns to talking pictures after a long absence and will be seen on the Downtown screen in "Girl of the Rio," the feature attraction opening Saturday. Miss Del Rio is portraying the difficult and exciting role of the cabaret singer in this screen adaptation of David Belasco's "The Dove," with Leo Carrillo, Stanley Fields, Ralph Ince, Norman Foster and Lucille Gleason enacting the other important roles.

DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE

Rouben Mamoulian, the young Theater Guild director responsible for the second picturization of R. L. Stevenson's curious tale, has given us a film so exciting, that even an overfed boisterous crowd would stir from its lethargy. The basic idea, of separating the mixture of good and evil existent in all of us into separate entities, is interesting to say the least; and in my opinion, the book is Stevenson's most vigorous work.

Frederic March, in the role of the young doctor who delves farther into science than a man may, thereby destroying his happiness, that of his fiancée, and eventually his own life, even when in the guise of the tormenting, miserably constituted Hyde, presents a sympathetic character.

It is a terrible tale; the beautiful side beautifully drawn, the ugly side hideously drawn.

We see him living a quiet virtuous life, sharply criticized for his unusual viewpoint, a nice young man, a little obsessed perhaps. He drinks of his potent concoction bringing on a transition into his other self. After a while the drug possesses him and he discovers that he no longer has control over his changes.

While in the Hyde character his demoniacal deeds make him a hunted man.

One of the most effective scenes, is where Jekyll sits in the park enjoying the air. He looks at his hands, sees them stiffen and grow hairy. Choking a prayer, he changes into Hyde—hunted, desperate, a wild grotesque figure, running, his cloak flapping like an evil cowl about him.

More length has been given to certain scenes than is necessary, but generally the action develops smoothly until it climaxes in a breathless, frantic chase round the laboratory.

Miriam Hopkins gives splendid support to March; and Rose Hobart is lovely in what she has to do. "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" is an outstanding film, thrilling, and well worth seeing.

Sounds and Shadows

Sketches...Frederic March Born in Racine, Wisconsin; and educated in the same state. At University distinguished himself in amateur dramatics and oratory.

Graduating in 1920, March took a brief look at banking and joined Belasco's stock company, to play in "Debonair."

Immediately successful, he next associated himself with the Theater Guild.

Uninterested in proffered movie contracts until the advent of talkies, he signed with Paramount for "The Dummy." His screen work includes "The Marriage Playground," "The Royal Family," "Laughter," and the current "Dr. Jekyll."

Five feet, eleven inches, weighs 165; brown hair and eyes; likes riding, swimming and tennis.

Reginald Denny has secured one of those actor-director contracts. They are becoming quite the usual thing; and allow the holder to act only when a role particularly appeals to him.

Lionel Barrymore was one of the first to make this arrangement and quite recently Ramon Novarro followed suite, starting to an inquiry as to why the preferred directing that he didn't have to shave, cut his hair or even wash his neck if he didn't want to, whereas?

Denny's contract is an M. G. M. one, and his first directorial assigned will be "What Happened to Jones." Later on he may direct a talking version of his silent film "That's My Daddy," of some years ago.

Cast additions to "Bad Timber," Bill Boyd's picture in the making, include Hobart Bosworth, Fred Kohler and Larry McGrath. The story is of the outdoor variety, where men are men and fights, fights.

Pola Negri has recovered from her recent serious illness, enough to be moved to Palm Springs, Calif. to regain her strength.

Gene Raymond, playing in the current "Ladies of the Big House," has returned to New York to finish a stage contract with Lee Shubert. He returns to Hollywood in eight months to resume flicker making.

Silvia Sidney has signed a new contract with Paramount. On the screen only six months, Miss Sidney has played an amazing number of roles, drawing, as she adapted herself from one part to another, a very creditable following.

Vivienne Osborne has been added to the cast of "Two Kinds of Women," the Phillips Holmes-Miriam Hopkins vehicle.

Irving Pichel and Regis Toomey are to play in "Through the Window," starring George Bancroft. Kay Francis playing opposite Bancroft and Max Marcini directing.

Three Big Hits at the Michigan

Roscoe Ates who stuttered his way to fame and fortune in "Cimarron," "Politics" and other popular screen hits shares honors on the Michigan stage this week with the diminutive fiery Mexican screen beauty, Armida. The latter was seen in "General Crack" where she played opposite John Barrymore as the alluring gypsy girl, and also in "Under a Texas Moon," "Show of Shows" and other hits. Recently she completed a triumphant engagement in New York where the public went wild over her dancing and singing.

Ates, a veteran of the stage as well as screen brings his charming young daughter with him and between them they do some real entertaining. The Three Gobs, red hot steppers who are brought back to Detroit by popular demand are another important adjunct of the show as is Brooke Johns and his gang.

Norma Shearer at the Riviera!

Norma Shearer is more daring than ever and Robert Montgomery more magnetic in their latest screen farce, "Private Lives," now showing at the Riviera theater, located on Grand River and Joy road. "Private Lives" tells the deliciously amusing story of a divorced husband and wife who meet again on their second honeymoon and, without calling their new wife and husband into conference, elope with each other for the second time.

Manhattan Parade Now at the Fisher!

At the Fisher starting Saturday there will be one of the biggest pictures that the screen has seen for a long time. "Manhattan Parade" is an all-color, all-romance, all-comedy production with a great comedy cast. Included in the cast are Winnie Lightner, Charles Butterworth, Smith and Dale of comedy fame and the Avon Comedy Four, Frank Courroy, Bobbie Watson, Dickie Moore, Luis Alberni and a host of other stars.

Famous Valley

The Grand coulee in the state of Washington is a valley lying east of the Columbia river along the boundary of Grant and Douglas counties. The lower end of the valley terminates in an alkali lake. This entire area is known as the Grand coulee.

Hard to Overestimate Importance of Dynamo

The dynamo is a machine used for generating electric current. It would be truer to say that it pumps electric current rather than generates it, for electricity exists everywhere and the dynamo's work is to set it in motion. It is by means of the dynamo that we have current for lighting our houses, for operating our factories, and for running trains and trams.

Michael Faraday, the father of modern electricity, discovered almost by accident that whenever a current flowing from a battery through one coil of wire is started or stopped, a little spurt of current takes place in another coil of wire lying near the first, but in no way connected to it. He found, too, that currents could be set up by moving a coil through a magnetic field. This was the key invention in electricity, and the greater part of the mechanical progress made throughout the world during the last hundred years is due to it.

Today, if you want insulated wire for making a wireless set, you buy it at a nearby shop. Faraday had to cover his own wire by winding it with cotton, silk, or similar materials.

Never-Ending Warfare Waged on Insect Pests

In this country the death-watch beetle does a great deal of damage to old buildings by eating its way into the beams and gradually destroying them. There are other insects which do a certain amount of harm, but our insect pests are as nothing compared with those in other parts of the world.

In Brazil, whole forests may be found with every tree killed and felled to the ground. This is the work of a tiny beetle which lives on the bark. It eats its way right around the trunk quite close to the ground, and then proceeds to make circle after circle, gnawing a deeper and deeper furrow until finally the tree collapses. There is an insect, too, of a certain kind which plays havoc with the Brazilian coffee crops, for it destroys every bean on the bushes. For years search has been made for some means of combating its ravages, but at last a bug has been discovered which preys on it, and millions of these are being taken to Brazil.—London Answers.

Old American Expression

"Raise Cain" is the original and correct form of this slang phrase, which means to create a disturbance, to start a quarrel or cause trouble in general, says Pathfinder Magazine. M. Schele de Vere, writing in 1871, said that "when the rowdy is in earnest and his blood is up, he has a terrible term by which to designate the nature of his action; he raises Cain." The phrase is of American origin and has been traced back to about 1850. Early examples indicate that it first was used in the West and probably alluded to the fact that Cain killed Abel. There is no evidence to support the presumption that the phrase refers to the cultivation of the plant known as cane and should therefore be written "raise cane."

Pioneers Planted Many Trees

Pioneer farmers who settled the prairies of the Middle West were great tree planters, according to the United States forest service. Most of them came from districts in the East where they had been clearing lands for agriculture; but in the new environment of the plains they quickly saw the need of planting trees for shelter against winter cold and summer heat. The plantings also supplied fuel, wood, poles, posts, and rough timbers. It is estimated that farmers planted about 240,000 acres of trees in Iowa, 40,000 in Illinois, 14,000 in Ohio, 100,000 in Missouri, and lesser acreages in other central states where there were more native forests.

Old Time Fire Fighting

Machines for the extinguishing of fires have been used from a very early date. Apollodorus, architect to the Emperor Trajan, speaks of leather bags, with pipes attached, from which water was projected by squeezing the bags. Hero of Alexandria describes a machine which he calls the siphons used in conflagrations. It consists of two cylinders and pistons connected by a reciprocating beam, which raises and lowers the pistons alternatively, and thus with the aid of valves opening only towards the jet, projects the water from it, but not in a continuous stream, as the pressure ceased at each alternation of stroke.

Signs in New England

All signs that display things in facsimile or in miniature are rapidly becoming extinct in New England towns and villages. Half a century ago a highly gilded mortar and pestle hung outside nearly every well-regulated drug store. A big gold tooth proclaimed the proximity of the dentist's office. An enormous watch of black and gold swung above the jeweler's doorway. The cobbler announced his specialties in white letters on the side of a giant wooden boot. Wooden Indians with raised hatchets stood guard for the tobacconist.

Stopping Lightning

Out of every 100 buildings struck by lightning only two are protected by lightning rods, reports the United States Department of Agriculture. Lightning causes the nation an annual fire loss of $12,000,000, and proper lightning protection could materially reduce this, the department says.

He never truly believed who was not made first sensible and convinced of unbelief. Never be afraid of doubt, if only you have the disposition to believe.—Leighton.

Sponge Really an Animal They are found at all depths, the deeper water yielding sponges of better texture and longer wear. They are not found in beds. Divers walk along the bottom of the sea, tearing the sponges from the rocks or coral to which they cling. Sponges are one of the lowest forms of animal life.

Buzzard's Limitations With its remarkable eyesight, power of flight and size there probably is only one reason why the vulture or buzzard is not one of our most active pursuers of living prey instead of feeding upon dead or helpless prey—the absence of talons with which to seize and hold living prey.—Capper's Farmer.

Always Good Jud Tunkins says the Maryland oyster gets a heap of attention by making itself scarce for a while, which shows it's best to be a little uncommon. Maryland fried chicken doesn't get near as much attention because it's good all the year 'round.—Washington Star.

Blessings of the Mind The blessings of fortune are the lowest: the next are the bodily advantages of strength and health; but the superlative blessings, in fine, are those of the mind.

The Religion of Sensible Men "As for that," said Waldenshire, "sensible men are all of the same religion." "Pray, what is that?" inquired the prince. "Sensible men never tell."—Disraeli in "Endymion."

Sent Away for Using Scent Under King Henry VIII of England subjects who used scent were sent away—for varying terms. Henry abhorred perfume and made a law against its use, says Aromatics Magazine.

National Salute The salute to the Union—one gun for each state—is fired at noon on the Fourth of July at every military post and on board commissioned naval vessels belonging to the United States.

One Way Money Money comes in on the back of a snail and leaves on a 300-horsepower airplane.—Florida Times-Union.

Don't Sulk There is really no profit in sulking.—American Magazine.

Carnival Plans At Southeastern Nearly Completed

will be clocked by three official A. A. U. timers. Jackie Schwartz, Southeastern sophomore, and holder of the Michigan amateur welter-weight boxing championship, will feature an all-star card including Billie Maronne, the Stewart Twins, and several other champions in their various classes.

A one-act play with an all faculty cast will feature a well-rounded program in the auditorium. Two full seventy-five minute vaudeville performances are fast rounding into shape.

The swimming races and boxing matches take place between 4:00 and 6:00 p. m., but as the bulk of the day's attractions occur after the dinner hour, guests will find the complete, piping hot meal, served in the school cafeteria for 35 cents, a most welcome feature. The cafeteria will be open from 5 to 8 p. m.

Recent additions to the "small-rooms" features as announced by the committee include:

Break show, pet and hobby show, dungeon of horrors, strange beast exhibition, archery, fishing ponds, French cafe, silhouette cut-outs, "rest-cure" lounges, offering bridge, "500" and lantern-slide lectures, team room with tea-leaf reading, palmistry lecture, bunco, keno, fortune telling, country store, white elephant sale and an eleventh hour panic auction sale.

A final, and most important addition is an arrangement for a complete nursery, with trained attendants in charge. Very young children may be left there all evening under excellent supervision, with adequate diversion assured.

The committee wishes again to remind its friends that the general admission is to be 10 cents. Everyone is invited.

Counterfeiting in 1862 The first counterfeit "greenback" in the United States was one imitating the $10 bill of 1862. It was circulated in the same year.

More or Less Important A man named William Purple has discovered a way of putting a scent in the gladiolus, but what we'd rather have discovered is a way of putting dollars in the bank.

Possibilities The nice thing about a year's suspension of international debts is that anything can happen in a year.—Buffalo Courier-Express.

When Silence Depresses Some people's power of holding their tongues at the wrong time makes one feel like falling down a bottomless well.—Woman's Home Companion.

On a Dark Night? Never kiss a rouged girl, says a lecturer. Are we supposed to look before we lip?—Kansas City Star.

Republics in Europe

Before United States

Two important European republics antedated the little United States of 1776—Holland and the city state of Venice. Both perished in the tangle of the French revolutionary wars...

Venice, though republican, was far from democratic. It was ruled by an unlimited oligarchy, drawn from aristocratic untitled families who had amassed fortunes through trade.

Yet there was complete social democracy for the proletarian population, with religious freedom, no feudal obligations, and the famous Inquisition to protect the commoner from aristocratic aggression.

Finally in 1797, at the peace of Campo Formio, Venice was given to a defeated Austria to compensate for losses elsewhere.

Shakespeare Shown as Watcher of the Clock

William Shakespeare, provider of many plots for modern love stories, evidently was a clock watcher. His works run the whole round of the clock, as the following list shows:

- "The bell then beating one." (Hamlet, I, 1.)
"Sure, Luciana, it is two o'clock." (Comedy of Errors, II, 1.)
"The clock has stricken three." (Julius Caesar, II, 1.)
"Upon the stroke of four." (Richard III, III, 2.)
"At five o'clock I shall receive the money for the same." (Comedy of Errors, IV, 1.)
"By the eighth hour: is that the uttermost?" (Julius Caesar, II, 1.)
"Ten o'clock? Within these three hours 'twill be time enough to go home." (All's Well, IV, 1.)
"Eleven o'clock the hour." (Merry Wives, II, 1.)
"By the eighth hour: is that the uttermost?" (Julius Caesar, II, 1.)
"Ten o'clock? Within these three hours 'twill be time enough to go home." (All's Well, IV, 1.)
"Eleven o'clock the hour." (Merry Wives, II, 1.)
"By the eighth hour: is that the uttermost?" (Julius Caesar, II, 1.)
"Ten o'clock? Within these three hours 'twill be time enough to go home." (All's Well, IV, 1.)
"Eleven o'clock the hour." (Merry Wives, II, 1.)
"By the eighth hour: is that the uttermost?" (Julius Caesar, II, 1.)
"Ten o'clock? Within these three hours 'twill be time enough to go home." (All's Well, IV, 1.)
"Eleven o'clock the hour." (Merry Wives, II, 1.)

Depression of 1873

Nearly 50,000 commercial houses failed between 1873 and 1878. By November, 1873, pig iron could hardly be sold at any price and by December 1 half the furnaces and mills in the country had shut down.

Evolution of Ships

A special exhibition of primitive rafts and canoes was recently held in London. They were designed to illustrate the successive developments by which these primitive craft have given rise to the hull boats of modern Europe.

Leggings for Mules

Hockey players wear shin guards, cowboys wear chaps, and in the Tropics mules wear leather leggings, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

Big Trees

Many states can boast of big trees but out in Humboldt county, California, a forest engineer recently measured a redwood that stood 308 feet high and was 20 feet in diameter at a point 5 feet above the ground.

Exchange Wives

Natives still practice a systematized exchange of wives in Tahiti, largest of the French Society islands.

Seeing Straight

A man may think, if he will, that two eyes see no more than one; or that a gamester seeth always more than a looker-on; . . . but when all is done, the help of good counsel is that which seeth business straight.—Bacon.

Intelligence Inherited

That intelligence is inherited Prof. S. J. Holmes of the University of California department of zoology has concluded. "Otherwise," he asks, "how does one get that way?"

Has the Knack of It

He may fall at everything else, but when a man starts out to make a fool of himself he is pretty sure to prove a whale of a success.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

It's His Money

"Business dislikes the self-satisfied man," says Gordon Selfridge, Jr. Perhaps, but oh! how business does know how to take the self-satisfied man's money.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Slumber

A natural sleep of three months is credited to a woman in Brazil. Couldn't any good housewife do that if she had time?—Buffalo Evening News.

Bank May Brew Beer

The Bank of England is permitted to brew beer for public sale without license, or it might turn to pawn-broking, which the terms of the charter are wide enough to cover.

Reverence for Parents

In general those parents have the most reverence who most deserve it; for he that lives well cannot be despised.—Samuel Johnson in "Rasselas."

Fire! Fire!

"I know," sighed Aunt Hannah, "I know it's wicked to judge folks, but every time I singe a hen I get to thinkin' about poor old Cousin Henry, an' his life he led."—Wallace's Farmer.

"Who" and "Which"

In referring to an object the adjective "which" is used and in referring to a person the adjective "who" is used. The adjective "that" may be used for both objects and persons.—Exchange.

Best for Necklace

If you wish to restring a necklace use a violin string—this will last much longer than ordinary thread or twine. The stiffness of the violin string quickly wears off.

Can Work Both Ways

"De man dat don't trust anybody," said Uncle Eben, "is mighty liable to figure out moral responsibilities in a way dat'll prevent anybody f'um trustin' him."—Washington Star.

Banishing Evil Thoughts

Do not only contend with evil thoughts or inclinations of the will, but get thyself earnestly engaged with a good thought or purpose, until those evil thoughts vanish.—Anselm.

Everlasting

A fraction of a grain of musk will scent a room for years, and the curious thing about it is that at the end of that time its weight is not diminished by the smartest fraction.

Friend Vitamin C

Vitamin C prevents what is known as latent scurvy. This is characterized by dullness, congestion of the alimentary tract, and pains in the joints resembling rheumatism.

All Gorillas

While reading a jungle story concerning gorillas the other evening we couldn't get away from the thought that human nature is pretty much the same everywhere.—Toledo Blade.

Worth Remembering

To say that we have a clear conscience is to utter a solecism; had we never sinned we should have had no conscience.—Sir W. Temple.

Odd Species of Rat

The kangaroo rat is the size of an ordinary rat, but has short forelegs and long hindlegs.

Educational Necessaries

The subjects which are necessary tools in securing an education, such as reading, writing, arithmetic and grammar, are known as tool subjects by educators.

Price of Inquisitiveness

A person who is too nice an observer of business of the crowd, like one who is too curious in observing the labor of the bees, will often be stung for his curiosity.—Pope.

Six-Foot Eel Travels Far

Eels recently landed at Aberdeen, Scotland, are said to be the largest ever seen in British waters. One was over six feet long and weighed 84 pounds. Because of their size they are believed to have traveled as strays from the South seas.

"No Such Animal"

It is not true that at some period in the dim past there were animals in hilly countries which had legs on one side longer than on the other. The biological survey says that there never has been such an animal.

School Training

Sally had been training her little brother Larry in preparation for his entering school this year. When his sister Virginia asked what some tiny black seeds were on the front porch he immediately said "Periods."

Agnostic's Attitude

Agnosticism differs from atheism in that the first is simply a declaration of not having found a basis for belief, while the other is an avowed disbelief.

Motto for Full Living

The way to live is to do what you want to do just as much as you are able. You can do what you want to do better than what you hate to do.—American Magazine.
