Open Letter to Grosse Pointe Park Residents

News Digest
By JOHN SMITH

We understand that Bob Surtman is undergoing repairs. It seems that his knee-action requires servicing. Will be looking for you back on the avenue soon.

Grosse Pointers can prepare for an array of elections this year. In fact there will be elections scattered throughout the entire year.

Mr. Weatherman persists in favoring the coal dealers this year, and no doubt the ice purveyors next summer.

Many cities and towns are facing a fuel shortage, and in some cases there is a food shortage.

At present speed it will take the Prosecutor's office about 38 years to check the Welfare records for fraud. I wouldn't mind being a candidate for that job.

Can you imagine snow drifts in Michigan as high as 16 feet. Sounds more like Alaska. Still it's true.

It seems that hearts which stop beating can now be started again by means of a special electrical needle, that is, in certain cases. What next will doctors be able to do.

Windsor and Holzbaugh hockey teams held a veritable ring battle on the ice in Monday night's hockey tilt. Holzbaughs finally ending victorious.

TO THE RESIDENTS OF GROSSE POINTE PARK:

During the past year considerable damage has been done to public and private property by the activity of children in the Village of Grosse Pointe Park in committing acts of wilful destruction thereof.

Air rifles have been used to break windows, street lamps and to render injury to fire alarm boxes by breaking the glass thereon. As many as eighteen street lamps, costing approximately twelve dollars each, have been broken in this manner during the period of one month.

There has also been destruction of private property by damaging plaster, woodwork, fixtures and other parts of buildings in buildings under construction.

Children have wilfully broken bottles in alleys and streets resulting in damage to tires of automobiles.

It is the hope of this Department that we may have the co-operation of the parents in this Community so that the children may be warned against wilful destruction of property which is not only costly to the individual property owner but to all taxpayers and residents of this Community. Your co-operation by bringing these matters to the attention of the children will eliminate this wilful and costly destruction of public and private property.

Very truly yours,

JAMES C. DRYSDALE,

Chief of Police

Grosse Pointe Park.

City Residents Are Buying Garbage Cans

City residents are reported to be responding promptly to the suggestion that covered metal containers be purchased and installed in their homes for use as rubbish and waste receptacles, which movement the City is sponsoring as a means of reducing fire hazards and in order to improve sanitary service. Householders are pleased with the convenience and neat appearance of the metal containers and with the added sense of security the use of these utensils brings, in that they are practically fire-proof, eliminating most danger of a fire originating from rubbish or wastes stored in the basement. Both local hardware stores carry a complete line of approved receptacles or they may be secured directly from the City at a price convenient to the average pocketbook.

Huge Crowd Attends Golden Gloves Bouts at Neighborhood Club

A large and enthusiastic crowd attended the Golden Gloves elimination contest at the Neighborhood Club Monday evening. There were many exciting moments, and many thrilling knockouts. Grosse Pointe will be looking forward to a similar event next year.

Some of the heaviest punches of the night were exchanged in the open class heavyweight bout between John Baluck, of the Ex-Cello, A. C., and the highly touted Bob Smith, of the Mt. Olive A. C. Smith won the decision but only after the hardest and of fighting.

Baluck, a former Golden Gloves champion, carried the fight to Smith who has been hailed as another Joe Louis. Robert looked more like a Brown Bomber Monday night than he did in his last start, and repeatedly shook Baluck with blows to head and body.

But Big Jawn is a tough hombre. He refused to go down, and toward the end of the second round and in the third he did a little shaking up on his own account. Robert remained erect, however, and they were slugging away when the bell ended the bout.

In another good open class heavyweight bout, Charles Camps, Hudson A. A., won the decision over Jack Adrine, of the Mt. Olive A. C. Camps piled up his margin in the second and third rounds when the staggered Adrine a couple of times.

One of the heroes of the night's fighting was Pat Patterson, of the Central A. A. Pat fought three battles, each one going the limit of three rounds.

Patterson's first victim was James Mallory, of Thompson Products A. C. In his second bout he outslugged Tony Mangano, unattached, and in his third he conquered Chuck Laurenden, of the Annunciation A. C. Pat was wobbling a little toward the end of his last bout but was still in there and whanging away at the finish.

Another busy warrior was roly-poly Charles Giordano, of the Chrysler Club. He also fought two bouts, knocking out Ralph Miles, long, lean and dour warrior from the Central A. A., in the first and outslugging Tony Carter, Michigan Steel, in the second.

The Central A. A. came up with a man mountain in the person of nineteen-year-old Charles Frank who weighed 248 pounds. Frank lost a decision to Charles Laurenden, of Annunciation, but showed enough promise to lead his backers to hope that he may develop into a Black Menace.

N. W. Gartner Honored at Grosse Pointe Party

An interesting party was given on Washington Road, Grosse Pointe, last Saturday evening, at the residence of Mr. John E. King, proprietor of the John E. King Coffee Company, in honor of the 20th anniversary of the association of Mr. N. W. Gartner as engineer, roaster, in charge of plant operation.

Gathered about him were 36 employees with their wives, when he received a beautiful watch engraved "Jekco—N.W.G.—1916-1936". The occasion was made particularly cheerful with the open fireplaces burning huge logs, and made gay by four different games of chance in which all participated and received beautiful prizes.

Mr. John E. King made a most gracious presentation, making a very impressive ceremony which will never be forgotten by Mr. Gartner, his family and the employees.

The John E. King Coffee Company is one of our old concerns and a member of the Detroit Board of Commerce and the Detroit Business Pioneers "Over Fifty Years."

Mr. John E. King succeeded his father, the well known tea merchant of early Cadillac Square and Market days, and it is interesting to find his son, John E. King, Jr., in the business, making three successive generations; and the loyalty and happiness of the employees, many of whom have been with the organization for ten years or more, speaks well for the happiness and contentment which may be found in our business world.

Mrs. F. M. Alger Delivers Stirring Address to City Republican Club Women

Mrs. Frederick M. Alger gave the following address before a group of Detroit women at a recent meeting of the Detroit Women's Republican Club:

"This is a time of crisis, both for the Nation and for the Republican party. I believe we women are more vitally interested in this election than in any in our history. Since the passage of the 19th Amendment we have served our apprenticeship in politics. I am sure, you, the members of this Club have emerged from your chrysalis and studied the political situation of our country. It is time that all of us did the same and joined with you in action. As we view present conditions, brought about by a vacillating, unstable and socialistic administration, surrounded as it is with uncertain experiments and backed by representatives of the people we should never have elected, let us vow to do something about it.

"We women have not always given sufficient thought to the issues before us, nor have we fought to keep out of office Michigan representatives who have voted for laws they were warned were unconstitutional. We have been more than patient while the experiments in socialism were being carried (Continued on Page Three)

Special Election on City Incorporation

"The Grosse Pointe Park Commission has decided to hold a special election May 12th on the proposal of incorporation of our Village as a City," stated Carl A. Williams today.

He said, "This means another voting added to the series of elections that will be even more numerous than usual this Spring. There will be a Township primary in early March; the regular Village election on March 9th; a Township election in April; the special election on incorporation in May; and if this carries an election of City officials for the new City in June or July.

"The Park Commission had the authority to place the question of City incorporation on the ballot at the regular Village election March 9th. In failing to do so they have been accused of creating an unnecessary expense and prolonging the number of elections in an effort to tire the voters into indifference.

The new candidates, Harry C. Hanley for President; Carl A. Williams, Marvin W. Moesta, and Jules DeGraeve, for commissioners, publicly endorsed the City incorporation in last week's issue of the Grosse Pointe Review. They point out that one of the main reasons for incorporation as a City is that it will greatly reduce the number of local elections."

Mr. Williams also stated, "As it stands now we have a Village and Township primary and a Village and Township election each year. Keeping track of this maze of voting dates, and attempting to keep posted on the qualifications of candidates has been confusing and discouraging to the electors. During the past two years we have voted seven times on local candidates—in the same period our neighbors in the newly formed City of Grosse Pointe have voted but once."

These parties are open to all Camp Fire Girls and are under the supervision of Mrs. Gene Callard, a Red Cross examiner.

Sugar Beets Soaked in Water
Sugar beets are not crushed to extract their juice. Instead they are cut into thin slices and soaked in water, which dissolves the sugar out of them. This sugar solution is then worked up in much the same way as is cane juice.

Yale Professor Comes to Lecture in Town Hall Series Wednesday
 Irving Fisher, professor of Economics at Yale University, and one of the foremost monetary experts in the world, will be the Detroit Town Hall speaker in the Fisher Theater, Wednesday, February 19, at 11 a. m. His lecture will be "After Inflation, What?"
 Dr. Fisher has seen many of his doctrines vindicated and accepted within the past few years. He has recently been called upon to advise several foreign governments in their struggle to recover from the depression. He is credited with authorship of Administration monetary policies involving such items as "managed currency," "compensated dollar" and "commodity dollar."

He introduced the idea of the "compensated dollar" in 1912 at a meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce. He has been propagandizing for stabilization of the dollar since 1922, introducing the topic at that time before the Stable Money Association, sponsored by Nicholas Murray Butler, Owen D. Young and others.
 In his new book, "Stable Money—a History of the Movement," the Yale economist says that America would already have a system of "managed currency" similar to that adopted by Great Britain and "sterlingaria" countries which are leading world recovery, had not officers of the Federal Reserve System opposed it.
 Dr. Fisher's book have been translated into French, German, Italian, Spanish, Norwegian, Russian, Dutch, Polish, Greek, Japanese and Chinese. They include: "The Money Illusion, Purchasing Power of Money, Booms and Depressions, Inflation, Stabilizing the Dollar."

His distinguished career has included: lecturer, University of London School of Economics and Political Science, 1921; Geneva School of International Studies, 1927; vice-president for the United States of the Third International Commission on Eugenics; member, Roosevelt's National Conservation Commission.

General Butler to Speak at Naval Armory Friday
 General Smedley D. Butler, the man who got tired of "Collecting Wall Street's debts," is coming to Detroit to speak at the Naval Armory February 14th at 8:15 p. m. Elaborate arrangements are being made to greet the General. The Labor Post of the American Legion will provide a guard of honor, the Veterans of Foreign Wars will furnish the music, and the Canadian Veterans will also be present. Educators, churchmen, representatives of organized labor, and other prominent Michigan people are sponsoring the lecture and will appear on the platform with the General. The meeting is under the auspices of the Conference for the Protection of Civil Rights.

 General Butler saw service on numerous battle fronts during his twenty five years with the United States Marines. The man whom President Theodore Roosevelt called the "ideal soldier" will tell all. The subject of his lecture is "War is a Racket." He is the only living American officer to have been twice awarded the Congressional Medal for bravery in the field. He was one of the first and most consistent fighters for the soldiers' bonus. With the passage of the Bonus Bill by Congress, and in view of the revelations of the Senate Committee Investigating Munitions, General Butler's presence in Detroit is most timely. As an active participant in numerous military campaigns, he knows war, he knows who makes war and why. War as a racket is one of the most important problems facing people today.
 This picturesque personality with his salty vocabulary is one of the most vigorous and interesting platform speakers in the country. Time and again does the General break into print. From the time he described Mussolini as a "hit and run driver" to last year's exposure of Wall Street's plan to attempt a fascist coup in this country, General Butler's name constantly appears on the front pages of the press and in editorial comments.
 He passionately defends American civil liberties. Coming from a Quaker family that for generations has distinguished itself for its service to its state and nation, the General takes seriously those fundamental rights of free speech, free press and free assembly guaranteed us in the Constitution. He is opposed to the repressive legislation pending in Congress, such as the Tydings-McCormack Military Disaffection Bill, which paves the way to military dictatorship. He believes the American people have too much sense to permit such unnecessary and reactionary laws.
 Roger Baldwin of New York will speak on the same program. Mr. Baldwin as director of the American Civil Liberties Union, has for many years been a staunch and vigorous supporter of American civil rights.
 The Conference for the Protection of Civil Rights, under whose auspices the meeting is being arranged, consists of 295 Michigan labor, language, church and farm organizations. Reverend J. H. Bollens, Chairman of the Conference, will introduce the speakers.

Community Colleges Offer Varied Courses
 Though classification day was Monday, February 3, and classes began formally that week, enrollment and registration of new students will continue throughout the period. Students are urged to register as soon as possible to assure a better choice of subjects.
 The Community Colleges is a project of the WPA, sponsored by the Detroit Board of Education and Wayne University. The main purpose of the colleges is to offer free courses on a college level to anyone who wishes to attend and would profit from the instruction. University credit will be granted to high school graduates who are unable to pay regular college tuition.

 There are four such colleges in the City of Detroit situated in the following high school buildings: Northern, Eastern, Northwestern and Southwestern. Classes will be in session between 12:30 and 6:30 p. m. in these schools.
 The Community Colleges are designed to serve the whole community. Started in 1935 as Freshman Colleges, an FERA project to enable unemployed youths to continue their education and absorb some of their leisure time, it served 2,286 students. It has this year broadened its scope to include any adult, irrespective of age or scholastic background, who desire to further his education.
 Courses of a practical as well as of an academic nature are included in the curricula. Special courses will be offered to satisfy local demands. Home Economics and Fine Arts will be offered at Northwestern Community College at Northwestern High School.
 Call at the college in your community, or the Community College Office, Board of Education, 1354 Broadway, for information.

Miss Morgan is a friend of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick B. Fisher and will be their guest during her stay in Detroit. Admirers of Angela Morgan's work will eagerly welcome this opportunity to hear her interpret her own poetry.

Well known as a writer and interpreter of poetry, and also as a writer of fiction, Miss Morgan has been prominent in various literary societies, being president of the Philadelphia Branch of the League of American Pen Women. She was prize winner in the contest for a new American anthem, and was elected honor poet of National Poetry Week in 1930 and awarded a gold emblem.
 Angela Morgan's triumphs have not been confined to America, however. She was the first woman to occupy the pulpit of the Chapel Royal, Savoy, London in an author's reading; and has also appeared at the Lyceum Club, in London. She was, moreover, a delegate to the International Congress of Women at The Hague.

It will be recalled that Angela Morgan read her own poem, "The Unknown Soldier," over the bier of the unknown soldier while his body lay in state in the rotunda of the Capitol in Washington before the burial at Arlington, Nov. 11, 1921.

of organized labor, and other prominent Michigan people are sponsoring the lecture and will appear on the platform with the General. The meeting is under the auspices of the Conference for the Protection of Civil Rights.
 General Butler saw service on numerous battle fronts during his twenty five years with the United States Marines. The man whom President Theodore Roosevelt called the "ideal soldier" will tell all. The subject of his lecture is "War is a Racket." He is the only living American officer to have been twice awarded the Congressional Medal for bravery in the field. He was one of the first and most consistent fighters for the soldiers' bonus. With the passage of the Bonus Bill by Congress, and in view of the revelations of the Senate Committee Investigating Munitions, General Butler's presence in Detroit is most timely. As an active participant in numerous military campaigns, he knows war, he knows who makes war and why. War as a racket is one of the most important problems facing people today.
 This picturesque personality with his salty vocabulary is one of the most vigorous and interesting platform speakers in the country. Time and again does the General break into print. From the time he described Mussolini as a "hit and run driver" to last year's exposure of Wall Street's plan to attempt a fascist coup in this country, General Butler's name constantly appears on the front pages of the press and in editorial comments.
 He passionately defends American civil liberties. Coming from a Quaker family that for generations has distinguished itself for its service to its state and nation, the General takes seriously those fundamental rights of free speech, free press and free assembly guaranteed us in the Constitution. He is opposed to the repressive legislation pending in Congress, such as the Tydings-McCormack Military Disaffection Bill, which paves the way to military dictatorship. He believes the American people have too much sense to permit such unnecessary and reactionary laws.
 Roger Baldwin of New York will speak on the same program. Mr. Baldwin as director of the American Civil Liberties Union, has for many years been a staunch and vigorous supporter of American civil rights.
 The Conference for the Protection of Civil Rights, under whose auspices the meeting is being arranged, consists of 295 Michigan labor, language, church and farm organizations. Reverend J. H. Bollens, Chairman of the Conference, will introduce the speakers.

Though classification day was Monday, February 3, and classes began formally that week, enrollment and registration of new students will continue throughout the period. Students are urged to register as soon as possible to assure a better choice of subjects.
 The Community Colleges is a project of the WPA, sponsored by the Detroit Board of Education and Wayne University. The main purpose of the colleges is to offer free courses on a college level to anyone who wishes to attend and would profit from the instruction. University credit will be granted to high school graduates who are unable to pay regular college tuition.

 There are four such colleges in the City of Detroit situated in the following high school buildings: Northern, Eastern, Northwestern and Southwestern. Classes will be in session between 12:30 and 6:30 p. m. in these schools.
 The Community Colleges are designed to serve the whole community. Started in 1935 as Freshman Colleges, an FERA project to enable unemployed youths to continue their education and absorb some of their leisure time, it served 2,286 students. It has this year broadened its scope to include any adult, irrespective of age or scholastic background, who desire to further his education.
 Courses of a practical as well as of an academic nature are included in the curricula. Special courses will be offered to satisfy local demands. Home Economics and Fine Arts will be offered at Northwestern Community College at Northwestern High School.
 Call at the college in your community, or the Community College Office, Board of Education, 1354 Broadway, for information.

When we realize that about 80 per cent of the wealth of the nation is held by ordinary individuals of moderate means, we wonder if his attack on the property owner is as politically wise as he thinks.

The President has asked us to be specific. We will and can be specific for we are on the offensive, not the defensive. Let the President be specific when he talks to the seventeen million home owners in this country, to the three and a half million farmers who operate their own farms, to the fourteen million people who own a large share in the utilities and corporations of our country.

There is one practical thing that the administration has been given credit for, and that is politics. I do not lay claim to a knowledge of this subject, but it seems that someone has made a mistake in his estimate of the American workman when he made a plea for him to enter into a class struggle.

In the past quarter of a century in Detroit, we have seen men start at the bottom of the business ladder in many industries and climb to the top. We have seen bookkeepers at very humble salaries rise through the years to the presidency of their companies.

Historic Gowns to Bow Again at Tea Saturday Afternoon

Many Detroit homes will witness this week the pleasurable activity of preparation for an event which has become a classic in Detroit's social history, the annual costume tea and musicale of the Historic Memorials Society, formerly the Mt. Vernon Society, which Mrs. Charles Horton Metcalf heads as president for the fourteenth consecutive year.

annual tea, this year in honor not only of Abraham Lincoln, Esq., but also "in commemoration of the Centennial of Michigan's Statehood," will be given Saturday afternoon, February 15 from 2 to 5 o'clock in the Federation of Women's Clubs Building, Cass Avenue and Hancock. Mrs. Gilbert thinks this years setting, in what was a private home, will remind the older members of the Colonial Teas the former Mt. Vernon Society held in the spacious homes of those days.

period costumes the older and younger members will wear to the Tea, will be added discussions of what family treasures to contribute to the Loan Exhibit of "Michigan," or articles brought by Michigan pioneer ancestors. This display, in honor of Michigan's Centennial, will be in charge of Mrs. Walter R. O'Hair, assisted by Mrs. Heman Grant, Mrs. Orla B. Taylor, Mrs. Louis J. Flint, Mrs. Jacob J. Lamb, and Mrs. Angus N. McDonald. A number of interesting and valuable objects have already been promised.

This traditional tea is really a benefit, given for the purpose of enabling the Society to carry out its local and national historical objectives. The national objective, since 1922, when Mt. Vernon became self-sustaining, having been the restoration and maintenance of Kenmore, the one-time home in Fredericksburg, Va., of Betty Washington Lewis, sister of George Washington.

As a final aftermath of the debts incurred by Col. Fielding Lewis for the Revolutionary cause, (the muskets he mortgaged his estate to furnish are said to have won the Battle of Yorktown), Kenmore in 1922 faced a crisis; the mansion, acclaimed by architects for its perfection of detail, much of it planned by and carried out under the supervision of Washington himself for his favorite sister, was to be made into a rooming-house, and the grounds subdivided into small lots. Patriotic women throughout the United States were rallied to the cause, the crisis was averted, and Kenmore became the main objective of the national organization, the Historic Memorials Society, renamed from the Mt. Vernon Society, organized in a similar emergency to save Washington's home, but now self-sustaining. The local group sent $5,000 in 1922 toward the purchase and restoration of Kenmore, and $100 for Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, and many varying sums since then, under the guidance of Mrs. Metcalf, as well as to local historical projects.

Committee chairmen named by Mrs. Gilbert for this year's tea, and their selections as assistants are: Reception, Mrs. Charles Horton Metcalf, Mrs. O. D. Heavenrich, Mrs. Fletcher H. Field, and past presidents, Mrs. Frederic B. Stevens, Mrs. Arthur Maxwell Parker, Mrs. George S. Hosmer, Mrs. Edward W. Stoddard, Mrs. Orla B. Taylor, Mrs. John Walker, also Mrs. John W. Bennett. Honorary members who have been asked to pour are: Mrs. Israel Towne Cowles, Mrs. Emma A. Fox, Mrs. Eleanor S. Washington Howard, Miss Elizabeth E. Smith, and Mrs. James North Wright.

Mrs. Leroy G. Vanderveer, chairman, of tea-table, announces that the following will preside during the afternoon, Mrs. Charles Horton Metcalf, in costume, Mrs. Osmond D. Heavenrich, in costume, Mrs. Frederick B. Stevens, Mrs. Edward W. Stoddard, Mrs. John Walker, Mrs. Emma A. Fox, Mrs. J. W. Bennett, in costume, Mrs. Charles H. Mooney, in costume, Mrs. Louis Gascoigne, in costume, Mrs. Fletcher H. Field and Mrs. Herbert O'Brien. Her committee includes Mrs. Howard Holden, Mrs. Harry C. Thatcher, Madame Alexander Roudoy, Mrs. Jacob John Lamb, Mrs. Harry J. Denier, Mrs. Charles E. Swales, Mrs. Pauline Dunn Chidsey, Mrs. Robert June, Mrs. Louis Gascoigne, Mrs. Lewis C. Dunn, Mrs. Charles W. Erickson, assisted by her daughter Jane, Mrs. Arthur F. Turner, Mrs. C. Clark Ross, Mrs. Charles H. Mooney, Mrs. Morris C. Burnside, assisted by her daughter Barbara, Mrs. John Grabson Jr., Mrs. A. S. Crawford, Mrs. George A. Ford, Mrs. Albert F. Potter, Miss Elinor Freedlander and Mrs. Maxwell Woodward. Of those in costume, Madame Alexander Roudoy, in her exotic Russian ensemble, will lend an international aspect to the Tea. Colonial costumes will be worn by Mrs. Lamb, Mrs. June, Mrs. Dunn, Miss Jane Erickson and Miss Barbara Burnside. Mrs. George A. Fox will wear a gown of the Lincoln period, once worn by her mother; Miss Elinor Freedlander's costume of peacock-blue taffeta, pink, and some real lace, is a copy of the dress of a court lady in an original etching in her possession of "Benjamin Franklin at the Court of France." Mrs. Maxwell Woodward's Colonial costume is of plum-colored silk taffeta. Mrs. Leroy G. Vanderveer's Colonial gown of antique satin is the color of faded roses; her small bonnet has peacock-blue ostrich tips, and her brooch is a miniature of her great grandfather, William Moses Sanborn, who was among the first to leave Salem, Mass., to settle in the new Northwest Territory.

Mrs. Lewis Clark Dunn, program chairman for the Tea, announces that a half-hour of classical music will be given by Robert Ritzenheim, sixteen-year-old violinist, who won an audition on the Major Bowes program at Radio City, N. Y., on December 8, last. He will be accompanied, as he was on that occasion, by his sister, Betty Ann, 15. Robert, although offered a contract through his audition, chose to remain here and continue his violin-study, as he hopes to become a concert violinist. Robert and Betty Ann are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ritzenheim of Balfour Road, Grosse Pointe. Betty Ann will also play a group of piano numbers. Through the courtesy of Ethelyn Mann, the following children will present a varied program of toe, tap, Russian and ballet dances—Virginia Nelson, Claira Neback, Paul Danko, Marian Lee, Frances Jane Rogers, Betty Jane Kutchenruther, Albert and Alfred Ritz, Beatrice Weisenthal and Jane Wass and Georgiana Ver Faillie, in song and impersonations. The program will continue from 3:30 to 4:30 o'clock. Mary Lou Dunn, little daughter of the Lewis C. Dunns will wear an old-fashioned dress worn by her mother at a Washington party in Warren, O., 32 years ago. Mrs. Dunn is loaning to Mrs. O'Hair's antique table an actual photograph of Lincoln's presence with from her mother, Mrs. Nira Whitney Tucker, of Warren, O.; a hand-made hooked rug over 150 years old, the yarn having been spun on a flax-wheel, and the coloring of the yarn from berries and leaves on bushes in the front yard of the "Old Homestead," at Montville, O., which has been in the possession of the family for 175 years. Mrs. Dunn is also loaning a collection of genuine steel engravings, some thumbnailed glass, lustre pitchers and old china.

Mrs. Charles Sylvester Lewis, candy chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Shirley H. Pitcher and Mrs. George M. Endicott. Officiating at the punch-bowl will be Mrs. George T. Hunter, Mrs. Florence H. Dow, Mrs. A. Milton Humber, Mrs. Frederick G. Jaynes, and Mrs. Roderick P. Fraser. Mrs. Walter C. Pomeroy's cake committee consists of Mrs. Maxwell W. Woodward, Miss Myrtle E. Babcock, Mrs. Paul Hale Bruske and Mrs. Fred T. Berry. Mrs. Roy E. DeHart, in charge of the sale of ivy-cuttings from Mt. Vernon, always a feature of this Tea, has as helpers, Mrs. Herbert F. Poehle, Mrs. Duncan Stewart, Mrs. Edward H. Eichler, Mrs. Willard K. Bush and Mrs. Pauline Dunn Chidsey. Mrs. George Bond's daughter, Vanessa, will help at the remembrance-card table. Mrs. Robert June has charge of the grab-bag, popular with children and grown-folk alike. Mrs. Malcolm D. MacQueen's aides at the ticket task are Mrs. P. J. Toner, Mrs. Don M. Simpson, Mrs. Louis M. Edgar, and Mrs. W. Gomer Krise. Mrs. C. D. Macpherson, ice cream and cake table, chose Mrs. Edward G. Heckel, Miss Jessie Noble Hill, Mrs. L. F. R. Bellows, Mrs. Henry B. Kellogg, Mrs. Sidney C. Probert and Mrs. Herbert F. Poehle. Mrs. Walter O'Hair will have a display-table of Colonial glass. Boy Scout Troop No. 29, of St. Paul's Cathedral, will have charge of checking. The publicity chairman is Mrs. Edward J. Savage.

Veteran Explorer to Lecture on African Jungles on Sunday

Half savage African tribesmen who refuse to bury their dead and who appease their vengeful gods by feeding their children to the crocodiles will be described and shown in motion pictures by Captain Carl von Hoffman, Russian born explorer and ethnologist, in a public lecture at the Detroit Institute of Arts at 3:30 Sunday afternoon, Feb. 16. Captain von Hoffman's subject will be "Jungle Gods," the title of his famous book. Captain von Hoffman, veteran of 17 expeditions to Africa, has spent much of his life studying and photographing primitive peoples of Asia and Africa. His Sunday lecture pictures the daily life of the remote WaLala tribe. He shows them at home on the veldt—harvesting their crops, cooking, scarring their bodies, performing age-old ceremonies as they watch their king die. He shows the Court of the Witch Doctors, grimly deciding which of the tribesmen must be sacrificed to atone for the loss of the chief. As a boy of 14 Captain von Hoffman ran away from school to fight in the Czar's armies against Japan. He was wounded, decorated for conspicuous gallantry, and made a Knight of St. George. During the World War he served as an American flyer.

The inventory embraces the following classifications:

Narrow and load limit 55 bridges; narrow only, 144; load limit only, 6; otherwise inadequate, 50; adequate bridges, 532. This classification does not include the 14 moveable bridges on the trunk-line system all of which are adequate. "This inventory shows that we still have a long way to go before all our bridges meet present-day traffic requirements," the commissioner said. "The fact that most of the inadequate bridges are classed as too narrow indicates the tremendous increase in traffic in the last few years." Bridge design has also changed a great deal in the last few years. The most important development has been the elimination of unnecessary and expensive ornamentation.

Detroit and Michigan Exposition to Be One of Year's Major Events

All railroads in Michigan are authorized to make a rate of fare-and-one-third during the entire second annual Detroit and Michigan Exposition, March 6th to 15th, inclusive, according to announcement made today by the Central Passenger Association at Chicago. Bus Lines will also effect reduced rates into Detroit, exposition officials said.

"All indications point to a much greater, more truly representative show with a larger attendance than last year," said James Verner, Jr., general chairman. "The exposition committee is receiving whole-hearted co-operation from the Governor, the Mayor, civic bodies and industrial organizations, retail merchants, export groups and educational factors. The Federal, state and city governments as well as foreign nations are actively participating as exhibitors.

"Animated displays will characterize exhibits, and these as well as entertainment features, are designed to appeal to a widely diversified audience. The Ford Motor Company, for example, with 5,000 square feet of exhibit space will not show a car but will emphasize with elaborate displays the latest scientific developments of the automotive industry. Chrysler and other major exhibitors will likewise portray the unusual.

"A Michigan copper mine 70 feet in length, will be reproduced by the Michigan School of Mining and Technology of Houghton, Michigan. The new Stout Scarab rear-drive streamline automobile will have its first public showing at the Exposition. There will be shown the bones of a Michigan mastodon, 50,000 years old. A state fencing tournament, with an Olympic star represented will be an added feature.

"With the Exposition almost a month away, arrangements are being completed now for the appearance of famous radio and screen stars. Stage shows, style shows, a cooking school, a 100 piece accordion choir, a 25 piece marimba band, dancers, choral groups and other forms of entertainment will be supplemented by still further major attractions.

"The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Victor Kolar, will open the exposition in a brilliant society preview and socially prominent matrons will act as hostesses.

"The Detroit Police Department promises an interesting program, with exhibits demonstrating the Bertillon thumb-printing methods, the ballistic system and other departmental and safety activities.

"The Detroit Foreign Consular Corps is cooperating in bringing here from Washington for World Trade Day, ambassadors and commercial secretaries of foreign embassies. On the following two days the governors of several states are expected here to participate in the Seaway conference sponsored by the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence Tidewater and Great Lakes Harbors Association and others. "Approximately two-thirds of the floor space has already been contracted for," said Verner. "Cooperating in the advance sale of the half million tickets just off the press are 1,613 organizations throughout Michigan, including the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs churches, schools, societies, sororities, Y. M. C. A.'s nationality and industrial groups.

Activities of the exposition are divided into the following classifications, namely: Friday, March 6th; Society Preview Opening; Saturday, March 7th, Michigan Education Day; Sunday, March 10th, World Trade Day; Wednesday, March 11th, Michigan Manufacturers' Day; Thursday, March 12th, Purchasing Agent's Day; Friday, March 13th, Police Day; Saturday, March 14th, Tourist Industry Day; Sunday, March 15, Michigan Press Day.

Drivers' License Sale Stimulated

Most automobile drivers of the state require only a personal reminder that their operators' licenses may have expired, to cause them to investigate and apply for one if necessary.

This is the inescapable conclusion reached by officials of the Department of State as the result of the flow of applications for these licenses during the past two months. Late in 1935, it became publicly known that application blanks for 1936 automobile licenses would contain two questions: one asking the number of the applicant's operator's license; the other, the date of expiration.

The thousands of plate applications flowing across the counters of the department in the capitol and at branch offices throughout the state, furnish the explanation for the recent increase in applications for operators' licenses, showing that they secured them when they realized they would be asked questions about them as they purchased their 1936 plates.

While there are still thousands of operators whose licenses have expired, the fact remains that more than 1,000 applications are being received every day, this rate having been averaged for the past two months, with some 40,000 in December, 1935, alone.

What == Another Special Election?

Why didn't the Grosse Pointe Park Commission place the question of incorporation as a city, before the voters at the Municipal election on March 9, 1936, when sufficient petitions were filed with the Village Clerk, on December 20, 1935?

Section 2244 of the Compiled Laws of 1929, as amended, gives the Village Commission authority to place this question before the voters at the March 9th election.

Why should the public be saddled with the expense of a special election? Are the incumbents more interested in their own candidacy than saving the electorate time and expense?

Are they afraid to stand for election at a time when a larger proportion of the citizens vote? City incorporation was voted on in Grosse Pointe City at the usual municipal election.

That is why it is a never-ending battle. You can do your bit by voting on March 9th for the following ticket:

- VOTE FOR
- HARRY C. HANLEY, President
 - For Commissioners
 - CARL A. WILLIAMS,
 - MARVIN W. MOESTA,
 - JULES DeGRAEVE,
