Merriweather Road Residents Carry Plea Before School Board

A PETITION from residents of Grosse Pointe Farms in the vicinity of Merriweather road was presented to the Grosse Pointe School Board at its regular meeting held last Monday evening.

The petition asked that Merriweather road and vicinity be included in the Gabriel Richard school district in order that children in that neighborhood might attend the nearby Gabriel Richard school rather than be sent to the more distant Kerby school as they have been by orders of the superintendent of schools, Dr. S. M. Brownell.

The petition in addition to setting forth that the children on Merriweather road were closer to the Gabriel Richard school than to the Kerby school pointed out that residents there purchased property with the understanding that their children would be able to attend the Gabriel Richard school. It also stated that as taxpayers of Grosse Pointe Farms they were not being submitted the use of school facilities in their own village even though the property site of that school and the High school were off the tax rolls and with the result that their respective village taxes were higher.

Charles A. Parcels, president of the School Board, stated the position of the School Board in reply to the petition, to the effect that the Board was anxious to work out a satisfactory agreement to all concerned. He stated that the teacher "load" at the Gabriel Richard school was "40" as compared with a teacher "load" of "25" at the Kerby school. He stated that it naturally follows that with the less crowded conditions and the lighter teacher "load" at the Kerby school their children would apparently receive better educational care.

A committee was appointed to investigate conditions and a report on the recommendation to the School Board is expected at an early date. The committee was to meet Friday evening in the Cadieux school building.

Gov. Roosevelt Confers with Newspapermen and "Mag" Writers

By WILLIAM F. DORN

"Come in, sit down, and let's talk things over," was Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's greeting to nearly two score of newspapermen and magazine writers, who last Sunday availed themselves of an invitation to attend a press conference in Gov. Roosevelt's suite at the Hotel Statler.

"What questions have you to ask of me?" was Gov. Roosevelt's next comment by way of conversation.

Questions were not forthcoming at once. The newspapermen and writers were taking inventory of Gov. Roosevelt as "a man." During this lull, the Democratic presidential nominee conversed with members of his party commenting on interesting happenings of his trip across the country in connection with his campaign.

Haltingly the quizzing of the candidate got under way. The subjects covered in the questions ranged from sectional matters to national issues and generally to international subjects. Questions touching on matters not already treated of in his previous campaign speeches, Gov. Roosevelt stated in reply that his views on national and international matters were to be expressed only in his speeches, that he had some five weeks left to campaign in and that all matters and subjects regarded as of interest would be covered in his speeches to be made before the campaign closes.

Pressed for commitments on the Soldier's Bonus, the St. Lawrence Waterway project and other kindred controversial subjects, Gov. Roosevelt parried these with grace and deftness, refusing to be angered at the inconsistency of the press representatives and emphasizing his earlier statement that his views on these subjects would be expressed in his speeches only. Matters already commended on in his speeches to date, he readily elucidated on for the benefit of his questioners.

Grosse Pointe Police Radio Station Aids Man's Rescue in Lake

By intercepting a wireless message from the freighter Walsh to a Cleveland station, in which Capt. Rutledge of the Walsh stated that they were "standing by" a man who had been clinging to his overturned row-boat. Operators Wise and Van Cott, of Station WRDR, helped in a great measure to save the life of Fred Stahl, 50 years old, of St. Clair Shores. The prompt dispatch of two police boats, that of Grosse Pointe Shores Police and W. P. Neff's new fast cruiser which answers police radio calls for Grosse Pointe Village, played no small part in the rescue.

Democratic Presidential Nominee Advocates "Social Justice" Here

Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, Democratic nominee for president, in an address last Sunday at the Naval Armory, Detroit, said in part:

"The philosophy of 'letting things alone' has resulted in the days of the cave man and in the days of the automobile in the jungle law of the survival of the so-called fittest....the United States Public Health Service has said, 'Over six million of our public school children haven't enough to eat. Many of them are fainting at their desks. They are a prey to disease. Their future health is menaced. There are two theories of prosperity and of well being; first, the theory that if we make the rich richer, somehow they will let a part of their prosperity trickle through to the rest of us....An second theory is that if we make the average of mankind comfortable and secure, their prosperity will rise upward just as yeast rises up through the ranks....We need leadership of people who are honest in their thinking and harvest in their doing. We need leadership if it is straight thinking that is unselfish, but in the last analysis, we have got to have the help of the men and women all the way from the top to the bottom especially of the men and women who believe in the school of philosophy which is not content to leave things as they are.... We Americans everywhere must and shall choose the path of social justice, the only path that will lead us to a permanent bettering of our civilization, the path that our children must tread and their children must tread, the path of faith, the path of hope and the path of love towards our fellow man."

Elmer B. O'Hara, Park Resident, Headed Group To Receive Roosevelt

ELMER B. O'HARA, of Grosse Pointe Park, and Democratic nominee for County Clerk, headed the Democratic Reception committee to greet Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, on the occasion of his visit to Detroit last Sunday in connection with his quest for the Presidency of the United States as the Democratic standard bearer and party nominee.

Under the direction of Mr. O'Hara, several score of Democratic leaders both men and women assembled at the Edmund C. Vernier, Township Supervisor, Ralph Beaupre, Township Clerk, and John Kerby, Grosse Pointe Farms clerk, were among the prominent Democrats of Michigan who heard Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's address at the Naval Armory, Detroit, last Sunday. "Ed" Vernier and his party were seated in a box directly in front of the speaker's stand.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Minnie R. Chapman has returned to her home on Lincoln Road, Grosse Pointe Village, after a three week's motor trip to Rhinelander, Wis., where she visited her mother, Mrs. Franklin S. Robbins.

The Rev. and Mrs. Francis B. Creamer are moving today to the Andrew H. Green, Jr., home on Cadieux Road.

October seems to be the most popular month for charming addresses among society families. Mr. and Mrs. Renville Wheat will move shortly to 4 Woodland Place, Grosse Pointe, to be with Mrs. Wheat's aunt, Miss Anne

D. Russel. Mrs. Wheat's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell C. Goddard, who have been living on Beaconsfield Ave., will occupy the Wheat house on Maumee avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ashley Schemm, formerly of Beaconsfield avenue, are now enconced in their new home on Notre Dame, in Grosse Pointe. Mr. Schemm's mother, Mrs. Maude Ripley Schemm, of Saginaw, is visiting her son and daughter-in-law at present.

Good news for many is the announcement that the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club will remain open all winter. A slight difference in the schedule for party nights has been made. The feature parties will be held Saturday instead of Wednesday, as they have been all summer.

There will be a mixed bridge at the club Thursday preceded by dinner. The title of next Saturday's affair is "Soiree de Paris" with decorations and entertainment carrying out the Parisian atmosphere.

Monticello Ballroom

On Sunday, Oct. 9th the Monticello Ballroom, Jefferson at Chalmers avenue will feature the well known Maxiene in an Egyptian specialty number.

Floyd Snyder and the ever popular band will furnish the music. Those who present copy of their advertisement in this week's issue will be admitted for 25 cents either Saturday or Sunday. Clip the coupon and save.

Wallace Gamber Has Accepted Challenge of Emrick Kocsis

An event, which promises to parallel the famous Robin Hood-Long John bow shoot, which resulted in a long distance record and a historic feat of brawn and skill, may happen any time, right here in Detroit. If memory serves the writer correctly it was Little John, who after being chided by Robin Hood undertook his challenge to compete with the long bow, in which event Long John's arrow was never found.

History repeats itself, but the modern test of long shooting has been transformed from the arrow into the golf ball. It all happened at a recent golf tournament.

Wallace Gamber, brother of Clarence Gamber, long driving pro, is answering the challenge of Emrick Kocsis to a driving contest, best ball in five. The challenger may select the course, time, etc. Clarence Gamber has offered the Tommy Armour Golf Club to be the scene of the contest. It promises to be an event worth seeing and it is hoped the caddy can find the balls.

Neighborhood Club Activities

On Saturday evening, October 15th, at the Neighborhood Club, 17145 Waterloo, Mary Hazel Benedict will present a representative program of dances, taught in the Detroit Benedict-Denishawn Dancing School, which maintains a branch at the Neighborhood Club.

The public is invited. Please telephone Niagara 0771 for reservations. There is no admission charge, and the program begins at 8:30 P. M.

All Neighborhood Club Music pupils are requested to report on Monday, October 10th, for the opening of Theory and Appreciation Classes. The beginners' class will be held at four o'clock and advanced class at four-thirty. Teacher, Miss Grant.

Enrollment for Piano and Violin lessons may still be made by calling Niagara 0771.

CHILD STUDY CLASS

A class for women in child study will be held at the Neighborhood Club this fall on Thursday, at 2-3 P. M., beginning October 13.

ALUMNI DANCE

Grosse Pointe High school Alumni association will officially open the dance season with a dancing party Saturday evening, October 8 in the boys' gym at the High school. The services of a splendid orchestra have been obtained for the evening and it is hoped that a large attendance will be present. Everybody is welcome.

Take heed and be quiet; fear not, neither be faint-hearted—be still.

De La Salle's Goal Still Uncrossed

De LaSalle Collegiate defeated the St. Ambrose High football team Sunday afternoon, October 2nd by the smallest score with which a grid game can be won, two to nothing.

It was a nip-and-tuck struggle from start to finish with the losers appearing slightly better on offense. Bad breaks in the form of penalties spoiled several scoring chances for the Saints that looked like sure touchdowns. The winners also had more than their share of tough decisions.

Considering the early season inexperience of both teams, the final outcome should be thoroughly satisfactory to the followers of the two schools. The coaches were given plenty of opportunities to study their players under fire and doubtless the next game on either schedule will see much improvement. High schools cannot hold football practice prior to the opening of the school year and it is really remarkable the amount of team work and skill that

TITAN TOPICS

News Tidbits of the University of Detroit Varsity Football Team

By E. A. BATCHELOR

Both good and bad football was exhibited by the University of Detroit team in its opening game of the season last evening. The Titans will hear plenty about the bad things in the coming week, while the good ones will take care of themselves. Coach Dorais said that he was not entirely satisfied with the showing against Michigan State Normal, but that doesn't mean that the team was less powerful than expected. It is just a habit with coaches not to be satisfied with anything short of perfection and this game naturally was not that.

Next Friday evening, the Titans will have to be a lot better than they were against Michigan Normal if they expect to beat Washington and Jefferson. That aggregation seems to have the Indian sign on Detroit. Five games have been played by the two institutions and the Presidents have won four. They have a bigger edge on the Titans than any other rival who has been met as many times. However, only one of the defeats came in the regime of Coach Dorais, and that was in 1925, his first year at Detroit. This will be the first time the teams have clashed since 1925.

The first game between Detroit and Washington and Jefferson was played 11 years ago when the Titans used to hold their games at Navin Field, the American League ball park. The Presidents got the jump on Detroit on the initial kickoff when a criss-cross between the receiver of the ball and a teammate enabled them to score in the first half minute of play. Detroit never was able to overcome this early disadvantage and the final score was 14 to 2 in favor of W. and J. This same President team went to California for a post-season game later and held one of the greatest teams that the Bears ever had to a tie. Betting odds favored California at 3 to 1 or better, but what advantage there was in the play was in favor of W. and J. Detroit squared accounts by winning 20 to 9 the next season but lost 6 to 0 in 1923, 18 to 6 in 1924 and 6 to 0 in 1925.

Washington and Jefferson will have to use a number of inexperienced men this fall as 11 letter men were lost by graduation. Among those who left in June were both regular tackles, both regular guards, the fullback and both halfbacks. Only five letter men are eligible this season, one end, a center, a quarterback and three halfbacks. The freshman material according to reports from Washington, Pa., is below average but Detroit is taking the bear stories with a liberal grain of salt and is not looking for anything but the toughest kind of a game. The mere fact that W. and J. has won four or five games played is enough to make the Titans wary, regardless of how weak the Presidents profess to be.

This game will be a test of the Notre Dame shift as modified by Dorais and the straight Warner system taught by Coach Hank Day, of the Presidents.

Welcome Saylor Drug Company

We extend a hearty welcome to the Saylor Drug Company and compliment Mr. G. V. Saylor and Mr. P. L. Saylor on the manner in which they entertained on the occasion of their Grand Opening at Kercheval and Wayburn last Saturday October 1st. Those who attended were entertained in a Royal Manner.

Mr. Peter Drexelius officiated as Master of Ceremonies. Mayor Frank Murphy and Congressman Robert "Bob" Clancy contributed to the success of the program. Harry Cecil of the Cecil Candy Co., and Mr. Galen of the Galen Florist Co., took part in the entertainment.

A Teacher of Teachers

Since the inception of modern tap dancing, for which Mr. Craves is particularly responsible, practically all of the dancing teachers from Detroit and Michigan and hundreds of others from throughout the United States and Canada have consulted Mr. Craves for new methods of instructing their pupils.

Some of Mr. Craves' past assistants have attained success as dancing teachers in Detroit and other parts of the country, while others have chosen the stage for a professional career. The present staff of assistants employed by Mr. Craves at his new Grosse Pointe Studios have had sufficient experience in show business and motion pictures to give them an advantage over the ordinary dancing instructor. Stage experience is absolutely essential to the dancing teacher and the majority of the present-day instructors are without this extremely important factor.

Parents contemplating sending their children to a dancing school should not neglect comparing Mr. Craves' methods and studios with other institutions before coming to a final decision.

Read This Before Buying Coal

"How can I tell whether the coal I get is good coal, and whether I am getting full value for my money?" asks Mr. Householder.

Here's how, according to Peter Wiederhold of the Wiederhold Fuel Sales Co.

"Practically speaking, there are two ways by which the average man can tell the quality of coal he is buying. First, he can take a sample to a chemical analysis. From this, if he understands coal, he can determine whether or not it meets his requirements. The second way, is to buy your coal from a dependable dealer and rely upon his judgment.

"Coal can not be judged by merely looking at it. A coal that looks good to the eye may still burn poorly, have a high ash content, or give off too much

Harry S. Toy Seeks Re-Election on Basis of Record in 1st Term

Nearing the completion of his first term in office that has been marked by success in the trial of important cases and the establishment of a high percentage of convictions in major cases, Harry S. Toy, is the Republican candidate for re-election to the office of prosecuting attorney of Wayne County at this coming general election.

Since Mr. Toy took office gangs have been broken up; there have been no kidnappings; racketeers have been suppressed; there have been no bank robberies; Public Welfare department defrauders have been prosecuted; there have been no payroll holdups; eight embezzling bank officials were convicted; and Detroit, which was first in the cities of the country in the murder rate in 1929, is today thirty-seventh in that rate.

Mr. Toy is asking for re-election at the hands of the voters on the strength of the record he has achieved so far during his first term. The attention of the prosecutor's office to individual cases from their inception until the matters have been fully laid before the courts have borne fruit, and the records not alone of the prosecutor's office, but of the Detroit and Wayne County courts, bear out the fact that this vicinity is more free of crime today than at any time since the World War.

While it used to be the old order of procedure to await the arrival of important cases in the prosecutor's office, present day needs and conditions demand a revision of such a scheme. These days assistant prosecutors and investigators of the prosecutor's office are among the first of our law enforcing agencies to arrive on the scene of a crime. Trained men, knowing the legal requirements for building up a case, are thus able to account for more convictions than have been had in the past. And, by the same token, cases that have no place in court do not find their way there.

Enrollments in Commercial Courses Large at High School

Enrollments in the commercial courses in the Grosse Pointe evening school at the beginning of the semester were larger than the enrollments at this time last year. It is apparent that those commercial courses being offered at the present time will be sufficiently large so that only the minimum fee of $3 for instruction will be charged.

The Tuesday night men's gym and swimming group and the Monday evening women's gym and swimming group show promise of being as large as they have been in past years. There is still an opportunity for women who are interested in gym and swimming to enroll in the Wednesday evening class. Enrollments in all of these courses are also large enough to assure that the minimum fee will be all that will be required.

Persons interested in joining any of these classes are asked to call at the high school, 11 Grosse Pointe Boulevard, next Monday evening from 7:30 to 9.

Beginning Monday evening, October 17, and running for a period of 6 weeks time, an intensive course in Home Economics will be offered at the Grosse Pointe High School. This course will be open to residents of Grosse Pointe and there will be no charge or tuition fee.

Mrs. White, instructor in the Home Economics Department of the high school, will have charge of the course. A tentative outline of the proposed activities for the six meetings follows:

First Lesson
1. Study of menu construction from standpoint of interest and variety.
2. Demonstration of quick breads and yeast breads.

Second Lesson
1. Study of menu construction from standpoint of body needs and food values.
2. Demonstration of soups, cocktails and salads.

Third Lesson
1. Study of menu construction in relation to income.
2. Demonstration of meat cookery.

Fourth Lesson
1. Menu planning for different ages.
2. Menu terminology.
3. Demonstration of vegetable cookery and construction of main dishes for lunch.

Fifth Lesson
1. Menu planning for special occasions.
2. Demonstrating of nick nacks for tea and various forms of entertaining.

Sixth Lesson
1. Meal serving with or without a maid.
2. Demonstration of desserts.

In order that those in the class may receive a maximum of benefit from the course, it is planned to limit the enrollment to 30. Those interested are requested to call at the high school office, 11 Grosse Pointe Boulevard, on Monday evening, October 10 or to call the office on that evening between the hours of 7:30 and 9:00.

Crandall Pitches One Hit Game as Merchants Win Season's Final

With Whitey Crandall pitching nearly perfect ball the Merchants closed their baseball season for another year. Crandall pitching the best game of his career against the strong Detroit Independents last Sunday at the Neighborhood Club allowed only one man to reach second base that being in the first inning when Grandpa Newcom had a lapse and committed two errors to allow the visitors to score their only run. Treppa first up in the first inning hit to Smith and when Newcom dropped his throw the runner was safe at first. Holmes next up sacrificed him to second. Weinbeck next up hit a grounder to Newcom who forgot to close the gate and allowed the ball to roll through to right field scoring Treppa with the only run and he was also the last man to reach second base for the afternoon as Weinbeck was thrown out as he attempted to reach second on Newcom's error by Kaatz. The lone Independent hit was made by Freddie Wolf.

The Merchants scores came in the third on three hits a walk and an error. Johnny Isola first up got the first Merchant hit a single to center. Hilgendorf attempting to sacrifice hit to third and when the second baseman dropped the throw all runners were safe. Smith then singled to right scoring Isola and while the right fielder was sleeping with the ball in his hands Hilgendorf made a dash for home and he and Smith scored when he threw wild to the plate in his attempt to catch Hilgendorf coming in. That ended the scoring for both teams for the afternoon. The management wishes to thank all their patrons who were so generous in their contributions for the support of the local boys and also the Grosse Pointe Review for their publishing of the scores of the games.

Public Letter Box

To the Editor:

In his radio talk, September 21, Sen. Vandenberg says among other things, he supposes the Democrats will resort to printing press money to pay the soldier's bonus, they are sponsoring in their platform. I wonder if the Senator thinks seriously when he speaks on such questions.

The writer wishes to remind him of interviews and comments on this very subject, as recently as February or March of this year, in which he showed a lack of familiarity with our monetary system. He should know that our national bank note is just printing press money, formerly 90 percent of the value of the surrendered bonds was returned to the banker, now the rate is 95 percent, and what makes it good, is solely because Uncle Sam says he will stand back of it, as he stood back of the yellow backs (gold certificates). When in 1896, the amount of gold in the Treasury was equivalent to 23 percent of all such gold certificates in circulation, our much despised silver dollar pulled us through all our difficulties.

For instance, in 1873, John Sherman, the Secretary of the Treasury, on a prolonged visit with the bankers of London, Eng., on whose return, induced the Congress to demonitize the silver, the coinage of which had been unlimited for over eighty-two years, or since Hamilton's time, and immediately a money panic was upon the country.

Register of Deeds

Land titles in Wayne County to the number of 6,034 were affected by instruments recorded during September in the office of Otto Stoll, County register of deeds, his report reveals. Deeds listed numbered 3,703 and mortgages, 1,390, while miscellaneous documents filed totaled 941. Stoll collected $3,137.21 fees during the thirty day period.

Glaciers Influence Weather

A Norwegian scientist who has been giving some very close attention to the movements of the glaciers which abound in this country, says he has traced a very direct connection between the weather and the action of these great moving "rivers of ice." A great advance of the ice causes cold and wet summers, when crops do not ripen. Where this covers several years, famine is the result.

Ancient Bones

"Carpenter" Used to Reflect on Character

In the middle of the last century, valises in the United States were commonly made with very durable sides of carpet instead of leather, and were called carpenters. In the development of the West, one commonly carried his possessions in such commodious bags. Western bankers, lacking strong-boxes, customarily carried their wealth and deposits with them in these bags—and found it very easy to decamp. A roving person of doubtful character thus became known as a carpenter. The term was also opprobriously applied to northerners who, after the Civil war, swarmed through the South.

The first automobiles in France during the early Nineteenth century were steam-driven. It was a natural step to transfer the title of the freman (chauffeur) of the locomotive to him who operated a steam-driven horseless carriage.
At the time that Elbridge Gerry (1744-1814) was governor of Massachusetts, he laid out the districts of that commonwealth. One of these districts was so abnormally arranged that it was thought to resemble a salamander in shape. Hence, any voting district unfairly laid out for the purpose of supporting some particular issue or candidate is said to be gerrymandered.

Offenders Hailed Into Court "by Fellow Crows"

It is a popular belief among certain individuals that when a crow has committed some misdemeanor it is given a hearing and if found guilty is punished by a group of its fellows. Such a procedure is called a "crow trial." The chief offenders taken into court are thought to be sentinel crows that have deserted their posts.

An incident such as one recently described in Bird Lore substantiates this belief. According to this account a congregation of 200 crows were observed to form a circle from 16 to 20 feet in diameter about a single crow. From time to time one of the crows of the circle would attack the center bird, administering several vigorous pecks with its beak, and then return to its place in the circle. The victim apparently made no effort to escape.

It is suggested that although such behavior might indicate something in the nature of a trial this would imply that the crows possess fairly extensive reasoning powers. Another possible explanation given for the movements of the birds was that they were the result of group hatred focused upon an unfortunate individual.

Sound and Altitude

The weather bureau says, since no definite experiments are known to have been made to determine the height in question, no positive answer may be given as to what height a man in a balloon can hear sounds made on the earth. Experience of army balloonists shows that shouting voices may be heard in the balloon at a height of 5,000 feet where the wind is not unusually strong. Birds singing in the trees have been heard at 10,000 feet, and the whistles of railroad trains have been heard between 15,000 to 20,000 feet. High-pitched sounds are heard best. In cloudy, calm days, when the balloon is in the clouds or just above them, the sounds, at least in some cases, seem to be heard to somewhat greater altitudes.

Quakes in Panama Zone

The Panama canal is located in a region of the world where earthquakes are of frequent occurrence. They average about 45 a year, but are normally slight, with insufficient seismic strength to injure the canal. Two seismographs have been installed by the Panama canal in the administration building at Balboa heights. Should an earthquake of the intensity of one which almost completely destroyed the Central American city of Antigua many years ago, demolished its famous cathedral and caused the removal of the capital of Guatemala from that city, be experienced it is probable the canal would be temporarily put out of use. Demolition by earthquake of the locks might drain the lake of Gatun.

Backward People

The Samos are a tall, robust-looking people inhabiting the borders of Upper Volta and the French Sudan. Their language, apparently related to Sla, is little known. Marriage is restricted within the village, but must be outside the extended family group. In case of a divorce the children remain with the father. Family property passes to the brother of the deceased and personal goods, or individual property, is inherited by the eldest son. They are animists and perform seasonal sacrifices and worship sacred animals protecting the villages.

Parchment Made Long Ago

It was the rivalry between two ancient kinds which led to the invention of parchment. Ptolemy Philadelphus forbade the export of papyrus reed from Egypt to King Eumenes of Pergamus, because he jealously felt that Eumenes might build up a library greater than his own.

It therefore became necessary for Eumenes to search for a substitute, and he ordered the skins of sheep to be dressed in such a way that they could be written upon.

Not New Discovery

The existence of wireless waves was suggested as early as 1864 by James Clerk-Maxwell, a Scotch physicist.

Humble Coney Referred to Twice in Scriptures

Psalm 104:18 tells us that—"The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats; and the rocks for the conies," for the coney has no strong digging claws as has the rabbit, nor has it the powerful hindquarters of the hare. In fact it is classed amongst the most defenseless creatures of the wild, and as such it is referred to in the thirtieth chapter of the Book of Proverbs:
"There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceeding wise. The ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer. The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make their houses in the rocks. The locusts have no king yet go forth all of them by bands. The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in king's palaces."
The wisdom of the coney is shown in the choice it makes of a place for its home, which is usually among a heap, or a lot of fixed and loose rocks among which it hides and about which it moves very elusively when disturbed, as travelers who try to catch one of them soon find out.—Montreal Herald.

Ear Coloring an Index of Health in Children

Experts in child welfare research advise parents to look at their children's ears for an indication of the general state of their health. The ears, it is revealed, indicate the condition of the child's blood about as well as any known scientific test.
Here's the secret, as stated in non-scientific terms by Nell B. Nichols of the Woman's Home Companion: "When the ears are pink, the child has a goodly amount of hemoglobin in his blood. If they are pale and colorless, action is in order. The doctor's opinion must be sought and meals planned with the child's health in mind. This means that the meals will contain an abundance of green leafy vegetables, egg yolk, red meats, the dark meat of poultry and liver. Milk has been considered low in iron, and unfairly so, for the comparatively small amount that it has in a pure form which is readily used by the body."

Loaves Given Away

Many customs, centuries old, survive in European countries. One of these is the practice at Kyritz, Germany, of distributing hot rolls on the anniversary of the capture of a notorious robber. The bandit terrorized the countryside at one period of the Middle Ages. He and his men would accost any traveler who appeared worth robbing, and at times descend upon towns to carry off booty and hostages. Then they would take to the hills, where their knowledge enabled them to defy pursuers. After slipping away many times he was finally run down and captured. In celebration of the event the lord who ruled that particular section of the country gave away loaves of bread to all his serfs and vassals. The custom never has died out.

A Puzzler

The Manchester (Eng.) Guardian drove its readers to the dictionary with this one:
The small boys' teacher had asked her pupils for a sentence containing the word "vell." Amid numerous written replies one stood out above the remainder—"The lady wore a vell on her deuterogamy."
"Deuterogamy!" exclaimed the teacher. "Where did you get that word, Johnny?"
"Crossword puzzle, mum," replied Johnny, glibly.
"But what does it mean?"
"Second marriage, mum."
The teacher turned to the dictionary and found Johnny was correct.

Old Copy of Rubaiyat

The oldest known manuscript of the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam has been discovered in Lucknow, India. It has been lying unnoticed in the possessions of an old family there until it was seen by an art collector of the city. Having been copied in 1423 the manuscript is thirty-seven years older than the Ouseley manuscript in the Bodleian library, Oxford. In the manuscript are 206 quatrains, of which 45 cannot be traced in any of the old editions of the Rubaiyat. As it was copied by a scholar, there are no errors in the text.

Opening Up Waste Places

Wherever there is ore, wherever there is oil, in any country or region, there will be found the American engineer. He is at home in Asia Minor and in Russia; he will soon enter Mosul, uncovering the treasure in the earth. In his wake rumble American motor trucks, traveling over roads that Caesar's legions trod, or corduroy trails hacked out of the jungle.

The fruits of such labors are new supplies of raw materials, mineral wealth, precious stones and property that means new trade for all the demands of civilization.

Wide Range of Diaries

Pepys and Amiel, two of the noted diarists of earlier days, were at opposite extremes in their subject matter. One told of his daily events, the other of his soul searchings. In Pepys we have a narrative, quaint and, to us moderns, often amusing; in Amiel we observe a kind of spiritual phlebotomy, a blood-letting of a moralistic vein not always pleasing. But the average diary is quite innocuous in every way, and in consequence not so interesting.

Bleakout of Earth's Regions

The Antarctic has the most severe climate of any part of the earth's surface.

Governor Roosevelt Says:

I TOO, believe in individualism; but I mean it in everything that the word implies. I believe, that our industrial and economic system is made for individual men and women; and not individual men and women for the benefit of the system."

"I believe that the individual should have full liberty of action to make the most of himself; but I do not believe that in the name of that sacred word a few powerful interests should be permitted to make industrial cannon-todder of the lives of half of the population of the United States."

"I believe in the sacredness of private property, which means that I do not believe that it should be subjected to the ruthless manipulation of professional gamblers in the stock markets and in the corporate system. I share the President's complaint against regimentation, but unlike him, I dislike it not only when it is carried on by an informal group amounting to an economic government of the United States, but when it is done by the government of the United States itself."

"I believe that the government without becoming a prying bureaucracy, can act as a check or counterbalance to the oligarchy so as to secure initiative life, a chance to work, and the safety of savings to men and women, rather than safety of exploitation to the exploiter, safety of manipulation to the financial manipulator, safety of unlicensed power to those who would speculate to the bitter end with the welfare and property of other people."

American Legion News Grosse Pointe Post

By RUDOLPH C. SCHMIDT

The following comrades were elected to steer the good ship "303" so ship-ahoy mates as they need your help.

Robert L. Butts was unanimously and spontaneously elected Commander without any contest for the office. This is a fitting reward and recognition of his hard labor in the organization work of the Post in which "Bob" sacrificed much of his time away from his family. Upon his energy the membership of the Post grew and became a real force and part of the American Legion. Good luck Bob, and we know you will have lots of support. The other officers elected were L. Baldwin, Senior Vice-Commander; F. Krapp, Junior Vice-Commander; Edward West, Adjutant; Clarence Smith, Finance Officer; Harold Gregory, Chaplain; Barney Besso, Sergeant at Arms; Earl Cramer, Historian; Schmidt, Dr. Cranson, Lingeman, Walker and Harrison, Executive Committee; Butts, Walker and Schmidt Delegates to Wayne County Council.

The dictionary defines co-operation; the act of working jointly together, so comrades let this big and noble word always be our watchword for the coming year. You have elected a real body of men to lead the destiny of "303" for the ensuing year and the only way they will be successful is with your co-operation, so let's set forth comrades, and put our shoulder to the wheel and show our new officers that we are with them 100 percent.

On Saturday Nite October 15th our Post is giving a mid-nite show at the Aloma theatre so let's pack the house. Commander Butts and his committee are working arduously to make this event one of the biggest financial successes of the season and they need your help and my help to make it a success so don't fail to tell all your friends about it. The show will start promptly at 11:30 and will continue for three hours and the admission is only 35 cents.

Your 1933 membership cards are now here so mail in your four bucks and get that new card and be all set for another year.

Well comrades, this is the last article you will read from your present Tatler. It is with a deep sense of regret that I lay down my quill to my predecessor but the old saying which always rings true "You can serve no more than one master," has genuefected at my front door." There is no question in my mind but that Commander Butts has selected a very able correspondent in Ed West to take my place so I will say Au Revoir, and give the new correspondent your co-operation comrades and see that he receives all the items of interest regarding the Post and individual members.

Don't forget your dues. Let's have 100% paid by October 20th.

Now—New sensational price policy, at all times, at the Aloma theatre: Adults, 15c; Children, 10c. The same good show at reduced prices.

smoke. A high ash content in coal is like meat with a big bone in it. Everybody wants all meat. In the same way, ashes, while included in the cost of the coal, are thrown out and do not furnish any heat. The dealer, however, generally has the chemical analysis of the coal, and in addition, knows from experience just what results to expect. It is only good business for him to give his customers the very best of coal obtainable.

"One of our most valuable assets," says Mr. Wiederhold, "is the confidence our customers place in us. Many of them will tell us to send them just what we think is best for their particular needs, knowing that they will receive personal attention and a square deal, and the assurance of good coal with full value for their money."
"Sunbeam Smokeless Coal is high in heat, low in ash, burns with a clean radiant fire. Ideal for Hot Air, Steam and circulators."

WHAT EDITORS ARE SAYING

"At a time when the Administration at Washington and the business interests of the country, whatever their political predilections, are engaged in a common effort to combat the depression and restore economic stability, it comes with poor grace for Republican campaign orators to represent that the election of Mr. Roosevelt would be a blow from which the country could hardly expect to recover."—Hartford, Conn. Courant (Rep.).

Mayor John F. Dore, of Seattle, in introducing Governor Roosevelt to a huge Democratic meeting there, termed himself a Progressive Republican and said that he was "sick and tired" of the present Republican party leadership. He evoked cheers when he predicted that Governor Roosevelt would carry the state of Washington in November by more than 100,000.

"In view of this campaign of the Republicans, the reception which is being won by Governor Roosevelt in his present tour is of exceptional interest. The governor is taking the people into his confidence in a way that is refreshing. He has dared to be forthright and open upon controversial issues. He has had the courage to tell the farmers, to their faces, that there is no magic formula to restore agricultural well being. He outlined to them a way in which farm prosperity could be restored had we a man in the White House who was sympathetic to farm problems. And he has been outspoken upon that difficult problem—the railroads."—Providence, R. I. News-Tribune (D.)

Stadium Meant Distance

Stadium, as applied to huge outdoor theaters and to athletic fields having great seating capacities, has no direct relationship to the original meaning of the word, yet its derivation is easily seen. The word originally was a measure of length as used by the Greeks. In the foot-race course at Olympia it designated an eighth of a Roman mile, or about 600 English feet.

Joke on Franklin

When ambassador to France, that wise old man, Benjamin Franklin, being at a literary meeting and not understanding French well enough to catch everything, determined to applaud when he saw others doing likewise. And so all went well until a friend remarked to Franklin, "You applauded the loudest when they are praising you!"

Last War Survivors

Daniel C. Dakeman was the last pensioner of the Revolutionary war. He died 89 years after the close of the war, at the age of one hundred and nine years eight months and eight days, on April 5, 1899. Hiram Cronk was the last surviving pensioner of the War of 1812. He died on May 13, 1905, at the age of one hundred and five years sixteen days.

Potent Church Bells

As the "curfew tolled the knell of parting days," so for ages have village bells knelled for the welfare of a departing soul. Once they were held potent against all evils. No longer ago than 1852 the bishop of Malta ordered the church bells to be rung for an hour "to lay a gale of wind." In France "to lay a gale of wind" was not unusual to ring church bells to ward off lightning.

Geographics

South Florida has a lake by the name of Histocopatchelacoochee, which should make the fish about as dizzy as you who are reading this. And for those who have the fishing itch, we refer you to Itchtucknee river in the same state.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Peach Buds

Did you ever look closely at a peach bud? It is as lovely as a peach. There is a deep rose tint and a pale cream, covered with a jacket of dark brown. There are some wonderful, beautiful things to see if we'd only stop playing cards or nagging our husbands for money long enough to take a good look around.—Indianapolis News.

Tea-Growing Areas

The principal sources of tea are Ceylon, China, India, Japan, Formosa, Java and Sumatra. The plant for a time was cultivated in other localities, but those countries, after years of scientific research, have brought tea growing and tea manufacture up to its present point of perfection. To the natives of these lands it is the chief source of livelihood and the skill and knowledge required for successful tea cultivation are handed down from generation to generation.

Cows at Work

Little Gordon had never been in the country, so when his mother took him to visit his Aunt Mary on the farm everything was new and wonderful. One morning, after he had been watching the cows feeding in the pasture, he ran to his mother exclaiming, "Oh, mother, come out and see the cows mow the lawn!"

Travel on the Missouri

The Missouri river is navigable in summer during the flood period as far as Great Falls, Mont., and in low water as far as Buford, at the mouth of the Yellowstone river.

Toll of Carelessness Graphically Summed Up

What is "more powerful than the combined armies of the world?" asks the Literary Digest.

What has "destroyed more men than all the wars of the nations?" The answer is given by The Safe Worker (Chicago) in the striking style of personification used by Robert H. Davis in his famous piece: "I am the Printing Press." We read on:

"I am more deadly than bullets, and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of siege guns.

"I steal, in the United States alone, over five million dollars each year.

"I spare no one, and I find my victims among the rich and poor alike, the young and old, the strong and weak. Widows and orphans know me.

"I loom up to such proportions that I cast my shadow over every field of labor, from the turning of the grindstone to the moving of every railroad train.

"I massacre thousands upon thousands of wage-earners a year.

"I lurk in unseen places, and do most of my work silently. You are warned against me, but you heed not.

"I am everywhere—in the house, on the streets, in the factory, at railroad crossings, and on the sea.

I bring sickness, degradation, and death, and yet few seek to avoid me.

"I destroy, crush, or maim. I give nothing, but take all.

"I am your worst enemy.

"I am CARELESSNESS."

Umbrella, Back in 1802, Worth Advertising For Further proof to the old adage that no matter how old the world gets the people in it never change is presented in an old "lost" advertisement for an umbrella in the Middlesex Gazette, Middletown, Conn., for September 5, 1802:

"An Umbrella Lost.—The Subscriber in traveling from New Haven to Middletown in the Stage on Monday, the 11th ult., lost, or somewhere left, a New Umbrella—covering of Green silk, with a Red edge enclosed in a light Blue cover, with the Owner's name on a piece of paper pinned to the Cover. Any person to whose knowledge it may have come is desired to send it to the Printer—For which they shall receive the thanks of the Owner and a reward for their trouble.—Cyrus Bill."

Silver as Germ Killer

Although it was discovered in the eighties that water kept in a silver or copper vessel acquired certain germ-killing properties, it was only recently that a scientist in Paris found a commercial adaptation for the phenomenon.

Silver chloride mixed with potter's clay and baked at a high temperature is employed as a filtering medium, says Popular Mechanics Magazine, and it has been found that water passing through such a filter has the property of killing typhoid and other germs, while itself containing no silver.

Previous researches had demonstrated that, if silver is to sterilize effectively, it must have enormous surface. It was therefore converted into minute bubbles, which make it possible to kill all germs in 10,000,000 liters of water.

Spread of Volcanic Dust.

In the summer of 1883 an eruption occurred on the small volcanic island of Krakatoa, in the Sunda strait, whose effects were far-reaching. The finer particles of the volcanic dust, attaining the higher layers of the atmosphere, were diffused over a large part of the surface of the earth. Within the tropics they were borne along by air currents at a rate of 73 miles an hour from east to west, until within a period of six weeks they were diffused over nearly the whole space between latitudes 30 degrees north and 45 degrees south. Eventually they spread northward and southward and were carried over North and South America, Europe, Asia, South Africa and Australia.

"Water Sails"

A water sail is a sail used to propel a vessel by pressure of the water instead of the wind. Where there is a strong current, a large sail can be attached to the sides of a ship amidships, carried forward and then submerged in the water. Weighted on its underside and buoyed at the surface of the water, it furnishes a wide expanse of vertical surface to the current. The current fills the sail in much the same manner as the wind does when the sail is carried in the air and draws the vessel along. Such sails used to be employed in carrying crewless freshies down on an enemy fleet when the current favored such an operation.

Plenty of Time

They stood on the edge of a crowded platform on the Underground railway. It was obvious that the young man was very much in love with his pretty companion. As a matter of fact, he was pleading with her to marry him. The girl could not make up her mind. A train came in sight. The young man was desperate.

"If you won't listen to me I'll throw myself in front of the train that's just coming in!" he cried.

The girl was frightened.

"For goodness' sake give me time to think," she said, anxiously. "In any case, there'll be another train in a minute."—London Tit-Bits.

Danger in Over Haste

Too swift arrives as tardy as too slow.—Shakespeare.

Great California Trees

Forty-nine persons danced on the stump of a giant redwood tree that was felled in the Calaveras grove in California in 1853. Though this tree was only 302 feet high, its stump measured 25 feet in diameter inside the bark, six feet above ground. "Father of the Forest," another fallen tree in this grove, had a basal circumference of 110 feet.

Iron Ore Peculiar

Only very rarely is metallic or native iron found in nature, all of the sources or mineral ores from which the metal is obtained being compounds of iron with other elements.

To Settle a Quarrel

A quarrel is quickly settled when deserted by one party; there is no battle unless there be two.—Seneca.

Disraeli's Advice

Disraeli was once asked by a young peer to recommend a course of study to qualify one for speaking so as to gain the ear of the house of lords. "Every morning," said Disraeli, "practice speaking aloud before the tombstones of your nearest graveyard."
