Park Council Considers City Plan

Park Council Takes Under Advisement Plan To Form City

The Grosse Pointe Park council has under advisement the matter of incorporating as a city, it was announced this week. In the near future it is planned to hold mass meetings at which residents of the Park will be urged to attend. The purpose of the mass meetings will be to discuss the "pros" and "cons" of incorporation.

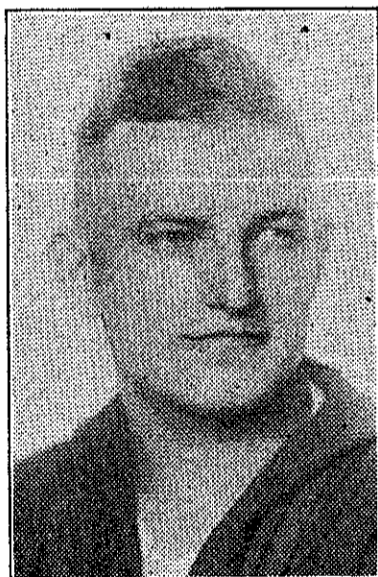

The advantages of a village, like Grosse Pointe Park, incorporating as a city under the Michigan Home Rule Act have been set forth in a recently published bulletin issued by the Michigan Municipal League. A digest of this bulletin prepared also by the League follows:

DRAMATIC PLAYS

The Alumni Dramatic club will present three one-act plays Friday and Saturday, April 8 and 9, it was announced this week. The scene of the performances will be room 301 in the Grosse Pointe High school building. They will be the first series of a group to be presented by the Alumni Club.

"Some of the mechanical features are rubber mounting for engine; down-draft carburetor; automatic spark control; fuel pump; rear fuel tank; soft, flexible springs; large mechanical four-wheel brakes; small, strong, electrically welded steel-spoke wheels and large tires. The frame is cushioned from the running gear by rubber insulators in the spring shackles and shock absorber links.

"The 14 body types may be obtained also with an improved 550 horsepower V-cylinder engine at lower cost.

"The bodies are fresh and modern—room the gracefully rounded V-radiator or rear bumper. Body interiors are oomy and richly finished. Seats are of new style, designed for utmost comfort. Driver's seats in all closed cars are adjustable. A large ventilator is provided in the cowl.

SOCIETY

By Dorothy Dee

Society is showing keen interest in the World Bridge Olympic Championship which takes place at 8:01 o'clock Friday evening, the Detroit headquarters being the Country Club. The unusual feature of these Olympic games is that they are played simultaneously all over the world in every country where the words "vulnerable" and "invulnerable" poison the sleep of the inhabitants.

The Country Club is having a special dinner that evening to precede the bridge tournament, for which the following have made reservations: Dr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome E. J. Keane, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Crouse, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. McPherson Browning, Henry P. Williams, Mrs. Pearson Wells, Oliver C. Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson C. Worner, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William L. McGivern, Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Wadsworth, Joseph S. Sherer, Jr., Walter L. Dunham, William H. Burtenshaw, Edward B. Caulkins and Charles A. Hughes.

Neighborhood Club Activities

Mr. Albert Sager, director of three harmonic bands, is giving lessons free of charge on Thursday afternoons at 4:00 at the Neighborhood Club in preparation for a City-wide harmonic band contest to be held in the late spring. The harmonicas used cost 25c and this, together with a Neighborhood Club membership of 25c comprises the only requirement for enrollment in this class.

Next Sunday, April 3rd, will be the last chance for Grosse Pointe residents to see the Neighborhood Club Juniors 1932 Grosse Pointe and Metropolitan Detroit Champions in action this year. At this time, the local boys will play the Cleveland boys for the title of Inter-City Champions.

The A. O. C. Girls have joined hands with the Neighborhood Club Junior Boys' group to help make a huge success of their annual Spring Dance. This dance will be held in the Neighborhood club gymnasium Saturday, April 9, at 9 p. m. The music will be furnished by the Chocolate Rhythm Kings, one of the best colored orchestras available at the present time.

The admission charge is only 35c and we urgently ask your cooperation in helping put this dance across. Don't forget the date—Saturday, April 9th, at the Neighborhood Club.

Everything is in readiness for the V. V. V. Vanties—Minstrel Show and Musical Revue—to be given by the V. V. V. Girls Friday, April 1st, at the Neighborhood Club. There will be plenty of songs, jokes and skits, dances, a fashion parade and a clever drill as the grand finale. Beautiful costumes will be one of the many attractions. Corine Muer has directed the show. (Continued on Page 2)

WEEKLY CHAT

By A. A. PILKINGTON

The much talked-of "new Ford cars" will be out this week and considerable speculation is in view—just what reaction this will have in general is a matter to be decided later. It will be a wonderful blessing if the releasing of these cars will speed up the wheels of industry and get thousands of idle men back to work in order to provide for their families. It is to be hoped that a new business revival throughout the nation will spring into effect before long.

Friendship is the sun breaking through a cloud; it is the fragrance of a flower released when the bud bursts into bloom; it is the twinkling of myriad stars in the night sky; it is the voice of God in the heart. —E. M. Brainerd.

The world over has found multitudes at the foot of the cross on Good Friday. Rich and poor alike and more so this year than ever before largely due to the unsettled conditions of the world. Never in recent history have conditions in general been so discouraging nor so persistent. Yet, there is an old saying—"It is a long road that doesn't have some kind of a turn."

Easter week always means much. Everything seems to take a new lease of life. The song birds are back with (Continued on Page Four)

Wallace Gamber Won by Knockout in First Round: Fought Kaiser

Wallace Gamber, Grosse Pointe's contender for fistic laurels, won by a knockout in the first 30 seconds of the first round in a boxing match Tuesday night with "Battling" Kaiser of Pontiac. The bout was scheduled for six rounds.

More than 100 boxing fans from the several villages in Grosse Pointe attended the fight held in the Arena Gardens, Mt. Clemens, to see Gamber, the "bearded Adonis" in action.

At the sound of the bell, signaling the opening of the first round, Gamber rushed from his corner to meet his opponent and after a brief exchange of blows in the center of the ring, Grosse Pointe's fistic prodigy hooked a right to his opponent's jaw. The contact of the blow, a forceful, powerful and well directed blow, was heard in all parts of the crowded arena. It felled his opponent for the count of "8" and hardly had his opponent raised himself from the canvas, when Gamber in his customary style of carrying the fight to his opponent, rushed in to finish his evening's work early.

A second right hook found a landing place on the vulnerable and unprotected jaw of his opponent who took the count of "10."

The brevity of the match left the spectators dazed.

"I didn't take any chances in giving an opportunity for him to hit me," said Gamber in commenting on his performance after the bout. Acting under the direction of my managers, I planned to hit hard and fast in the early rounds. When I entered the ring, Tuesday night, I felt superbly physically fit as result of the strenuous training I had been subjected to."

Sunday Bus Service To Continue As On Easter

Announcement was made this week to Grosse Pointe bus patrons by Thomas B. Bedford, president of the Lake Shore Coach Lines, Inc., that the Sunday service inaugurated Easter Sunday will be continued.

The company, said Mr. Bedford, will continue to make surveys of the needs of bus patrons in the Pointe in a sincere effort to give adequate and courteous service. The management, continued Mr. Bedford, will appreciate constructive criticisms at all times regarding the bus service. (Continued on Page Three)

Bird House Contest Attracts 300 Entrants Among Park Youths

"While a child is building a bird house, he isn't running the streets and having his mind polluted in any way with enmity toward his fellow men," writes Jack Miner, nationally known bird conservation expert in a letter to Alfred J. Garska, president of the Park Mr. Miner was asked by Mr. Garska to act as judge of bird houses in the contest which is now being sponsored by citizens of the Park. Because of a previous engagement Mr. Miner was obliged to decline the invitation.

That the contest has caught the interest of many children may be proved by the fact that with the competition only one week old nearly three hundred boys and girls have already registered. Registration however, will continue up to the date the houses are judged.

Up to the present time 15 prizes, besides the original 10 cash awards have been donated by various merchants. By the time the drive closes on April 9, it is expected that there will be between 20 and 30 prizes besides the money awards. Don't put your name down on the registration card and then forget about building a bird house or become discouraged because some of the other entrants masterpiece that you will probably see on exhibit in the Municipal library. The McMahon youth won first honors with the Trombley youth in second place. A Miss Mary Margaret Thomas, who lost out in obtaining ranking honors by a narrow margin, delivered a stirring oration that was well received by the audience. The title of her address was "Webster's Reply to Hayne."

M. L. Stewart, Former U. S. Agent, Patents Safe Lock

M. L. Stewart, former U. S. Secret Service operator, announced this week his invention of a "safe and sure self locking window lock."

"The window lock which I have patented," said Mr. Stewart this week, "is burglar proof, permits of ideal ventilation and stops window rattling. It is made of pressed steel, cadmium plated and is rust proof.

"One very important feature about it is that one can not forget to lock it, because it locks itself with window ventilated in any position desired, bottom up and top down.

"Every housewife should have them on windows to keep the prowlers out. It is not possible to get in with lock on windows because both bottom and top are firmly locked at all times."

Orders for this safety device may be placed with Mr. Stewart by calling Lenox 6928.

PARK COUNCIL TAKES UNDER ADVISEMENT PLAN TO FORM CITY

Increasing costs of government in recent years have forced upon the nation, state and individual communities the necessity for reducing expenses without, if possible, curtailing necessary or desirable services.

Michigan villages, having the required population, find themselves in an especially favorable position to meet this need because they can throw off the entire cost of one government, namely, the township government, within a period of a few months at very little expense, while gaining several advantages and without suffering any loss in governmental services.

The differences between a city and a village revolve around the fact that the Village is still part of the township, whereas a city is an independent unit of government of equal importance with the township. The villages, therefore, pay township taxes, which cities do not pay, and are represented on the county board only by the township supervisor, whereas cities have their own supervisors.

The fact that village taxpayers support a township government, which is of little or no value to them, has received more or less recognition from the legislature for the past half century.

The Home Rule Act, as amended, provides for villages desiring to incorporate as cities to do so by petitioning their own legislative body for such change and without petitioning the county board or being dependent upon a favorable vote of the township on the proposal.

The fact that important advantages could be secured by villages by re-incorporating as cities has been almost unknown, and in even fewer cases was it known that the change could be made under Michigan law, if the advantages were understood. The Municipal League Office first stressed the importance of the provisions of the statutes in relation to incorporating as cities in 1930. During 1931 five villages completed the change to cities; several had the project under way, and the question was under consideration in probably a third of all the villages eligible to make the change.

The benefits to be derived by incorporating as a city are as follows:

1. Elimination of township taxes assessed against village property is usually regarded as the greatest benefit of becoming a city. The taxes which are almost universally assessed against villages are the township contingent fund and the township highway improvement fund. The first is used principally for paying salaries in most townships, and as far as the village part of the township is concerned, these salaries are an unnecessary duplication of other expenses. The township supervisor makes a separate assessment of village property from that of the village assessor and gets paid for it; the two treasurers duplicate their tax collections rolls; the clerks duplicate the list of registered voters. It is principally for these wholly unnecessary and troublesome governmental duplications that the village taxpayer pays township contingent fund taxes.

2. Township road improvement taxes are used for, or should be used for, new construction on township roads. One-half of the amount assessed against all the property of any village should be returned by the township for use on village streets, under amendment to the statute in 1925. This amendment was made in recognition of the fact that village taxpayers ought not to have to pay for township roads while taking care of their own streets without township assistance. The necessity for village taxpayers paying any township highway improvement taxes should be abolished, and this is achieved by incorporating as a city.

3. The greatest burden of township taxes in many communities of recent years, and the most unnecessary and unjust to the village taxpayer, who pays for his own street work without any outside financial assistance, has been the covert road taxes spread on the county at large through the county tax. This has frequently cost the village taxpayer more than all other township taxes taken together, when, if the village were a city, it could have escaped the Covert road special assessment district and township at large assessments.

It is in metropolitan townships that the unfairness of levying taxes against village property becomes most apparent. Residents of the villages pay for all the municipal services they receive without any contributions from any source. Residents of unincorporated areas in the same township can secure these same services more or less at the general expense of the township, and the village residents help pay for them through the road improvement and contingent township taxes.

Some of these services are the installation of water systems, improving streets, alleys, the installation of storm sewers, providing fire protection, lighting highways in unincorporated areas, installing and maintaining traffic control systems and similar other improvements.

The possible savings in township taxes to the taxpayers of any village upon becoming a city can readily be determined. Examination of tax payments in many townships indicates that village property pays from $1.00 to $10.00 per $1,000 valuation per year, with an average of about $4.00. The lower rates are in the strictly rural townships, while the highest are in the metropolitan areas, where townships have taken on many functions that should be delegated only to city or village governments, and where Covert roads have been built lavishly.

Besides eliminating this township tax, incorporation as a city relieves the village taxpayer of two ever present dangers that arise out of the township-village relationship. Some villages have been inclined in the past to take advantage of the separate assessment as a means of increasing tax and bond limits by inflating valuations, while leaving the township valuation stand as a buffer to keep the community from paying more than its fair share of state, county, school and township taxes.

4. Representation on the Board of Supervisors of the county is a privilege every city deems of value and one which no city would relinquish, once having had its benefits. This seems to be the universal opinion in all of the small cities in the state, where organized under the Home Rule Act or under local acts by the legislature. Not only do they find representation on the county board a direct benefit to the city, but to the section of the county in which the city is located as well.

5. Another important benefit of becoming a city in most cases is a more efficient governmental organization under city home rule than the village has under the general village law. This not only results in a more responsive, competent government, but frequently the reductions in the cost of running the municipality resulting from the reorganization are more important than the elimination of township taxes. Over a period of time this may prove to most villages making the change to be the greatest benefit of re-incorporation as a city, if the community takes advantage of modern charter drafting.

6. Another important benefit is the general improvement in government which results from eliminating the wholly unnecessary and wasteful duplications between township and village governments. Waste, inefficiency, unwholesome politics and governmental backwardness thrive best in such a situation.

7. The saving of time and trouble to citizens in not having to register in two different places, in not having to vote at so many different elections, in being able to pay all their taxes and do all other governmental business with one office instead of two, etc., should be evaluated in considering incorporation as a city, and especially so in view of the fact that the legislature in its last session adopted a law requiring general registration in townships, cities and villages and the system required being of considerable expense in installing.

There are objections to the incorporation of a village as a city. The village obtains its poor relief through township sources where a city must support its own poor. Where it is apparent that the amount of money expended in the township for poor relief in the village is less than the taxes paid by the village for township purposes, this cannot be considered as an objection.

To incorporate as a city does not necessarily increase the cost of the government. While the duties and powers of a city differ somewhat from those of a village, these changes are few and do not increase the cost of the municipal government, but reduce it instead. These additional duties of a city are:

1. To provide for a justice or municipal court.
2. To keep a registry of chattel mortgages.
3. To collect state, county and school taxes.
4. To conduct state and county elections.

A justice court can be set up under a city charter under which justices are paid by fees, the same as in townships, or a municipal court can be set up with the judge's salary fixed at less than the amount of the annual receipts from fees. So that this function may be self-supporting.

In the registering of chattel mortgages fees received therefrom exceed the cost of maintaining this service.

In the collection of state, county and school taxes the collection fees more than reimburse the city for the additional work in spreading these additional sums on the assessment roll and collecting them.

The conducting of state and county elections does not necessarily incur an additional expense inasmuch as the city elections can be made to fall upon the same day as state and county elections, thereby eliminating any additional expense.

These are the only additional duties that need be considered where poor relief as outlined in a previous section of this bulletin, is not a factor. Considering the possible savings that will result from having a better government under a city home rule charter than under the general village law, therefore, it is probable that the average village can actually cut its municipal expenditures by incorporating as a city, as well as eliminate township tax payments, and in most cases that saving will exceed 10 per cent of the annual municipal expenditures.

In considering incorporation as a city, questions are frequently asked in relation to the financing of the school district. School districts are not modified by the fact that a village becomes a city. Both the city and the area outside the corporation limits continue to support the same district. The only difference is that city taxpayers pay their school taxes to the city treasurer, instead of the township treasurer, to be transferred to the school district treasurer.

The limitation on the amount that can be raised by general taxes is the same for city purposes as that for village purposes, namely, 2 per cent of the assessed valuation of either city or the village. The borrowing power of a city is not any greater than that of a village. The City Home Rule Act provides:

Section 4, Sub-section A. For annually laying and collecting taxes in a sum not to exceed 2 per centum of all real and personal taxes in the city.

The Village Home Rule Act provides:

Section 26-J. No village shall have the power to lay and collect taxes for municipal purposes at a rate to exceed 2 per centum of all real and personal property in the village.

The borrowing power of a city is no greater than that of a village. The City Home Rule Act provides:

Section 4-B. Each city may provide for the borrowing of money on the credit of the city * * * in a sum not to exceed 8 per centum of the assessed value of all real and personal property in the city.

The provision in the Village Home Rule Act is:

Section 26-I. No village shall have the power to incur indebtedness by the issue of bonds or otherwise in any sum which including existing indebtedness, shall exceed 10 per centum of the assessed valuation of the real and personal property within the village, subject to taxation as shown by the last preceding assessment roll of the village.

By incorporating as a city, the power to lay taxes and the power to borrow money and issue bonds is the same as for villages, re-incorporating as cities.

Despite the rather unusual technical nature of the change, however, it can be made with a reasonable amount of effort on the part of citizens and the expenditure of a small amount of money, by comparison with the savings to taxpayers in even a single year. The League Office, therefore, recommends to every village eligible to become a city a thorough consideration of this question.

High School News Briefs

I had never realized until recently just how many different salads that it might be possible to make. I had never realized just how important they were to menu planning because, you see, salads may be used in numerous ways.

There are three general classes of salads which might be served. There are salads which can be served as the main dish for luncheon. They usually consist of heavier foods such as meat or fish, potato, macaroni, etc. Or a salad may be used as a side dish for dinner or luncheon, they usually consist of vegetables or fruit, and may accompany the main course or be served separately. Then we have those fruit salads which may be served as a dessert in which case whipped cream is usually served as the dressing. And from this it may appear that the type of salad affects the type of dressing that is used.

There are three main kinds of dressings: The French, Mayonnaise, and cooked. The cooked dressing is very well-suited to fruit salads. The French dressing is well used with vegetable salad. Whereas Mayonnaise is used nicely with main dish salads.

A very good recipe for Mayonnaise is as follows:

- 1 egg yolk; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/2 teaspoon paprika; 1/2 teaspoon sugar; 1 teaspoon vinegar; 3/4 cup salad oil; 1 teaspoon lemon juice; 1 teaspoon mustard.

Mill all dry ingredients with egg yolk. Add oil little by little until an emulsion is formed, then add more oil in larger quantities heating thoroughly. When thick add the acid little by little alternating with the rest of the oil.

Have you ever seen anything more satisfying and more appetizing than a luncheon table set with attractive salads. I have often heard it said things always taste better when they look good. And I think this is particularly true of salads.

One of the things which affect the appearance of a salad is the garnish. Some which may be used are paprika, pimento, red pepper, green pepper, parsley, egg, capers, celery, curd, whipped cream cherries, etc. The main thing is not to over-do the amount used. A little always gives a better result.

The condition of the different parts of the salad is also necessary. The foundation of a salad should be crisp and dry. It may consist of head lettuce leaf lettuce, parsley, water cress, etc.

The body may consist of fruit, vegetable, fish, meat, etc. To be attractive all pieces should be just about the same size and shape and should be devoid of liquid.

The dressing should be put on just before serving. To do so earlier causes the lettuce to wilt and has a tendency to draw water from the fruit, making the salad watery.

But a little care will go a long way in getting tempting results.

DO YOU KNOW

That you should not wipe spots off a hot stove with a damp cloth as this usually causes the enamel to crack or discolor.

That if a food chopper is used to chop raisins, figs, and dates, first squeeze a few drops of lemon juice into the chopper as this will prevent the fruit from clogging it.

That if you rinse water glasses in slightly soapy water, they will after wiping, be much clearer.

That if you allow fresh meat to remain in paper, it will absorb the juices.

That when mashing potatoes and other vegetables never use cold milk—use hot and your potatoes will be much fluffier and lighter.

That if you use a knife that has been dipped in hot water, to cut a frosted cake, the process will be much easier and attractive.

That if you use a knife in place of a spoon when mixing biscuit dough, there will be less chance of developing the gluten (an elastic like substance in flour) which has a tendency to make biscuit tough.

JELLY CORNMEAL GEMS

- 1/2 cup cornmeal; 1 cup flour; 3 t. baking powder; 2 t. sugar; 1 t. melted fat; 3/2 t. salt; 3/4 cup milk; 1 egg.

Mix and sift together all dry ingredients. Add the milk, the beaten egg, and the melted fat. Put in greased muffin tins. Put a spoonful of jelly on top of the batter and cover with additional batter. Bake at 400° F.

CHEESE BISCUIT

- 2 cups flour; 4 t. baking powder; 1/2 t. salt; 2 t. fat; 2-3 cup milk; 1 1/2 cup grated cheese.

Mix and sift all dry ingredients. Work in the fat. Add the grated cheese and mix with milk. This biscuit dough may be dropped or rolled. It is baked in a hot oven.

This makes an excellent bread to serve hot as accompaniment to a salad.

Neighborhood Club Activities

assisted by Frank Gillen, "The Man of a Thousand Songs," and Elaine Marie Arndt who is responsible for the dances. Every girl in the cast of both Minstrel Show and Revue is a member of the V. V. V. Girls.

The admission price is only 50c and there will be dancing following the performance which will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

The Waokiya Camp Fire Girls went on a weiner roast hike to Belle Isle on Thursday afternoon at 1:30. A good time was enjoyed by all.

A new Camp Fire group is now being formed at the Neighborhood Club. Since the maximum number of girls to a group is twenty, the new girls will have the opportunity of being charter members of their own group. The dues are five cents a week, the National dues to be paid by group activities. The membership is limited to girls ten years of age or over. The first meeting will be Wednesday, April 6th, at 4:00, at which time a group name will be selected.

The Neighborhood Club Juniors, playing under the colors of the Buchanan Coal Company, brought two titles to the Neighborhood Club the same year for the first time in its existence.

This team won the Grosse Pointe championship from a field of six teams by winning five games and losing one.

They also won the Metropolitan Detroit Inter-Settlement championship, going through their entire schedule undefeated. This league takes in a very large territory, including Delray, Highland Park, Hamtramck, Brightmoor, Detroit and Grosse Pointe.

This team, organized and coached by L. D. Simonsen of the Neighborhood Club staff, last year, has hung up an enviable record throughout the State with a total of 64 victories and 12 defeats in two years. This record includes victories over Saginaw Ames and Imlay City Merchants, rated highly in their respective territories.

The following boys have been members of the team since its organization: Donald Creech, George Rogers, Robert Murphy, Wm. Keegan and Dick Clemens; the other members who joined this year are Russel DeRonne, Pudge Cavanaugh, Philip D'Arcy, Paul Swift and Wayne Haun.

At this time, the above named boys as well as their coach, Mr. L. D. Simonsen, wish to thank Mr. Ed. Mitchell and Mr. Buchanan of the Buchanan Coal Company, for their very worthy support throughout the season.

The Blue Birds will finish their Jacks bags at their Saturday meeting. The next project will be the making of Japanese coin purses.

Louise Fazenda At Fisher Theatre

Another famous Hollywood star on the Fisher stage this week. This time it is none other than that famous screen comedienne, Louise Fazenda. Her comic antics in scores of picture hits have given audiences spasms of delight, but she is even funnier on the stage than she was on the screen. She entertains and clowns making a hit with every member of the family. Her act heads a stage revue "Kluge-Ups," a studio presentation with Darlene Walders, Berenoff and Charlotte, the Evans Ballet and others.

On the screen there is Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. in "Its Tough To Be Famous." It is a hilarious take-off on how men are made famous by publicity. It has its serious and romantic moments, but on the whole it is one of the cleverest pictures ever made—packed with sparkling wit and riotous comedy. In the supporting cast are Mary Brian, Lilian Bond and Walter Catlett.

Lopez Radio Band At Michigan

Vincent Lopez, America's best known radio figure, is now current at the Michigan theatre with his famous recording and radio orchestra. His "Lopez Speaking" is a trade mark known from coast to coast and when Lopez speaks fans know that they are in for a delightful session of romantic music. In addition to his band, Lopez has with him a galaxy of New York night club entertainers who are a show in themselves. The famous leader and pianist brings old favorites and tantalizing new tunes to the fore in his radio show here.

On the screen there is a mile-a-minute romantic thriller with James Cagney and Joan Blondell in the leading roles. The picture also brings out the talents of the sensational new star discovery, Ann Dvorak. Eric Linden and Guy Kibbe are prominently cast.

Eduard Werner presents the Michigan orchestra playing an outstanding orchestral arrangement. Gutov plays at the organ, and short subjects and the latest Paramount news conclude a genuine program of real entertainment for the entire family.

"Grade A" Sausage Is Defined by Law

After months of work, interviewing members of the Judiciary and Agriculture Committees, the Department of Agriculture and of the House of Senate, the law was passed. Eagerly, the Governor signed it. The new law says that any person who makes sausage and fails to put into fresh meat cut from the bone of healthy cattle and swine, and who labels his inferior product "Grade A" is subject to the punishment of the Court.

Therefore, madam, when you buy sausage (either in bulk or container) that is plainly labeled "Grade A" you are certain that you are getting pure, clean, appetizing, healthful sausage.

And price has nothing to do with it, except that undergrade sausage may be found selling for less than the cost of raw meat alone. Be safe—there's no need to take chances any more. The "Grade A" label has come as your protection.

Henry Ehms, Incorporated, whose sanitary and modern sausage plant, located at 10831 Shoemaker avenue, DO NOW and ALWAYS HAVE made sausage in compliance with the above statement. When you buy hams, bacon or sausage from your dealer, look for the Henry Ehms Brand, then you are assured of getting the best, and "Grade A."

Marion Hair Shoppe

The Marion Hair Shoppe located at 14511 Mack avenue (just next door west of the Nightingale Market) is offering a special coupon which is worth 25c and 50c on any work you may need. The Marion Hair Shoppe has private booths for ladies hair cutting, and specializes in all lines of beauty work. Appointments can be made by calling Niagara 8032. Their ad will be found in another part of this issue.

Hackett Brass Foundry Well Known Concern

Amongst the concerns that have been established in our community over many years, and whose reputation for square dealing is recognized by many of the leading industries of our city is The Hackett Brass Foundry Corporation, located at 1202 Lillibridge avenue, where the Foundry has been in continuous operation for upwards of twenty-five years.

This concern is primarily engaged in the production of high grade bearing bronzes, either as castings, or in finished machined parts, such as are used in automobiles, electric street railway motors, electric refrigerating machines and so forth and in addition thereto conducts a large business in a general line of brass and aluminum castings.

BIGGEST PACKAGE

Motors, Inc., 15000 Kercheval avenue, local dealers who sell and service Chrysler and Plymouth cars in this territory.

Stating to his local dealers that the finest engineers in the automotive industry had been busy for more than three years in developing and producing the new and finer Plymouth motor car which is to be announced within a few days, Mr. Chrysler believes that he has succeeded in producing a car superior to anything that the lowest-price field has yet seen.

"Better values in every commodity and in every useful article are obtainable today," according to his communitarian. "Not only have prices been materially lowered, but values have been increased as well."

"It is plain business to recognize that every manufacturer has borne a portion of the cost of increased quality with lower prices. In common with other manufacturers, I propose to bear a large portion of the cost of the unusually high quality in appearance, performance and mechanical excellence of the new Plymouth."

"The public now more than at any other time is quick to weigh values and lowered costs. On this basis, I am confident that Plymouth will secure a goodly portion of the lowest price volume in 1932."

BIRD CONTEST

Remember you have three different means of recompense for your labor; the 10 cash awards totalling $25.00, 20 to 30 other valuable and useful prizes, such as tennis racquets, flashlights, etc., and lastly a free ticket to every entrant for the matinee of Saturday, April 16, at the Aloma theater.

Finton L. Henk, prominent realtor in the Pointe, and motivating power behind this bird house conservation drive has been seen at the library practically every day showing ambitious youngsters how to plan their bird house.

"You know," says the enthusiastic bird lover, Mr. Henk, "I had no idea when I started this movement that so much interest would be displayed, not only by the young participants but by their parents as well. Much credit should go to the librarian of the Municipal library, Miss Severs and her staff of assistants for the splendid co-operation they have given us in this drive."

Because there are only limited types of birds who make their home in Michigan it was decided to limit the houses to the kind that can be used in the Waterfront Park. Here is the list of eligible houses. More specific dimensions and regulations for the building of the houses may be obtained at the library.

Benefit Food Exhibition At Convention Hall

Two hundred thirty booths, filled with the products of every important manufacturer of foodstuffs, will form the background of the Benefit Food Exhibition, to be held at Convention Hall, April 10 to April 17. The Exhibition is sponsored by all of the wholesale grocers in the Detroit area and over 3,000 independent retail grocers are cooperating in the distribution of 1,500,000 tickets of admission.

The Exhibition will have as its principal feature a Carnival of games, as a result of which several thousand prizes will be distributed. These range in value from a Plymouth car, one of which will be awarded at each of the eight nights that the Exhibition is open to assortments of groceries. Among the attractions will be an independent merchant's Model Store, from which 25 baskets of groceries will be distributed every afternoon and 25 every evening. A number of games of skill, for children and adults, will be the means of awarding the other prizes. Music will be furnished by the Catholic Boys' Band of 100 pieces, under the direction of Jew Guynan.

Admission to the Exhibition has been set at 35 cents, but coupon tickets and other forms of admission actually bring the cost as low as 15 cents. Collars for milk bottles and outsells on loaves of bread are being widely distributed, each with a cash value of 20 cents in securing admission.

Proceeds of the Exhibition will be handled by a committee of which Phelps Newberry vice-president of the Guardian Detroit Bank, is treasurer. They will be turned over to the Welfare Department of the City and converted into orders valid at the stores of those independent retail grocers who have contributed to the success of the undertaking. Drawing for booths has been made by John Ballenger, head of the Welfare Department.

A grand rally of the area's independent merchants will be held at the Cass Technical high school, Sunday, April 3, at 3:00 p. m. More than 4,000 invitations have been issued for this gathering, which will be addressed by Abner A. Wolf, chairman of the Exhibitors' executive committee; Earl Fitzgerald, secretary of the committee; and John Ballenger, head of the City Welfare Department.

"We have set a quota of $100,000 as the proceeds of this Exhibition" says Mr. Wolf, "and we are confident, from the type of cooperation that we are receiving from the manufacturers and the retailers that we shall reach the goal. The fact that the money goes directly to buy food for hungry people seems to have a strong appeal. We realize the possibilities of being of service to the city's unemployed and we are working as hard as we know how to make the Exhibition a big success."

Girl Crazy at the RKO Theatre

Out in the west were the coyotes howl, and the stock market losers do likewise, a strange phenomena has come into being. It is the dude ranch where Broadway beauties go western in a whoopee way, tired business men play at being bold bandits, and bright lights, Romans become deep chested knights of the Saddle.

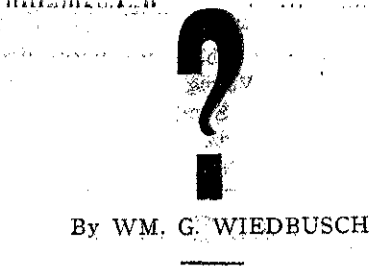

These pleasure emporiums of the wide open spaces, where cowboys chase one beautiful ladies instead of long horn steers, have attained a tremendous vogue and now the lone prairie resounds with revelry and jazz rather than range laments.

It remained for "Girl Crazy" RKO Radio's all star merry-melange of mad mirth, melody, and romance, to bring the colorful glamour of the dude ranch to the motion picture screen. In the picture which comes to the RKO Downtown Theatre as the next attraction following "The Lost Squadron" Broadway beauties frolic with hollywood cowboys and the screen's brightest comedy stars win laughs at the expense of the roughest and toughest villains who ever chased a maiden or frightened a baby.

Marlene Dietrich at Riviera Theatre

Marlene Dietrich, the exotic German star in "Shanghai Express" now at the Riviera Theatre with an outstanding cast, Clive Brook, Anna May Wong, Eugene Palette, and Warner Oland. Miss Dietrich's characterization in "Shanghai Express" is that of Shanghai Lily, an adventuress; notorious thru-out the Orient. Brook plays the part of a British officer, one of her legion of admirers.

Added attractions includes a Lillian Roth musical novelty act, Tom Howard comedy riot and a Co-Ed cartoon. Paramount Sound News completes the program.

My Fellow Lions:

This is April Fool's Day. William Shakespeare caused Puck to say: "What fools these mortals be"; and the illustrious Lincoln said that while you could not fool all the people all the time, you could at least fool some of the people all the time and all of the people some of the time. After all, what would this thing we call life be without foolishness. What, for instance, would the Weekly Meetings of the Grosse Pointe Lions Club be, except for the foolishness that predominates. Foolishness is rampant in the high places as well as the places not so high. Never was this more evident than at this time. We observe August Legislative Assemblies grow almost riotous in the course of trying to find new sources of tax revenue, and deliberately refuse to enact statutes that would create revenue for governmental purposes, which revenue now goes to a great extent toward the demoralization of good government, law, and order. But, why write about it. Even that is foolish.

Foolish Fancies
Doc Jaxtiner, a la the Mahatma Gandhi, where all depends on a safety pin.
Sam Brownell and Doc Neuman, in an aesthetic dance, appropriately clothed.
Bill Ludwig speaking in a high falsetto voice.
Doc Clarke telling a parlor story.
Ed Cuoney making a speech.
George Ingram paying a fine without protest.
Frank Flummerfelt losing his inhibition at the church bowling club.
Charley Dupont in contemplative mood.
Wally Moesta playing ping pong.
Doc Coggan singing bass.

Art Gnich losing weight and that dimple.
John Kerby same as above, except the dimple.
Norb Denk without that cockroach ejaculation.

Among the guests of honor will be Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, C. S. (Casey) Jones, Capt. Frank Hawkes, Edward S. Evans, Major Ray Cooper (manager of the Aircraft Show), Lt. Col. Floyd E. Evans (Director of Aeronautics, State of Michigan), Major Gen. Geo. H. Brett (Commander Selfridge Field), Col. E. A. Shirmeyer, U. S. A. (Chief of Staff 85th Division), Col. Wm. K. Moore U. S. A. (Senior Instructor Michigan National Guard). Many National and State officers of Exchange also have indicated that they will be present. Entertainment will be provided by the Redford Exchange Club's Select Band and Redford's Nationally known Double Quartette.

Ptarmigan's Plumage
The ptarmigan, a species of grouse found in northern Canada and in the high Rockies, changes its dress three times a year. It wears dark plumage in summer and gray in autumn, but in the winter time its feathers match the snow.

Complete Plans for Fifth Aviation Dinner, Tues.

The Grand Ballroom of the Detroit Leland Hotel doubtless will be the scene of the largest Assembly and Banquet held in conjunction with the National Aircraft Show of 1932. The enthusiasm exhibited among the 29 Exchange Clubs of this area indicates that this, their fifth Annual Aviation Dinner, will be a major event.

In addition to Major-General J. E. Fechet, who is to be the speaker on this occasion, the Exchangees will be honored with the presence of their National President, Dr. Alfred A. Jenkins of Cleveland, and National Secretary Herold M. Harter of Toledo.

YOU ARE INVITED!

It's the biggest show in town! A showing of startling new values—amazing new motor car style—thrilling new performance. You will be astonished no matter what your previous notions about these things have been.

The New, Finer Plymouth is big news and we are holding "open house" in celebration of it. Come and bring your friends. Don't miss this biggest automobile event of the year.

Human Hair
It is estimated that the number of hairs on the average human head is about 110,000, there being about 1,000 to each square inch of scalp. Women have a greater number of hairs on their heads than men, and the heads of blonds contain a greater number of hairs because blond hair is usually finer in texture. Red-haired heads contain the fewest hairs.

Latin Character

The character "e" is a combination of the letters "e" of the Latin "et" meaning and of which it is the manuscript form.

The offensive work of Creech, Murphy and Haun of the winning team and the defensive ability displayed by Rogers, D'Arcy and Keegan and manifested in the final game when the powerful Grosse Pointe Memorial team was held to a lone point in the last half, were some of the outstanding features of the tournament.

The Universal Club which defeated the ultimate winner in an overtime game Tuesday, dropped two successive games, one to the Grosse Pointe Memorial and the other to the Buchanan Coal team and finished in third place.

The good sportsmanship of these boys in defeat as well as in victory is indeed worthy of comment.
