Ho-Hum. Another election is over, results as usual. But it was a good fight while it lasted.

In Europe the ploughshare is being turned into war implements again and another wanton destruction of human lives seems inevitable, to satisfy the lust for power.

A headline appeared in one of Tuesday, which read as follows: England Spits With France.

We note that Edward Rausch of Grosse Pointe was among the 15 just recently appointed to the County Clerk's staff.

If you have a toothache, don't use whiskey for a gargle, because it's hard to convince a policeman or a judge that such is the case?

Tigers expect to have a good Voters Rally to southman stricting pitcher in John Support of Garska Merena, who has a world of stuff and control.

Aliens who get homesick, sometimes lose their rights to return when the border patrol checks up on their history.

The elevator strike in New York is spreading to the other districts.

Difficulties seem to have arisen over the proposed gift of Mrs. Alger to the City of Detroit.

Spring weather is setting in fast, and it is hardly a month Benefit Party March 17 before Mickeys men will be stepping around Navin Field.

Bill Rogell is now a fight manager and his fighter won his fight early this week.

Bob Surtman Located on Mack Avenue at Beaconsfield

So many of those who remember Bob Surtman as the bicycle man at Baldwin and Lafavette, for many years have had some difficulty in locating him during recent years. He is now located on Mack avenue on the north side of the street between Beaconsfield and Nottingham, and is still selling bicycles and expertly repairing them.

We Thank You

Alfred J. Garska, Louis A. DeHayes, John B. Renaud and William Shoemaker, are sincerely appreciative for the splendid manner in which the voters supported us in the recent election, and for the expression of confidence which re-elected us to serve you for another two years, that the present low-cost government might be maintained, and continue to function in the taxpayers' interest.

Flower Show to Present Many New and Unique Attractions This Year

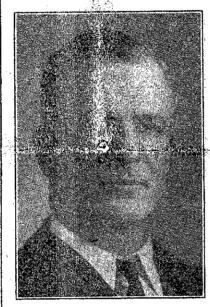

More than a dozen greenhouses in the metropolitan area are filled to capacity with nursery stock which is being forced for the most beautiful and most spectacular flower show ever held locally. The Michigan Flower and Garden Exhibition which opens in Convention Hall March 28 to continue through April 3 is a much anticipated event through the entire eastern and lower Michigan. This year it will comprise 100,000 square feet, the largest show since 1927, the year following the constitution of the state of Michthe Eighth National Flower Show, which still lingers in the memories of flower lovers. Since this well remem bered show, which was a spectacular floral display for show more than praticability, the flower show has been improved each year with more beautiful and more practical gardens in a greater number, with artistic arrangements perfected to an art and with outstand- Fire Broke Out in ing garden club exhibits which only years of experience can bring about. Grosse Pointe Farms Opposes Alger Gift

The Detroit City Council yesterday referred to the corporation counsel an offer by Mrs. Russell A. Alger to donate her home at 32 Lakeshore drive, Grosse' Pointe Farms, to Detroit, as an art museum.

A letter from John R. Kerby, village clerk of Grosse Pointe Farms, notified council acquisition of the property by Detroit would be opposed also was forwarded to Corporation Counsel Raymond J. Kelly for advice.

"Acquisition of this property for an art museum is illegal and contrary to igan," Kerby wrote.

When Mrs. Alger's offer was made to Detroit earlier in the Winter through Edsel Ford, it was stated that cancellation of taxes on the $1,000,000 estate would be necessary before the transfer could be accomplished.

Local Talent Featured on Station CKLW in Grosse Pointe Hour

Last Saturday night at 8:30 Grosse Pointe talent presented a very delightful program for a half hour over Radio Station CKLW. The Octette, well known Grosse Pointers, rendered several memorable selections, and our Grosse Pointe Park treasurer favored us with a solo which brought back fond recollections to many of us.

Public Hearing

In this issue of The Review appears an ad calling attention to the public hearing to be held on Monday, March 16, 1936 at 5:00 p. m. at 17150 Maumee Avenue, for the purpose of allowing all taxpayers of the City and others interested, an opportunity to examine the City Budget before its final adoption. This budget covers the fiscal year beginning April 1, 1936. Incidentally, no increase in the rate or valuations in the City taxes is planned.

Marian Ruth Miller exemplified excellent tap dancing and vocal ability. Wiliam Shoemaker made an address, and several others contributed to a program which many of us had been looking forward to. These programs have been enjoyed by many of us, and it is hoped that it will continue as a Saturday night feature of this popular Station -- Transport

110 New Buildings Constructed in Grosse Pointe Park in 1935

From January 1, 1935 to December 1, 1935 110 new buildings were constructed in Grosse Pointe Park at a cost of $1,406,760, and 22 minor buildings, additions and alterations were made during the year, at a cost of $25,775, or an expenditure of $1,432,535 in construc-

The assessment valuation of this property is set at 50 per cent, which would mean revenue for Grosse Pointe Park of approximately $9,000 or more.

Building Activity for 1936

Construction was begun on eight new single residences in Grosse Pointe Park during the month of January, totaling $81,350. One garage, one store building, and one addition and alteration job totaling $9,050, made a grand total for the month of $90,400.

During the month of February eight single residences were constructed at a cost of $68,700. One alteration and addition amounting to $700 made a total of $69,480 for the month.

This should give the residents of Grosse Pointe Park a fair idea of how rapidly this communtiy has been growing during recent months. These figures records on the activities in the building field, in the Grosse Pointe Park area since the first of the year.

GROSSE POINTE REPUBLICAN WOMEN'S CLUB TO MEET AT NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB MAR. 16

The Women's Committee of the Republican Club of Grosse Pointe extends an invitation to the women of the four Grosse Pointe villages and the City of Grosse Pointe to attend the Republican Women's Rally at the Neighborhood Club, 17145 Waterloo, at St. Clair avenue, on Monday, March 16, at 3 o'clock sharp.

The organization is fortunate indeed in having Mrs. Frederick M. Alger preside.

Mrs. Alger is well known as a leader of women, a leader who not only invites their loyalty, but their affection as well. In these troubled times she will have a message for the women of this community that they cannot afford to miss.

This invitation is extended not only to the loyal Republican women of Grosse Pointe, but to every woman who is concerned with the rapid growth of radicalism in this country, which is threatening to destroy our national institutions. Do not let apathy and indifference imperil the future of your country.

While there is a general exodus of women to points in the south, due to the unusually severe winter, many women from the Grosse Pointe villages have signified their intention of attending this meeting.

The committee on organization is made up of the following? Mesdames James Holden, Rex Cranston, Henry E. Bodman, Kenneth Thomas, Lincoln Maire, Ralph Clark, Arthur Kirchner, O. O. Rex. David G. Williams, Walter Concly, Edward Evans, M. W. Moesta, Wm. R. Hudson, Fred Schreiber, Edwin Stroh, Carl McPherson, James Sheridan, A. Phillips, John McPharson, and Relivin Wrieghoff. Chairman.

Thank You

We unsuccessful candidates for the Grosse Pointe Park commission, Hanley, Moesta, Degrace d Williams take this opp ity to congratulate our opponents on their victory.

We carried the campaign out in the open and above board all the way. Although the incumbents' victory was decisive their majority does not present the impossible to us.

We wish to thank our supporters and hope to see them again at the next election.

We will be with you again soon in the columns of the Grosse Pointe Review.

303 NEWS

By AL ZARB

A good sized crowd turned out for the meeting of last Wednesday night, W. O. L. for quite some time, such as Hanley, Royer, and Mast.

Comrade Taylor signed up last night, welcome to the Post, and let's hope we'll seee you often.

A motion to have the Post take action in the awarding of school awards to Grosse Pointe schools was passed, and also a letter to Marine Hospital, thanking them for the gold treatment of veteran patients.

The first collection of the Penny Fund was made last night, and a neat sum was realized.

Post No. 303 will request the Lake shore Motor Coach Co. to reduce fares to children going to shows on Saturday Nominations for Senior Vice Commander and Adjutant opened and closed last meeting. Russell Murphy was nominated for Senior Vice Commander and for Adjutant, Earl Cramer and Cecil Stettler. Election March 18.

Post members were very pleased to know that Alger Post No. 995, V. F. W. is moving in with us. We shared their quarters so long that we felt lonesome without them. These two Posts always did work together, and you sure are welcome, Comrades, and I trust you will feel as much at home with us, as we did with you.

In the Legion News that you will get next Friday, you will find an item saying that the Post will give a St. 15710 Mack with admission set for one

Few Children Born With Mental Flaws

The notion that many of our crimmals were born to lead lives of crime still remains with many people. Its by practically all men of science, and by criminologists. It is a recognized fact that very few children, indeed, are born with such mental and physical flaws, that predispose their lives to crime. Value of Laughter drudgery, and year of the man

In days of old, laughter was not only believed to deliver one from magic spells, mad spirits, hatred and hostility but it was thought to possess life-giving properties. So at pagan spring festivals the people laughed hilariously for hours at a time to bring life back to the earth. Apparently the Ionians of ancient Greece also liked those who laughed, as they had a law which exiled those who never did.-Collier's Weekly,

The beetle itself is a small black and white one, with a red line down the middle of its back. The eggs are laid among the fibers of the material on which the larva will feed, whether carpet, woolens, furs or cotton. Carpets placed permanently on the floor and allowed to remain undisturbed for a year furnish ideal conditions for the pest. Polished floors and rugs that are easily and often removed will tend to eliminate it.

Some Fish Hibernate

Fish hibernate in cold weather, but some fish like carp descend into the mud during a prolonged frest and remain there until the thaw sets in.

Studying New Legal and Economic Conditions Affecting Bank Management

STRESS PUBLIC RELATIONS

American Bankers Association Sponsor of Meetings as Part of Nationwide Program of Banking Development

PHILADELPHIA.-Fifteen hundred bankers from fifteen eastern states met here in January in a two day conference devoted to discussions on legislative, managerial, operating and public relations problems of the banking busi ness. This was the first of a series of meetings planned by the American Bankers Association in its nationwide program of banking development under the leadership of Robert V. Fleming. president of the association. Similar conferences will be held in southern and western sections of the country.

"It is the purpose of these working conferences to bring to association members and other bankers a thorough knowledge of the changes in banking laws and rules, provide discussion of better public relations so that there shall be greater cooperation and under standing between the banker and his customers, and to give opportunity for a survey of the problems incident to the Government's competition with our chartered institutions," Mr. Fleming said in opening the meeting.

To Help Government Quit Banking

The discussions at the conference showed that the bankers are ready to make it easier for the Government to relinquish many of its emergency financial services as soon as possible by demonstrating how their institutions are able to render full banking facilities to the public on sound lines.

Bankers generally have recognized that in times of emergency the Government had to come to the assistance of the people where chartered institu tions were unable to do so on account of such conditions, Mr. Fleming said They also realize that possibly many functions which the Government is per forming are of a nature which cannot be handled by chartered institutions under the principles of sound banking

On the other hand, he said, "we should survey all emergency lending measures of the Government to judge which of these activities can be properly and soundly taken over by banks in their respective communities."

The attending bankers devoted time to considering the Banking Act of 1935 and the many related regulations and discretionary powers under the Federal law. These were explained by O. How ard Wolfe of Philadelphia, who said he had made a count of the various places in the act where provision is made for discretionary power to be exercised by government officials through regula-

"Confining the count only to the sections which affect practically all of us. I found there are forty-eight places where discretionary power is given," he said. "It is a problem of no mean importance, therefore, to master banking law as it is today or may be tomorrow.

Bank Taxation and Solvency

Bank taxation was discussed by Charles H. Mylander of Columbus, Ohio, who declared that "the average American is vitally interested in taxa tion of banks because solvency may depend to a large degree upon the way in which the taxing power is exercised upon them."

To prove his point he cited earnings figures which showed that, in the year ended June 30, 1934, "for the United States as a whole, national banks used $14.89 out of each $100 of net operating earnings, before taxes, in payment of taxes; but in seven of the twelve Fed eral Reserve Districts the percentage of earnings used for taxes was above the average. It was in practically these same seven districts that the greatest number of bank failures occurred in those hectic years from 1920 to 1933.'

As an example of how far taxation can go, he quoted official figures show ing that in 1934 a large number of smal state banks paid on the average $34.20 of every $100 of operating profits for taxes. Mr. Mylander urged that there be "brought home to the average American the self-evident truth that banks, dealing as they do only in in tangible property, are not proper sub jects for property taxation; that the true measure of a bank's ability to pay taxes is the earnings it can make."

SHOW PREFERENCES

The American Bankers Association reports that non-member banks suffer twice the percentage of burglaries and hold-up robberies as compared with members. Member banks display a sign showing that they receive the pro tection of the association's detective agents, who cause the arrest of from 150 to 400 bank crooks every year, the "Professional criminals often boast of having sense enough to dodge the far-reaching system of man hunting available to members, so long as there are other banks without this protec tion," it says. "They recognize tha once on the record of the Association's Protective Department, they must pay for every crime with which they can be identified. Detainer warrants have followed them from place to place so that penal servitude for one crime would not expiate other offenses."

Britain was the Archibald Russell, which was built in Glasgow in 1905.

OPEN LETTER

DEAR VOTERS:

One of our candidates for Commissioner, Mr. Julius Degraeve, was so sure he was elected that he bought three dollars worth of cakes and cookies and then went to Maryland Beer Store and bought a case of Cream Top to have a party that evening. It had to be Cream Top, not Cadillac.

When he found that he had not been elected he dropped the case of Cream Top and then the cakes. This being the case his friends had to go ome without refreshments.

It is too had it had to happen this way; we hope he tries again. JOSEPH VAN STEEN.

Folsom Man The term Folsom man is used for one of the Stone age people, supposed to have lived in North America at the end of the last glacial (late Pleistocene), period, and is derived from artifacts found near Folsom, N. M., in 1925.

Animals Can Wiggle Ears Most animals can wiggle their ears, but this ability is highest in "the beasts that roam over the plain"-cattle, deer, antelopes, horses, kangaroos, rabbits, and the like. Their big ears can be erected or flattened or turned forward and back, with as much ease as the wagging of a tail.

Use "Courtesy Titles" The custom is for the eldest son of a peer, of the rank of duke, marquess, earl, or viscount, to use, as a "courtesy title," one of his father's inferior titles. In the case of a duke, second and other sons are also known by their courtesy title of "Lord," followed by their Christian name and surname. "Courtesy titles" are not hereditary.

Eight hundred and two awards in all are being provided in the traveling coach competition. These include 16 cash awards totaling $400 to be distributed in each state and the District of Columbia and 18 regional awards consisting of trips to the Guild Convention, nine for the junior contestants and nine for the senior.

All models submitted in this compeition will be judged by regions. Two boys from each, one junior and one senior, whose coaches obtain the highest score, will attend the annual convention as guests of the educational

No national awards are offered the apprentices, since the primary purpose of this class is to provide a stepping stone that will enable youths to progress naturally and easily through the various stages in the development of manual skill, Mr. Fisher states. He explains that discouragement at the outset has prevented many from learning the joy of being able to do things with their hands, denying them the self-assurance and appreciation of the crafts that normally follow.

The nine judging regions, created on a basis of population, consist of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island; New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey; West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia; Kentucky, Tennessee, North arolina, South Carolina, Mississippi Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

in Our Schools

The need for some form of treatment of problem children in our schools to prevent juvenile delinquency is effectively portrayed by the recent letter received by the Michigan Juvenile Delinquency Information Service of the University of Michigan from the head of a school. Part of the letter reads

"A boy 61/2 years old in the second grade (we have no kindergarten, which means his second year in school) is doing slightly below average work. His father is dead and his mother is married again. The boy for the past several years has been living with his grandparents, who are perhaps 60 years old. They have raised a large family of their own, none are at home now. The grandparents are of moderate means, dress the boy well, take him about and furnish him with sufficient play material and spending money.

"They apparently enjoy the boy and I believe feel it unwise to ask the mother, who is living in a city, to take the child. The boy possesses a fine appearance, cheerful, bright, well liked by teachers and playmates, but will steal anything and everything. He takes articles of which he has no need and had not planned on taking until the opportunity presented itself, from school, home and community. He will lie when apprehended but when caught with the goods admit the theft and attempt an explanation. We have tried to reason with him and show how others will not want to play with himhe continues as in the past; we have tried to punish him by segregation, and as a last resort and after talking it over with his grandparents, tried corporal punishment here at school. These and numerous other ideas have been tried but as I said at the beginning we are not handling it, for the situation is getting worse.

"His grandparents are about frantic and will co-operate in any way possible. I am stumped and have found it necessary to ask the boy to stay at home for the time being.

"The question is Where now?" This is but one of many instances where schools require expert assistance by trained workers. It's encouraging to note, however, of the recent interest shown by the Michigan Crime Commission in studying proposals for inauguration of the Gary Plan of Child Guidance Clinics in Michigan Schools. This is a practical plan of solving this vexing problem and should receive the support of all interested in prevention of juvenile delinquency.

The stock, according to Mr. Berry who recently made a tour of inspection to the greenhouses, is the best of any for a number of years, and the specimen evergreens are perfect in shape and color. Flowering trees and shrubs which provide the highlights in the gardens are in excellent bud and should be literal clouds of bloom.

Since first class bulbs from Holland became difficult to obtain several years ago, the bulbous plants at the show occupied the least amount of space and were very much missed by lovers of bulbs. Now, however, American growers are making a specialty of bulb cultivation and are producing stock which compares favorably with that of Holland, and bulbs will again take an important place in the flower show with an outstanding bulb garden as well as hundreds of specimen potted plants.

Garden clubs are participating with their usual zeal and their enthusiasm increases with each year.

Glacier Priest Sunday Attraction at Detroit

Father Bernard J. Hubbard, Alaska's famous "Glacier Priest," and Howard Cleaves, globe-trotting adventurer, will be next Sunday's afternoon and eveping speakers at the Detroit Institute of Arts. At 3:30 Howard Cleaves will show his exiotic motion pictures and speak on "By Sailboat Through the South Seas." Father Hubbard's new motion picture lecture, at 8:30, will be entitled "My Adventures in Alaska." Father Hubbard's new lecture assembles "shots" of his most colorful adventures during his last six expeditions to Alaska, and he promises motion pictures never before shown in Detroit. Howard Cleaves brings the pictorical record of seven-month, 13,000-mile voyage through the South Seas, visiting such romatic spots as Tahiti, the Marquesas, the Tuamotus, Cocos and Galapages.

Topic for March 19

Burton Holmes brings the funniest and most colorful of his motion picture travelogues to the Detroit Institute of Arts at 8:30 next Thursday evening, March 19, when he speaks on "What I Saw in Ethiopia." During his lecture the renowned traveler will wear the robes of an Ethiopian nobleman, personally given to him by his friend

The travelogue starts in Rome and proceeds across the Mediterranean and down the Suez Canal to Djibouti, the French port through which the Ethiopians are now bringing in munitions. Thence Burton Holmes proceeds to Addis Ababa by way of the railroad which is now the life of Selassie's troops. There are plentiful shots of native villages and tribal life, festivals and feasts, the feudal warriors and chieftains, the Imperial bodyguard, and day, March 18, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. The pastor will preach on the theme: "Abused-For Our Glory."

Eastminster Presbyterian Church

East Jefferson avenue at Manistique. Carl E. Kircher, pastor.

"Our Beloved Church" is the title of the sermon of Rev. Carl E. Kircher at

In Scriptural metaphor both the good and the wicked are compared to trees. The righteous "shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither" (Psalms 1:3); while the wicked are as "trees whose fruit withereth" (Jude 1:12). And in Revelation (2:7) is the promise to him that overcometh, that he shall be given "to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God." It is the continual partaking of the truth that life is spiritual which enables us to endure the seeming resistance of evil, and to maintain and manifest the freshness and strength which come from the one divine Mind. Through the use of the truth which is already known are spread out new branches of spiritual confidence and fresh leaves of hope and faith and love. . . . Truth endures; and "growth is the eternal mandate of Mind," Mary Baker Eddy declares on page 520 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Despite the wounds that come from the world of sense, the trusting heart looks up to God, and as its hope is renewed, further growth out of the material sense of existence results; for thought which turns to God partakes of immortal sustenance. The truth which has been unfolding through the ages, must ever continue to unfold until all true existence is seen to be spiritual and to be made manifest through constant abidance within its laws.

Whatever difficulties arise through the temporal storms of sense, we can look away from the material evidence and know that "the tree of life" never fades, but endures, for its roots are in divine Principle, and its branches outspread in the sunlight of reality. Thought which is rooted and grounded in Love cannot be made weary of the struggle to resist material sense. Strength is gained by overcoming the senses' resistance to Spirit, for spiritual strength increases and endures .-- The Christian Science Monitor.

CCC Activities

The human side of CCC activities is expressed in the following letter received by chief foreman Sam Cline of Colored Veterans' CCC Camp Temple from Miss Dorothy F. Brown, administratrix of the Clare County Emergency Welfare Administration.

I should like to express my appreciation on behalf of the Emergency Relief Office of Clare County for the assistance you have given in helping us to move families through snow-blocked roads to places where they could be available to the medical care which they needed.

Except for the use of your caterpillar tractor and the work of the CCC men, William Adams, Harry Mann, and Lumon Williams, these families would still be inaccessible to the doctor and perhaps with serious results.

Miss Helen Barthel is chairman of the program committee which includes Mns. Ruth Flom and Miss Bernice Theories and practices of debating will be discussed in a series of six discussions which started Tuesday, March 10, according to the plans made by Mr Leroy Selmeier, debate coach.

"While it is not absolutely essential that a future debater take this course. it is strongly recommended in view of the fact that the regular season rushes us so much that we cannot then give training in necessary fundamentals. We can further be sure of doing better Plans for Boy Scout when we begin having the ninth and tenth grade students with us on the Varsity debating squad," declares Mr. Selmeier.

Those attending this series will be taken to the state championship debate at Ann Arbor on May 1:

Notification has not yet been received by Mr. Forrest Geary, coach, as to who Grosse Pointe's first opponent will be

William McIlroy, former student of Grosse Pointe High School, died of tuberculosis a week ago Sunday afternoon at Herman Kiefer Hospital.

Bill attended Grosse Pointe High from January, 1931, to June, 1935. He worked as an usher at the Punch and Judy theater at night during that time. From July 29, 1935 until his death on February 24, 1936, Bill was confined to the Herman Kiefer hospital on Hamilton and Philadelphia street, Detroit.

Miss Louise Karpinski, Bill's home room teacher during his last year of attendance at Grosse Pointe High School, said, "Bili was a fine boy and always showed a willingness to help other people."

"You'll have many cities in the middle west coming to observe the work you're doing here as it becomes better known," prophesied Dr. Richard D. Allen, guidance expert from Providence, R. I., in an address to the faculty of Grosse Pointe public schools and approximately 35 outside educators in the high school auditorium last Thursday

Dr. Allen spent nearly, all of the day Thursday going over the working methods of Grosse Pointe High before clude P. W. A. Fitzsimmons, Praident discussing his impressions of the syst of Michigan Mutual Liability Conpany. tem. He was particularly impressed with the placement service, which is win, Vice President, Boy Scorts of directed by Mr. Charles Leavitt, and the home room activities. "You have the finest placement program I've ever seen in any high school, aand I think your home room program is splendid," he said.

Only one suggestion was offered for improvement of the Grosse Pointe guidance system. Dr. Allen advised the introduction of six counselors to make a study of individual pupils, observe licity. their growth and differences, and conduct courses in guidance.

Dr. Allen spoke at some length or the modern school, explaining that it is a school which makes a continuous study of the individual differences of its children and tries to adjust its program in the light of these differences. Modern schools endeavor to measure education, they are continually revising their curriculum, and they are doing something to help students to choose their occupations wisely, he said.

Exposition April 16 Practically Complete

Announcement has just been made by the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, that Dr. Frank Cody, Superintendent of Detroit Public Schools has accepted the General Chairmanship of the Council's Boy Scout Exposition to a 51-24 victory over the Ann Arbor to be held in Convention Hall April 16

> In accepting the chairmanship, Cody stated that he was happy to be of service in such a worthy enterprise. "Scouting is one of the several splendid agencies supplementing the work of the Home, Church, and School," he said, "and we are happy to co-operate in such an activity. It will be a very nteresting project from an educationa; point of view." Members of Dr. Cody's committee in-
