14th Congressional Women's Club Held Party, Dance, June 20

By MARY JANE STOETZEL

"If the constitution of our country is to be preserved it is the duty of all women to see that the proper administrative officers are placed at the head of it," so stated Mrs. Harry Hudson, president of the 14th Congressional Women's Club, at an informal birthday banquet and dance given Monday, June 20, at the Newberry House.

"This organization was made possible by a group of patriotic women who felt that it is as much the duty of women to see that the right type of people are placed at the head of our affairs as it was that of all men before women interested themselves in administrative affairs, she continued. "Woman's place is in the home, but if we are to have a home we first must see that it has the protection of a government who would protect it."

"The principles of the Republican party are the ones that will protect our constitution, homes and children, and so we will do everything in our power to encourage persons of high mental and moral characters to fill the administrative offices."

Betty Whitley, niece of J. B. Whitley, this year's graduate of Wayne University, and chairman of the Speaker's Bureau of the Young Republican's Club, gave a young person's view on the Republicans. To her way of thinking there are three major things wrong with the present Democratic administration.

1. Government is interfering in business where it doesn't belong. Business could co-operate, however, with the government if private property wasn't being destroyed.

2. The relief roll is increasing the national debt besides being used as a tool for elections, thus betraying our democracy.

3. Their method of working is entirely wrong.

Through study Miss Whitley has reached the conclusion that the Republican party wouldn't stand for any government interference, increase in public debt, destruction of private property or use of relief rolls for election gains.

Several notable persons were guests.

ered around the gaily bedecked tables, representing the main ideas of each month. Rosco Conkling Fitch was the only Republican candidate for governor present at the birthday party. Mr. Frank C. Sibley, state chairman of Mr. Fitch's committee for Congress from the 14th District, and Harry Kelley.

Mrs. Katherine Clago, program chairman for Wayne Council of Republican women, and Hazel Moran, president of the Wayne County Council, were present.

Three hours of dancing followed the dinner and floor show put on by students of the Ricardeau Studios. Hostesses of the originally decorated dinner tables were: Mrs. Harry Hudson and Mrs. A. L. Richard, of the January table; Mrs. J. Richardson and Mrs. Joe Lightner on the February table; and Mrs. M. O'Connors and Mrs. Timis on the March table. The April table was headed by Mrs. Robert Rudick and Mrs. Ed. Riodan; while the May table Fitch's committee for governor, was present; while David Patterson, of Grayton road, took this party to announce that he was running for State senator.

Lee Richardson represented Frank Fitzgerald at the party, and Mrs. Aile French was Toy's representative. Dr. E. C. Keyes, who is running for coroner, had his dinner at the June table. Also present was Mr. O. Z. Ide, campaign in Mrs. Roth's and Mrs. McKinney's charge.

Mrs. W. Werbeck and Mrs. Jacobs took charge of the June table and Mrs. Marie O'Connor and Mrs. Alice French had charge of the July table. Mrs. Richard Webber and Mrs. Eleanor Ross; Mrs. Frank D. Smith and Mrs. Davis; Mrs. Kalso and Mrs. Van Lerbeghe; Hazel Moran and Miss Florence Clements, and Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Riser had charge of the August, September, October, November and December tables respectively.

It was announced at the party that the Newberry house would be used as a club house every third Monday of the month for the meeting of the 14th Congressional Republican Women's Club.

St. Ambrose Women Garden - Bridge Party, June 30

Mrs. Jerome W. Ankley is opening her home at 647 Lakepointe, for a bridge and garden party, on Thursday afternoon, June 30, for the benefit of the St. Ambrose Altar Society and the Crucifix fund of the St. Ambrose unit of the League of Catholic Women, the party to start at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Ankley recently accepted the appointment as chairman of the Windmill Pointe division of the Altar Society and is busily organizing the streets south of Jefferson avenue, east of Alter road. Members of the Altar society and of the league are co-operating with Mrs. Ankley in this, the first social activity of this newly organized section, and are confident that it will be a memorable event.

The Ankley's home is ideally situated for a summer out-of-doors party; the rose garden, bordered with tall flowering shrubs, forming a most attractive setting one well worth the nominal party fee to see, and doubly so, of course, with bridge and cards to be played in such a delightful environment. Should the weather be inclement, there are ample accommodations, equally attractive, for the guests within their lovely home.

That Mrs. Ankley may better know how many guests to provide for, she asks that those intending to attend, call her by telephone, Lenox 2451, for reservations. Mrs. Cecelia Runkle, Murray 6750, and Mrs. F. N. Wilson, Tuxedo 2-0430, are also taking reservations.

Mark the date, Thursday afternoon, June 30, at 2 o'clock. The place, Mrs. Dr. Ankley's rose gardens, 646 Lakepointe (first street east of Grosse Pointe Municipal building) and reserve one or more tables now for a really outstanding and enjoyable event.

Professor W. L. Phelps at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Sun.

On Sunday, June 26th, at eleven o'clock, Professor William Lyon Phelps will preach at the Memorial Service at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. Professor Phelps needs no introduction to this community. He is known and loved here as he is all over the country. All are invited to attend this service.

The Sunday School at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church has been discontinued for the summer, but Church Service will be conducted every Sunday morning at eleven o'clock by Dr. Frank Fitt, the minister, and later on in the summer by visiting ministers. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services regularly.

Mr. John R. Sutton, Jr., was honored last week on his birthday by a cocktail party given by his wife for 20 guests.

religious basis for meeting that need. Our aim is to minister, not to be ministered unto; to serve, not to be served. Our interest is not in buildings, institutions, creeds, doctrines, and administration, but rather in people. We would consider ourselves a failure as a Christian congregation if we could not help people confront their problems and conquer them under the inspiration of a vital Christian faith.

Being a congregation composed almost entirely of younger people, one of our chief interests has been in youth work. Our church council, an administrative group of nine men, recently spent a long evening discussing the plight of youth graduating from high school and college and being cast into a society that will not absorb them. Young people have been coming to our church who have been jobless for months. Others are graduating and have no outlook for doing any creative work or of being able to take care of themselves. This situation is, of course, not merely local, but national and world-wide in scope.

We lament not so much the tragic economic aspects of this situation as we do the mental, moral, and spiritual effect upon our young people. Some become bitter and cynical, some are enervated by a feeling of hopelessness and helplessness, some are completely bewildered at being in a world that promises so much and gives so little. All suffer a loss of pride and a feeling of shame at becoming dependents. The whole attitude of youth augurs ill for the society of the future.

Grace Church wants to do something to help youth. We want youth to have a fair chance to build a decent life under Christian conditions.

We have established an employment aid committee in our church. Our aim is to help young people to find a job and the job to find young people. We need your support and co-operation to do it. We believe that much can be done to help this cause. Employ Christian young men and women in your business and for odd jobs.

Our hope at present is chiefly for odd jobs. Permanent positions would, however, be doubly welcome. As conditions improve we hope to have the opportunity of permanently placing young men and women in positions from time to time. Any type of respectable work will be welcome.

We can do little without community support in this venture. We believe the community will heed our call. We are not selfish in our interests, but welcome any young man or woman of the community who wishes to register with us for employment. Jobs will be rotated among the names on our lists.

We are ready to receive calls for workers. We have young men and young women ready to answer the call. Call the following for further information:

Ian Smith, Murray 5385.
Stanley Hall, Niagara 9039.
Rev. W. Siebert, Lenox 9620.

Sincerely,
REV. W. SIEBERT.

Dr. S. M. Brownell Presents Awards to 140 1938 Graduates

By MARY JANE STOETZEL

Dr. S. M. Brownell presented his last set of diplomas June 16 as superintendent of the Grosse Pointe schools, at the Grosse Pointe High school graduation ceremonies. Of the 140 graduates, 22 were honor students; 78 received diplomas, and 40 were given certificates.

Charles Armstrong, president of the class, member of the varsity football and baseball teams, a letter winner, a high honor graduate, member of the National Honor society and the Hi-Y, and possessor of a scholarship average of 2.50, received one of the honor cups given annually by the Mother's Club to the honor boy of the graduation class. He also received a $100 scholarship, besides being selected as the person possessing the best ability, character and leadership of his class, thus making him eligible for the scholarship of $100 to be given for four years provided that he goes to the University of Michigan.

The award given annually by the Science Department to the student with the most outstanding record was also given to Charles Armstrong, who had an "A" rating in math and science. A gold watch given on behalf of the Rotary Club to the student who has given outstanding and unselfish service to the school went to Charles Armstrong.

Elizabeth Goodrich, secretary of the senior class, member of the Forum and Honor Court, a varsity debater, member of the National Honor society, an honor graduate, library assistant, and one of the senior speakers, was presented with the other honor cup given by the Mother's Club to the honor girl of the senior class.

The $100 scholarship given by the Student Association was given to Jean Berry of the January class. Of the three students recommended to Wayne University by the High school as eligible for the scholarship given annually by this school Dorothy Archambault was selected as worthy of the honor.

Richard Tolget, Dorothy Miller, of the January class; John Haldeman and Margaret Jansen received $100 scholarships. Should Margaret's record in college prove worthy an additional $100 will be given her next year.

John Haldeman, honor student and first senior speaker of the evening, in his speech, "Youth and Creative Citizenship," said that the youth of today do not believe in submitting passively to the conditions of the present day world. He stressed the fact that three things are necessary in order to develop citizenship.

1. Develop qualities of character suitable for democracy.
2. Develop an appreciation for our democracy.

3. Cultivate an active interest in our democracy.

These three things may be developed if the schools and homes would work together in order to make the students interested in the problems facing democracy, make them realize what is being done and why, and showing them how to develop the technique for determining facts. By developing these qualities he, as representative of the senior class, believes that democracy will have a better chance for survival.

"Youth and Leisure" was the topic of Elizabeth Goodrich's speech. According to her the average individual possesses mental resources that he never uses. Because of present day conditions the average individual has plenty of time for leisure, and so a worthy use of leisure time is a vital problem of today. The athletic system of today is collective rather than individual, while too much stress is placed on competition. People, especially the youth, should take an active interest in some hobby for it gives one a sense of power and accomplishments.

What of mental security was the question behind Doris Allen's speech, "Youth and Mental Security." Life today has too many problems to insure mental security. People today must be taught how to get along with others in order to gain success in marriage and business. They must develop a feeling of security and success in a world that is very uncertain, by realizing the fact that a person is useful in himself and not in what his accomplishments are.

It seems that everyone today must achieve a wholesome and intelligent knowledge of marriage and families. Finally individuals must be developed to face life's problems and to meet situations adequately and efficiently.

Miss Allen offered four ways in which the above conditions may be carried out.

1. Teachers should, understand not only the subjects they teach but also human nature.

2. Mental hygiene should be stressed

3. Guidance councils should be employed to adjust growing children.

4. Continued program of Parent Education.

Dr. Brownell in his address to the graduates reminded them of three things which they as graduates of Grosse Pointe High take away with them. First, they take away friendships and memories of associations that have contributed to their education. Second, they take away knowledge, and last, they take away their share of the reputation of Grosse Pointe High school. By their future lives they reflect the training given them at Grosse Pointe High. As graduates they have the responsibility of carrying on the reputation as members for life of Grosse Pointe High.

Summer Scout Camps Open Sunday, June 26

Summer camps of the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, will officially open Sunday, June 26. Both camps—Brady and Howell—will be filled to capacity.

Camp Brady, located near Waterford, Michigan, has been filling rapidly for several weeks. One hundred sixty scouts can be accommodated at Brady in provisional troops of thirty-three, five scouts each. Each provisional troop is personally served by a camp scoutmaster and an assistant.

In order to accommodate the overflow reservations at Camp Brady, the council's camping committee decided to organize an additional provisional troop at the new Charles Howell Scout Reservation located near Brighton, Mich., which is being developed for patrol and troop camping. An adequate camp staff under a camp director will be responsible for the conducting of an intensive scouting program at this additional provisional camp.

Robert C. Reusch, field scout executive, is director of Camp Brady and James N. Christianson, field scout executive, is director of the Howell Reservation including the additional provisional troop. Registered physicians, qualified Red Cross life saving examiners, expert craftsmen and experienced educators are included on both camp staffs.

Scouts in this community who to date had registered for Camps Brady or the Charles Howell Reservation for the first week are as follows:

Colorful Rider at State Fair Grounds Saturday

Eddie Arcaro, generally regarded as the greatest rider on the American turf today, will be at the Detroit Fair Grounds Saturday to pilot Memory Book of the Greentree Stables in the $10,000 Frontier Handicap.

General Manager Clarence E. Lehr of the Detroit Racing Association received word yesterday afternoon from head trainer W. Brennan of the Greentree Stables, that Memory Book was being shipped from Belmont Park immediately. He will arrive at the Fair Grounds Thursday. Marshall Lilly of the Greentree establishment, will be in charge.

Racing Commissioner Edward J. Fry has issued a complimentary jockey license to Arcaro for Saturday's feature and a complimentary trainer's license to Lilly.

Arcaro is the hard-riding Kentucky boy who became the toast of the American turf at Louisville last month when he hustled Lawrin home a winner in the historic Kentucky Derby. Leading critics of America's racetracks credited Arcaro's rousing ride for the surprise victory of this 8-to-1 shot, and definitely labeled him the outstanding pilot in jockey ranks today.

Arcaro will be returning to the neighborhood of his early riding days when he appears at the Detroit Fair Grounds Saturday. Back in 1932 Arcaro was a sensational apprentice rider at Kenilworth and Devonshire tracks in Windsor.

Since his Kentucky Kerby victory, Arcaro has booted in important winners for James D. "Jimmy" Norris, Jr., son of the owner of the Detroit Red Wings hockey team and Detroit Olympian.

Main Man and Pompey's Pillar had their final stiff preparation for the Frontier Handicap when they worked a mile and pulled up after a mile and furlong Tuesday.

Christian Science

"Christian Science" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 26.

The Golden Text, (Isaiah 35:10), is: "The ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isa. 55:1): "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 12): "In divine Science, where prayers are mental, all may avail themselves of God as 'a very present help in trouble.' Love is impartial and universal in its adaptation and bestowals. It is the open fount which cries, 'Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters.'"

There is also a special program for high school girls at Central branch starting on Thursday, June 30.

Simplified Traffic Favored by Attorney

Work Simplification is now a well recognized science in the mechanical world, where it has increased the output per unit and reduced the number of operations incident thereto. It has discovered that pre-located and pre-positioned tools produce efficiency, and that rhythm and rest eliminate fatigue. In the home it has made housework a pleasure.

Why not Simplified Traffic? Simplify the relations between the three classes or elements that fill the streets of our present day cities—the Pedestrian, the Automobile and Mass Transportation, and you will have safety, efficiency, reduced time, less fatigue, increased use, therefore greater production and more sales. The pedestrian must receive first consideration whether he be on foot, a passenger on a street car or a driver of an automobile. The three elements must be easily and quickly accessible to each other, for two of the elements and more vehicles for the third, and it is the interference of friction which now exists between these three that causes all of the trouble. The source and destination of the pedestrian is as varied as his numbers: we all live in different homes and are employed or do business at different addresses. It is impossible for the inhabitants of a city to live at one end of a highway and do business at the other.

By far the greater number of all three elements are found in the cities. They cannot be segregated from each other by placing one either up in the air or down under ground: there just isn't room. Great elevated highways with their closed margins clover-leaf and butterfly variations, separation of grades and subways are fine for the wide-open-spaces, approaches to large cities and direct through traffic, but they will not solve the problems found inside our cities. To thus separate the three elements will be productive of a great waste of time, fatigue and decreased use.

Simplified Traffic through the use of the "Tri-Safety-Rapid System" or plan, outlined in a future communication, will result in the greatest amount of safety, real rapid transit with the present equipment, increased usefulness of automobiles therefore their production, more merchandise sales, the saving of time and the elimination of fatigue. It solves the problems of traffic within our present day cities now.

Hard of Hearing Society Presents Plays

The dramatic club of the Detroit Society for the Hard of Hearing will present two plays at the club rooms, 4242 Cass avenue, on Saturday, June 25, at 8 o'clock. After the show there will be refreshments and impromptu dancing and cards for those who wish to play.

Miss Hilda Dedsole, of the Department of Recreation, has been training this group. She has done excellent work in developing voice and poise in her actors.

All hard of hearing persons and their friends are invited to attend.

The society's club rooms are open each day from 1 to 5 and the secretary, Miss Rubin, will be on hand to give advice or information pertaining to any problem of deafness.

B—The City Clerk may in his discretion grant permission for the trimming of trees when necessary, to make the lines safe and accessible, such trimming to be done under his supervision.

C—The construction work of the said lines shall be under the supervision of the City Clerk, and the grantee shall pay to the City, upon presentation of an itemized bill, the cost of such supervision of the legal rate of charge for the same.

Gabriel Richard Council, Knights of Columbus

John S. Mannix, of 1449 Maryland avenue, was elected Grand Knight of Gabriel Richard Council on June 6th, in a contest that was in doubt until the last dozen ballots were tabulated.

An even closer race was polled in the battle for Deputy Grand Knight, in which Grover Trombley, a former Deputy Grand Knight, received one more vote than the present incumbent.

JOHN S. MANNIX

Jack Hunter. Through the presence of George Housley and Ernest Rossi in the race for the Deputy chair, Trombley's lone vote margin fell several short of the majority required to elect, and a new balloting was required for the office, which resulted in Trombley's election. Following the fine example of Grand Knight John Hollinger, Hunter moved for the casting of an unanimous election for his opponent. The ready manner in which these motions were accepted, speaks well for the hearty cooperation the new executives may expect after their installation next month.

For Chancellor, James E. Haggerty, a member initiated but a few weeks ago, nosed out Dr. Charles Shaver by another of the closest possible margins. Daniel Ebbing was unopposed as Recorder, as was George Greenup as treasurer, and John J. Rusinack as advocate.

Not to be outdone by the other chair officers, the two candidates for warden, Pat Foster and John G. Gingerella, kept the vote tellers in jittery suspense until the last vote was tabulated. Gingerella winning by exactly the number of brothers that he has in the council, four.

For inside guard, Joseph Emerick, Noel LeBlanc, Charles Schickinger and George Findlay polled a draw, necessitating a rebaloting. In the final count, George Findlay pulled away from the field with just enough to gain the job. For outside guard, Samuel Gingerella and Alexander E. Renaud got the verdict in a three-cornered scramble with Adam F. Pesta for the anteroom berth.

Trustee John Clarke saved the job he has held so efficiently for several terms by a none too plentiful edge over Arthur Diehl—but with one or two vote margin the rule of the evening, a thin edge was sufficient.

Thanks to a splendid movie program of Maurice Rau and Raynal Brothers, a dramatic report of the results of the Sunday and Thursday evening parties by General Chairman Al McHugh, and the luncheon prepared by the House Committee, the meeting was thoroughly enjoyed by a record election crowd, despite the downpour of rain and the thunder and lightning, every crash and flash of which seemed to find our skylights and tickle the metal ceilings of the well-jammed club rooms.

Announcement of the installation of the new officers will be made upon receipt of information as to available dates by the State Deputy, District Deputy and Past Grand Knight William F. Ebbing being still confined to his sick-bed.

Garbage Disposal System Is Explained by High School Pupil

By MARY HOLMES

(High School Journalism Student)

B-r-r-r goes the alarm clock between 3:30 and 4:00 a. m. six days out of a week, every week of the year. Three men employed by the City of Grosse Pointe maintenance department as garbage collectors get out of bed, put on their overalls, eat their breakfast, and go over to the municipal garage to report to work. There they take up their daily schedule which they keep the year round.

Garbage is collected in two trucks and taken to a piggery near 14-Mile Road. But that is not the whole story. Pigs can't and don't eat all that is put before them; consequently, the pig farmer must dispose of the waste. He does this by plowing it under. The greater the waste, the more work for the farmers, and the ultimate rise in garbage disposal cost. This is the reason that the people of the City are requested to keep garbage free of chemicals, steel wool, papers, broken glass, and the like.

After the load is dumped, there is more work for the garbage collectors, who must wash out the trucks with a high pressure water system that the farmer has on his farm.

The nine rubbish men also employed by the maintenance department do not have to get up so early—6:30. They work one less day per week and do not work on days when there is heavy rain or snow because they enter houses and are more than likely to leave tracks and smears. But both rubbish and garbage men put in a full eight hours every day they work. And like almost every business men, they work overtime upon occasion—the garbage men during canning season, and the rubbish men at Christmas, when there is extra wrapping papers, boxes, and general clutter.

Most of the rubbish men are married, live in the City, and have a steady income. But not everyone can be a rubbish or garbage collector. They must be healthy, resistant to disease, dependable, and strong. The rubbish men, especially, must have characters beyond reproach because they are required to enter homes to make collections. Incidentally, they sometimes make minor repairs such as changing light bulbs for harassed housewives, but this is purely out of the kindness of their hearts and not part of their job.

Rubbish is taken in trucks out to the City of Grosse Pointe salvage department south of Radnor and Warren. There it is sorted by two men hired by the city. The rubbish is dumped onto a coarse screen through which ashes, small bits of broken glass, and other non-combustible materials fall. All bottles except milk bottles are sold to commercial buyers, and milk bottles are sold to the Michigan Bottle Exchange. The unsaleable waste is then taken to the City of Grosse Pointe dump north of Radnor and Warren. This dump was purchased by the City recently. Formerly, it was an old gravel pit. About twenty years ago, the gravel supply was exhausted and the "hole" was not worth a nickel. Since then the City has grown up nearer to it, until now it is close enough to be considered suitable for a dump.

The pit covers four acres and is at its greatest depth 50 feet. Its purchase is profitable to the city for two main reasons; a commercial dump charges from 25 cents to 50 cents a load for waste disposal, while it is estimated that the City can dump for 10 cents a load. This dump will take care of unsaleable waste supply for about 10 years. Secondly, the dump, when filled, will be profitable because of its resale value.

A more romantic story is told of the combustible material that is left after the screening. This material is put into a 20-ton machine that bales it. Paper, heavy cardboard, and excelsior are baled separately. These big bales are stored in the city-owned storage rooms with a capacity of 50 tons; and are periodically auctioned to commercial buyers. The bales are then piled into trucks and taken to paper factories. There the paper is dumped into large vats, made into pulp, pressed out into paper again, and eventually finds its way back into your home, probably as a newspaper or the wrapping of a bundle.

The weary trash men, their work nearly done when they deliver the rubbish to the salvage department, have long since gone back to the municipal garage and given the rubbish trucks their weekly bath. Sitting down to rest at home, they up the newspaper, which they have helped to make, and read. Not too late, though, because they must be ready to go to work the next morning—6:30.

Bill of Rights

The 150th anniversary of the Ratification of the Constitution was observed on Tuesday, June 21st.

When the State of New Hampshire, the ninth state, ratified the Constitution it became the law of the land on June 21, 1788.

The states were very slow in ratifying the constitution, because they feared that too much power had been given the federal government in Washington.

As a result of this fear at the first meeting of Congress, the Constitution was amended to include the rights of the states and of the individual are definitely stated.

It is the Bill of Rights which is in greatest danger of being destroyed today by the growing autocracy in Washington.

The observance of this historical event reminds us that we cannot hope to retain our freedom unless we are constantly on guard to protect it.

Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.

In gratitude to the early American statesmen, whose foresight and patriotism gave us the Bill of Rights, we dedicate ourselves in this fight for the preservation of democracy.

The Woman's Republican Club of Grosse Pointe.

Summer Groups for Children

Beginning Monday, June 27th, and continuing every week-day morning

(9:30 to 12:00) through Friday, July 22nd, Summer Groups will be held at the Church for children of the community between the ages of three and twelve. They will meet in four distinct departments under the direction of experienced leaders. There will be an interesting variety in the graded programs of stories, games, songs and handicraft. All will be delighted as well as real help to those who attend. Each week will be concluded with a picnic at the Park every Friday. Instead of a daily offering, there will be a registration fee of $2.00 for each child. Scholarships are available for those who need them. A year ago one hundred children were enrolled in the Summer Groups with almost perfect daily attendance. If your children are not leaving town for the summer, do not let them miss this opportunity. It is the best program the Church has for the children. Bear in mind that children of other Churches are eligible as well as those belonging to the Memorial Church.

Highway Commissioner Changes the Financial Structure of Michigan

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, came back to his home town tonight to advocate a sweeping revision in the Michigan highway finance structure based upon the ability of roads and streets to "pay for themselves."

The commissioner, speaking at a testimonial dinner in his behalf, drew a distinction between roads and streets with sufficient traffic to create a "vast, self-supporting public utility," and others that perform no other public service than "land or home access." He urged the initiation of a selective highway development program based upon this principle.

"The roads and streets that perform no other than general services should be supported by all the taxpayers," he said. "Those that make up a profitable public utility should be supported solely by motorists."

"Any such selective program should take into account two other vital principles. We must cast aside local prejudice and sentiment to determine the necessity of every mile of road and street in the state. And, we must make the public support of roads and streets fit the public pocketbook."

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Allison, of Lincoln road, are now residing at their summer home on Torch Lake. Their daughter, Mrs. Albert Pochelon, Jr., of Berkshire road, is visiting them for a week.

New Pointer's Viewpoint

Complaints against a certain out-door theater on Mt. Clemens Drive near Seven Mile road have evidently been piling up, New Pointer learned recently. The theater is arranged so that its audience may park their cars in an out-door enclosure, see and listen to a talking movie from their own cushioned seats. Depending on how the wind blows evidently, the screen dialogue or hints of it is alleged to be wafted into Grosse Pointe homes, where the glamorous voices of Hollywood are not appreciated. One strange feature of the complaints seems to be that many of them are said to come from several miles distant, whereas people living closer to the theatre have not been so vehement.

New Pointer has hit on a solution for the problem on hand, so that the outdoor theatre may flourish and at the same time keep inviolate the pristine silence of the Grosse Pointe night. The solution lies in the very simple procedure of shifting over to silent pictures, when complaints become too pressing. Think of being able to see again the breath-taking antics of Rudolph Valentino and Charlie Chaplin, all from the intimacy of your own automobile! Detroit offers very little in the way of silent films, which were so popular a few years ago. New Pointer predicts box office heaven for the theater when silent pictures are re-installed to their glory, and will be one of countless faithful patrons.

Revivals of any past art forms are always set for immediate success. Witness for example the revival of melodrama in such productions for the stage as "The Drunkard" and "Seven Nights in a Barroom." These plays, where one is privileged to hiss the villain, applaud the hero, and give hearty advice to heroine, have run consistently in many cities and minted money hand over fist. Surely out of the wealth of silent pictures, now in discard, could be resurrected the great epics of early Hollywood, and an outdoor theater for cars could be made to look like a New Year's eve traffic jam, fender to fender, every night. Perhaps New Pointer is prejudiced because he comes from a small New England town where talkies are just becoming the rage; and to New Pointer they will always be the Squawkees; so take it for what it's worth ***

Noteworthy Horses Here for Frontier Handicap Saturday

Nomination of Snark, Tufel and Isolator of the Wheatley Stables for the $10,000 Frontier Handicap at Detroit Fair Grounds for Saturday, June 25 brought the possible starting field to 22 horses.

That a crack field of handicap horses would go postward in this year's renewal of the historic event was clearly indicated by the nomination list announced Friday. The names of Snark, Tufel and Isolator were added through the mails, after the regular nominations had closed.

At present Snark, Tufel and Isolator are racing for trainer "Sunny Jim" Fitzsimmons at Aqueduct racetrack in New York. Snark turned in an unexpected victory by trimming Pompoon recently in the Suburban Handicap. War Admiral was withdrawn from the event. The starting qualities of Snark had frequently been questioned but the son of Boojum had them against Pompoon. He will get another test if he parades to the post in the Frontier Handicap, which is over a route of a mile and a sixteenth.

After his Suburban victory, Snark bowed down to War Admiral in the Queen County Handicap over the Aqueduct course, although he was impressive even in defeat.

A year ago Infantry was shipped to Detroit from Chicago to conquer War Minstrel and Azucar in the Frontier revival.

In the event Snark, Memory Book and Tatterdemalion are shipped from the Atlantic Seaboard, Rome Respass' Main Man will be called upon to prove his claim to greatness over the Detroit racing strip. Main Man has been prepping for the Frontier Handicap since scoring a brilliant win in the Col Alger Memorial Handicap Decoration Day.

Tatterdemalion, owned by Tom Healy, former trainer for the famous C. V. Whitney stables, is now campaigning at Delaware Park. He won the Dover Stakes there in his last start. He is regarded as one of the most improved horses in America. Jack Healy, son of the noted owner and trainer, is conditioning him.

From Chicago is coming J. L. Hickman's Arab's Arrow, winner of two stakes at the recent Churchill Downs meeting. Dolly Val, which bears the silks of J. Emery is another in the attractive field. Dolly Val ran second in the Illinois Derby.

Hopes of Canadian owners in the Frontier Handicap will rest with C. N. Mooney's Teddy Haslam; Tempestuous from Mrs. Tom Stevenson's string; and Diabroom from the Parkwood Stables of R. S. McLaughlin of Oshawa, Ont.

The complete nomination field is as follows:

Snark—Wheatley Stables.
Tufel—Wheatley Stables.
Isolator—Wheatley Stables.
Zevson—Mrs. E. H. Bartlett.
Gyal—T. D. Buhl.

Giant Boy Scout Rally Held Last Saturday

A giant rally of Catholic Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts from the East side of Detroit is scheduled for Sunday evening, June 19th at the church of St. Charles Borromeo, Baldwin and St. Paul Aves. Thirty Canadian Boy Scouts and Forty Cub Scouts from Immaculate Conception Church in Windsor have accepted a special invitation to arrive at 6:45 in the Gabriel Richard Park, Jefferson near Belle Isle Bridge.

At 7 the police officers will halt the Jefferson Avenue traffic as the parade moves on Baldwin Avenue with the American and Canadian flags preceding the Saint Charles Drum and Bugle Corps of Troop No. 242.

The Boy Scouts of Saint Charles Parish will escort their younger companions in scouting, their nine year old Cub Scouts in their blue and yellow uniforms of Cub Pack No. 617.

Of special interest will be the next group of smiling lads in the parade. This will be the good-will ambassadors from our sister nation to the north, proudly following their Canadian colors. The Cub Scouts from Windsor are dressed in green and their older brothers, the Boy Scouts are attractive in their dark blue uniforms.

The remaining hundreds of American Boy Scouts in the parade will be distinct groups with their own Scout Masters representing Catholic parishes from the East side of Detroit that have Boy Scout troops. Some of these are: Annunciation, St. Benedict, St. Catherine, St. Clare, Corpus Christi, St. David, St. Edward, St. Elizabeth, St. Florain, St. Gertrude, St. Juliana, St. Martin, St. Marian Nativity, Our Lady Help of Christian, Our Lady of the Rosary, Our Lady Queen of the Apostles, Church of the Resurrection and St. Thomas the Apostle.

Scout Master Emmanuel King of Troop No. 242 will be the parade Marshall and Assistant Scout Master Edward Muraine will direct the Drum and Bugle Corps.

Upon entering the church, the boys will sing "Come Holy Ghost" in honor of God the Holy Ghost, the third Divine Person of the Holy Trinity. Reverend Father Harold Markey of the Catholic Youth Organization of the Archdiocese of Detroit will address the boys, and Reverend Father Aloysius A. Deimel, the Cub Master of St. Charles Cub Pack No. 617 assisted by Mr. William Murphy will invest six new Cubs, who will pronounce the Cub promise and Law over the public address system of the Church.

In unison all the boys will then recite the Scout Promise and Law, and during Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament they will consecrate themselves to the Sacred Heart.

After the singing of "Holy God we Praise Thy Name" the "Star Spangled Banner" and "God save the King," refreshments will be served in the auditorium where a movie will be

Dionne Quintuplets Join Safety Club of the Air

The Dionne quintuplets have joined the Michigan Safety Club of the Air. Membership certificates together with safety pledges and club membership buttons have been sent to the five most famous little girls in the world at Calendar, Ontario.

The quints were nominated for membership in the radio safety club by Eunice Semanda, River Canard, RR No. 1, Ontario, who is a member of the club and who listens to its programs conducted by "Uncle Hal" O'Halloran over CKLW, Windsor, at 9:15 a. m. every Saturday.

Eunice expressed the thought that the Dionnes who are not now exposed to traffic hazards as are ordinary children will need special safety education and in making them safety conscious.

The combined membership of the Michigan Safety Club of the Air and the Michigan Safety Club, both sponsored by Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, is now in excess of 80,000 school children.

"Uncle Hal" requests that children sending in applications for membership print their names and address plainly. Many requests could not be honored because the names and addresses were unreadable.

Bath Water
Part of the income of India's Aga Khan, spiritual head of 100,000,000 Ismaelian Mohammedans, comes from the sale of his daily bath water, which is put in bottles.

Faithful Mohammedans believe that it has the powers of healing, and the pay five dollars a bottle for it.

When Robinson returned from the races he said to his wife. "Here's $100.00 I won today; you may have it to buy that dress you wanted."

Reluctantly the conscientious wife took the money and then remarked with an expression of rigid rectitude: "I shudder at the thought of taking money gained in such a way. Henry, promise me that after you have won enough to buy a hat to match the dress you will leave racing alone. I don't want my husband to be a gambler."

Willie (observing leopard at zoo): "Mother, is that the dotted lion the insurance man was telling you about, when he loaned his fountain pen to you?"

It was the early days of the old Klondike. An old Chinaman delivering laundry to a distant miner's cabin, heard a noise and espied a huge brown bear sniffing his tracks in the newly fallen snow.

"Huh! he gasped. "You like my tracks, I makee some more."

Organized Play Arranged For Summer Months

by Robert G. Winter

Drive down Fisher Road between Kercheval and Maumee one of these bright summer mornings.

Or past the Defer School at Kercheval and Balfour.

Or the Mason School, Vernier and Mack.

Or the Maire School, Kercheval at Cadieux.

Or the Trombly School, Beaconsfield and Essex.

Any day and you will see hundreds of Grosse Pointe boys and girls having a good time playing soft ball, tennis, croquet, or one of a dozen other games. And are they having fun, fresh air, and safe, healthful exercise!

The Board of Education of Grosse Pointe has planned an extensive athletic and social program for the young people who participate in the summer playground activities. Playground work is being conducted on an even larger scale than last year when 55,000 children availed themselves of the recreational opportunities offered. Organized play will continue until August 27, the hours of supervision being 9:30 A. M. to 8:30 P. M.

Friendly, competent directors, headed by Mr. Forrest Geary, athletic director of Grosse Pointe High School, are in charge of the playgrounds. The staff working with the boys consists mainly of men connected with the high school athletic department. Each is well versed in the handling of youngsters.

The staff includes: Mr. Frank Banach, a graduate of Western State Teachers' College and varsity track and swimming coach at Grosse Pointe High School; Mr. Kenneth Gary, a graduate of Columbia University and assistant track coach at Grosse Pointe High School; Mr. Finch, a graduate of Michigan State Normal and an intramural athletic coach at the high school; Elwood Dixon, a graduate of John Hopkins; and Frank Wilsenback, a graduate of Milwaukee State Teachers' College and physical education teacher at Trombly School.

Supervising the girls is a staff equally competent. It consists of: Miss Lois Oldham, a graduate of Denison College and physical education teacher at Adrian; Miss Mary Broughton, a graduate of Olivet; Miss Mary Reynolds, a graduate of Wayne and Miss Genevieve Januzzi also of Wayne.

Tennis, horseshoe pitching, volleyball, soft ball, hard ball, croquet, and handcraft are some of the activities the boys will participate in. Games of individual skill and group skill both play a large part in this summer program.

The girls of the community are also offered a chance to improve physically and socially during the idle summer months, for a varied program has been arranged to meet their interests. Soft ball leagues and kick ball and tennis are offered to the sport-minded young ladies. Instruction in the arts of handcraft and sewing is available to girls who are interested in the domestic arts. To those who are socially inclined, special tap and ballet lessons are offered by Miss Barbara Cation, a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School. This summer program will be obtainable at all the schools.

The summer recreation program includes activities for the adults as well as the young people of Grosse Pointe. The community will be entertained by the continuation of the free weekly orchestra concerts. Seventy accomplished musicians will perform under the direction of the Federal Music Project Thursday, June 30, at 8:30 p. m., second of the series of summer concerts which is to be held on the lawn at the Grosse Pointe High School. The appreciation of last year's audiences is ample proof of the quality of the concerts and their entertaining power.

The Board of Education of Grosse Pointe should be highly commended for the creation of this constructive summer program. For the members of the community, young and old, fine opportunities are at hand to make vacation months profitable and pleasant. The enthusiasm of last year's reception of the concerts and playground activities is adequate testimony of their worth and value. This year's program is "bigger and better." In it is everyone's chance for a successful summer in Grosse Pointe.

Art Exhibit at Alger Museum Opens Today

A large and comprehensive exhibition of modern German art opens today at Alger House, Grosse Pointe Branch of the Detroit Institute of Arts, 32 Lake Shore Road. The 60-odd watercolors, oils, drawings and prints have been gathered from several sources in New York and from a number of Detroit private collections. In addition seven sculptors are represented by nineteen examples of their work in bronze and wood.

Governing a period of some 25 years, from 1911 until the present and including the work of 20 artists, the exhibition brings to Detroiters an opportunity to observe the most important trends in the modern German tradition. The earliest work displayed, especially the oils by Karl Schmidt-Rottluff, the lithographs by Otto Mueller, the explosive designs of Kandinsky show how strongly the expressionistic revolt of Van Gogh against impressionism affected German painting a generation ago. A perspective of 20 years hardly dims the freshness and vigor of their compositions. An intensely personal and subjective interpretation of nature was the aim of these artists. The visitor will be impressed by the astounding record that Kokoschka has given us of dusk over a Bavarian mountain lake, the last fire of a sunset sinking below the horizon, and the first gleam of lights reflecting in the water. Not less impressive is the brightness and peasant like simplicity of Schmidt-Rottluff's "White House with Fir Trees," or Kirchner's bold interpretation of Alpine scenery. But whether it is these artists or others such as Emil Nolde, Louis Gornith, Erich Heckel, Feininger or Rohlfis, the whole modern German school has interpreted the quiet beauty of nature or its more dramatic moments with original and arresting color harmonies, with vigorous and stimulating brush work. But within the school there are sharp differences too. The measured harmony and delicate color of Feininger's rarified visions are a far cry from the grave mood of Nolde's watercolor transcriptions of the landscape of his native Schleswig-Holstein. Among the more recent pictures are a brilliant series of 10 flower studies in watercolor by Schmidt-Rottluff. Most

WORMS!—A New Business

Who started the Vogue of Fishing? And brought it down to date—None other than that jovial man Who runs our "Ship of State."

He scored a most perfect inning Landing a government dole And hied off to the Ocean Teamed with a fishing pole.

He has a perfect following—You know just what I mean If you travel on the highway And saw the signs I've seen

It's "Lucky Worms" and "Night Crawlers" To entice the wily fish "Scoured Worms" and "Minnows" Any bait you wish

For Fathers have soft collar jobs Collecting their "Country's dole" And like their "Elective Father" They wield the fishing pole of them were painted within the past year, and are indicative of the general trend of German painting towards a closer approximation of nature.

While Mothers moan the lack of work Syndicates fail to create Little boys have glowing visions—Of Castles bought with bait Mary Osanna.

Five characteristic bronzes by George Kolbe reveal this most important German sculptor's exclusive interest in the ideal human nude. Whether in movement or repose his figures are invariably imbued with a deep spiritual content. In contrast there is the more objective understatement of Gerhard Marcks expressed in the spare adolescent forms which attract him most. Barlach is represented by a characteristic rugged peasant study. Other sculptors whose works are shown are Renee Sintenis, Richard Scheide, Emy Roeder and Wilhelm Lehmbruck.

The paintings and sculpture have been lent by the French Art Gallery, and the Westernmann Gallery in New York; by Mr. John S. Newberry, Dr. W. R. Valentiner, and anonymous collectors in Detroit, and by the Ferdinand Moller Gallery, Berlin.

The exhibition will remain until July 31st.

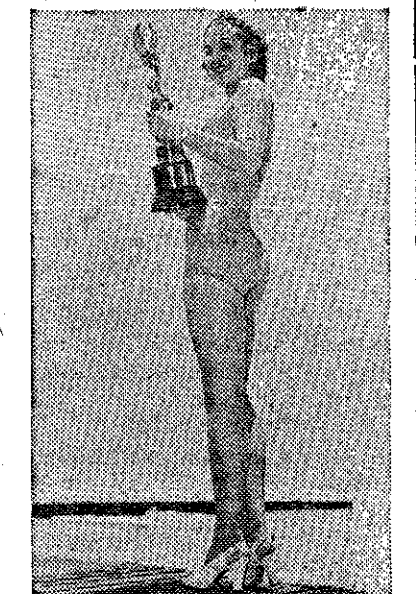

Alger House is open free to the public every day from Monday from 1 to 5, and Sunday from 2 until 6.

Famous Riders at Detroit Fair Grounds

From stables to judges stand and through the executive offices of the Detroit Fair Grounds you can encounter dozens of colorful characters of the horseracing world. Few boast of more eventful careers than the grizzled veterans of the jockey room.

Currently campaigning at the Fair Grounds are four time-honored warriors of the saddle, Earl Poole, Jimmy "Goggles" McCoy, Lee Canfield and Willie Hanks.

Pool and McCoy stand out as accomplished riders over a long period of years. Both have figured prominently in headline stake and handicap races on almost every racetrack in the United States and Canada.

Presence of McCoy at the Fair Grounds is a reminder to old-timers of the Detroit turf world of his winning ride aboard John Troxler's King Nadi in the Frontier Handicap at the old Windsor Jockey Club in 1926. A. J. "Whitey" Abel, popular owner and trainer at the Fair Grounds this season, rode the last winner of this event at the Jockey Club. He was aboard Harry Baker, which won in 1927. When the race was revived by the late Bradley Wilson at Windsor's Devonshire track in 1929, Abel rode Gettsman to victory for the Seagram Stables.

McCoy, a native of Lexington, Ky., started his riding career at the old Jockey Club at Lexington in 1920. He's been booting 'em babies home ever since, although not accepting moments with the reckless abandon of his early years. Today he's 38.

McCoy broke into the riding business in an era when Man O' War and Sir Barton were the most talked of thoroughbreds. It was a period when the American turf probably boasted of the greatest array of jockeys in history. Clarence Kummer, Earl Sande, Pony McAfee, Laverne Fator, Mack Garner, Chick Wang, Eddie Barns, F. Colfille, Frank Keogh, Petie Walls, L. Lyke and Johnny Loftus were some of the saddle luminaries.

Probably the season of 1925 was the greatest for McCoy in turf triumphs. He rode Sir Peter to victory in the Enquirer Handicap at Latonia; King Nadi in the Grainer Memorial to beat out Captain Hal and Princess Doreen; and Deeming in the Kentucky Oaks at Churchill Downs.

McCoy had visions of a winning journey aboard Gifford A. Cochran's Flying Ebony in the Kentucky Derby of 1925. But Earle Sande showed up at Churchill Downs without a mount, and owner Cochran elected to assign the greatest rider of the day to Flying Ebony. The combination defeated Captain Hal for the Kentucky prize while McCoy looked on from the sidelines.

Hannan "Y" News

The boys' hobby shop has just opened for the season under the direction of Frank Updegraff. Mr. Updegraff has prepared a display of projects which may be undertaken during the summer. The collection of projects are on display in the lobby and all boys are urged to enroll in these classes at an early date.

Archery instruction will begin on Friday, July 8 and is open to all boys members of the "Y" who would like to learn to shoot the English Long Bow. Practice and instruction sessions will be held weekly on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons at 4.

The shooting method used by the archers in the picture Robin Hood will be taught. The shooting range and the class will be well supervised to make this sport safe for all who take part.

Instruction in playing the harmonica will begin on Friday, July 8, at 3 p. m. The classes are open to all boys who really want to learn to play and become a member of the Harmonica Band. Rehearsals will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of each week. Boys should own a key of C harmonica and will be furnished free instruction books.

A group of six young American men and women, of as many different racial origins, traveling this summer in the interests of better fellowship between races, were entertained at Belle Isle on Monday, June 27, as the guests of the Hannan Y residents at their weekly steak roast. Mr. Lloyd R. Killam, executive secretary of the committee on Pioneer Fields of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A., is the leader of the party. Associated with him are Miss Mashao Tateishi (Japanese), Miss Sylvian Li (Chinese), Mr. Juan Ortiz (Mexican), Mr. Abraham Akaka (Hawaiian), Mr. Carlton Lee (Negro), and Mr. Roland Sundown (American Indian). Graduates of leading American colleges and universities, these young people will spend several weeks visiting Y. M. C. A. and church groups in the principal cities of the northeastern part of the country.

Included in their five-day stay in Detroit have been appearances at the several Y. M. C. A. branches, a broadcast over station WMBC, and numerous presentations before church and club audiences. On Sunday, June 26, they spoke and sang before the Marsteller and McNemer classes at St. Mark's M. E. Church.

YWCA Summer Camp

It's going to be exciting to stay home this summer!

If you don't think so, ask the hundreds of school girls who are planning to attend the four Y. W. C. A. stay-at-home camps for the next six weeks.

With a "Hi-Ho, to stay-at-home camp we go" they have been registering in four Y. W. C. A. buildings all this week for the 1938 season which opened on Wednesday, June 29. There is still time to register Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are "camp" days.

"Old timers" among these 10 to 16 year olds know that they will experience all the thrills of doing (and learning to do) the very same activities that are offered in out-of-town camps, but in addition they'll have the thrill of "trip day" which will be complete with new experiences for those who have never before talked to a real live airline hostess, seen at first hand the luxurious modern streamlined trains, romped over a Great Lakes steamer, or looked behind the scenes in a big hotel.

The complete list of activities offered at Highland Park branch, Vinewood residence, Lucy Thurman branch and International center stay-at-home camps include clay modeling, flower making, sewing, weaving, woodcraft, dancing, folk games, gymnastic, dress-making, knitting, music and radio, dramatics, trips and picnics, story telling, library, news sheet, shower baths, swimming, singing, hobbies and parties, and outdoor cookery.

Any school girl from 10 to 16 years of age is invited to register for the stay-at-home camp at the Y. W. C. A. located nearest to her home.

Christian Science

"God" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 3.

The Golden Text, (Psalms 20:5), "We will rejoice in thy salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up our banners."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Deut. 6:4, 5): "Hear, O Israel: the Lord our God is one Lord. And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might."

Correlatives passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 465): "God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love."

Messiah Lutheran

Next Sunday, July 3, the day before the American Independence Day, the theme of the sermon will be: "America, Humble Thyself!" The service will take place at 10 a. m. The Sunday School will meet at 9 o'clock.

Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church

The Rev. Wayland Zwyer, minister of the Jefferson Avenue Baptist church, corner of Lakeview, will occupy his pulpit Sunday morning and officiate at the observance of the Lord's Supper. His sermon subject will be "A Better World." If you are without a church home in this vicinity the pastor and members of Jefferson Baptist church invite you to partake with them at the Lord's Table.

At 7:30 p. m. the young people will take over the evening chapel service. These evening services will continue through July and August, with special programs prepared by the youth groups, on occasion the pastor or guests speaking.

The Church School continues to meet by departments at 9:45 a. m. throughout the summer. The Rev. Mr. Zwyer will begin his vacation next week, returning later in July and again leaving during August.

Tuberculosis?

The wisdom of small spending now to accomplish great savings later was pointed out this week by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association as it advised county governments to adopt practical and effective means for finding early, pre-symptom tuberculosis. Emphasis was placed upon the necessity for adequate case-finding through the tuberculin test and the X-ray if huge costs of hospitalization that are today prevalent are to be reduced.

"The tuberculosis germ begins its attack on the delicate lung tissue so quietly that no warning signs of illness are noticed by the individual," Dr. Bruce H. Douglas, president of the Association, explained. "When symptoms of tuberculosis—unexplainable fatigue, persistent cough, blood-spitting, and loss of weight—do become apparent, they are warning that the disease has already advanced to a dangerous point." Early and periodic use of modern weapons were stressed as essential in combating pre-symptom tuberculosis. Not only is health safeguarded through modern case-finding, the cost of sanatorium treatment is minimized, Dr. Douglas pointed out.

"County officials know too well that several years and thousands of dollars are needed to care for a single case of advanced tuberculosis," he said. "With time and expense cut in half when the case is found early, it would be highly profitable for county governments to consider setting aside a comparatively small amount of money for case-finding."

"That such a progressive step in tuberculosis control would result in a material reduction of hospitalization costs is already realized by several county boards of supervisors who are making plans to provide a case-finding program for their areas. Finding cases early and hospitalizing them promptly, they believe, will help to relieve the strain on their tuberculosis budget."

Radio Address of Judge Thomas C. Murphy

The Probate Court is perhaps the most misunderstood Court of our entire judicial system. In the mind of the average layman the term Probate is confusing, and is in general associated with one who has committed a crime and been released on probation for a term of good behavior, which is, of course, far from the truth. The term Probate originally related to Proof, only insofar as presenting testimony to sustain the execution of a will. Under American law the word Probate now generally infers all matters over which Probate Courts have jurisdiction. This, however, does not clarify the matter in the mind of the lay person, as Courts of Probate established by law in Michigan are called Surrogate Courts or Orphans and Widows' Court in some other states.

County Reflections

By Geo. W. Crellin

Emanuel A. Paperno has been appointed Deputy County Treasurer by Treasurer Jacob Sumeracki. Mr. Paperno is a man of proven ability who is well liked and respected by the office employees.

Dave Gordon, former Deputy, has taken over the duties of Cashier for the County Treasurer's office.

Meet the J.I.B.—the Junior Intelligence Bureau—an organization for boys residing in Wayne County, who are between the ages of ten and eighteen, whose purpose is to foster respect for and assistance to legal authority and to teach its members a sense of personal responsibility in the prevention of crime, decrease of juvenile delinquency, traffic safety education, character building in general.

Founder and organizer of the Junior Intelligence Bureau is Prosecuting Attorney Duncan C. McCrea who is the Commissioner and head of the J.I.B.

Highly commendable ideals are those on which this organization is based. Prosecutor McCrea is an efficient and progressive law enforcement officer who realizes that to cope with crime today, the law enforcement agencies must have an educated and active citizenry, willing and able to cooperate with them in the war against the slimy denizens of the underworld.

The activities of this Junior Intelligence Bureau foster not only a sense of civic responsibility but also provide recreational and educational activities, such as organization of leagues in playground sports, hiking parties, picnics, swimming, lectures and movies on crime detection and crime prevention, studies of X-ray, fingerprinting, ballistics, blood analysis, and traffic accident prevention.

By providing such activities, they give the boys something constructive to do in his leisure time—the boy's leisure time activities either make him or break him—and thus help greatly to reduce the number of juvenile delinquents.

Circuit Court Judges Dewitt Merriam and Clyde Webster donned their fezzes the past week and joined the Moslem horde in its pilgrimage westward to Los Angeles where the Shriners are holding their annual convention.

Medical certificates must be obtained before applying for a marriage license. Caspar Lingeman, County Clerk, seeks to make this clear in order to spare young couples who are matrimony bound a lot of unnecessary trouble when they come into his office to apply for a marriage license. Particularly those who live way out in the county, if they make a long trip in to the County Building to apply for a license and have not yet obtained their medical certificates, they will not be able to make application.

A number of young couples who live quite a distance from the County Bldg. found that due to lack of proper information, they had to make another long trip.

Cass also stresses the fact that application for the marriage license must be made within 15 days after the medical test—but there is no time limit or expiration date for a marriage license. It may be used any time after it has been received.

To receive proper information regarding marriage laws, and to save one's self trouble and time wasted by erroneous information, call the County Clerk's Office.

They feed over 700 needy human derelicts daily at St. Bonaventure's Monastery on Mt. Elliott Avenue, near Kercheval. During the depths of the depression of the past few years the good Fathers fed as high as 2700 per day.

The kindly monks do not look with favor on any publicity for their charitable works but sometimes the public's knowledge of the great good they are doing will help them to do more, and we think this is one of those times.

Wilbur La Bonty, cashier in County Treasurer Jack Sumeracki's office, informs us that the members of the third Order of St. Francis are conducting a drive to build a new building which will house a soup kitchen large enough to take care of the great number of needy humans who flock there daily for food. The present building used as a soup kitchen is very old and the facilities are inadequate.

Wilbur LaBonty is an Officer in the 3rd Order of St. Francis which claims over 5 million lay people for members throughout the world.

The Capuchin Fathers who reside at the monastery belong to the 1st Order of St. Francis. It is they who spend their lifetime in service to the poor and needy. The members of the 3rd Order assist them in any material way possible.

The ideals of these followers of St. Francis are patterned after that great Patron Saint of the Poor, St. Francis of Assisi.

The bathing season seems to be quite slow in arriving this year. A couple of warm days would do much to hasten the season.

Today at noon the west and the middle west will vie against each other for the milking contest championship at the Whitehouse, on the Capitol lawn. Wonderful diversitment for Congressmen.

Don't fail to read the "Poor Man's Court"—an article appearing in Liberty magazine of June 19th.

Written about the Conciliation Division of the Common Pleas Court of Wayne County and Judge Joseph A. Gillis, the presiding judge; it presents a graphic picture of one man's fight against the "gyp" firms and heartless creditors—the crooks who operate within the law.

Judge Joe Gillis conceived the idea of a poor man's court, a place where those victimized by pitiless loan companies, high pressure salesmen, and racketeer merchants could come and seek relief from the burden of their unjust debts and he fought bitterly to have it established.

Here the poor man may have an equitable adjustment of his debts made, and be free from the hounding of collection agencies and merciless creditors.

Joe Gillis is a courageous humanitarian who has a strong hatred and detestation for "gyp artists" and their like and seldom overlooks an opportunity to crack down on them.

It looks as if Joe is playing with political fire for the loan companies were never more powerful than they are today. Of course, all of them are not crooked but a goodly majority of them operate unethically—though within the law. Those that are crooked are utterly unscrupulous and would hesitate at nothing to overthrow their enemy.

Particularly timely is this article in Liberty on the Poor Man's Court, coming at a time shortly following Register of Deeds Harold E. Stoll's warning to the public to investigate before they invest, to read closely whatever they sign when buying household goods or auto accessories. Harold has repeatedly warned the public against the practices employed by crooked salesmen and unscrupulous loan companies. He has pointed out incident after incident that has turned up in his office of evidence of sharp practices by such people and has tried to protect the public by warning and information on how to avoid being victimized in business deals.

Humanitarians are shrewd students of human nature, both Harold Stoll and Joe Gillis are aware that in times of economic distress men and women will unthinkingly almost sign their very lives away in their desperate need.

Aiming at filling a long felt need, the Michigan State Employment Service is opening a dozen or more free employment offices in Detroit and adjacent communities.

The new Hamtramck office, located at 9527 Joe Campau was officially opened Tuesday, June 14th. This is the third already opened, with others to follow quickly.

Frederic S. Schouman, Director of the Employment Service, informs us that these offices have the finest and most adequate public employment office facilities available.

Roy Moredock, Deputy Register of Deeds, in Harold Stoll's office attended the opening of the Hamtramck office and believes that they even exceed the Director's description.

Charlie Harris, Deputy Register in Probate Court and Executive Secretary of the Detroit Junior Board of Commerce, is at the 19th Jr. Board of Commerce annual meeting, being held at Oakland, California this week June 15, 16, 17 and 18th. Charlie drove out there to represent this section at the meeting.

Judge John P. Scallen of Records Court was elected president of the University of Detroit Alumni Association in its first national election last week. The balloting was done by mail. Judge Scallen also served as President back in 1922 to 1924 when the voting was entirely local.

The Wayne County Board of Supervisors begins its equalization session Monday, June 27th.

Action on the proposed Civic Center will probably be the most interesting matter to come up during this session.

Present indications are that an attempt will be made by the Civic Center Committee to high pressure the project through the supervisors in an attempt to place it on the ballot in the fall election.

This move no doubt will be firmly opposed by at least two of the three-man Board of County Auditors, County Auditors Edward H. Williams and John C. Cowan, as well as by certain supervisors and certain other groups who are by no means convinced that the County should at this time assume any part of the cost of a project that will entail the expenditure of over twenty million dollars of the taxpayers' money.

It is the belief of Auditors Williams and Cowan that the time is not only inopportune but that the very nature of the project and the amount of money involved necessitates a long and careful survey before anything is done.

As business manager of the County and guardians of its resources, the Auditors occupy a position of direct responsibility and they believe that although the county is in sound financial condition, until such time as the present depression (or recession) shows visible signs of relaxing its tenacious grip on the country, every dollar of the taxpayers money should be carefully preserved against possible future exigencies.

However the matter may turn out, it promises to be a lively battle at the ordinarily prosaic June meeting of the Supervisors.

It would probably be interesting to the readers to make the acquaintance of the various members of the Board of Supervisors, particularly some of the more colorful characters so this column will undertake the introduction of one or two a week.

We couldn't start with a better one than the patriarch of the Board—John P. Sanger. John is one of the supervisors appointed by the City. Eighty-two years old next Xmas and a lifelong resident of Detroit, he is sometimes called the High Commissioner of Cherry Island. (one of Detroit's Insular Possessions.) John has lived on Cherry Island for 40 years and farmed the fine alluvial soil for a number of years. He takes great pride in the fertility of the soil on the island.

When only twelve years old he started to work in an iron foundry which may account for his tremendous shoulders, great horny hands and fine physique in general. At the age of eighty-one he is still vigorous and unimpaired by the years. He arises every morning at 5:30 and takes a long walk. He thinks nothing of walking 10 or 15 miles at a time. He is a master blacksmith and spends a great deal of his time at his forge turning out fancy grill work and other difficult pieces of iron work. The way he can still swing his heavy sledge would put many a younger fellow in bed from over-exhaustion.

Having had a very versatile and active career—working with a firm of first class carriage makers—running and operating boats on the lakes—he has now at the age of 81 entered a new industry, that of raising goats. John is a real rugged individualist—self-reliant and proud and he holds sway over his island domain with an iron hand. He has a big heart and to use the words of some of those that know him, he would give you the shirt from his back, but heaven help you if you cross him.

The Register of Deeds Convention at Pontiac, Michigan this Thursday, Friday and Saturday claims the attendance of Wayne County Register of Deeds Harold E. Stoll. Harold is scheduled to lead the discussion on the proposed Four Year Term for certain County offices, among which is the office of Register of Deeds. As you remember, Harold was one of the foremost proponents of such a move and acted as Chairman in charge of securing the necessary number of petitions to place the proposal on the fall ballot.

Law Student Pinch Hits for Judge—Ernie Lacy, Court Clerk for Judge Homer Ferguson, is also a student of law. When Judge Ferguson found it necessary to leave court the other day at the conclusion of a case, he persuaded the opposing lawyers to give the Clerk permission to take the verdict from the jury. When the jury came in they returned, to everybody's astonishment, two verdicts. Ernie, as a law student, knew that they could not legally do this, so stepped into the role of Judge, he charged the jury and sent them back to reach a single verdict, which they did.

Ordinarily the jury's returning two verdicts would, if permitted to be entered on the records, cause a mistrial and an untrained court clerk would have allowed such a thing to happen.

Such incident forcefully lends support to County Clerk Caspar Lingeman's policy of appointing none but lawyers or law students as court clerks.

Another vote for Van Wagoner—but he is going to have to wait a long time before he gets it. Chas. H. Sansone Jr. who is employed by Murray D. Van Wagoner, head of the State Highway Department, changed from an expectant to a proud but slightly jittery father of an 8 lb. 14 1/2 oz. baby boy on June 15th. Joe Sansone, brother of the proud papa and the purveyor of these vital statistics says that Charlie's pretty wife Julia and baby are doing fine but the father hasn't recovered yet.

Whistling "Devil's Music" Arabs call whistling "devil's music." They say that, after whistling, it takes 40 days to purify the mouth. In the Tonga Islands, in the Pacific, whistling is "tabu," which means that there is a superstitious veto on it; while in Iceland you will hardly ever hear a boy whistle because of the old superstition that it is a violation of Divine law.

Radio Address of Judge Thomas C. Murphy

The Probate Court was originally instituted in England under the Probate Act of 1857, having exclusive jurisdiction of testamentary causes or proceedings relating to the validity of wills and the succession to the property of persons dying without leaving a will. This court is now merged in the High Court of Justice under the Judicature Act of 1873.

In England the Ecclesiastical Courts were the only Tribunals in which, except by special order, the validity of will of personal estates could be established or disputed. Hence, in all Courts in England the Seal of the Ecclesiastical was conclusive evidence of the Proof of a Will of personality, from which followed that an executor could not assert or rely on his authority in any court without showing that he had previously established it in the Spiritual Court; that is, the usual proof of which is the production of a copy of the will by which he was appointed and certified under the Seal of the Ordinary. This is usually called the Probate.

The effect of Probate in the United States and the rules in regard to jurisdiction as governed throughout the states by statute, are generally the same as in England, but, as no Ecclesiastical Court exists in the United States, Probate is granted by some judicial officer who performs the part of the Ordinary in England, but generally with more ample power in relation to the administration of the estate.

When Michigan was a territory by Act of the Governor and Judges adopted August 31, 1805, the Courts of the several districts or any Judges of said territory, or the Clerk of the Court of the District were authorized to make the Proof of Will and grant Letters Testamentary and Letters of Administration. In 1811 provision was made for the appointment in each District for a Register with essentially the same powers.

Finally, in 1818 a Court of Probate was established in each County, to be held by some able and learned person appointed by the Governor, from which court appeal might be taken to the Supreme Court. These courts continued in operation until after Michigan had become a State. After Michigan had been admitted to the Union the revised statutes of 1838 made the "office of Judge of Probate elective. The constitution of the State of Michigan of 1850 provided for a Probate Court in each organized county, the Judge of which was to be elected for a term of four years.

The Judge of Probate has jurisdiction:

1. Of all matters relating to the settlement of the estates of all deceased persons, whether testate or intestate, who were at the time of their decease inhabitants of, or residents in his county, and all who shall die without the state, leaving an estate within such county to be administered;
2. Of trusts and trustees in the execution of wills and administration of estates of deceased persons;
3. To appoint guardians to minors and others in the cases prescribed by law, and of the settlement of the estates of such minors and others under guardianship;
4. Of all cases of juvenile delinquents and dependents;
5. And shall have and exercise all such other powers and jurisdiction as are, or may be conferred by law.

The court also has power to confirm the adoption and change of name of minor children; authorize the change of name of an adult, admit insane persons to the hospitals of the state and to fix the amount that shall be paid from their estates or by their relatives toward their support at the hospitals; to provide for the treatment of indigent children and adults at the hospitals of the state; admit patients to the Home for the Feeble-minded and the Michigan State Hospital for epileptics; and to appoint commissioners to determine the necessity of taking land for drains or for railroads. Under the provisions of the Juvenile Law, the court is authorized to grant pensions to mothers under certain conditions.

There are a multiplicity of other duties which have been added from time to time by the legislature, but the lines indicated above are the ones in which the public is most interested.

When a man dies leaving property, the first step is to ascertain whether he left a last will. If he did, he is said to have died testate; if he left no will, he is said to have died intestate. It is always important to ascertain in the first instance as to the title of the real estate. The title of land is now being taken to a great extent in the name of husband and wife, the survivor taking the whole title. Frequently there have been complete administrations of estates when title was left by so-called joint deed and there was as a matter of law no land belonging to the deceased person.

The person appointed by the probate court to take charge of an estate of a person who died leaving no will is called an administrator; one who is named in the will for the purpose, and is afterward appointed by the court, is called the executor; one who is appointed by the court where no executor is named in the will is called an administrator with the will annexed; one who is appointed to complete the work of an administrator or executor who has died or who has been removed from his office, is called an administrator "de bonis non" in the case of an intestate estate and an administrator "de bonis non" in the case of a testate estate.

As the duties of these different officials are very similar, for the sake of brevity the word administrator will be used to designate the person who has charge of an estate of a deceased person under appointment of the court.

When a person dies intestate, the law provides that upon the application of the next of kin, that an administrator may be appointed by the probate court of the county of which the deceased was an inhabitant at the time of his death, to take charge of the estate, and after the payment of his debts, distribute it to his heirs. If the deceased leaves a widow, she usually makes the petition to the Probate Court for the appointment, and the selection of an administrator, if he is a suitable and competent person, is, as a rule, confirmed by the court. In case the widow or next of kin neglect for thirty days after the death to make application, a creditor may apply for administration.

The administrator, in the order appointing him is required by the court to give a bond, usually in a penal sum double the amount of the personal property. After receiving a bond, the administrator should fill in the names of the sureties, see that it is properly dated, sign it on the first line as principal and have the sureties sign on the lines following, have the sureties swear to their financial responsibility as provided on the back of the blank and file the bond within twenty days after appointment. As it would be impossible to enumerate in this address all the various methods of procedure over which the Probate Judge has jurisdiction, it will be necessary to go into such questions later in the series. At that time I will endeavor to present, in ordinary language, matters affecting domestic relations, which should be the most interesting to public—such as wills, estates of disappeared and missing persons, sterilization, change of names, registration of births, commitment of alcoholics, narcotics, insane and feeble-minded persons.

liceman. And no pensioner shall have the right to assign his or her pension or any part thereof. But said money shall be sacredly held, kept, secured and distributed, for the purpose of pensioning the persons named and for no other purpose whatever.

Section 15. At the regular meeting of Council in each month, the Village Clerk shall present a list of persons, as shown by the records in his office, entitled to pensions and the amount payable to each such person. The Council shall examine such list and if found to be correct, shall order the payment of moneys due all such persons. A warrant shall be drawn for the payment to each person entitled to such moneys in the same manner as is provided for the payment of all other claims against the Village. Such persons shall be paid out of the Firemen's and Policemen's Pension and Retirement Fund.

Section 16. Before issuing any warrant for the payment of a pension, it shall be the duty of the Village Clerk to examine under oath all applicants for such pensions with a view to ascertaining if they are, at that time, entitled to a pension as is provided for herein. Whenever the said Village Clerk shall learn that any person has ceased to be entitled to a pension, he shall record the fact on the roll of pensioners, and promptly notify the Council of such disability and such persons shall thereupon be dropped from the rolls.

Section 17. All pensions shall be payable at the office of the Village Clerk on the first secular day in each month. In all cases where pensions are payable because of injuries received by any Fireman or Policeman resulting in the death of such person, such pension shall be allowed from the date of death, or in cases of disability, such pension shall be allowed from the date when the injury was received resulting in such disability.

Section 18. In cases of emergency any retired Fireman or Policeman may be temporarily called to active service, but shall be required to serve only during such emergency.

Section 19. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to apply to Fireman or Policemen appointed at the request and expense of private parties nor to probationary Fireman or Policemen. The terms Fireman and Policemen herein used, shall be construed to include any woman who shall be appointed as Firewoman or Policewoman. In case of the death of a Firewoman or Policewoman under conditions which create the right of pension under the terms hereof, then the widow shall have the same right to a pension as would a widow surviving a Fireman or Policeman.

Section 20. Nothing shall be due hereunder because of the total disability of any fireman or policeman, or because of the death of any Policeman or Fireman under circumstances which would have entitled him to retirement because of total disability, except in consideration of a waiver of and in lieu of any provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act, so-called, as well as any statutory or common law claim, if any, against the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms.

Section 21. The terms Fireman and Policeman, herein used, shall be construed to include the Chief of the Police Department and the Chief of the Fire Department, as well as all regular members of either force.

Section 22. All provisions of the Village Charter of the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms, inconsistent with the provisions hereof are hereby expressly repealed, and in the event any section, or part of any section, of this Chapter, shall be determined to be invalid for any reason, such determination of invalidity shall in no way affect the remainder of this Chapter.

Section 23. Beginning with the fiscal year March 1, 1938 to February 28, 1939 the council shall provide the maximum sum of $10,000.00 each year for a period of five (5) years. The fund from time to time thus provided shall be invested in the bonds of the Village, general or water, or United States Government Bonds, which shall be deposited with such Bank as may, from time to time, be selected by the Council. During the aforesaid five year period the pension and retirement provisions hereof shall be inoperative except in case of death or total disability as defined herein in the line of duty as determined by the Board created in Section 12 hereof. The fund accumulated during this period shall be used as occasion may require to supplement the sum provided annually in case such sum falls short of actual requirements either because of an inadequate estimate or because of the limitation in Section 11 hereof upon the maximum which may be provided.

CHAPTER 16—PENSION

Section 1. Any person who is a member of the Fire Fighting Force and any person who is a member of the Police Force of the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms, and hereinafter called a "Policeman" and a "Fireman" shall be subject to retirement as hereinafter provided.

(a) Any Fireman or Policeman who has been an employee of either or both the fire and police force of the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms for a period of Twenty-five (25) years subsequent to July 1, 1915; provided, that the amount of time spent in the United States Military, Navy or Marine service, whether volunteer or draft duty, and the amount of time spent pursuant to any draft assignment under the laws of the United States in time of war, by any Fireman or Policeman who has later returned to either force after an honorable discharge from such service, shall be counted as a part of the aforesaid Twenty-five (25) years service.

(b) Any Fireman or Policeman who shall hereafter be totally disabled as herein defined.

Section 2. The terms "totally disabled" and "total disability" are herein defined to mean the inability of a fireman or policeman to perform the duties of his position because of accident sustained in, or illness contracted in or arising from the discharge of any duty which said Fireman or Policeman officially owed the Fire or Police Force of the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms.

Section 3. The extent and continuation of disability shall, in all cases of dispute, be referred to a commission consisting of one reputable physician named by the Council of the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms and one reputable physician named by the person claiming disability. The decision of such commission shall be made in writing and filed with the Council of the Village, and such decision shall be subject to review only by said Council. The cost of such medical services shall become a charge upon the Fire and Police Pension and Retirement Board funds.

Section 4. Any Fireman or Policeman subject to retirement as above set forth, shall, upon his own application, and may, upon the application of the President of the Council, be retired on a pension of one-half (½) of the rate of pay for the rank in which such member was serving at the time of his retirement, and in the event of change at any time thereafter upon the rate of pay for that rank; the rate of pay for said rank as changed shall be the basis for computing such retirement allowances. No Fireman or Policeman shall be retired except on his own application unless given a full opportunity to be heard in opposition thereto. The half pay of any Fireman or Policeman retired because of Twenty-five (25) years of service, shall be suspended only during the time, if any, such retired Fireman or Policeman is re-employed for full time on either said Fire or Police Force.

Section 5. Any Fireman or Policeman, whose retirement for disability has been effected, shall at any time upon the request of himself or any member of the Council, be re-examined by a commission of two (2) physicians constituted as provided in Section 3. If the Council after receiving the report of said commission shall find that said disability has ceased, then such Fireman or Policeman shall be returned to duty at full pay, PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that if the disability is extended over a period of more than six (6) months, then in that event, if the Village Council has declared a vacancy to exist and has filled said vacancy by appointment of a new member during the disability, such retired member shall remain in retirement until another vacancy exists and said retired member shall be first selected to fill said vacancy subject to his satisfying the usual requirements. In such event, the Village Council may require such a member to return to active duty. The period of such retirement, above described, of a member who shall later return to active duty shall be included in computing the years of service of such member for retirement purposes under this Amendment.

Section 6. If any Fireman or Policeman shall have incurred in the line of duty a disability to perform the particular duties of his position, but shall be able to perform other duties on his particular force to which the Council of the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms, with the consent of the Chief of his force, may assign him, then such Fireman or Policeman shall receive said pension, and, in addition thereto, one-half (½) of the difference between the rate of pay he was entitled to receive at the time his disability was caused, according to the provisions herein set forth, and the rate of pay of the position to which he may be assigned, provided that the total of the pension and additional compensation shall not exceed three-fourths (¾) of the rate of pay he was entitled to receive at the time his disability was caused.

Section 7. Pensions shall be paid as hereinafter provided to the widow or the children of any Fireman or Policeman who shall die from causes entitling him, if still living, to retirement, or who shall die while in retirement, said pension shall be equal to one-half (½) of the rate of pay said Fireman or Policeman was entitled to receive at the time his disability was caused, or at the time of retirement by reason of length of service, as herein set forth. The Fireman's or Policeman's widow shall, during her lifetime, or until she remarried, receive such pension.

Should any Fireman or Policeman so die leaving no widow, or after his widow's death (but not after her remarriage), his child or children under the age of eighteen (18) years, shall each receive a pension of Twenty ($20.00) Dollars a month. When any such child attains the age of eighteen (18) years, or dies, the share of such child shall lapse.

Should any Fireman or Policeman so die and leave neither widow nor children, but if there should survive him a totally dependent father or mother, they, or the survivor of them, shall receive the pension of the deceased during total dependency.

Section 8. All questions as to the dependency of father or mother shall be determined by the Council, whose findings in relation thereto shall be final and not subject to review. All retirements of every nature herein provided for shall be effectuated and terminated by resolution of the Council of the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms and the decision of such Council shall be final and not subject to review; provided, however, that the provisions of Section 3 hereof shall apply in all cases of retirement.

Section 9. Applications for pensions shall be made in writing to the Council and shall be filed with the Village Clerk. The application shall furnish such proofs as shall be required by the Council. Proof of deduction from pay as herein provided shall be prima facie evidence that the person from whose pay deduction was made, was a Policeman or Fireman. Any person who shall make any false statement for the purpose of securing or to aid any person to secure such pension, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than One Hundred and no/100 ($100.00) Dollars, or imprisonment in the Detroit House of Correction for a period of not more than ninety (90) days, or both, such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court.

Section 10. The Village Clerk shall keep in his office a book to be known as the "Fireman's and Policemen's Pension List." This book shall give a complete history and record of the action of the Council in granting a pension to any person or persons. Such record shall give the names of the Firemen and Policemen to whom, or to whose dependents, such pensions have been granted, the date when each said Fireman or Policemen joined the force, the date when such pension was allowed, and the reason therefor. Whenever a pension shall be allowed to any person or persons by the Council as herein provided, it shall be the duty of the Village Clerk to register such names in his office as persons entitled to such pensions.

Section 11. There shall be maintained for the purpose of paying pensions, as herein provided, a fund to be known as the Firemen's and Policemen's Pension and Retirement Fund. Moneys in such fund shall be used exclusively for the payment of pensions and costs as provided herein. All rewards and proceeds of gifts from any source, all emoluments that may be allowed by the Council on account of extraordinary service performed by members of the Fire and Police Force and all fines imposed upon members of the Fire and Police Force for violation of rules, shall be paid into said fund. There shall be deducted by the Village annually, two per cent (2%) from the salary and/or wages paid to each Fireman and Policeman, which deduction shall be made by deducting two per cent (2%) from each salary or wage payment made to each Fireman and Policeman, which money shall be paid into said Fireman's and Policemen's Pension and Retirement Fund. On or before the first meeting of the Council of each fiscal year, except for the five year period described in Section 22 hereof, the Village Clerk shall submit to the Council his estimate of additional moneys necessary to pay such pensions for the current fiscal year, and the Council shall appropriate and cause to be collected and levied by taxation such a sum of money as shall be required to make the payments herein provided for, not in excess, however, of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) in any one year.

Section 12. At the second meeting of the Village Council in each fiscal year there shall be appointed a Firemen's and Policemen's Pension and Retirement Fund Board, consisting of two (2) representatives appointed by the President, by and with the consent of the Council, one appointed by the Fire Department, one appointed by the Police Department, and one appointed by the Council from the Village at large (having no connection with the Council). It shall be the duty of this Pension Board to investigate and recommend to the Council all investments which shall be made of moneys in said Pension Fund, and of all sales made of the securities in said fund. Moneys of such fund shall be invested only as provided in Section 23 hereof.

Section 13. Any such Fireman or Policeman who has served five (5) years or more continuously and who not being eligible to retirement, as provided in Section 1, terminates his services with the Fire or Police Force shall receive without interest, a return of all moneys so deducted from his salary. If any such Fireman or Policeman who has served five (5) years or more continuously, shall die, from causes not entitling his dependents to a pension, then the moneys so deducted from the salary of such Fireman or Policeman, without interest, shall be paid to his widow, if living, and if no widow survives, then to the children under eighteen (18) years of age at the time of his death, and if neither widow nor such children survive, then to any mother or sisters under the age of eighteen (18) years, share and share alike.

Section 14. No moneys owed to any disabled or retired Fireman or Policeman or his widow or to his children or dependents, shall be held, seized or taken or detained, or levied on by virtue of attachment, execution, injunction, writ, interdictory or other order or decree, or any process or proceedings whatever issued out of any court of this State, for the payment or satisfaction in whole or in part of any debt, damages, claim, demand or judgment, against any such Fireman or Policeman, or widow, or guardian of any minor child or children, dependent parents of any deceased Fireman or Po-

Summer Menus for Fourth of July

By MARY KATHLEEN EBNER
Once again it's holiday time, a time that gives you a splendid opportunity to spring a delightful buffet supper for your very special friends. The evening of the Fourth is a supper date to occasion your delicious surprise.
Here's a suggested combination of foods and flavors which will certainly prove your ability as a culinary artist:
Tomato Juice Cocktail
Assorted Cold Meats
Potato Chips
Au Gratin Vegetables
Lime Jello Pear Salad
Hot Parker House Rolls
Stuffed Celery and Olives
Vanilla Ice Cream
Tea Cakes with Strawberry Icing
Iced Tea

Au gratin vegetables are the tasty dish used in this otherwise cold buffet supper. To make us:
2 cups cooked carrots
1 cup fresh cooked green peas
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons melted butter
1-3 cup grated cheese
1 beaten egg
1 cup buttered crumbs.
Mix the diced carrots and cooked peas. Add melted butter, grated cheese, milk, beaten egg, and salt. Put in casserole dish which may be used on buffet for serving later. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake in moderate oven for 30 minutes. This dish serves eight.
To make Lime Jello Salad dissolve one package of lime jello in 1 1/2 cups of warm water. Add two tablespoons of vinegar. Let cool. Just before ready to thicken put medium sized canned pears in bottom of muffin tins. Place a cherry in the middle of each pear. Add jello and let stand to harden in cool place. One package of jello serves eight.
Stuff celery with pimento cheese for a delicious snack. Olives stuffed complete the relish assortment.
To bring our holiday supper to a climax we have chosen vanilla ice cream and tea cakes with strawberry icing. A grand recipe for tea cakes is:
1-2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
1 1/2 teaspoons Calumet baking powder
1-3 cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon flavoring
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, then flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add flavoring. Pour into greased cup-cake pans, filling them two-thirds full. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 20 minutes, or until done. Makes 2 dozen cup cakes.
Strawberry icing is made by combining 1 1/2 cups of powdered sugar and enough crushed strawberries and coffee cream to bring the icing to the correct consistency.

Dwelling in the Past
"He who dwells in the past," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "must labor hard to keep his house in repair."

Kicawa Club of 1936 Camp Talahi campers are also turning out in full force for the holiday week-end. The leaders of 1937 will also be there including Dee Callabout, president of Kicawa Club. Frederick Stearns Co., Armena Rabe, Helen Weber, Mary Blaney, and Ruth Mitchell.
Improvements to the camp property to make vacation life even more exciting this year include a new "T" shaped dock, diving tower, play court for badminton, volley ball and shuffle board, a complete rejuvenation of the tennis court and a new road into camp.
Miss Dorothy Middleton at Central Branch Y. W. C. A. is the camp registrar and Camp Talahi is open to any employed girl 18 years of age or over who wants to spend from one to eight weeks resting and relaxing or learning to swim, ride, play golf, tennis and many other fascinating sports and hobbies—the perfect buildup for next winter's work.

Y. W. C. A. Camp Enrollees Assured Delightful Time

New Pointer's Viewpoint
By RICHARD SONNE, JR.
Since Life magazine and Fortune have run their surveys on how many people in the nation like Roosevelt, and who these people are, New Pointer is beginning to wake up to the fact that this topic rivals baseball in and about Detroit as prime obsession of the day.
Some of the vilest stories to be heard have the president as villain. Others make him the white knight, titling in the lists against ogres of vested interest. Even the leading Detroit newspapers are guilty several times a week of running stories which a child would gladly clip and add to Grimm's Fairy Tales.
The hysterical criticism or praise now being meted out to the man in the White House is not peculiar to this regime at all. It takes short memory to recall what was said about Hoover, Coolidge, Wilson and others at some point in their presidency. This all goes back to New Pointer's contention that every American boy, far from wanting to be president some day, often adds a prayer to protect him from the White House.
A baseball crowd offers fair comparison to our attitude, always the same, toward presidents, past or future. The homerun king steps to the plate and the fans rise on their haunches with a mighty yell of praise. If the slugger chances to strike out that time at bat, the crowd with just as much gusto, presents him with a few pop bottles and the usual epithets.

It is remarkable to note how few presidents of this country were able to come out of the White House alive, and live the rest of their days. Hoover is one of the few who survived the inevitable bitter flood, and remains alive today. So when the guest speaker at your high school commencement tells you that you too, may one day be president—think of what is happening now and you'll do some tall shuddering.

High School Band Showing Progress

By JEAN GUIDER
(High School Journalism Student)
"I think we have a very good band considering the short time we've been working on it," state William Chambers, 8-B, who plays the trombone in the Grosse Pointe High school band.
"I also think Mr. Kalember, who is the band leader and instructor, has done a swell job."
William, who began his trombone lessons last September, practiced at least 40 minutes a day at home. He laughed when he said, "I always did my practicing in the living room. No, the neighbors weren't annoyed, at least we never received any complaints. If anyone was bothered it was the family."
William met once a week at school along with five other trombone players. In this class Mr. Kalember gave each of the students individual attention. Twice a week the entire band met for rehearsal.
William, who became interested in the band because he thought it offered more opportunity than did the regular singing classes, is continuing his lessons in summer school where Mr. Kalember is teaching.
Last semester the students received three credits toward graduation. Starting in September, band members will meet twice a week in small classes to receive individual attention and three times a week with the entire band. This work will give them five hours credit.
"The instrument I am using now was loaned to me by the school, but I intend to buy one of my own," William declared. He explained that he found his music lessons difficult at first but "it didn't take long to catch on and now it's easy."
William found recognizing and reading notes the most difficult part of his new undertaking. Another part he found hard was to transfer the notes to position on the instrument. Learning how to hold the instrument and put it in the case was easy. After he learned how to blow on the trombone he started out on long tones. Next he was taught to play scales and then simple pieces. William rates "Merry Men Selections," by Thomas, as his favorite piece now.
To other students interested in the band William recommends it as "a lot of fun and hard work at the same time."

Definition of Wind
The simplest definition of wind is "air in rapid motion." It is generally due to the presence of belts of high pressure in one part or another of the world. This causes the air to move rapidly to the low pressure areas. Thus winds are caused. When we talk of winds "howling," says London Answers Magazine, we are not speaking accurately. The wind, by itself, never howls. When a strong wind meets with some obstruction—telegraph wires, chimneys, etc.—it sets up vibrations of different sorts. These cause the howls, moans, and other noises so dear to the heart of the novelist.

The Neighborhood Club boys' camp opens on Tuesday, July 5, at Ore Lake, four miles south of Brighton. Mr. Jack Weaver, former swimming star of Grosse Pointe high school, will be in charge of the boys this year. Mr. Weaver has just finished a successful year as athletic coach of the Board of Education at Flint, Michigan. It is anticipated that all the boys at camp will return in splendid athletic condition.

The girls' camp will open July 18 under the supervision of Miss Pauline Masak, assisted by Miss Clara Miller. Applications may be obtained at the Neighborhood Club. The fee is $6.50 per week.

Resident Objects to Sound Invasion of Open Air Theatre

Mr. Editor: Could you sit quietly reading while "Old Chicago" burned? Walls crumbled with deafening roars, women and children screamed—just outside your window? Could you sit with friends happily chatting on your terrace while "The Hurricane" roared around your house? Could you compose yourself for sweet slumber while Crosby crooned—Cantor cackled—or Gracie Allen lisped just outside your bedroom window? And—over and over again!

As I write this the dam is going out in "Gold Is Where You Find It." There is no escape—no where to go; the air is filled with the booming sound! And I built in the "Pointe" because of the peaceful small town atmosphere—its quiet, simple charm!
I live on Kerby—a good mile and a half from this latest monument to man's growing inability to use his legs. We sit in our cars and listen to the radio. We drive up and are served a full course dinner without ever moving from our spines. We "drive in" and shop—do most any and everything except see our dentist or get a haircut without ever leaving the soft ease of our car's upholstery!
In the name of heaven—must we take our flocks that way?
For them that like it—it's alright—one can take it or leave it alone. But I for one object long and loud—from every jangled nerve, at this "invasion of sound" into the quiet and peace of my home. And evidently there are others of the same mind.

Can't something be done about it? Yours with "jitters,"
