

M. W. Moesta Outlines Reasons for Voting for City Form of Government

To the Editor of
The Grosse Pointe Review:

The electors of Grosse Pointe Park on the 12th of May will decide on the proposal to change our present Village-Township combination to a Home Rule City Form of Government.

The following article on seven good reasons why we should vote in favor of changing our Village of Grosse Pointe Park into a home rule city was submitted by the Civic Club of Grosse Pointe Park, a local organization of some 85 members interested in the formation of good government.

1. It will reduce the number of local elections.

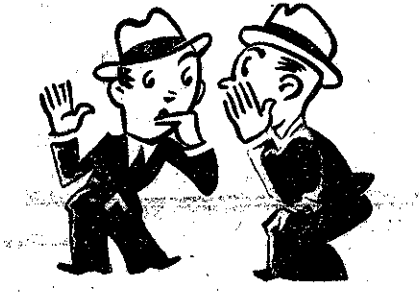

While, of course, the state and county elections are of affected, a change to the city form of government with the general type of charter would mean one election every two years. As it stands now we have a Village and Township Primary and a Village and Township Election every year. Keeping track of the various voting dates and attempting to keep posted on the qualifications of candidates, with such a maze of balloting, has been confusing to the point of discouraging electors. During the past two years we have voted eight times on local candidates—in the same period of time our neighbors in the newly formed City of Grosse have voted but once.

Correction

Through an error last week we published that the new service station at the northeast corner of Kercheval and St. Clair was now under the management of Nels Korte. We regret our error in this matter.

The new manager of this station is none other than Lawrence W. Korte, who formerly operated a service station at the southwest corner of Kercheval and St. Clair, and was induced to return to the vicinity by a host of friends.

Due to the success of their fall dance, the Grosse Pointe Alumni Association wish to announce their Spring Dance to be held on May 16, at the Old Colony Club, (now the Elks Club) at Montclair and Park Ave.

The association has gone to great lengths to secure an outstanding band to provide the music, and have chosen Don Kaye and his International favorites. This outstanding troupe also features Miss Malita Moore and a trio, as well as other novelty singing and dancing numbers. Grosse Pointe Park's Trees and Shrubbery Given Spring Treatment

Over 5,500 trees were pruned and trimmed this spring in Grosse Pointe Park, then carefully sprayed and treated. Approximately 175 elm trees required surgical attention, due to infections caused by the elm borer, a very harmful and destructive insect. Thirty large poplar and willow trees, considered dangerous to public safety and a menace to sewers and water mains were removed. Twenty-five hundred elm trees were carefully fertilized, and 22 elm trees were planted in the Park.

Five elm trees were planted on various streets to replace trees that had been destroyed. All shrubs in the Park and school grounds have been trimmed.

The shrubbery in the school grounds was trimmed in the interest of safety, to prevent any interference of visibility at intersections on school property. These figures have been compiled from a report made by C. H. Marden, Grosse Pointe Park, engineer who has charge of the department of parks and boulevards.

History of Health Department Activities in the Grosse Pointes

Because of the great development in the field of Preventive Medicine and Public Health in recent years, and the interest the public at large is taking in it, we believe that something regarding the activities of the Grosse Pointe Health Department will be of interest at this time.

In 1917 a law was passed authorizing adjoining villages to organize in a health district. Mr. George Osius, for several years president of Grosse Pointe Shores, was father of this idea, and it was through his initiative that the four Grosse Pointe villages organized in what was known as Health District No. 1-A. Mr. Osius being the first president of this health board, the other members were, Paul H. Deming, Richard P. Connor, and Dr. L. E. Maire. In October 1917 the District Health Board was organized and had its preliminary meeting, and early in 1918 it was functioning as a full time health unit.

Although roasting from dried beans to roast beef has been distributed, the relief clients prefer apples. Apples are a close second.

History of Health Dept. Outlined personal help at tonsil clinics. In checking the eyes of the school children it was found that several were in need of glasses. The first eye clinic was held in 1921, when 85 children were fitted with proper glasses. There has been 1,499 children in attendance at the health department eye clinics since that time, and 382 recommended for glasses.

The Infant Welfare Clinic was established in 1919. This is a well baby clinic, no sick babies being allowed. The object being to instruct the mothers in how to keep the baby well by proper feeding and care, and among other things in dispensing with about two-thirds of the blankets that the baby was wrapped in. And, to immunize babies of six months and older against diphtheria and smallpox. At first there were two clinics each week, one at the Neighborhood Club on Oak street and one at the Municipal Building in Grosse Pointe Shores, with an attendance of four or five. Since 1922 there has been 846 clinics with a total attendance of 17,000, 72 at one clinic in 1931.

Infant mortality has been cut down to a very low point, with a very high point in child health obtained as a result of education.

The results obtained in the campaign against diphtheria has been very satisfactory. In 1919, with a school enrollment of 1,000, there were 20 cases of diphtheria in this township. In 1922 there were 23 cases. Including the public and parochial schools, we now have an enrollment of over 7,000, and not one case of diphtheria in the past three years. However, with all the propaganda for immunization against diphtheria, there were 3,000 cases in the United States last year.

In regard to smallpox, between 1919 and 1926 there were 17 cases in Grosse Pointe, one case in 1929, and none since.

In 1919 in co-operation with the Detroit Tuberculosis Association we established a chest clinic. There were 10 clinics the first year with an attendance of 195. Twenty-six were found to have tuberculosis of the lungs and were either sent to the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanitarium or cared for at home. With one exception they fully recovered and are enjoying good health at this time.

There is no telling how many cases might have developed from contact with these cases had they not been discovered in time, and if the 25 had not been given prompt care their chance of living over three years was none too good, as the only way to successfully combat tuberculosis is in its early recognition, proper care, and isolation, to protect others.

A very important factor in eliminating underweights, cases of malnutrition, and in preventing tuberculosis in our schools was the establishment of the "hot lunch." After considerable effort the first lunch was established in the Kerby and Vernier schools. It consisted first of a bowl of hot soup with the lunch that the children had brought from home, and in having more milk consumed in the schools. It is quite a jump from the "Bowl-of-Soup" days in 1920 to the lunches the children have in school today, especially at the cafeteria at the High School, with the most perfect selection and preparation of the food, under the very able supervision of Mrs. Townsend.

In 1919 with an enrollment of 1,000 50 per cent were underweight. Now with 7,000 about five per cent are underweight.

Of great importance in our work is the checking-up on absences from school by the nurses, and the co-operation we receive from the teachers in excluding pupils from class who seem in any way indisposed until a proper diagnosis is made. There is no doubt that such team work is a very important factor in preventing the spread of contagious and infectious troubles. The way to contribute towards maintaining a high standard of community health is for parents to have their doctor immunize their children against the preventable diseases, and for adults to have a semi-annual physical audit. No community has better trained medical men of higher type than has Grosse Pointe.

Among the problems of a sanitary nature that have been taken care of since 1918—1. The collection and proper disposal of garbage (solved in 1919). 2. The sewage going to the two pumping stations instead of into the lake. 3. Closing of Black Marsh Ditch. 4. The building of the fine water filtration plant on Moross Road. 5. The extending out of the shore line and new sea wall along the lake shore. All of which has been a source of great satisfaction to those whose public spirit and co-operation made the completion of these much needed projects possible. There is nothing dramatic or spectacular in the field of public health and preventive medicine. If a school house with an enrollment of 2,000 pupils should catch fire, the work of the fire department in saving the building would be something quite dramatic, and would draw a large crowd and headlines in the papers, but the immunization of 2,000 pupils against smallpox, diphtheria and whooping cough, besides the usual physical check-up for possible physical defects would be known to no one but the pupils, their parents, teachers, and those doing the work. Just a part of routine work for the health department and certainly nothing dramatic about it.

Our health department, and many others, are giving practical demonstrations of what can be done in the improvement of health and sanitary conditions in a community and in the prevention of communicable diseases. Very little could be done, however, but for the co-operation of the medical profession and from all of those in authority and the public in general. The Grosse Pointe Health Department has been most fortunate in receiving such co-operation in a whole-hearted way. Since 1927 this has been a Township Health Department. The supervisor and members of the Township Board have, always extended this department every consideration.

According to the United States Public Health Service, there should be a per capita health tax of $1.00 to maintain a well organized health department. The present budget for the Grosse Pointe Department of Health calls for a per capita tax of less than 60 cents.

Much has been said and written about the undeveloped resources of our country. We believe the most valuable and precious undeveloped resource is the coming generation, and their health, both physical and mental, is a vital factor in their ability to carry on and in the destiny of our country.

Not many years ago a health department was not active except during an epidemic and for some time afterward in explaining how it happened. Now the department is busy every day in the work of preventing epidemics.

Cole Circus Will Open May 18 at State Fair Grounds

The bustling atmosphere of the circus winter quarters will soon pervade the State Fair Grounds as performers gather from all parts of the world to begin rehearsals for the combined shows of the James M. Cole Circus opening for a nine day stand in the coliseum on Monday, May 18.

With Detroit marking the season road opening for this circus of 176 motorized units, it is also the beginning of an approximately 25,000 mile tour of the United States to be covered before the close of the season in the fall. An idea of the distance from which the various performers and acts will be gathered may be gained from several typical instances.

Manuel King, the twelve year old lion tamer, is at present busy putting his troupe of thirty lions, tigers and pumas through their paces at Brownsville, Texas. Chubby Guilfoyle, another featured wild animal trainer prominent on the circus program is also breaking in a big troupe of animals at Brownsville. The John Robinson military elephants are at Cincinnati, O., practicing new routines daily. Buck Steel and his hilarious troupe of 35 hard-riding cowhands of the movies are now making final arrangements for the long trek from Culver City, California to add their thrills to the circus.

An entire troupe of whip-crackers, knife throwers and ropers are joining the show from Mexico. The Tchoi Troupe of wire-walkers, high perch balancers and contortionists represent the contingent from Japan, who arrived in Seattle, Washington, April 1st. Virginia Pollenberk is bringing her trained bears from Germany, coming over on the same boat as the Romanoff Troupe of sensational teeter-board artists from Russia. Alice Sisty, one of the worlds foremost equestriennes, who does a Roman jump over an automobile while standing on the backs of two madly galloping horses, is coming to Detroit from her native Arizona. These, with high-wire artists flying trapeze troupes, men doing slides for life down tightly stretched wires standing on their heads, scores of clowns and trained animal troupes from all over the world make just about every section of the globe represented in some manner in the show.

Circus tickets may be obtained at the James M. Cole Circus Headquarters, Tuller Hotel.

More "Mad" Dogs in Winter
More cases of canine madness—known as hydrophobia or rabies—have occurred during the cold months of January and February than during the so-called "dog days" of July and August, according to authoritative records of health departments of large cities.

The Coffin Spoon
A coffin spoon was called a funeral spoon in England made in the shape of a coffin lid. It was the custom to give two to the friends helping at the time of burial. Hence they are usually found in pairs.

Public Letter B-O-X

April 27, 1936.

Editor Grosse Pointe Review:

A few matters that should be called to the attention of the voters of Grosse Pointe Park in the coming election to be held on May 12, 1936, are as follows:

1. That this election is for the purpose of making a city out of our village, which will not be a part of the City of Detroit, but will be a separate and independent city itself, similar to our neighbor city, (the forerunner of a combination of all our villages) Grosse Pointe City.

2. That a charter can be had that will provide for a yearly audit of the books.

3. That this audit will be open for inspection of the voters, as is the case in the City of Grosse Pointe.

A few reasons why the voters of this village should vote "yes" are:

1. It would eliminate a number of elections each year, saving time, money, and bother. One election every two years.

2. All township expense would be eliminated. Township government is obsolete and expensive.

3. The following facts speak for themselves, showing the nonsense and stupidity of the form of government that a comparatively small area is operating under:

5 mayors or presidents;
30 councilmen;
5 village clerks;
5 village treasurers;
5 police chiefs;
5 fire chiefs;
5 engineers (civil);
5 village attorneys;
1 supervisor;
1 township clerk;
1 township treasurer.

Money necessary to operate this disjointed machine is raised as follows, based on the following assessments:

Assessment for village purposes, $73,428,362.00; budget, $1,237,140.88.

Assessment for state, county, school and township, $53,640,396.00; budget, $871,680.32.

(Approximately $20,000,000 difference between village assessment and that of state and county.)

The thought comes to mind that the new charter would make it mandatory to audit the books yearly. This is most important. Why is this important?

Because we now operate under an outmoded village charter, which does not provide for a yearly audit (at least an audit open to the public or an audit, which, if made, is a secret buried in the archives of the Municipal Building.)

The citizens of Grosse Pointe City have been requested, this request appearing in your paper, by their officials, to inspect their books, which are open to the public.

Because of the alleged or proven defalcations that occurred in Detroit and our neighboring village, an outside audit has been, or is being, made.

Whether or not the officials of Grosse Pointe Park village are going to have an outside audit made (and the citizens of this village are entitled to have one made in view of all thievery going on in the surrounding territory) a new "City" could make this a mandatory act.

Yours truly,
HARRY C. HANLEY.

Feature Attractions at Aloma Theater

THURSDAY
Crime doesn't pay—and it never has. That is the opinion of Edward Arnold, star of Columbia's picturization of Dostoevsky's great novel, "Crime and Punishment," showing Thursday (tonight) at the Aloma Theater. He is seen in the picture in the famous role of the Inspector.

FRIDAY-SATURDAY
Imagine having the power to start a storm at sea—and then to stop it! From time immemorial the force of the ocean in a gale has been considered irresistible. However, producers of motion pictures have learned to simulate a storm so realistically that the photoplay shows all the mighty power of wind and wave, with such effect that the spectator is apt to experience a tinge of seasickness in watching it.

Rarely has this been more forcefully demonstrated than in "Dangerous Waters," the exciting Universal drama coming to the Aloma theater on Friday and Saturday, with Jack Holt in the starring role.

SUNDAY-MONDAY-TUESDAY
Being funny is a twenty-four hour a day job, according to Eddie Cantor. If you don't believe it, consider the life of the pop-eyed comedian during the shooting of "Strike Me Pink," his sixth annual Samuel Goldwyn musical extravaganza for release through United Artists, which comes to the Aloma theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

WEDNESDAY
The Connecticut country gentleman, the Death Valley desert dweller, the California dirt farmer and the Hollywood screen star, unbelievable as it may be, is really only one person. He's Ralph Bellamy, broad-shouldered, handsome star who plays the leading role opposite Joan Perry and Gloria Shea in Columbia's "Dangerous Intrigue," showing Wednesday at the Aloma theater.

Child Delinquency Prevention Aided Greatly By Schools

The Juvenile Court, since its inception, has militated against juvenile delinquency. During the past two years, however, the Court has accepted a program of delinquency prevention, sponsored by Judge D. J. Healy, Jr., through the medium of his Human Relations Councils, which are predicated upon community participation. Co-operation of the school, church, and recreational facilities has been elicited to combat baneful influences that touch and concern the lives of children of metropolitan areas.

This sharing of responsibility is also advocated by Professor L. J. Carr of the Sociology department of the University of Michigan and executive of the Michigan Juvenile Delinquency Information Service. In his recent book on Organizing to Reduce Delinquency he wrote:

"A community that was in earnest in its desire to curb crime would ask the school to provide nine specific types of service, not more than four or five of which have yet been undertaken anywhere. The nine services would include: that, since the spontaneous socialization of children by the old-fashioned family, neighborhood and village has largely disappeared, we must pay people to do what life under simple conditions once did for nothing. We cannot cut school budgets and cut crime at the same time. There is no use 'ifing'. If we could only handle these things as they used to be handled when I was a boy. The horse and buggy are gone. We must pay the price of living in a world of automobiles, airplanes and racketeers. Part of the price is the necessity of making a definite, inescapable choice between paying for the performance of those nine services listed above or paying bigger and better crime bills. We have no choice about paying. Modern life settles all that. We'll pay—and we'll pay plenty."

The only question is whether we will pay teachers to make good citizens out of our children, or whether we will pay more policemen to arrest them, more prison warden to lock them up, and more racketeers to kidnap and murder them.

1. Discovery of problem cases.
2. Preliminary diagnosis, prescription and treatment for each case.
3. Enrichment of curriculum and individualization of instruction to prevent academic maladjustment.
4. Organization of leisure time activities for all children throughout the year.
5. Instruction in mental hygiene in the eighth grade and beyond.
6. Adult education classes in mental hygiene and child rearing for young newlyweds and parents—classes not merely offered but actively sold to those that need them.
7. Fact finding on the local community as a continuous service to community government and leadership.
8. Distribution of facts founded by bulletins at P. T. A. meetings, letters to parents, talks by principals and teachers before civic clubs, etc.
9. Local initiative for improving conditions affecting young folks.

Of course, none of these functions can be performed by any school until education is frankly accepted as a process of preparing children for life situations. Neither can they be performed until community leaders face the fact

M. W. Moesta Outlines Reasons for Changing to City Government

4. More modern government.
The general village law of Michigan is 42 years old. In spite of frequent amendments it is considered by authorities out of date and faulty. Incorporation as a city would offer an opportunity to get away from the "general village law" with a substitution of a modern municipal government. The State statutes on villages provide for Civil Service for firemen only. A home rule city charter is necessary if police and other employees are to have an equal opportunity for civil service.

5. Control of assessments.
We now have a village assessor who appraises for our village, or summer, tax and a township assessor who assesses for the winter tax. Should we become a city the city assessor would be the only assessor and make but one appraisal for all taxes. It is upon the assessment for winter tax that school, health and county taxes are levied. You can readily see the strategy in having our own assessor making the valuations for these levies. (Since changing from a village to a city the assessments in Grosse Pointe City have dropped from 22½ million to 13 million.)

6. Reduction of government cost.
The winter tax rate for Grosse Pointe Township this year was $16.12 per thousand. In Grosse Pointe City this same tax was $14.95 or $1.17 per thousand less as a result of their withdrawal from the Township. This means that the other villages are paying an annual penalty for being a part of Grosse Pointe Township, and Grosse Pointe Park's share would be approximately $25,000 per year. This item would be a direct saving, and a concrete one. But under our present system we are in a vulnerable position and should take steps to defend ourselves against possibilities. For example, in 1930, a special assessment for Vernier Road improvements levied by the County against adjacent property holders, was by some indirect method spread on the whole Township, Grosse Pointe Park paying a large share of an improvement in Lochmoor. Under the McNitt-Holbeck-Smith act townships are permitted to assess at large for improvements of roads.

7. A step towards a City of All of Grosse Pointe.
Changing our government to a city form is a necessary step in the direction of the long-hoped for "Grosse Pointe City" that will include all of the five communities that were once part of Grosse Pointe proper. We now have five police forces, five fire departments, five administrations, etc. When these are all under one head as one fine city there will be a real tax reduction with real elimination of duplication. But the Township with its political machinery has always been the big obstacle to the formation of a city. Two years ago the Village of Grosse Pointe in a close vote defeated the township and withdrew to form their city which move has proven very successful to them. This broke the Township into two areas and weakened their political clutch. If Grosse Pointe Park now becomes a city it would spell the end for the obsolete township and pave the way towards a consolidation of all the Grosse Pointe governments into one large fine City of Grosse Pointe.

way towards a consolidation of all the Grosse Pointe governments into one large fine City of Grosse Pointe.

INSURANCE TIPS

By H. THOMPSON STOCK

A tornado is a funnel shaped cloud of upward spiraling winds of destructive velocity. It is the most violent, least extensive and most sharply defined of all storms.

It is caused by huge masses of moist warm air in conflict with masses of cold air. Dehydration of the air by the Rockies makes tornadoes rare in the southwest but not immune as there was a tornado near Los Angeles. Most of the tornadoes occur in the heart of the Middle West where in the spring, warm moist winds from the south west meet cold air from Alaska and Canada.

Tornadoes are anticipated when the early morning temperature is 70 degrees for one section and below freezing for another region farther north. Hail and rain occur about half an hour before the storm. There is always a rumbling while the whirling, pendant cloud is in touch with or even near the earth.

Tornadoes travel 25 to 40 miles an hour, usually from 20 to 40 miles, sometimes as far as 300 miles. In width they are usually 40 to 50 feet but may stretch out for a mile or more. Upward velocity is sufficient to carry objects of considerable weight 100 to 200 miles an hour.

Chance for tornadoes to hit the same place again is slight. However tornadoes have hit St. Louis, Omaha and Terre Haute more than once. Tornadoes have hit cities near Detroit. Nearly 100 were killed and $40,000,000 damage to property was done by the tornado that hit Loraine and Sandusky, Ohio, June 28, 1924. In August the same year a storm removed the roof from a home on Rankin avenue, Windsor.

Tornado insurance covers loss caused not only by tornadoes but by cyclones and windstorms and, with some exceptions, damage by hail.

MAY DAY

(By Alene Theisner, Nutrition Director Detroit Dairy and Food Council)

May Day is almost here with all its gay traditions of dancing on village greens, winding flowered May Poles and hanging May baskets on door knobs. It's the opening act of summer and one of the nicest days in the whole year.

Long ago there was a firm belief that any girl who washed her face in dew before dawn on May Day would have radiant beauty throughout the year. It was a delightfully romantic belief, but not quite practical enough for us moderns.

Nevertheless, if we moderns really take May Day seriously, that same radiant beauty can be ours, for today,
May Day is celebrated as Health Day, and what is beauty after all but buoyant health? And how can one thoroughly enjoy all the delights of summer without health?

Let's start our beauty crusade this May Day. Just a little perseverance, and radiant health can be ours. Plenty of exercise, plenty of rest and relaxation, and an abundance of the right kind of food will do it. Get at least seven hours sleep out of every 24. Get out in the open air, take walks, play tennis, badminton or your favorite games. Then remember those simple rules for a health-building diet: Eat at least two vegetables besides potatoes (one raw), two fruits (one citrus), a cereal (the whole grain variety), an egg, meat, or a meat substitute, and at least a quart of milk every day.
Then just watch the sparkle of health in your eyes, the glow of health on your cheeks, not to mention the feeling of well-being and vitality you'll have.

Here are some recipes that will help you out with those diet rules.

Golden Casserole

(Takes care of the milk, eggs and one vegetable)

4 hard cooked eggs
1 medium bunch asparagus
½ cup grated cheese buttered crumbs
white sauce

Cook asparagus until tender. Slice eggs, add to asparagus which has been cut in 1-inch long pieces. Place in buttered dish. Add white sauce to which grated cheese has been added. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake for 20 minutes in a medium hot oven.

White Sauce

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk

½ teaspoon salt
Melt butter, add flour and make a smooth paste, add milk gradually, stirring constantly, and cook until thick.
Add salt.

Strawberry Bavarian Cream

(Takes care of milk, eggs, fruit)

1½ cups milk
2 eggs
2 tablespoons sugar salt
1½ tablespoons gelatine
¼ cup cold water
½ pint cream
3 tablespoons powdered sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla
1 qt. strawberries

Scald milk and add gradually to egg yolks, slightly beaten and mixed with sugar and salt. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture thick-ens, then add gelatine, soaked in cold water. Strain and add egg whites, beaten until stiff. Set bowl in a pan of ice water and stir until mixture begins to thicken. Add cream, beaten until stiff and mixed with powdered sugar and vanilla. Line ring mold with strips of sponge cake or lady fingers.
Pour in cream and chill. Crush strawberries with just enough sugar to sweeten and fill center of mold with berries when ready to serve.

Grace Evangelical Church

Lakepointe at Kercheval avenue, Grosse Pointe Park. Warner H. Siebert, minister.

Church school, 9:30 a. m.
Worship service, 11 a. m.

A kite flies best against the wind. A congregation soars to the highest heights when the going is the hardest.
When a great project is undertaken, people are fused and welded together into a fellowship which makes common cause. Grace Church has such a fellowship of believers and workers. But it is not a closed fellowship. Anyone with a will to believe in Christ and a desire to work with and for His Cause is welcome.

Messiah Lutheran Church

Southeast corner of Lakewood and Kercheval avenues. A. H. A. Loeber, pastor, 1434 Lakewood avenue. Telephone Lenox 2121.

On the coming Sunday, May 3, the pastor will continue the series of sermons on "Human Suffering." The theme of the sermon for this Sunday will be: "Our Suffering—Unto God's Glory." The service will take place at 11:15 a. m., and the Sunday School will meet at 10:15 o'clock.
