Drive Safely

During the season of the year poor day time visibility and the failure of motorists to burn lights is a common cause of highway accidents. Many of the fatal collisions during the recent snow storms were attributed to excessive speed during low visibility conditions.

Low hanging clouds, dark days, swirling snow and foggy or frosted windshield distort the driver's vision and confine it to a very short distance. The dry, powdery snow which swirls in a cloud behind moving vehicles adds to the lack of visibility for both approaching and following vehicles and creates the dangerous "blind spot" in passing.

WORK ON GROSE POINTE'S NEW SCHOOL BEGAN EARLY THIS WEEK

Ground was broken and work officially started this week on the new elementary school building located on Cadieux Road between Kercheval and Waterloo. Last week the final contract documents were approved and signed.

Bids for the construction of the school were opened by the Board of Education at a special meeting held December 11, 1935. Phillips, Royal Oak, whose bid was $68,137.00; and electric power and light wiring, Sealey Electric Incorporated, 2656 East Hancock, Detroit, who was $20,249.00.

The school is being constructed as a Federal Public Works Administration project, on which the School District was given a Federal grant of $138,272.00 and for which the Grosse Pointe Board approved a bond issue for $169,000.00 at a special election held November 20, 1935.

The fire department deserves commendation for the creditable manner in which they have saved property, and efficiently prevented fires from getting out of control.

REVIEW AND PREVIEWS
 The Italo-Abysinian conflict is turning into a stalemate. There is no doubt but that Italy is not strong enough for the invasion of Ethiopia, and to make matters worse the rainy season is to begin shortly. This will necessitate the digging in of the Italian forces and there is no doubt but that the dark-skinned warriors will be a worry to the Italians when this takes place due to their acclimation to the conditions. That the home people will be able to worry through the League-imposed sanctions from April until October when the army will be able to get under way with victorious (?) sallies again is highly improbable. But with the public feeling at high pitch against England for her obstruction to Mussolini's will, this rest period may take on an attempt to line up favorable powers in Europe who will back up Italy in an effort to break England's strangle hold on the key positions of the Mediterranean, the Italian "Mare Nostrum." The embroilment of England with Italy will be the signal for a general uprising of various powers throughout the world and will be the probable powder keg of a new and more deadly World War.

Memel offers one of the small territories which may decide who the coming allies will be if, as, and when this new conflict commences. There is talk now of Lithuania, which is supposed to have the rule of this heavily Germanized territory, joining with Soviet Russia. This would antagonize the German and Polish peoples who have been forced into a rapprochement due to the heavy arming of the Bolsheviks and who as well have their eyes on Soviet territories wherein their excess population could settle, relieving the congestion at home. It is highly probable that England, rather than have Germany and Poland link up with Italy, which would materially strengthen her, would cultivate the goodwill of these countries to mitigate the effect of the probable Italian leanings of the Balkan States and as well be pleased to see the Bolshevik menace lessened for there is no doubt but that the avowed purpose of the Third Internationale, following the Marxian preachments, is to aid and abet the formation of workers republics in the highly industrialized states, Germany, England and the United States.

As soon as this should come to pass the Japanese would protest an invasion of the Manchukuo Border and this would be one invasion which would not be followed with diplomatic notes but rather the thud of marching feet. The present drive of the Japanese into the territories of Inner and Outer Mongolia, the latter a Republic patterned after the Soviet example and closely linked up with Moscow, is to place its armies into a position to take over the Lake Bakai region to which point the Russians now have completed their double track railway system. It is not to the advantage of the Japanese to allow the Russians to complete doubling of this system to Vladivostock which it is estimated will take the Russians two more years. Russia realizes that the imperialistic aims of Japan are eventually to gain the upper hand in all Siberia with attendant control of all the vast resources of this territory. The only solution for Russia is to cultivate the goodwill of the capitalistic countries but this is utterly impossible without giving up the Bolshevistic form of government and the recognition of foreign debts. This the leaders cannot do and the only alternative is eventually to fight and from the forces opposed to her it looks at this time as though she is no match for them.

That the officials of the United States recognize that the trend towards war is rampant throughout the world is evident by the present policy of strengthening the Army and Navy despite the tremendous influence of Peace and Disarmament groups in the country. The World War taught us that it is impossible to isolate ourselves in time of foreign embroilments and the best policy is to be prepared for any eventuality.

Jungle and War in Two Lectures Sunday at Institute of Arts

Brazilian jungles and the impending duel between Russia and Germany will share the World Adventure Series platform at the Detroit Institute of Arts next Sunday afternoon and evening, January 12. At 3:30 the world famed tiger hunter, Sasha Siemel, will show his new jungle motion pictures in a lecture entitled "Getting the Killer." And at 8:30 Maurice Hindus—world traveler, author and brilliant orator—will make his own startling war predictions in a lecture on "Stalin, Hitler, Roosevelt—Who Will Win?"

Sasha Siemel, stalwart young Latvian, is internationally famous as the hero of Julian Duguid's best sellers, "Green Hell" and "Tiger Man of Green Hell." Armed only with a steel-tipped spear, Sasha Siemel has tracked and killed scores of savage jaguars. He will describe this most dangerous of jungle sports, and show his new motion pictures and demonstrate his weapons.
 Maurice Hindus, orator and distinguished authority on European questions, sees approaching a clash between the Red armies of Stalin and the newly created troops of Adolf Hitler. He sees certain arresting analogies, too, between developments in Russia and Germany and current tendencies in the United States. A question-and-answer session will follow this lecture.

MRS. RICHARD H. MACAULEY, of Lake Shore Road, left Saturday for New York City, where she met her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Bulkey, of Hartford, Conn. This trio sailed on Monday aboard the Franconia for a round-the-world cruise.

U. S. Rights in Cuba
 Under the treaty recently ratified, the United States maintains intact all its rights to its naval base and coaling station at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. With the exception of this foothold by the United States, Cuba is a fully sovereign state.

The Cobweb
 In the Anglo-Saxon or Middle English, a spider was "coppe" or "cop," and the web it made was called "copwebbe" or "copwebbe." The language has retained "cobweb" though the use of "cop" or "cop" for spider is obsolete.

Lutherans Will Vote on Organization Sunday

"Wealth and Royalty at the Manger" or "Do the Rich and Near-Rich Need Christ?" will be the subject of the sermon at the Grosse Pointe United Lutheran Church, Sunday morning, January 12, at 11 o'clock, in the auditorium of the Richard School, Kercheval and McKinley, preached by the Rev. M. Luther Canup, D. D., pastor in charge.

Sunday School at 9:45 a. m., with classes for all grades and ages. Report of the Reds and Blues in a membership campaign at Sunday's session.

Dr. Canup will read a summary of the attendance since December 1, the first service of the new congregation, and also of his canvass of those who wish to join the new church.

At the 11 o'clock service next Sunday, the 12th, the congregation will make a definite decision as to forming a permanent organization. If a new congregation is organized it will become a part of the United Lutheran Church in America, the largest body of Lutherans in the New World, having more than a million and a quarter of baptized members.

All Lutherans who would like to have a Lutheran Church in Grosse Pointe and all other Protestants who feel the need of another Protestant congregation in Grosse Pointe are cordially invited to be present and express their opinion on next Sunday morning.

Politics Barred on WKAR Air Talks

When officials of the State of Michigan begin the series of broadcasts over WKAR, the radio broadcasting station of Michigan State College at East Lansing, they will discuss, for the information of listeners, problems of state government of interest to individuals who support the government. There will be no party lines; department heads of both major political parties will be invited to speak. The states only non-commercial radio station, in competing for attention, will offer programs unique because of the absence of appeal to anything but listener interest.

On Friday, January 10, Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald will speak at 4:45 in the afternoon; Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State, will precede him at 2:45 p. m. Each will speak for 15 minutes. The later period will be designated "governor's hour" each Friday; on the first four Fridays, an official from the Department of State will speak at the earlier period. Others who will be invited to speak during this series of broadcasts, include David H. Crowley, Attorney General; Theodore I. Fry, State Treasurer; Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; John J. O'Hara, Auditor General; Murray D. VanWagoner, State Highway Commissioner, and others.

So far as listeners are concerned, WKAR became, on Jan. 6, virtually a new station. Its transmitting frequency was changed from 1040 to 350 kilocycles; its power of 1,000 watts will give anyone in Michigan virtually "clear channel" reception, as a result. Only one broadcasting station in the state has more power; only three have as much. The state's own station is on the air 30 hours a week. The addresses by state officials will be in line with the "college of the air" theme which will emphasize culture and entertainment.

Junior Adventure Series Opens Jan. 11

Ten weeks of exciting adventure and travel for boys and girls will begin at 10:30 Saturday morning, Jan. 11, at the Detroit Institute of Arts when Sasha Siemel opens the winter series of Junior Adventurers lectures with his pictures of South American jungles. Sasha Siemel, famous for his skill in killing jaguars with a spear, will tell about "Hunting in the Brazilian Jungles." He will bring his steel tipped spear with him and show his audience how to use it.

Junior Adventurers are enrolling now for the new series of lectures at the Woodward entrance of the Detroit Institute of Arts. This civic lecture course for boys and girls—the only one of its kind in the country—was begun this fall by the World Adventure Series. More than 1,150 school children from the Detroit area have attended the Saturday expeditions each week.

Among the speakers who will show pictures of their expeditions and travels this winter are Major A. Radcliffe Dugmore, hero of Lowell Thomas's "Rolling Stone," Capt. C. W. R. Knight, Chester Scott Howland, Capt. John Craig, Slim Williams, Brayton Eddy, Captain Carl von Hoffman, Richard Finnie, and Howard Cleaves.

'Foreign Born' Topic of Town Hall Lecture

"America and Its Foreign Born" will be the pertinent subject discussed by Edward Corsi, former Commissioner of Immigration at Ellis Island, when he speaks at the Fisher Theater before the Detroit Town Hall, Wednesday morning, January 15, at 11 o'clock. Corsi's book, "In the Shadow of Liberty," a fascinating chronicle of the island's history, brought him into the national limelight last year. His extraordinary career and valuable services in helping the foreign born were recounted recently in the New Yorker which published a series of two profiles on Corsi.

Himself an immigrant, Edward Corsi passed through the portals of Ellis Island, in 1907, when he was 10. After many years of poverty and struggle, he first came into public notice as Director of Haarlem House, New York. There he found an organized opposition to the program of Americanization; the powerful Italian-language newspapers did not want their subscribers to learn to read English. But Corsi persisted, and after a while Haarlem House became the center of neighborhood life. Hundreds of bewildered immigrants, fresh from Sicily or Piedmont, brought their problems to Corsi. In New York, Corsi is considered the First Citizen of the Italian racial groups, and his hold upon their affections is even greater than that of Mayor LaGuardia.

His labors among the foreign born brought him increasing recognition, and in 1931 he was called to Washington. Herbert Hoover said, "I want you to go down to Ellis Island and clean up the mess there." Edward Corsi did. At 34, the youngest Commissioner of Immigration in the country, Corsi's sympathetic understanding and competent direction brought many improvements on Ellis Island. He resigned to become Director, Home Relief Bureau, New York, and is now Assistant Deputy Welfare Commissioner of New York. His lecture will avoid international politics and deal specifically with the problems of the foreign born in this country. Tickets are on sale now at Grinnell's, and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Fisher Theater.

Huron County Club Ball Saturday, Jan. 18

Huron County Club of Detroit will hold its ninth annual informal reunion ball Saturday, January 18, at Eastern Star Temple, 80 West Alexandrine St. The Club was formed in 1927 for the purpose of perpetuating "Old Home Town" ties among former residents of Huron county, Michigan, and to promote the general welfare of Huron county communities through a closer co-operation between the former and present residents. Among the achievements of the club have been the founding of a public library at Port Hope through such co-operation, the employment for two summers of a recreation director to give the boys of the county organized baseball and the engaging of a Boy Scout executive. All three activities are now carried on by the respective communities.

A feature of the ball will be the playing for old time dances by George Pariseau of Bad Axe, under the strains of whose violin several generations of Huron county families have grown up. The U. of D. Collegians will furnish modern dance music.

Included in the Huron County Club organization taking an active part in the forthcoming ball are the Port Austin Club of Detroit and the Harbor Beach Society. The Bad Axe-Detroit Club will also be in attendance.

The committee in charge of the affair, representing some 15 communities of Huron county, includes the following: Stanley M. Fraser, President of the club, chairman; Wendell Brown, vice president; Merrill Holdship, treasurer; Mrs. Mildred Harris, secretary; Frank Potts, Oliver Doyle, Glenn Walker, Smith, D. J. ...

Mr. and Mrs. Celia Dupee Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lundy, Leo Molloscan, Victoria Redmanski, Josephine Redmanski, Alyce Spencer, Elsie Mcagher, Minnie Seale, Isabelle Yaroch, Tom Hadwin, Carroll Leszczynski, Lauretta Allen, Lillian McMann, Mr. and Mrs. Spoutz and Tom Sayres.

Wanted—Old Records

Grosse Pointers and especially descendants of the French and early American pioneer families can assist the compilation of "The History of Grosse Pointe", by permitting the research staff now engaged in this work to review any old letters, photographs, drawings, papers, deeds abstracts, family histories, or other old data they may have in their possession.

Research to date leads us to believe that the first pioneer settlers in Grosse Pointe came here very shortly after the founding of Detroit by Cadillac. They are believed to have been some of the original party who came with him from the first settlement at Mackinaw.

The research staff at present have reason to believe that the French Missionaries, no doubt the Jesuits, made a visit to Grosse Pointe as early as 1695, but the first settlers appear to have come very shortly after 1701. The period from 1701 to 1783 no doubt was entirely dominated by the French as so far we can find no record of the early American pioneer until 1784.

We are therefore particularly anxious to record factual information, in story form concerning the activities of the French pioneers and anyone that has records that can assist us should take the opportunity to have such data placed before us that it may be put into a permanent record. Biographies of all the pioneers will be made part of this history and those who have family histories already prepared are asked to permit us to have them for reproduction.

High school students whose ancestors were among the French and American pioneers are welcome to assist in this work and are invited to become members of our Volunteer Consultants Committee.

Headquarters for this work are in the Municipal Building, Grosse Pointe Park. Your cooperation and assistance is solicited, that the work may be completed and accurately compiled.

Little World's Fair to Open Early in March

Detroit is to have another Little World's Fair.

Dates have been set for March 6th to 15th, at Convention Hall for the second annual Detroit and Michigan Exposition, the largest showing of varied All-American products ever held under one roof. Floor space will be doubled over the amount used last year, to accommodate the increased number of entries. One half of floor space has already been contracted and reservations are being made daily, according to James Vernor, Jr., general chairman.

"An array of national screen, radio and stage talent, athletic, entertainment and educational features will supplement exhibits of the various products and activities of both city and state. While several thousand square feet of floor space will be devoted to automobiles and animated exhibits pertaining to their manufacture, this will in no sense be just an auto show," said Mr. Vernor. "If the product is a Michigan leader you may expect it will be represented."

"Constructive co-operation of State and City governments, leading industrialists, the press, the United States Department of Commerce, official representatives of foreign nations and other major interests have spurred activities to the point where even at this early date a bigger and better showing is assured in every respect.

Nine Halls of Entertainment "The Exposition is being sub-divided into nine sections representing Industry, City and State, Science and Art, Education, Recreation, Building and Realty, Household Appliances, Retail, Food and Agriculture. The slogan "We Serve the World" will be impressed on a large buying market through a widespread campaign.

"One manufacturer sums up the exposition situation as follows: 'Last year was a splendid start. While we exhibited our product we signed for space as Doubting Thomases, primarily out of civic interest. However, as a direct result we profited by sales far exceeding our expectations. We have signed for increased space this year as a strictly business investment in a definite sales promotion enterprise. Any show that will draw approximately half a million people, as did last year's exposition, is important as a sales factor. I note that Cleveland and other cities are following the example established by Detroit.'

The Detroit and Michigan Exposition, is a civic enterprise, not conducted for private profit. Any profits accruing will be used to further advertise and publicize Detroit and Michigan.

Three Classes of Griffons There are three classes of griffons—Brussels, Belgian and Little Brabant, or smooth coated. The griffon originated in Belgium in the Nineteenth century. It comes in reddish-brown and black and light brown.

The Paddlefish The paddlefish is a large, scaleless, fresh-water fish of the Mississippi valley, characterized by a prolongation of the bony carapace of the head into a long, flattened, paddle-shaped snout, with which the fish turns over the mud and gravel of stream beds in its search for food. Specimens sometimes exceed six feet in length and weigh over 150 pounds. The greenish black roe is sometimes sold as caviar.

Suggestions for The Auto Driver

To The Editor: Believing that all persons driving automobiles should periodically refresh their minds regarding traffic regulations, that every day persons are being granted licenses to drive who must know these regulations and believing that the hazards of operating a motor vehicle at the present time are as great or greater than before may I submit in brief form the more important restrictions and duties of the operator of an automobile.

U. of D. to Meet Loyola Saturday

Back from a successful trip into Ohio, which saw them winning three out of four games played, Coach Lloyd Brazil's cagers began practice yesterday for the first of seven straight home games. They meet Loyola University of Chicago Saturday night at the Naval Armory.

Satisfied that his offense is good enough, his team having scored a point a minute in the five games played, Brazil plans on stressing a stronger defense this week. So far he has seen the opposition roll up close to 27 points a game to 40 for his own squad. He intends cutting that margin down.

At the same time he will see to it that the margin of successful free shots goes up. Over one-half of the attempted gift shots was missed in the last two games on the Ohio trip and he believes that the shooting can be improved considerably. The Titans beat the University of Western Ontario at home before leaving on their trip. Then they lost to Baldwin-Wallace, last year's champions of the Ohio Conference, a group of 23 schools, and followed that with wins over the University of Akron, Fenn College and Ohio College of Chiropraxy. Akron finished second in the Conference.

The Titans have plenty to fear in Saturday night's contest since Loyola has practically the same team that defeated them twice last season by small margins. Marv' Colen, forward, Ed Murray, center, and Ed Callahan, guard, are all set to repeat last year's wins with the aid of some outstanding sophomores. Cart Winkler and Bill Flanagan are outstanding among the latter and fill out a lineup that promises to be among the best produced by Len Sachs, Rambler coach.

Murray and Chester Laske promise an interesting battle at the center position. Murray has lost only one tip-off in two years at the position, that in a recent game with the University of Indiana where height was the deciding factor. Laske is playing his first season with the Titans but his record compares favorably with Murray's. He is also the high point man for the Titans with 10 points a game.

With Laske set to hold down the center position Brazil will start Wally Cavanaugh and Ed Lukaszewicz at the forwards and Capt. Ed Lauer and Larry Blech at the guards. Numerous substitutes are available among the sophomore candidates. Ernie Koliber and Ted Huerth getting first call. Koliber hurt his ankle in the Baldwin-Wallace game and stayed out of the others on the trip. He will be ready again for Saturday's game. Bill Kerwin, Tony Skover, Roger Hayes and Frank DeLodder are also ready to get into the lineup.

INSURANCE TIPS

By H. THOMPSON STOCK
It is false economy to economize by buying cheap insurance. In the long run, insurance in the financially sound stock insurance companies is cheapest. A recent survey of the buying practices of the members of the National Association of Credit Men showed that the service rendered by the agent is a very important factor in reducing insurance costs.

There are many ways whereby an alert, competent agent can save you money without resorting to policies with "weasel" clauses and companies of doubtful financial stability. Manufacturers, merchants and owners of business property especially will be interested in a booklet by the author of this column entitled "Reducing Fire Insurance Costs" which will be sent gratis to the readers of this paper upon request. Write or phone the author at 948 Free Press Building for your copy. Some of the questions answered by this booklet are:
What is the coinsurance clause and how can its use save me money?
How is it possible for my fire insurance rate to be reduced?
Is a five-year policy cheaper than a three-year policy?
What special concession is made to churches and public buildings?
How can the wording of forms of my fire insurance policy affect the cost of my insurance?
What are "automatic sprinklers"?
When is it advisable to cancel on the "short rate" basis?

On and Off the Records

By LEE MONTGOMERY
Remember quite a few years back when a young attorney stepped into the political arena and smashed up the Big Four Bloc of Judges which completely controlled the Recorder's bench. He was practically unknown before that election, but there are few in the whole state who don't know the name of Frank Murphy today.
Last election the people elected George Murphy, brother of Frank, to the Recorder's bench, and the daily papers are linking his name with a new Recorder's Bloc. This time it has started as a patronage effort, but outsiders on the bench fear that it may become even more serious.

All four members of this new Bloc are able men and have the people's confidence. It is not that that brings the criticism from other judges but the fact that on a judicial bench possible, and a strong group should segregate themselves as a balance of power. It is hoped that the judges remember the fate of the first Bloc and have no intentions of following their footsteps.

Mr. Obediah Bingham, whose name typifies him as an honest and efficient man of the old school is back in the county building where he became acquainted with the public over two decades ago.
Bingham has been appointed to his old post by County Clerk Henry Montgomery, and will take his place with other aides of Tom Farrell who left the year of the Democratic landslide.

Auditor Ray D. Schneider is the new chairman of the Wayne County Board of Auditors. Ray is the first Democrat ever to hold that office and is, at the age of 31, the youngest man to become chairman of this powerful board. Schneider was elected in 1932, taking office in January of 1933, and has seen the County make long strides in the way of efficiency and economy in his three years of public life.

The year before Schneider took office, the assessed valuation was about $500,000 more than it was last year and the county raised for county purposes approximately three million dollars more. The total budget has been cut in those years drastically, and we now find it two million dollars less than in 1932. Earnings have also increased during this period.

The major services that constitute the health program of the county and for which we pay over three and a half million dollars include three major divisions. They are the caring for 2,800 tubercular patients, 3,600 persons afflicted with contagious diseases and the medical treatment for 6,500 other county residents.
Added to these items, goes the morgue expenditure, births, deaths, and medical examinations.

Over three million dollars is spent annually under the heading of welfare, and the county purchases maintenance and care of 3,500 people; the care of 5,000 insane, 1,200 non-resident indigents; the maintenance of 700 feeble-minded children and the aiding of 1,600 needy soldiers and sailors.

There are over 2,700 dependent mothers in Wayne County with families consisting of 9,500 children. In addition to these the government maintains facilities for problem children with which they care for 180 each day of the year. The cost for these items runs slightly over the million dollar mark.

The county pays to segregate the criminal from society. The caring for a prison population in the county of over 1,000 daily costs approximately a million dollars including the police, prosecutor, sheriff, house of correction and the county jail.

The meanest man in the world has been found by Paul Masserman of the photostat department, and he's a barber. Paul walked in to a little shop to get those long locks removed. He had been up the night before getting out his paper, "The Jewish Record," and was sleepy. He went to sleep in the chair and awoke with a Hitler haircut.

Vincent Thomas walked off and got married the day after he had given a soap box oration in the Record room on why women could never be beautiful, climaxing it with the fact that they didn't have brains and so what good were they.

His argument was that they weren't divided equally into thirds. His proof was that they needed high heels to be attractive. I hope the bride doesn't see this, but if she does, it's Vincent's own fault.

Christian Science Church

"Sacrament" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 12.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Rev. 10:1, 2): "And I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud; and a rainbow was on his head, and his face was as it were the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire: And he had in his hand a little book open."

Relative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 558): "This angel or message which comes from God, clothed with a cloud, prefigures divine Science. To mortal sense Science seems at first obscure, abstract, and dark; but a bright promise crowns its brow. When understood, it is Truth's prism and praise."
