Hundreds of boy and girl athletes vied for supremacy on the Pageant grounds in the morning in a series of races to open the Fourth of July program at the Park's "Waterfront Park". Barefooted and otherwise they ran and won.

In the afternoon, Congressman Robert H. Clancy is shown above before the "micro" addressing the thousands of spectators in attendance during the formal dedication ceremonies of the Park's new recreation park and swimming beach at the foot of Berrington Road. Alfred J. Garska, president of the Park Council, is shown at his right and followed Congressman Clancy on the speaking program.

William Harris and Flora Kies, shown above, portrayed the historic roles of George and Martha Washington in the pageant, "The Return of George and Martha Washington in 1832" presented in the afternoon at the park and participated in by more than 500 school children in colorful costume featuring minuets, folk dances and group singing.

30,000 Persons, It Is Estimated, Viewed the Park's "4th" Program

APPROXIMATELY 30,000 persons visited Grosse Pointe Park's new recreation park and swimming beach Fourth of July, according to official estimates, to witness the gala and spectacular program presented to mark the official observance of the Washington Bi-Centennial and the formal dedication of the park to the public.

The program started at 10 a. m. with an athletic carnival including running races and aquatic sports. Governor Wilbur M. Brucker addressed the thousands of spectators at 1:30 p. m., and at 2 p. m. a pageant was staged in which more than 500 children participated. They appeared in colorful costume in a series of minuets, dances and group singing.

Flag raising ceremonies and formal dedication ceremonies followed. Congressman Robert H. Clancy, Circuit Judge Joseph A. Moynihan and Alfred J. Garska, president of the Park, addressed those present following brief introductions by Walter Schweikart, Justice of the Peace.

In the evening, public dancing was held on the tennis courts with an intermission at 9 p. m. (Continued on Page Two)

Merchants Play

On Sunday, July 10, at the Neighborhood Club diamond, the Grosse Pointe Merchants will play the Universal Club in what promises to be a feature game.

Addresses July 4 at "Waterfront Park"

Congressman Clancy Said:

President Garska, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen:

First let me thank you most sincerely for inviting me here. May I most heartily congratulate the people of Grosse Pointe Park upon their public spirit, their daring, and their enterprise in buying and establishing this beautiful waterfront park? A park is regarded as a non-essential in hard times and this is a proud challenge to our times.

May I make bold to be more specific and felicitate President Al Garska and the Village Commission upon their vision and their audacity for initiating some years ago this ambitious project and pushing it to execution in these terrible times of depression through laying additional burdens of taxation upon the people of this Village of Grosse Pointe Park? Let us all take courage from your faith and confidence in the future.

Judge Moynihan Said:

"Truly we have a right to be grateful to the memory of Washington. He had his Valley Forge, but he had a deep-seated confidence in God Almighty and his Continentals. In this time of stress, we can likewise look to the memory of Washington to aid us in our present crisis and have the same wholesome confidence that with the aid of the same God that he looked to for guidance, we will emerge from our difficulties. Sincerely we can say with that other truly American, Abraham Lincoln, as he said of Washington, 'Washington's is the mightiest name of earth. Long since mightiest in the cause of civil liberty, still mightiest in moral reformation. On that name no eulogy is expected; it cannot be. To add brightness to the sun, or glory to the name of Washington, is alike impossible. Let none attempt it. In solemn awe we pronounce the name, and in its naked deathless splendor let it shine on.'"

Walter Schweikart Said:

Distinguished Guests: Ladies and Gentlemen: You are here today to dedicate this Recreation Park and also to celebrate Washington's Bi-Centennial. Without any question the events that you have seen today and will see later on will make a lasting impression on all of our minds, but the most important thing is, just consider what it means to the little children that have taken part in this event and how long they will carry it through their lives and discuss it among themselves, because this park will be used mostly by the children, and it was for their betterment, for their health and happiness, that the idea was conceived.

Now as we sit here and look around us the thought comes into our minds that the public officials of this community have done something worth while, and you have a concrete example when looking around you and you are (Continued on Page Four)

In Appreciation

Words are inadequate to express the very deep sense of appreciation for the remarkable co-operation between all of the various committees that helped to make Grosse Pointe Park's Fourth of July and Bi-Centennial celebration the tremendous success it turned out to be. All of the tedious detail labors preceding the big day were performed with a co-ordination of efforts that was almost unbelievable.

From the remarkable interest of the children in the pageant and the record attendance at rehearsals, the tedious drilling of the instructors, to the final work of creating and making the costumes, which necessitated hours of labor at the cutting table and sewing machines, the numerous detail arrangements of the various other committees, there was presented a rare exhibition of co-ordination of efforts.

In the Souvenir Edition of The Review, there appeared a list of names of those comprising the various committees who helped to make the day a success. We wish to include in this list the names of the following ladies who not only acted as supervisors of the various groups of children, but who assisted at the many sewing bees, making costumes for the children:

Mrs. C. C. Bodker, Mrs. H. E. Gieseking, Mrs. Ethel Cowe and her mother; Mrs. G. Armstrong, Miss Ruth Hanlon, Mrs. A. S. Joseffy, Mrs. L. S. Abbott, Mrs. A. L. Strem, Mrs. G. T. McGray, Mrs. C. F. Berry, Mrs. John H. MacPherson, Mrs. L. L. Fluent, Mrs. E. F. Foley, Mrs. V. G. Leach, Mrs. Henri Mathews, Mrs. Gerald Mar-

On July 4th about sixty members of the General Russell A. Alger Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars participated in the Bicentennial celebration of the dedication of Grosse Pointe Park's new Waterfront Park.

Starting in this issue of the REVIEW and to continue for a series of weeks, Alger Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will run a series of ar-articles to attempt to explain thoroughly what the V. F. W. is composed of and stands for.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. was organized in Columbus, Ohio, September 23, 1899, by fourteen comrades who had served overseas under the American flag. Under the leadership of James C. Putnam, this (Continued on Page Four)

You Must Register

Elsewhere in this issue is a Legal Notice notifying all residents of the Village that it is necessary to re-register in order to vote at any subsequent elections in the Village, Township or State particularly for the Presidential Election this Fall.

In the Village of Grosse Pointe some two hundred persons have responded to the notices and publicity and have registered since May 16. This means that more than two thousand electors in the Village will have to take advantage of the time remaining if they wish to express a choice on Presidential Primary Day.

What a celebration our comrades had at the dedication of the Grosse Pointe Park Waterfront Park. It was one of the most spectacular events ever witnessed by the residents of the Park.

Commander Butts, we congratulate you upon the hard work you put forth to make this event the success it was. Our Post was ably assisted by the Michigan National Guards, the Sailors and the Vincent Post of Highland Park, and in our small humble way we thank you for your able assistance.

Don't fail to attend the meeting of July 27th as many important matters are to be taken up along with the nomination of delegates to the State Convention. Be on hand and see that the right men are elected to represent us at this important conclave.

Our bridge party was a big success and the ladies are looking forward to another party.

The barbeque and swimming party was enjoyed by many comrades and their families and was a big financial success.

Thank You!

At a recent executive meeting of the Garden Club of Michigan, a resolution was passed extending to the GROSSE POINTE REVIEW the Club's deepest appreciation of the splendid publicity given in connection with the "Garden Market" held several weeks ago.

"This was of the greatest value to us in our undertaking," the resolution read, "and we wish to express to you our sincere thanks."

Pontiac Defeats Merchants 5 to 4

The Grosse Pointe Merchants were defeated by the Pontiac Club at Pontiac on Independence Day in a very closely contested game, being nosed out in the ninth, Crandall having disposed with the first two men to face him in the ninth.

On three different occasions did Kaatz and Newcom succeed in getting on base with no one down and died there when Stone forced the next three batters to pop up, but in the eighth and final occasion, Hilgendorf and Gordon banged out successive doubles to put their club in the lead by a one-run margin.

LIFECRAFTER DAY CAMP

When the whistle blew and the campers lined up for the first flag raising of the new Lifecrafter Day Camp for boys out on the Lakeshore road just below the Village of St. Clair Shores, on Tuesday, July 5th there were twenty-nine campers and seven camp officers in line.

Grosse Pointe and Eastside Detroit boys made up the camping group. The following boys were present: James Marinus, 144 Leviston road; Jack Neff, 641 Neff road; Charles Palms III, 78 Lakeshore road; Charles Casgrain, 42 Grosse Pointe boulevard; Enoch and George Williams, 530 Washington road; Edward and Frederick Murphy, 34 Provincial road; Edward Hock, 10 Moross road; James Ruwe, 325 Rivard boulevard; Charles Lee, Jr., 814 Barrington road; William Schwenk, 4174 Buckingham; Jack Lowther, 1299 Ashland; William Smith, 1100 Manistique; Howard Hill, 1030 Chalmers; James Jones, Charles Nutting and Peter Hunt, who live at the Camp Site, and eleven boys from the St. Columba Episcopal Church choir, at Manistique and Jefferson.

The choir boys, who were slightly older than the average of the rest of the campers, were organized into a separate unit under the supervision of Star Scout Richard Studer, Troop 53, Detroit. Included in this group were Charles and Vincent May, Robert and Daniel Brown, Kenneth Sumpter, George Blair, Robert Pope, Richard Cragg, Charles Farrow, James Dow and Harold Megrew.

The day was crowded full of the good times that go with camp life. After the physical exams by the Camp Health Director in the morning there was baseball, boating, group games, a short swim (it was rather cool on Tuesday morning it will be remembered). And of course there was the Treasure Hunt first thing in the morning. The event the first morning was to see who could find the most of the peanuts that were hidden all over the camp.

Robert Brown found 76 so he won first place. He was made "Officer of the Day." Next in number were George Williams and Edward Murphy so they were chosen for the honor of putting up the flag in the morning and lowering it in the evening.

When the bus came to take the boys home at 5:30 all the boys decided the first day of the Lifecrafter Day Camp for boys had been a huge success and was a good omen for a happy camp during the summer.

The camp operates six days per week. The boys are picked up and taken to the Lakeshore Bus line from where they are transported out to the camp and home again each evening. The camp is under the direction of Waldo R. Hunt. Enquiries regarding the camp should be made of Mr. Leif Simonsen at the Grosse Pointe Neighborhood Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney H. Morgan, of Bedford road, spent the week-end in Battle Creek with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. John Wentworth, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Ford, of Windmill Pointe Drive, are chaperoning a party of young people, several of them from Toledo, who are cruising on the lakes for three weeks.

Before coming home Mr. and Mrs. Ford will go to Little Current, Ont., where their son, Frederick S. Ford, Jr., and John B. Ford III, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ford, Jr., are spending a month with their grandmother, Mrs. John B. Ford, at her summer camp. The children will return to Detroit with their parents.

Children's day was held recently at the Country Club. There were grown-ups there to be sure but all the activities were planned to please the youngsters. The potato races aroused much excitement. But most fun of all were the antics of the handcuffed man who wriggled and twisted to the great delight of the youthful audience.

Chiropractors Meet During First Week Of August in Detroit

The Michigan Perfect Back Contest, sponsored by the Detroit Chiropractic Society, will be held the first week in August, during the annual convention held in Detroit.

Valuable prizes will be given. Ladies wishing to enter apply for information at the office of O. D. Brownell, D. C., D. D. T., 14309 East Jefferson avenue at Lakewood boulevard. Phone Lenox 1965.

During the week of August 1st the National Chiropractic Association will hold its annual convention at Detroit. Representatives and delegates from every state in the union and from several other countries will be in attendance. Detroit chiropractors will play the part of host to the chiropractors of the world on this occasion.

We also want to give to the people of Detroit an opportunity to become more closely acquainted with chiropractic and with our guests from far and near. We have therefore arranged for a great public meeting to take place the evening of August 2nd, and we have engaged the main auditorium and the main ballroom of the Masonic Temple, Detroit, for the occasion. The evening's program is designed for your entertainment and you will agree that this is to be one of the greatest entertainments ever provided for the people of Detroit.

Among features for the evening will be the announcement of the winners in the Michigan High School Essay Contest, "The Spine in Relation to Health," which contest was conducted by the National Chiropractic Association. All of the entrants in the final judging in the Michigan "Perfect Back" contest will pass in review, with winners of the contest to be announced at this meeting and prizes awarded. Hayward Thompson, the par optician, will give one of his marvelous and mysterious demonstrations, and will tell you how he developed his uncanny Chiropractic Convention. You will see him dashing about through the crowded city traffic, driving an automobile while completely blindfolded, and performing other seemingly impossible feats.

Several high-class big time vaudeville acts will be presented for your entertainment. Two nationally-known speakers will be provided. One of these will be Lieutenant-Governor Albert B. Chandler of Kentucky, the man with the "million dollar personality," known to all Kentuckians as "Happy" Chandler. You will never forgive yourself if you miss hearing Lieutenant-Governor Chandler on this occasion. The second speaker of the evening is going to be a surprise to you, a person whose name is familiar to every American. We will announce his identity later; watch for it.

Following the entertainment, dancing in the main ballroom of the Masonic Temple to one of Detroit's finest orchestras will be in order up to 1 a. m. The admission price to cover the entire evening's entertainment, including government tax, is $1.10 per person. Tickets can be obtained from Detroit chiropractors, and I will be very glad to take care of the needs of yourself and friends.

In addition to the many features already mentioned, we are going to give away absolutely free on this occasion one of the new and now famous Plymouth Floating Power Sedans. You may be the lucky one.

We want to cordially invite you and your family to attend this meeting, and we suggest that you purchase your tickets early and that you arrive at the Masonic Temple early the evening of August 2nd, so that you may take advantage of the entire evening's entertainment.

Come out and see these colored boys that are taking Detroit sand lots all over. The management wishes to announce that this club has defeated the Colored Monarchs this year as well. Time 3 p. m. "Only on the Rhine" can happenings such as these affect the people as they do. "Nur Am Rhein" finds the Union Jack flying over the Rhine and the English soldiers in the towns. But there is one thing that can bridge the gap between two peoples—and that is love. In a setting such as this we find a thrilling romance—all the result of an exciting rescue of the mayor's daughter and her girl friend by a fascinating English captain. You can imagine all that follows. And you may rest assured that it is all woven into a charming and delightful little story with a brilliant cast that is, however, new to Detroit audiences.
Igo Sym who plays the romantic lead in this picture is personable and has "it" as well as ability, while Traus von Aalton just runs away with the show. Traus who looks a great deal like Colleen Moore is a vivacious, pretty, and exceedingly clever.
English or German, Polish or French, or whatever, you'll understand and thoroughly enjoy this presentation. "Nur am Rhein" ("Only on the Rhine") comes to the Little Cinema theater, 56 E. Columbia, Saturday, July 2, with an all star cast that follows:
The Mayor.....Emil Rameau
His wife.....Marie Reisenhafer
Hannah, their daughter.....Daisy d'Ora
Lora, Hannah's girl friend.....
.....Truus von Aalton
Captain Barrymore.....Igo Sym
Hoop.....Teddy Bill
An English officer.....Hugh Douglas
Trude.....Lenne Jiling
And cenary, music, that will hold you entranced.
Lest we forget—the opening of "Nur Am Rhein" also brings the new reduced summer policy prices: 25c matinees daily, 35c evenings; Sunday and holidays, 35c all day; children up to 10 years old admitted free accompanied by an adult; children 10-12 years 15c. Keep cool, relaxed and rested at the Little Cinema theater these hot days.
Much comment and much praise has been coming in regards to Fritz Kortner, the male lead in last week's huge success "Brothers Karamazov." Who is he? What did he play in? Doesn't he resemble Wallace Beery? etc.
Fritz Kortner is one of the most important German stage and screen actors. He has created the role of Prosecutor Haller in "Der Andere"—you've seen his splendid portrayal of Dmitri in "Brothers Karamazov." He played a superb part in "Danton" in the famous French Revolution film based on the activities of that great patriot. Mr. Kortner has played many different parts which have won him considerable fame and renown as a great performer.

At the Michigan

Howard Thurston, dean of magicians, and an American institution for the past two decades, is now the stage attraction at the Michigan theater with his entire company presenting a mammoth new magic and mystery show.
Baffling, bewildering illusions interspersed with innocent fun and laughter make Thurston's show one of the most entertaining of the season.

At the Riviera

This week the Riviera theater presents Frederic March and Sylvia Sydney in their latest screen success, "Merrily We Go To Hell," from Cleo Lukkas' sensational novel, "I Jerry, Take Thee, Joan."

Five-Day Week Common Forty Centuries Ago

Soviet Russia, in establishing a five-day week, merely adopted a calendar which was in use more than forty centuries ago among the ancient Hittites and Assyrians. Dr. I. J. Geib of the Oriental Institute at the University of Chicago, discovered.
Tablets containing the business correspondence of some Assyrian merchants who went to trade in the Hittite city about 2200 B. C., were also found. Their messages were inscribed on clay, which were then baked into brick. The tablets disclose that the credit ratings of the Hittites were none too good with the Assyrian visitors. The visiting merchants charged the local business men from 50 to 60 per cent for loans, and one Assyrian lender got 180 per cent and a bonus in honey. The terms never exceeded six months, and there was no difficulty in enforcing a judgment. If the borrower didn't pay, he became the slave of his creditor. Between themselves, the Assyrians loaned money at from 20 to 30 per cent.
The borrowers were not without legal protection, however, it was disclosed by one tablet deciphered by Doctor Geib. "I am returning herewith the half mina of silver which I owe you," the debtor wrote, "and if you again request payment, I have the right to kill you."

Flax Cultivation Old Matter to the Maoris

The application of science to industry has done much to increase the productivity of New Zealand soil, but in one instance at least science has now only discovered what the old-time Maoris knew 100 years ago. This fact was readily admitted by Dr. E. Marsden, secretary of the New Zealand department of scientific and industrial research, when discussing the development of the flax industry. Doctor Marsden said the Maoris had a complete knowledge of the varieties of flax suitable for their several purposes. Three of the best varieties used by the department for breeding and crossing have been obtained from old Maori women. Some of the plants owned by these Maoris had been maintained for specific uses for the past 100 years, and the knowledge of the peculiar properties of the different varieties possessed by the aged cultivators had surprised the research officers.

Venetian Merchant Fleets

Crowe and Cavalcaselle wrote of the merchant fleets of old Venice: "Every year six fleets were formed and manned and convoyed at the public expense. The freightage of the fleet was sold by auction and anyone might ship his merchandise at the price of the day. One squadron sailed to the Black sea with goods for Russia and Central Asia; another stopped at Constantinople after touching at ports of Greece and the islands; a third took the Armenian traffic to the harbors of Asia Minor and Syria; a fourth fed the markets of Egypt through Alexandria; a fifth, the Moors of Africa and Spain; the sixth went through the straits to the Netherlands and British isles."

Where "Bad" Means "Good"

For the protection of the word "bad," the German government has passed a special law. The word "bad" is affixed before the names of countless big or small German spas. A "bad" is a health resort where nature supposedly provides all that is required to restore the health of weary humans. A town may now call itself "bad" only if it has "special medical qualities, such as mineral springs, curative waters, or specially invigorating air." Furthermore, it must have perfect drinking water, good quarters for visitors, hygienic sanitary provisions and at least one doctor and one drug store with full medical equipment.

Queer Old Baisifs

Chocolate, which has enjoyed first place popularity for many hundreds of years, was once regarded as a sinful food. Joao Franc Rauch in 1624 wrote a treatise about chocolate in which he condemned it as a "violent inflamer of the passions," and urged that the monks should be forbidden to drink it. Another writer complained that the addition of sugar destroyed the value of chocolate, because sugar was a "corrosive salt and an enemy of the body."

Beginning of Great Work

What is said to be the earliest Ladies Aid society work is spoken of in the ninth chapter of Acts, from the thirty-fifth to the fortieth verses, describing Tabitha or Dorcas, who with other saints and widows devoted their time to serving the distressed of the early Christians, ministering to the sick and afflicted and making little coats and garments for the clothing and health of the poor children, as well as ministering to the disciples and apostles.

Laugh at Yourself

Prof. Carl G. Gamm of Rutgers college, New Jersey, who when he says that, smiles: "A moron, a halfwit, even an idiot, can laugh at other people's mishaps; the man who can laugh at a superstition, a custom, a tradition, an institution, must be an observer; but the man who can genuinely laugh at himself, is truly intelligent."—Quoted in "Golden Book."

Preserving Documents

A good method of preserving valuable paper documents is to paste the sheet between two sheets of strong thin transparent material such as silk or Japanese tissue. This treatment adds strength to the paper and also delays the chemical changes.

No One Is Quite Perfect

We long for ideal relations and wonderful friendships, forgetting that all relationships are made by the people who enter into them. Suppose the perfect friend should appear—what would we have to offer in return for such a rare gift?

Exercise and Muscles

Exercise causes muscles to develop. The actual mechanics of the development of muscle consists of an increased amount of blood to the heart during exercise. This causes growth of the muscle and tissues, with the resulting development in size.

Mammalian Hairs

Hair is the characteristic covering of mammals. Hairs are not wanting on any mammals, but vary greatly in abundance, some being densely clothed while others possess it only on limited parts of the body.

Named by the Dutch

Coney Island, as typically American as some may consider it today, is almost a pure Dutch name, says an article in the New York Sun. It appears on old maps of the Peter Stuyvesant period as "Cogni Eylant," the "g" being soft, like "y," as in "cognac."

Copied British Usage

The reason usually advanced for the dollar mark being put before the figures in American money is that the English colonists were accustomed to place the mark for the British pound before the figures, so did the same with the dollar mark.

Perfect Citizenship

The title "epitome of good citizenship" has been applied to the verses found in Mark, 12:17; Luke 20:25, with respect to payment of taxes: "Render unto Caesar (the state) the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's."

Where Commander Died

When General Kearny was wounded in fighting on the Ballard farm in Virginia, during the Civil war, he was carried to a large stump of black oak which was four feet across. Here he died in a short time. The stump therefore, was always known as the Kearny stump. After it decayed and crumbled, a stone marker replaced it.

Earliest "Gold Standard"

When Phillip of Macedon started a great gold currency, it was then that sufficient fluid capital could be wielded to attack Persia. The union of that great kingdom, the mightiest known in the world till then, from the Balkans to Lahore, rested upon a vast gold basis, the central store being 200 tons of gold, worth $150,000,000.

WOMEN

Are Increasingly Aware of the Value of Newspaper

ADVERTISING

They have learned through experience that to look in the Grosse Pointe Review first is to save time and money afterwards. They have learned that advertisements in the Review give them the information they want, and the places where they can make their desired purchases. The Review is really a sort of clearing house of shops, those advertising in it steadily come under the notice of the many women readers, and they come into their stores, while those who don't advertise lose the chance of even being considered as a prospective market. You have a business, why not make it pay? Appeal to one woman and you appeal to many, for women never keep a secret. Neither does The Grosse Pointe Review—the chance is open to all, a guaranteed area of women buyers.

Our wide circulation of 7000 readers guarantees you a reading public, and a buying area that will pay tenfold the cost of advertising.

WARNING

William Weigand, Chief of Police in the Village of Grosse Pointe, due to minor accidents with children, wishes to send out this warning to parents. School vacations now being in force parents are advised to warn their children of the dangers that lurk in the streets due to the heavy traffic of motor cars that the warm weather brings out. Special warning should be given the children that ride bicycles in the streets.

Drivers of commercial vehicles are warned to strictly observe the speed limits in the Village of Grosse Pointe and to be very cautious in vicinities where children are apt to be playing in the streets.

Every effort is being made to stress the importance and need of re-registering so as to insure eligibility to vote next Fall and Spring. Electors are reminded that failure or neglect to so register will mean that they will be denied the right to vote.

So that residents who are unable to register during the day-time hours at the Village Hall may be taken care of, the Clerks office will be open for registration on Mondays from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock in the evening. It is hoped that Village residents will, as rapidly as possible, apply for registration and avoid the delay and expense of a last minute rush.

Provision is being made to register all residents who, by reason of illness are confined at home or in a hospital. Also, all who are out of town who will make written application. All local Clubs and organizations are being notified that a representative of the Village will be glad to call at any meeting or gathering at any time at which ten or more residents are present.

Our good friend, Al Garska, was himself the first to conceive this public improvement and he has been loyally backed for many years by the Village Commission consisting of Samuel Bastien, Louis A. DeHayes, Otto J. Goerhn, William E. Krapp, William E. Shoemaker, and John P. Veriinden. They merit the gratitude of the entire community of Grosse Pointe Park, as well as of the neighboring territory of the township and of the city of Detroit.

They are too modest to allow it to be done now while they are in office but I predict that some day worthy successors of theirs will set up a tablet or monument to Al Garska and his colleagues duly setting forth for all time the achievement of this park which we are celebrating on such a large scale today.

May I express a sense of satisfaction that you selected this beautiful stretch of land and water for the location of your park? May I dare to say that I was here before you with a federal establishment, yonder magnificent U. S. Marine Hospital for sick and disabled war veterans and sailors? Many years ago I conceived the idea of abandoning the old hospital at Mt. Elliot and Jefferson avenues in the noisy, dirty, smoky malodorous factory district and building a new one in a more beautiful and healthier place. With my colleague, Congressman Clarence J. McLeod, I suffered many disappointments, but finally when desperate in the last days of a session of Congress a few years ago, we took our woes directly to the White House, to President Calvin Coolidge and we converted that busy, economical soul, so that he threw all the power of his great office behind us.

He sent immediately for his Director of the Budget, General Lord, and told that important personage to cease his efforts to kill our Detroit hospital project and to boost it, not to knock it.

Then with that sanction, in about two days, we pushed our bill through Congress, making a record, for it generally takes weeks and months to get such a bill through the red tape of Congress. Now Congress has come back again with a great addition and out-buildings, and is going ahead to make the grounds more than ever a beauty spot.

Some nuisances here have been abolished and we are going to continue the work until Fox Creek is covered over at its outlet and the piece of land on the park side of the creek is no longer an eyesore or a nuisance.

Yes, we placed the great hospital at the most beautiful and healthful spot on the Detroit River, just where wonderful Lake St. Clair empties into the Detroit River, with a view of Peche Isle, Belle Isle and a constant panorama most months in the year of majestic freight and passenger vessels, launches and sail yachts passing. More water traffic passes here than through the Panama and Suez Canals, combined, with London, England, thrown in.

Now Al Garska and his village fathers confirm the judgment of McLeod and myself by selecting this peerless spot for their park.

For countless centuries some of the greatest nations of the world fought for this strategic gateway. France, England and the United States shed the blood of thousands of gallant sons in neighboring battles for Detroit and this river.

For countless centuries before the whites came, the Indians fought for this happy hunting ground. Within historic times, a few centuries ago, tribes of the Sacs, Foxes, and Wyandottes fought all one summer day from morn to noon, from noon to dewy eve, between here and Peche Isle. They overturned their canoes alongside Peche Isle and fought to their waists with knives and tomahawks and bows and arrows, while the clear waters ran red with their blood, and their dead and wounded floated to the deeper and swifter waters which swept around the head of Belle Isle.

To the thousands of happy children here today, who with their songs and parading and costumes have materially helped to make this day memorable, may I say that when you grow older, you will realize that nothing worth while is won or held in this world except by fighting, except by service and sacrifice, except by the sweat of the brow and except by worry, anxiety and even anguish.

Your fathers and mothers pay taxes for this park mainly to give a happy and healthy play-ground for the kiddies.

Congress spent considerable money to celebrate this year the two-hundredth anniversary of the birthday of the Father of His Country, George Washington, because it is forever necessary for the salvation of the republic to awaken our people with the story of the terrible hardships, the heroism and the wisdom of George Washington and the founding fathers of this country.

God knows none of us wanted this world-wide panic and depression which has ruined most of the countries of the earth, bringing red rebellion and revolution to over twenty-five nations.

God knows our public officials would put an end to this period of terror and suffering now if they could. But out of it has come sober thought and appreciation of what our ancestors suffered in harder times than these, in the blood and iron days of our early American wars, and in the periods of dreadful panic and famine and depression which have periodically assailed our land since the first settlers on our shores wrestled valiantly with depression.

The last few months have seen a new spirit in the American people. They are seeing vested abuses and wrongs and tyrannies with clearer eyes and they are rising to end them. We are protesting mightily against federal invasions of personal liberty.

That is the story of the recent presidential conventions, and their meaning. Mass fanaticism working through clever and high-powered organizations is being attacked by good Americans and the government is going to be restored to the people.

This year Detroit and Wayne county are not only celebrating George Washington's birthday, but they are celebrating a great local individual constitutional victory.

We gain this year four additional congressmen, four additional presidential electoral votes and eight additional presidential delegates.

Michigan was a tremendous factor in the recent presidential elections because of this added power.

Detroit will be more of a power than ever when it gains four additional Congressmen in Washington and four additional electoral votes in the elections of next November.

They were only won by fighting as fierce as that of the Indians who clashed here. For many years we had been cheated out of these congressmen and votes by other sections of the country, by the southern and western states. -So this day we can be thankful for the celebration honor of this park which is given to the people, for a proper spirit of homage and reverence for the memory of George Washington, for the rebellion against curtailment of our personal liberties and for the gain for this county of four additional congressmen, four additional electoral votes and eight additional presidential delegates.

At the Fisher

Stoopnagle and Budd, famous radio stars, are appearing in person at the Fisher theater all this week. These comics of the air really put on a great show, one of the funniest seen in a long time. When Lemuel Q. Stoopnagle and his pal Budd start wisecracking and clowning you can count on having the time of your life. And the mighty gaspige organ that they play—it creates a riot. When it comes to honest-to-goodness laughs and comedy these fellows certainly have it.

group was chartered on October 11, 1899, under the name of "American Veterans of Foreign Service."

On December 12 1899, the Colorado Society Army of the Philippines, was formed in Denver, Colorado with General Irving Hale as its founder. The following year this society became national in scope, and John S. Stewart Post No. 1, established in Denver at that time is still an active unit of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S.

Several smaller veteran groups, organized in Pennsylvania from 1901 to 1903, united with the American Veterans of Foreign Service in 1905. This body in turn amalgamated with the Army of the Philippines in 1913 and the united society became known as the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. The eligibility requirements formulated by that group of fourteen veterans in Columbus Ohio, on September 23 1899, are virtually the same as those that govern eligibility regulations of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. today.

In 1917, at the time of America's entrance into the World War, Posts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. could be found in every section of the United States. Thousands of its members again entered the service under the American flag and the name and fame of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. was spread over every battlefield in Europe where American soldiers were engaged. As a result, when the younger veterans of the World War returned to their native shores from Europe, Siberia, the Far East, or from service on the high seas, they were greeted by the members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. who, like themselves, had fought or Old Glory under alien skies.

Today the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S.—America's Gold Chevron Order—is composed of Posts in every state in the Union, as well as in Alaska, the Canal Zone, Hawaii, the Philippines, Europe and Cuba. Today the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. is recognized as America's most unique veteran organization, taking a militant lead in all great movements tending to help the veteran and his dependents.

Honorable service in the Army, Navy Marine Corps, or Coast Guard of the United States on foreign soil or in hostile waters during a time of war for which the government of the United States authorizes the issuance of a campaign medal, constitutes the basis of eligibility to membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S.

In accordance with the above, any World War veteran who has received, or is eligible to receive, a victory medal with service or battle clasp, is eligible to V. F. W. membership. In addition, any honorably discharged veteran who has received, or is entitled to receive, from the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps of the United States any of the following campaign medals is also eligible to membership:

Spanish Campaign Medal (not Spanish War Service Medal), Philippine Campaign Medal, Cuban Occupation Medal, Porto Rican Occupation Medal, China Relief Expedition Medal, Cuban Pacification Medal, Nicaraguan Medal, 1912-1913, Haitian Campaign Medal, 1915, Dominican Campaign Medal, 1916, Mexican Service Medal (not Mexican Border Service Medal), World War Victory Medal with service or battleclasp, Haitian Campaign Medal, 1919-1920, Second Nicaraguan Campaign Medal, 1926-1930, Yangtze Campaign Medal for service in China in 1926-1927.

The Alger Post will hold its next meeting Monday, July 11 at its headquarters located at the Otsiketa Club, 17135 St. Paul avenue.

Country Club Polo

Grosse Pointe upset the Cavaliers for the Detroit Country Club polo title Sunday 6-5. Third position was taken by Lochmoor by beating St. Clair, 8 to 5.

Volney Bayley made all four Cavalier goals in the first two chukkers, the fifth point being accounted for by a one-goal handicap. Charles Delbridge was the individual star for Grosse Pointe. He scored twice and was largely responsible for the two other points.

Hale Sattley accounted for all five of the St. Clair points. George Hammond made six of Lochmoor's eight, with his brother, John, and Dick Jackson putting through one apiece.

The Country Club teams played again Wednesday and are scheduled to play Sunday, 3:30 p. m., on the Cook Road field at Mack and Seven Mile road. Hillwood will play Grosse Pointe and Lochmoor will meet St. Clair.

The Hillwood team composed of four of the Hammond brothers, Fred, George, John, and Ted, played as a group for the first time this season Wednesday, although in former years the combination was inseparable. They defeated Grosse Pointe 6 to 4 in a fast, well-played game.

Hank Evenger broke the ice by scoring for Grosse Pointe in the second chukker. Ted and George Hammond came back in the third to tie and gain a lead. John Hammond scored twice and Ted once in the fourth while Tom Hammond, playing against his brothers, added a point for Grosse Pointe. Ted tallied again in the fifth while Art Dewey and John Franklin made the final two for the losers.

Lochmoor and St. Clair played a slow, cantering practice game in which the St. Clair men won 4 to 2. John Kinzie and Bill Newman made a goal each for St. Clair with William Harris accounting for the other two. John Franklin and Charles Delbridge scored for Lochmoor.

bound to come to the conclusion that this park represents taxpayers' money well spent, and for the work of the President and the Village Commission to have taken the steps to make this vacant property a reality for a beautiful park you will all agree with me that they should be rewarded in some respect. As usual, to carry out any public improvement there is some man, or some one person, who takes the leadership and originates the idea, and through a great deal of hard work and perseverance carry out that idea, and to tell you about the person that took the initiative and the leadership for the idea of establishing a water front park in the Village of Grosse Pointe Park it is necessary to tell you a story about this idea that was formulated in this man's mind, and it is necessary to tell you that the leader of the movement to establish this park was born in this community.

Directly in front of us, before these improvements were thought of, this was his old swimming hole in the summer time and in the winter he did his hunting on this beautiful Lake St. Clair. At that time all of this property along the Lake Shore was farm lands, and as this boy grew up in this community he was restricted from using the lake in front of this property for the reason that the property fronting on this lake in this community was being purchased by wealthy citizens, who were building beautiful homes, and as time went on he could see that within a short time those people who were fortunate enough to be able to buy this property would have the use of this lake. But induced to run for Village Treasurer fortunately for you and I this boy was urer of this community to handle your money and my money that the people paid for their taxes, and he did such an excellent job in that position that the community at large, the whole of Grosse Pointe Township, which embraces all five villages, induced him to run for Township Treasurer of Grosse Pointe Township. He was elected to that position and he did his work so well there that this community decided that they wanted him to help to administer the affairs of Grosse Pointe Park. He then gave up his position as Township Treasurer and was elected to the Village Commission, which position he held for a good many years honorably, requested him to run for the office of faithfully and intelligently. Then a committee of citizens came to him and re-President of this Village. After talking it over with them he told them he would support him on two major projects concerning the Village of Grosse Pointe Park. The first project was to acquire a lake park for the Village of Grosse Pointe Park, and the other one was to cover up Fox Creek, which was an open creek going through all of the Village of Grosse Pointe Park. The committee advised him against putting these two planks in his platform, advising him that taxes would be raised and that the citizens would not elect him to the office of President if he insisted upon carrying through these improvements, but he was firm in his belief, having lived here so long, that it was after a great deal of discussion and for the betterment of this Village, and argument the citizens agreed to support him for the office of President of this Village, and shortly after his election he started to carry out the planks that were in his platform.

You all know that Fox Creek was covered up; that a concrete sewer took the plate of the open creek, and that at the present time, unless you are an old resident of this community, it would be impossible to tell that there was ever such an unsightly creek going through this beautiful Village.

He then started proceedings to acquire this property. He met with a great deal of opposition from a large number of tax payers in this community. They made reasonable arguments against the project; they were honest and fair in their criticism of this project, but notwithstanding all these objections this idea that this boy had formulated when he was a youth became a reality, and the property here was acquired, and now I am frank to say that every one of those persons who objected to this park at the beginning are now boosters for it, for the reason that they are having their recreation here, and if they had been born here and had used this property as this man did as a swimming hole, they would not have objected at all.

Now, in addition to that, at the time of these objections the residents were of the opinion that taxes would be raised, but I am happy to say that during the eight years that this man was connected with our community as an official, and even this year with the acquiring of this beautiful park, taxes have not and will not be raised. So in closing there is only way that we can give him any reward for his services in this connection, and that is to make him Chairman of these proceedings today, so therefore, my friends, I take a great deal of pleasure in introducing our neighbor, our friend, and our President Alfred J. Garska.
