Boost the Home Team "Attend Tigers" Home Games

Base ball fans be loyal to your home team and show the boys that you are really back of them by attending all (or as many as possible) games at home. All baseball players naturally feel more grateful to their supporters when they know that the fans are taking an interest in their playing.

Detroit has a great baseball club, they have pitching strength, hitting ability, brains and one of the best managers in baseball. They are due for a pennant soon. Let's start NOW and get behind them and show the boys what a legion of loyal supporters Detroiters really are.

Detroit is known as a good baseball city and let's keep this reputation by pledging ourselves to get solidly behind the "Tigers" this season and root for them when away and attend the games and boost them when at home.

Frank Navin, the owner of the Detroit club, is to be congratulated upon having such an organization as the "Tigers" this year and the citizens of Detroit owe it to the community and to Mr. Navin to support the Detroit baseball club to their fullest extent.

Hibbard and Johnson Recommended for School Board by Tax Payers Association

The following letter was received this week from E. H. Lindow, Secretary of the Grosse Pointe Taxpayers Association:

To the Editor of the Grosse Pointe Review,
Dear Sir:—

"For several years the people of this community have been waging an uphill battle to stem a rising tide of extravagance in the development and management of our school system. The persistent attitude of the School Board in response to the repeated pleas for economy by the people of this district expressed at Board meetings, mass meetings, and at the polls could not be termed indifference but rather open defiance.

"It continued to a point where they sought to put through a program of some $3,000,000 for the proposed purchase of additional real estate, tearing down costly new residences, and the erection of additional school buildings when those existing were little more than half filled.

"During this period the Civic News, which we regard as the unofficial mouthpiece of the School Board, has championed practically every extravagant proposal. Its columns have sidestepped facts, given incomplete and misleading reports of the public protests at Board meetings, and in various ways, by ridicule and innuendo, cast reflection upon the efforts of an intelligent and sober-minded public to control and curb its School Board.

"Their methods and their arguments were thoroughly discredited a year ago when Walter S. Conely supported by the Grosse Pointe Taxpayers Association overwhelmingly defeated President Sutter.

"When Mr. Conely assumed his duties he found his path was to be far from rosy. The refreshing part of his activities, however, is that he has remained faithful to his trust, and while criticised for his economic demands by the Civic News and repeatedly outvoted by his colleagues, he continues to strive for a common sense and efficient administration during these troublous times.

"HE MUST HAVE SUPPORT. The costly three Junior High School program merely lies dormant, until after the election. If the present Board or their supporters are returned to power that program will rise again to confront the taxpayer at the very first opportunity.

"The only way we can make effective the desire of the people for lower taxes and greater efficiency is by electing the proper men.

"Accordingly we are glad to support the candidacies of J. L. Hibbard, of Grosse Pointe Park, and Stanley G. Johnson, of Grosse Pointe Village as School Trustees at the election to be held on the 13th of June next.

"Mr. Hibbard is already well known to the electorate. He was a candidate three years ago and lost by a narrow margin. A graduate of both the literary and law departments of the University of Michigan, an attorney by profession, and with a wide practical business experience, he has worked consistently for lower taxes and more efficiently managed schools.

"Mr. Johnson is an officer of the Burkhardt Company of Detroit. Coming to that company by request 17 years ago to check into their costs and operating methods he became eventually their treasurer and general manager.

"Both of these candidates were strong supporters of Mr. Conely. While they have been active in the study of school affairs and in the endeavors of the voters for the past several years to correct our troubles and lower taxes they do not seek office. Friends and supporters, however, insisting that they were familiar with conditions and could be trusted to cooperate with Mr. Conely finally prevailed upon them to run.

"They took a prominent part in defeating the proposed bond issue for a Three Junior High School program two years ago.

"That saved the community many hundred thousand dollars. That campaign disclosed also that whenever the Board did erect a school, they spent many thousands more than Detroit was paying at the same time for schools more attractive, more completely equipped, and with greater usable area. Now the community is saddled with a bonded debt of almost four million dollars on which it is paying some $270,000 a year for interest and sinking fund charges. Schools were needed, of course, and good ones, but the unfortunate impression prevailed on the Board that this was a rich community in which the taxpayer's dollar could be spent at will and that it was unnecessary to exercise economy.

"The result has been a steadily mounting tax rate and a startling cost for our education. The depression has brought sharply home to the people the good reason we have had to voice our protests for the past three years.

"As soon as Mr. Conely was elected he began his lone fight for a reduction in school costs. He stated that $50,000 could be saved on the 1932-32 budget last July when it was being discussed. The (Continued on Page Four)

Village "9" now known as "Merchants" lose to Ferndale 14-6

By JOHN E. ALLARD
That baseball club from Ferndale, Michigan required only a few moments with which to focus their eyes on the quality of flinging offered by all three of the Merchants toilers, Hillenbrand, Isola and Crandall, before applying bludgeon with effective gusto, in the initial game on our local lot last Sunday.

Hillenbrand, who started on the slab was found for five hits and as many runs in one and two-thirds innings. He issued four bases on balls, one of which came with the bases filled and forced in the first Ferndale tally. Rudy Isola was rushed to the rescue with two away in the second, and succeeded by striking out Nyboer. He continued his good work through the third but the visitors got to him and sent him to the showers before the sixth, whereupon Mel Crandall took up the burden only to suffer after two successive innings.

Hadden and Broome shared the pitching assignment for the visitors. Both are young men not much above their teens, if any, and possess the masculinity of a Sampson, particularly the former who stands six foot two and whose every pitch carries the speed of a cannon ball. He temporarily lost his control with two away in the first, sent Hinz and Kelly to first by the medium of being hit by pitched balls, passed Kaatz and Newcom, the latter forcing home a run. The ball which hit Kelly caught him on the left shoulder and he fell to the ground writhing in pain. The players and fans gathered around and after various sorts of massages were administered he regained consciousness sufficient to summon a physician. It was discovered his arm was out of joint. Bob Newcom qualified in this capacity by resetting the bone which fell into position with a thump. Tony Hilgendorf was sent to run in his place, stole a base and scored a run, which will be credited to Kelly as he resumed his position in centerfield at the outset of the second.

Little Joey Smith gives us the bad news that he will no longer be a member of the Merchants Club, as he is taking employment in the Thumb district and is becoming a member of the baseball club that represents Port Austin. We have learned it was through his ability as a ball player that he obtained employment. Every one who knows Joe has high respect for his ball playing, and his passing will be deeply felt by his club and the local fans. Good luck, Joe.

Bob Newcom played his first full game at first and proved his hitting prowess by getting two out of four to lead his club in batting. Incidentally, he made two hits in one time at bat in the third, for which he will not receive full credit. With runners on second and third he hit a clean double to right which hit twenty feet inside the right field foul line, scoring both runners. Doors to Learning
Neglect of the school child's eyes and ears may warp his entire life, Dr. Emily A. Pratt explains in an article in Hygiea Magazine. The eyes and ears are the portals for learning. Even though education may pass through a partially closed portal, the remainder of the body will suffer because the nerves will be strained and a general weakness will be the result.

Self Mastery
Gladstone had a philosophy that is good for the soul on proper reflection. He said: "Censure and criticism never hurt anybody. If false, they can't hurt you unless you are wanting in manly character; if true, they show a man his weak points and forewarn him against failure and trouble."

WOMEN

Are Increasingly Aware of the Value of Newspaper ADVERTISING

They have learned through experience that to look in the Grosse Pointe Review first is to save time and money afterwards. They have learned that advertisements in the Review give them the information they want, and the places where they can make their desired purchases. The Review is really a sort of clearing house of shops, those advertising in it steadily come under the notice of the many women readers, and they come into their stores, while those who don't advertise lose the chance of even being considered as a prospective market. You have a business, why not make it pay? Appeal to one woman and you appeal to many, for women never keep a secret. Neither does The Grosse Pointe Review—the chance is open to all, a guaranteed area of women buyers.

Our wide circulation of 7000 readers guarantees you a reading public, and a buying area that will pay tenfold the cost of advertising.
