

G. O. P. WINS IN TOWNSHIP

News Digest

Our flying reporter picked up a news flash that one of the Congressional candidates in the 14th District was so busy campaigning that he forgot to register, and consequently had to be sworn in to vote. Was his face red!

Several notables have passed on to the Great Beyond this week. A great musician and a remarkable film director.

It seems that the trend in politics this season is a return to Republicanism. Maine, the barometer in Presidential campaigns, indicates the change.

Blondes are not quite as prevalent in Hollywood as they were several years ago, but there may be a return. Joan Crawford anticipates being a blonde in her next picture.

Farley claims Maine's victory was a victory for Dupont dollars. Who knows, maybe he is right.

The boys are craning their necks at the Fair Grounds these days, with India Rubber in the stretch and Stove Pipe wins by a length.

"Old bicycles exchanged for new" is one of the remarkable signs at a bicycle store on Mack avenue.

The voters really turned out in full force at the primaries to further the campaigns of their many friends on the ballot.

We wonder how a State Senator or a Legislator of modest means can serve his constituents honestly on $2.88 per day. That is hardly sufficient for his hotel accommodations.

Many a disappointed office seeker is drowning his sorrow in beverages of strong alcoholic contents.

A nudist official predicts that in a few years' time beauties will promenade on the beaches, sans clothing, and gay lotharios will cavort in raiments originated in the days of Adam and Eve.

Grosse Pointe Park officials are placing warning signs along through streets as to speed limit. Wonder how many slow down to the speed requirements.

From millions to niche lunch counter. Such is the life of William C. Durant, founder of General Motors, who is beginning all over again at the age of 74.

Allen Park's city treasurer is having quite a battle with other officials of that community over collection of taxes and signing of pay checks. She refuses to buy her own ink for the purpose.

It is possible that overhanging signs will not be permitted on Wider Woodward to mar the beauty of this newly constructed thoroughfare.

As the baseball season nears a close, Bridges and Rowe seem to be going to town with their pitching.

MRS. WILLIAM LYON PHELPS is coming by motor from her summer home at Huron City, Mich., to be present at the debut of Elizabeth Lockwood Parcells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Parcells, of Rivard Blvd., on Sept. 17. During her stay she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watson Hubbard, of E. Jefferson Ave.

Brucker Spoke at Joint Meeting of Republican Clubs in Grosse Pointe

Wilber M. Brucker, former governor of Michigan, gave the principal speech at a joint meeting of the Republican clubs of Grosse Pointe, last Wednesday evening, September 9, at Grosse Pointe High School.

Infantile Paralysis in Grosse Pointe

There is one case of infantile paralysis in Grosse Pointe. Dr. Warren suggests to parents that at the least indisposition of children the family physician should be consulted at once.

Introduced by Mrs. Edwin Kriehoff, president of the Women's Republican Club of Grosse Pointe, Mr. Brucker spoke briefly on the issues of the campaign, dwelling in particular on the New Deal.

"Every campaign," he said, "has a fundamental issue. Ours is the continuance of America under an American form of government. This nation cannot be half European and half American."

"Under the New Deal," he continued, "all have been menaced and threatened. The taxpayer has lost, the farmer has seen his home and foreign market disappear, labor has suffered less work and less wages, and business has found it impossible to know what the morrow will bring."

Mr. Brucker then brought things closer home by showing how Michigan has been penalized and picked on by this same Deal. He explained how our State has many times been without a voice and a vote because of the opposition between Senators Vandenberg and Couzens. With a repetition of the slogan "1933—N. R. A.; 1934—I. O. U.; 1935—S. O. S.; 1936—G. O. P.," Mr. Brucker concluded his speech.

The chairman of the meeting then read a telegram from Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald, in which he regretted not being able to be present at the rally. The following men then came forward and spoke briefly on why they believed themselves fit for the offices they were up for and as such asked for the support of the several hundred voters present. Henry A. Montgomery, candidate for County Clerk; John H. McPherson, candidate for Congress in this district; Harry C. Hudson, Edward Cullman, Mr. Van Tein for Chester P. O'Hara; Frederick A. Wayne, and William A. Richards, all candidates for State Senate; Eugene C. Keys, candidate for Coroner; William B. Fitzpatrick, candidate for Sheriff; and Herbert E. Monroe, candidate for County Prosecutor.

The rally closed with the audience, led by Marie Van Esten, with Margaret Vanabeck at the piano, singing "Oh Suzanna."

A. J. Kretsch Plumbing Co. Is Popular with Grosse Pointers

In order to extend a better service to their clients in Grosse Pointe the A. J. Kretsch Plumbing and Heating company decided to locate at 14739 Mack avenue about five years ago.

Since that time their clientele has been continually increasing due to their favorable prices and prompt service. They are equipped to install or repair furnaces, install stokers and air conditioning plants.

East End Laundry Expands to Extend Better Service

Mr. J. L. Blau, the enterprising manager of the East End Laundry, 2559 Hillger avenue, announces the completion of a program of expansion, which means increased facilities to better serve his vast clientele.

The patronage of this popular laundry has been growing steadily until Mr. Blau found it necessary to enlarge his plant. The popularity of this institution has been largely due to their favorable prices and splendid workmanship.

Grosse Pointers will appreciate the prompt and courteous service extended by this organization, and we might add that this plant is open to inspection at all times to their patrons who might desire to investigate the careful manner in which every detail is taken care of.

League of Catholic Women Bridge-Tea

A bridge tea will be given at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club September 22 at 2:30 o'clock for the benefit of the mortgage fund of the League of Catholic Women. Mrs. Ernest A. O'Brien and Mrs. Euclid V. Joinville will be joint chairmen. Mrs. Edward J. Hickey and Mrs. Edward A. Skae, past presidents, will assist Mrs. William F. Connolly, who is president of the League, in receiving the guests.

Mrs. Oscar Lingemann is chairman of arrangements, and Mrs. Robert P. Powell, chairman of prizes; Mrs. Daniel R. Foley, cards and tallies, and Mrs. Lloyd F. Eagan, publicity. Resolve now to attend and bring your friends. Reservations may be made with the committee or by calling the League, Columbia 1000.

William E. Roney Was Buried Last Saturday

Requiem high mass was sung for William E. Roney, Grosse Pointe realtor, at 11 a. m. Saturday at St. Paul's Church, Lake Shore and Moran Roads, Grosse Pointe Farms, after prayers at 10:30 o'clock at the home, 605 Lake Shore Drive, Grosse Pointe Shores. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Mr. Roney, who died suddenly last Thursday at the residence, was born August 30, 1868, in Detroit. He was the son of John Edward Roney, a native Detroit, and the former Agnes Roche, of Dublin, Ireland. In 1889 he entered the real estate business mostly in the Grosse Pointe area. In 1932 he entered the brokerage business with his son, William C., in the firm of William C. Roney & Co.

He married Marie Chapton, of an old Detroit family, in 1897. For 15 years he served as a trustee of the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores. He was a former member of the Detroit Athletic Club and the Knights of Columbus, and at the time of his death belonged to the Lochmoor Golf Club.

He is survived by four sons, William C., of Grosse Pointe Farms; J. Edward C. of Grosse Pointe; Richard L., of Trinity County, Calif.; and John K. of Detroit; three daughters, Mrs. James P. Charles, of Columbus O., and Miss Rita and Miss Virginia Roney, of Grosse Pointe Shores; a brother, Charles R. of Detroit, and a sister, Miss Marey G. Roney, of Grosse Pte., Shores.

Grosse Pointe Voted Republican at the Primaries Tuesday

A very heavy vote was recorded in Grosse Pointe at the Primaries Tuesday. At the time the Grosse Pointe Review went to press it was impossible to secure detailed data as to how the votes in Grosse Pointe were cast.

Lochmoor went Democratic by a very small majority, while the City of Grosse Pointe and the remainder of the Township went decidedly Republican. Wilber M. Brucker for Senator and Fred Alger Jr., for Congress led the G. O. P. ticket by a substantial majority.

From available information Fred Alger, Jr., was nominated by a majority of four to one on the Republican ticket. Louis C. Rabaut, incumbent, won the Democratic nomination by a wide margin.

The polls were well attended all day and quite a number of voters were in line when the polls closed at night. It was one of the largest Primary votes in the history of Grosse Pointe.

Grosse Pointe Health Department Notes

1812 Daughters to Observe Constitution Day September 17th

Members of interested friends of Gen. Alexander Macomb Chapter, United States Daughters of 1812, have received invitations from the chapter president Mrs. Lloyd DeWitt Smith, to be her guests at a Constitution Day Tea, at the Colony Club on Thursday afternoon, September 17, from two to five o'clock.

Since the adoption of the Federal Constitution, on Sept. 17, 1789, falls within the eligibility period to membership in the Society, 1784-1815, the 1812 Daughters have always been punctilious in observing this important day in their country's history. Every member is urged by Mrs. Smith to display a flag at her home on this day.

Entertainment suitable for the occasion has been arranged by Mrs. Smith for her tea-guests. Patriotic music will be sung by contralto soloist, Mrs. Carol Stilson Turner, with Mrs. Kenneth Landis at the piano. Mr. Wirt J. Savery, lawyer, and a authority on federal law, will give an address. "The Federal Constitution, Its Unique Character."

The engagement of Miss Yvonne Dusablon, formerly of Racine, Wis., to Vincent Marsack, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Marsack, of Grosse Pointe Farms, was announced Saturday evening at a gathering of relatives and friends at the home of the groom-elect by her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Vaillancourt. The wedding date has not yet been set.

Grosse Pointe Park Police Locate Body of Drowned Youth

The body of Emerson Green, 24, society youth who drowned Sunday, was recovered from the Detroit River at the foot of Lakepointe avenue Tuesday afternoon by Grosse Pointe Park police.

Green, whose home is in Pasadena, Cal., lost his life when he attempted to swim to shore to bring help for his companion, Miss Louise Viger, 19, who clung to the bottom of their capsized rowboat four hours before being rescued. Miss Viger lives at 17610 Fairway drive, Palmer Woods.

Martha Werneken Has Returned from Spain

Leaving a war-torn country amid air raids, rebel armies and nightly bombardments, offers a zestful climax to a summer vacation in the opinion of Miss Martha Werneken, 19-year-old Grosse Pointe student.

Miss Werneken, who lives at 422 Neff road, was caught in the center of Spain when the revolution broke out.

She and 11 other American students, all members of an association known as "Experiment in International Living," fled through rebel-dominated areas to refuge on French soil. She arrived home Saturday.

Alger Post Auxiliary Card Party Sept. 23

The first of a series of card parties to be held this fall, will take place on Wednesday, September 23, 1936 at the home of Mrs. Frederick M. Alger, 17700 East Jefferson Ave.

There will be a dessert luncheon at 1 o'clock and is being given by Mrs. Sylvester Lingemann, entertainment chairman.

There will also be door and table prizes. Come and bring your friends for a pleasant afternoon. Tickets 50c.

Novel Methods Used in Musical Training for Children Tried

With a view to creating a love for music among Detroit's child populace, Thais Marasco and Eleanor Shapiro come from the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y., to conduct a course in creative music at the Detroit Conservatory of Music this fall.

Both Miss Shapiro and Miss Marasco studied at the Eastman school under the guidance of Lottie Ellsworth Coit, international authority on music education for small children.

Working from the psychological standpoint, they will develop children's interest in music by having them make simple musical instruments, compose melodies and become members of small groups, such as rhythm orchestras. The children will be taught through means of musical games, songs, instruments, violas and other devices. The course is an innovation in Detroit.

To more fully serve the members of the boys' department of the Hannan Memorial branch, Roberts D. Burr, of Manchester, Connecticut, has been appointed associate boys' work secretary for the coming year.

Upon graduating, Mr. Burr became assistant director of Camp Vagabond, a traveling day camp sponsored by the Hartford County Y. M. C. A. This camp was started at the height of the depression to bring camp to boys who because of restricted family budgets, could not afford to go away to camp.

In the fall of 1934 Mr. Burr was appointed boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Winsted, Connecticut. In this association, which serves both boys and girls, men and women, he has had broad experience in many phases of association work.

Mr. Burr is especially interested in crafts, nature study and dramatics in boys' club work. John H. Enns, former Hannan resident, has accepted a position on the faculty of Detroit Institute of Technology in the School of Engineering.

Mrs. M. B. Post, the capable new manager of the Hannan "Y" restaurant comes with a background of 20 years of successful experience in restaurant management. She is already delighting her rapidly increasing constituency of members, friends, luncheon clubs and other organizational and private parties with the much improved service and with the tasty Southern cooking of her Louisiana chef.

INSURANCE TIPS

Mayor Couzens is behind the times in his talk about high fire insurance rates in Detroit. The fire insurance companies are giving the public today better contracts at lower rates than what they were offering in 1928.

The Detroit News, September 3, quotes Nate S. Shapiro as saying "I think the significant thing is that, although fire losses have decreased greatly in Detroit and Michigan for the last sixteen years, rates have remained practically unchanged."

The reason for Detroit's blanket reduction on property other than dwellings in 1923 was the change in classification from 3 to 2.

Dwelling rates were revised in 1929. A brick veneer house with a wood shingle roof in Detroit having a house on each side within ten feet used to take a three year rate of $675.

Brick buildings other than dwellings were reduced 15% in 1929. Brick and tile buildings about 40%.

With some exceptions, principally frame business properties and buildings where the risk has increased, rates are substantially lower today than they were in 1928.

Property owners who had alert competent agents did not have to ask to get the benefit of rate reductions.

Usually the first thing they knew of a rate reduction was when their agent told them he had gotten their property re-rated lower because of a change in schedules.

Word "Eugenics" Becomes Part of Other Languages

The word eugenics is one of the scientific additions to the English language, and has passed from the English into the other languages. Sir Francis Galton, English anthropologist, and cousin of Charles Darwin, coined the word in 1885.

Modern man and woman are the product of two factors: hereditary or racial qualities from a line of ancestors that extends back beyond historical record, and the environment in which each being reaches maturity.

According to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, "The word eugenics is used to cover any proposals or plans for the improvement of the racial qualities of human beings. Therefore, eugenic proposals aim at social improvements. They differ fundamentally from other projects having the same object in that they are concerned with the improvement of the human material and not of the surroundings. But they are not alternative to these projects."

"Eether or Eyether" Are Correct, Says Dictionary

The pronunciations of "either" indicated in the heading are both correct and are heard from good speakers. Webster has an interesting note on the point: "The pronunciation 'eyther' is both American and English, but is more prevalent in England, especially in London and the South, than in the United States."

The Danish Farmer Government The farmers in Denmark are considered among the very best and most efficient in the world, and the Farmer party is in majority in the government, so whenever anything is found to be harmful to agriculture, the government immediately goes after that something, until it is fully destroyed or eliminated.

The word commencement, denoting the celebration of the completion of an academic course by graduates, when degrees or diplomas are publicly conferred and the students have qualified to commence the higher studies or business to which they have been advanced, has been in use for more than five centuries.

In 1887, John de Travisa, in his translation of the earlier works of Raphael Higden, wrote: "By a statute of the university of Oxford, when any man is licensed (licensed) there to commence in any faculty he shall spend at his commencement passage three thousand of groates (turnens)."

The value of the Tontine great of that period was less than that of the English great of the same period, or less than fourpence.—Literary Digest.

The newly found document is a report published in 1834 by a weekly magazine of Turin called the Universal Theater which relates how Prof. Celestino Gall, a professor of languages in London at the time, invented the first typewriter during the year.

Spanish Horses First Fossil finds which have been unearthed on the plateau of Bogota, in Colombia, S. A., furnish new proof that while the modern horse was brought to American shores by the Spanish conquistadors, it had inhabited the Western hemisphere for thousands of years previous to the Spanish conquest and become extinct.

Sir Hubert Wilkins to Speak at Art Institute

Sir Robert Wilkins, renowned British explorer who is in America organizing his next summer's polar expedition, will open the Fall World Adventure Series season of ten lectures at the Detroit Institute of Arts on Sunday afternoon and evening Oct. 11. Sir Hubert's subject, with 6,000 feet of motion pictures, will be "By Airplane and Submarine Through the Arctic and Antarctic."

Julien Bryan, who spent the summer getting new motion pictures of the latest developments in Soviet Russia, will be another World Adventure headliner. Captain Albert W. Stevens, who scored 72,395 feet into the stratosphere, will show motion pictures of his expedition. Other Fall speakers include Captain Irving Johnson, Branson De Cou, David Irwin, Dr. Luther Gable, Arthur C. Pillsbury, Herbert Thompson Strong, Dean H. Dickason.

Illustrated folders describing the course in detail are being distributed free of charge by the World Adventure Series at its Detroit Institute of Arts office. The Series, which is non-profit, presents the newest illustrated lecture in the field of natural history, exploration, travel, and science.

On and Off the Records

by Lee Montgomery

What a predicament I am in. My two closest political friends are Harold E. Stoll and Henry A. Montgomery. One's a Democrat, the other a Republican. I can't vote for both of them in the primary. Just a concrete example of what is wrong with the election laws. It is silly to think that Harold E. Stoll's opinion on the National Tariff will effect the efficiency of his own office of Register of Deeds. It is just as silly to think that Henry Montgomery's opinion on the foreign policy of the United States will effect the office of County Clerk.

I appeal to the rest of the people who are in a similar boat. Let's promote a plan where we can vote for anybody, regardless of party.

Walter J. Dunne, member of the Poor Commission, is in favor of the idea Wayne County can save money by not taking care of the afflicted. "Although we all know the state owes the county money in this battle of care," said Dunne, "it is still our duty to erect what new buildings we need." Dunne pointed out that this would actually save money. "Efficient methods of care breed economy," he said.

The Adult Membership Class will meet Wednesday, September 23, at 7:30 p. m.

The Peacemakers

THE establishing of peace among the nations needs the efforts of individual thinkers, as well as the efforts of national governments and international councils. The statesmen who are striving for a solution of the problems of today are appealing more and more to the conscience of mankind. There is a pressing demand for peoples of all nations to consider world problems from the standpoint of right thinking, and to bring to them the healing influence of right thought. In order to do this one cannot ignore the seriousness of world problems, nor be ignorant of the spiritual remedy which alone can solve them.

Men everywhere need enlightenment in order that they may recognize spiritual values. There is great need of a keen, awakened thought on social justice, a justice which is concerned not alone with one's own country, but which also recognizes the rights of other countries and other peoples. The world is still going through a process of civilization, and that civilization alone will endure which is founded on true Christianity. This line of argument is strongly opposed by those who believe that war plays a necessary part in civilization, and who point to the conquest of ancient kingdoms by means of superior physical force. But enlightened public opinion is more and more regarding war as a relic of barbarism, a crude and uncivilized method of settling differences between peoples.

Today it is more widely recognized than ever before that war is not the true way to solve problems, and that this way adds more problems to the burdened shoulders of humanity. In disputes between nations, fear is the chief difficulty, and right thinkers in every country can help the situation by striving to eliminate fear from their own and others' thoughts.

An inheritance to all humanity is the ability to "let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 2:5). In this way of Christian scientific thinking lies the solution of world problems, economic, social, and civil. On this basis, the right thinkers of every nation are united in purpose to serve humanity's highest interests. The substance of such a brotherhood is love, expressed in tolerance, forbearance, patience, and forgiveness. Above the tumult of the nations the spiritually enlightened hear the "still small voice" of Truth, which is ever speaking to the receptive heart.

In the book of Revelation we read (2:26): "And he that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations." As more and more Christian scientific thinkers ally themselves with the forces of righteousness and stand for them in their own community, the more will such thinking be represented in national councils, and become formidable in meetings of the League of Nations, the League of Nations, and the League of Nations. "The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellaneous" (p. 281) Mary Baker Eddy cites "as our present need, faith in God's disposal of events." And she adds: "Faith full-fledged, soaring to the heights, brings blessings in the form of peace, and the fruit of righteousness,—on earth peace, good will toward men." On this basis the brotherhood of all peoples is established; namely, one God, one Mind, and "Love thy neighbor as thyself," the basis on which and by which the infinite God, good, the Father-Mother Love, is ours and we are His in divine Science.

The times demand a wider vision of the world's need, a more active participation in spiritual enlightenment, a broader outlook of common brotherhood. This wider vision can be found only in the Christian scientific knowledge of God as Father-Mother. The prophet Micah proclaimed that "the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be established in the top of the mountains," and of the results of such establishment he prophesied that God "shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more" (Micah 4: 1, 3).

In the face of present-day problems, fulfillment of the above prophecy may perhaps seem unattainable or far-off, but spiritual thinkers in every land need all the more to have faith in the reality of God's just and loving government, and gain more understanding of the facts of His omnipotence and ever-presence. —The Christian Science Monitor.

Eastminster Presbyterian Church

East Jefferson avenue at Manistique. Carl E. Kircher, pastor.

Rev. Paul Berman, of New York, of the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church, will speak Sunday morning at 11 o'clock on "The Church's Program for the Jew." Dr. Berman represents the Jewish work of the church at large.

At 7:30 p. m. the pastor, Rev. Carl E. Kircher, will speak on "A Man God Changed Into Another Man." There will be a special musical program.

Wednesday evening we are studying the pictures from James, "Some Common Mistakes We Make."

Christian Science Churches

"Matter" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 20.

Among the Bible citations is the following (Isaiah 55:8, 9): "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 286): "God's thoughts are perfect and eternal, are substance and Life. Material and temporal thoughts are human, involving error, and since God, Spirit, is the only cause, they lack a divine cause."

Wilbur Wright Opens Evening School Term

The Wilbur Wright Trade School, at 4333 Twelfth street, Detroit, began enrolling for its fall evening school term Monday, September 14. The first classes were held Wednesday, September 16. A wide variety of courses are offered by this public school, and are being taught by men who are experienced in factory production and engineering departments. These instructors are qualified to apply this work directly toward industrial requirements.

The metal trades courses give instruction in machine shop theory and practice, bench work, and heat-treating and hardening. The steam engineering courses give instruction for boiler operators' and engineers' licenses, heating and ventilating, and air-conditioning, refrigeration, and Diesel engine theory. Instruction in automotive work includes fundamentals of automotive electricity, test work and equipment, radio service, and carburetion.

Drafting instruction is given in mechanics, die-design, building details, sheet metal layout, body die design, and blue-print reading.

Industrial electricity courses give instruction in the fundamentals of industrial control and induction motors. Courses in electroplating, metallurgy, chemistry, physics, printing, mathematics, technical English, industrial economics, office machine practice, and elementary business administration are also offered.

A new course in factory relations—giving instruction in general foremanship training—is being offered for the first time, this fall. Further information concerning the courses may be secured at the school, or by calling Cherry 7150—extension 80.

IT SEEMS THAT...

By BUN WILLIAMS Reading the account of Ossip Gabrilowitsch's death, I unconsciously thought of the "lottery" that keeps newspaper men interested in the personalities of the nation. (Perhaps Mr. Gabrilowitsch's name was excluded from the "draw").

They would have it that in a particular newspaper office in New York a group of the staff have invented a game or lottery. (This may be untrue; but it seems that I read or heard that some time ago). It goes something like this:

The names of all the big money men, prominent society folk, actresses and actors, musicians—in fact, anybody who gets a lot of ink on the daily sheets—their names are written on separate pieces of paper, folded, and placed in a hat or any receptacle. For the sum of about ten or twenty dollars you may draw a name.

The idea of the game is that from the date of the drawing the first personality to die, no matter how, proves to be a "lucky number" for the person holding his or her name.

For instance, if someone had been holding Ossip Gabrilowitsch's or Irving Thalberg's name that individual would have received all the money that was in the pool. Sometimes the amount is up in the dough, and it's worth while waiting for somebody to die.

It's an unusual "sport," but newspaper men have great imaginations and they're liable to think of anything.

This may sound a bit far-fetched, but it's been heard time and again that the obituaries of all well known people are written a long time before they go to the promised land.

I suppose during their spare moments the newshawks occupy their time delving into the records and scribbling out the pretty things that are always said about us, when we're dead. (By "us" I don't mean that I'm in the class that has their death notices other than in the ad sheet).

Glancing through the want ads (looking for a good job) this ad drew my attention: Wanted—Young man between 21 and 28, for service department, inside work, salary. Apply Monday 10 a. m. See Mr. Dodson.

I wanted to answer that ad, but I'll stick to this column before I'll chase all over the city looking for an address. That ad is a boner on somebody's part.

This column has been on a vacation (though no one seems to have noticed it). This week's entry is short, being written on the fly; but next week's labor will produce a lengthy strip, giving some of the surprising and pleasant changes that have taken place in the past three years in the "North" country. For instance, right now, people are complaining of the pesky September flies. My advice to you is to go up north. The flies don't bother you at all—the hornets and yellow jackets drive them away.

Mark Twain was supposed to have said: "Everybody talks about the heat but nobody does anything about it." Whether or not he did say it makes no never mind. The point is: it's hot. But if it snowed there would be the same complaining. So if you're not satisfied with the weather, die and get to heaven. Amen.

Faith Lutheran Church

Jefferson and Philip avenues. Rev. R. D. Linhart, pastor.

Eight hundred seventeen worshippers attended the home coming service at Faith Church last Sunday morning. The vested choir, numbering nearly 80 voices, beautified the service with special music.

Holy Communion will be celebrated next Sunday morning. Two Communion services will be held, at 8 a. m. and 10:45 a. m. The Rev. J. J. Baumgartner, of Columbus, Ohio, will assist the pastor in the services.

The children's catechism classes meet every Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Nearly 60 children have enrolled in the first-year class.

Coach of U. of D. Has 16 Lettermen for Football Squad

With 16 lettermen available, plus a fair grade of talent from last year's freshman and reserve squads, Coach Charles E. "Gus" Dorais of the University of Detroit, is sure of having at least an average team this fall. It may be considerably better than average if he can find a quarterback and a left-halfback up to U. of D. standards. Quarterback is the only position for which no winner of the varsity letter is available. There is a left-halfback, Jim Piper, who has made "D," but he has yet to show that he possesses the versatility required of the left-half in Dorais's system of offense which makes this the key position.

Forty-five men have been invited to report for practice, which starts on Tuesday, September 8. Some of these may turn up missing but it is certain that there will be more than 40 men from among whom to pick the Titan team of 1936. Dorais lost six regulars by graduation last June, namely Lutz and Skover, halfbacks, Jones, quarter-back, Wilson, center, Andrusking, center, Andrusking, guard, and Duker, tackle. In addition, he was disappointed in the failure of Andy Karpus, a letterman of 1934, to make the scholastic grade.

These losses are not so serious as might appear at first glance, however, because of the excellent caliber of the men remaining on the squad. All seven of those named were excellent players, but Dorais is fortunate in that, with the exception of quarterback and left-half, he has capable performers fairly falling over one another. If he only could trade half a dozen good fullbacks for a left-half and a quarterback, he would have no problem at all. It so happens that the squad runs very largely to fullbacks, there being two who have won a letter in that position and several others who have made good in other positions but who normally are fullbacks.

So far as the line is concerned, even with Wilson, Andrusking and Duker gone, Dorais is in exceptionally fine shape. The line will be big, fast and heavy. With Arthur B. "Bud" Boring-er as line coach, it is also sure to be smart and aggressive. "Bud" could take seven aged washerwomen and in the course of a season make a fair line in every position on the forward wall and three deep in many. Although there is no exceptionally large man on the squad, there are plenty of those big, rangy 190-pounders and the average weight will be higher than in the usual U. of D. eleven.

Right-end will be held down by Capt. Al Boglarsky, a finished flanker judged by any standard. His principal understudy of last season, Knauerhaze, is again available, but will have to fight to hold his rating against Chesney and Coyro, sophomores. Both of these boys are six feet tall, the ideal size for pass receivers. Chesney weighs 189 pounds, and Coyro 175, so they are both big enough to be able to take it.

Frkoska and Larson won letters at left-end last season and are back on the squad. Neither is the equal of Captain Boglarsky in all-round ability as yet, but neither has had his experience. Among the sophomore candidates for this position, Robert Scott, from Cooley High School, Detroit, looks like the best. He isn't particularly tall, but he is a tackle situation in well in hand. The tackle situation is well in hand. The tackle situation is well in hand. The tackle situation is well in hand.

Dave Crotty at left-tackle and Joe Cieslak at right were regulars last season and will get the first call. Crotty has an experienced understudy in Jim Tomlinson, the heaviest man on the squad, who has had two years of experience but not much work. Natus, a husky sophomore, is also very much in line for a job in this position. Charles Ganster, a sophomore from Marshfield, Wis., is Cieslak's first substitute and he promises to be an excellent one. Still another possibility is Jim White, a sophomore from Calumet High School, Chicago. White is listed as a center, the position he tried out for last spring, but he knows his way around as a tackle and, because of the large number of pivot men available, may be shifted.

High class guards are numerous. Frank Fondraski, a letterman, is the leading candidate for left guard and he has two good supernumeraries in Bruno Mas, a Hamtramck High School product, and Ray Mieras, who comes from Grand Rapids, both of these men being sophomores. At right guard, Schroeter, a two-time letter winner, and Shada, who won the award last season are in school. Both will see plenty of service, too. Experience has proved that Kondraski and Shada work best together and they may be the starting guards with Mas or Mieras and Schroeter as alternates. Under the Dorais system, no capable guard need fear that he will lack work.

There are seven candidates for center five of them sophomores. Harold Cooper, playing his third year on the squad with one letter to his credit, is first choice. Bernard Greskowiak was on the squad last season and made a good showing in the few times he was given a chance to perform. White looks like the best of the sophomore pivots, but he may be shifted to tackle, as already stated. The others have not had much of a chance to prove what they can do.

The quarterback position is wide open, in spite of the fact that John Ivory has been on the squad two years. Ivory has understudied Jones capably, but has had comparatively little experience. His greatest handicap is his short stature, 5 feet 6 inches, which prevents his being as valuable in pass defense as would be a taller man. One of the weaknesses of the Titans last fall was that they had so many short men in the backfield that opponents were completing passes over their heads.

Robert Filiatrault, who hails from Cleveland Heights, looks like the best bet for the signal-calling job. Bob is an exceptionally brilliant student, with an all "A" average and Dorais has great hopes that he will develop into a fine tactician. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 165 pounds, bigger than any recent Titan quarterback. He is a fair passer now and promises to become an excellent one. Oliveto, who played quarterback a little last season, is also available, but the chances are that he will be shifted to half. Seymour Murphy, a Saginaw boy, has some merit, but is almost too small and light for the job.

Jim Piper is the only letterman now listed as a left-halfback. The only other candidate shown on the roster is Edward Palumbo, a sophomore from Cleveland Heights. Piper is fast and shifty and a fair passer, but he is by no means the well-rounded player that Dorais seeks for this important job. "Gus" has hopes that Jim will develop very fast this season. Failing that, he will have to make some shifts to find a left-half, unless Palumbo comes through in his first year on the squad. It is possible that Andy Farkas, regular right-half last season, may be moved to left-half. He isn't much of a passer, but he can step very fast and he is one of those loose-hipped fellows that are hard to stop. Charlie Payne, fullback for the last few years also may be moved to left-half. He is probably the best passer on the squad right now and one of the fastest men, though he weighs over 185 pounds.

Farkas and Hayes are lettermen on the squad. Robert Holmstrom, from Calumet in the Copper Country, is a very promising halfback, through more of the fullback type by nature. He weighs 190 pounds and is a fine competitor. Ripley, who was injured all last season, and Speer and Wahle, sophomores, are other possibilities.

Dorais has an embarrassment of riches at fullback. Both Payne and Wiczorek have won letters in that position for the last two years. Both are fair punters and Payne is a real triple-threat because of his passing ability. Raymond Skorupski, who learned his football at Hamtramck High School, is another candidate for full-back if he can pass a make-up examination now in the offering. He is one of the best punters the team has had in years, and Dorais would like to find a place for him in order to make use of this talent. He may even shift him to some other position to get him into the lineup, so dire is his need of a top notch kicker.

The coaching staff remains the same as last year, with Dorais in charge. Boeringer as line coach, Lloyd Brazil as backfield coach, and the veteran and highly-beloved "Dad" Butler as trainer. The schedule comprises 10 games, six at home and four abroad, all except the opener being formidable opponents. New-comers on the list are Auburn Xaxier, Manhattan, Creighton and North Dakota University.

Lawrence Tech Offers Industrial Scholarships

Due to the tremendous popularity last year of the industrial executive courses offered tuition free by the Lawrence Institute of Technology to Detroit industrial workers, facilities have been increased permitting the college to accept more students. Last September, 100 new men were accepted. The 1936 class will be limited to two hundred freshmen.

The industrial executive school is sponsored by the Institute as an industrial service. Tuition is free. Students are selected from the employees of various Detroit firms by their respective personnel directors. Men so selected are given scholarships good for the three-year courses. Men desirous of securing such scholarships must apply directly to the personnel departments of their companies.

Courses offered include English Grammar I and II, Composition I and II, Public Speaking I and II, Algebra I, II and III, Plane Geometry I and II, Solid Geometry, Drawing I and II, Economics I, II, III, IV, V and VI, Physics I and II, and Chemistry I and II.

Completion of the entire course entitles the graduate to a Certificate of Graduation from the Industrial Executive School of Lawrence Institute.

The late Dean Russell E. Lawrence instituted and designed this school to aid junior and senior executives in industry who because of insufficient theoretical training found themselves hampered in industrial progress. The subjects offered are those which tend to equip the student with a broader view of the basic sciences of engineering. The classes are in session at a time which is convenient for the majority, that is, from 6:30 to 10 p. m. each Tuesday and Thursday for 32 weeks.

Registration for these courses will begin September 15. The offices will remain open from 7 to 9 p. m. Monday to Friday inclusive for interviews. The officers of the Industrial Executive School are: Albert M. Wagener, director; J. P. Judd, assistant director; and Edwin O. Graeffe, advisor.

State to Enforce Traffic Signs Along Highways

The State this week moved to put teeth into its traffic signs along the trunkline highways.

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner and Oscar G. Olander, commissioner of the Michigan State Police, announced the initiation of an effort to prosecute drivers who ignore trunkline warning signs.

The first test will be made along US-10 in Oakland County. Warning signs will be erected after which the state police will establish a traffic patrol to check violations. Offenders will be taken into the courts on misdemeanor charges with a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail or a $100 fine.

Olander and Van Wagoner said two types of motorists will be given particular attention—those that drive on the left side of the center line of the highway and those that hold up traffic by keeping to the inside lane of a three or four-lane highway while not passing other automobiles. Signs will employ the use of the word, "Unlawful."

Other phases of the enforcement move in Oakland County will be the erection of a new actuated-control signal light at the intersection of US-10 and M-15 and special centerline markings along US-10. A special bituminous centerline strip twelve inches wide and raised three inches will be used to keep motorists on the proper side of the highway. On each side will be double yellow markings to create an optical illusion that the bituminous strip is much higher. Van Wagoner said the three-inch raise would not be sufficient to cause a hazard.

The state's new safety drive follows an investigation by the state highway planning survey of traffic conditions along US-10. It showed that only 55 per cent of motorists drive in the proper lane, that more than 30 per cent of the drive on the wrong side of the center line, that 5 per cent of the accidents were caused by left-hand turns from the wrong lane, and that 3 per cent of them were caused by passing an automobile on the wrong side. Oakland officials, who asked for the investigation, were alarmed over the great number of head-on collisions along the route.

Neighborhood Club Enrollment for Girls Classes Sept. 22nd

Below is a schedule of girls' classes for the coming season, and all girls interested MUST report on the 22nd at 4 p. m. if they are interested in enrolling for any of the classes this year.

RECREATION CLASSES

Directed by Miss Pauline Masak
Tuesday, 4-5:30 (Gymnasium)—Intermediate N. G. A. A., 10-12 years. Gymnastic exercises. Apparatus work. Games—dodge ball, Newcombe, relays, etc. Folk dancing, track preparation.

Wednesday, 4-5:30 (Gymnasium)—Senior N. G. A. A., 13-16 years. Gymnastic exercises. Apparatus work. Games—dodge ball, Newcombe, relays, etc. Folk dancing, track preparation, specializing work in basketball and baseball.

Thursday, 4-5:30 (Scout Room)—Junior N. G. A. A., 6-9 years. Tap dancing, singing, games, folk dancing.

Friday, 4-6 (Kitchen)—Cooking class, all ages. Because of limited space, different groups will be chosen each week.

Friday, 7-9 (Assembly Room)—Junior dramatics, all ages. Plays, entertainment by singing, piano, other musical instruments; moving pictures, amateur contests.

Saturday, 10-12 (Scout Room)—Girl Guards, 10 and over. Work for awards in cooking, sewing, athletics, swimming, hiking, etc. Have parties. Perform necessary duties when called upon by Neighborhood Club.

Wednesday, 7-9 (Handcraft Room)—Metalcraft, 13-16 years. Book-ends, door stops, pins, pictures, etc.

Camp Fire Girls Activities

The Detroit Council of Camp Fire Girls will offer a course in group leadership this fall open to any one interested in the subject.

Child Psychology, several hand craft projects, nature, record keeping, folk songs, and dances will be among the activities of the course. One of the highlights of the twelve weeks' program will be a week-end at Camp Wathana, the official camp of the Detroit Council of Camp Fire Girls, at Rose Center, Michigan, about forty-five miles northwest of Detroit. Members of the class will be given a chance to study nature lore and camp craft as well as to try out camp cookery.

Both evening and afternoon classes will be held at the Camp Fire office, room 206, 51 West Warren avenue. The Monday evening course will begin on Monday, September 28 and meet from 7 to 9 p. m. The morning course will meet for the first time Thursday, October 1, from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. Both courses will continue for twelve weeks, and a fee of $1.00 will be charged to cover the cost of a manual and handcraft supplies.

Miss Catherine F. Stearns, local executive will conduct the training course assisted by Miss Mary Casey and Miss Theodora Wiley, field secretaries.

HOW THE BANKS AID THE GOVERNMENT

Normal and Emergency Needs Met by Advances of Commercial Banking Credit

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. — The American commercial banking credit system is an absolute, essential in the financial operations of business and government, Harold G. Moulton, President of the Brookings Institution of Washington, D. C., said here recently in an address before the Graduate School of Banking conducted under the joint auspices of Rutgers University and the American Bankers Association.

If the flexibility and expansibility provided by commercial banking credit were eliminated, Dr. Moulton declared, "It is scarcely too much to say that the economic system itself would shortly be destroyed."

"Normally the amount of credit extended by commercial banks to the government is small in amount and for the purpose mainly of financing temporary requirements in anticipation of tax collections or bond sales. But in periods of war and acute depression, when the financial requirements of government expand with great rapidity, the expansion of commercial bank credit is on a tremendous scale. Such is the case at the present time.

How Public Needs Are Financed
"The purchase of government securities by individuals and by the commercial banks provides the government with the means by which its manifold activities are financed. The Treasury obtains the funds, with which the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other government credit agencies finance their operations, through the sale of securities, largely to commercial banks. These funds, in turn, have gone to the assistance of distressed banks and other financial institutions, to aid industrial and agricultural enterprises, to finance new public and private capital construction, and to provide relief to the unemployed."

Dr. Moulton declared that it is not true that the world depression was caused by a breakdown of the American banking system "which did not, in fact, occur until the depression had been under way for more than three years."

He added:
"Nor is it true that the world maladjustments existing in 1929 can be explained simply by undue extensions of commercial banking credit in the preceding years. These maladjustments involved world agricultural, industrial, commercial and financial relations."

FARM ACCOUNTING REVEALS LESSONS

Principles of Sound Business Management That Apply to All Farms

An analysis made of detailed records kept by a group of Wisconsin farms revealed several important lessons and the principles of sound business management derived from them apply equally well to other farms, says an article in the Bulletin of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association. The article says:
"Investment costs, including interest, depreciation, repairs, taxes and insurance, are approximately two-thirds of all farm costs. Furthermore, these costs are largely independent of the production program of the farm."
"This means that if a farmer cuts his production of crops or livestock, he increases his investment costs per unit of product produced, as a smaller number of units must then carry as large an expense load as before. This illustrates the importance, from the standpoint of costs, of operating a farm at or near capacity."
"Investment mistakes are more costly than many others because they cannot easily be corrected. If a farmer pays too much for his farm, his investment costs will be abnormally high as long as he owns it. If he constructs a $4,000 barn, when a $2,000 barn would have served his purpose, he will have excessive barn costs, year after year, during the entire service life of the structure."
"This emphasizes the importance of a knowledge of investment values and the specific investment requirements of individual farms."
Determining Real or False Economies
"In working for greater economy, it is essential that the farm manager be able to distinguish between a real and a false saving. This can be done only through a careful estimate of the contribution to income, over a period of time, of each item of expenditure. Only if more is saved in expense than will be lost in income, can a contemplated out in expense be designated as a real saving."
"For example, dropping dairy herd improvement work may result in a yearly expense reduction. The question to decide is what effect the dropping of this work will have on the present and future income from the dairy herd. If the estimated loss in livestock receipts due to a lowered efficiency in feeding and breeding is greater than the original saving, then it would obviously be a false economy."
"Substantial savings can be effected on many farms through the use of more home grown garden produce and farm sired meats. Why pay out money for products of this kind that can be produced much cheaper at home? The money saved from the family food budget can be used for the purchase of many things that will make the farm home a more comfortable and pleasant place to live."

Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church

The Rev. Wayland Zwayer, minister, preaches at the Jefferson Avenue Baptist morning worship this Sunday at 11 o'clock on "Know Your God."

"Youth in Action" will be the theme of the evening hour of worship Sunday night at 8 o'clock, a service in which leading young people will participate.

The fifteenth Rally Day of the Jefferson Avenue Church School will be celebrated this Sunday at 9:45 a. m. with a special program in which all departments will unite in the church auditorium. Graduation exercises will be included for the 307 pupils who after three years in their respective departments are being advanced. General Superintendent Kessel D. Green has invited to this anniversary occasion all former general superintendents of the church school who will have a part in the program. These superintendents in the order of their service are: Walter Matthews, John Glading, George DeVoss, Mrs. W. J. Hood, Stephen Follin, and Thomas Barlow.

Public Letter B-O-X

Dear Mr. Editor: Last week's edition of The Grosse Pointe Review carried an interesting letter to do with the transfer of teachers from the Defer School, signed by Mrs. Jennie M. Dale of 1034 Wayburn avenue. As an interested parent and one who has carried a legitimate interest in all the practices of our school administration, I feel very much grieved to note the lack of dignified co-operation given our school administration by some of our parents. I have had occasion to discuss matters of personal significance to do with my own children with Dr. Brownell and his staff and I have invariably discovered that we have here in Grosse Pointe a superintendent who is not only co-operative and sympathetic and understanding, but one who through the sheer wealth of his experience knows what is best for each situation which needs clarification. During the year which has just passed many schools throughout the country were visited by him personally in the hope that he might bring forth something of hidden worth for our children. His is a true and alive interest and more than that he is faithful to this community.

Why then is it not fair for our parents to appreciate and understand the circumstances which prompted the exchange of teachers in the system, whether it be from Defer to Trombley, or from Trombley to Kerby?
Let us gird ourselves with respect for those we have trusted to run our schools and not question the why or wherefore of what they are doing without personally being very sure of the reason for adjustments.
Newspaper publicity is a wonderful agent properly administered, but we have parent-teacher associations and the place for such questions as Mrs. Dale's should be happily and straightforwardly discussed at their meetings. Thankfully yours,

Eating One's Way Around the World and No Fares to Pay

It's easy to eat one's way around the world at the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland for in the Streets of the World there are 35 nationalities represented, each serving favorite old world dishes. Thomas Fortunato, epicure, started out to perform the feat and ran the gauntlet from German sauerbraten to spaghetti, but his last meal saw him seated before a table laden with good old American ham and eggs with coffee.

MEALS FOR A MAN

(Nutrition Department, Detroit Dairy and Food Council)

To a man, dinner without meat is a meal scarcely worth mentioning, as many young brides are discovering rapidly in these first weeks of house-keeping. And by meat, their lords and masters mean steaks, chops and good substantial roasts, and the bride who would win her way straight into her husband's heart learns rapidly to do a good job of meat cookery.

Broiled, juicy steaks probably take first place in the affections of most men, but they must be perfectly cooked to merit their praise. This means, a hot broiler oven before the steak is placed on the grate, and broiling hot temperature throughout. Leave the steak in until one side is seared, slide out the broiler pan, season the steak liberally, turn and sear the other side well. Remove from oven, season the upturned side, add a bit of butter and serve immediately on a hot platter. The inside of the meat—and it should be a nice thick steak for broiling, anywhere from an inch to 2 inches thick—will be a nice, healthy pink, not dry and brown. Sirloins, T-bones, and tenderloin are the broiling steaks.

As far as anyone has ever been able to discover, there is no way of broiling steaks so that the kitchen doesn't get somewhat smoky, but if the oven is hot to begin with, and the oven door opened only as possible during the broiling, less smoke will be liberated. But the delicious tasting, tender, healthful meat which results is worth a bit of blue smoke.

Chops—pork, lamb and veal—vary the menu with decidedly pleasing results, particularly if they are cooked in milk. Now this doesn't mean creamed meat at all. They look the same as a fried or broiled chop, but are more tender, more delightful in flavor and more healthful. In an iron frying pan brown the chops well on both sides. Season, almost cover with milk and bake in a moderate oven until the milk has all cooked into the chops. Baked potatoes are a good accompaniment to these chops. For a cool day in fall, try one of these menus on your husband, and see how easily and quickly prepared it is, and what compliments you get because of it.

Destroyed Indian Population
 The prehistoric Indian population of northern Arizona was destroyed by "tenement" conditions nearly 1,000 years ago. Tracing the habits of the Indian population, an authority said that from the time they moved from single-family pit houses to multi-family apartment houses, or pueblos, similar to modern tenements, the population of these tribes dropped from 23,000 to 2,000.

The Soo Locks
 The Soo Locks are one of the world's greatest engineering feats, locks that literally lift up a lake 20 feet. Through these locks pass more tonnage than through any other canal in the world, including the Panama. Practically all the wheat and iron ore from our great West passes through them on their way to smelters and seaports and all the coal from eastern fields must go through the Soo on its westward passage.

Early Postage Rates
 As late as the '40s postage on a letter delivered was 12 1/2 cents. It was not until 1850 that postage was reduced to 5 cents, then to 3 cents, and then to 2 cents, and letters and packages were gauged by weight. About this time the use of envelopes became legal, the practice previously being to fold the stationery.

Island 80 Per Cent Coal
 Nishimoto Islands, in the Loo-hoos, has been found to be nearly 80 per cent coal.

Carp Numerous
 Carp in the United States has multiplied enormously, particularly in some of the lakes and rivers of the central states, where it frequently attains a weight of 15 to 30 pounds. It is so abundant in many places as to be regarded a nuisance, but it furnishes a supply of cheap food. Its yearly consumption is more than 20,000,000 pounds.

Naming Michigan
 Michigan's first families gave the state its name, according to the Ottawa Indians of the region, and at the same time expressed their high regard for the state as a garden spot. Mish-e-gon-ing, the Ottawa word for "place of clearings in the forests for gardens," is the word from whence Michigan got its name, they say. Contracted to Mish-a-gon it means simply clearing or garden. The Indians have used this region for their farms since prehistoric times, many of them wintering in the Kankakee river valley in Illinois.

Course of Lightning
 The main flash of lightning does not travel from a cloud to the earth, but in the opposite direction. The main flash is always preceded by a "leader", which acts as a sort of pathfinder or trail blazer. The "pathfinder" travels from the cloud to the earth, while the main flash starts upward from the earth at the point struck by the "leader". It follows exactly the same path back to the cloud. The length of the lightning bolt has been found to vary from 1.5 to 4.7 miles.

Life of Buildings
 The single-family dwelling has an expected useful life of approximately 50 years. The skyscraper of steel frame and fire-resistant construction has an expected usefulness of only 40 years, and office buildings of ordinary construction are generally outmoded at 30 years.

Saltiness of the Seas
 The Dead sea leads easily in saltiness with 25 per cent as its salt content. Next come the Adriatic sea, with a 4.06 per cent; the Red sea, with 3.98 per cent; the Mediterranean, with 3.64 per cent; the Atlantic Ocean, with 3.56 per cent and the Black sea, with 1.75 per cent.

Use for Earth's Hot Water
 The earth's hot water has its uses. In New Zealand housewives utilize hot springs for cooking. And in Japan, near the summit of a snow-crowned peak, rises a hot spring in which Japanese bathers are to be found all seasons of the year.

Highest Peaks
 United States' highest peaks include Mount Mitchell, Yancey county, North Carolina, 6,684 feet; Mount Whitney, Inyo and Tulare counties, California, 14,496 feet. Mount McKinley in Alaska is 20,300 feet.
