

NO PRIMARIES IN GROSSE PTE. FARMS

News Digest

We thought that it was only in the jungle and less advanced countries that men married babes in arms or practically so, but now it seems that the practice is being enjoyed in these United States. A six-foot Kentucky farmer, 22 years old, married a nine-year-old child. What a disgrace to civilization.

Building activities have been going on practically all winter in the Grosse Pointe area due to the mild winter.

Artists of the brush are busy these days improving the landscape of Grosse Pointe Park, giving the lamp posts a brand new coat of green paint.

Have you noticed the new edifice being constructed at Warren and Cadieux road. It is indeed a work of art and should be a source of much pleasure for the aged as this will be the St. Joseph home for the aged.

Even strikes in New York skyscrapers are underway, evidently an epidemic.

The Flint situation becomes more serious as the strikers are ordered out and banned from picketing the plant. So far it looks like victory for General Motors.

Boston businessman says that this is a new era and that collective bargaining is inevitable and that higher wages should be paid in connection with higher production and all will be well.

Wayne Tax Board has been declared illegal, evidently a joker to the advantage of Wayne County, at least so the judge decided in a fight between the Board and the Great Lakes Steel Corporation.

The Lindberghs are flying again this time from a European base.

Father Coughlin returned to the air Sunday, this time with an attack on the strikers at Flint.

Is Joe Louis on the way out, or is Bob Pastor an up-and-coming contender? Why doesn't Max Schmelling get a chance at the crown, or is the Comish afraid it might go to Europe.

It seems that a number of new postmasters are to be appointed in Michigan shortly. Included in the new list is Mrs. Horatio J. Abbott and other prominent political personages.

If all the measures introduced in Legislature passes, Michigan will have more commissions than the National Government to handle its affairs. The salaries on the various commissions range from $2,000 up.

Mr. Francois will gladly outline the merits of the machine and demonstrate. This fashionable beauty salon is located in the Punch and Judy Theatre building.

His subject for the lecture on Monday, February 8th, is "Russia—A Land with Two Faces."

Detroit Lions' Center Speaks to St. Columba Fathers and Sons

Assistant Prosecutor Clare Randolph, Detroit Lions' stalwart fighting center, will be the main attraction at the second annual community Father and Son jamboree to be staged by the St. Columba Episcopal Men's Club at the church parish house, Manistique at East Jefferson, on Shrove Tuesday evening, February 9, from 7 to 10 o'clock.

Mr. Randolph, who is a former All-American center from Indiana and for the past four years has been holding that pivot position on the Detroit Lions against all comers, is also assistant prosecutor for Wayne County, and is rapidly developing a reputation for passing thoughts along via the oral method with as much accuracy and effect as he does the pigskin with his hands. He is in great demand and the committee in charge is to be congratulated for making it possible for East end and Grosse Pointe dads and sons to hear and meet him.

Another outstanding feature is that Ty Tyson will again be on hand (after Continued on Page Seven)

LOCHMOOR ADDS NEW FIRE FIGHTING FACILITIES

Lochmoor has been making many progressive steps during the past months to improve protection of the homeowners and among the recent acquisitions is a new fire truck, fully equipped to battle any fires that might develop in the community.

For a good many years the Grosse Pointe Farms Fire Department has been giving them this protection.

The truck is equipped with a 100-gallon tank and booster pump with 1,500 feet of fire hose and chemicals for extinguishing small fires. Two firemen are on duty at all times and 12 volunteers are subject to call at short notice.

Many new homes have been constructed in this area during the past two or three years, and the officers are interested in developing the services of the Village to its residents and taxpayers to such an extent that they can feel they are amply protected. In case of fires residents should call Niagara 0875.

The village officials are to be commended for their progressive strides and thoughtful consideration of the people of Lochmoor.

Ethel R. Willits, nationally known Bible expositor and evangelist, will begin a series of revival meetings in her mammoth tabernacle which has been newly constructed for the purpose of evangelistic services, corner of Conners and Waveney, near Mack avenue. Miss Willits has been greeted with capacity audiences in various cities in which she has held campaigns.

Her tabernacle, seating 3,500 people, will prove too small for Detroit. In Muskegon, Michigan, 6,300 people gained entrance while hundreds were turned away for lack of room. Hundreds of people traveled for hundreds of miles to be in just one of her services.

Asked Miss Willits what she thought of Detroit, she said, "I believe Detroit needs God, in fact the whole world needs to get back to the Bible. I have been praying for people in Detroit for some time and I expect thousands of converts before I leave the city, for God has called me into Detroit." Miss Willits attributes her success to a life of prayer, believes what she (Continued on Page Seven)

Traffic Fatalities Survey Reveals Some Interesting Figures

With officials of Detroit and other cities throughout Michigan making supreme efforts to stem the rising toll of traffic fatalities and injuries the story of a notable achievement along this line by the Michigan Youth Administration is of timely interest.
More than 1,500,000 traffic tickets, representing all types of violations of the traffic code by Detroit drivers during the past six years, have been carefully sorted and filed in the record room of the Traffic Court, on the nineteenth floor of the Barlum Tower.

This tremendous task, performed by young men and women employed by the Michigan Youth Administration has made possible a filing system that has weeded out thousands of reckless, irresponsible drivers and has thereby prevented death or injury to countless pedestrians or other drivers.
Cards are filed in alphabetical order and each contains a complete history of traffic violations in each individual case. Thus, at a glance, it can be determined whether or not John Doe, facing the court on a traffic violation charge, has flouted traffic laws in the past.

A number of astounding cases of long continued willful and serious infractions of traffic laws have been brought to light through this filing system. In one instance, when records were completed, it was found that one driver, a taxicab operator, had accumulated 180 traffic tickets for offenses ranging from drunk driving to improper parking. In five other cases drivers were found to have each received more than 150 tickets. These revelations resulted in the prompt revocation of the licenses of these drivers.

Since the system was perfected, and it is now being kept up to date by daily entries, recommendations have been made for the revocation of between 4,000 and 5,000 licenses. In all these cases the master record cards disclosed that the persons involved were manifestly unfit to operate cars.
Several months ago traffic court records were simply bundled up by years and stacked on tables and chairs. If the record of any particular individual was desired it was necessary for a clerk to paw through the thousands and thousands of tickets, a tedious cumbersome and highly unsatisfactory method. But there apparently wasn't anything the traffic court officials could do about it inasmuch as the city's finances didn't permit the expenditure of money necessary to employ sufficient clerical help to straighten out the mess.

Then the Michigan Youth Administration stepped into the picture with an offer to place a crew of capable young men and women in the office. These were high school students who through the federal government are earning money by part time work and are thereby enabled to continue their studies.

These youths faced a gigantic task but tackled it energetically. A million and a half traffic tickets had to be sorted alphabetically, license numbers and addresses were carefully checked and then began the job of transcribing on master index cards all the violations shown against each individual.
At one time 100 NYA youths were working daily in shifts sorting tickets. At the present time 44 young men and women are employed, each putting in 28 hours a pay period, keeping the records up to date.

"It would take at least 9 policemen at $1200 a year salary to do the work so capably handled by the NYA youths" said John Bryant, custodian of traffic court records. "We haven't the money to employ such help. We are therefore deeply grateful to the Michigan Youth Administration for this valuable assistance which has meant so much in the furtherance of increased safety for both pedestrians and careful, conscientious drivers who might be killed or seriously injured if many of the potential killer type of drivers were not discovered and weeded out."

Approximately 20,000 traffic violation tickets are issued each month by the police department and out of this number two out of seven are found to have been issued to persons already having traffic violation records.

Port Huron-Sarnia Ferries Operated by Bridge Commission

The state bridge commission took command of the ferries operating between Port Huron and Sarnia, Ont., this week as final plans were made for the construction of an international bridge between the two cities.
Varnum B. Steinbaugh, chairman of the commission and deputy state highway commissioner, said bids for the proposed bridge probably will be taken within thirty days.
The bridge commission took over operation of the ferries after $1,900,000 had been turned over to it by a bonding company on the sale of revenue-bond issue. This money is financing the entire project with the exception of the bridge approaches which will be built by the Michigan highway department and the Ontario highway commission.

Included in the transaction was the purchase of the franchise, equipment, and facilities of the ferry company. The bridge commission will continue to operate the ferries until the span is built and a franchise has been awarded for the transportation of pedestrian traffic, or about two years.

The commission also obtained a committee from the Ontario government for the construction of the approaches on the Canadian side of the St. Clair River.

The proposed structure is a vital link in State Highway Commissioner a Michigan diagonal highway between Murray D. Van Wagoner's plans for Chicago and Montreal.

Mexico City Cage Team to Meet Wayne

International basketball competition will be encountered by Wayne University's basketball squad when it meets a quintet from Mexico City, in Central High School gymnasium, on February 3. The Mexican team, organized by the Y.M.C.A. of Mexico City, will have covered the greatest distance ever traveled by a Wayne opponent coming to play a Detroit game. Since the team includes a number of college stars from the University of Mexico, Coach Newman H. Ertell anticipates an interesting contest.

The Wayne team will start the day after the international game on its annual "between semesters" trip. First on the schedule is the University of Akron, February 5, the College of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio, February 6; and Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa., February 8.

Students Being Enrolled for February Classes at University of Detroit

The University of Detroit will enroll students in February for the first semester work in the College of Arts and Sciences, Commerce and Finance (day division) and Engineering.
The February freshmen programs are being arranged for January high school graduates and for students who had been kept from entering college last fall because of economic circumstances. Freshmen classes will begin on Feb. 8. Registration will be held on Feb. 4, 5 and 6 (till noon).
January high school graduates and other planning to enter college this February are invited to visit the Student Counsel Bureau to discuss their college problems. The Bureau is open daily from 9 to 4 in Room 107 Science Building, McNichols Road campus.

Some of the red-and-black ants organize robber bands which attack neighboring rival mounds, trying to steal eggs and larvae. These attacks are met by soldier ants, who are also robber ants, depending upon which side they are fighting. They are equipped with formic acid, much the same as bees.

Once No Compliment
When you say of someone that she is "charming," you wouldn't believe that, had you said this some centuries ago, your friend would have run the risk of being burned alive. But "charming" was then a real synonym of "bewitching," dealt with by death.

Water Spectacles Are Promised for Great Lakes Exposition

They're going to be "in the swim" in an even more enticing way than last year—these bathing beauties who already are practicing spectacular water formations for the greatly enlarged Marine Theatre at the Great Lakes Exposition this summer.

What if the Frost King has mantled their lakefront setting with his icy handiwork? There's work to do—so bevy of water nymphs (or do they gather in schools like other inhabitants of the deep?) are keeping fit in nearby pools where they can laugh at wintry blasts.

Although they're of amateur standing under the regulations of the A.A.U., a glimpse of these daughters of Neptune disporting themselves in the water would dispel any notion that they're novices.

Under the watchful eye of Coach Floyd Zimmerman, a group of charmers are being put through their paces weekly in a downtown pool. Still tanned from their appearances at last year's water show, the graceful girl swimmers are perfecting new novelties for the marine extravaganza featuring the 1937 Exposition.

When Cleveland's big fair opens May 29 for its run of 101 days through September 6, the Marine Theatre bids to eclipse every previous aquatic headliner.

Presented in even more resplendent style on its big stage on Lake Erie's shore, the show will introduce nationally famous swimming stars to feature the outstanding acts, while the water ballet, a thing of beauty, will be unique. Comedy will be intermingled in the daily program, which promise to draw a record number of spectators mounting into the hundreds of thousands before the Exposition closes.

With Nature providing an unrivaled setting for the Marine Theatre acts, present plans indicate that this popular feature of the Exposition will achieve a new high-water mark in the show world.

New York World's Fair Site From 9,000 Feet Up

NEW YORK, (Special).—Photography and ingenuity combine to show about how the New York Fair will appear in 1939 to visitors arriving from the west in planes flying at an altitude of one and three-quarters miles. Cameraman made this "shot" from a plane over the New Jersey meadows. Shown in the foreground is the shipping along the Hudson—Manhattan with its towers grouped about the Empire State building (center) which houses present headquarters of the Fair—and in the middle distance the 1,216 1/2 acre site of the 1939 international exposition. To the right lies Brooklyn and, beyond, the hinterland of Long Island. At the extreme left, spanning the East river, is the new Triborough bridge over which many of the 50,000,000 visitors expected at the Fair will motor to the convenient parking lots. A photograph of the table model of the Fair has been superimposed on the negative of the air view to show the grid of the central exhibit zone, the boat-basin being constructed on Flushing Bay and the lagoons that will feature the exposition's amusement zone.

On and Off the Records

By Lee Montgomery

The automobile industry has gone far in making cars fool proof and safe in driving. Steel bodies and shatter-proof glass have saved many people from serious injury.

The bill will make it a general law that all automobiles be equipped with safety belts similar to those worn by aviators.

The safety belt would be easily strapped on and would hinder the freedom of movement of leags or arms.

The auditors are wondering whether they can persuade county clerk, Caspar Lingeman, to accept new furniture.

boasts one of the few 'old fashioned' roll top desks.

So far, Lingeman has found no time to even consider what his desk looks like. He has been busy studying personnel and office efficiency.

Lingeman says the success of such a plan would depend on complete cooperation by other county clerks in the state.

Benjamin Pelham who has been the very heart of county government for over forty years will celebrate his 75th birthday on February 7th.

A new machine was installed in the Photostat Department which is one of the few like it in existence, and is the last word in recording efficiency. This machine photographs, washes, and dries in one procedure. It will speed up recording of records and save time and money for county government.

A complete rejuvenation of the photostat department has been made to make room for the new equipment.

While not hit as bad as the country south of Michigan, which has seen death and destruction sweep through the land by flood, Wayne County has had a flood of its own which has destroyed crops and flooded homes.

This touch of flood which has hit home gives us an idea of the loss and suffering such a catastrophe causes.

Y., will give a talk on "Germany-Black Patches on Brown Pants" and Mr. Entwistle, a magician will entertain. Fathers and sons of the community are welcome. Call Mrs. E. Plegler to reserve a place.

French Paintings on Exhibit at Art Institute

French paintings from the time of Louis XIV will fill the large exhibition gallery of the Detroit Institute of Arts during February, representing two entirely different currents of life in France in the 17th century.

The La Tour and Le Nain pictures, which are being shown this winter in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, and Detroit, are on loan from various museums and private collections including the Louvre, the Rijks museum of Amsterdam, and the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The exhibition will be further supplemented by thirty drawings and water colors by Paul Cezanne and Pierre Renoir, French painters of the last century who figured prominently in the development of modern art, and so visitors to the Institute during Feb will see the old and the new, as well as the popular and classic, in two great centuries of French painting.

Sportsman's Exhibit Featured at Detroit-Michigan Exposition

A special dreamland for the man who at this session wanders vaguely around the house with a joint of bamboo and a bottle of shellac will be provided in the Detroit and Michigan Exposition April 2-11.

Coming as it does just before "opening day," the Mid-West Sportsman's Show will include the newest gadgets for fishermen as well as other outdoor folk. Complete lines of fishing tackle, guns, archery, motorboats, camp equipment and trailers will be provided in a startling woodland setting.

A full-size casting pool will be in the center of the hall and the scene of a full program of fly and bait-casting competitions for novice and professional anglers. A world champion and several other top-flight experts will give demonstrations and instructions during the exposition.

A dozen or more popular sports will be represented. Nearby will be the great educational display of the Michigan Conservation department, including living exhibits in settings suggesting their native habitat and animated presentation of the newest methods of preserving natural resources.

Virtually all space for the Sportsman's Show already has been allotted. This year, as heretofore, the Exposition will be under auspices of the Detroit Convention and Tourist Bureau. It is produced on a non-profit basis, and money taken is turned back into improvement of the event and into further advertising Michigan to the world.

Aborigines Know Their Vitamins

Present emphasis on the energizing value of Vitamin B in the everyday diet brings to light a Polynesian story of how the League of Nations once had to make a choice between inebriety and beri, a Vitamin B deficiency disease.

On a Pacific Island called Nauru, in Polynesia, which is an Australian mandated territory, the aborigines were in the habit of consuming an alcoholic beverage prepared from yeast.

The League of Nations stepped in, according to L. J. Harris, vitamin authority, and prohibited its use. The result was that inebriety disappeared among the adults only to be replaced by outbreaks of beri beri among the breast-fed infants.

The explanation of the spread of the paralytic disease lay in the fact that since yeast is a rich source of Vitamin B, the forbidden beverage had been the native's protection against beri beri.

Faced with the new dilemma, the authorities permitted the reintroduction of the "toddy" with the proviso that it didn't ferment too long, and the infant death rate immediately fell from 50 per cent to 7 per cent.

Today, on this same island, white flour and polished rice are prohibited because the refining has eliminated the B content. Only wholemeal flour and brown rice may now be purchased in the native stores.

Lawrence Tech Meets Two Foes

Coach Phil Sachs' Lawrence Tech Blue Devils, leaders of the Michigan-Ontario Collegiate Conference basketball race will meet two teams this week.

Thursday night the local engineers will play Highland Park Junior College in a return engagement. The Tech team won earlier in the season by a 45-12 score. The game will be played at Highland Park High School gym.

Saturday night, the Lawrence cagers will oppose the University of Western Ontario quintet at Central High School gym. A curtain raiser will begin at 7:30 with the college team starting at 8:30. Lawrence Tech defeated the Canadians early this season at London by a 30-24 score.

Sach's team defeated Ferris Institute of Big Rapids, Michigan, last Saturday night by a 31-15 score.

First Europeans in India. Cochin, Southern India, situated on the Arabian sea, was the site of one of the first European settlements on the Indian peninsula. Cabral dropped anchor in the harbor in 1500 after his attack on Calicut, 100 miles up the coast. Two years later Vasco da Gama visited the port. The next year Albuquerque arrived and built the first European fort in the East. On Christmas day, 1524, Da Gama died at Cochin, and was entombed in a local monastery until his remains were removed to Portugal in 1538.

INSURANCE TIPS

By H. Thompson Stock
Evolution of the Fire Insurance Contract

The fire insurance contract as well as man has evolved. Today's standard fire insurance contract is quite different from that of two hundred years ago when insurance companies put their own fire departments for reducing losses.

Originally the fire insurance contract consisted of two parts—the policy and insurance contract which are now the proposals. The proposals consisted of conditions relating to the found in the inside pages of the policy. Later as it is discovered that some property was more hazardous than other property, fire insurance contracts were issued that contained the policy, proposals and classifications into one document. Short forms however were issued by some companies as early as one hundred years ago.

The contract, itself, was so large that it was known as blanket form. The size was reduced till the advent of the typewriter.

The general practice was to issue policies for long periods of time—7 to 31 years with annual payments and receipts therefore similar to the present day practice in life, accident and certain casualty insurance. Even today in the United States there are fire companies that write insurance on the perpetual basis but 5 years is the longest time that can be written in Michigan.

Each company prepared its own policy in accord with general practice and with its own whims. Legal decisions either in favor of the company or otherwise sometimes would result in changes in the conditions or new conditions. Some companies pointed out important premiums with capital letters, figures of a hard or red underlining. Others put important provisions in fine print.

Inasmuch as one company usually would assume only part of the risk, sometimes there were many companies insuring the risk. This brought difficulties in settling a loss.

The Buffalo Y.M.C.A. asked Senator McMillan of the New York state legislature for legal advice to help them out of the difficulties. He saw the need for a standard fire insurance contract and originated a bill for a standard fire insurance contract. A committee composed of insurance men and attorneys with advice from the companies drew up a standard contract that became effective in 1886. Most of the other states make the same law with or without revisions compulsory.

In 1917 the contract was revised again—simplified and rearranged somewhat. However, there is still room for improvement as the forms attached to the policies today nullify and modify many of the conditions in the policy itself with the result that the policy to the average person still requires a Philadelphia lawyer to find his way amid the maze of contradictory statements.

Diets . . . Old and New

First, it was calories and more recently vitamins that have made modern nutritionists look back at food habits of past days and wonder how our forefathers kept their health or even their lives.

Many foods once considered "poisonous" are necessities in a balanced diet today. The despised tomato, once grown only as an ornament, is known now as one of the richest vitamin sources; cod liver oil is a recognized item in the American diet of today; brewers' yeast is taking its place as the best source of Vitamin B; and spinach, carrots and vegetables once referred to only as "not harmful" are necessary parts of a healthful diet.

Meat and farinaceous food had the preference over fresh fruits and vegetables two generations ago. Spinach, carrots, lettuce, tomatoes, celery, endive, mushrooms, lima beans, corn, green beans, and peas, now so commonplace, were entirely unknown approximately three generations back. The staple vegetables were potatoes, cabbage, onions, radishes, and fruit, in season. Apples were favorites because they kept.

Quaint dietetic advice was the order of the day in the fifteen hundreds, and the quality of the advice improved very slowly. One old book, "Diet's Dry Dinner" contains the advice that spinach "doth cure the cough, make the belly soluble, and the weasand smooth." The radish "causeth leanness, belchings, headache, and lice"; and carrots are "of small nourishment slowly digested".

John Locke offered similarly healthy advice in the suggestion that bread should be eaten plentifully, both alone and with something else.

Meals that at one time needed only to be filled must now supply the body with energy, material for growth and for replacement of tissue waste, enough water, enough inorganic mineral salts, vitamins, and bulk, and must help to maintain the neutrality of the body.

Scientists' only explanation of how our ancestors lived is that nature can turn anything in food to good account if there is enough of it.

Coast Guard Rescues Flood Victims

Flood victims in coast guard boats shown arriving at Jeffersonville, Ind., across the river from Louisville, Ky., where they were placed on refugee trains and taken to safety further north. Floods on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers were the worst in the history of the country. More than 1,000,000 people were made homeless by the treacherous waters that rose over retaining walls, inundated cities and towns and covered rich farm areas. Damage of property exceeded half a billion dollars.

Orphans of the Flood Find Refuge

Refugee children from the flooded districts of northern and eastern Arkansas are shown asleep on the floor of a railroad station following their rescue. With millions of acres of farm land under water and countless cities inundated, the Ohio and Mississippi valleys experienced the most devastating flood in history.

Father-Son Observance to Be February 8-22

Dates for the annual Father-and-Son observance in Greater Detroit have been announced as February 8 to 22 by Boyd L. Walker, boys' work secretary of the Metropolitan Y. M. C. A., who is also secretary of the observance committee.

February 8 to 15 has been set aside for church and home programs, while February 15 to 22 has been reserved for programs in the schools and by various organizations. Father-and-Son "Go to Church Sunday" has been set for February 14, with special services to be held in practically all the churches of the city.

This will mark the 20th annual observance, which last year resulted in several hundred dinners, meetings and programs being held throughout the city. Unusual interest has been apparent in the plans for this year's observance, with the outlook for a larger number of meetings this year than ever before.

The movement has definitely taken a place in the life of the city, especially among the churches and schools. Both of these groups have given their most active co-operation, with pastors and school teachers taking a conspicuous part in the program and general arrangements.

The Father-and-Son movement is strictly non-sectarian, with all religious faiths represented, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish. Among the groups that have taken a very active part in the movement are the Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Boy Scouts, Parent-Teachers Association, fraternal organizations and business men's clubs in general. The executive committee in charge of the observance comprises representatives from all these organizations. The headquarters are the Downtown Y. M. C. A.

Groups desiring suggestions as to speakers, song leaders, entertainers, or any other information may obtain it by getting in touch with Mr. Walker at his offices in the Downtown Y. M. C. A. building.

Victory Dinners Planned by Democratic Party for Wiping Out 1936 Deficit

The Democratic National Committee is completing plans for wiping out its 1936 Presidential campaign deficit with a series of nation-wide Victory dinners, according to a joint statement given out this week by Chairman James A. Farley and W. Forbes Morgan, treasurer.

The plan as outlined is similar to that followed last January when the Jackson Day dinners raised nearly $350,000, with which the eight-year-old party deficit remaining from the 1928 campaign was wiped out. At that time nearly 2,000 dinners were held in every State in the Union as well as in Hawaii, Porto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

In their joint statement, Chairman Farley and Mr. Morgan announced that March 4, the fourth anniversary of Franklin D. Roosevelt's inauguration as President of the United States, had been decided on as the date for the dinners.

"We feel," said the statement, "just as we felt last January, that this is the most democratic method of raising party funds. In this way every member of the party, by attending one of the dinners, has an opportunity to contribute his or her share to the cause, rather than that a few should bear the whole brunt of it."

As was the case last year, arrangements are being made for the President to attend the National dinner at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, from where he will address all the other dinners throughout the country by means of a nation-wide hook-up of all major radio networks. Tickets for this dinner will cost $100 a piece, of which amount $95 will be a contribution to the party's treasury. A $50 per plate dinner will be held in New York City at the Commodore Hotel. In Washington, for those unable to attend the $100 dinner, a $10 per plate dinner will be held at the Willard Hotel. The dinners throughout the rest of the country will be priced at from $3 to $25 per plate, depending upon the size of the community.

Last year Mrs. Roosevelt was the guest of honor at the Willard dinner in Washington. It is expected that Vice President, Garnet, will attend the New York City dinner.

A former Grosse Pointe High star, Garretson was the leading player on the unbeaten Tartar frosh quintet which has registered triumphs over Adams "Y," the Business Institute, Grand Rapids J. C., and the Central State frosh.

"Bartimaeus with Blind Eyes but Seeing Soul" will be the subject of the sermon at the Grosse Pointe Lutheran Church, worshipping in the auditorium of the Richard School, Kercheval avenue and McKinley road, Sunday morning, February 7, at 11 o'clock, preached by the Rev. M. Luther Canup, D. D., pastor.

Christian Science Churches

"Spirit" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 7.

Among the Bible Citations is the following (Phil. 3:13, 14): "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended; but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 254): "Imperfect mortals grasp the ultimate of spiritual perfection slowly; but to begin aright and to continue the strife of demonstrating the great problem of being, is doing much."

Theosophical Society to Present Book Review

Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in Theosophical Hall, 1509 Broadway, Donna Sherry, past president of the Theosophical Society in Detroit, will give a Book-review on Claude Bragdon's book, "The Eternal Poles."

This is a book about Love in all its forms and phases—and is a thoroughly integrated conception of Love, so ancient that it has been forgotten, and seems ultra-modern. Bragdon writes in an "eloquent and persuasive style" and it is a bold contribution to the discussion of the most pressing of all human problems.

Historical Memorials Society Costume Tea

The forty-fifth annual costume tea of the Historic Memorials Society will take place Friday afternoon, February 12 (Lincoln's Birthday), from 2 to 5 o'clock, in the R. H. Fyfe auditorium, Woodward avenue at West Adams. Mrs. Frederick Conant Gilbert is general chairman, assisted by a number of committee chairmen. Heirloom costumes will be worn, and a program of merit will be presented under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lewis C. Dunn. Always a feature of the tea is a table of pots of ivy, grown from cuttings from the ivy at Mt. Vernon, home of George Washington. This custom is continued from the days when the society was the Mt. Vernon Society, and the costume tea was a Colonial tea held on or near Washington's birthday. Since the re-organization of the society in 1922 as the Historic Memorials Society, the tea has been held on or near Lincoln's Birthdays, as in this instance.

What to Serve Today

WHAT TO SERVE TODAY
What shall I serve today? is often a perplexing question. How to plan nourishing, economical meals, without sacrificing variety or appetite appeal, is no light task. An answer to that ever prevailing search for something different may be found in the following menus—

CREAM OF SPINACH SOUP
1 pound spinach
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour
4 cups fresh pasteurized milk
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon salt
Wash spinach thoroughly. Add 1 cup boiling water, and cook rapidly in an open kettle for 15 minutes, occasionally turning with fork. Drain thoroughly and put spinach through a puree sieve—there should be ¾ cup puree. Melt butter in saucepan; add flour, and blend. Add 1 cup milk and cook with constant stirring until thickened. Add rest of milk and pureed spinach. Add sugar and salt and heat thoroughly. Yield: 5 servings.

LIVER CROQUETTES
½ pound beef liver
2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup fresh pasteurized milk
1 teaspoon onion juice
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
1 egg, beaten
1½ cups diced stale bread
½ teaspoon salt
Put liver through meat chopper, using medium cutter. Melt butter, blend flour; add milk, and cook with constant stirring until thickened. Remove from fire and add liver, onion juice, parsley, salt and egg. Stir in breadcrumbs. Chill mixture until stiff enough to handle. Drop by heaping tablespoons into fine breadcrumbs and roll to form a cylinder. Fry in deep fat at 350° F until nicely browned. Serve hot, with or without tomato sauce. Yield: 19 croquettes.

Tomato Sauce
2 slices bacon, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup tomato juice
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 tablespoon sugar
Pan-fry bacon until slightly browned, add onion, and cook until onion is soft; then add flour and brown slightly. Add remaining ingredients and cook with constant stirring, until sauce boils; then lower flame and simmer 5 minutes. Serve with liver Croquettes, or with any kind of meat or fish. Yield: ¾ cup.

HARD SAUCE
1-3 cup butter
1 egg white
2 tablespoons coffee cream
About 2 cups confectioners' sugar
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 teaspoons sherry (if desired)
Cream butter, stir in cream and egg white, and add sugar gradually, beating until smooth. Last, add the flavorings. Mold, cover tightly, and place in refrigerator until ready to serve. Yield: Enough for 5 generous servings.

Marygrove College Glee Club Presents "In Merry Mood"

"In Merry Mood", the annual presentation of the Dramatic Society and the Glee Club, of Marygrove College, will be presented on Friday and Saturday nights, February 5 and 6, at 8:00 p. m. This activity, for the benefit of the students scholarship fund, is the only fund-raising activity given by the College.

The 41 members of the Glee Club are giving "The Last Tea of Tsuki," a Japanese scene for women's voices, by Walliser and Blum. The two solos will be sung by Ida Rose Scharf, alto, and Ruth Kraeutler, soprano. The Dramatic Society has chosen "The Day's Good Cause", by M. E. Atkinson, and Rostand's "Romancers" is being used, because its Romeo and Juliet theme makes it complete in itself.

Some of the girls who take parts in the first play, whose setting is in England, are Lauretta Smith, Margaret Guerin, Margaret Mary Kerwin, Jackie Scanlon, Dorothy Sweeney, and Marion Lyons. Grace Marie Virga and Helen Millard play the leads in "The Romancers". Mary Winifred Kerwin, Hilda Jones, and Betty Ann Horton complete this cast.

Other current activities of the college have been the mid-semester examinations, which were in session from Wed., Jan. 20 until Tues., Jan. 26, and the annual three-day retreat which was held from Jan. 27 to Jan. 29, and was given by The Rev. Father Donald F. Miller, C.S.R., editor of The Liguorian, a Catholic monthly published by the Redemptorist Fathers, in Oconomowoc, Wis. The new semester begins Feb. 2.

Michigan Essay Contest In Its Final Stage

Students all over Michigan in four age groups are contesting in a $200 essay contest on "What Michigan Means to Me." In several counties, the contest is being made part of a Michigan project in the schools and will be used to enable students to learn and tell more of what they know about the state in which they live. The contest is approved by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Eugene B. Elliott, and many superintendents of city schools including Frank Gody, superintendent of Detroit schools.

Awards will include, in each class, $25 for first, $10 second, $5 third and five awards of $2 each, and 25 season tickets to the Detroit and Michigan Exposition at Convention Hall April 2-11. Age classifications are (a) Grades 4, 5 and 6; (b) Grades 7, 8 and 9; (c) Grades 10, 11 and 12; (d) students at colleges and universities. No entry may exceed 500 words in length. All must be in ink or typewritten and bear the age, grade, school and address of the contestant.

No limitation on the subject matter has been imposed by the contest committee who wanted contestants to have full range in expressing the loyalty and pride they feel toward their home state.

Commenting on the contest, James Vernor, Jr., president of the Detroit Convention and Tourist Bureau which is sponsoring the exposition, said: "All of us know that Michigan is at the top as a vacation and tourist state, but we do not all understand why visitors came to spend $315,000,000 here last year. All Michigan people should know their state and tell why they are proud of Michigan."

Y. M. C. A. Opera Club to Present 'The Mikado'

Presentation of its first opera of the season, "The Mikado," in the Scottish Rite Cathedral on the night of February 12 by the Downtown "Y" Opera Club will be welcomed by the many lovers of classical music in this community.

The Gilbert and Sullivan musical satire will be presented by a cast of 65 singers and musicians under the direction of Louis LaValle, veteran professional producer, who has directed the presentation of operas by the "Y" club for several years.

Argument Against Christianity

In early Christian days, when the pagan world fought the introduction of the Bible, unbelievers argued that the freaks of nature, pygmies and the like, proved the impossibility of the descent of all men from Adam.
