

Faith Lutheran Church

East Jefferson and Philip avenues. Rev. R. D. Linhart, pastor; Rev. J. B. Ringle, assistant.

Next Sunday morning at 10:45, the pastor will preach on the subject, "An Unfailing Love." This will be the fourth sermon in the series of Sunday morning sermons on the general theme "Love Streams Down from the Cross."

The fourth-Mid-week Lenten service will be held next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, when the sermon subject will be, "It Is Finished."

On Palm Sunday, March 21, forty children and nearly sixty adults will be received into the church by the rite of Confirmation, together with nearly fifty others to be received by transfer.

The pastor will begin another course of religious instruction for adults, preparatory to confirmation, on Monday evening, March 15, at 8 o'clock.

Grosse Pointe Lutheran Church

"Christian Solitude a Lost Art," will be the subject of the sermon at the Grosse Pointe Lutheran Church next Sunday, March 7th, at 11 o'clock by the Rev. M. Luther Canup, D. D., pastor. Services are held in the auditorium of the Richard School, Kercheval avenue and McKinley Road. Jesus frequently withdrew from the throbbing world for quiet, peace and prayer. Christians today rob themselves of character and success and happiness because they do not take time to study, meditate and develop the inner life. The average Grosse Pointer is so busy with the little things in life that he loses the big thing—quest for the Infinite.

"Life here and hereafter through Christ," will be the subject taught in Sunday School at 9:45 o'clock, by a faithful and competent corps of teachers. New scholars are enrolled every Sunday in the school, where we have classes for all grades and ages.

Grosse Pointe is a beautiful residential section. We have come to the community to help make it still more beautiful by creating a moral and religious atmosphere through the preaching and teaching of Jesus Christ. You and your family are cordially invited.

GIRL SCOUTS

General

The regular monthly meeting of the Grosse Pointe District Committee will be held next Monday morning, March 8, at ten o'clock at the home of Mrs. Hayward Thompson, 521 Lakeland avenue.

Next Monday will also mark the closing of the Girl Scout Training School which has been so successfully carried on these past eight weeks at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church with Miss Gladys Pedersen, Field Secretary, in charge. A large number of Grosse Pointe women will finish the course, and will be fitted to become able leaders and troop committee members.

The scribes will meet this afternoon for their monthly discussion of Girl Scout activities at the home of Mrs. Henry H. Hubbard on Muskoka Road. They will elect a scribe leader and secretary at this time. At the meeting last Monday of the Committee of Public Relations for the entire Detroit district, it was reported that Grosse Pointe was far in the lead in the publicity by the scribes.

Troop 131

Last Tuesday afternoon there was great excitement in Troop 131. Several scouts passed their cooking. Those who passed are Cynthia Wilbur, Ruth Kennedy, Kathrine Best, Edith Mitchell, Mary Gallano, Patricia Kronner, Carlisle Trost, Helen Livingstone, Mary Mateer, Janet McKenzie, Ann Whitehead, Gabriel Puzik, Margery Nevens, Margaret McKeen, Betty Gillies, Jacqueline Ewing, Betsy Cadwell, Roonie Whelden, Mildren Mackey, and Nancy Huges. The meal was prepared in the church kitchen, and served in the lounge.

The guests included two cooking judges and Mr. Arthur T. Neff.

Girls completing their thrift badges brought garments which were laundered and mended by themselves. Those who passed their thrift were: Cynthia Wilbur, Mary Gillies, Mary Mateer, Ann Whitehead, Gabriel Puzik, Margery Nevens, Betty Dave, Margaret McKeen, Margaret Babcock, Lois Millette, Jacqueline Ewing, Roonie Whelden, Mildred Mackey, Christy Newberry, Ann Fletcher, Nancy Huges. These will be sent to flood relief victims.

On Saturday morning at 36 Cloverly Road several scouts completed their tenderfoot tests and others passed bed making.

"And until next week, 'Be Prepared.'"

Troop 138

Saturday, the 20th was well spent by four girls from Troop 138, under direction of assistant leader, Miss Dee Meyenburg. Sy Moore, Muriel Newnham, Betty Alexander and Marion Ramm met their leader at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church at 2:00 o'clock. Their purpose was to work upon First Class Mapping. This proved a four hours job, with tired feet at the end of the four miles of scientific pacing.

Troop 138 met as usual Wednesday evening, at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. An unusually worth while meeting was the result, for the following seven girls succeeded in winning their Cycling Badge: Mary Esther Williams, Elizabeth Jane Bishop, Marion Ramm, Vivian Book, Barbara Fitch, Katherine VanDenHeuval and Cy Moore.

Mt. Olive Lutheran Church

Southeast corner of Kercheval and Lakewood avenues. A. H. A. Loeber, pastor, 1434 Lakewood avenue. Telephone LENOx 2121.

"The Lad, the Loaves, the Fishes" will be the subject of the sermon on the coming Sunday, March 7, at 11:15 A. M. The Sunday School will meet at 10 o'clock.

The Monthly Bible Hour, sponsored by the Young People's Society, will take place on Sunday, March 7th, at 5:15 P. M. The Epistle of St. Paul to the Philippians will be studied.

The fifth of the six Midweek Lenten Services will be conducted next Wednesday, March 10, at 7:45 P. M. The sermon will treat "The Sorrows of Jesus on the Via Dolorosa."

Yale Historian in Town Hall Series

"The Medical Fads and Superstitions" will be discussed by Dr. Howard W. Haggard, noted medical historian of Yale University, before the Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher Theatre Wednesday morning, March 10, at 11 o'clock.

In his lecture Dr. Haggard will show how the modern medical fads, quackery and superstitions are all persistent forms of old and discarded practices. This is a fascinating study of human foibles from the spirit rites of primitive man to the "health appeal" of modern advertising, presenting a mode of analysis which the listener himself can apply to evaluate all medical foibles.

Hume Born in Scotland. David Hume, the Scottish historian and philosopher, was born in 1711 at Edinburgh.

Christian Science Churches

"Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 7.

Among the Bible Citations is the following (Gen. 1: 26): "And God said,

Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 516): "Man and woman as coexistent and eternal with God forever reflect, in glorified quality, the infinite Father-Mother God."

Crazy Horse Led Indians. Crazy Horse, chief of the Ogalala Sioux, was joint leader in the war of 1875 with Sitting Bull.

INSURANCE TIPS

by H. Thompson Stock
Insurance for you who are about to build.

- Most persons when planning to build do not think of insurance. As a result, the owner sometimes finds himself faced with
1. liens for unpaid employees and material dealers,
 2. lawsuits for injuries to contractors' employees or to others,
 3. insufficient insurance, if any, in event of a fire, windstorm, explosion, riot, etc.
 4. higher fire insurance rates than necessary on the finished building.

To protect himself, the owner should consult with his insurance agent while the building is in the blue print stage and obtain a survey of the hazards and necessary insurance protection.

To Guarantee Completion Without Liens

In order to be guaranteed that your building will be completed as agreed and without liens for labor and material, you should require the contractor to give you a contract bond. These bonds are required for government work and should be required for private work. Severe losses often result to the owner because the owner pays the contractor as agreed or in advance of agreed dates and because the contractor does not use that money for paying for the labor and material on that particular job. Sometimes contractors even quit jobs before they are finished. You can free yourself of losses of this sort by means of a contract bond costing $1.50 per $100.

Liability for Injuries to Workmen and Others

You, the owner, should insist that the general contractor furnish you with certificates from reliable insurance companies showing that he has workmen's compensation insurance (for injuries to employees,) contractors public liability insurance (for injuries to the public for which contractor or his employees are responsible) and contractors contingent or protective public liability insurance (for injuries to the public for which sub-contractor or his employees are responsible). To protect yourself in event you, too, are sued for injuries to the public, you should carry owner's contingent or protective public liability insurance, which costs $20 for buildings costing up to $33,000 for limits of $5,000 to one person, $10,000 for two or more. Higher limits cost but very little more. Legal liability for damage to the property of others can also be insured against. In some cases, this form of insurance is especially desirable.

Damage To the Building Itself

Loss resulting because of damage to the building by fire, windstorm, explosion, riot, etc., can be insured against by separate policies or by fire insurance policies with the supplemental contract attached. The increases in value of a building in the course of construction can be handled by increasing the insurance by new policies or by increasing an existing policy by endorsement upon the owner's authorization. Or the increases can be covered automatically and the building insured for 100 per cent of its value at all times by means of the so-called automatic builders' risk form.

Fire Insurance Rate Engineering Service

As fire insurance rates measure the fire hazards, it is logical that if one reduces the fire hazards, the rate will be reduced. In many cases, it is too late after the building is built or under course of construction to make changes that will more than pay the cost of making the change. The time to make the changes is when the building is in the blue print stage. As insurance agents make no charge for inspecting plans and specifications, you should take advantage of this rate engineering service. Even home builders should inquire as to the savings effected by composition, slate or tile roofs and by solid brick construction.

Hannan "Y" News

The annual Hi-Y Father and Son Banquet will be held Thursday, March 4th at the Hannan Y.M.C.A. at 6:30 P. M. The White Chapter with newly elected president Ralph Ollon will be in charge of the affair.

The program will consist of a motion picture travelogue by Dr. F. Putt and an address by Walter Joachim of the Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church. This outstanding event during the year is looked forward to with great enthusiasm by the members of the Hi-Y Clubs and their dads and a great crowd is expected.

Boys "Y" Radio Club Formed

The Hannan "Y" Boys Division is extending its hobby program to include a club for radio enthusiasts. Under the skilled leadership of John Foeller who has led a similar club at the Madison Wisconsin Y. M. C. A. and is a first class petty officer in the U. S. Naval Communication Reserve this group will not only study the theory of radio but will build their own receiving sets. The club is limited to older boys and will meet weekly on Tuesday nights.

Other clubs in which boys hobbyists take part weekly are Stamp Club led by Attorney Frederick Weideman, the Photography Club led by Verne L. Johnson of the Detroit Times Staff, the Airplane Modeling Club led by Harold Garrick of Cass Technical High School, the Craft Club led by Frank Updegraff of the Department of Education and the Sketch Club led by Miss Hazel Thompson of Colorcraft Studios. These clubs not only give the boys a chance to learn and follow hobbies but they also provide a fine fellowship between the boys and leaders who follow these wholesome and interesting hobbies in their leisure time.

Land of Tulips Chosen for Boy Scout Jamboree

With all the excitement of over 25,000 Scouts and Scouters attending the National Jamboree at Washington, June 9th, we mustn't overlook the International Jamboree at Holland on July 29, to August 13. America's quota to the Holland Jamboree was originally set at 350. However, so much interest is being shown that this quota will be increased.

In a Council as large as ours undoubtedly 20 or 30 scouts will want to attend this World Jamboree at Vogelenzang-Boemendaal which means in English, "Bird's Song." Vogelenzang, or Bird's Song, is a historic estate of 325 acres lying on Holland's busiest electric railroad, the Amsterdam-Rotterdam, amidst the famous bulb fields. The camp can be reached by train, car or boat. Vogelenzang is a 9 minute from Amsterdam and 30 minutes from the Hague.

Requirements for Scouts are as follows: First Class Rank, at least 14 years of age by the Jamboree opening date July 29, 1937. Holland Jamboree delegates must attend as additional training the National Jamboree at Washington. In addition to the medical health examination required for the National Jamboree, all delegates to the Holland Jamboree shall be required to be inoculated against typhoid.

It is estimated that the total cost of the World Jamboree in Holland will be about $475.00 including Jamboree fees, transportation, passports and other traveling expenses. Some of our older Scouts will welcome this opportunity for foreign travel as part of their education. One of our candidates to Holland, who is graduating from the University of Michigan in June, is being presented a trip abroad as a graduation gift from his Mother. He says, "Of course I am tickled over my present, but the value of my journey will be greatly enhanced through the possibilities of attending this great World Jamboree."

Applications may be filed at Scout Headquarters and a preliminary fee of $10.00 is required.

Each World Jamboree has improved in technique, inspiration and value. The last World Jamboree held in Hungary in 1933 was attended by over 400 scouts and scouters from America.

Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church

Dr. Albert W. Beaven will be the preacher every night next week at the Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church, corner of Lakeview. Dr. Beaven is the fifth of America's great preachers whom the Rev. Wayland Zwyer, minister, has brought to the Jefferson Avenue Baptist pulpit during the past two years in a week's special preaching mission. The others have been Dr. W. S. Abernathy of Washington, D. C., Dr. W. Quay Roselle of Massachusetts, the Rt. Rev. Warren L. Rogers, Episcopal Bishop of Ohio, and Dr. Edgar DeWitt Jones of Detroit.

The preacher next week is President of Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, formerly president of the Northern Baptist Convention, and President of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. The Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church shares with the Detroit Council of Churches the responsibility of bringing Dr. Beaven to the city.

He will preach at the noon-day Lenten Services in the Lafayette theatre, broadcast over WWJ at 12:30 p. m. and each evening at 7:45 p. m. at the church. Jason Moore, choirmaster, will be at the organ each evening except Thursday when Winifred Douglas, former organist, will be at the console. Harold G. May, assisted by a chorus choir will lead the congregational singing. In addition to the choir special music will be provided by guest soloists.

An informal reception will follow the services next Monday night, giving Dr. Beaven's many friends and admirers an opportunity to meet him.

Illustrated Lecture on Unknown Alaska

With the Black Rapids glacier near Fairbanks advancing 220 feet a day, Alaska is in the news. Those who would like to see pictures of Alaska, taken just last year, should plan to attend the illustrated talk on "Explorations in Unknown Alaska," by J. Malcolm Greany, assistant cameraman with Father Bernard R. Hubbard, the "Glacier Priest" on his 1936 Alaskan expedition. The talk which is the fourth bi-monthly talk of the 1937 series made possible by the Detroit Historical Society, will take place Saturday afternoon, March 6, at two o'clock at the Detroit Historical Museum, in the Bar-lum Tower, on Cadillac Square. The public is invited, no admission charge being made.

Grace Evangelical Church

Lakepointe at Kercheval. Church school, 9:30 a. m.; worship service, 11:00 a. m. Lenten services every Wednesday evening during Lent at 8 P. M.

Champion Angler to Appear at Detroit-Michigan Exposition

Tony Accetta, world champion tournament angler, and "man who can hit a dime at 40 feet," has been signed as an attraction for the Mid-West Sportsman's Show section of the Detroit and Michigan Exposition, April 2-11.

Accetta will make daily demonstrations with regular tackle and give free instruction to anglers visiting the Exposition.

He uses very little arm motion in his casts. "The wrist does the trick," he explains. He once scored 99 out of a possible 100 points and missed the final point by only a quarter-inch.

Accetta has been a keen fisherman since he became an eight-year-old truant problem near Cleveland—and showed the truant officer how to really catch 'em. He has fished all the famous waters in America but prefers Florida because of its inland lakes and sea fishing. The greatest sport in all angling, Accetta says, lies in casting for sea trout and other game fish that feed near the ocean's surface.

Through his efforts many anglers have shifted to light tackle from the former 24- to 30-pound test lines. A six-ounce rod, an aluminum spool reel and a nine or 14-pound test line is sufficient, he contends. Accetta represents the Shakespeare Fishing Tackle Company of Kalamazoo, Michigan.

There was a time when the employer ruled, but it seems that doesn't even have a voice in the matter of operating the plant any more.

The governor must have been doing some strenuous labor at Lansing, we note that a Florida vacation is essential after only two months of governing.

The average businessman today is finding that it takes the major part of his time filling out tax reports or other statistics for the government, leaving but a fraction of his time for business. Why couldn't taxes be collected without all these cumbersome reports.

It has even got to the point where preachers seek divorce, how things have changed since mother was a child.

We understand that residents living near a certain spot on Lake Michigan have been helping themselves to gasoline from a grounded tanker, with almost a million gallons aboard.

Mr. Windsor former King of England will have to struggle along on $125,000 annually according to a recent statement. Tough isn't it.

Beauty operators are required to spend 1500 hours in school before they will be given a license to operate. Getting more and more like a profession.

The novelty of sit-down strikes is over, in fact it has become monotonously institutional.

Baseball pictures are beginning to appear with a bit of regularity not long before you hear that which is an indication that it will familiar old refrain, "take me out to the ball game."

Art Institute Presents Lowell Thomas Saturday

Lowell Thomas, radio star and world-famous author and adventurer, Nicol Smith, explorer, and Burton Holmes, globe-trotting travel lecturer, are the coming features on the World Adventure Series platform at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Lowell Thomas will give his famous motion picture lecture on "With Lawrence in Arabia and With Allenby in Palestine" at 8:30 Saturday evening, March 6. He will speak again at 8:30 on Sunday evening, March 7, his new lecture subject being "Strange Tales From Far Countries."

Nicol Smith, explorer in 54 countries, will take his audience to tropical Dutch Guiana. He will speak with motion pictures on "Through the Jungle and Up the Kabaibo—River of Death" at 3:30 Sunday afternoon, March 7. Burton Holmes, polished New Yorker, will bring a brand new motion picture travelogue at 8:30 Tuesday evening, March 9. His subject will be "Today's Paris and All Over France." This lecture gains timeliness from the fact that the recent devaluation of the franc has swamped all steamship lines operating between the United States and France.

One-Act Tournament for Week of March 8

High school dramatic clubs and play production groups of the Detroit area will complete in the Wayne University Theatre's third annual one-act play tournament, which will be held at the University during the week of March 8.

The tournament was instituted two years ago to stimulate drama activity. After each tournament, the two outstanding performers have been granted one-year scholarship at Wayne. Also, in each tournament a cup has been presented to the school furnishing the best production. Last year's cup was awarded to Cooley High School for its production of Alfred Sutro's "The Man on the Kerb." A similar plan will be followed this year, according to Richard R. Dunham, director of the Theatre group.

Judge Jeffries to Address Townsend Club Meeting Friday

Due to the increasing interest shown by the public last Friday evening when a capacity audience greeted Judge Edward J. Jeffries who gave one of his fine talks on the Townsend National Recovery Plan Club No. 1 is planning more interesting meetings.

Friday, March 5th at 8:00 P. M. in the Ives School, 1146 Philip a Townsend Club member from Rochester, N. Y., will present an article written by a Rochester business executive on the feasibility of the Townsend Plan. Business people are especially invited to this meeting to learn how one business man views the Townsend Plan and how he believes all business will be increased by its adoption.

On and Off the Records

by Lee Montgomery

Every married couple in the County should take a day off and sit in Alimony Court. The time would be well spent, both from the educational and recreational points of views.

In this court, cases are adjudicated pending the divorce suit. That is, the plaintiffs, or defendant, or both, disagree with the temporary settlement suggested by the Friend of the Court and take their case before a Circuit Court Judge. He decides the alimony, pending the actual divorce suit. These cases come up before a different judge each week and all are heard on the same day.

One is impressed with the basic similarities of each case. Whether the husband earns $6.00 a week or $600,000 a week, the difficulties are practically the same. Marital troubles which began only as foolish differences, expanded until they carried the parties into the Court room. All married people experience the quarrels, hardships and bad luck that these people in Court have experienced. Most of us let a sense of humor rule and work on a basis of give and take. Others think too subjectively, refuse to give an inch, then wind up in Court.

Most people have small quarrels and manage to conciliate between themselves. Some have quarrels and need a conciliator.

A day in an Alimony court or in a divorce court makes us realize that our home lives are no different than the lives of others, that our big troubles are really small, and that our mate is as good as our neighbor's.

The value of publicity, or rather the dangers of it, were exemplified clearly during the past two weeks in Caspar J. Lingeman's County Clerk Office. Theodore Feldman, marriage clerk, reports that a host of 14 and 15 year old girls invaded her office, seeking information as to Michigan Marriage laws.

These girls were all stirred into action by the widely publicized story from Kentucky which reveals the wedding of a 13 year old Miss.

A grudge public letter was sent to a Detroit Daily, complaining of the laxness of Judge Joseph Gillis of the Common Pleas Bench. It referred to an accident in which there were two defendants. One was found liable the other innocent of the charges. The letter intimated that the judge did not listen attentively to testimony and adjudged the entire matter unjustly.

I happened to be present when a reporter interviewed the judge after the publication of the letter. I was also present when the reporter called the plaintiff's attorney. The facts revealed that the judge held court open until 5:15 to hear the case through, three quarters of an hour longer than the court usually remains open. Plaintiff's attorney said that he had expected that the one defendant would not be found liable. He named two defendants, solely as a matter of how to protect his client.

I was surprised that Judge Gillis, who hears innumerable cases weekly, was able to recall the facts off hand without the aid of notes and nothing to refresh his memory.

My conclusion is: There is no justice into some people unless that justice benefits them, regardless of ethics or equity.

Often a hobby is followed so closely and so enthusiastically that one becomes an expert in that field.

Harold E. Stoll, amateur aviator, has written to aviation authorities in Washington, placing before them a practical suggestion that may, if adopted, save many lives.

He says that the majority of Transport casualties are caused by the piloting downward before the peaks are cleared. He suggests that when they are reasonably assured that they are past the peak, they should circle downward instead of sloping down in a straight line.

Monday's Primary has caused much excitement. Both parties are standing pat.

The Republicans will trust on the two incumbent Supreme Court Justices, Fead and North, to carry them through. The Democrats are little worried with a thoroughly strong state ticket and lots of interest on their county ballot. There will be no Republican county ballot in Detroit, as there is only one aspirant to the County Auditor's Post. In the outlying districts local battles will pep up the election. Republican Supervisors will probably again outnumber the democrats, leaving Wayne County's Board of Supervisor's the only legislative and administrative group that has not succumbed to the onslaught of the Democrats.

Three-Star Meals for March

March is the month of "spring sniffles," general boredom with winter, and Lenten restrictions—three factors which challenge the ability of a good menu planner.

To offset the family's tendency to "sniffle" and alkalize its system against development into full fledged colds, there should be an abundance of the "protective foods"—milk, eggs, vegetables and fruits—and, in fresh or canned tomatoes.

There is no better remedy for winter boredom in the family than a little extra imagination with the salads, and dishes which reflect the coming of Spring, such as rhubarb sauce, dandelion greens, best tops, new peas, and new maple syrup on the waffles or pancakes. A pear filled with cream cheese and topped with French dressing or a substantial macaroni and cooked vegetable combination in tomato jelly or aspic makes the salad a fairly substantial course in the dinner and works in nicely in Lenten schedules to balance an absence of meat.

Lenten restriction can be made a hardship on the budget or the occasion of wholesome thrift, depending on how you go about it. In place of expensive seafoods the budget-minded housewife may use the foods which are laden with health values to the entire family—milk, eggs, cheese, vegetables and fruit—combine them interestingly, with appropriate garnishes in the Spring-time mood, and dispose of Spring, "sniffles," winter boredom, and Lenten "thou shalt nots" in one grand set of menus.

The following pear and cheese salad, served with a square of warm gingerbread and a tall glass of cold, fresh milk, makes a delightful March lunch.

Frozen Pear and Cream Cheese Salad
2-3 ounce package of cream cheese
1 No. 2 can pears
6 tablespoons French dressing
Salad greens
Mayonnaise or French Dressing
Mash the cream cheese, then add the juice from the pears and the French Dressing. Beat with an egg beater until smooth. Pour this mixture over the pears, which have been cut into thin, lengthwise slices and arranged in the bottom of one of the freezing trays of an automatic refrigerator. Chill until firm enough to cut into squares. Arrange on salad greens. Serve with mayonnaise or French dressing.
Serves 8 to 10.

Jellied Tomato and Macaroni Salad
1 envelope gelatine
1-4 cup cold water
1 cup cooked macaroni
1 cup tomato soup
1-2 cup cooked peas
1-2 cup cooked carrots
1-2 cup mayonnaise
Soak gelatine in cold water. Heat soup; pour over gelatine and stir until dissolved. Add macaroni; cool. Add peas and carrots, and fold in mayonnaise. Turn into moulds, chill and serve on crisp lettuce. 8 servings.

This makes a delightful luncheon salad, preceded by a cream of spinach soup, and served with hot cinnamon toast and a chocolate milk shake.
