News Digest

NO! War hasn't been declared. It's just the boys quelling peace time riots at Flint.

A Detroit newspaper man has been appointed Boxing Commissioner.

It seems that the tough boys of Detroit serving time at Jackson have reformed. One is a teacher, another a librarian, etc.

Arrangements are getting under way for the President's Ball locally for the latter part of this month.

Detroit is going to make a strenuous attempt to curtail wanton killing of pedestrians on its streets. Beginning today all drivers must stop behind stopped street cars regardless of traffic lights.

It has been a dangerous undertaking to cross Jefferson avenue on a busy evening. The pedestrian must jump, dodge and run and if lucky he will reach the other side. Traffic usually moves right along on this wide thoroughfare.

Since the passing of Babe Ruth from the ranks of baseball stars, salaries are not quite as large. In fact the highest is about one-half of that which Ruth received in his declining years.

It has been suggested that permanent license plates be issued in Michigan. It would be a splendid way of identifying owners and easier for the recipient to remember his license number.

Here is a tip for the women. There will be many changes in shoe styles for 1937. There will be many novel and unique styles.

As long as we parole desperate criminals after serving only a short period of their time behind bars and mollycoddle them they will only do the same thing over again and sometimes worse.

The tense situation in Europe is dwarfed by the strike problem so close to home.

Well, well, the annual report of one James J. Farley seems to disclose a deficit of only $88,000,000. Free mailing privileges for Congressmen is what Farley attributes it to.

Heavily Armed National Guards Ready For Action In Flint Strike Situation

By Grosse Pointe Review Special Correspondent

Flint is bristling with firearms and soldiers march the streets with fixed bayonets in the tense strike situation which has developed in the last few days from an orderly sit-down strike to one of disorder and rioting.

Governor Frank Murphy has ordered the mobilization of National Guards in 15 Michigan cities. These troops are in readiness to embark for the scene of action on short notice.

The Governor has invited General Motors officials and official representatives of the Union to participate in a parley today in the hopes that further destruction of property and further bloodshed might be prevented.

Warrants have been prepared for the arrest of 13 leaders. These leaders are charged with inciting the men to rioting and destruction of property. All warrants were later held by the Governor to permit parley.

The appearance of the militia on the scene has been instrumental in averting any violent outbreaks against the strikers, which would have resulted in serious consequences.

Pressure is being brought to bear in an effort to force an early settlement, with the President following closely every movement, preparing to step in, in the event Governor Frank Murphy fails to effect a settlement.

The eyes of the world are watching interestedly, this battle between capital and labor, over recognition of organized labor by General Motors in their Flint Plant.

Steam Is Invisible

Strictly speaking, steam is invisible. The term is properly applied to the transparent gas or vapor into which water is converted when heated to the boiling point. The visible mist commonly called steam, which consists of minute droplets of water in the air, is not formed until the water vapor has cooled and condensed.

The first irrigation by an Anglo-Saxon on the American continent is credited to William Carter, in Utah in 1847.

How Bar Association Can Reduce Automobile Insurance Rates

The bar associations through the United States that are making determined efforts to purge the legal profession of unethical members who solicit and fabricate accident cases are making lower automobile insurance rates possible. In New York City where it costs $90.00 to buy public liability insurance to extent of $5,000 for one person and $10,000 for two or more, seventeen "ambulance chasing" lawyers were "seized since the start of the investigation three months ago." (New York Times, October 1, 1936.)

In Birmingham, Alabama, where $5,000, $10,000 public liability insurance costs $43.00, "100 per cent higher than they were a few years ago and higher than any other city of like size in the country the bureau probed 63 cases, obtained 23 indictments and 9 convictions." (National Underwriter, Nov. 19, 1936.)

And in Lincoln, Nebraska where $5,000, $10,000 public liability insurance costs $29.00, "F.A.D., the second Lincoln attorney to be cited by the supreme court during the last two months on charges of ambulance chasing, pleaded guilty." (National Underwriter, Nov. 26, 1936.)

Why Detroit Has Low Rates. In Detroit, the fourth largest city $5,000, $10,000 public liability insurance costs only $23.00. For this low rate, Detroit's wide, straight, flat and, except in a few places, uncongested streets and highways and Michigan's licensing and automobile financial responsibility laws are partly responsible.

But the chief credit belongs to Michigan's courts and attorneys for making the courts more effective for dispensing justice and to the Detroit Bar Association for sponsoring an "ambulance chasing" law which makes soliciting personal injury cases illegal. In the famous Hightower cases of 1932, the judge learned that the cases had been solicited and refused to permit the attorney to collect his fees. The attorney plead a defect in the law but the court ruled that it had an inherent right to purge itself of unethical practices and members.

How Rates Are Figured. With these facts in mind, it is interesting to note that the average number of claims paid per hundred low priced automobiles. For the years 1931-35 inclusive is 3.9 for Detroit and 18.2 for New York. However, the average amount paid per claim for these years is $298 for New York and $347 for Detroit. As a result the "loss cost per car" which is the product of the claim frequency, and is the average amount paid per claim is $13.47 for Detroit and $54.11 for New York.

As these figures with an allowance for trend represent 61.5% of the premium charged, it is easy to ascertain why New York's claims frequency and loss cost per car for 1935 was lower than the five year averages and that the amount paid per claim for 1935 for Detroit was higher than the five year average. These figures are for stock companies belonging to the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters.

Other Forms of Liability Insurance. A similar picture presents itself in other forms of public liability insurance. Why should the lowest rate schedules be assigned to Michigan for manufacturer's and contractor's public liability insurance? Why should the highest be assigned to New York City? Why were the owners', landlords' and tenants' rates for apartments doubled for Birmingham, Alabama in 1936 and (Continued on Page Five) at 2615 Fairview, Detroit. Green enlisted in the Navy in July, 1935, after graduating from Mt. Clemens High school, and was sent to the Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Illinois, for his preliminary training. From Great Lakes he was transferred to the U. S. S. Tennessee, a battleship of the Battle Force, based at San Pedro, California. At this time, Green is on the way to Brooklyn, New York, to join the crew of the U. S. S. Vincennes, which is to go in commission in March, 1937. Granted a thirty-day leave en route, Green will report on board the Vincennes, which is our newest 10,000-ton cruiser, about the middle of January. He holds the rating of Seaman, first class, in the Navy. Although the ports of call for the Vincennes during her shake-down cruise is still in doubt, it is expected that she will visit many European ports in addition to Cuba and the West Indies.

Camp Fire Girls Activities

Many groups of Camp Fire Girls in Detroit are busy working on their silver jubilee birthday honor, which will be awarded the girls in March.

This is the 25th year of the National Camp Fire organization and the requirements for the silver jubilee honor are based upon this year's celebration.

To earn the honor, girls must write a short account of the history of Camp Fire, attend camp for a week, help spread Camp Fire by interesting some other girl in becoming a Camp Fire girl and give some service to their community.

To fulfill all the requirements, girls must also attend the jubilee birthday council fire which will be held in March and at which time the birthday honors will be awarded.

Every year Camp Fire girls work on some special birthday project. During the past few years, tree conservation, Indian lore, international friendship, music, "making the most of me," interior decoration, and international friendship have been among the projects studied by the girls.

Sign up now for camp week-ends. Camp Wathana, the official camp of the Detroit Council of Camp Fire Girls will be open every week-end throughout the winter and spring for group camping. Reservations may be made by calling the Camp Fire office, Columbia 1600.

Case to Weed Out Careless Chauffeurs

As a measure of public safety on streets and highways, Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, has changed the method of issuing chauffeur's licenses so they may be checked against the state's central violations file at Lansing.

These licenses, renewable annually, were previously available without delay in the larger cities. Effective immediately, however, all applications are being checked against the records of motor vehicle law violations maintained by the state through cooperation of local court and police authorities and the Michigan State Police. Licenses will be denied to those with unsatisfactory driving records.

Some delay has resulted from the new system, but applicants are protected by a temporary permit issued at the time of application at any of the branch offices of the Department of State. Night crews of workers have been required at the capitol to facilitate the process of issuance.

A chauffeur, within the meaning of the state's motor vehicle law, is a person more than 18 transporting a motor vehicle for hire but not passengers for hire, or a person more than 21 transporting passengers for hire.

Winter Edition of Michigan Highway Maps Now Available

For the first time in the history of the state highway department, a winter edition of the official Michigan highway map is now available to the public. In publishing a winter edition, State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner was motivated by two reasons. The first objective is to emphasize winter-sport development in Michigan and the second to make the map itself more accurate. Since the September issue of the map was published, hundreds of miles of highways indicated at that time as under construction, have now been completed. Another innovation in the new edition is a detailed map of the southeastern metropolitan district. All types of roads are shown on this detailed map whether the state trunklines or local highways.

For the first time, superhighways on the trunkline system are also indicated on the cover side of the map. All trunklines of three or more lanes are indicated by the heavy red line. Otherwise the map is similar to the last edition including the popular accordion fold, a table of the state parks and their facilities, and an index to their location on the map. The reverse side is profusely illustrated with winter scenes in Michigan. "Previous invitations to enjoy Michigan's summer recreational facilities are extended to include the pleasures of a holiday in Michigan's 'Winter Wonderland,'" Commissioner Van Wagoner states in stressing the main objective of the new map.

In previous years, the map has been published in May, July and September editions. The new maps are available to the public free of charge. They can be obtained by writing to Commissioner Van Wagoner.

Public Invited to N. R. S. Offices

Major Howard Starret, State Re-employment Director, today invited civic, religious and other organizations in Wayne County to visit the Detroit office of the National Re-employment Service, 318 East Jefferson Ave.

The office, occupying nearly a square city block, is one of the largest employment offices in the world.

Appointments to inspect the office may be made with Frank Christensen, district manager, whose telephone number is Randolph 7486, Major Starret said.

"At this office the public may witness one of the most interesting programs of the Government, that of finding jobs for people and people for jobs," he said.

"When one considers that our task is not that of finding any kind of a job for any type of person but specifically that of finding the right type of job for the right person, the program suggests quite an involved problem. But we believe we have devised a good system. At least it has produced results. Last year the NRS sent nearly 100,000 Michigan persons to work with private industry and private contractors. In Detroit, more than 3,000 are getting private jobs each month. We would be glad to explain the work of our organization in detail to interested groups."

Major Starret said visits from employers are especially welcome.

"Many groups have visited this office," he said. "We are especially pleased to have individual employers and groups of employers learn about our work because we rely upon their active cooperation in finding jobs for the unemployed."

"Many of our visitors have expressed surprise to learn that we handled as high as 4,000 persons in the office in a single day. They have referred workers to us whom we needed for jobs and they have placed orders for workers already registered with our Service. The NRS is desirous of this splendid cooperation and needs it. All of us can help in finding the right job for the right persons."

Additional information may be obtained by writing State Reemployment Director, 1702 Washington Boulevard Building.

The National Reemployment Service is a division of the United States Employment Service which is operated under the U. S. Department of Labor. There is no charge for the service and anyone in Michigan over 16 years of age may use it.

Detroit Colony, N. E. W.

Mrs. H. B. Loveland of Eason avenue will open her home Saturday, January 16, for a mixed bridge party for members and friends of Detroit Colony, New England Women. Tables will be in play at eight o'clock. Refreshments will be enjoyed following the awarding of table and door prizes. Mrs. I. J. Goodrich, social chairman, in charge of the affair, requests early reservations. The Colony will conduct a rummage sale Friday, January 22, at 155 LaBelle avenue, doors being open at ten o'clock. Mrs. W. Scott Hobbs will be assisted by Mrs. Edward T. Clarke, and other members. Proceeds will be devoted to the Colony's charities and projects.

The regular meeting of the Colony will take place Wednesday, January 27, at the Central branch, YWCA. The usual luncheon at 12:30 o'clock will precede the meeting, over which the president, Mrs. W. Scott Hobbs, will preside. Mrs. Edward L. Holmes will introduce as speaker Mrs. A. M. Humphrey, world-traveler, who will talk on Egypt. Members will respond to roll call with anecdotes of their ancestors.

Detroit Colony will contribute to one of the national society's principal projects this year, that of raising funds to erect a granite bench beside the statue of the Pilgrim Maiden, which was a gift of the Society to Brewster Park, Plymouth, Mass. The bench will carry an inscription expressing gratitude to two past president-generals, Mrs. Robert Fowler Cummings, of California, during whose administration the statue project was begun, and Mrs. Eugene J. Grant, who was in office when it was completed, and dedicated. The other project is one of co-operation with the Sesquiennial Constitution Commission, its program for the 150th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution, each New England Women group being asked to plant a tree, with a bronze marker carrying the Society's insignia, and the names of the six New England signers of the Constitution.

In Oriole Family

Technically labeled the Icteridae, troupials belong to the bird family of orioles or hangnests. In size they are similar to the blue jay and their gorgeous coloring is not their only distinguishing feature. They have an uncanny ability to imitate a bugle, thereby gaining the name of bugle birds and can be easily trained to whistle a tune. When singing in this manner the feathers ruffle up and the throat swells and vibrates. In disposition they vary from the average bird in that they delight in being teased.

The reason is, as we have seen, experience. Detroit has paid more when its experience was not so good. But there is still room for improvement. Denver pays only $19.00 for public liability insurance primarily because it has only 2.7 claims per 100 low priced cars. Indianapolis pays only $18.00 primarily because the average amount paid per claim is only $269.00.

All public liability insurance rates will be reduced if dishonest claims and unreasonably high verdicts be reduced to a minimum. Ethical attorneys through their bar associations therefore hold an important key to lower automobile and other public liability insurance rates.

On and Off the Records

By Lee Montgomery

Two large loans by the Manufacturers Bank to the J. B. Book Jr. Corp. amounting to one and a half million and one and a quarter million dollars respectively, give good evidence that real estate and prosperity are at hand in the expert opinion of the country's large bankers.

Re-organization papers for the company naming a trusteeship have been filed with Register of Deeds; Harold E. Stoll.

At one time in our history the majority of offices were on a fee basis. Today the office holder in most instances is paid by a salary, one of the few exceptions being various branches of the Secretary of State's office. Here the man in charge is paid on the rate of twenty cents per license plate.

Leon Case, new Secretary of State, does not think that this method is conducive to good government. Not only does he think it extravagant, but says that in the past large and powerful political machines have been built up for an individual with the people's money. He plans to put these offices on a straight salary.

It is no secret that Frank Fitzgerald and others have, in the past, built up impregnable political machines while serving the people as Secretary of State. In Case's opinion this will be more difficult if salaries replace fees and all extra money from plates goes back to the State Treasury.

This story comes from a northern county in Michigan. Mr. Jones moved into a small town and bought a radio. The following day a man called on him and begged to be allowed to install another radio in Jones' home on trial. More to be polite than anything, Jones finally consented but stated that he was satisfied with his own radio.

The radio came. Days passed and Jones did not see the stranger. He wrote the company to take the radio away, that he did not want it. There was no answer from the company. Jones then let the matter drop and boxed up the radio. Many weeks later the man appeared and demanded the money for the radio. When Jones refused to pay anything the man took the radio and started suit in justice court. The court found Jones guilty of breach of contract. It allowed the company to keep the radio and demanded that Jones pay the balance after the radio was sold.

The justice was not on a salary. He was paid by fee. Private investigation showed that the radio salesman, a constable and the justice had split on the profit in this case. Jones was the goat. This was but one of many such cases in the district.

This is interesting because it is a typical case. It would be good business if the state bar association pushed legislation to place all justices on a salary. The dignity of the courts deserves such a law.

A woman entered Judge Joseph Gillis' conciliation court. Her husband had an old judgment, had promised to pay the court a small sum each week until the bill was paid. This is a free service, offered by Gillis' court. Her husband had failed to pay anything for four months and the plaintiff garnished his wages. The judge told the woman that he was very sorry but that her husband had failed to pay the court and the state laws gave the plaintiff right to garnish in that case. The woman did not try to understand, but informed the court in no uncertain terms that he could expect her and all of her six children over for Sunday dinner.

Christmas stories are good after the Yuletide as well as before. Here is the year's story from Sam Leve, chief investigator, for the county. Sam was standing at the lingerie counter. The clerk was waiting on a man dressed in laborer's clothes. She had two garments in her hands, and the customer could not make up his mind as to which he would buy. Finally the clerk impatiently said, "This nightgown is far more practical, and your wife will like it better." This other one is expensive extravagant. The man smiled in a relieved way. "Well, I'm glad that you told me. You know for the past ten years I have been buying practical things for my wife. I'm tired of practicality, give me that silly piece of extravagance." This, said Sam, "is the real spirit of 1937."

Women's Committee of Community Fund Hold Election

A White Birthday cake holding a chubby green candle formed the center of interest at the speakers' table in the ballroom of the League of Catholic Women's Building, where the women's committee of the Community Fund gathered for luncheon last Thursday to celebrate the first anniversary of the group and to elect officers for 1937.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Frederick M. Alger, chairman of the committee, cut the cake and passed it to guests at the speakers' table, who included John Ballenger, who later spoke on social security to the more than 200 women assembled.

Warm weather during the Christmas season may be delightful to some people but you can take Lloyd Brazil's word for it that it's anything but enjoyable for a basketball coach. It's not a personal problem with him but it has bothered his team.

When his University of Detroit cagers returned to work after a short rest no less than three of his regulars and one of his first string substitutes reported back with colds. Capt. Laske, and Ed. Lukaszewicz are the regulars affected by the warm spell and Bill Kerwin is the substitute. None was ill enough to be kept out of the lineup but an inability to practice regularly has seriously affected their play. A man who stands, five feet, eleven inches may not ordinarily be considered a midget but he is when he is a member of a college basketball team. At least that's what coach Lloyd Brazil believed when he termed his 1937 University of Detroit quintet a midget squad.

"Go forward"

THE divine command voiced by the prophet Moses when the children of Israel were halted by the seemingly impassable waters of the Red Sea, on their way out of the land of bondage, still has power to compel obedience and to put to flight doubt, hesitation, and indecision. The command was, "Speak unto the children of Israel, that they go forward." To go backward meant slavery and submission to hard taskmasters; to go forward demanded courage and faith in a power unknown to the material senses. Speaking of Moses as a leader, Mary Baker Eddy writes (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 200). "Moses advanced a nation to the worship of God in Spirit instead of matter, and illustrated the grand human capacities of being bestowed by immortal Mind."

Along the journey of individual spiritual progress, the encouraging command to go forward can still be heard by those who may be trembling in the valley of decision. To awake from the bondage of enslaving conditions is one step towards spiritual freedom, and to demonstrate the way out of such conditions demands a continual going forward. The Apostle Paul, comparing his spiritual progress to a race in which the athlete keeps his eyes continually on the goal, said, "This one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." Like many of us today, Paul had much to regret, but he wasted no time in looking backward. The spiritual light which had awakened him on the road to Damascus blotted out the mistakes of the past, and he went forward in obedience to the heavenly vision.

The understanding that man is spiritual and not material brings hope and encouragement to those who are struggling against sickness and sin—discord of every kind. In order to advance spiritually we need to understand "the grand human capacities of being," and allow no thought of fear to prevent us from claiming and proving our spiritual dominion. Through the application of the teachings of Christian Science we begin to prove, little by little, that man is the image and likeness of God, and that he has dominion over all the earth. Various wrong conditions of thought attempt to impede our progress, but we can overcome them through the power of Truth. Among these are fear and self-pity. We may fear that we are unable to work out our problems. We may fear the past or the future. Like the Israelites of old we may believe that an impassable sea stops our progress. But there is always a way through the troubled waters if we are obedient and take the first step in denying fear and obeying the divine command to "go forward."

Self-pity may argue that our problem is more than we can bear, that no one else has such a hard road to travel. Perhaps custom, tradition, love of ease, may whisper, "It had been better for us to serve the Egyptians, than that we should die in the wilderness." Discouraging thoughts are false suggestions of mortal mind, which try to prevent our spiritual progress, and they can be overcome through the understanding of the allness of God, good, and the consequent powerlessness of evil.

In "The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany" (p. 232) Mrs. Eddy writes, "The right way wins the right of way, even the way of Truth and Love whereby all our debts are paid, mankind blessed, and God glorified." Every spiritually progressive step glorifies God and blesses mankind; and that which benefits one must benefit others also. We can confer no greater benefit or those around us than to prove our own individual spiritual dominion. The knowledge of such dominion includes recognition of our neighbor's rights, and there can be no friction where there is loving obedience to divine Principle; but the kingdom of God must first be established in our own thinking if we are to be of help to our neighbor. The right way is the way not of self-will, but of obedience to divine Principle. The right way is the way Love points out; and though to material sense it may seem clouded and uncertain, this way is always clear to spiritual sense. To those who have tasted the joys of spiritual victory, there can be no turning back. To go forward is the only way.—The Christian Science Monitor.

Brisk Breakfast

Sunday breakfast, when members of the family have more leisure is a choice moment to serve hot foods. Nothing so takes the meal out of the mediocre as the presents of hot graham muffins.

Graham Muffins

1 cup flour, 3 tsp. baking powder, 1-3 tsp. salt, 1-3 cup sugar, 1 cup graham cracker crumbs, 1 cup milk, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons melted butter. Mix dry ingredients, add milk and eggs, stir till just moistened, add butter and put into greased muffin tins. Bake 25 minutes at 425 degrees.

Whole wheat muffins add zest to the winter breakfast and has a subtle way of bringing to it that very necessary mineral iron.

Whole Wheat Muffins

1 1/4 cups whole wheat flour, 1/2 cup flour, 3/4 cup sugar, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1 cup milk, 1 egg, 2 tsp. melted butter. Mix and sift dry ingredients. If using sour milk add 1/2 tsp. soda. Add well beaten egg, milk, and melted shortening to the dry ingredients. Half fill well greased muffin tins. Bake in hot oven at 400 degrees 25-30 minutes. All whole wheat flour may be used if desired.

Southern Spoon Bread is simple and what it won't do to liven the breakfast chatter, we can only imagine until it is tried.

Southern Spoon Bread

2 eggs beaten lightly, 2 cups sour or buttermilk, 1 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tsp. butter, 2 cups water, 1 cup cornmeal (water ground type is best), 1 teaspoon soda. Mix thoroughly, bake in moderate oven 50-65 minutes till set. This must be served with a spoon (hence the name) and eaten with a fork. It is not a finger food. A generous amount of butter should melt over each serving.

Christian Science Churches

"Life" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 17.

Among the Bible Citations is the following (I John 5: 11): "And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 487): "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality."
