News Digest

Robert Irwin plans to resist the shock of the electric chair when he must sit in that dreaded piece of furniture soon.

All moonshiners aren't in them thar hills. One was found in a tailor shop opposite the Detroit police headquarters Tuesday.

Governor Murphy has entered a plea for the freedom of Tom Mooney and heartily endorses efforts to have him freed.

Spring is really here. Bench warmers and spring fever sufferers are quite numerous in the various parks.

It seems that the Detroit Street Railway is not operating on a paying basis, according to the general manager. Wage cuts, discharging of superfluous labor, and other economies will be placed into effect.

Many boys are of the opinion that crime does pay with the result that several have been given life imprisonment for murder in recent months and quite a number are serving time for robberies, and carrying firearms unlawfully.

It will only take a half billion dollars of the taxpayers money to complete the housing recovery program and permit the advancing of 100 per loans to stimulate business.

More lives are lost because some drivers are in too big a hurry to ease the foot off the accelerator for a second or two to permit some pedestrian to get out of the way. Think of the other fellow when you drive. He has his rights as well as you. Laws are made to help all and not for any one individual, but you can't beat courtesy.

It won't be long before Germany will step into the political picture of Czechoslovakia and add more territory and man power to its now powerful domain, probably another master stroke without much bloodshed, while the remainder of Europe looks on.

Laabs showed exceptional hitting ability when given a chance to play ball, and Pete Fox is holding his own as a batsman. The rest of the team seems to be having a hard time getting started.

Papa Passes His Examinations

Wrestling with a washable doll, Anthony Cappl, one of the fathers-to-be who recently graduated from the four weeks' course on handling a baby, gets a pointer or two on the proper technique of diaper-changing. The instructor at the school is Sarah Gould. Other brave fathers-to-be look on wondering how Tony manages to account for all those ends.

A diversified program of music will be presented by this famous band including marches, overtures and waltzes. Grosse Pointe citizens and their friends are invited to this rare musical treat. A small admission charge to defray expenses will be made. If you have not already secured your ticket, they may be purchased at the High School auditorium on the evening of the concert.

Park Police Arrest Two Armed Youths on St. Paul and Bedford

Early this week Pat Conlon and Art Lowers of the Grosse Pointe Park police department noticed two suspicious characters on Bedford near St. Paul. Upon seeing the scout car one of the men removed a gun from his person and threw it away, then turned in to St. Paul avenue.

The police officers immediately arrested the two youths and brought them in for investigation. The other youth upon examination was found to be well armed. Questioning also elicited the fact that they had been extended five years' probation September 1937 by Judge Spears of Roseville upon a similar charge.

They were immediately turned over to the Roseville police department. The two youths were identified as Amarico Zoccola, age 21, of 26350 Greenleaf avenue, Roseville, and Michael Jowan, age 23, of 17162 12-Mile road, Roseville.

'The Happy Vagabond' at Defer School May 4

At the Defer school, on Kercheval avenue at Nottingham, on Wednesday evening, May 4, 8:15 o'clock, the play, "The Happy Vagabond" by the Groce Evangelical Church Young People's League will present the comedy drama, "The Happy Vagabond." These talented young people have presented several interesting and amusing plays in the past and have always given a good account of themselves. The entertainment to be offered on May 4th promises an interesting evening, as "The Happy Vagabond" is rich in humor, pathos, romance, and lovable as well as contentious personalities. It reveals the unsuspected drama existing in the lives of small-town folks.

The Taggart farmhouse is in a state of dilapidation almost beyond repair. Lem Taggart suffering from gout, rheumatism, indigestion, and other ailments, has an unpleasant nature made worse by his bad state of health. Although debts have piled up and the ground has become poorer each year, Lem refuses to let the railroad build through his property. His wife and hired hands are the victims of his temper and ill nature.

The moment the "Happy Vagabond" pushes his way across their threshold, a reformation takes place. The smooth-talking diplomatic tramp matches wits with Lem, stubborn and determined—a battle is on!

Dr. Brownell To Become Professor At Yale University

Dr. S. M. Brownell, Superintendent of Grosse Pointe Public Schools, has tendered his resignation to the Board of Education to accept a permanent appointment as Professor of School Administration in the Graduate School of Yale University, Charles A. Parcells, Board of Education President, announced today.

The appointment to a full time professorship follows Dr. Brownell's service this year as visiting lecturer at Yale. He has spent part of each month since September at New Haven, continuing to function as Grosse Pointe superintendent on a part-time basis.

In the eleven years of his term at Grosse Pointe Dr. Brownell has assumed important educational leadership in state and national circles. He is chairman of the Directing Committee of the Michigan Second School Curriculum Study, which is in charge of a complete survey of the secondary school situation in Michigan. He was in charge of the adult education section of the 1937 Department of Superintendence meeting at New Orleans. He has been an officer in the Detroit School Men's Club and a member of the reorganization committee of the Michigan School Masters' Club. He has held offices in the Detroit Alumni Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary educational society.

As a member of summer session faculties Dr. Brownell has taught in Harvard, Cornell and Wisconsin universities.

Born in Peru, Nebraska in 1900 Dr. Brownell received his early education at Lincoln, Nebraska. After taking an A. B. degree at the University of Nebraska where his father was a professor of education, he became principal of the high school in Peru. Then he went to Yale University where he received both Masters and Doctors degrees before coming to Grosse Pointe in 1927.

Brownell became head of the Grosse Pointe system at the beginning of a period of rapid expansion. Organized in 1922 as a result of the consolidation of five rural school districts, by 1927 the Grosse Pointe school district had a population of 19,000 and a school enrollment of 2,115. Today the population is 27,500 and the school enrollment 4,100.

Since 1927 Grosse Pointe's high school building has been completed, the Mason, Richard and Maire elementary schools have been erected, additions have been made to the Defer and Trombley elementary schools, and steps have been taken toward the erection of a junior high school.

The median for Grosse Pointe teacher training beyond high school has increased from two to four years under Dr. Brownell's supervision. Master degrees are now required of new high school teachers.

President Parcells points out two outstanding educational developments in the Grosse Pointe schools under Dr. Brownell's administration which have contributed largely to the reputation which the system has as one of the best suburban school districts in the country. One of these is the teacher intern plan, whereby new teachers undergo a training period in the school system similar to a doctor's internship. The second is the development of a guidance program which provides assistance for pupils in solving social, health, vocational, educational and personal problems.

Other achievements during the past ten years have included development of courses of study in all grades and the high school, the establishment of definite scholarship standards for college recommendation, the departmentalization of the fifth and sixth grades, and modification in the forms of reports to parents.

Dr. Brownell's resignation will become effective during the summer of 1938. No successor has been named.

Funeral Rites for Ben Fox Were Held Here Last Tuesday

By MARY JANE STOETZEL

St. Ambrose lost an active church member Friday, April 22, when pneumonia ended the life of Bernard J. Fox. Solemn Requiem High Mass was sung in St. Ambrose Church at 9 o'clock Tuesday, April 26, by the Rev. John A. Ross. Mr. Fox was honored by having the Spanish War Veterans, of which he was a member, giving him a military funeral. His body was taken to the Holy Sepulchre Cemetery for burial.

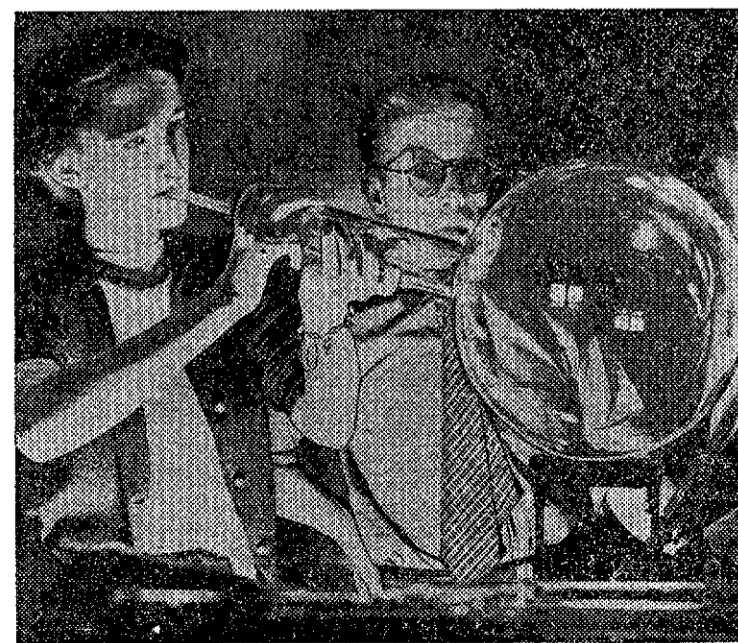

Mr. Fox will long be remembered for his active participation in various Catholic organizations. He was a member of St. Ambrose's St. Vincent de Paul's Society, Ushers' Club, Holy Name and the Men's Bowling League. He also belonged to the Gabriel Richard Council, the Knights of Columbus and the Spanish War Veterans. Civic affairs were always of keen interest to Mr. Fox, especially the politics of Grosse Pointe Park.

Grosse Pointe Park grew up under the watchful eye of Mr. Fox, who moved into his home on Lakepointe twenty-six years ago with his wife, Ida. For thirty-four years he was a government employee in the Railroad Mail Service.

Being an ardent bowler and baseball follower, Mr. Fox considered these as his hobbies. Nevertheless, writing may also be considered as one of his hobbies, since he edited for the last three years, the Knights of Columbus paper titled "The Knight," besides writing for the Grosse Pointe Review and the Holy Name Society. In spite of his other interests, his one obsession was caring for St. Vincent de Paul's poor in St. Ambrose's Parish.

Surviving are his wife, Ida; two sons, Dr. Denton B. and Donald J., a senior at the University of Detroit; his father, a brother, Thomas and a sister, Mrs. Fred Hayden.

County Reflections

By Geo. W. Crellin
 "This is My Will"—is the way in which Vic Gnau, Chief Clerk of the Copying Department, in Harold E.

Stoll's office, usually prefaces his remarks to High School and Commercial School classes in a number of schools throughout the county. Vic, who has had more than forty years' experience in handling legal documents such as "Wills", Deeds, Mortgages, etc., having started in the Register of Deeds' Office back in 1892, holds the classes rapt attention for 45 minutes to more than an hour, while he explains the ease with which one may become a Notary Public, the essential points of a Will, the difference between a Quit Claim Deed and a Warranty Deed, the care one must exercise when setting up joint title in a deed and many other highly interesting topics.

The office of Harold E. Stoll, Register of Deeds, has volunteered a valuable service to the public in offering the services of some of its experienced and highly efficient staff to the Civics and Commercial Classes of Wayne County schools for the purpose of explaining to the students the workings of one of the county's most important Departments. These men do a great deal toward clarifying and simplifying the subject of Legal documents by stripping them of most of their multitude of bewildering whereases and wherefors, etc.

Taking about Vic's 40 years of experience in the County Building brings to mind an idea some of the boys about the building had of forming a society called the G.O.M. of the County Building—in other words, The Grand Old Man of the County Building. This Society would be few in number, but might long in years of experience in the public's service.

Some of those on the Honor Roll would be "Chief" Chas. P. Benoit, Chief Clerk in the Register of Deeds' Office, Vic Guan, and Ben Pelham, chief of the County Accountants.

Charlie, Ben and Vic vie of each other in reminiscing of the days when the County Officials, to hear them tell it, had to put that cannon out on the front lawn of the County Building to defend themselves against the Indians.

There is none more beloved and respected in the County's many public offices than Chief Charlie Benoit. Charlie has about the lengthiest career of public service of any man in the County Building. When he was twenty-one he held the distinction of being the youngest member in the State Legislature, and ever since he has served in one capacity or another as a Public Servant, spending almost a quarter of a century in the Register of Deeds' Office alone.

Ben Pelham, Chief County Accountant, is a veritable mine of knowledge, legal and otherwise, and this characteristic of Ben's of combining a keen mind with an insatiable thirst for knowledge has made him one of the most respected men in the city.

It is Ben to whom most of the thanks are due for the Countys ability to respect such a favorable financial condition in contrast to that of the City Government.

Judge Robert E. (Bob) Sage graces two courts with his presence—The Common Pleas, of which he is one of the younger members of the bench, and the other—The Handball Courts, where Bob bats a pretty mean ball.

Bob is chairman of the Fourth annual All Lawyers' Hand Ball tournament that will start April 11th at the Downtown Y. M. C. A. He donated the trophies and it is rather expected that he will take a crack at winning them back, for the athletic jurist is a pretty good handball player.

Taxes tax County Treasurer Jacob P. Sumeracki's office to capacity.

Property owners, anxious to avoid sale of property at tax sales, to be held next month, are deluging the Treasurer's office with requests for information and with money.

If in doubt about any special assessments, or any other matters concerning your taxes, call or write Jacob P. Sumeracki, County Treasurer, for information.

The First Big Public Event after Lenten Season will be Harold E. Stoll's Fourth Annual May-Frolic, Friday, May 20th.

'Twill be held in the Ball Room of the Hotel Statler, with music furnished by Dave Diamond and his Della Robbia Orchestra.

This Annual May Frolic of Harold's unfailingly is the gala event of the Spring season, attracting well over a thousand to an evening of fun and frolic.

Boy Scouts Party Is Successful

More than 40,000 people visited the 2nd Boy Scout Exposition, staged by the Scouts of the Detroit Area, last Thursday and Friday.

There were 166 separate exhibits, each demonstrating the scouts' wide knowledge of the more than one hundred different vocations or hobbies. A total of 90,000 sq. ft. of floor space was used to accommodate the exhibits.

Troops 44, 96, 156 and 259 of the Grosse Pointe District, were represented by exhibits that were particularly interesting.

Troop 44, which meets at the Lewis Maire School, handled the subject of "Craftwork", with emphasis on attractive belts made by the "square knot" method. This troop's booth had a rustic atmosphere, giving the effect of a log cabin, the front consisting of four inch logs with temple windows looking in on the craftwork shop.

Troop 96 of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, presented the difficult subject of "Weather," their large booth having a painted back drop representing blue sky and white clouds. This exhibit was complete with various weather predicting and recording instruments, storm flags and weather observation balloons. From time to time the scouts announced weather forecasts and the correct time, using a public address system. Moving pictures of flood conditions in various parts of the country attracted a great many people.

Rabaut Wins Fight for Deeper Channel

In the War Department Civil Functions Appropriation Bill for 1939, which was reported to the House of Representatives today, there is included an item of $500,000 for the improvement of the Detroit River at the South end of Wayne County. Through the instrumentality of Representative Louis C. Rabaut (Dem) of the 14th Congressional District, who incidentally was the only Michigan Congressman appearing before the sub-committee handling the hearings on this appropriation bill, and who said "the channel is necessary to provide the property located in the district with deep water to accommodate the numerous industries wishing to locate in the Detroit area." The Congressman was successful and the Committee included the item in the bill which was reported.

Representative Rabaut further stated before the Committee "it is also necessary from a health angle, for in the deepening of the Livingstone Channel the flow of water has been taken from the East shore of Grosse Isle and thereby a backwash and marshy condition was created rendering that shore much less desirable for the residential properties that exist there." The amount, $500,000, is a part of the $220,634,725 that is to be expended by the War Department on civil functions carried on by that Department, and which include Flood Control, National Cemeteries, etc., of which a total of $56,800,000 is to be used, should the bill pass in its present form, for the maintenance and improvement of river and harbor work.

High School Band to Participate in State Festival

Saturday, April 30th, will find between two and three thousand high school band and orchestra musicians from all parts of the state assembled in Ann Arbor for the first annual band and orchestra festival. Included in this group will be the newly organized 70-piece Grosse Pointe High school band under the direction of Dewey D. Kalmeyer, composed of girls and boys from the seventh to the eleventh grades inclusive. The band has been practicing after school twice a week during this semester in preparation for this event and will leave Saturday morning in time to perform at Hill auditorium at 9:30. This event has been looked forward to with great anticipation and the band has been working diligently in order to make as creditable a showing as possible for the short time they have been trained.

Seventy-four bands and orchestras will perform throughout the day, while competent judges of national reputation will judge the groups and place them in one of five division ratings according to the musical achievement of each group. All groups are competing not against each other but against a standard set up in the minds of the judges so that it is possible for any number of bands to be rated in first, second, third, fourth or fifth division. Organizations are classified according to school enrollment in Classes A, B, C and D. However, this year will find the high school band, although coming from a Class A school, performing in Class

D—the National Rule permits band that have been organized less than one year, regardless of enrollment, to participate in Class D. The rating received will be far less important as compared to the wonderful inspiration, incentive and good fellowship that will be received and experienced in their performances.

Many parents will accompany the band on its trip. The program is carried on in conjunction with the School Masters' Club and sponsored by the Michigan State Band and Orchestra association. No admission will be charged and the public is invited to attend. Incidentally there are over two hundred boys and girls studying band instruments in the Grosse Pointe schools and if parents and students are interested it is possible that a summer schedule may be worked out whereby students may continue to advance during the summer vacation in preparation for next year's music program.

Settings and Costumes for 'Arms and the Man' Designed by James Doll

The settings and costumes for "Arms and the Man," to be presented at Defer School May 25 by the Detroit Federal Theatre, were designed by James Doll, who is noted for his fine work in creating designs for period plays such as is the coming George Bernard Shaw comedy.

This clever comedy, which is a satire on war, was the basis for Oscar Straus' charming operetta, "The Chocolate Soldier." The play is being shown for the first time in Detroit at popular prices.

It is expected that the prices will be announced next week after which time tickets can be had at Leachs Drug Store, Lakepointe and Charlevoix avenue. The engagement is being sponsored by Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church choir.

The Golden Text, (Ezekiel 18:23), is: "Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God; and not that he should return from his ways, and live?" Among the Bible citations is this passage (Job 31:3, 6): "Is not destruction to the wicked? and a strange punishment to the workers of iniquity? Let me be weighed in an even balance, that God may know mine integrity."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 404): "If the evil is over in the repentant mortal mind, while its effects still remain on the individual, you can remove this disorder as God's law is fulfilled and reformation cancels the crime."

High School Notes

Twenty-five members of Mr. Vincent Peterson's 8A home room will demonstrate a typical home room program at the Schoolmasters' convention in Ann Arbor Saturday.

The program will be devoted to an informal discussion of a self-analysis test, the object being to help the pupil in planning his curriculum for the following semester. Acting as chairman, Mr. Peterson will present a series of questions to be answered by the pupils. The discussion will not be rehearsed before hand, but will be carried on just as it might be in an actual home room meeting.

Two hundred delegates are expected to attend this particular division of the convention, coming from all parts of the state. Since many schools in Michigan do not have advisory programs such as Grosse Pointe has, the aim of this meeting is to acquaint the teachers of the various schools with a guidance program.

A panel discussion will follow the demonstration. Problems of guidance will be discussed by the teachers from the various schools.

Mrs. Anne Majneri, high school commercial instructor, attended the Michigan Commercial Teachers' Convention in Flint, April 8 and 9 as a representative of Grosse Pointe High School.

Mrs. Majneri served on the committee which put out a booklet entitled "Aids to Teaching."

Miss Ruth Craine, Miss Georgiana Jones, and Mr. Keath Carstens, also commercial instructors, attended the convention April 9.

Entering in class D, the class for bands which have been organized less than a year, 75 Grosse Pointe High School band members accompanied by Mr. Dewey Kalembar, director, will go to Ann Arbor to play in the State Schoolmasters' convention.

Of the 73 students leaving at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, 65 will play at the Hill Auditorium from 9:30 o'clock to 10. The others will listen and observe.

Each band is allowed one-half an hour to play three numbers and in that time, the Grosse Pointe band will play: "Sinfonia from Orfeo" by Monteverde, as a warm up number. "Salvonic Dance" by Balikov, for their optional selection; and "Merry Men" from "Robin Hood" by Thomas, the piece required of all class D bands. There are four entered in that class.

The bands will be judged by the last two numbers played on: stage deportment, musical achievement, and interpretation of regular number. To avoid a too competitive spirit, the bands will be placed in one to five divisions instead of being rated best, second best, etc. In this way all or any number of bands in each class could be placed in first division.

There are 74 bands and orchestras entered from all over Michigan. To enable the sponsors to complete the festival in one day, some bands will play at one time in different places.

Open house for approximately 160 8A students will be held tomorrow evening from 7:30 to 10 o'clock at the high school.

From 7:30 to 8 o'clock, the guests will assemble in the auditorium where they will hear three musical selections by the 8A chorus under the direction of Mr. John Finch. A short talk will be given by Mr. Paul A. Rehms, principal.

Later in the evening, parents and students will go to the pupils' home rooms where problems relating to questions of ninth grade enrollment will be discussed by the homeroom advisers.

The following are examples of the type of questions to be discussed:

What factors determine the number of subjects a student should take?

How do college entrance requirements affect the choice of subjects in the ninth grade?

What are some desirable programs of study for students who are not going to college?

Individual conferences with each parent and pupil will follow during which the student's program for the ninth grade will be determined.

An exhibit of 8A and 9B courses will be on display in the girl's gym. Mr. Cary is in charge. Posters for the event were worked out by the 8A art classes. Mr. Vincent Peterson is in charge of the open house.

On the Loss of America

At the close of the Revolution, on November 10, 1781, during the peace negotiations between Great Britain and the United States, King George III wrote the following to the prime minister, the earl of Shelbourne: "I cannot conclude without mentioning how sensibly I feel the dismemberment of America from this empire, and that I should be miserable indeed if I did not feel that no blame on that account can be laid at my door, and did I not also know knavery seems to be so much the striking feature of its inhabitants that it may not in the end be an evil that they will become aliens to this kingdom."

Queen Most Perfect Bee

The queen bee is the most perfect female in a colony. Her sting is ineffective. She can lay either worker or drone eggs at will, and produces about 250,000 eggs in her lifetime. Without her, the swarm will not leave a hive, so beekeepers usually clip the queen's wing on one side. After about three years, a new queen is born and the old one is killed by the workers.

Milk A Mainstay Of Farm Income

	FARM CASH MILK INCOME (IN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS)

1937	1475

ABILITY of the dairy industry to maintain cash payments to farmers for milk and employee payrolls is evidence, says the Milk Industry Foundation, that this 3 1/2 billion dollar industry is a mainstay of agricultural and industrial purchasing power during periods of recession.

Milk, the largest source of farm cash income, was also the only major farm commodity except cotton to return farmers more cash in January than the same month of 1937. Farm cash income from milk of $132,000,000 for January was the largest for the month in eight years and 14.8 per cent greater than in January 1937. Total farm cash from marketings of all other farm products was down 10 per cent.

Total farm cash income from milk for the twelve months of 1937 was $1,475,000,000, an increase of $58,000,000 over 1936 and $490,000,000 greater than the low of 1932. An important factor in the steady increase of dairy farm income results from the axiom that farmers benefit most from milk sold in fluid form to homes, stores, hotels, restaurants.

Foundation reports from 196 markets throughout the country show that payrolls of milk companies were 4.3 per cent higher and employment down only 1.8 per cent in January 1938 compared with January 1937.

Further evidence of the importance of fluid milk distribution to economic stability is that despite curtailed business activity during the last quarter of 1937, milk company payrolls increased 4.3 per cent and employment .7 per cent over the last quarter of 1936.

Grosse Pointe Scouts Attended Show

Troop 156 of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, demonstrated the requirements for the Photographic Merit Badge, their booth including a "dark room" where they were able to develop, print and enlarge photographs taken during the show.

Troop 259, sponsored by the St. Clare Catholic Church, presented the hobby of "Wood-burning." Scouts in this booth sketched scout subjects on wood plaques, burned in the outlines and painted them in water colors.

With this activity over, the Scouts of the Grosse Pointe District are looking forward to the Annual District Field Day scheduled for the latter part of May and to the Council Camporee to be held in June.

New Pointer's Viewpoint

Back in Brayton, a small New England town where the writer had lived previously to moving to Grosse Pointe, there had been nothing like the Neighborhood Club. True, New Pointer could remember Granger Hall, where the Nature Club met. In the small auditorium of the Hall other organizations used to hold coverdish suppers. But when he visited the Neighborhood Club on Vernor Highway near St. Clair avenue, New Pointer was surprised to find such a neat building equipped for so many community needs.

George Elworthy, director of the Neighborhood Club, took time out in a busy morning schedule to explain some of the many-sided activities which are housed in the club. Besides being a member of the Council of Social Agencies of Metropolitan Detroit and a member of the Detroit Federation of Settlements, the club building is the headquarters for the Grosse Pointe District of the Wayne County Emergency Relief commission and likewise has the district office of the Visiting Nurse Association.

All these big words mean that Public Welfare, settlement work, private case work and other means for aiding the community are centralized under one roof, whereas in a town like Brayton, these agencies are often scattered far and wide.

Likewise, Director Elworthy explained, the Club acts as a useful recreation center, offering a number of sports, and classes in everything from Gym to cooking and photography. Various clubs are sponsored for groups of different ages and the Club boasts an up-to-date poolroom where young male members can enjoy the game without being exposed to the traditional evils of poolroom gatherings. It is believed that this is the only poolroom within the limits of Grosse Pointe.

A glance over the building and its surroundings reveals the amount of equipment involved. There are six tennis courts, a playground, small garden plots, and inside, a gym and basketball court which can be converted into badminton courts, a boxing ring, or used as an auditorium and theatre. Around this are situated social rooms, a dining room and kitchen, the offices, and in the basements, locker rooms, handcraft rooms and a dak room. Upstairs there are other meeting rooms, the billiard room, and a children's nursery, to mention some of the facilities.

Needless to say, the nominal membership charge made by the Club does not cover the operating expense. The deficit is taken care of by the Detroit Community Fund. New Pointer was interested to find that the Club was built through the donation of land and the contributions of Grosse Pointe people. Grosse Pointers are to be congratulated on having such a medium for democracy, a clearing house for good citizenship, in their midst. Many other communities throughout the country are writing to Mr. Elworthy to learn more of this Grosse Pointe experiment in social lines.

"But Mr. New Pointer, everybody in Grosse Pointe knows about the Neighborhood Club," said the landlady, getting tired of one subject.

They may have heard of it, New Pointer allowed, but how many know how it works, and that if they need someone to cut the lawn or do some other task, they can call the Neighborhood Club and locate the person they need. That's just one of the many services the Club does which more people should know about.

"Have you seen the different swimming places in Grosse Pointe?" asked the landlady anxious to change the subject, "it's going to be hotter than ever this summer."

Catholic Library in Chancery Bldg. to Be Enlarged

Mammoth Bridge Party May 11 in the Naval Armory To Provide Funds To Buy New Books

Four years ago the Catholic Library in the Chancery Building was founded. This Library has become one of Detroit's principal book centers for all those seeking intellectual development.

As part of an expansion program to enlarge the Van Antwerp Library in the Chancery Building, a county wide bridge party will be held in the Naval Armory, Wednesday evening, May 11. This expansion program has the full and hearty endorsement of the Most Rev. Edward Mooney, Archbishop of Detroit Diocese. Proceeds of the party will go towards the purchase of books, new books, for the library.

The present library roster shows there are more than 1,500 regular patrons, some 60,000 pamphlets on Christian matters have been sold. Essentially the Van Antwerp Library is a circulating one, many citizens of Wayne county drop in on their lunch hour to avail themselves of the reading room.

All Invited To Participate
The enlarging of the Van Antwerp Library is not alone a Catholic movement—it's a civic undertaking that has the approval and full endorsement of men and women in all walks of our business and social life. Current mystery and detective stories are always on hand.
