Help Improve Special Delivery Service

There has been a bill entered in Congress, No. H. R. 5432, sponsored by Representative John Dingell of Detroit, favoring Civil Service for special delivery messengers throughout the United States.

This bill means that the messengers will be entitled under Civil Service to the same standing as other mail carriers and clerks; that messengers will have sick-leave days, vacations each year, an allowance on cars the same as rural mail delivery; and perhaps placed on a salary basis instead of the day to day agreement, now working all kinds of hours and not being able to make enough to properly finance their machines by the fee basis under which they now work.

Civil Service will not doubt improve Department 100 per cent, and the messengers would appreciate your writing a letter in our behalf, supporting this bill. Under present arrangements there is absolutely no guarantee by the government of a continuance of motorized special delivery service.

Our bingo party of March 28th, held at our clubhouse, was quite a success, considering the fact that it was Lent. We had a fair crowd, and they had a very good time. We also made a little money. However, unless the members show a little more enthusiasm in supporting these parties, we will be compelled to give up these small family and wholly enjoyable parties. It is not fair to see the same men doing all the work at every party. Don't be a button-hole Legionnaire, offer your services once in a while, it is your duty to your Post and Comrades. Turn in your names to Korte and see him smile.

The meeting held last Wednesday was very brief. Senior Vice Commander Murphy presided at the meeting, as Commander Smith was still absent, due to family illness. Murphy made a good job of it. Gordon Lees reported membership contest going great, my team is still leading. That is to be expected, the other team captains are a bunch of "hams" in my opinion. The only way you can prove you are not a "ham" is by beating my team. However, all joking aside fellows, this membership contest should go over with a "bang" and I'm hoping to see the 150 limit reached by the time the contest is closed.

The "Penny Fund" box is almost filled, and is ready to be turned over to Bob Butts, our welfare officer. (Bob please take notice).

That's all for this week. See you next meeting, April 15th.

Tre Ore Service at Jefferson Baptist

The preacher for the Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church Tre Ore service on Good Friday will be the Rev. Edgar DeWitt Jones, D. D., and his sermon will be followed by that most beautiful and best-known of the Passion Cantatas, "Olivet to Calvary," by J. H. Maunder, sung by the Jefferson Baptist chorists and soloists under the direction of Jason Moore, organist and choirmaster. Other churches of the community joining in this service will be the Jefferson Avenue Methodist, the Kercheval Evangelical, the Eastminster Presbyterian and the Grace Evangelical-Reform. The service will be conducted by the ministers of these churches, the Rev. Wayland Zwyer, minister of the Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church, preaching at the Lafayette Theater service of the Detroit Council of Churches.

Masters or Subjects

(By Representative James W. Wadsworth of New York)

When Mr. Roosevelt and his lieutenants came to Washington in the Spring of 1933, they brought with them the belief that our form of government, which has stood for one hundred and fifty years, is outworn and should be changed most radically. To be more specific, they believed that there should be centered at Washington power sufficient to regulate, down to the smallest details, all industry, agriculture, commerce, credit, investments, transportation, and, in fact, the very lives of our citizens as they attempt to earn their living. To accomplish such a transformation and to make it effective, they insisted that the Congress should turn over to the President the right to issue regulations which, automatically, would assume the force of law; in other words, to confer the law-making power upon the Executive.

In accordance with this program and at the behest of the President, the Congress passed a series of measures setting up a huge bureaucratic machine under the domination of the President and clothed with power to do all the things which the President insisted must be done. From the very beginning of this program it was apparent to every thoughtful person, and I include many Democrats in that category, that under our Constitution the President cannot become the law-maker; only the Congress may perform such a function, and that being the case, the Congress has no right whatsoever to delegate its power to the Executive or any group of administrative officials. Recurring deficits and a mounting national debt do not disturb these peo-

NOTHING Costs As Much As A Furnace That Costs Too Little

A cheap furnace may cost less in the beginning but it soon eats up the savings in loss of comfort, damaged decorations, excessive fuel bills and unhealthy air.

Caloric Furnaces

Cost a little more than ordinary furnaces, but they are built to last a lifetime. The double ribbed, double extra heavy frepots are 3 to 4 times as heavy as ordinary frepots.

CALORIC FURNACES are full over-size with 40% more heating surface. Plenty of heat from a smaller fire and freedom from repair bills.

Hundreds of Caloric Furnaces installed 20 to 30 years ago are still giving good service, while cheaper furnaces need expensive repairs every few years.

Let us install your furnace or air-conditioner now, start your payments next September.

Detroit Garden Center Lecture April 16th

As one drives into the City of Detroit, the increasing interest in rock gardening is more and more apparent. The Detroit Garden Center feels that almost every house in this community will want its representative attending the lecture to be given in the Detroit Institute of Arts on the afternoon of Thursday, April 16 at 2 o'clock. The beautiful and instructive pictures to be shown are by an acknowledged and recognized authority, Louise Beebe Wilder. Miss Wilder will have a message for those trying to construct a Rock Garden properly, so that their plants may enjoy long life, good health and a feeling that they belong. Her pictures will also have a story for the rock gardener whose delight is chiefly in a display of lovely and harmonious color. And the collector of fine and unusual plants attending this lecture will revel in the wealth of material that Miss Wilder's pictures will reveal to him.

In one of her books, Miss Wilder admits that it may be sentimental, but that she feels that no matter how drab the life of the individual, yet through rock gardening, he or she is a citizen of the world. We may grow Sweet William, hollyhocks all our lives without much curiosity, but with alpine from such unbelievable places as Corsica, the Andean slopes, the Himalayas, a part of the delight is in making their acquaintance. The picture are some of the most beautiful and authentic made in this country. The lecture is free and you are invited and urged to attend with your friends.

After the lecture, in the Garden Center rooms, will be given by experts a demonstration of the proper method for the planting of seeds. If your seeds' germination has been poor, seeds not coming through the ground, if you have any questions as to the proper mixture of the soil, etc., these problems will be solved for you. The public is invited and there is no admission charge.

Federal Theater to Give Free Benefit Performance Apr. 13

A free performance, which will at the same time be a Red Cross benefit, will open the Detroit Federal Theater the evening of Monday, April 13, at the Lafayette.

Harry L. Pierson, Works Progress Administrator, explained the method by which a fund will be raised to aid rehabilitation of the flood areas. Seats will be free. During the intermission, Red Cross workers will take up a collection.

Ferenc Molnar's "Lilium," the adventure before and after death of a heedless young Bohemian circus "barker," first produced in his country by the New York Theater Guild, will be the Federal Theater's initial bill.

Plans call for the presentation of "Lilium" every evening except Sunday and for two Saturday matinees from April 13 to 25 inclusive. The second WPA production, "I Confess," a new play by William Beyet, a young New York playwright, is scheduled to open Monday, April 27.

For all evening performances following the benefit, seats will be priced at 40, 25 and 15 cents. Matinee prices will be 25 and 15 cents. WPA employees and members of families receiving direct relief are to be admitted free.

Recently added to the list of sponsors of the theater project which includes the City Department of Recreation and the Women's Committee of the Bonstelle Civic Theater, is the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs. Member organizations of the Federation number approximately 125 clubs in Detroit and nearby communities.

A special concert of Hungarian music before the benefit performance and during the intermission will be provided by the 45-piece WPA Detroit Civic Orchestra organized under the Federal Musicians Project.

High School Notes

age character roles. Her interpretation of Dame Hadoby in Eugene Bresbrey's adaptation of Longfellow's poem was excellent. Sue Balderston was a pretty and winsome Prinscilla, and she delivered her lines in a true Puritan maid style. Richard Galze, in heavy armor, was a fine Miles Standish. The part of John Alden was played by Edward Rohrbach, who made an excellent young suitor for the lovely Priscilla.

The only tragedy on the evening's program was produced by the ninth grade players under the direction of Mrs. Zella Sloggett. For so young a group the final results of "When a Clown Laughs" by Gwena Harrison were most remarkable. Their playing of the famous tragedy of circus life was one to do credit to an older group.

Open House for 8-A students of Grosse Pointe High School will be held April 17, from 7:30 until 10 o'clock. The purpose of the 8-A open house is to help students discover their desires and capabilities so that they may make a wiser selection of their ninth grade subjects.

An auditorium program will begin the evening, followed by a conference period. Individual conferences between home room advisers and parents will begin at 8:30 and last until 10 o'clock. Exhibits of both 8-A and 9-B work will be shown with the emphasis on 9-B subjects.

Sutton Vane's "Outward Bound," a fantasy dealing with death, has been selected by the Pointe Players of Grosse Pointe High school for their annual spring production to be given April 24 and 25. Casting will begin this week for the parts of the nine characters of the play, six men and three women. Martha Clise, 12-A, who has played several leading roles in Pointe Players productions, will probably be the student director.

Ocean voyages and cash prizes will be awarded winners of the National Maritime Day prize essay contest sponsored by the Propeller Club of the United States. Its principal objective is to promote and support the American Merchant Marine. Any student in high school may enter this contest, by submitting an essay of not over 1,500 words before April 15 to his or her history instructor on the subject, "The Relation of the American Merchant Marine to our Industrial and Economic Welfare." A bibliography prepared by the Detroit Public Library may be obtained from any history teacher for use in the writing of this essay.

Warren Carson, 12-A student of the Grosse Pointe High School, was one of the "fians" to receive and relay messages to and from the flood area.

Warren, who possesses one of the most complete transmitting sets in Michigan, received messages from Punsutawney, Pa., which is located 80 miles from Pittsburgh and 40 miles from Jamestown, and relayed them out to the west coast.

Many residents of Detroit who had friends and relatives in the flood area had Warren broadcast their messages to the flood area.

Warren, who is located on 160 meters, constructed his set last winter and usually broadcasts between 6 and 8 o'clock each evening.

Two Grosse Pointe High School teachers were called away from the city Sunday of last week by the deaths of their mothers after a long period of illness.

Mr. Howard Poe was called to Toledo when his mother, Mrs. Martha Poe, died suddenly after a lingering illness.

Mr. William Hamilton was also called away on March 22 when his mother, Mrs. Sarah Bruce Hamilton, passed away at her home in Norris City, Ill.

Christian Science Churches

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 12th.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (James 5:15): "And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 1): "The prayer that reforms the sinner and heals the sick is an absolute faith that all things are possible to God—a spiritual understanding of Him, and unselfed love."

The International good will spirit of Scouting will be strongly emphasized at the Boy Scout Exposition at Convention Hall April 16 and 17 by the presence of many Canadian scouts and leaders who are coming to greet John S. Wilson, Britain's Scout Camp Chief, and his assistant, Richard Frost.

Mr. Wilson, touring America as the personal representative of Lord Baden-Powell, acknowledged as Chief Scout of the World, will be the guest of a committee of prominent local scouters such as Hampton H. Irwin, Warren E. Bow, Col. E. S. George, and C. F. Rhodes. Dr. E. DeAlton Partridge of the National Staff, Boy Scouts of America, will also accompany the distinguished British Scouters.

In 1917 Mr. Wilson entered the Scout Movement as an Assistant Scoutmaster in India, where he was superintendent of police in Eastern Bengal before the World War. He was appointed Camp Chief of Gilwell Park in 1923 and has since received the Medal of Merit and the Silver Wolf, Britain's highest scout decoration, for his services to boyhood.

The members of the Detroit Area Council's executive staff, who met Mr. Wilson and his aide recently at the French-Liesk Scout Executive's Conference, were so impressed with the foreign Scout visitors that they invited them to witness the big Exposition which invitation was readily accepted.

Starting early next week, troops will commence the building of their booths at Convention Hall and will move in their machinery and other equipment necessary for the demonstration of over one hundred scouting topics.

The sales of hundreds of tickets have been reported—many troops already doubling their quota allotments of four tickets per registered member.

Much splendid co-operation has been received from many stores and business firms. This co-operation includes the donation of printing, newspaper space, and radio time.

Two thousand scouts and leaders, representing the local Council's total membership of over 13,000, will be actively engaged in the Exposition, the first of its kind in Detroit.

U.S. Asks Appropriation for Crime Prevention

The recent report by U.S. Attorney General Cummings for an appropriation of $50,000 to inaugurate a new Department of Crime Prevention that will devote special attention to curbing evil tendencies among children, is hailed by local juvenile authorities as a forward step in the solution of the crime problem. The U.S. Department of Justice now proposes to complete this work by taking the lead in a general attempt to get at the roots of crime in the shocking crime situation of the United States. The new plan proposes to take the offensive to get at the class of our population which furnishes the raw material for American crime—the millions of neglected children.

The Department of Justice's record in crime detection is noteworthy. This step towards crime prevention—the kind that gets at the roots of the weed in addition to cutting off its top—should have the support and co-operation of all law enforcement agencies and juvenile authorities throughout the country.

Wayne County is fortunate, indeed, in having a very progressive Juvenile Court under the direction of Judge D. J. Healy. Not only does it use modern methods in treating juvenile delinquents but, also it is one of the leaders in advancing methods to study the causes of juvenile delinquency and in finding ways and means of prevention.

The intelligent leadership which the Department of Justice could furnish in co-ordinating the efforts of local communities in combating Juvenile delinquency, will no doubt be welcomed by the more progressive communities. While the causes of juvenile delinquency may vary with different localities, advanced methods of study and approaches to the problem should be of immense value to those localities where no attempt has been made to solve the problem.

Lowell Thomas Coming to Institute of Arts

Lowell Thomas, explorer, world traveler and radio commentator, will close the 1936 World Adventure Series season at the Detroit Institute of Arts with two motion picture lectures on Sunday, April 19. At 3:30 Lowell Thomas will speak on "Through Romantic India and into Forbidden Afghanistan" and at 8:30 on "With Lawrence in Arabia." There will be no World Adventure lecture on Easter Sunday, April 12.

Lowell Thomas obtained his motion pictures on India during a two-year expedition through that mysterious country. A part of this time he traveled with the Prince of Wales. He was the only American observer to accompany the famous Colonel Lawrence during his operations in Arabia. As explorer and lecturer, Lowell Thomas has circled the world several times. He headed two expeditions into the sub-Arctic, and is the author of a score of biographies of world famous adventurers.

Gertrude Lutz Finishes Marygrove College Requirements in Research

Miss Gertrude Lutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lutz, 1034 Balfour Road, recently completed an extensive research paper in partial fulfillment of requirements for graduation in June from Marygrove College.

Miss Lutz, who is majoring in the department of sociology, sets forth in her paper, "Professional Opportunities in the Field of Social Work."

In some departments practical field work or publication of an article about the major subject is substituted for the research paper. Six weeks' practical experience in newspaper work is acceptable in journalism, and publication of one hundred lines of poetry in a periodical outside the college weekly exempts an English student from writing a research paper.

On and Off the Records

By LEE MONTGOMERY

The internal revenue department has several investigators in Harold E. Stoll's Register of Deeds' office who scap all deeds to see if they are properly stamped with revenue stamps. These men are in no way connected with Harold E. Stoll or with county government. They are federal officers doing federal business.

Letters from taxpayers, received by the county, intimate that notices have been sent out implying heavy fines if deeds are not stamped. Some of the recipients of these notices already have their deeds stamped correctly but through error of the internal revenue department have received the notice regardless. At first glance the taxpayer, righteously angry, would blame the register of deeds. It is unfair to blame Harold Stoll for mistakes of the revenue department.

Other county officials are criticized unfairly in like manner. The customer in the County Clerk's office or in the office of the treasurer may be mistreated by some one not an employee of the office in which he is working. The public has a natural reaction against the official who is running the office although he has no control over the offending party.

County records are public and the office holder has no way to exclude different groups from the office. Abstract companies, other government organizations, etc., do business in these departments and have the appearance of being on the county pay roll when in truth they work for other concerns. The customer who is treated with discourtesy should ascertain for whom the offender is working and complain. County officials are anxious to serve the public with thoughtfulness.

Judge Ned Smith, who hands his decisions down from the Common Pleas bench, has a new hobby. The judge, some say, is handicapped by blindness, but he denies this, calling this condition an asset rather than a liability. He proves the asset part through his eminently fair and logical handling of all litigation in his court room. He now goes a step farther and removes all doubt that it is in any way a liability by taking up bowling as a hobby. Although a recent sport with the judge, he is already a first class bowler and threatens the county building supremacy of Barney Youngblood.

Reverend King, colored philosopher and county building recreation, knows his numbers and says that the only requisite for a millionaire is the ability to count to ten. Selling the policy game during the day, King swings into another personality during the twilight hours and preaches the faith from the pulpit. The King defends his diabolical roles with the argument that the devil's money is as good as the Lord's money when used for a good purpose. He points out that you must fight fire with fire and he must save his congregation and aid them in seeing the light. What matter if the numbers fill the coffers as long as the coffers are filled. The results justify the means and my congregation is hungry, said King.

Ed Brock is in the race for drain commissioner, although he is not himself aware of it. Brock, who has made many friends as constable from the 15th District should make a good run. His friends have taken the responsibility of announcing his candidacy.

All Party League, youths' latest venture into politics is well under way. A spring frolic April 25 at the Polo Club will be held to acquaint others with the policies of the organization. Unlike political parties this is to be at nominal cost to all patrons. "No money is to be made, it is merely a form of advertising," said C. J. Wilkins, president.

Judge John D. Waits, whose Sandlotter Program on Tuesday evenings, has brought him close to Wayne County's youth, will be on the air every Friday evening henceforth. Waits has done much for amateur athletics and it is a pleasure to give him a hand on his work with the sandlotters.

Fort Pontchartrain

Mrs. Clifton E. Ferguson will be hostess to members and guests of Fort Pontchartrain Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at a bridge- tea in her home on Commonwealth avenue, on Tuesday afternoon, April 14, from two to five o'clock. Mrs. Lew Wallace Hoffman, Jr., of the social committee, chairman for the affair, has chosen as her assistants Mrs. James R. Flickinger, Mrs. Clyde R. Gilman, Mrs. Victor E. Krohn and Mrs. Howard D. Tubbs. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Hoffman by Monday, April 13th.

The April meeting of the chapter will not be held on the usual third Friday, but will be postponed to Friday, May 1 at Hotel Statler, so that members may hear reports of the Continental Congress of the National Society, April 19, 25 in Washington, immediately on the return of the delegates.

Easter and Eggs have grown so together in our minds that they are practically inseparable. This combination reaches so far into the past that it is pretty hard to trace its beginnings. Some say that it all goes back to the fact that the egg was the ancient symbol of fertility * * * in the Russia of the old regime, you know, Easter was a much bigger event than Christmas, and eggs were the most prized of gifts. A hen's egg if you were poor, gorgeous eggs of porcelain and precious jewels if you were rich, but always an egg for an Easter gift. Others, and those are the practical minds, say that eggs and Easter are so closely entwined because Easter generally comes at the peak of the laying season.

But, no matter just what the reason really is, the fact remains—Easter and Eggs are inseparable to most of us. Remember those fearful and wonderful eggs you used to color yourself with vari-colored dyes and quantities of vinegar? And what fun Easter Egg Hunts were on Easter morning? Hunts today are just as much fun, though the eggs are liable to be pirates, Chinamen, or favorite movie actors. It's remarkable what wonders a bit of crepe paper, a circle of cardboard, or colored felt and some water colors will accomplish. Try it yourself. It all adds to the fun, and what's more these egg personalities make unusual place cards for Easter dinner, too.

Of course, you'll have eggs in some form for breakfast Easter morning. It's part of the Easter tradition. We suggest Fluffy Eggs. They look so festive. Simply separate the yolks and whites, being careful not to break the yolks. Beat the whites until stiff, adding a pinch of salt. Pile them in a buttered baking dish then drop the whole yolks on top and bake in a moderate oven for about 18 minutes.

And so we come to another Easter tradition—Easter dinner. Eggs take a back seat here and ham plays the leading role. A luscious ham baked in milk. If you never have had ham cooked this way you've missed one of the greatest delights of eating. Prepare the ham as for baking—pour over it one quart of milk—cover and slip it into a slow oven (300 degrees) and bake 30 minutes for each pound. About half an hour before the ham is done, take it from the oven and scrape the creamy paste from the sides of the pan and pile on the ham itself, then cover the ham with brown sugar and star with cloves. Here, in the center, we add flowers of candied cherries and pineapple for that extra special touch. Return the ham to the oven and finish baking. The crust will be deliciously crunchy and the meat succulently tender. When ready to serve, surround the ham with baked bananas dotted with mint jelly and you'll have a dish that's more than fit for a king. And do be sure to have Easter Bunny Salad to carry out the tradition. For dessert we suggest a Lemon Sponge it brings eggs back into the picture and makes a fitting end for an extra special dinner.

Best wishes for a very Happy Easter!

Baked Bananas

6 Bananas
 juice of 3 lemons
 4 tablespoons sugar
 1 Teaspoon butter

Make a syrup of the lemon juice, sugar and butter and cook until the ingredients are well-blended. Pour half this mixture over the bananas which have been peeled and cut in half lengthwise and placed in a buttered baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven until golden brown and transparent, basting every so often with the remaining syrup. Arrange them around the ham and put a generous teaspoon of mint jelly on each half. It will taste as good as it looks.

Easter Bunny Salad

Have as many canned pear halves as you have guests. Fill the centers with cottage cheese. Place filled side down on leaves of lettuce. At the small end of the pears place cloves for eyes, two blanched almonds for ears and a bit of pimento for a mouth. At the large end of the pear place a piece of almond for a tail and serve with mayonnaise. They'll be most realistic little cotton-tails.

Lemon Sponge
 1 tablespoon gelatine
 3/4 cup cold water
 1 cup boiling water
 1 cup sugar
 3/4 cup lemon juice
 3 egg whites

Soak gelatine in cold water, dissolve in boiling water, add sugar and lemon juice, strain and set aside in a cool place, occasionally stirring with a spoon. When thick enough to hold the mark of a spoon, beat with a whisk until frothy. Add egg whites, beaten stiff and continue beating until stiff enough to hold its shape. Mold and serve very cold with hot custard sauce.

Custard Sauce
 2 cups scalded milk
 3 egg yolks
 1/4 cup sugar
 3/8 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Beat eggs slightly; add sugar and salt. Stir constantly while adding hot milk, gradually cook in double boiler, continue stirring until mixture thickens. When a coating is formed on the spoon, strain immediately, chill and flavor. Be sure not to cook custard too long or it will curdle. Beating with an egg beater will restore smoothness, though the custard will be less thick.

Christ Church Cranbrook

Friday of this week being Good Friday, there will be held in Christ Church Cranbrook from twelve noon until three o'clock in the afternoon, the traditional three-hour service. It consists of seven meditations on the last words of Jesus by the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, organ meditations by William Hall Miner, prayers, hymns, and psalms. The carillon bells are tolled before and after this service.

The Easter Sunrise service is held in this church on Sunday morning, April 12, at seven o'clock. It is preceded by a carillon recital at 6:30 o'clock, by the brass quartet of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra playing Bach chorales and Easter hymns from the roof of the west porch on the outside of the church and from the west balcony inside of the church. Special music will be sung by the adult choir at this sunrise celebration of the Holy Communion.

At nine o'clock the annual children's service known as the Resurrection Festival will be held. It begins with a procession of all the children's choirs about the church. Following the pageant which is a part of the service, all the children and adults in the congregation come forward to see the empty tomb where fresh cut flowers are distributed to all the children.

At eleven o'clock there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion with special music by the choir and a sermon by the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach. In the afternoon at the four o'clock vesper service August Richard Maekelberghe, the well known Belgian organist, will play his Easter recital. The people of all denominations are invited to attend any of these services.

Essay Contest Extended Judges Announced

Due to the Easter holidays of the Detroit high schools, intervening the Propeller Club essay contest committee is extending to April 22, inclusive, the filing date for all essays. Students of all high schools of Detroit and environs may obtain full information relative to the contest from the principal of the school in which they are students.

The judges for the contest are follows: H. C. Adams II, Professor Naval Architecture and Engineering the University of Michigan; Dwight True, Naval Architect for Great Lakes Engineering Works; Clarence J. Ro head of the Detroit office of the U. S. Weather Bureau.
