

Candidates File For Township Offices

News Digest

As the strike parley progresses we begin to understand many things about this strike that makes us feel somewhat in sympathy with General Motors.

It seems upon the face of things that Mr. Lewis is desirous of setting himself up as dictator of the plant. The various organizations deserve representation according to their numbers, no single organization can express the sentiment of the other organizations without getting together.

Mr. Roosevelt is meeting with opposition to his plan for increasing the number of Supreme Court judges. Evidently they feel the need for brakes to keep the ship from slipping.

In Europe they talk of killing Communists by the thousands as though it was just slaughtering so many cattle.

In Soviet Russia they kill Communists also, but only when they desire that they be free from the toils of Communism.

Postal officials do not favor the shipping of skunk skins through the mails, but such a problem faced them in New York State several days ago. The post is taking an airing in the field at present.

Appointment to a non-existing job in Detroit caused quite a furore among city officials early this week.

A Louis-Braddock fight is being prepared for in Chicago, but the promoters are still seeking a site for the spectacular event. It seems that Soldiers Field will not be available.

Chrysler steps into the lead again with another pay boost for thousands of employees. A splendid idea for keeping satisfied workmen.

Most men prefer work to dole, but there are many men today on welfare rolls who will never work again as long as they can get food and living quarters for their families without working for it. A difficult problem to solve.

Considering the fact that there are many plants licensed to manufacture and sell liquor there are numerous stills for the revenueurs to search for.

Do you know that over 5,000 automobile accidents have occurred in Detroit since January 1st, a new high over last year. Be careful and consider the other fellow when you drive.

Imported Brushes Featured at Schettler Drug Stores

The famous imported Kent brushes, noted for their exceptionally fine quality, are featured this week by the Schettler Drug company, at their two Grosse Pointe stores. It is a splendid opportunity to secure your brushes at a saving.

A delightful assortment of Valentine perfumes of merit are also available, and delicious chocolates in heart shaped boxes.

A marionette show is to be presented to junior members of the club Friday night at 8 o'clock. The Detroit Department of Recreation puts on the show.

G. M. Strike Controversy

The present controversy now existing between the General Motors Corporation and the U. A. W. seems to us to be treated in the general newspapers in a manner that does not bring forth all the dangerous possibilities existing in this present crisis.

The main point at issue seems to be as to whether or not the General Motors Corporation will trade only with the U. A. W. as a sole representative of labor. In order to effectuate this, the U. A. W. have taken matters in their own hands and have sought to force the General Motors to only deal with the U. A. W. sole bargaining power of labor by instituting what is commonly known as a sit-down strike.

Now, to first get the general character of both parties in this controversy, we believe that we must assume that both parties are partly right and partly wrong—the question being as to which is, as we might term it, more in the wrong. There can be no doubt that General Motors has certain rights, and there can be also no doubt that the U. A. W. have certain rights. We believe that no one can deny the fact that labor unions have produced a great deal of good for the people at large, regardless of whether or not they belong to unions because it is absolutely apparent that without organized action neither wages or working conditions would be what they are, were it not for the concerted action of different unions. There can be no doubt in anybody's mind that a properly organized union has a great and beneficent influence when properly organized and controlled by the members themselves and not a few racketeering officials.

We have, for instance, the Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers, which is recognized as being one of the finest unions ever organized in the United States. This union is a responsible union because of the fact, as we understand it, they have assets of about seven million dollars; that this union has hospitals, recreation spots, convalescent homes, and we believe, a home for the aged and infirmed members. However, whether or not they have all of these or have more, it is an accepted fact that this union bases its demands on reasonable grounds, because they understand the working and the earnings of the different railroads and therefore only make just and reasonable demands for wages and working conditions. Also, it is a fact that because this union has such large assets, that they do not go off half-cocked and make impossible and weird demands upon the railroads.

In Chicago and in New York, it is well known that a great number of the unions are controlled by racketeers. These racketeer officials control the actions of the union and the union members get the blame for the action from these officials. However, there is absolutely no doubt in anyone's mind that the ordinary union man is a high-class American citizen and does not himself enter into the plans practiced by these racketeering officials.

These racketeering officials control their unions by having certain men present at the different meetings held by the unions, and when an honest and lawful union member, not a member of this racketeering clique, criticizes or suggests changes that would benefit the union, but would be of no real benefit to the interest of the racketeering officials, these men are slugged or otherwise thrown out of these different organizations. Is this the case in Flint? Is the U. A. W. controlled by the conscience of its members, or is it in the control of racketeers or communists?

The suggestion offered at the end of this article would, it seems to us, answer this question satisfactorily, and that is a secret ballot.

No doubt there are other organizations of union men that are just as reasonable, and do as much good, as this union. However, we have a different situation existing in the present crisis. Assume, for the sake of argument, that the General Motors has made so much money that they could have raised the wages of their employees and still have issued substantial returns to their stockholders. Nevertheless, this matter does not seem to be the paramount issue in this case. It is not a question at issue here. The issue seems to be, boiled down to a statement, as to whether or not the General Motors or the U. A. W. will control and manage the General Motors Corporation, or whether the General Motors Corporation shall manage its own business.

There can be no doubt in the minds of any responsible man, we believe, that the employees of the General Motors Corporation have a right to strike, to demand better wages and better working conditions; that these demands could be first forced to the attention of the General Motors by a strike, and later on could be arbitrated satisfactorily. However, when the employees of this corporation, by force and arms, take possession of the plants and not only keep out other men, willing to work there, but also keep out by force of arms the officials of the General Motors (these officials in themselves representing the ownership of many thousands of other people owning stock in the corporation). This has gone beyond all possibilities of reason or common sense.

A similar situation, it seems, existed in Italy, prior to Mussolini taking over the government. It is said that Mussolini by expelling these men in Italy from the factories, that they had taken over, averted anarchism. What then is the difference in Italy at that time and the situation now existing in Flint at the present time? Is it not Anarchy? Or, if not Anarchy, is it not the opening wedge of Communism? Is not communism the running of different businesses by different committees, under the head of one man—so-called working men's committees? Is there any difference between the situation in Flint and the conditions existing, as we understand them, in communistic Russia? Are we not getting close to communism (and in this case we are actually entertaining communism in our state) when we allow such conditions to go unchecked?

Note well the fact that it is reported in the papers that bands of workers paraded in Flint—wearing red berets and red bands on their arms. Is it not a fact that Mr. Lewis, when arriving in Detroit, was met at the depot by a crowd singing the Internationale? Is it not a fact that a great number of the leaders are open and avowed communists? Is it not a fact that bands of thugs from other cities have invaded Flint and even gone so far as to attack the Chief of Police and drive the police force off of the streets? Is it not a fact that the Sheriff at the present time seems to be powerless? Is it not a fact that the citizens of Flint have either organized or attempted to organize their own citizens to protect their own property?

The General Motors had certain legal rights to evict the sit-down strikers, but these rights were not fully effectuated until last Friday, when the order for eviction was signed. Therefore, the Government of the State and the militia present in Flint can not be criticized for their inaction, as the General Motors had not completed their legal remedies until last Friday.

Big Fistic Encounter by Review Employees

The boys in the composing room of the Grosse Pointe Review thought the office was a fistic ring, and began a furious battle which ended with very few casualties. The principals fought like mad for some time. A blow by blow account of the gladiators follows:

Round One—Draw.

However, this seems to be the question now: If the General Motors Corporation attempts to serve its purposes, should not the whole force of the State of Michigan be exerted in its behalf to expel the sit-down strikers from the plants of the General Motors?

This should be the first step taken so that no man can do anything that may be the opening wedge to communism in the United States. If the U. A. W. is honest in its assertion that they represent a large majority of the workers, why can not an election be held while the militia are still present to keep order?

The General Motors could furnish a list of all its employees, and have each member cast a secret ballot, similar to ballots cast in elections where an amendment is to be passed upon.

In other words, one or more questions could be put upon the ballot similar to this: "Do you desire that the U. A. W. be the collective bargaining agent in this plant?"

And under that two spaces for a cross to be placed either after yes or no. Therefore, if an election of this kind could be held any and all disputes between the arbitrators. Mr. Lewis and Mr. Knudsen, could be placed upon the ballot, and after the ballots were counted there would then be a free and untrammelled opinion of the employees of the factories.

If an election of this character were held, neither Mr. Lewis or Mr. Knudsen could get by the expressions of the employees. This would seem to me a reasonable way to get the opinion of the workers, and then, based upon these expressed opinions, Mr. Knudsen and Mr. Lewis could arrive at an amicable arrangement.

"Soul" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 14.

Among the Bible Citations is the following (Ps. 25:1, 4, 5): "Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths. Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou are the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 256): "Advancing to a higher plane of action, thought rises from the material sense to the spiritual, from the scholastic to the inspirational, and from the mortal to the immortal."

St. Martin's Defeated by Rohdes Insurance

In the second round of tournament play Rohde Insurance defeated a much improved St. Martin's team in an overtime game by a score of 19-17. The game was a see-saw battle until the closing second, when Tommy Gregory, captain of Rohde Insurance, dropped two free throws to send the game into an overtime period.

Ernie Noel's accurate pass enabled Joe Cavanaugh to sink the winning basket. Gregory and Cavanaugh were high scorers for the Rohde quintet, while Breckels and Roscoe were outstanding for St. Martin's.

Brick Walls for Recreation Rooms

One basement recreation room achieved an unusual effect by keeping the brick walls that were used in the rest of the cellar. The bricks were painted alternate colors. Homes built under the Insurance Mortgage System of the Federal Administration may have recreation rooms in basement or attic, if the owner chooses.

Lincoln as the Loneliest Man

"I AM the loneliest man in America." These words dropped from the lips of Abraham Lincoln one evening in 1833, that period which was so dark and unpromising for the cause of the Union.

In March, 1833, writes W. H. Smith in the Washington Post, I heard the incident related to a small group of distinguished men by Bishop Ames of the Methodist church. I do not know if it has ever appeared in print, but if it has, it is worth retelling.

The narration took place in the National Hotel in Washington, in a suite of rooms then occupied by John Evans, territorial governor of Colorado, and father of Evanston, Chicago's beautiful suburb. My presence is accounted for by the fact that Governor Evans was a relative and I had called to pay my respects.

In the group were two or three Methodist bishops, a member of the senate and two of the house. I am sure no one who heard it related ever forgot it, for the impressive manner of the bishop. President Lincoln and the bishop were warm personal friends, and the President had employed the bishop on some delicate mission connected with the war. The bishop said that one evening in June, 1863, he went to the White House to call on the President. The President was in a very despondent mood. Hooker had just suffered his defeat at Chancellorsville. "The conversation lasted until a late hour of the night."

"No. I dare not despair when I know there is a God who controls the affairs of nations as He does those of individuals, but the thought of the thousands who must yet be slain is appalling." It was then he uttered the words with which this article begins. He said: "I am the loneliest man in America. There is no one to whom I can go and unload my troubles, assured of sympathy and help."

St. Paul Cagers Win from St. Josaphat's

Friday night St. Paul brought its winning streak up to eight games when the cagers defeated St. Josaphat's by a 21-11 score. Al Ghesquiere featured the game when he sank three foul shots and made two baskets, while Bob Allor sank three baskets, Thursday night the team takes on St. Rose in a league tilt on the St. Paul floor.

CO-OPERATION

Full support of the state government for the Detroit and Michigan Exposition as an event vital to the business life of the state again is evidenced in the generous cooperation of state departments.

The great highway department, under Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagener, will be represented by an elaborate display that will be staffed by men able to give information and to direct visitors to every part of the state and to explain industrial and vacation opportunities to be found.

The Conservation department, under Director P. J. Hoffmaster, will have an animated display of natural resources in fish and game and forests, and interesting movies as an educational feature visualizing methods for maintaining Michigan as the No. 1 vacationland it now is rated in the nation.

The four State Tourist Associations will have a new display of resort and scenic attractions and will maintain a complete Where-to-Go bureau for the information of visitors who wish to see the actual resources and play spots the Exposition will dramatize.

by H. Thompson Stock On account of increase in fire protection, the National Board of Fire Underwriters has changed the classification of Lochmoor from class 19 to class 7 for rating purposes. The class 10 rate for a one family frame or brick veneer with a wood shingle roof is $95 per $100 for three years. The class 7 rate is $65 per $100 for three years, a reduction of about 30%, which will help pay the increased taxes for the cost and maintenance of the new facilities. In order to get the benefit of the new rates at once, dwelling policies have to be cancelled and rewritten for at least the same amount and same term of the cancelled policies. The new policies must be with the same company and agent. Business properties, schools, churches and clubs will have to have their buildings re-rated individually and should request their agents to take the necessary steps and precautions.

LINCOLN

WISE with the wisdom of ages, Shrewd as the man of trade, Grim as the prophets and sages, Keen as a damask blade; Firm as a granite-ribbed mountain, Tender as woman's song, Gay as a scintillant fountain— Yet was he, oak-stem strong. Here, the wonder of sons: Born into pain and strife; Dead, with a thousand peons Deathless, he enters life. —Thomas Curtis Clarke, in Rural New-Yorker.

termed "that meddlesome body," the committee on the conduct of war. The President rapidly reviewed Grant's record since he joined the army. He was at Cairo with a small force. He urgently asked permission to move, saying he would win a victory. The consent was long delayed, but it came at last. Within two or three hours his men were on the steamers, and the brilliant victory of Belmont followed.

"Grant," He Said, "Fights, and That Is What I Want."

It was not a great victory, for the forces engaged were not large, but it was a beginning and showed the mettle of Grant.

Back to Cairo, with a larger force he again and again urged for permission to move, and when the permission came he rushed his men to the steamers, and three days later he captured Fort Henry. Not delaying an hour he pushed his small force across the country to Fort Donelson. He was not dismayed by the fact that the force in the fort was larger than his own, but immediately locked the doors on that force. When the rest of his men reached him, by a series of brilliant assaults, he captured, not alone the fort, but an army almost equal in number to his own.

At Shiloh, unlike any other general, he remained to fight after his disaster on the first day, he made no effort to get the remains of his army across the river, but at daylight the next morning became the attacking party, winning a victory. He was now at Vicksburg, and complaints of his delay were many. Only that day two senators had urged Lincoln to displace Grant, but he would not do it. "Grant," he said, "fights, and that is what I want." He said Grant had promised him he would capture Vicksburg by the fourth of July, and he intended to give him the opportunity.

The President, with deep earnestness, then declared: "When he captures Vicksburg, I will find some way to boost him over the heads of all others, and give him command of all the armies. With Grant in command, by Jinks!" (his favorite expletive) "the armies will move and move to some purpose. He fights."

Obedience

PERHAPS there is no mental quality more necessary to the happiness, health, prosperity, peace of mind, and success of the human race than obedience. Harmony is the proof of obedience to God's law, while discord is the result of disobedience to His law. The happiest homes are those wherein the Golden Rule is obeyed, where the children are taught to be obedient through love, and where the elders set an example of obedience to divine Principle, God, good.

A little child who has been rightly taught to obey God, will obey his parents and his school teachers, and will have little trouble later in life in observing the rules or regulations of his college or university. Obedience to truth gives man power and strength. If we observe closely, we shall find that the great and good characters in history, and all who have achieved true success, have been obedient to their highest sense of good, and have prospered; for, as the Bible declares (Isaiah 1:19), "If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land."

Humility and obedience go hand in hand. The latter often serves as a protection from subtle evils. An example of this is shown in the following incident. A little girl who from the cradle had been taught, through love, to obey her parents instantly, was romping with a dog in a field through which ran the main line of one of the transcontinental railroads. The father, who was on the opposite side of the track, called to her to come to him, which she started to do. Just as she was reaching the track, he suddenly discovered the fast approaching limited, which was hidden from her view by a building. There was no time for words, so he raised his right hand in a gesture to stop, which she obeyed instantly, without knowing the reason for the signal. The child's obedience saved her from being struck by the train. Her parents, who witnessed the incident, gave thanks to the Father of us all for His law of love.

The Scriptures are rich in promises of blessings to those obedient to the voice of God. Jeremiah records God as saying (7:23), "This thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you."

Habit tends to govern our acts. If we have formed habits of obedience to God's laws they lead us aright, while lawlessness leads to trouble. In "Miscellaneous Writings," Mrs. Eddy tells us (p. 117), "God is the fountain of light, and He illumines one's way when one is obedient."

Christ Jesus, our Way-shower, has set us an infallible example in his unswerving obedience to the Father's laws, and his positive refusal to accept as law that which enslaves men, namely, sin, sickness, and death. His adherence to God's law was also manifested in obedience to civil law, as, for instance, when he paid the tax or tribute money found in the fish's mouth. Realizing the need of being both humanly and spiritually law-abiding, he said (Mark 12:17), "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's."

It is vastly important for us to know what are the laws to which we are yielding obedience, for as Paul says, "Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?" The children of Israel were commanded to partake of the manna which fell daily for their use, but when in disobedience they tried to store some, it spoiled. Many lessons are given to us in the Scriptures of the results of God's protection of the obedient, and also of the dire results which befall the disobedient. In "No and Yes" (p. 30) Mrs. Eddy writes, "God's law is in three words, 'I am All'; and this perfect law is ever present to rebuke any claim of another law."—The Christian Science Monitor.

467 Vets Find Michigan Jobs
The National Reemployment Service found jobs for 467 Michigan veterans during January, Major Howard Starret State Reemployment Director, reported today.

During this period NRS offices took applications for jobs from 581 veterans bringing the number of veterans having active applications to 8,774, Major Starret said.

Of the veterans sent to work last month, 401 received jobs with private industry and private contractors while 66 were assigned to Federal relief work projects. Reinterviews were given 3,622 veterans.

The National Reemployment Service is a division of the United States Employment Service which is operated under the United States Department of Labor. There is no charge for the service.

Every effort is made to find employment for veterans when they are qualified for jobs which employers have to fill, Major Starret said.

Room's Function Consideration in the Choice of Colors

The choice of colors in painting home interiors should be governed by the purpose for which a room is to be used and the consequent amount of reflected light needed.

Where no difficult tasks, making demands upon vision, are to be performed a much lower level of illumination is permissible than in rooms, living rooms, or bedrooms. In rooms where writing, reading, and sewing are done, in kitchens, bathrooms, workshops, etc., only light colors of walls are desirable, supplemented by ceilings of white or just off-white tint.

White ceilings reflect the greatest amount of window light and assure its even diffusion.

The painting and decoration of homes may be accomplished with funds advanced by private financial institutions insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

Activities of Grosse Pointe Post No. 303

The thanks of the officers and members of Grosse Pointe Post No. 303 of the American Legion is hereby extended to all who so nobly assisted us in our effort to be of help to the unfortunate victims of the recent flood disaster. The true American spirit was manifested by all and we feel sure that those so aided by this spirit are very grateful for all help extended them in their hour of need when they found themselves unable to aid themselves. Especially are we deeply gratified by the aid of the ladies of the community. Scores of them gave freely of their worldly goods and time in order to assist in this so worthy cause. May we humbly and simply say, we thank you. The need of assistance is not yet over, and we feel that we can still depend upon all to do their part whether large or small.

Friday evening, February 19, this post is sponsoring a bingo party to be held at our headquarters, 17520 Mack avenue near Neff road. Your patronage is solicited and will be appreciated. The ladies and kiddies are especially invited and a good time will be had by all. Our usual prices will prevail and worthwhile awards will be made to the lucky ones. Play will start promptly at 8:30 p. m. so come early and stay late if you wish. There will be refreshments to suit all tastes. Co-chairmen Tom Collins and "Tex" Hoyt guarantee all a good time so if they don't make good on their promise just talk right up and tell them so.

Scouts' attention! Troop 79 is having a father and son get-together on Tuesday, March 9 at 8 p. m. All scouts and their dads are invited to attend.

Special notice! On Saturday night, February 13, at 8 p. m. a three-man saber team tournament will be held at the Neighborhood Club. It will be an A. F. L. A. city meet, including teams from DeTuscans, Spartans and Grosse Pointe Club, and any individuals may compete.

A. F. L. A. prep tournament was held at Wayne U. Sunday, February 7, and Johnny Spitzer of the Grosse Pointe Sword Club took two-firsts, one in foil and one in epee. The first in saber was taken by Dennis Johnides.

The intermediate girls' gym class has been divided into two teams—the Dynamites, captained by Margaret McIntyre and the Lightnings, captained by Dona Jean Morrison. The two teams are running a contest in which scores are kept of all games played, the team winning earns one point for each game.

The Junior Girl's class has been doing some splendid tap dancing on Thursday and when they sing their songs—well you can tell they're a peppy class. We have an idea that Charlotte Ruth is going to capture the prize in the membership contest.

Andy Teetaert has been enlisted in Andy Teetaert has been enlisted in luck!

Regular boys gym classes are held Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons. Stop at the desk and find out what day your age group meets.

A tiny tots story hour is conducted on Wednesday and Friday afternoons by Mrs. Munson. The children portray characters in the story and also draw pictures illustrating the theme. A dramatic club has also been organized under Mrs. Munson. President of the club is Margaret DeGand. The girls are learning parts for their play to be presented in March.

There is a Neighborhood Club girls basketball team coached by Mr. Elworthy. Some of the girls trying out for the team are: Ann Carr, Rita Flinary, Henrietta Kerbrat, Ann VanTine, Margaret Reno, Lee Watko, Marian and Dorothy Champine, Rita Beaupre, Lee Beaupre and Romona Hutfels.

Russ Conrad, captain of the Arizonians, has been seriously ill. We hope Russ gets along fine and all his pals say—"Here's hoping for a speedy recovery."

There is a men's gym class at the club every Monday night from 8-10 under Mr. Kaulitz. No excuses now for that waistline.

Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council Met Monday Afternoon

The February meeting of the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council was held at the library, Maryland and Jefferson avenue, Monday afternoon, February 8. The following delegates were present: Miss Florence Severs, representing the Grosse Pointe Library; Mrs. L. F. DuMahaut from the Kerby School P. T. Kiloynne from St. Ambrose League of Catholic Women, and Mrs. Charles Marden from the High School Mothers Club. An interesting report of the February meeting of the Greater Detroit Motion Picture Council was given by Miss Florence Severs. The report of Mrs. E. W. Pleger was read on the preview of "Maid of Salem," which she and Mrs. Tore Franzen attended at the Paramount Studios as the representatives of the Grosse Pointe Council. Sets of 12 research panels for "Maid of Salem" and "The Plainsman" were shown to the Council and turned over to the Visual Education Department of the Grosse Pointe Schools. Similar panels are being displayed in the Park and City branches of the Grosse Pointe Library.

Mrs. James Walmsley and Mrs. E. W. Pleger were appointed a committee of two for the month of February to collect the programs of the six theatres, estimates of whose pictures are obtainable at the library. It was voted that each delegate incorporate in her report to her organization several pictures which the council could recommend for family attendance.

Announcement was made by the president, Mrs. Charles Marden, that two programs were being planned for the next month, one at the Mason school on February 23, and one at St. Ambrose Parish House on March 3.

All... I Owe to My Angel Mother

A LITTLE girl, reared in poverty in the backwoods of Virginia, destined for a brief and none too happy life, was to grow up and bear a child whose career more than fulfilled her highest dreams for him.

Born at Patterson's Creek, Va., in 1784, Nancy Hanks went at the age of twelve to live with her aunt and uncle, Thomas and Elizabeth Sparrow, in Mercer county, Virginia. She had a chance to attend school there, and made the most of it. In a community where many of the men could neither read nor write, she learned to do both, notes a writer in the Indianapolis News.

Nancy Hanks, Mother of President Abraham Lincoln.

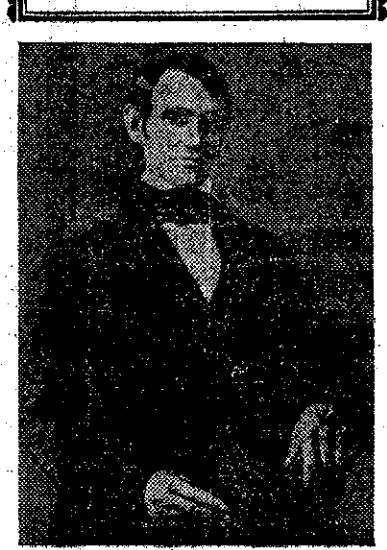

appointment at his easy-going ways was forgotten in her children; first a little girl, Sarah; then, in 1809, the son known to history as Abraham Lincoln.

Between this child and this backwoods mother there was a powerful bond of sympathy. They understood each other without words. Perhaps she felt in him her own fierce hunger for learning, for a larger, richer world.

She was thirty-four years old, and Abraham Lincoln was nine, when she fell ill of an epidemic disease known in southern Indiana (to which the family had migrated) as the milk sickness. In seven days she was dead.

Abraham helped his father to make her coffin out of green lumber cut with a whipsaw, helped to bury her in a forest clearing. There was no ceremony. This troubled the boy until several months later, they secured a wandering preacher to deliver a funeral sermon over the lonely grave.

His mother's influence stayed with him always, and was voiced in that most famous of filial epigrams: "All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother."

This is the earliest known portrait of Abraham Lincoln. It is an old daguerrotype taken in 1846, when the martyred President was thirty-seven years old, a lawyer edging towards a political career.

Strike Brings Drop in '37 Plate Sales

Effects of the "paralysis of business" in Michigan attributed to the automobile-strike situation, are strikingly apparent in records of issuance of automobile license plates by the Department of State.

A check some 20 days ago on 1937 plates sold at that time, compared with the number of 1936 plates sold on the corresponding date the year previous, showed 1937 plate sales materially ahead of those for 1936. This was expected because of the increase in registration.

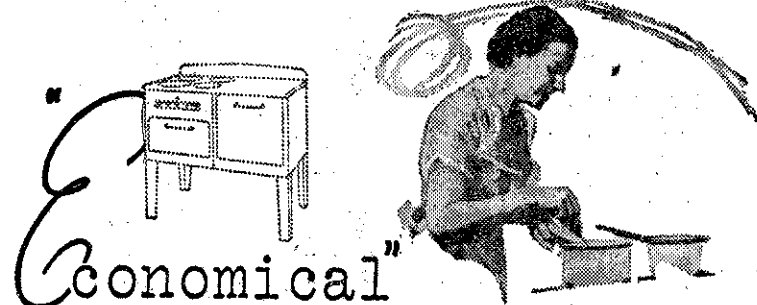

At the first of this week, however, only 280,866 plates for 1937 had been issued, against 291,537 for 1936 which had been issued at the corresponding date last year. In Genesee county seat of the current dislocation of economic difficulties, the comparison stood: 1937 plates, 12,129; 1936 plates, 14,848.

Of the difference of some 11,000 plates, more than 2,500 deferred plates purchases are accounted for in one county alone.

Countess Speaks in Town Hall Series

Countess Judith Listowel, who speaks at the Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher Theater Wednesday morning, February 17, at 11 o'clock, planned on her American lecture tour to discuss the changes in England under King Edward VIII. The world's most dramatic romance intervened to throw an empire into confusion and a new king into office. Countess Listowel's subject remains the same, "The New Reign in England," but events have dynamited the material into significant new forms. Countess Listowel comes direct from England where she is noted as an authority on European politics and problems. She has been writing articles for English papers for a number of years and is also foreign political correspondent for two Hungarian newspapers.

Historic Memorials Society Lincoln Tea

That Kenmore, once the home of Betty Washington Lewis, sister of George Washington, at Alexandria, Virginia, may be restored and maintained; and that local historic spots may be preserved and marked, heirloom gowns will be donned again by members of the Historic Memorials Society, formerly the Mount Vernon Society, at their 45th annual costume tea, this year a Lincoln tea, Friday afternoon, February 12, from 2 to 5 o'clock, in the Fyfe auditorium. The place was selected as a tribute to Mrs. Richard Henry Fyfe, who was the fourth president of the organization, and who used to entertain the members at a Colonial tea in her own home.

Camp Fire Girls

Miss Mary Casey, field secretary of the Detroit Council of Camp Fire Girls, will leave this week for Long Beach, California, where she has accepted a similar position with the Long Beach Council.

Miss Theodora Wiley, of the Detroit staff, will take over the work on the East side and Southwest districts, where Miss Casey was formerly the field worker.

The last Committee of Awards before the Birthday Council Fire will be held on Saturday, March 6. Guardians who expect to have girls take rank on March 20 at the Birthday Council Fire, should have their girls prepared to go before this committee. The meeting places will be announced at a later date.

Camping time is just around the corner, according to the Camp Fire Girls. Already many groups are planning money making projects, to earn money for a week or two at camp. Bridge parties, plays, bakery and candy sales are among the plans of many groups for their spring meetings in an effort to make it possible for every registered Camp Fire Girl to attend Camp Wathana for at least one session during the summer. Camp movies, which were taken at camp during the last summer are available at the Camp Fire office, for any groups which would like to show them.

GIRL SCOUTS Week's Activities By The Scribes

Again, a Girl Scout Column, and it will be here each week with news articles by the scribes of the troop activities in Grosse Pointe. To plan this, the scribes met last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry M. Hubbard on Muskoka road.

They decided to meet the first Thursday of every month at four o'clock at the same place, and each month, they will plan "bigger and better" news stories. All troops, who have not elected their scribes, are urged to do so at once, so that they, too, may be represented in the column.

TROOP 131
Some of the members of Troop 131 met at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on Tuesday, February 2, to go to the Grosse Pointe police station to sort out clothes for the flood refugees. Many trips were made from the police station to the "Thrifty Shop," carrying shoes and clothing. Those who assisted in this work were Ann Whitehead, Ann Fletcher, Christy Newberry, Mary Mateer, and Miss Oram.

TROOP 138
Troop 138 engaged in a celebration last night, held at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church in accordance with plans made the week before, when at that time, Patrol II, the losers of a game recently concluded, agreed to pay their forfeit.

Patrol Captain Elizabeth Jane Bishop, acting as chairman, carried off the evening with flying colors. After an hour or so spent in songs, games, and laughter, cake and gingerale were served as refreshments.

TROOP 141
The members of Troop 141 will meet at the Convent of the Sacred Heart on Thursday afternoon, February 11, for their regular weekly meeting.

It was planned at the previous meeting that they should bring dolls and toys for the children in the refugee camps; victims of the disastrous flood. At the meeting on Thursday the scouts will begin their study of nature. At last week's meeting the following girls passed their test in bed-making: Mary Ann Roney, Janith and Grace Shaefer, Madeline Koenig, Jean Callahan, Isabelle Casgrain, Gail Leithauer, Marilyn Luyckx, Barbara Donahey and Clotilde Buttery.

GENERAL

All Girl Scouts, both old and young, are spending busy days this month. The Girl Scouts, themselves, are working hard for the Red Cross and the Flood Relief. Others are working for badges. Last week, five members of Troop 140 earned their homemakers badge, after due examination by Mrs. F. W. Meysenburg, by giving a dinner for their fellow troop members at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. Those who earned the badge were Jean Preble, Barbara Boydell, Dorothy Hoffman, Constance Arnoldy, and Anita Uvick.

The leaders are busy planning for the Girl Scout Silver Jubilee which will be celebrated over the entire United States on March 12 and 13. In Detroit, there will be a dinner at the Highland Park Y. W. C. A. for all council members, leaders, district and troop committee members, and Girl Scouts who have won their five-year service stripe.

Prospective leaders and troop committee members are attending the training school every Monday morning at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and are becoming very adept at knot tying and hike planning. Last Monday morning, the Grosse Pointe District Committee met at the home of the chairman, Mrs. James J. Phelan, Jr., on Moross road for the regular monthly meeting. It was reported that there are movies of the Girl Scout summer camp at Metamora available for group programs such as Parent-Teacher Association meetings, and anyone interested in them might call Mrs. Norman H. Preble, of Rivard boulevard, for further information.

Playhouses for Adults Feature of Detroit and Michigan Exposition

Detroit—Playhouses for adults, the rapidly-growing vacation fad that has put an estimated million Americans permanently on wheels, will be a feature of the Detroit-Michigan Exposition, April 2-11.

Space for 14 trailers has been allotted to five manufacturing companies. Representing the present-day ultimate in completeness of miniature homes, the vehicles will portray the latest industry in which Michigan has gained ascendancy, it was said today at Exposition headquarters.

"We are glad to include trailers in this year's exposition," said James Vernor, Jr., general chairman, "not only because of their potentiality as a low-cost housing trend, but also because of their evident popularity as deluxe vacation equipment. All childhood thrills to dollhouses and 'Little Scorpions' Clubs, and adults will renew childhood thrills at the trailer display this year.

The trailer section will be decorated in wildwood style near the Michigan Conservation Department's picturesque showing of Michigan wild life and recreation information. Both will be part of the Mid-West Sportsman's Show division of the Exposition.

"The Exposition is a four-acre dramatization of Michigan," Vernor continued, "of all Michigan, and the automobile industry will occupy most of one hall with safety exhibits, accessories, animated displays showing many industries allied with the automobile, such as leather, glass, rubber, and
