Goodfellows To Sell Papers on Grosse Pointe Streets Next Thursday

Paper Mister, Paper Mister? That will be the familiar cry you will hear next Thursday morning as the Grosse Pointe Lions Club, 60 strong and ably assisted by the police and firemen of the Grosse Pointe municipalities sell papers in Grosse Pointe.

Each year since its organization in 1929, at approximately this time of the year the Grosse Pointe Lions Club has, through its members and the co-operation of the police and fire department personnel, staged a paper sale.

Times in the past you have been solicited to contribute, and you have responded each time to the total aggregate of approximately $3,000 each year, and this year above all, when the purposes which these contributions serve, will be in greater number than before, the Grosse Pointe Lions Club asks you to be more liberal than ever before in your contribution.

We ask you to bear in mind that every penny contributed by you to this Goodfellow Fund is used for charitable purposes for the quick relief of distress, and that nothing is used for overhead or incidental expenses to distribution, investigation, etc. All these items are absorbed by the members of the Grosse Pointe Lions Club by contributions of their time and effort.

The Neighborhood Club as a center of distribution is supplemented by a member of the Lions Club resident in the Village of Grosse Pointe Park, City of Grosse Pointe, Grosse Pointe Farms, Lochmoor and Grosse Pointe Shores who will see that any case of emergency will be afforded immediate relief.

The Grosse Pointe Neighborhood Club disburses the funds to aid the needy as the emergency arises. The Grosse Pointe Lions urged that you aid them in this noble enterprise by buying a Goodfellow Paper. It may mean a bottle of milk for some needy child, or shoes for some destitute family, or glasses for some child whose parents may be poverty-stricken.

There are many such cases in Grosse Pointe during the year, and we as good citizens should do our bit to aid these unfortunate individuals who require this assistance.

Every man and woman should freely give on this occasion with the feeling that it will aid some fellowman, so let us watch for the Goodfellow newsboys next Thursday morning and offer our contribution with a smile. You will find them on all main thoroughfares of Grosse Pointe.

State's Electors to Meet Earlier

Attention is called by Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State, to the fact that, in conformity with the so-called Norris "lame-duck" amendment to the federal constitution, presidential electors of this state will meet at the state capitol on December 14 this year to formally cast their ballots for President and Vice President of the United States.

The amendment which provides that the President shall take his oath of office January 20, instead of March 4, also sets up changes in formal election machinery to conform with this change.

The federal enactment resulting from the constitutional amendment provides that presidential electors shall meet on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December. The 1937 legislature will be asked to amend the state's election laws so as to conform with the federal constitution and resulting Congressional enactments.

troit YMCA, will be paid by a large group of civic business and industrial leaders in a recognition dinner to the veteran 'Y' executive at the Statler Hotel on the evening of Friday, Dec. 18.

Among the nearly 1,000 business and professional men of Detroit who are expected to attend the dinner, there will be a large representation from this community, many of whom are laymen actively identified with the Hannan Branch of the YMCA. Heading the delegation from this community will be the 'Y' committee of management, composed of Charles Clark, A. J. Brodie, M. S. Carleton, Hugh McLeese, D. J. Martin, C. S. Slack, Eugene White, M. A. Clark, John Raisbeck, Fred Thistlethwaite and Fred Castor.

Nearly all of the men and women who have already made reservations for the dinner are leaders of Detroit who have for many years been personally affiliated with Dr. Studer in community work. The group of men voluntarily serving as members of the Sponsoring Committee reflect the cosmopolitan assemblage that will gather at the banquet. Chairman of the Sponsoring Committee is H. T. Keller, president of the Chrysler Corporation. Members of his committee are Judge John V. Brennan, Howard C. Baldwin, Charles E. Boyd, Msgr. John M. Doyle, Henry T. Ewald, Rabbi Leo M. Franklin, Judge Henry S. Hulbert, Abner Larned, Aivan Macaulay, Col. Heinrich A. Pickert, Ralf C. McAfee, Dr. H. W. Plaggemeyer, Rev. Joseph A. Vance, Richard H. Webber, Fred Wardell and Judge Clyde I. Webster.

The dinner will have the aspects of being a tribute from the city as a whole to a community leader, rather than as a banquet to Dr. Studer as an outstanding YMCA leader. Dr. Studer's activities in Detroit have not been confined to the YMCA, as for nearly a half century he has been identified with every worthwhile enterprise in the city. He was one of the outstanding leaders in the famous Liberty Bond organization during the War days, has always played a prominent part in every Community Fund campaign and all other efforts of benefit to the city as a whole he has been in the forefront.

The fact that Dr. Studer carried to completion a heavy building campaign during the early days of the depression and that the YMCA in Detroit has the distinction of being the only large 'Y' group in the country free of indebtedness, reflects the business acumen of the man.

His service of 47 years, 45 of which has been in Detroit, is the longest record of any YMCA secretary in the United States. Such a service is memorable in the history of any institution social or commercial, and it is for this reason that the civic leaders of Detroit met and determined upon a city-wide tribute to the 'Y' General Secretary.

Atlantic Coast to the Pacific and extending into three foreign countries. Meetings are held frequently by various clubs. In 1921 Prof. John D. McKee, Wooster's business manager, then Wooster's alumni secretary, inaugurated the program which since has come to be known as "Wooster Day."

The date, December 11, marks three events in the history of Wooster. The Frick Memorial Library, which now contains 80,000 volumes, was dedicated on that date in 1900. Fire destroyed "Old Main" frequently called the "Bitters Bottle," a six-story building used for classrooms, administrative offices and laboratories December 11, 1901.

Just one year after the fire, four new buildings; Kauko, Taylor, Scovel, and Severance Halls and the power plant, built to replace the loss by fire, were dedicated. These buildings now form the center of the group of 17 buildings on the main campus of Wooster.

Festival of Gifts to Be Held Sunday at Christ Church Cranbrook

The Festival of Gifts held this year on Sunday afternoon, December 13, at 4 o'clock, has become traditional in Christ Church Cranbrook. Following prayers, the Christmas story and Christmas litany, the church lights are dimmed almost to extinction. While the choir sings "Silent Night" unaccompanied, the shepherds silhouetted against the beautiful frescoe in the sanctuary of the church move across the chancel, down the nave to the narthex and up the north aisle to St. Paul's chapel.

In this chapel is set up a stable. About the manger in this place, Mary, the Virgin, and Joseph gaze adoringly upon the Christ Child. The shepherds join them in adoration. Following the star, the wise men with their slaves bearing gifts of gold, incense and myrrh take the same path as did the shepherds to the stable when they present their gifts and become a part of the group about the holy family.

Then the angelus is rung on the bells of the carillon. After this the choir carrying old fashioned lanterns marches singing Christmas carols along the same path followed by the shepherds and the wise men to the place where all the characters are assembled.

Finally the entire congregation joins in the procession. On this occasion every one is asked to bring gifts of toys, clothing, food or money. Bearing these gifts, young and old alike slowly move toward the manger where they place their gifts and gaze a few minutes upon the characters grouped about the Christ Child in the stable. The people then return to their places in the pews.

All the gifts left before the manger are afterwards distributed to some 75 needy families. As a climax to this service the Gloria in excelsis is sung and at the end the choir files silently out. Before and after the service the bellmaster plays on the carillon Christmas hymns and carols.

At the eleven o'clock service next Sunday morning, December 13, the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach will preach on the topic "Say 'We'."

Post Office Clerks Cut P. O. Costs

The efficiency of post office clerks has risen 259 per cent since 1908. The National Council of Business Mail Users, inspired by the desire to analyze the exact relation of the postal personnel to the Post Office Department's cost of doing business is authority for that statement. Its findings being illustrated by three graphs.

The council employed official statistics of the government, (a) the Bureau of Labor statistics of the Department of Labor and (b) the annual reports of the several Postmasters General, and the standard formula commonly used in business, embracing three major factors, with the following results: Unit of output per employee.

Graph A: (By periods) In 28 years from 1908 to 1936, the output per post office employee has increased more than two and one-half times or 259 per cent; employee has increased 100 per cent.

Graph B: (In relation to number of employees) In 28 years, from 1908 to 1936, while numbers of employees have increased a little more than one-half of 52 per cent, the unit of output per employee has increased one and one-half times, or 149.4 per cent.

Graph C: (In relation to gain in revenues) In 28 years, from 1908 to 1936, the unit of output per employee has actually increased twice as fast as the revenues of the department, a 100 per cent gain as shown by the difference between the 259 per cent gain in unit output as compared with the 160 per cent gain in postal revenues.

period, there would have been 39.8 more employees in 1935 than in 1931, where actually—in 1934—there were 22,000 fewer employees serving in the postal service. "Certainly post office clerks have done their share to hold down operating costs of the Post Office department by increasing their output and their efficiency. The record of increase in unit of output speaks for itself, without adding any other praiseworthy factors."

Dale E. Fletcher, Adrian, and Paul Russell, Detroit, presidents respectively of Michigan and Detroit Federation of Post Office Clerks, join in this public statement:

"Michigan post office clerks are making their contribution to this impressive record. In the metropolis, 321 more regular post office clerks would have been required to keep the mails moving for the fiscal year 1936, had per capita production of postal receipts been limited to the 1933 level.

"During 1935 in Michigan, our 1,085 post offices produced a surplus of gross receipts totaling $10,838,549.42 over principal expenditures. This sum reverted to the Post Office Department in Washington for other purposes. Nationally, during the last three years, the Department has operated on a net self-sustaining basis.

"We are conscious of a deep-seated demand for reduced Federal expenditures. We are loath to believe, however, that post office patrons will insist on reduced postal expenditures in view of our splendid showing, but will approve, instead, the extension and improvement of existing post office facilities.

"In the distribution of the mails we render a highly technical and indispensable public service; we pay our way, and should be unhampered by restricted appropriations. We wish to speed the mails and national recovery."

Jobs of All Kinds Found by the NRS

The Detroit office of the National Reemployment Service during November found 308 more jobs in private industry than in the previous month for a record breaking total of 3,407. Major Howard Starret, State Reemployment Director, reported today.

Jobs increased during last month despite a two-day lull occasioned by Armistice Day and Thanksgiving. During October there were 3,099 private placements.

Counting jobs with Federal agencies, the Detroit office placed 2,823 Wayne County residents in jobs, Major Starret said.

This private placement record is one of the best in the country. Latest statistics released from Washington, D. C., show that the single Detroit office placed more people in private jobs than the combined total private placements of the National Reemployment Service divisions and the State Employment Services in any of the 35 States and the District of Columbia.

Only twelve states reported more private placements for their entire states, according to Major Starret, than this one office in Michigan.

On and Off the Records

(By LEE MONTGOMERY)

Even as Christmas time makes our hearts glad, it also intensifies sadness and grief which escapes no man and no family.

David J. Warren, who was about to take his place as court clerk to George E. Murphy, Circuit Court Commissioner, was the victim of a careless driver on the Dixie Highway. Dave was one of the finest friends a person could have. He was on the threshold of a legal career and had in a short span of life gained more friends than most enjoy in a many times longer life. Dave lived with a fine philosophy and one that brought joy to friends. He saw good in all things and all people. He helped others live, never hindered them. He understood that this life is imperfect at best.

There could be no elegy too fine for Dave. His life was more impressive to those that knew him than any words would be. He went as I would like to go, with a pure soul and a happy heart.

Many years ago in what is now the State of Georgia, the American Indian discovered a spring where the water flowed warm. The Red Man soon discovered that this water was remarkable in many ways. He discovered that it was soothing to war wounds and later that the water aided greatly in healing most afflictions. He named it the Land of the Healing Waters. All tribes made use of the spring. It was a neutral haven for all those injured in battle no matter what feather he bore or how heated the war. The place enjoyed inter-tribe sanctity.

Many years later a New York attorney rediscovered this territory. He discovered again those remarkable qualities this water possessed and the great aid that it offered the afflicted. He visioned a new future for Healing Waters. He introduced modern science to the remarkable gift of nature and today, President Franklin Roosevelt's Warm Springs Foundation offers hope, consolation and untold benefits to those afflicted with infantile paralysis.

It would be impossible to talk of Warm Springs in detail here, or even to cover a fraction of the detail by mere outline. The place is too far-reaching and remarkable. There are too many facts and impressions, there are too many intellectual, emotional and scientific phases to chronicle. Warm Springs is unique.

One fact that is not commonly known and should be, does not concern the place itself. It is that the money raised by the President's Ball annually does not go to Warm Springs. Most of it stays in the locality where it is raised and finds its way into coffers of local charities. Warm Springs is not endowed. Many men have aided the President in building this community, including Wayne County's Edsel Ford. He gave an indoor swimming pool, especially constructed. It is a beautiful monument to unselfish understanding.

Those interested in county government will be glad to hear that Ray Moredock has been appointed Chief Deputy to Harold E. Stoll, Register of Deeds. Roy has long been the chief inspector of all photostatic copies of the deeds. He has played a large part in making the Register of Deeds office a model in efficiency.

Charles Adams has been appointed office manager to succeed James Murphy who leaves his post to become chief of the accounting division in the Secretary of State's office in Lansing.

Murphy will be of great aid to Barney Youngblood, deputy register, who takes his place as chief deputy in the Secretary of State's office the first of the year.

Although both Youngblood and Murphy will be missed greatly from their local positions with Harold E. Stoll, they are not lost to government, and they are replaced by two able men in their respective fields.

The Goodfellow frolic staged by county building employees promises to reach a new peak this year. It isn't often when county employees are given tickets to sell they smile and are actually glad to do it. The Goodfellows' tickets are of the rare exception. Although these have always sold well, and although we have always been glad to aid this cause, it has been a good many years since pocketbooks would permit feelings to express in abundance. This year it is expected that Convention Hall will be hard put to take care of an exuberant Christmas spirit emanating from 60,000 people.

Public Buys 1,000 1937 Plates Daily

Sale of motor vehicle license plates for 1937 is proceeding at the rate of slightly more than 1,000 pairs a day, Department of State figures show.

These figures include plates for all classes of motor vehicles, including passenger cars, dealers' cars, commercial vehicles and motorcycles.

Plates for 1937 went on sale Oct. 21, so ordered by Orville E. Atwood, Secretary, as an aid to car manufacturers who bring new models out in the fall now, rather than during mid-winter. Plates for which revenue was actually checked into the Department of State for the first 19 days of sale, include Nov. 12 showed that 21,388 pairs of plates had been sold throughout the state.

Any disposition on the part of the public to defer purchase of plates for cars they now own, is seen as a reflection of uncertainty as to what changes the 1937 legislation might make in the motor vehicle law as it pertains to the deadline for annual plate purchases.

Atwood has publicly recommended a March deadline; and on request of Leon D. Case, Secretary of State-elect, Atwood has announced a 30 day extension from Jan. 1, making the prospective deadline Jan. 31. In the meantime the 1937 legislature may take action on this matter.

N. R. S. Reports Shortage of Workers

Major Howard Starret, State Re-employment Director, announced today that the Detroit office of the National Reemployment Service at 318 E. Jefferson avenue cannot find enough qualified workers willing to leave town for over 200 jobs.

These jobs are located in Hartford, Connecticut and Hancock, Michigan.

Two hundred jobs are available with a Connecticut airplane manufacturer who requires that applicants be journeymen mechanics, read blueprints, lay out work and have own tools. The workers wanted are milling machine operators, turret lathe operators, lathe hands, planer hands, Bullard vertical boring mill operators, Potter and Johnson operators, Jones & Lamson turret lathe operators, radial drill press operators, all around machinists, steel polishers, and grinders of all sorts on Norton, Heald, Blanchard & Bryandt grinding machines.

There is no age limit preference indicated by the employer who states that the only essential is that the man be fit for the job. Pay ranges from 70 to 85 cents per hour for a 40 hour week. This is regular work, according to Major Starret.

A foreman for a fish freezing plant in Hancock, Michigan is wanted as well as 20 filleters for filleting and cutting fish, mostly herring. All these jobs are permanent, the employer states.

City-Wide Tribute to Dr. Studer at Banquet Dec. 18th

Dr. Studer did his first YMCA work in Detroit without pay as assistant physical director of 1887, and organized the following year the first Leaders' Club, an idea that has spread to YMCA throughout the country. At that time the only Detroit 'Y' building was where a lunch room now is located at the northeast corner of Griswold street and Grand River.

Dr. Studer became identified with the staff of the Detroit YMCA in 1891 as assistant physical director. Three years later he became connected with the Pittsburgh YMCA on March 1, 1890, coming to Detroit the following year. At the time Dr. Studer came here the membership was only 2,000 with only one building. Today there are eight branches with a membership exceeding 15,000.

In addition to the regular YMCA activities, Dr. Studer has been instrumental in fostering educational work. Today three educational units operate under the YMCA, the Detroit Institute of Technology, the Detroit College of Law and the Men's Evening High School, which have a combined enrollment of 2600. A new home for the Detroit College of Law was begun only a few weeks ago, and with the present expansion of the Detroit Institute of Technology it is believed a new building for the colleges making up that institute will eventually be necessary.

Born of Swiss parentage in Montreal in 1857, Adolph Gustavus Studer came to Detroit in 1887 and got a job with the Fletcher Hardware Company. His brother at that time was with the Michigan Car and Foundry Company and persuaded Dr. Studer to come to Detroit. Dr. Studer's father, William Frederick Studer, died in 1927 at the age of 89 and his mother, Margaret Buick Studer, died in 1930 at the age of 93.

Dr. Studer recalls that it took 28 days to raise $125,000 when the new YMCA building on Witherall at Adams was built in 1906. In 1926 the 'Y' raised $5,800,000 under Dr. Studer's leadership in 10 days.

Although nearing the 70-year milestone, it is doubtful if any man of his age in Detroit is as active physically and carries on so many activities.

In his youth he was rated as a crack athlete. He used to run 100 yards in 10 1-5 seconds, and was a crack lacrosse player with the Crescent Club of Montreal.

He is connected with more than a dozen national and state YMCA committees and throughout his residence in Detroit has been an active member of the First Presbyterian Church. He has one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Rankin Peck, of Boston Boulevard. His only son died of influenza at the Great Lakes Training station during the War.

Civic leaders of this community who are actively behind the dinner to Dr. Studer are anxious that this neighborhood have a full representation at the banquet to show this community's high esteem in which Dr. Studer is held.

All persons desiring to make reservations for the Dr. Studer dinner at the Statler Hotel are requested to send in their reservations direct to the Dr. Studer Dinner Committee, Downtown YMCA, Adams and Witherall, Detroit, or the reservations may be left with the YMCA branch.

Camp Fire Girls Activities

Camp Fire leaders will hold their annual Christmas Council Fire at the First Presbyterian Church on Woodward and Edmund Place on Monday, December 14, at 8 p. m.

Participating in the program will be the Misses Addie Armstrong, Hazel Cleveland, Caroline Evans, Margaret Holcomb, Miriam Horton, Mable Parks and Claudine Steffek, also Mrs. Nancy Crookford, Mrs. Mary Bradford, Mrs. Edith Hazlett, Mrs. Flora Storey, Mrs. Elizabeth Dale, Mrs. Gladys Gower, Mrs. Genevieve Cole, Mrs. Davis Ascher, Mrs. Frances Muenchinger, Mrs. Dorothy Hall, Mrs. May White, Mrs. Pearl Reid, Mrs. Viola Otto and Mrs. Geneva Lahe.

Miss Kathryn Lancaster is in charge of general arrangements for the affair, she will be assisted by Mrs. Leontine Hardy, president of the Guardians' Association and Miss Catherine Stearns, local executive secretary.

This Council Fire has become an annual affair of the Detroit Guardians' Association and is one of the several joint meetings which are held by the district associations throughout the year.

Camp Fire Girls are asked to make reservations for their Christmas breakfast tickets at the Camp Fire Office as soon as possible. Girls who wish to attend the Christmas breakfast which is to be held December 20, at 8 a. m., at the Women's City Club, must obtain their tickets by December 15.

Neighborhood Club Activities

This is a busy time of the year at the Neighborhood Club, including rehearsals, caroling practices and party plans, with Christmas just around the corner, which means that our annual Christmas party will be held Tuesday, December 22 at 8 p. m. The name of the play to be given is "When Toys Come to Life," and among some of the famous actors and actresses in the cast we have: Elizabeth DeWolf, Russell Bradley, Keith Jones, May Gieche, Arthur Hogarth, Mary Gieche, Ed Johnson, Ruby McElroy and Christine and Josephine Bryeans. Besides these people all the girls gym and tap classes play an important part in the play.

The A. O. C's, Cadettes, and F. L. G's are doing their share in producing Christmas cheer by rehearsing carols so that they will be all ready to sing Wednesday night, December 23, on the doorstep of as many as they can reach.

Grosse Pointe Lutheran Church

"Partnership" will be the subject of the sermon at the Grosse Pointe Lutheran Church, worshipping in the auditorium of the Richard School, Kercheval avenue at McKinley road, Sunday morning, December 13, at 11 o'clock, preached by the Rev. M. Luther Canup, D. D., pastor. This will be the fifth sermon in a series on "Ships."

"John's Vision on Patmos," will be the lesson in Sunday School where we have classes for all grades and ages. Rehearsal for Christmas program at the close of Sunday School next Sunday. Christmas program December 27.

Our first anniversary services were well attended last Sunday. We begin our second year with encouragement and hope. The people of Grosse Pointe have received us kindly and supported us loyally. Not only has the Lutheran constituency, but citizens in general have welcomed us and given us moral and financial support.

Our purpose is to build a strong confessional church in the heart of Grosse Pointe where the Word of God is preached and taught, and if you have no church home, you and your family are cordially invited to attend our Sunday School and church services.

No Need for National Reemployment Number

In filling out the Social Security form applying for account number, employees who have registered with the National Reemployment Service need not write in the NRS identification number if it is unknown or immediately unavailable, Major Howard Starret, State Reemployment Director, said today.

This advice authorized by the Social Security Board was received today from Washington by Major Howard Starret, State Reemployment Director. Question thirteen of the Social Security application for account number provides for the recording of the United States Employment Service identification number if the applicant is registered with the service, Major Starret said. This is identical with that of the National Reemployment Service which is a division of the U.S.E.S. It is useful to enter this identification number if the applicant has it at hand but the need not seek to secure such a number.

If the employee is not registered with the NRS or has not been assigned an identification number, he is not required to get one.

State Department Aids Are Named

Two Detroit men have been appointed to important posts in the Department of State, effective Jan. 1, 1937 by Leon D. Case, Secretary of State-elect. Both are well known.

Bernard J. Youngblood, Deputy Register of Deeds of Wayne County, takes the post of Deputy Secretary of State succeeding Dr. Louis Webber, who was appointed to that office two years ago by Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State.

Mr. Youngblood was born Jan. 21, 1898 in Detroit. He was educated in St. Anthony's parochial school and high school. For 12 years he was employed by the Detroit Edison company in the steel department and in charge of truck dispatching.

During a year's leave of absence, he entered private business in 1929. He was in the ice and coal business when he entered the office of Wayne County Register of Deeds as a clerk, rising to his present post through promotion.

Mr. Youngblood's grandfather, B. J. Youngblood, was Wayne County treasurer from 1892 to 1896; his father, Edward B. Youngblood, was superintendent of Belle Isle from 1913 to 1916, and at the time of his death in 1926, was superintendent of the Detroit city garbage department. The Youngbloods have one child, a ten-year-old boy.

Hoyt Morris, who will succeed Lee C. Richardson as head of the Detroit branch office of the Department of State, has been in the real estate business in Detroit for the past 12 years, coming to Michigan from Illinois. His real estate operations were carried on in Florida for several years. Mr. Morris is married and has one child, a young girl.

Ring as Love Token

The ring as a love token commenced its recorded history when the ancient Greeks sent rings of iron to their betrothed as evidence of an agreement. The ring being placed on the third finger of the left hand during the marriage service, for it was believed that a nerve led from this finger directly to the heart. But most of the men wore their rings upon the right hand as a mark of power and independence.

Christian Science Churches

"God the Preserver of Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, December 13. Among the Bible citations is the following (Isaiah 43:2): "When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 151): "The divine Mind that made man maintains His own image and likeness."

INSURANCE TIPS

By H. THOMPSON STOCK

As a means to drive the careless and financially irresponsible drivers off the road, and at the same time provide some sort of a guarantee to the public, that motorists will pay for accidents for which they are legally liable, 28 states and eight provinces of Canada have passed so-called "automobile financial responsibility" laws.

The automobile financial responsibility laws of no two states are exactly alike, but the essence of all these laws is that your license plates, registration certificates and operator's license will be taken away from you if:

1. You fail to pay in 15 or 30 days final judgments against you for personal injuries or death up to $5,000 for one person or $10,000 for two or more, and for damage to the property of others up to $1,000. (This provision makes it advisable to carry public liability and property damage insurance before the accident).
2. You can not prove "financial responsibility" for future accidents even though you have paid for claims resulting from your last accident.
3. You can not prove "financial responsibility" after having been convicted of violating certain motor vehicle laws.

How to Prove Financial Responsibility
Financial responsibility may be proven by depositing with the state or province:

1. $11,000 in cash or securities.
2. A $11,000 bond.
3. An insurance company's certificate that you carry at least $5,000-10,000 public liability and $1,000 property damage insurance. Insurance companies charge 10, 25 or 50 per cent turpitude, companies will refuse to issue certificates and will cancel existing insurance. Those who do not have insurance before getting into trouble will find it difficult to get it afterwards.

Should you get into trouble in some state or province other than in your own, you will have to satisfy not only the laws of the state or province in which the accident or offense occurs but usually also the laws of your home state or province.

Non-Licensed Companies

A state or province will accept from residents certificates of insurance companies licensed to do business in that state or province provided that that company meets certain requirements.

The laws of the various states and provinces vary considerably in regard to accepting from non-residents certificates of companies not licensed to do business therein. Some will not accept certificates of non-licensed companies. Some will accept at the direction of some state official. Others will accept if the company complies with certain requirements. Some of these states, however, have in addition, a reciprocity requirement.

To avoid embarrassment, insure in a stock company doing business in the states and provinces in which you wish to travel.

St. Paul High School Notes

Last week St. Paul won its first debate of the season by defeating Hartland Consolidated School of Hartland, Michigan. The debaters, Mary Jane Rabaut, Cecelia Valentine and William O. Kronner Jr., upheld the affirmative side of the national debate question, "Resolved: The government should own and operate the electrical utilities."

The school recently won an engraved loving cup trophy in a poster contest conducted by the Neighborhood Club Thrift Shop of Grosse Pointe. The purpose of the contest was to obtain publicity posters for the shop's toy drive at Christmas. Prizes were offered both for the best posters in the school and also for final competition among the nine schools in Grosse Pointe. In the St. Paul competition, Barbara Costello placed first, Phillip Weidman second, and Charles Palms Jr. third. The Costello poster also won first prize among Grosse Pointe Schools, thus winning the loving cup for St. Paul.

St. Paul sent various representatives from its senior class to attend sessions of the National Scholastic Press Association Convention held at the Book-Cadillac Hotel over the week-end. The student publication recently joined this organization which encourages the enterprise of school papers throughout the country.

Santa Will Soon Be Here

At this time of year when the fever of planning, wishing, writing letters, and making lists is in progress, and the children are all excited about Christmas, some mothers feel that the way to protect the health of their children is to fill up the medicine cabinet. Nothing is more upsetting to the household during holiday activities than a sick child. Replacement of the contents of the medicine cabinet is a commendable thing, but to depend upon it alone for the health of the family during this exciting, overstimulating period is to overlook many needed precautions.

Start today to prepare the children for Christmas, physically, mentally and emotionally, so that they will be ready for the full enjoyment of their holidays. Children's food habits must be watched; family meals served regularly. In the excitement of the upset household, appetites are too often dulled by too much sampling of sweets—being prepared for the holidays. Foods that give the greatest nourishment should be served at this time. Over stocking the stomach when excited or fatigued often causes illness. Therefore, food easily digested and readily assimilated is essential. Foods best taken under strain are the liquid foods or bland foods. Plenty of the protective foods—milk, fruits, vegetables, and eggs should be included to help build up resistance to colds so prevalent now.

Breakfasts of hot cereal with milk, and fruit, or soft poached egg on toast with butter are excellent for fortifying children for a morning session at school or play. Lunches of creamed soup or chowder filled with finely chopped vegetables—tomatoes, carrots, potatoes, onions, peas spinach, etc., go down easily and carry with them an abundance of necessary minerals and vitamins needed to fortify the body, processes, and protect it from disease.

Baked potatoes with creamed liver and rawed carrot sticks is another uncheon combination all mothers need to have tucked away in their mental recipe file. Escalloped potatoes with cheese sauce, with crisp bacon with an apple baked in honey is another menu children love. Scrambled eggs with toast points and a vegetable are splendid fillers and carry an abundance of vitamins and minerals. Any one of these menus with a glass of milk makes an easily digested lunch and one which builds body stamina.

In preparing children for Christmas mothers must not overlook the necessary hours of regular sleep. Over excited and restless children cannot sleep well. A cup of hot milk at bed time makes for warmth and drowsiness. This with a reassuring word from mother—they're off to the land of nod.
