Amateur detectives who want to make $10,000 might find it profitable to head for Youngstown, Pa. That is the reward offered for the capture of dynamite Dan or whoever it was that dynamited the Bethlehem Steel plant Tuesday.

It seems that legislation regulating rental charges on houses may be the next question for the legislature. Tenants are urged to form union by housing expert.

Four Tigers have been selected for the All-Star baseball game.

Flint is having a great deal of difficulty trying to find a suitable city manager, having had three in four months time.

A labor slate for the Detroit Common Council seems to have struck a snag in inducing some of its selections to become candidates for public office.

Some of the Tigers' farm hands at Toledo were attacked for 18 runs in Tuesday's baseball game. Only 25 hits off the pitching of Sorrell, French and Garland.

It seems that a motor has been invented that will operate on milk. Rather revolutionary, eh what?

The Tigers have been fighting an uphill battle all year, with Rowe getting back into shape and Bolton ready for catching duty we should be in a splendid way of going places this year.

Youths in Michigan Given Better Jobs

The current belief that all youth is untrained and unskilled was dispelled today in a report on placements of young people compiled by the National Employment Service.

According to Major Howard Starret, State Reemployment Director, the Detroit office alone has given thousands of young men and women between the ages of 16 and 25 to jobs requiring extensive training or experience.

Among the occupational classifications listed were: analytical and metallurgical chemists, dentists, electrical engineers, nurses, commercial photographers, professional entertainers, accountants, window trimmers, architectural and mechanical draftsmen, surveyors, and machine and tool designers.

Important Changes in Auto Tag Laws

Passage by the legislature of the bill to make March 1st the annual deadline for the purchase of automobile license plates and stickers, with neither the Secretary of State nor any other official authorized to extend this deadline, is believed by Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, to be a step in advance. The present law permits the Secretary of State to extend the final expiration date to March 1st.

In addition to Case's desire to call public attention to these two important changes in the motor vehicle law, the Secretary of State also points to the fee of 25 cents to be collected hereafter for the issuance of stickers or half-year permits. This fee will cover the extra cost of issuing half-year permits. The charging by the state of this small fee appears to be fair and proper, considering the accommodation represented by a half year installment plan for the purchase of a set of plates.

The bookkeeping, special costs represented by the printing and handling of the some half million stickers annually is an item which no one should long expect the state to absorb. The collection of the 25c fee will bring in approximately $125,000 annually, it is estimated.

Dr. Loranger Retires from School Board

Dr. Loranger's statement on retiring from the Grosse Pointe School Board follows:

"I wish to take this occasion to thank all of my friends and acquaintances for their interest and support at the last election. Though I lost by a slight margin, I was very grateful at the splendid vote I received. Especially pleasing was the practically unanimous endorsement of Grosse Pointe Shores where my neighbors gave me 56 of the total 64 votes cast.

"The result of the election has not dimmed my interest in the schools, and I am willing and eager to lend myself to the cause of education in Grosse Pointe; and to co-operate with other interested citizens in helping the Board to continue its efforts to give the children of our community an education as good as any in the land. I believe that the present Board is actuated by entirely unselfish motives and that this goal can be attained if the citizens will give their friendly co-operation."

Cyrus Cadieux Death in Lake St. Clair Sunday Is Termed Accidental

The death, by drowning, of Cyrus Cadieux, 55, member of an old Grosse Pointe family, was described as accidental Monday by Dr. Charles L. Rivard, Macomb County coroner.

Cadieux' body, fully clothed, was found early Sunday by fishermen in a slip at the foot of Van avenue, in St. Clair Shores. A cousin, Victor Cadieux, of 688 Nottingham road, Grosse Pointe Park, was found asleep in a car nearby.

St. Clair Shores police said the two men had spent Saturday evening in a roadhouse near the slip. Cyrus Cadieux left the roadhouse at about 11 p. m., police said, and Victor Cadieux went out an hour later. Fifty dollars in cash and an $80 check, both in his pocketbook, made out to Cyrus Cadieux were found on top of a post near the scene of the drowning.

Cyrus Cadieux was a war veteran and a member of Alger Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was employed by the Grosse Pointe municipalities as a guard at the Grosse Pointe city docks.

Musical Fiesta Friday Evening

Music on the Detroit River for everyone to enjoy! A dream of the International Center Branch Y. W. C. A. to bring this old world custom to Detroit River waters in the manner of the Grand Canal in Venice comes true to Friday evening, July 2, with the first of eight Friday River Fiesta programs from 9 to 10 o'clock. The first will feature the loveliest of German folk songs and opera themes sung by the Rheingold Singing Society of 60 male voices directed by William Hoffman, and played by the Young Heidelberg Band directed by William H. Engel.

The Belle Isle ferry has been chartered to carry the musicians up and down the river from Water Works Park to Belle Isle and back. Arrangements are being made to have a portion of the program broadcast from Station WWJ. In case of rain the fiesta will be postponed.

The Fiesta committee in planning these programs had three ideas in mind—first, to make the International Center Branch of the Y. W. C. A. which serves 40 different nationalities better known in Detroit through these musical evenings; to provide the lovely music of the Grand Canal for public enjoyment; and to give the various international music societies in town an opportunity to sing and play for the thousands of Detroiters who gather on Belle Isle and around the river front on warm summer evenings.

The second fiesta program on July 9 will be presented by the Polish De Reszko Choir directed by P. F. Partyke.

Stanley Phillips Smith has returned to his home in Washington, D. C., after spending 10 days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad H. Smith, of Lake Shore road.

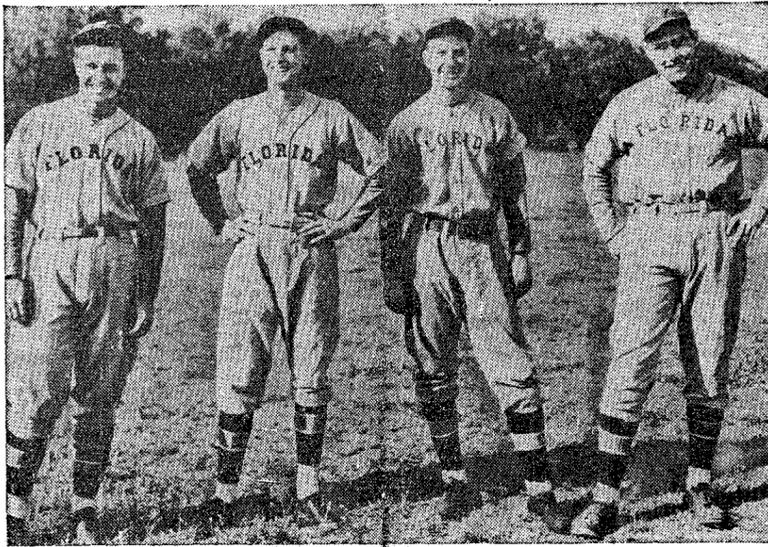

1937 Road Maps Now Available

The first summer edition of the 1937 official Michigan highway map is now ready for distribution to the public.

The map follows the general style of the 1936 editions which proved popular with the public. Chief among these features is the improved type of accordion fold permitting easy folding and unfolding of the map.

Other features include the latest corrected information on the various types of highways, individual maps of the principal cities, a mileage table, the ferry schedule at the Straits of Mackinac, the location of airports, state parks, forest areas, and state police posts, an index of cities and villages, and a detailed map of the metropolitan area.

Sons of Diamond Daddies Good at Baseball

These four stalwarts of the University of Florida baseball team ought to be pretty good at the national pastime—if there is anything in the theory of heredity. All are sons of famous major league fathers, whose names were household words a few years ago. Left to right are Ed Manning, twenty, son of Ed Manning, former pitcher for the St. Louis Browns; Lee Meadows, Jr., nineteen, son of Lee Meadows, old Pittsburgh Pirates mound ace; Jimmy Shotton, seventeen, son of Bert Shotton, a former St. Louis Cardinal, and Wilbur White, nineteen, whose father once played third for the Chicago White Sox.

Barnes Appointed New Director Of Instruction

John R. Barnes, principal of Grosse Pointe High School since 1930, was promoted to the position of director of instruction for the school system by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education meeting on June 28 at a salary of $6,000 per year. He will be succeeded as principal by Paul Rehms, principal of the Battle Creek High School.

As director of instruction Mr. Barnes will be in charge of co-ordinating the work of the elementary schools and the junior and senior high schools. He will also direct the construction and improvement of instructional materials. Growth in enrollment with resulting increase in the number of teachers on the staff has brought about the need for this position. Rapid strides in the development of the high school instructional program have been made during Mr. Barnes' term as principal of the high school.

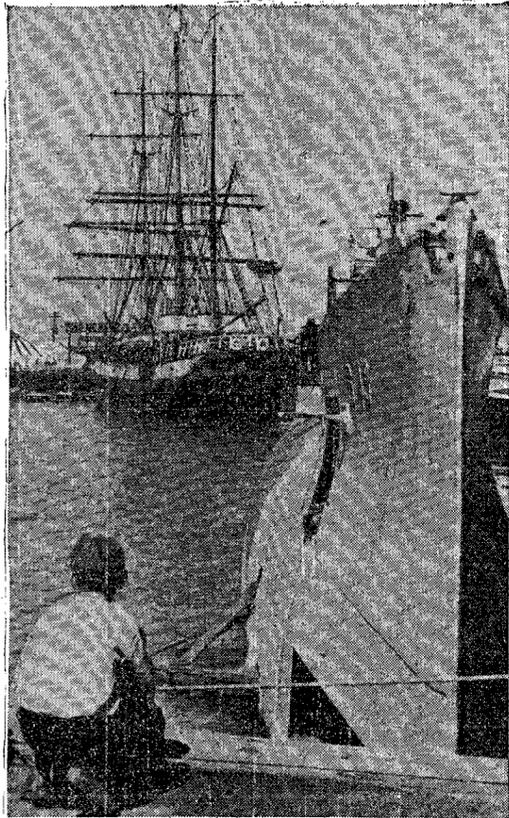

Mr. Rehms, who holds a master of arts degree from the University of Michigan, is a native of Michigan. Since 1930 he has been principal of the high school in Battle Creek. Prior to that he was principal of the Mt. Clemens High School and of the Tappan Junior High School in Ann Arbor. During the past school year Mr. Rehms has been engaged in making a study of accrediting standards under the direction of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and five other regional accrediting associations. He was one of 12 principals in the United States chosen for this work. His investigations led him to visit and work with principals and teachers in several hundred high schools in 26 different states.

A NEW GENERATION'S EYES turn seaward as young America, steered by the crew of a modern submarine at the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland, gazes wistfully at the ancient whaling vessel which served as flagship for Admiral Byrd's two Antarctic expeditions. Beyond the ships anchored in Lake Erie extends the great Midway of the Exposition with its scores of ride and show attractions. The Exposition continues through September 6th.

Farms to Play a Benefit Game Here Monday Afternoon

A charity game between Royal Oak Tool Shop and Grosse Pointe Farms will be played at Kerby Field, Monday, starting at 3 p. m.

The proceeds received at the game will be used to help pay the hospital expenses of the injured Farms star, Ivan Hilsinger, who broke his leg on June 6, while chasing a fly ball.

Let's everyone turn out Monday, July 5, and pay tribute to a game boy who played the game for everything that is in it.

Ivan is married and has two children, the oldest boy being operated on at the time of his own accident.

Sunday, at Kerby Field, the Farms will meet Roseville in a regular scheduled S. O. C. doubleheader.

Individual Service on Curtains and Draperies

We know of no establishment where each curtain and drapery cleaning order is handled distinctly separate and individually, other than the Russell Curtain Laundry, at 14727 Kercheval avenue, who have developed an enviable reputation for fine curtain cleaning which can be attested by the numerous homes in Grosse Pointe that use this splendid service, yet their prices are comparatively low.

When you leave for your summer vacation send your curtains to them and when you return your curtains will be ready for you, carefully laundered, ready for hanging.

La Preen Opens Grosse Pointe Beauty Salon

The La Preen Beauty Salon is pleased to announce the opening of a salon in Grosse Pointe on Wednesday, July 7, at 985 Washington road at Mack avenue, extending a modern and up-to-the-minute beauty service to the women of the vicinity.

Improved Library Facilities Sponsored By Albert E. Meder

A citizens committee to plan and secure adequate public library facilities for Grosse Pointe will be appointed soon by Charles A. Parcels, president of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education. The committee will be named in accordance with a resolution introduced by Trustee Albert E. Meder at the meeting of the Board of Education on June 28.

Farms Residents Urged to Secure Park Permits

Here is a reminder for all Grosse Pointe Farms residents. We urge you to get your Pier Permits at the Village offices, 60 Kerby road, on any business day between 8:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. and Saturday to 12 noon. To avoid unnecessary confusion when desiring to use the pier we suggest that you secure your permits immediately.

In order to be able to provide accommodations for all residents we ask your co-operation in carrying out the regulations imposed only for your convenience and protection.

The resolution was presented following the announcement of an anonymous gift of 340 volumes published by the Yale University Press to the public library in memory of Henry Ledyard.

The collection includes the complete set of the Yale Chronicles of America, the Pageant of America, and other valuable works. The books will be available for public use after September 1.

The Grosse Pointe Public Library system is by law under the direction of the board of education. The Grosse Pointe Park branch is in the basement of the Park municipal building. The City branch is located at the corner of Notre Dame and Kercheval. In the Farms and Shores small branches are located in the municipal buildings. There is also a small branch in Lochmoor.

According to Miss Florence Severs, librarian, library service in Grosse Pointe is greatly handicapped by lack of reading space and the small number of books available for circulation. Considering the population of Grosse Pointe the community is one of the most backward if not the most backward in the state.

One Car in Three Carries Sticker

Regardless of the marked increase in the number of motor vehicles on the state's highways, about one car owner in three buys his annual license on the installment plan, figures show.

Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, points out that the 1933 act which brought the "sticker" or half-year permit into being, has been accepted as the permanent method of buying plates by some 500,000 car owners every year.

The use of half-year permits expires August 1, annually, and at a date prior to that, designated by the Secretary of State, plates go on sale at half price. Thus, as the "half price" date approaches, few stickers are sold. In 1936, a total of 448,036 stickers were sold; records of the department of state as of June 16, show 441,726 stickers had been recorded at Lansing, though actually more had been sold at branch offices on that date.

Michigan Democrats to Stage Huge Rally in North on July 10

Michigan Democrats will stage the largest rally they have ever held in Northern Michigan on Mackinac Island Saturday, July 10, Edward J. Fry, chairman of the party's State Central Committee, announced today.

Honoring Gov. Frank Murphy on the conclusion of the first quarter of his administration, Democrats from all sections of the state will gather on the island for a full day's program dimaxed in the evening with an "accounting" address by the chief executive. The address will be radio broadcast on a statewide network.

While banquet accommodations will be limited to 700, Chairman Fry estimates an attendance of well over 1,000.

"We have made special arrangements with the management of the Grand Hotel and other hotels to care for the hundreds of guests who will be at the island over the week-end," Fry said. "The State Central Committee has little business to transact and I believe that this is the case with the State Association of Democratic County Chairmen who will meet with us."

"Assault and Battery"

An assault is an unlawful attempt or offer, on the part of one man with force or violence, to inflict a bodily hurt upon another. A battery is a willful and unlawful use of force or violence upon the person of another. The actual offer to use force to the injury of another person is assault; the use of it is battery; hence the two terms are commonly combined in the term assault and battery.

Pioneer Romance
to Be Re-Lived at Muskegon Festival

To recapture the color, romance and revelry of pioneer logging days which won for Muskegon, Michigan the title of "Lumber Queen of the World", her citizens are spending $75,000 in elaborate preparation for the Muskegon Centennial and Lumberjack Festival to be held there July 17 to 31, officials announced today.

Huge Indian drums mounted on birch bark poles will floodlight the 54-acre waterfront site where hundreds of workers are busily engaged in constructing log blockhouses, stockades, trading posts, exhibit and entertainment halls which will line the balsam tanbark midway. An authentic Indian Village is being reproduced on the shores of a fully stocked trout stream, beside a 15-foot waterfall. Here Michigan Indians will hold a pow-wow, engage in their various crafts and sit before their council fires.

From a huge outdoor stage, musical features will be broadcasted over national radio networks. A waterway for logrolling contests is being constructed,
as well as a pool for a water ballet spectacle with a large cast of professional performers. An old-time saw mill has been set up on the grounds
where logs will be sawed by native woodsmen and later carved into souvenirs for visitors. Nearby will be a typical old-time cook camp where flapjacks will be served under the gaze
of a 25-foot statue of Paul Bunyan, mythical figure of early Michigan logging days. Fireworks will depict Indian attacks on blockhouses from land and water.

The champion wood-chopper of the world, the champion log rollers of the American continent, scores of bathing beauties, Dance-hall Spanish Lou, featured singers of the Big Broadcast of 1937, and the Belle of the Timberland
and her maids will vie with pageants, Mummers' parade, floats and Mardi Grass dance, to say nothing of spectacular aerial acts and modern night club attractions. Two big saws will be running continuously, it is stated.

The progress of transportation will be outlined from birch bark canoes, live oxen, or-carts and early autotainers. Visitors will have an opportunity to compare relative comforts to life in a teepee and log cabin to that in a 1937 Trailer City which will be established near the stockade, fully equipped with electricity, modern sanitation and even a laundry, for the convenience of visitors who bring their houses with them.

Individual buildings will house state federal and scientific exhibits. There will be showings of art, industry,
history and agriculture.

Two extensive 15-day festival is a civic enterprise designed to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the organization of the Old Northwest Territory,
the 100th anniversary of Michigan's admission as a state, the 100th anniversary of the founding of Muskegon and its first saw mill in the midst of a primitive and hostile Indian settlement,
the 50th anniversary of Muskegon's
pre-eminence as the world's largest producer of lumber, and its present status as a thriving port city of diversified industry.

Through Governor Frank Murphy,
honorary chairman, invitations have been extended to the Governors of Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Wisconsin,
the five states comprising the original Northwest Territory. It is estimated that 500,000 persons from Michigan and neighboring states will attend, arriving by air, rail, highway and water.

Starret Announces
Itinerant Service

For the week beginning Monday, June 28, itinerant representatives of the National Reemployment Service will visit Wayne County communities to register local job seekers. The schedule, announced by Major Howard Starret, State Reemployment Director,
follows:

Monday and Thursday at Wyandotte
city hall; Monday at Lincoln Park city hall; Tuesday at Dearborn Township hall at Inkster and at Plymouth city hall; Wednesday and Friday at the Safety Commission building in Dearborn; and Friday at Brownstown township hall in Flat Rock.

Wayne County residents may register at the Detroit office, 318 East Jefferson Avenue, any week day Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 4:30. The part-time service given in smaller communities is for the convenience of persons living in outlying areas.

Anyone over 16 years of age is eligible to register for work in the employment division of the United States Department of Labor, Major Starret said. No fees are charged for the service.

Discount Elimination
Will Save Michigan
$2,000,000 Annually

Elimination of discounts totaling $2,000,000 or more annually to private interests, who have no right to expect a state subsidy, is beginning to loom as a solution to the State's problem of increasing its revenues without additional taxation. The answer, harassed public financiers see in the present State Liquor Control Act, which allows operators of Class C Restaurants and Class B Hotels, licensed to sell hard liquor by the glass, a discount of 15 per cent upon their purchases from the State Liquor Stores. Liquor Commission figures reveal that discounts to these licensees amounted to $1,525,000

in 1936. With gross sales for 1937 estimated at $40,000,000 these discounts
may reach $2,100,000.

John A. MacLellan, executive secretary of the Michigan Conference of Social Work, in a newspaper interview recently pointed out this diversion of this huge chunk of state revenues to private interests under the present Liquor Act.

"These licensees are doing a private business," he said. "They perform no state function. The $2,000,000 discount to them is actually state revenues from the state liquor monopoly; yet it is being divided among private individuals."

Safety Campaign Is Being Sponsored by
State Department

An educational campaign to promote safety for both pedestrians and motor car drivers will shortly be sponsored by the Michigan Department of State.
Special attention will be given plans and ideas for safeguarding children
from traffic hazards.

To this end Leon D. Case, secretary of State, has requested Hoyt Morris, Manager of the Detroit office, to organize a Safety Promotion group of employees who will handle this detail outside of their regular work and for no extra pay. This group will be headed by Joseph Charnoske, legal advisor,
and will include several capable speakers. They will be available for safety talks before school classes, clubs, social fraternal and civic organizations or other groups interested in checking the rapidly rising toll of traffic fatalities and accidents. Speakers will also be available to address foreign language groups.

Any organization desiring the services
of a speaker is invited to communicate with Joseph Charnoske or C. A. Drummond, Secretary of State's office, 4105
Cass Avenue, Detroit, or Phone TE.
1-2631. There will, of course, be no charge for this service.

Weekly radio broadcasts are also planned and prominent state and city police officials who have had wide experience in safety work will be invited to speak.

40 Summer Schools in Detroit Area This Year

The Board of Education announces
the opening of summer schools, June 28th, for an 8-week period, closing August 20th. More than 40 schools throughout Detroit will be in operation.
Classes will begin at 8:00 a. m. and run in three 90-minute periods, closing at 12:30 p. m.

Courses in practically all fields will be offered, provided 25 or more pupils enroll. High and intermediate schools will offer, in addition to the regular courses, work in elementary grades 5 and 6. Elementary schools will offer courses in grades 5, 6, 7, and 8, and in addition, play hobby classes for pupils from grades 1 through 8.

In general, the work of the summer schools is offered for students desiring promotion and for those desiring review in particular subjects. Work in grades 10, 11, and 12 in subjects not ordinarily demanding a large enrollment will be offered at Cass Technical High School and the High School of Commerce.

Bids Opened on New
Local Highway Projects

Bids will be opened by State Highway
Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner
June 30 on nearly $2,000,000 worth of new construction.

It is the first time since Marh 4th
that a contract letting has been scheduled by the state highway department.
The letting will include road, bridge
and landscaping projects.

Commissioner Van Wagoner said the new work will be financed from Federal funds matched by the state money provided by the $5,000,000 highway appropriation bill which has passed the legislature. The commissioner said that bids on other project will be taken as soon as possible.

Projects on which bids will be taken
June 30 are all on the Federal Aid system of highways. Trunklines off this Federal system do not qualify for improvement under the matching program, according to Federal regulations.
The new construction projects include:

Wayne County—Bridge on US-24
(Telegraph Road), over Rouge River, city of Dearborn, $50,000; also bridge on US-112 over US-24 in the city of Dearborn, $140,000; and 2.702 miles of roadside landscaping on M-153 (Ford Road), Ppper Rouge River to Chase Road, Dearborn Township, Dearborn,
and Detroit, $20,000.

Many Species of Shrimp
There are numerous species of shrimp some resembling lobsters.
They are found in shallow, sandy places near the shore in many countries. If frightened, they bury themselves in the sand, digging with their tails. Most shrimp are caught in nets near the beaches at high tide.

CHANT TO THE SHRINERS

With mantle, scimitar and red fez crown
Oriental splendor came to our town:
King Solomon's glory marched up and down:
Oh! gala, gala, gala day.
The Shriners marched and marched away.
Our greeting colors and flags are all down,
Gone is the chanter, drum major, and clown,
The gay reveillers have all left our town.
Gone is the gala, gala day
Now the potentates have all gone away.
Welcome Shriners from away out of town
You have given our streets some fair renown
Again you may come and march up and down.
We welcome all your grand array,
Playful stunts and regalia gay.
—Florence Powell.

National Milk Month to Become Annual Event

A nation-wide effort to absorb the June milk surplus was initiated this month by national chain drug and novelty store associations, with more than 6,000 chain stores which operate soda fountains, lunch counters and milk bars, co-operating in a campaign to use more milk.

In Detroit, 250 soda fountains are enlisted in the drive to double milk sales by promoting malted milks, milk shakes and all milk drinks. Promotion efforts feature window displays, posters, back-bar displays, menu reminders, apron tags, and contests for new milk drinks and prize window displays. Over five hundred dollars in national prizes are being offered for the best window displays featuring fresh milk or dairy products, and for the best fifteen-cent drink for soda fountain sale which is originated during the campaign.

June 12th to July 10th was selected for the campaign as the time of year when cows feed on grass and the dairy farmers need help in disposing of an unusually large milk surplus. The campaign is expected to become an annual event, developing into a "National Milk Month."

Special window prizes of $200 for Michigan chain stores co-operating in the campaign are offered. The state is divided into five districts for distribution of these cash awards. Dean E. L. Anthony of the Michigan State Agricultural College will act as chairman of the prize committee, and will select a jury of five dairy farmers from dairy and farm associations in the districts.

On and Off the Records

by LEE MONTGOMERY

Caspar J. Lingeman, finds the duties of county clerk interesting and vigorous. He has little time for the usual hobbies and no time for the superfluous. His desk is antiquated, an old roll top that dates back to 1900. Other furnishings in his office are similar vintage. It is the only office in the County Building that has not been modernized in some manner.

Lingeman has not had time to choose new furnishings. His duties are more numerous than any other county official and he refuses to delegate any of his duties unless absolutely necessary.

Judge Ralph Liddy has had the busiest court in the County Building, during the past month. He is handling the One Man Grand Jury Investigation into the Ford and U. A. W. differences.

It is not an enviable case for an elected judge to arbitrate. It doesn't seem to bother Judge Liddy, however, who "calls 'em as he sees 'em," and still manages his boyish smile.

Circuit Court will have a small jury panel during the month of July, only fifty jurors to be drawn. They will hear Common Pleas Appeals.

The next full panel will be named after Labor Day. The half day summer sessions began this week and from now on the 18 Circuit Judges will alternate taking their vacations.

The Circuit Bench has earned a summer schedule, this year. They have cut the time on law cases down to eight months, the shortest period in Wayne County's history. It is also the shortest time for any equivalent Circuit Court in the country.

Harold E. Stoll, Register of Deeds, uses his airplane for hobby and business. Last week-end he flew to Monroe and looked over the strike situation. He took pictures and good ones for an amateur.

They reveal a sad situation and no matter whose right or wrong, I believe that it will be conducted soon in good American manner.

John McEwen, good news source and Auditor's mainstay, makes two announcements. First, take the Auditor's basketball team took the Wayne Co., Government championship by trimming the Secretary of State's office 9-4. Second, Western High alumni had the biggest celebration in their history when they honored the new school's opening Friday night.

Ed Brock, was sent out Michigan to evict a chinese laundryman. The man didn't know his name and so Ed copied the chinese letters on a card in the doorway onto his eviction notice. Now Ed thinks he has evicted someone's laundry and is worried.

Limelight

One of the common expressions of a political campaign is that this or that candidate occupied "the limelight." As an old expression it serves, but from a scientific point of view it no longer tells a true story. Limelight was produced in theaters by directing an oxyhydrogen flame on a cylinder of lime. Electric bulbs of various sizes and power and of every conceivable color take the place of the old limelight and a candidate can bask in a blaze many times as powerful as was possible some years ago without lime having anything to do with the illumination.

The first set of twins, a boy and a girl, were born in 1926. Twin girls followed in 1928 and 1929. Another mixed set came in 1932; twin boys in 1935 and the current boy and girl recently. Picture shows ten of the thirteen children in the Fifield family.

Their Invention Aids the Law

William B. Spooner (left) and Frank F. Without their camera it is impossible to make a positive identification of a stone after it has been in use for any time. The diamond is recorded in much the same way that finger prints are recorded.

me on the wall but Sherman Dickson trying to keep warm with a little, wet towel. He said he had been doing a lot of swimming, but I doubt him for I never saw him in the water once in the hour and half that I was wandering around the beach.

Ruth Rauen, Romana Wernet and Eleanor Parmeter made a nice looking trio as they walked along the far dock giving the boats anchored there a once-over and supervising the painting of the J-Hop. Speaking of boats there are quite a few anchored at the dock this year. Neither one of the trio minded the cold for they all wore heavy sweat shirts over their suits. They forgot their shoes, however, and by the time they got off the dock they had literally fifty million splinters in their feet.

Just got a glimpse of Steven Labadie, Jimmy Goldnetz, Charles Nickolas and Billy Wernet playing in the sand. Virginia Trask was doing an awful lot of jumping in and out of the water in her new, dark green, halter-topped suit. Virginia never wears a cap when she goes swimming, but lets her golden tresses flap around in the water anywhere they want.

Tuesday was an ideal day to see the latest styles in beach robes for practically everyone out of the water had some type of a robe on in order to keep warm. Frances Verhelle looked simply stunning in her new peach color robe cut along princess lines. Canary yellow was the color chosen by Marjorie Presard for her summer beach robe.

Over at the tennis courts I saw Jeanette Corry and Lucille keeping warm by playing a peppy game of tennis. Lucille looked nice in her white tennis dress trimmed with blue buttons while sister Jeanette was wearing a gaily printed three-piece outfit.

Bob Beck was also playing tennis, but I didn't know the boy who was playing with him. I just got to the courts in time to see Betty Bowser and Anne Robinson finish their game of tennis. Betty looked cute in her blue shorts, while Anne was dressed in shorts of white.

I bumped into George Treis, Jr., over by Tony's refreshment stand trying to decide whether he should buy something to eat or go home to his dinner. I guess he went home for I didn't see him around five minutes later.

Address of L. C. Rabaut in Washington, June 1

Following is an address by Hon. Louis C. Rabaut (D) of Michigan in Statuary Hall, United States Capitol, Washington, D. C., printed in the Congressional Record of June 1, 1937. The subject was: "Father Jacques Marquette, S. J. I have resolved to meditate publicly upon his life."

For one whose lot is cast with the problems of legislation, it is indeed refreshing to be assigned to a task of recognition of him whose life was spent in the love of his fellow man, and of me, a graduate of the Black Robe and the father of a Jesuit Scholastic, Francis Dermott Rabaut, S. J., here beneath the dome of the Capitol, in Statuary Hall, at the National shrine of the men and women famed for achievement, in this country, before the statue of Father Marquette, it is an occasion of importance and extraordinary significance.

Gentle, courageous, and religious by nature, the son of Nicholas and Rose de la Salle Marquette, his father from a family famed as warriors and officials and the de la Salles recognized or their religious fervor, we find the joining of these strains mingled in the glorious character of the discoverer of the Mississippi River, the follower of St. Ignatius, and favored at his death as a close imitator of St. Francis Xavier.

So much of his life has been most perfectly covered in the address a few moments ago delivered by Father Edward Walsh of Georgetown University that I have resolved to meditate publicly upon such portions of his life as it would be well for us to dwell upon.

I like to think of him as a boy making the decision to follow the life of the Black Robe. I like to think of him in the zeal that characterized his pursuit of study, to the mastering of the difficult Indian languages. I like to think of him in his devotion to duty, in the acceptance from his superior, of the assignment to the distant and dangerous post at La Pointe, the mission of the Holy Spirit on the far-away western shore of Lake Superior. I like to think of him as a messenger of peace, taking flight with the Hurons because of their quarrel with the Sioux, avoiding bloody Indian warfare, and returning to Lake Michigan to establish the mission of St. Ignace on the northern shores of the Straits of Mackinac. There is a controversy between this city and Mackinac as to which was the cradle of Christianity in the Wolverine State. Were the decision left to me, I would decide on the former because of its name, in honor of the founder of the Society of Jesus. I like to think of him as a leader, so readily recognized when he left his companions on the shore of the Mississippi and proceeded inland into unknown regions for a distance of five miles with only his crucifix for his protection, and imagine his reward at finding the villages reported as the fires of 700 families beneath his gaze. They proved to be the habitations of the friendly Illinois. I like to think of him as a missionary going from cabin to cabin, bringing the Word of God and resolving because of his diminished strength, to have a great meeting in the open. I like to picture him upon that Holy Thursday with the sachems gathered about him, and next in the circle the braves, and finally the whole population of the place, even to the children.

As was the custom of the tribes, skins and colored blankets were hung all about the place. Father Marquette also had raised pictures of the Blessed Mother. I like to think of him as the explorer crossing the divide leaving the waters that flow to Quebec and embarking on unknown streams destined to enter into the Gulf of Mexico. I like to read his descriptions of tribes, forests, and flowers; of grasses, animals, and birds; of rivers, fishes and game. I like to think of him as having done so much for my State and of his burial on the shore where the waters of the lake of the same name wash its stands. I like to think of him in his priestly character, anxious to return to the mission at St. Ignace, but his Heavenly Father had destined otherwise. It was near the mouth of the river on the eastern shore of Lake Michigan, near the present city of Ludington, that Father Marquette on May 18, 1675, stopped with his two companions, selecting as he did his place for burial. I like to think of him when he knew his hour was at hand, consoling his companions, instilling in them confidence in the goodness of God Who would not neglect them in this new and little-known region.

I like to think of his instruction for his own burial, asking that they ring the sacristy bell as they carried him to his last resting place. I like to think of his charity in this, his hour of tribulation, telling his companions that they should rest a while and that he would call them, and whether in the spirit of human frailty or whether in the spirit of obedience, we know not which, they gave heed to his command. He called them as promised, and as his last priestly duty heard their confessions and then wrote his own shortcomings upon a piece of paper, requesting their deliverance to his superior, impressing thereby the necessity of their prayers for the peaceful repose of his soul.

Finally, taking his crucifix from his neck, he asked one to hold it on high that he might gaze upon the Savior of the world, and thus he died.

Truly what he speaks so loud that it dulls to silence what he says. Privileged are we, my friends, on this the tercentenary of his birth, to recall the works of this Jesuit priest, missionary to the Indians, explorer and discoverer of the Mississippi.

Details of the study call for a series of regional conferences sponsored by the various teacher training institutions for the discussion of curriculum problems. Dr. Elliott hopes to develop a widespread interest on the part of the teachers and the public in curriculum improvement.

Basketball Most Favored of Sports

Lansing.—Basketball is the most popular sport among the 700 high schools belonging to the Michigan High School Athletic Association, it was revealed here today by Charles E. Forsythe, director of interscholastic athletics for the state.

Basketball was played in 650 schools during the year. Baseball ranked second in popularity, with 400 schools participating in what is known as the national game. Football was played in 325 schools, 225 had track teams, 175 sponsored tennis teams, 125 golf, 40 cross country, 30 swimming and 20 went in for hockey.

Six-man football for the smaller high schools, is a coming sport in Michigan it was predicted in Lansing today by Charles E. Forsythe, director of Michigan interscholastic athletics. The sport will be adaptable in schools where the enrollment does not warrant a complete football squad that can place a team of 11 men in the field, Forsythe said.

Six-man football is regulation football played with only six players on a side. Three men must be on the line of scrimmage on the offense. The game is played on a field 80 yards long, and 40 yards wide.

The purpose of six-man football is to make football available to a wider range of boys than is now the case," Forsythe said. "It is not pass and touch football, nor is it soccer, the eleven-man rules governing throughout with a few exceptions. This is not an attempt to make something better than the eleven-man football as now played but an attempt to provide football for schools where the game is now too expensive, and where they do not have sufficient material for a larger team. The injury hazards are not so great with the smaller number of players on the field, thus permitting immature boys to participate. However the game should not be undertaken unless proper equipment is made available and coaching facilities are up to standard."

The game is played with a center, two ends, a quarterback, halfback and fullback. A few changes in the rules will make the game interesting to play as well as to witness, Forsythe said. Every man has an opportunity to handle the ball on the offense. Every player is eligible to receive a pass except the center. Before the ball crosses the line of scrimmage it must be passed from the original ball receiver to another player. If a player crosses the line of scrimmage before he passes the ball to a teammate, the play is illegal. Players must wear basketball or tennis shoes, except when an agreement is reached between both coaches regarding the use of cleated shoes.

A grant of $12,500 from the General Education Board in New York City, a Rockefeller-supported organization, to finance a survey of secondary school education in Michigan, was announced in Lansing today by Dr. Eugne B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction. The grant was made to the State Board of Education, of which Dr. Elliott is executive officer.

"We intend to develop the basic policy in accordance with which the secondary curriculum should be revised," Dr. Elliott announced. The work will require a year of study and survey of several secondary curriculum revision projects now under way in various sections of the United States. "Following the nationwide study of these projects special attention will be given to Michigan needs," Elliott said.

"In Michigan, as well as in other states, many high schools are anxious to improve their practices, but do not know what to do. Schools should be given assistance in generating a fundamental philosophy that will enable them to make definite, sound commitments as to their direction and progress. We hope to be able to make definite recommendations at the end of a year, which should develop in the way of better legal and administrative organization for public education in Michigan."

And it is further Ordered, That a copy of this order be published three successive weeks previous to said time of hearing, in the Grosse Pointe Review, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County of Wayne.

At the present time applicants do not have to wait for six or seven months before they can be enlisted as was previously the case, but if found qualified may be enlisted in a much shorter period of time.

Young male citizens of the United States between the ages of 17 and 25 who desire information relative to enlisting in the Navy, may obtain same in detail without obligation by calling or writing to the Navy Recruiting Station, 6700 New Federal Bldg.

Model Car Design Competition Closes Midnight, July 9th

Extension of the closing date of its model car design competition to midnight of July 9 was announced today by William A. Fisher, president of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild.

Officials believe that the project, that of constructing a miniature automobile embodying the participant's own ideas of motor car design, is simple enough so the extension of time will permit many of the late entrants to participate on an equal basis with boys who enrolled earlier.

Judging of the models for state and regional honors will be conducted in nine cities throughout the country, Boston, New York, Washington, D. C., Atlanta, Dallas, Detroit, Omaha, San Francisco and Portland, Ore., by representatives of the General Motors styling section and local school and boys' activities leaders.

Cash awards ranging from $25 to $100 will go to the 14 winners selected in each state and the District of Columbia. From this group, the 18 regional winners will be chosen, nine in the junior and nine in the senior division. These youths will attend the seventh Guild convention, to be held in Detroit, August 31 to September 3, inclusive, as guests of the General Motors-sponsored educational foundation.

Winners of the two $5,000 university scholarships offered as national awards in the model car design competition will be announced the opening night of the gathering at a banquet in the auditorium of the General Motors Building.

Shakespeare's Birth Date William Shakespeare's birth date is unknown, but he was baptized in the parish church of Stratford-upon-Avon in Warwickshire on April 26, 1564.

Care in Handling of Milk Pays During the Summer Months

When you sleep late on Sunday morning and the breakfast milk or coffee cream has a tallowy, "cappy" taste, don't blame the milkman! Before you were around to place it in the cool shades of the refrigerator, your milk was probably subjected to a sun-bath for which nature never intended it. Sunlight is injurious to the fine, delicate flavor of milk and cream, and exposure to direct sunlight for any time will often bring about a decided off-flavor.

During the summer the rules for handling milk properly must be more than ever strictly observed. Of course, use only fresh, pasteurized milk. It is well to know approximately the time your milk is delivered on the milkman's summer schedule, so that you may bring it inside promptly and place it in the refrigerator.

Maintain the temperature of your milk and cream below 55 degrees Fahrenheit and do not hold it longer than three days in your refrigerator. Never leave the milk bottle standing outside the refrigerator longer than it is actually in use. Milk and cream in pitchers should be removed from the table first after the meal, and placed directly in the refrigerator.

When preparing to defrost a meat to remove the milk or any of the food chemical refrigerator, it is not necessary from the refrigerator. Mechanical refrigerators are now designed to hold an adequate temperature to keep down bacterial increase in milk and food during the defrosting period.

But keep milk well covered at all times, for it readily absorbs odors and flavors of other foods.

Scrupulous care in handling milk in summer pays, not only by saving milk from loss through spoiling and souring, but by maintaining its refreshing flavor and palatability and therefore assuring milk a popular place in the family's daily diet. A liberal use of milk, in drinking and in cooking, serves in a short period of time to lower the total grocery bill. It has been repeatedly proven that the more milk used in the family food budget, the lower the total cost of the budget will be.

Milk that is kept cold, sweet and palatable by proper handling and refrigeration is taken willingly by children in the full quota of one quart daily, while his recommended for their protection and best growth. Milk is an ideal hot weather food for both children and adults. During the summer, the body processes call for quantities of liquid and food easily digested, and preferably alkaline in reaction to balance the acidity of other foods. Because of its liquid form, milk is easy to assimilate. Since there is no waste to milk, it lays no burden upon the digestive tract, but is directly converted into energy and maintenance material.
