Hines Is Reappointed Road Commissioner

Dean of Wayne County public officials, Edward N. Hines has been appointed to succeed himself as road commissioner by the Board of County Supervisors. Mr. Hines has served continuously on the road commission since its inception 30 years ago.

The supervisors' action followed a Supreme Court decision upholding that body's right to take the office of road commissioner off the ballot and make it an appointive office in the interest of a shorter ballot. This action was attacked by Charles A. Matthews, who carried the question to the Supreme Court on a writ mandamus.

Mr. Hines has enjoyed an unusual tenure of office since that day three decades ago when the road commission was formed and he and Henry Ford were two of the original board. Not since his first election has he made a campaign for office. During this time he has not made a speech, printed a card, run an advertisement, spent a dollar or permitted any of his friends to make financial contributions toward his re-election.

When the first road commission was formed, there was not a mile of good road or paved village street in Wayne County. There were no adequate bridges. Today's highway system presents a distinctively different picture, Mr. Hines remarks proudly.

"Before the end of 1936 every road in Wayne County will have some type of improvement," Mr. Hines said when notified of his appointment. "Noteworthy of this work is the gigantic system of concrete highways, with half of the county's 1,400 miles of roads constructed of the highest type, safest, most durable of material, concrete."

Under the leadership of Mr. Hines as chairman of the road commission and under his initiative and superintendence, the first mile of concrete highway in the world was constructed on Woodward avenue, beginning at Six Mile road. This experiment which was tried in 1908 has revolutionized road construction throughout the universe. Mr. Hines is the inventor and initiator of usage of a white line down the center of highways, which he called the center line safety stripe, adopted as a safety measure and copied by every state in the Union.

So many have been his contributions to road building in the United States that he was presented the George S. Bartlett Award in 1935 for "outstanding work in American highway development." Presentation of the award was made last December in Miami, Fla., at a meeting of the American Association of State Highway Officials, the American Road Builders' Association and the National Research Council. He is one of the organizers of the Automobile Club of Michigan, a past president and a present director. He is also one of the attorneys-in-fact of the Detroit Inter-Insurance Exchange.

Grosse Pointe High School Notes

Muriel Sprenger, 12-A, and Richard Livingston, January '36, both members of Grosse Pointe High School's Quill and Scroll chapter, are working as volunteer writers in the compilation of a history of Grosse Pointe, being made as a Federal Writers Project under the Works Progress Administration.

Muriel, who is serving her second semester on the Tower staff, has been assigned the topic Folklore and Folk Customs. Assisting her is Stanley Hoergendoer, a U. of D. student, who will do most of the research work. After they have interviewed old residents of Grosse Pointe, read extensively, and explored all other available sources, Muriel will write the material in its final form.

Richard is working on the topic of early settlers of Grosse Pointe. He plans to do much of the interviewing for the topic himself. Richard, who at present attends the Detroit Business Institute, was on the Tower staff last semester.

Donald Treadwell, January '36, the Tower's managing editor last semester expects to work on this history of Grosse Pointe after he returns from Florida. The three students were chosen for their writing ability as exhibited by their work on the Tower.

Next on the list of school functions to which Grosse Pointe High School parents will be invited is the 8-A open house to be held on Friday, April 17, when parents will consider the senior high school programs of their children.

The evening's program will begin in the auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Vincent Peterson, 8-A adviser, will give a brief address explaining the purpose of the occasion. Mr. John Finch, music director, will direct an 8-A mixed chorus which will sing Pilgrim's Chorus by Wagner, There's Music in the Air, and My Homeland. An 8-A student will act as student chairman.

A home room conference and guidance period will begin at 8 o'clock. During this time parents and teachers will discuss problems pertaining to the intelligent selection of 9-B subjects. All exhibits rooms will be closed at this time.

Individual conferences will begin at 8:00. To meet each parent and to discuss the individual problems of the respective students will be the aim of each adviser.

From 8:30 until 10 o'clock exhibits will be shown. These exhibits will be simple and will illustrate a few definite aspects of the work. Exhibits will be prepared by the teachers of each 8-A and 9-B subjects with the emphasis on 9-B subjects.

Charles Parcels, Grosse Pointe High School senior, realized the ambition of many a youngster last week when he was privileged to view his father's college records and report cards.

He had the opportunity to do all this when his father and he visited his father's former and Charles' future alma mater, Yale University. They drove down to New Haven, Conn., last week-end to acquaint Charles with the institution.

During the trip many interesting things happened. First of all they drove through some of the flooded area. They visited the high spots of New York City. They were shown about the campus by a former instructor of Mr. Parcels.

Charles will take his college board exams this June. He and Edward King, January '36, are the first two Grosse Pointe High students to seek entrance to Yale.

Fifteen boys in junior high school will receive intramural letters at the end of the semester if they fulfill the academic requirement requiring them to pass 15 hours of academic work.

Eight of these boys are in the 8-A. This team is made up of R. Vanderuril, Abraams, E. Bolster, C. Little, J. Diesing, J. Dennis, R. Golze, and T. Reader. R. Vanderuril captained this team while Abraams acted as assistant captain.

The other letter-winning team was made up of seven boys from the 9-B. They are H. Hohlfeldt, B. Bockstanz, B. More, R. Bowser, L. Piper, G. Schaffer, and T. Trask. H. Hohlfeldt was captain of the 9-B team.

Mr. Axel A. Gruenberg, production director at radio station WWJ has arranged to have the high school Points Players and the Glee Club appear on the March of Youth program Saturday morning, April 18 at 11:30 o'clock.

The cast and play is yet to be decided. Forty students who make up the mixed chorus will sing "On the Way to Jerusalem" by Maunders, and "To Spring" by Gried. The boys select group will sing "For God So Loved the World" by Stainer followed by the girls select group singing "List the Cherubic Host" by Gail. Mr. John Finch, music instructor, will direct the glee club.

Mr. R. H. Jordon, professor of education at Cornell University, spent Monday, March 30, visiting Grosse Pointe High School. Professor Jordon spoke on Cornell at The University Club Sunday night. Dr. S. M. Brownell, superintendent, and Mr. John R.

Barnes, principal, were Professor Jordon's hosts Monday. "He seemed especially impressed with our guidance system," said Dr. Brownell.

Charles Bomont, 8-B, was proclaimed spelling champion of Grosse Pointe High School at the spelling bee held Thursday, April 2.

Marjorie Almsdale and Florence Henry, eighth grade champions, were runnersup.

Alice Boor, Gloria Pierce, Catharon Shilson, Anita Uvick, Betty Goddard, Helen McDonald, Jane Linkins, Wallace MacGowan, and Timothy Rahill were on the seventh grade team.

Bill Kalb, Charles Bomont, Marjorie Almsdale, Florence Henry were the eighth grade champions.

Olive Guenther and Dorothy Castricum were on the eighth grade team also.

Charles was victorious on the word inauguration.

Winners of awards in the Grosse Pointe High School Outdoor Club contest for fly tying were announced at the Senior High Open House.

Donald Walker was awarded first prize, a Deluxe Fly Vise, donated by Mr. A. A. Payette. Donald's name will also be inscribed on a plaque donated by Mr. B. T. Weyhing and Mr. Charles A. Merrell. Each following year's winner's name will be added to the plaque.

Harold Krutz won second prize, a fly-tying vise donated by Mr. A. A. Payne. Bert Lindley won third prize, a fly box donated by Mr. K. L. Casper. Donald Morgan, the winner of the fourth prize, won a pair of hackle pliers donated by Mr. K. L. Cooper. Fifth prize, a box of books, presented to Lavern Crandall, was donated by Mr. E. A. Parcels. A pair of hackle pliers was awarded Bill Stevenson for sixth place. These pliers were donated by Mr. L. H. Veckey. All other contestants received tokens. Dr. Horton F. Kimball also donated a copy of his well known book "Fly Tying at Home" to each contestant.

The judges were Dr. Horton F. Kimball, Mr. Rene Brand, Mr. Ward Smith and Mr. Paul Cowan.

The ten best models of the Grosse Pointe High School will be chosen in a models' contest May 7. Over 25 girls are expected to try out and the winners will exhibit clothes at the Mother and Daughter banquet on May 7. The contest will be held at 3:30 o'clock in the auditorium under the chairmanship of Mary Crain, 12-B.

Martha Clise, 12-A, is the general chairman in charge of the Mother and Daughter Banquet.

A new and novel idea will be tried out at the next Mason School story hour club to be held April 22 in the Mason School auditorium.

The members of the fifth grade will enact a play, taken from the book "Emil and the Detectives" by Erich Kastner, in the manner that a moving picture would be produced.

All scenery, costumes, and the sound effects have been made by students of the fifth grade.

This book is a translation of the German Children's book.

Mrs. D. K. Christian, fourth grade teacher, is in charge of the production.

April 21 has been set as the deadline date for all Proem material for the June issue of Proem, Grosse Pointe High School's literary magazine.

On this date the Proem Board must make the final selection of contributions.

Although 20 manuscripts have been tentatively accepted the material is very unevenly distributed as to grades. Martha Clise, Proem editor, urged all groups which have not turned their best work into the Proem Board to do so immediately.

Several manuscripts have been turned over to the art department so that linoleum block illustrations could be prepared.

It is planned to have the printed material into the high school print shop early in May and to publish the magazine early in June.

"Pointe Scribers" has been selected as the name of Grosse Pointe, High School's newest club, sponsored by Mrs. Anne Majneri, typing instructor. The club's aim is to promote skill in shorthand and typing.

On March 24 awards were presented to students for outstanding achievements. A gold engraved medal was given to Jean Betzing, 12-A, for taking a five-minute dictation test at the rate of 120 words a minute.

Jeanne Spoerl and Eileen Dempsey were awarded a certificate for attaining a record of 100 words a minute in a five-minute dictation test.

Many other awards were presented to girls having attained 50 words a minute in similar tests.

When junior foreman Joseph Vance at CCC Camp Au Sable read of the recent aid of the Red Cross for funds to aid stricken flood victims in Pennsylvania and Ohio, he suggested that the Camp make a contribution to the fund.

So wholeheartedly was his suggestion accepted that within a very short time a purse of $40 was forwarded to the Red Cross authorities. Members of the forestry supervisory staff, Army officers and enrollees contributed willingly to the fund.

Prize Plays to Be Presented May 1 by Wayne University

Three one-act plays, written, directed, and produced by Wayne University students, will be presented in the University Theater, Friday evening, May 1.

The three plays, winners in the 1935-36 annual contest, are "Test Tube," by Anteo Tarini, Miss Maxine Colet's "All Ranks Alike," and "The Lives of a College President," by Fred Oovirk. They will be directed by Robert Chapin, Harry Goldstein and Leonard Leone, under the supervision of Prof. Richard R. Dunham, director of the University Theater.

"Test Tube" is an expressionist tragedy depicting a young man whose unswerving ambition to become a chemist is opposed by his family and by circumstance. "All Service Ranks Alike" is a melodrama of the future, a prospectus of a Utopian world republic. "The Lives of a College President" is a farce built upon the routine of a day in college life.

The Treatment of Juvenile Delinquents

When the family, the kinship group, or the traditional community influences are not able to regulate the behavior of the child and it becomes necessary to resort to other agencies and "correctional" measures, it is possible through the Wayne County Juvenile Court to leave him in his home, under the supervision of a probation officer, place him in another home, or in an institution. A further remedy after the filing of the complaint and appearance in court of the child, he may be held in the Detention Home, for mental examination and observation. An institution for the correction of mental defects may then be utilized. It is well known that until the latter part of the last century, the legal pattern of procedure was followed in the case of the child as in that of the adult—punishment to suit the offense, which might, even in the case of a child, be as severe as the death penalty. Michigan established her present juvenile court system in 1909, although there has been some changes and additions to it since then. The principle behind the establishment of juvenile courts everywhere was that the state should treat the offending child as a child and that the court should assume toward him the relation of a parent.

This principle is being carried out in Wayne County under Judge D. J. Healy, Jr., of the Probate Court, who presides in the Juvenile Division. He has assumed a humanitarian policy and a fatherly attitude towards every child coming before the court, giving him every possible chance to adjust himself in his own home before recommending an institution. Judge Healy believes that the favorable results obtained through the use of probation warrants in his trial in almost all cases, before other steps are taken.

Rabaut Introduces Bill Designed to Aid Detroit, State

A bill, introduced in the House April 9, by Louis C. Rabaut, (Dem.) Representative from Michigan, is designed to relieve certain cities and counties from the obligation of approximately $20,000,000, borrowed for relief purposes from the R. F. C. which were loans made for the same purposes that similar loans were made to 42 states, which latter loans have been cancelled, in excess of $280,000,000.

Congressman Rabaut pointed out that his own City of Detroit is vitally interested in his measure as Detroit borrowed $1,800,000 from R. F. C. for relief under the Emergency Relief and Construction Act of 1932. There are ten other cities, including Cleveland, as well as 21 counties in the States of Illinois, Ohio, Washington, New York and North Dakota which made R. F. C. relief loans to be cancelled by this bill.

In introducing the measure the Congressman said, "In the spirit of fair play I introduce a bill designed to correct the discrimination against certain cities and counties. In my opinion it is only right that the Federal Government accord the same treatment to all units of government without discrimination. On what basis does the Federal Government convert $280,000,000 of loans to states into outright grants, and yet at the same time hold 32 cities and counties of these same states to the obligation to repay approximately 19½ millions which was borrowed under the same Act and for the same identical purpose."

He said, "The cities and counties are not desirous of evading any responsibility to the Government. But they do object to being discriminated against. They must be treated on the same basis." According to the United States Conference of Mayors the cities which will be effected by this are supporting it because they feel that they have been discriminated against.

The cities which made R. F. C. loans under this Act are:

Michigan
Detroit	$1,800,000
Muskegon Heights	20,000
Flint	296,000
Ohio
Alliance	31,500
Canton	150,000
Cuyahoga Falls	18,000
Cleveland	760,000
Dayton	322,000
Niles	19,816
Warren	57,000
North Dakota
Minot	10,000.00

Note: In addition, a loan of $15,000 was authorized by the R. F. C. for Girard, Ohio, but the amount granted was not withdrawn from the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland.

The counties are: Illinois; Cook; Ohio: Cuyahoga, Loraine, Mahoning, Montgomery, Stark, Summit, Trumbull, New York—Nassau; Washington: Grays Harbor, Kings, Pierce and Snohomish; North Dakota: Bowman, Burke, Burleigh, Divide, Mercer, Montrail, Ward and Williams.

Faith Lutheran Church

East Jefferson and Philip avenues. Rev. R. D. Linhart, pastor.

Easter Sunday was a day long to be remembered by the great throng of over 1,600 worshippers which overflowed the main auditorium of the spacious church into the Sunday School department, where a loud speaker brought the entire service.

The main auditorium of the church was enhanced by beautiful and artistic decorations, set to a pleasing taste by Mrs. Grace Harvey. The main aisle was flanked with candle standards, covered with smilax, held in place with white satin ribbon. The main aisle which leads into the chancel was beautiful with Easter lilies, emblems of the Resurrected Life. On the altar reposed a white cross of carnations, the emblem of never dying love, brought us in the Christ who ever lives our triumphant Lord and King.

The choir of 80 voices directed by Mr. William Fishwick greatly added to the great "Hallelujah Chorus" could not but be thrilled in their souls with the strains of heavenly music.

The climax of this beautiful and inspiring service was reached in the sermon by the pastor, the Rev. R. D. Linhart, who presented in a logical and forceful manner, to the large and appreciative audience, "The Challenge of

Miniature Coach Given to Miss Colleen Moore

Indianapolis—Colleen Moore today has a miniature Napoleonic coach for her famous doll house, an exquisite fairy palace that the motion picture actress is taking on a tour of the country for the benefit of the nation's crippled children.

The coach, a gift of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, was presented to her by William A. Fisher, president of the Fisher Body Division of General Motors and head of the unique educational foundation, who came to Indianapolis from Detroit with Guild Secretary William S. McLean to officiate at the ceremony, conducted at the Ayres auditorium, where the castle is being exhibited for the benefit of the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for Children, an institution for the underprivileged that was founded as a memorial to the great American poet.

Joining Mr. Fisher in the presentation ceremony were Superintendent of Schools Paul C. Steson, former president of the department of superintendents of the National Education Association and a member of the Guild advisory board; Hugh McKay Landon, president of the James Whitcomb Riley Memorial Association, which maintains the hospital; two local winners in the model coach-building competitions conducted by the Guild; child patients of the Riley Hospital and others.

The miniature coach, beautifully executed by Walter Leuschner and other members of the Guild technical staff, was immediately placed on display in front of the house, and will become a permanent part of the exhibit. Miss Moore, in accepting the model, announced that she plans the construction of a moonstone roadway leading up to the palace gate and the acquisition of four prancing horses to draw the carriage, in design a composite of the ornate vehicles used for the coronation and wedding of the Emperor Napoleon.

The original model, serving as the project for boys enrolling in the master class of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild competitions, in which four $5,000 university scholarships are offered as awards this year, was designed by Leuschner, who started work on the miniature for the castle some two months ago after Fisher Body and General Motors executives had perceived the need of a suitable coach in the otherwise complete, fairy palace.

Though only 12 inches over all, approximately two-thirds the size of the coaches constructed by Guild members for entry in the competitions, the little model is complete in every detail, with windows that slide up and down, door locks that operate, springs having individual leaves and steps that fold into recesses on either side of the body.

Grosse Pointe United Lutheran Church

"Christians' Light of the World," will be the subject of the sermon at the Grosse Pointe United Lutheran Church, worshipping in the Richard School auditorium, Kercheval avenue and McKinley road, Sunday morning, April 19th, at 11 o'clock, preached by the Rev. M. Luther Canup, D. D., pastor. Sunday School and catechism at 9:45 o'clock.

The following chancel furniture was dedicated at the Easter services last Sunday: offering plates, donated by Mrs. Freda Sipple; altar cross, donated by William Canup; altar and pulpit hangings, donated by Mrs. Frank Tranzow; parish record, donated by Atty. B. W. Cruise; an oak lectern, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Holma; Holy Communion set, donated by Mrs. Edna Michela.

In the membership contest in Sunday School between the "Reds" and "Blues," Atty. Bernard W. Cruise was awarded the prize for having brought in the most new scholars for the "Blues" and Frank Mumford for the "Blues." Both were presented with a splendid teachers' Bible. Orrin Figley was awarded the prize for having gathered the largest Lenten-Easter offering. He was presented with a frame picture of Hoffman's "Head of Christ." Each member of the school was presented with an Easter gift.

Seven adults were added to the membership of the congregation at the Holy Week services. The parish now has more than one hundred members enrolled in its Sunday School and church membership.

The Church Council will meet at the home of Mrs. Edna Michela, 209 McKinley road, Thursday evening, April 16, at 8 o'clock.

APRIL SHOWERS

By Alene Theisner, Nutrition Director
Detroit Dairy and Food Council

They say "April Showers bring May Flowers" and it's probably very true, but we're just as sure that April showers are really made for June brides. At least the showers we're talking about are. Now that the depression is a thing of the past, (oh, yes it is, really) showers are coming into their own again, but they're a much more sensible variety. None of this miscellaneous business—showers are supposed to rain very definite articles. Canned goods for the new pantry shelves, books for the about-to-be-established library, sheets and towels for the new linen shelves, or seeds and plants for the new garden. Very practical things that every bride really needs.

Of course, you're planning on some sort of entertainment for your friends who will be married in June or thereabouts. Why not an April Shower? Make it a recipe shower... it's different and oh, so practical, too. Have all your guests chip in and buy a recipe file for the new kitchen, the card kind are the nicest, don't you think? Then have each guest bring the recipe for her most famous dish. All of us are famous for making something or other just the least bit better than anyone else. And be sure the instructions are written so simply that even the most inexperienced bride can easily follow them.

It's a good idea, too, to firmly type the rules for health-building meals right on the very first card in the file. "Serve plenty of the 'protective foods' (fresh fruit and vegetables, milk, at least a quart and eggs), a cereal of some kind and meat or a meat substitute every day." If followed faithfully it practically guarantees that the new husband will be in top form all the time. As for the luncheon, itself, all showers are preceded by luncheons, of course, do serve it on the porch, weather and size of your porch permitting, as well as ease of serving. And use Spring flowers for decorations, tulips and freesia and pussy willows, they're so typical of April. And then, here is a menu that will taste just like Spring itself, and follows out those instructions you're giving the bride.

- Fruit Cup in Orange Baskets (here's the fresh fruit)
- Cheese Souffle (here's the milk, eggs and meat substitute)
- Whole Wheat finger rolls (the cereal) Butter
- Asparagus Salad (the fresh vegetable) Coffee
- Butterscotch Tarts (just an extra gesture)

Cheese Souffle

- 4 Tablespoons butter
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 lb. soft American cheese
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 4 eggs
- pepper

Melt butter, stir in flour and seasonings. Add milk, stirring while adding; cook over hot water about 10 minutes, stirring often. Remove from fire; add cheese cut in small pieces, stirring until melted. Separate eggs; beat yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add sauce to beaten egg yolks, stirring while adding. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into buttered baking dish. Bake 45 minutes in pan of water, or 30 minutes in a moderate oven without the pan of water. Souffle is done when knife inserted in the center comes out clean.

Asparagus Salad

Lay three or four stalks of fresh, cooked asparagus on a lettuce leaf. Cut pimentos into narrow strips and place three strips across the stalks of asparagus for color. Serve with French dressing.

Butterscotch Tarts

1/4 cup brown sugar
4 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup bread flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs slightly beaten
2 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Mix butter and sugar. Cook two minutes or until syrup is brown. Add 1 2-3 cups cold milk and scald over hot water. Mix flour and salt with remaining milk, add to hot mixture and cook 15 minutes. Add eggs, cook two minutes. Cool and add vanilla.
Pour this mixture into individual baked pie shells, garnish with whipped cream and serve.
