Chrysanthemum Show Will Introduce Many New Varieties

Flower lovers are keenly looking forward to the annual chrysanthemum show of the Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society to be staged at the Neighborhood Club, 17145 Waterloo, at St. Clair, Grosse Pointe, on Saturday and Sunday, November 14

The show schedule has just been published, and covers in addition to many classes in artistic arrangement, fifty classes in cut and potted chrysan-

Outstanding will be a display staged by Vincent R. DePetris, well known florist and hybridist, which will include many of his recent introductions, and several outstanding named varieties which will be released next year.

Included in the 1937 novelties will be "Arcadia," a White pom-pon; "Indian Chief," a pleasing bronze-commercial, and "Virginal," a medium cream-white anemone type.

Committee Chairmen for G. P. High School Activities Selected

Leaders of various committees for senior classes of Grosse Pointe High School projects were recently announced by Miss Loraine Magaw, 12A sponsor.

The business committee consist of the announcement committee with Loraine Haskin as chairman, and the photograph committee with Marcia Miller as chairman, and the caps and gowns committee with Evelyn Acou as chairman. The pleasure committees consist of two groups, the winter picnic committee with Donald Van Hoek looking after the transpartation and Victor Williams looking after arrangements, and the second committee for pleasure is the senior prom committee with Walter Miller looking after the printing of invitations, Norma Todd the distributions of the invitations, and Max Hill, Helen Pean, Howard Bacon, and Mary Trinkle will all take part in the arrangements.

Record Vote Cast In Grosse Pointe Tuesday November 3

Grosse Pointe smashed all previous records in turning out to the polls on Tuesday in support of their favorite candidates, voting Republican about two to one. About 10,000 citizens cast their ballot in the Grosse Pointe area.

This was the biggest Democratic landslide in the history of the United States, in fact the majority was so overwheming that the predictions compiled from a straw vote by a national publication which in prior years had reflected the sentiment of the voters with a great degree of accuracy, were completely upset.

Louis C. Rabaut was re-elected Congressman from the 14th

Considering the fact that the City of Grosse Pointe had only one polling booth with a capacity of 40 there was little delay i getting the 2,400 voters through, and the officials of both the Town ship and the City of Grosse Pointe deserve commendation for the splendid manner in which they handled the large numbers at the

Atwood Asks Safe

A novel note of caution to drivers of cars bound to and from football games, is sounded by Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State and Chairman of the Michigan State Safety Council. Statistics on mass movement of automobiles, and their relation to safety on streets and highways, reveal normal expectations of deaths and injuries from careless drivers in heavy football traffic. Of the approximately 39,000 people attending a game at Ann Arbor, riding there four in a car, an average of 100. miles, one person may be killed, Atwood points out, his observation being based on experience tables of the nation's Safety Council. For every fatality, approximately 35 non-fatal, accidents occur, and from these two causes, every fatality is estimated to cause the community affect

But all other income groups have fallen down rather badly. Anyone who knows Detroit and its citizens knows that there are literally thousands of individuals to contribute $100 or more to the 77 charities in the Fund. It is a question of their willingness to do so, and that s probably a matter of education.

This year we have set our goal at $2,250,000; this sum must be raised. It is to this great group—the corpormen of Detroit-who can, if they will, give $100 or more, that we must look.

Hunters Asked to Spare the Signs

"Oh, hunter, spare that sign," was the theme of an appeal this week from State Highway Commissioner Murray D Van Wagoner. The commissioner received reports from all over the state of hunters using righway signs for practice targets. The more-expensive reflectorized signs apparently are favored as targets, the commissioner was informed. I am appealing to the hunter to pick out some other, less-expensive target if they must get in some practice shooting, Commissioner Van Wagoner said. The habit of shooting at our sign. is not only expensive to the state but is also very dangerous from a public safety viewpoint. Most of our signs are warning message. I realize that the hunters who have been making targets out of our signs have no malicious intent but we would appreciate it if they were a little more thoughtful.

Turn-out construction will not be included, however, on roads built prior to this year's Federal Aid program, the commissioner said. The obvious reason is that we do not have the money to do this. We are permitted to build the turn-outs on new construction because the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads has consented to the move.

Donkeys Seldom Shy It is explained that the reason horses shy at unexpected sounds or at sight of strange objects while their relative, the donkey, doesn't is chiefly hereditary, says Pathfinder Magazine. Horses are descended from ancestors that roamed the plains where clumps of grass or bushes perhaps concealed danger. On the other hand, donkeys are descendants of hill animals to whom surefootedness and slowness were a necessity in traveling steep paths and precipices. Wove and Laid Paper

The difference between wove and laid paper is due to a screen in the paper making machine which leaves its impression in the finished product. The texture of wove paper is even and when held to the light the effect is uniform except, perliaps, for tiny dots which transmit the light a little more readily. Nearly all of the paper in use, including this newspaper, is When laid paper is held before a light the effect is quite different, for there are found a series of perhaps, as 16 to the inch. This variety is sometimes used for books or paniphlets and often for writing paper.

Millions of Amoebas

There are thousands and thousands of amoebas in every stagnant pool, some of them millions of years oldolder than the very lakes in which they live. If a single one of them could tell what had happened since he was "born" he might tell of a time, thousands of years ago, when the earth was covered with ice, or when there were only monster fish and no men.

Torpedoes Under Water

A submarine is armed with torpedoes which can be fired while submerged, aim being takes by means of a periscope, which alone is visible to the surface craft being attacked. When a torpedo is fired from a submarine, the outer door of the torpedo tube opens and water pours in up to the inside door of the tube. In order to reload the tube the outer door is closed, the inner door opened and the water in the tube rushes into the bilges of the submarine and is pumped out.

Sleep Called Drug

"Sleep," said John Wesley, who could do with very little, "is a drug." Napoleon, Edison, Dumas, and other famous men, concurred. What they meant was that sleep is measured by quality, not by quantity. They them-selves had the facility of sleeping in "waves"-ten-minute naps that were as beneficial to them as an hour or two to other people.

Courage

VERYONE is agreed that courage is a quality which tial to his well-being. The term 'coward" is considered everywhere to be an opprobrious one, and few are anxious to be considered lacking in bravery. Yet even the bravest men will admit that there have been occasions when courage has wellnigh deserted them.

Christian Science teaches that courage is an essential of Christian warfare; but it also teaches men to place their reliance on something deeper than mere personal bravery since it is recognized that this can fail when it is most needed. It also draws a clear distinction between mere animal courage and the moral courage which brings peace and calm to the most disturbed situation. It is a custom, among those about to engage in human warfare, to have recourse to intoxicants in order to stimulate themselves to face its horrors. Criminals culivate in like manner a spurious courage for their unlawful actions, thereby frequently reducing themselves to a pitiable state, mentally and physically. The courage thus induced is, of course, ephemeral, and leads to the commis-sion of crimes, terrible in their effects on humanity.

Such courage has no connection with true Christian courage. Mary Baker Eddy puts the matter clearly when she says (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, pp. 28 29): "There is too much animal courage in society and not sufficient moral courage. Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad. They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course. If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoiding.

Some people may think that the substituting of moral courage for animal courage is very easy. They may think that it is easier to be morally courageous than physically so. Yet if they will consider the facts of history they will find that much of the suffering and human warfare of the ages has been brought about because men have not had the moral courage to defend their inmost convictions as to right and wrong. Nations have been forced into wars to defend their national courage and honor before the world, when moral courage would have shown a far more satisfactory way of meeting the situation.

In the contest between David and Goliath, the giant Philistine showed animal courage, while the courage of David, though expressed in physical courage of the highest kind, found its basis in the understanding whereby he denied the dictatorship of the human mind. "Then said David to the Philistine, Thou comest to me with a sword, and with a spear, and with a shield: but I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom thou hast defied." (I Samuel 17:45). Armed with this moral courage, this reliance on the power of God, good, David was able destroy the domination of the Philistine army by slaying their champion by means of his shepherd's sling and Goliath's own sword.

... The writer of the book of Proverbs saw something of this need of developing right qualities of thought when he said (14:1), "Every wise woman buildeth her house: but the foolish plucketh it down with her Courage, then, in the true sense of the word, consists in learning to do right, to love good, and then to take one's stand for the right and good and true, even in the face of persecution and hatred. . . .

Our great Master knew this when disciples, about to face the opposition of the heathen world in all its so-called power and splendor (Luke 12:32), "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom."—The Christian Science Monitor.

Religious education is being badly neglected in the American home today. Are you neglecting to give your children that which you were given, namely, Bible instruction? Our Sunday School offers instruction for the beginner, primary, junior, intermediate, young people and adult classes. The Inter-national lesson is taught by competent and consecrated teachers. The Ten Commandments are stressed.

If you and your family have no church home in Grosse Pointe, make ours your church home. The public is cordially invited.

FIRST AID FOR THE BUDGET

Along about the last of the month the budget may occasionally have reached almost Mother Hubbard proportions. This is the tie that the skill of the young cook, for it is up to her to supply meals that are adequate nutritionally, attractive and delicious to eat. Maybe it sounds a little like magic if she can do it- but she can, if she plans wisely and takes advantages of many of the little tricks that experienced cooks have tucked away for their lown use.

The less expensive of the vegetables, fruits and meats all help turn the trick. Milk, however is the chief friend-inneed, since it supplies so inexpensively and in large quantity the materials, vitamins and proteins that are needed by everyone. Milk dishes and milk to drink all help out downfood costs at the same time that they do a good job of nourishing and pleasing the family.

The following menus are planned to supply the foods needed by the family -and please their palates at the same

Experiments Produce Large Crystals for Optical Work

After much patient watching over a laboratory electric furnace, Dr. Katherine Chamberlain, of the Wayne University physics department, has produced single crystals of potassium bramide weighing as much as four pounds. The crystals, important in optical work, are rare and expensive. Although they have been "grown" in the laboratory before, Dr. Chamberlain's technique is notable for its shortening the time for producing crystals, and for its reducing the percentage of failures.

During the past two years, Dr. Chambelain has designed and assembled three furnaces in her effort to construct one which would have accurate temperature control and which could stand high temperatures for long periods. Refusing to accept the opinion of other scientists that no larger crystals than those just produced can be "grown", Dr. Chamberlain is planning to attempt the cultivation of still larger ones for prisms of exceptional size.

Christian Science Churches

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 8.

Embalming

One couldn't be buried alive today. In life the arteries are full, while after death they are empty. When embalming a body it is necessary to open an artery to inject the embalming fluid, and if death had not occurred, blood circulation would start on the opening of the artery and life would be re-
