Harry C. Hanley Is Democratic Candidate for Congressional Post

His candidacy for the Congressional seat from the 14th District on the Democratic ballot, has been approved by a number of organizations which feel that the best interests of the average citizen would be served were he elected.

HARRY C. HANLEY

Mr. Hanley was a candidate for office in Grosse Pointe Park recently, losing by a small margin. He was prevailed upon by numerous friends to seek the office for which he is now a candidate.

A committee has been strenuously campaigning on his behalf, and they feel confident that the people will rally to the support of Mr. Hanley who is a strong believer and supporter of social justice.

MRS. JAMES BURGESS BOOK, JR., with her daughter Sally and sons Irving and Johnny, who have been occupying a cottage at Beach O'Pines, Grand Bend, Ont., for the past two months, were joined by Mr. Book and James B. Book III for the holiday week-end. The family returned to their home on East Jefferson avenue Tuesday.

Frederick M. Alger, Jr., Finishing Busy Week in Campaign for Congress

Making a whirlwind finish to his primary campaign for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Fourteenth district, Frederick M. Alger, Jr., has covered in the past week, and will cover in the few remaining days before next Tuesday's vote, a total of more than thirty meetings in all parts of the Middle West's largest congressional district.

FREDERICK M. ALGER, JR.

His meetings covered practically every group of voters to be found in the Fourteenth, downtown meetings of American Legion veterans, and Sunday picnics. As "get acquainted" gatherings they proved a big success for the candidate, who received cordial receptions everywhere he went. Old time campaigners voiced their amazement at the way in which Fred Alger has made progress in the first campaign he ever made.

Several large Belgian and Italian meetings were among those covered by Alger in the past week, together with a rousing meeting of the Young Republican Alger for Congress club, in which all classes of the younger voters are represented. Last Sunday afternoon the candidate visited the picnic of the International Automobile Workers of America at Island Lake and the Belgian Business Men's picnic at the Detroit Creamery Farm, near Mt. Clemens. That same evening he was the guest of the Wayne County Italian Republican Club at St. Maron Hall, Charlevoix and Mt. Elliott avenues.

In addition to Mr. Alger's personal campaigning he has been aided by committees of men and women who have worked diligently to reach every possible voter in the district. His committee managers are enthusiastic over the reception their efforts have met and are predicting the nomination of Alger by a wide lead in next Tuesday's vote.

Throughout his entire primary campaign, Alger has laid stress in all his talks to voters on his progressive legislative program, for which he will work if sent to Congress by the voters of the Fourteenth district. Leading planks in this platform include:

Adequate old-age pensions, to be met by federal-state co-operation; unemployment insurance for workers; minimum wages and decent working hours for women; the wiping out of sweatshop exploiting of child labor; reducing unemployment by helping general business instead of hampering it by governmental interference; and halting the oncoming flood of new taxes by putting an end to government waste of new taxes by putting an end to government waste of the people's money.

MR. AND MRS. WARREN H. FARR, who have been making their home on Yorkshire Road, have taken an apartment at the Indian Village Manor.

Rabaut, Democrat of the Fourteenth Congressional District of Michigan, appointed in his first term to membership on the powerful Appropriations Committee, in addressing a workers rally at the Rabaut Headquarters, 15305 Mack avenue, recently, based his theme upon the words "Don't forget to remember."

world as trouble and this very nature of man to forget trouble is very apt to be the cause of a great act of ingratitude in the coming elections. Accordingly," he continued, "remember (Continued on Page Four)

Mothers Disprove Recent Transfer of Four Defer Teachers

Numerous letters flowed into the office of the Grosse Pointe Review during the past week relative to the recent transfer of Defer teachers. From these letters we have selected one for publication to show how the mothers feel in regards to this inconsiderate transferring of four of Defer's most talented teachers. The letter follows:

"To The Editor:

"As a parent in the George Defer school district I have been much impressed with your articles the last two weeks regarding the transfer of four teachers from this school. If these teachers are being transferred because of their ability to teach better, why should they not be retained at our school? I have a son who had all of the ones mentioned, also a daughter who did very well under Miss Hill.

"It seems as though the changes are made without any regard for the principal or the parents whose children are affected.

"I attended the Board meeting at which the petitions spoken of were presented. At this meeting I was impressed with the fact that questions to be voted on were handed out to certain individuals and the motions made from said slips of paper. I do not know whether this is the usual procedure, but it seems to me that matters settled in this way would certainly be to the liking of the Board.

"We have enjoyed sending our children to Defer and also the relationship which we have established between Mr. Kerby and the teachers.

"Why is it that whenever or whatever changes need be made in the system that this school seems to be the one to be hardest hit? If this speaks for the absolute efficiency of teachers under Mr. Kerby's direction—well enough, but I do think that we as parents might be considered.

"Couldn't we hear from some more parents?"

"MRS. JENNIE M. DALE,
1034 Wayburn Avenue,
"Grosse Pointe Park."

Groesbeck Approves of Montgomery for Wayne Co. Clerk

"When they appointed Henry A. Montgomery county clerk, the Wayne Circuit judges showed that they knew their business," said former Governor Alex J. Groesbeck in a statement issued this week.

"Henry Montgomery took office without any strings attached to him whatsoever. He went in to fill a vacancy and had a clear field before him. He proceeded to build up an organization in which efficient public service is the first rule. From judges, lawyers and all others having dealings with the county clerk comes the same verdict: 'Montgomery is the best county clerk Wayne County has ever had.'"

"County Clerk Montgomery had no political debts to pay off, no friends to reward, no lame duck relatives to take care of." (Continued on Page Six)

Foster Candidate for Congressional Post on Republican Ballot

To his many friends and buddies of the East Side and to the newcomers in this section, Joe Foster, through his committee of endorsement, presents his qualifications for Representative in Congress from the Fourteenth District. He has lived in the 14th District for 49 years. He has enjoyed the prosperity that this district has afforded each individual who had had backbone and sinew enough to reap the harvest that is his offered. And the district has certainly been kind to him in the past.

JOE FOSTER

The purposes of the many organizations favoring Foster's candidacy is to secure proper representation for this district. They are asking for a two-fisted fighter, one who has made good. That is the reason why many groups are supporting him for Congress. In a public speech recently, Joe Foster said:

"The working man must have proper means. He must be provided with sufficient funds to live properly, to have a car, a radio, good food, and a few dollars over and above these necessities to spend for pleasure. He must live right; he must read and learn. He must educate his children, pay doctor bills, etc. All of this the Constitution of the United States has given him, and more. But the money lenders, that group of 12 to 13 men that control the money, have taken away this privilege in the act called the Federal Banking Act. It isn't the manufacturer, the storekeeper, or your shoemaker that is to blame. They are part of you, your outlet for your labor. But the money lenders take 62 per cent of what you earn—for doing what? Nothing.

"Joe Foster is not a rich man. What he has today he has earned by the sweat of his brow. He had no rich father to leave him millions of dollars. He has always associated with the common people of the East Side. He doesn't belong to any 'silk stocking' group nor has he a string of race horses that he follows around the country, but on the contrary he is the hard-hitting two-fisted president of the Republican Servicemen's League. Therefore we refer you to any and all that know him, and to his thousands of buddies for his character and fairness to all. By his Committee of Endorsement."—Adv.

County Clerk Henry A. Montgomery Announces Opening of New Dept.

For the relief of workmen harassed by debt, County Clerk Henry A. Montgomery announces the opening of a new department of his office.

Along the lines of the Conciliation Division of Common Pleas Court, established by Judge Joseph A. Gillis, County Clerk Montgomery will assist those threatened with garnishment of their wages to arrange for installment payments on what they owe.

"For three years Judge Gillis, backed by employers and with the full cooperation of the better class business firms, has carried on work attracting national attention," said Montgomery.

"But certain creditors have attempted to evade the conciliation principle by bringing their cases into circuit court, and in the majority of instances such cases go through inconvenience for employers and is often ruinous to the debtor and unfair to other creditors.

"Thomas L. McGoldrick, legal advisor of our office in charge of Supreme Court appeals, has been assigned to look after the interests of those who are entitled to the benefits of the installment payment plan. We have notified Detroit employers to direct their employes to this office when cases involving their debts are brought into Circuit Court."

Indians Point to Ark Site

Noah was the discoverer of North America, if the legends of Quebec's Indians are to be believed. Tribes in the country surrounding the Saguenay river believed the remains of the Ark, or "big canoe", rest on the top of Cape Trinity, 2,000 feet above the level of the river, and, to them, the last bit of land left dry during the big flood. Capes Trinity and Eternity are the high points along the Saguenay river. The largest Madonna in the world graces the side of Cape Trinity. Generally called "Our Lady of the Saguenay," it stands out majestically among the fir trees. It is carved of wood and covered with lead, and is illuminated at night.

Former Asst. Attorney General Seeks Seat in State Senate Campaign

William A. Richards, candidate for the State Senate on the Republican ticket is known to a large number of people in this community.

He served the State of Michigan as an assistant attorney-general in 1931-32 and at present is engaged in private law practice with offices in the Buhl building.

As an assistant attorney general Mr. Richards acquired knowledge of the problems of state government which should particularly qualify him to represent this district.

WILLIAM A. RICHARDS

Mr. Richards was born, raised and educated in the City of Detroit and its environs. He attended the University of Detroit and Highland Park High Schools, Western State Normal College, and received his degree in law from the Detroit College of Law in 1928.

Justice Harry S. Toy of the Supreme Court, in March 1935 while he was still attorney general, named Mr. Richards as a public administrator in Wayne County, and in addition to his law practice he held this post till March of the following year. He also served four years as deputy clerk of the Recorder's Court.

Mr. Richards recently stated: "If the people of this large and important district believe that my experience and my training properly equip me to represent them in the State Senate, then and only then do I ask their support of my candidacy."

He resides at 2190 Lakewood avenue.

St. Martin's Fall Activities to Get Underway Sept. 19

With the sweltering heat passed, and the touch of the good old fall in the atmosphere, our thoughts and feelings naturally revert back to the happy evenings spent in the indoor quest of relaxing activities. The opening shot for St. Martin's fall and winter barage will start next Thursday evening in St. Martin's School Hall, Averhill and Lenox Avenues, with a rip-roaring card party and general get-together where "PEP" will be the pass-word and more "PEP" the sustaining slogan of the evening. Mrs. Ann Carson, chairman, and her committee, are leaving nothing undone to sponsor the biggest and best party in St. Martin's history; and that means a something. The enthusiastic response has been more than gratifying and the tickets have been going with a leap and bound. All card games will be played with a wealth of fine prizes to be distributed including door and table prizes. When the games get too over-heated, there will be the coldest refreshments, to relieve the oppressed brain for competition will be keen. Don't forget the date, Thursday, September 19th, at 8 P. M. o'clock at St. Martin's School Hall. Mark this on your date calendar and invite your friends to join in a gala night of good clean sport and happy revelry.

Louis C. Rabaut Seeks Re-Election to Congress on Record

the days when you walked the streets to return each night with the same story, no luck today. Remember the sorrow that was in your heart and the sad faces of your loved ones. Remember the denials you made to your own children because of the severity of the depression. Remember the empty smoke stacks of the great industries of our city. Remember the lone watchman guarding buildings that protected machinery but were void of the actions of men. Remember the sign that hung on the door 'No Help Wanted.' Remember the times: 'Brother Can You Spare a Dime.' Remember Fisher Lodge wherein the city of Detroit almost unwillingly because of her own depressed condition was host to the unfortunate men who went from pillar to pillar and from park bench to park bench until the severity of the weather drove them to the cots of the Lodge. Yea, remember the good monks on Mt. Elliott avenue who daily fed the poor and sent them home with their rations of bread. Oh, my friends, don't forget to remember. And when you remember recall the man who came with a smile and conquered the depression, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the President of the United States.

"Two years ago the people of this District sent me to his side. I thank you now for the support given me then. At his side I stood and served and the social security act passed by the 74th Congress opens a new avenue of endeavor in national legislation for it recognizes the duty of government to both the aged and the unemployed. Time only will make its benefits apparent to the worker.

"It was the Rabaut Amendment to the National Housing Act that caused recognition of schools, orphanages and colleges by the Federal Housing Administration and that gave authority to the Administration to insure loans for modernization for such institutions in the sum of $50,000." Representative Rabaut concluded his remarks with the statement: "I made one promise to the people of this District two years ago, namely, that I would serve to the best of my ability according to the dictates of my conscience. This promise, my friends, I have kept."

Kuhlman Candidate for State Senate

This district comprises the seventeenth, nineteenth, and twenty-first wards, Gratiot Township and the Grosse Pointes, is one of the largest districts in Michigan and as such needs a man of Mr. Kuhlman's qualifications. Edmund Kuhlman was born in Rogers City, Michigan. Lived in Detroit for the past 30 years. He has been actively engaged in business all that time, for the past 15 years in the building business. During that time he has become intimately acquainted with many people, particularly those working in the building trades and factories. He has always paid the highest prevailing wage to all workmen and at the present time no man is receiving less than 80 cents per hour who is in his employ.

Mr. Kuhlman has been actively engaged in civic affairs in the various community organizations. He is the past president of the Mack Avenue Business Men's Club, past president of the Eastern Detroit Realty Association and in a similar capacity he has served in other East side organizations.

In a recent speech Mr. Kuhlman stated, "If elected to the office of State Senator, I promise to represent the people in the same manner and with the same common sense judgment that I would if I were deciding a question in my own business. I am opposed to the state entering into business of any kind that could be handled by private industry. I believe that the sales tax law should be amended to give the business man a larger exemption and there are many other laws that should be amended. I am not so much interested in proposing new legislation as I am in stopping foolish and unnecesary legislation. I am also opposed to the state being in the liquor business. This should be handled through private sources."

"I am also very much interested in the amendment of the criminal laws. These laws are too numerous to mention. One for example: At the present time if a criminal is acquitted, the state has no right to appeal. He is set free. But if the criminal is convicted, he has a right to appeal. There are many other laws of a similar nature that need to be brought up to date. As to civil service: The proposed law, as proposed by the Governor's Civil Service Commission—this meets with my approval and if elected as senator, I shall put forth every effort to bring about the passage of this law."

I am honestly convinced that it would be to the people's best interest to vote the Republican ticket regardless of their present party affiliation.

Farmington Death Trap to Be Eliminated

Plans to eliminate what he termed a "death trap" along the Farmington cut-off on US-16 were announced today by State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagener.

The 10-foot cut-off was built in 1930 and 1932 before Commissioner Van Wagener came into office. Since its completion, forty people have been killed in automobile accidents along the cut-off. The belt line runs south of Farmington through rolling country. At each end, traffic rushes off a four-lane pavement into the narrow, two lane, cut-off.

Commissioner Van Wagener said the widening of US-16 will be completed at the west end of Farmington next year and that the cut-off will be closed, thereafter to traffic pending reconstruction. Under the commissioner's plans traffic will be directed through Farmington next year until the hazardous sections of the cut-off have been re-built properly in 1938.

In the meantime the commissioner directed the maintenance division of the state highway department to build up the shoulders and erect additional signs along the cut-off to give the maximum protection under existing conditions.

The first construction undertaking will be the widening of the present 18 of the city to 30 or 40 feet, the command 20-foot pavement at the west end commissioner said. When this is done, the cut-off will be closed to traffic.

To close the cut-off to traffic prior to completion of the widening would "merely mean directing trunkline traffic over a bottleneck," the commissioner pointed out. The narrow pavement at the west end of Farmington extends for 2.3 miles off the main route of US-16 into the city.

The commissioner said the only improvement that can be made on the bottleneck in complete reconstruction of the hazardous sections of the road. "The hills and valleys must be taken out and, the roadbed must be leveled off to give adequate sight distance" he said.

Let 'Em Eat Cake
(Nutrition Department, Detroit Dairy and Food Council)

It was Marie Antoinette who a good many years ago suggested that if there is no bread, cake doesn't do badly as a substitute. Men, as a class, agree that there is nothing wrong with that idea. A good cake, to most men, means one that is not too rich or heavily iced. Angel foods and sponge cakes are usually popular with them, and rightly so.

For some strange reason, women believe that they are difficult cakes to make; not so, they are the simplest of all, and most quickly prepared. Once a woman understands one or two facts about this sponge type of cake, the rest is easy sailing.

Angel foods, to begin with, require a light and gentle hand. Beat the egg whites only until they are fluffy and stand in peaks, but definitely not until they are dry and very fine-grained. Overbeating makes a smaller in volume, more firmly grained, less tender cake. Fold the sifted ingredients in carefully and lightly, a little bit at a time. Bake in an ungreased tube pan in a slow oven. The pan used for angel foods should be used for nothing else, and should be washed in clear, clean water. If this procedure is not followed when the cake is inverted in its pan to cool, it may fall out of the pan.

Sponge cakes veer sharply to the other side. The egg yolks must be beaten with a will, and vigorously until they are thick and lemon-colored. If they are insufficiently beaten, the sponge cake will have a soggy, heavy layer at the bottom when it is baked. The electric beater that Uncle Harry donated as a wedding gift will be worth its weight in gold in this operation. After the yolks are beaten, however, the rest of the operation should be done as gently as for an angel food. A hot milk sponge cake is somewhat simpler to make for a beginner, and is less expensive than an all-egg one.

Hot Milk Sponge Cake
1 cup sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
3 eggs
1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons lemon juice
6 tablespoons hot milk
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and sift together three times. Beat eggs until very thick and light and nearly white (10 minutes). Add sugar gradually, beating constantly. Add lemon juice. Fold in flour, a small amount at a time, until all is added. Add milk, mixing quickly until batter is smooth. Turn at once into ungreased tube pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 35 minutes, or until done. Remove from oven and invert pan one hour, or until cold. Sift powdered sugar over top.

William F. Dorn
for Delegate on Democratic Ticket

Dorn, a former Justice of the Peace in Grosse Pointe, served as assistant attorney general of Michigan in 1933-35 and was the first state chairman of the Young Democratic Clubs of Michigan. He recently was appointed to the Michigan Campaign Committee by Edward Fry, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

of Montgomery for
Wayne Co. Clerk

care of. His first move was to bring back twelve men and women who had long years of experience in the county clerk's office. Thomas L. McGoldrick, legal advisor in charge of Supreme Court appeals headed this list, which includes such tried and true public servants as Obe Bingham, Ed Rausch, Betty Ness, Walter Buhl.
"In the highly important position of cashier, handling hundreds of thousands of dollars in moratorium mortgage payments and other county funds he placed George Burns, vice president of the Peoples Wayne County Bank, a banker who sacrificed his personal fortune voluntarily when the banks closed in 1933.

"Henry Montgomery is not a politician. As editor of Detroit daily newspapers, originator of the Friend of the Court department and as a practicing attorney, he was thoroughly familiar with the needs of the county clerk's office and exceptionally qualified to build up a staff of expert assistants.
"Wayne County voters have a clean-cut choice before them. In nominating a county clerk on September 15, Henry Montgomery's name on the Republican ballot stands for just who has long been demanded in office—a man whose first aim is making good with the public.

"I am confident that real service, is, after all, the best campaign argument, and that the vote for County Clerk Montgomery will prove that to be true."

Federal Theatres
to Present 'Macbeth'
Beginning Sept. 14th

While faint-hearted producers stare with unbelieving eyes, the WPA Federal Theatre Project is rallying its forces behind the noble figure of Macduff prior to its march on Dunsinane where "Macbeth," hitherto unconquered on the stage, waits with ill-begotten haughtiness.

Regarded as "untouchable" by commercial producers because of its varied and complex situations, "Macbeth," having embarked on a 4,000-mile road tour, will open at the Lafayette Theatre, on Monday, September 14.

An army of 150 actors royally garbed in military costumes, of the Napoleonic regime will introduce the unique and popular Harlem conception of Shakespeare to Detroit. The cast is the largest ever to do "Macbeth" on the stage, and during its New York run in Harlem and on Broadway numbered a greater company than any other on the legitimate stage.

Sum Hatches Snake Eggs
Not all snakes lay eggs. A large number of species bring forth their young alive. Some snakes, such as rock pythons, hatch their eggs with the heat of their own bodies; but the majority of reptiles leave that tedious task to the sun. Others bury their eggs in rotting vegetation where the heat produced by decomposition does the trick.
