

Lochmoor to Have New Library Service Early in September

With the new state appropriation for libraries the Board of Education has decided to open up a library station in the business district of Lochmoor. It is hoped by all concerned that the building will be ready for use by the time that the students return to school.

This building is being put up in response to the demands for better library service by the people in this community. At present date the only library facilities in this district are a few shelves of books in the corner of the Lochmoor Sweet Shop. The books on these shelves are to the greater extent fiction. Few of them are reference books or are they suitable for student use. The total number of books on the shelves in Lochmoor's present library number to 700.

It is the Board's wish to have a larger collection of books, including all types of reading matter. They hope to have a large supply of reference books, books suitable for student use, besides a large variety of fiction and pleasure-giving books. Three thousand books will be on the shelves the opening day of the library.

A trained librarian will be in the library to assist people in making their selections and will see to it that the library has what the people want. This librarian will be sent out from the head library, situated on Jefferson and Maryland avenues.

To date there are 339 registered as borrowers of books in the present library of Lochmoor. During the last year 6,042 books had been in circulation. It is believed that with the added book collection and more time devoted to the needs of the library the number of books in circulation will be greatly increased.

Detroit Civic Orchestra Presents Delightful Program Here Tonight

The program of the Detroit Civic Orchestra, under the auspices of the Works Progress Administration, on July 7, at the Grosse Pointe High school campus, Fisher road and Grosse Pointe boulevard, Grosse Pointe Farms, is as follows:

- Director—Valter Poole Association Director—Herbert Straub
Eugene Conley, Tenor—Soloist
- Overture, Rosamunde ..... Schubert
  - Symphony, No. 8, B Minor "Unfinished" ..... Schubert
  - A. Ah, Moon of My Delight from
"In a Persian Garden" ..... Lehmann
B. La donna e mobile from "Rigoletto" ..... Verdi
Mr. Conley
INTERMISSION
  - Tannhauser March ..... Wagner
  - A. At Night ..... Rachmaninoff
B. The Next Market Day (Irish tune) ..... arr. Hughes
C. Cossack Love Song ..... Yountz
Mr. Conley
  - Artist Life Waltzes ..... J. Strauss
  - Finlandia ..... Sibelius

Schubert is known for his lovely melodies, his pure romantic urge. This symphony, "Unfinished," consists of only two numbers. Plans for its completion were never fulfilled because of Schubert's early and untimely death. It is one of the greatest master works of music and is extremely popular.

Mr. Eugene Conley is well known in the East, being included in the same concert series with such artists as Mr. Fritz Kreisler. His beautiful Irish tenor voice has been more frequently heard in Detroit over WWJ, where he is a staff artist.

The music of the Tannhauser March comes from the opera of the same name and occurs near the beginning of the second act. The Landgrave Herman, Uncle of Elizabeth, welcomes those gathering together for a festival of song and they respond in tremendous chorus.

Artist Life is just another one of the ever-popular and lovely waltzes of Strauss.

Finlandia is supposed to express Sibelius's emotions on seeing his native land again after a long absence. Although the melodies expressed are the spirit of Finland completely and sound like folk melodies, they are original with Sibelius.

Secretary of State Warns Candidates on Filing of Petitions

Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, points out that nominating petitions for any candidate who files with the Secretary of State, County or City Clerk, cannot be accepted unless accompanied by an affidavit concerning any change in name of the candidate. The law covering the change of name affidavit was passed by the 1935 legislature. The law specifically bars the Secretary of State from accepting petitions not accompanied by an affidavit made on the prescribed forms in cases where candidates have changed their name since January 1, 1933. These forms are available at the Department of State and at the office of city and county clerks.

Candidates filing petitions for the office of governor, lieutenant governor, and representative in congress from the 17th Congressional District shall appear in person before the Secretary of State within fifteen days after filing their petitions and shall file with said officer, a certified affidavit as to their identity. Candidates for congressional districts located entirely in Wayne county, file with the Wayne county clerk.

Provisions of the state election law covering the signing of nominating petitions for candidates for state and local offices have also been cited by Case for guidance of signers. It is unlawful for any voter to sign more than one nominating petition for the same office except where there are two or more persons to be elected to the same office. Violation of this provision of the law is classed as a misdemeanor. No voter in Michigan can lawfully sign nominating petitions for more than one candidate for governor. Many instances of this violation have been noted on petitions signed in the past. Duplicate signatures are eliminated as petitions are checked.

Grosse Pointe Students Win High Honors at Prominent Colleges

By PATRICIA GEHLERT
(High School Journalism Student)
Grosse Pointe High school alumni now in colleges throughout the country are awarded each year various honors for excellence in their college work.

Reports of these honors find an interested audience in the high school staff and student body.

One of the most consistent winners of honors in recent years is George Lloyd, who attended the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh. Throughout his four years of attendance there he was on the honor roll, having an average mark of B or better.

James Ritchie, a member of the class of '34, who is attending the University of Michigan, was elected to two national scholastic societies, Phi Beta Pappa and Phi Kappa Phi this spring.

Joseph Spitzley, also '34, now attending the University of Michigan, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma XI, national scientific honorary society. Membership in Sigma Xi is considered even more difficult to attain than membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

Robert M. Muir, '35, received the greatest honor possible for an undergraduate this spring when he was elected to the honorary society, the Medusa, at Trinity College in Connecticut. Muir is also president of the student body and head of the Psi Upsilon fraternity.

Jack Edwards, '35, was recently elected to Sphinx Head, an honorary society, for his outstanding work at Cornell University.

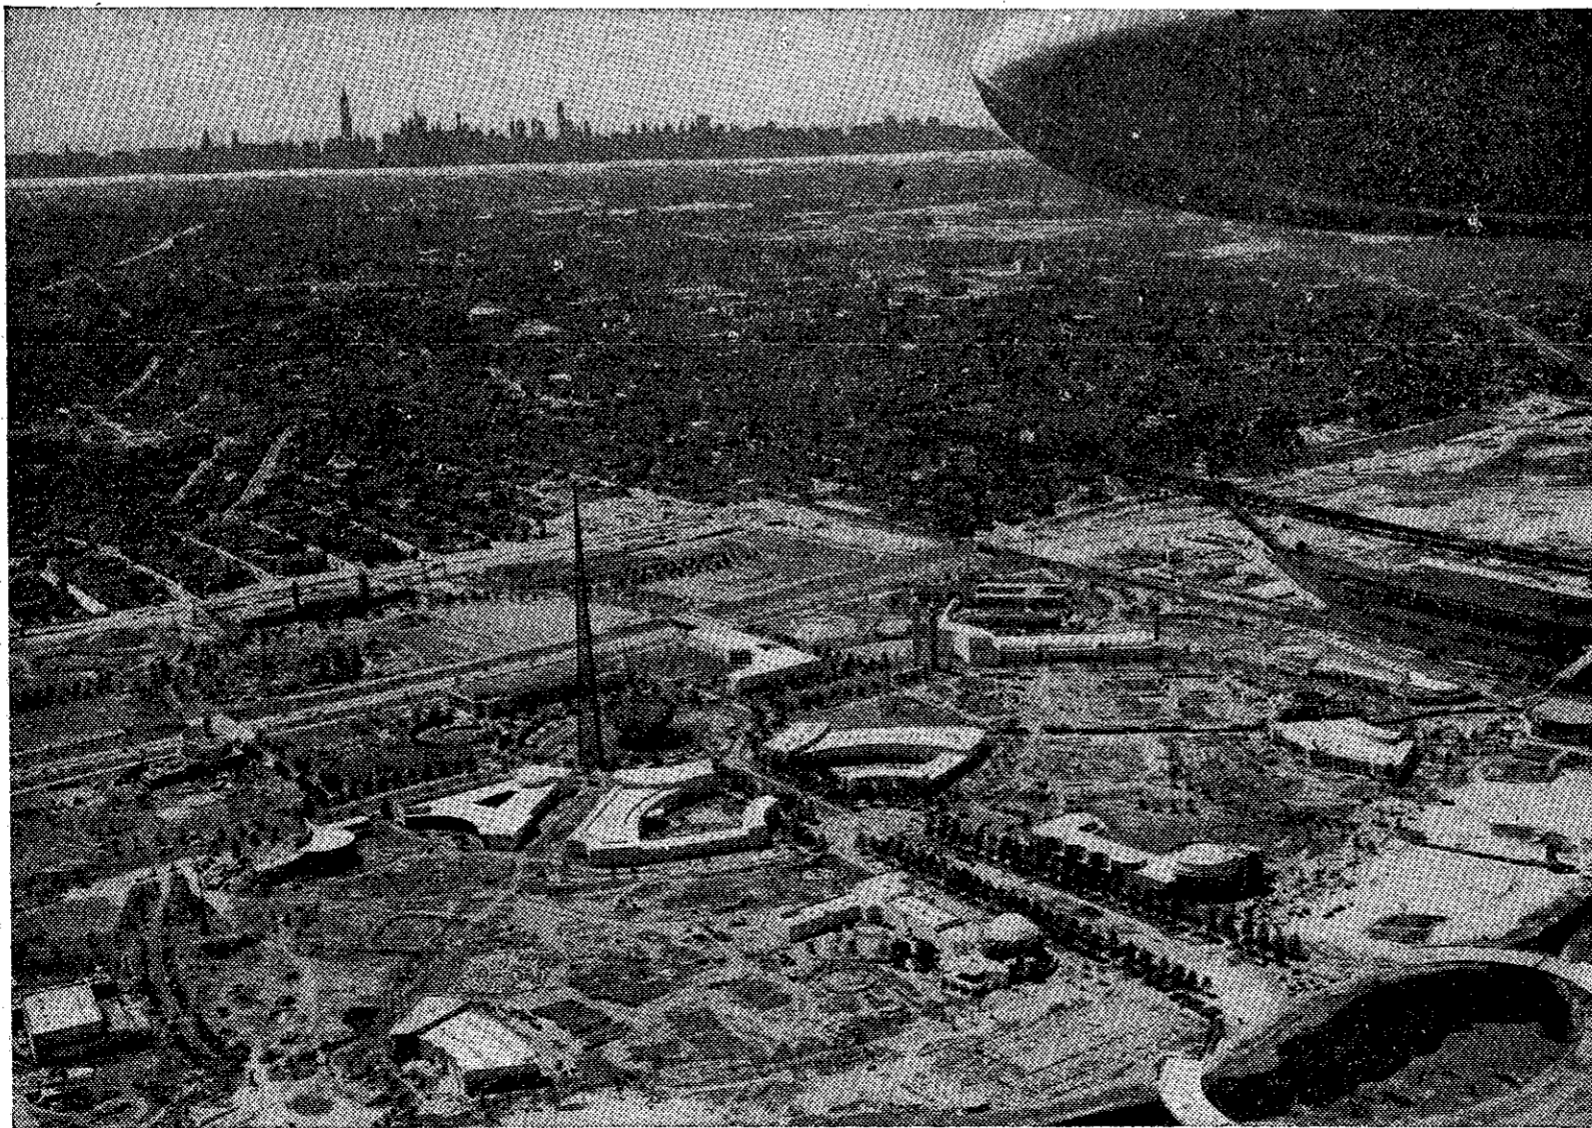

Mitchell Justice, '36, has received an appointment to Annapolis, and Fred Standish, '37, received an appointment to West Point.

On the sophomore honors list at the University of Michigan are Donald Treadwell and John Stone, both from the class of '36. Donald Van Hoek '37 was awarded freshman honors at the same time.

The marks received by the University of Michigan freshman for the first semester of 1938 were 41 per cent A's and B's, 43 per cent C's and 16 per cent D's and E's. However, the marks given to 20 Grosse Pointe students, now attending the University of Michigan as freshmen, were 34 per cent A's and B's, 53 per cent C's, but only 13 per cent D's and E's.

A seven-year average, the marks of university freshmen from Grosse Pointe High school, covering the years 1932-1938, are 40 per cent A's and B's, 46 per cent C's and 14 per cent D's and E's.

Rosen and Quintero Still Trailing Williams

Although Joe Rosen and Mario Quintero made the greatest advances in the "jockey derby" at Detroit Fair Grounds last week, the leadership remained with apprentice Sammy Williams by a comfortable margin.

With Detroit's 37-day spring meeting now into its final week, it will require some spectacular riding by either Quintero or Rosen to overhaul the little fellow from Houston, Texas.

Quintero hustled home with six winners last week to raise his total to 23 for the meeting. Rosen had seven winners last week and a total of 17.

The leadership record of Williams included 33 winners, 30 seconds, 33 thirds and 81 unplaced mounts. Quintero has had 21 seconds and 20 third.

Other jockeys with 10 or more winners are: Art Bronsdon (12); Buddy Craig (13), and Bobby McCarty (13).

Navy Catapults

The Navy is largely responsible for the development of the catapult. The first power catapult was developed and built on the Santee Dock at the Naval Academy in 1912 and tried out by Lieutenant T. G. Ellyson one of the Navy's first aviators. Unfortunately the track could not be trained and a cross wind took hold of the craft and spilled it into the water.

Undaunted, Lieutenant-Commander Richardson set to work to build the second catapult on a barge. It was a great improvement with the car secured to the track and the car end of the track curved up so as to throw the plane into the air.

Again Ellyson tried, and on October 12, 1912, made the first success of launching a plane from a catapult, as he left the 31-foot track at 40 miles per hour.

Take Your House With You on Your Summer Vacation

"Pick up your house and go on a vacation" is going to be a reality this year. For a new Michigan industry has been born and you are going to see a new type of vacation house. Production has started on a light weight, waterproof house costing less than $100 that may be collapsed and carried on top of one's automobile where it does not obstruct the driver's vision, and later set up as a complete, liveable home wherever notion dictates.

"For transit, the house is neatly folded in compact form and carried on a metal frame over the top of the car," began J. Patrick, who has applied for a patent on the house. "Thus there is no weight on the car and loading and unloading is facilitated. This frame is securely clamped on the car—no drilling is necessary—and can be easily removed.

"After arriving at the selected vacation spot, the house can be slid off by one man through the help of an attached arm which acts as a fulcrum. It is rested on its four legs, and when unfolded assumes the proportions of a commodious, substantial house, measuring 6x9 feet overall, with head clearance of 6 1/2 feet. The house can be set up and made ready for use in less than 10 minutes time. It has a solid wood floor, six sliding glass windows and permanent screens, and a curved roof that sheds water easily. A table is adjusted against one wall, and two benches swing down on hinges from either side giving ample space for four patrons to eat comfortably.

We observed the ingenious arrangement provided for sleeping, and Mr. Patrick continued, "Instead of having the beds take up floor space where their presence would encroach too much on free walking area and be the source of much annoyance every time they had to be made up, we felt that if they were placed high enough they would enable the occupants to carry on any activity below without having the beds offer any hindrance.

"When the beds are made up ready for retiring, the supports are securely locked in position to give absolute assurance of a peaceful rest. There are ventilators close to the roof at each end. When not in use, the bed toward the wall and out of the way. While two persons can occupy the berths, there is still extra room on the floor to sleep two additional persons." This innovation is known as the Patrick Collapsible House and is being built in Detroit by the Patrick Collapsible House Co. "A combination of factors contribute to its practicability as a portable house for summer use," continued Mr. Patrick, who is also president of the manufacturing company.

"The material is not only light in weight to render convenient conveying and handling, but it is moisture-proof to withstand any kind of weather. Furthermore, the dead air space in its construction possesses excellent insulating qualities. The result of much experimenting has developed this special board to make it waterproof and adaptable for use in walls and roof.

"Practically no restrictions are offered in choosing a space to set the house. Any spot of ground that suits your fancy may be chosen and the house will set up level. This is made possible by means of the adjustable legs which can be made to conform to the irregularities of the land. The house may be placed right on the river bank if desired. The floor is always from six to eight inches off the ground.

"Although light, the house is very substantially and will withstand considerable hard usage. It collapses down to 6x9x2 feet, which still provides ample storage space inside to carry all the necessary bedding, cooking equipment, and all paraphernalia needed for your vacation.

How Ten-Year-Old Girl Advanced to School Band Here

By SHIRLEY MILLER (High School Journalism Student)

Dolores Rink, better known to her friends as "Doughie," is a little brown-haired, brown-skinned girl with clear blue eyes. Dolores is ten years old. She lives at 1047 Maryland avenue and attends the Trombly school.

Last February a band was started at Trombly school. Dolores joined the band and was given a saxette to play. Her saxette was to be used until Mr. Dewey Kalember, the band instructor, decided whether she had ability to play an instrument. Since a large number of pupils used the saxettes they could not be taken home.

In due time, Mr. Kalember decided Dolores should play the clarinet, and her parents purchased a metal clarinet for her. Some pupils did not find it necessary to purchase instruments, for there were a few at the school at their disposal. Dolores doesn't have to pay for her lessons. She takes 45-minute lessons twice a week. Every pupil in the school receives a schedule of work to follow each day. The lessons are fitted into their free periods.

There are about twenty-eight members in the Trombly school band. Dolores, like the other members of the band, practices half an hour each day. The band can play ten pieces very well now, and parts of many others.

The first public appearance of the band was at a recital held the evening of June 10. Dolores was very proud and excited in her new white dress. She explained that a new white dress was quite necessary for the girls were to be in white dresses and the boys would wear white ducks.

"We kids are taken out of the band if we can't play the right notes or if we fool around too much and don't do what we're supposed to," Dolores stated. "I like the band a lot. It's hard at first because you have to get all the fingering correct. It comes easier after a while except for the tonguing and the lip position," Dolores said.

Advanced Stages of Tuberculosis Costs Unnecessary Money

With eighty per cent of Michigan's tuberculosis patients being admitted to sanatoriums in the costly advanced stages of the disease, Michigan counties are experiencing an unnecessary money loss in providing their tuberculous sick with sanatorium care, Dr. W. B. Howes, superintendent of the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium in Wayne county, pointed out this week. He remarked, however, that the Michigan Tuberculosis association's suggested solution to the problem—provision for adequate case-finding programs—would, if adopted by the counties in the state, eventually bring about a considerable decrease in the hospitalization costs prevalent today.

"Certain few of Michigan's counties do, to the best of their ability, provide some measure of case-finding for their residents," Dr. Howes said. "A great number, however, are carrying on no program to find cases of tuberculosis early—a situation which results in heavy financial loss to those counties."

To hospitalize an advanced case of tuberculosis involves at least twice the time and money that is needed for a case of early, minimal tuberculosis, it was explained. Dr. Howes pointed out, too, that there is a needless heavy expenditure for costly surgical procedures for the far advanced patient, as compared with simpler methods of treatment for the earlier cases. Nor does this take into account, he said, the vast difference on the profitable side of the ledger in the saving of many lives, and the return of individuals to a life of economic independence in the community.

"Discovered in the early, pre-symptom stages, tuberculosis can be cured at a great saving in money. Logically, then, thorough case-finding through periodic use of the modern tuberculin test and the X-ray would be an economical investment for Michigan counties. Compared with the annual sum paid by the state and counties to care for tuberculosis patients, the cost of a case-finding program is insignificant."

Harry S. Toy Opens Campaign for Post of State Governor

Committee workers and other supporters of the candidacy of Harry S. Toy for Governor of Michigan from all parts of the state will be in Detroit Monday, July 11, when the former attorney general and supreme court justice will open the second phase of his campaign for the Republican nomination at Cass Technical high school with a rally at 7:30 p. m.

An intensive campaign in Wayne and many other counties will continue right up to the primary date, September 13.

Appearing with Judge Toy on the program will be Alex J. Groesbeck, three times governor of Michigan. Toy's address will be broadcast by station WJR, Detroit, beginning at 8 p. m. Glen Dunn, committee activities manager, has already received word from many county groups saying they will attend with large groups from their districts.

Toy organizations will be complete in virtually every county by July 11, Dunn said. He also reported that support of Toy's candidacy is mounting rapidly everywhere in the state.

Toy told an audience of more than 800 Ingham county voters at a rally at Mason last week that he has "not promised to support any man or woman in his ambition to be nominated to a place on the Republican ticket."

"Party success can be achieved only by the voice of the whole party in selecting leaders and adopting a program," he said. "The convention should be a real forum for the expression of views upon the issues and problems of the day, and with the choice of our leaders based upon such expressions."

Toy is receiving wide approval from rural voters on the seven points in his farm platform as outlined at the Mason rally. They embrace: (1) full educational facilities, particularly in rural areas, in spite of growing demands for other use of state money; (2) keeping property taxes low, and making economies by eliminating duplicated government costs; (3) construction of highways to open up more markets and encourage diversified growing; (4) encouragement of utility companies to provide a constructive program of rural electrification as an aid to the progress of farms; (5) improved means of marketing farm produce; (6) purchase by the state of marginal lands for forest planting, and (7) national advertising of Michigan farm products.

Savings Clubs

BANKING institutions in thirty-eight States are now operating New York World's Fair 1939 Savings Clubs, according to a report just made to Grover A. Whalen, President of the Fair Corporation.

The popularity of these clubs arises from the fact that they enable individuals and families easily to finance a trip to the Fair next year through gradual accumulation of the necessary funds instead of by single demand upon financial resources. The slogan of the plan is: "Save Today to See the World & Tomorrow."

Some of the banks which have instituted the World's Fair Savings Clubs are operating in connection with Christmas and Vacation Clubs, these having for long been in successful existence.

In one of the Southern States such Fair clubs have been organized in colleges to aid students to set aside part of their allowances to provide means of visiting the Exposition next Spring. Banks are also utilizing the plan to encourage saving by school children.

Attendance at the Fair is expected to reach 60,000,000, according to present estimates.

Canadian Horses Still Dominate Fair Grounds

It appeared today as though Canadian horses would continue to dominate the racing at the Fair Grounds when R. S. McLaughlin's Sturdy Duke, the three-year-old colt, which trimmed some of the best sprinters in the mid-west in winning Monday's Liberty Handicap, was named to oppose 13 other good handicap horses in Saturday's Wolverine Handicap closing feature of the current racing at the Detroit plant.

Others eligible to the mile and one-sixteenth $2,500 added stakes are F. M. Alger's Azucar; Mrs. E. H. Bartlett's Zevson; I. D. Buhl's Gyrat; Mrs. H. H. Dattner's Chalphone; W. J. Galbreath's Francesco; James Emery's Dolly Val; Mrs. George B. Cox's Congressman; Ramsey and Coppages' Mucho Gusto;

W. J. Sprow's Bow and Arrow; A. C. Snyder's Pompey's Pillar, and also Mr. McLaughlin's Scally Gal and Prince Derek; Paul Kelley's Cardinals.

There remained a doubt whether the distance would be in favor of Sturdy Duke, a son of Stimulus and Duchess Lace by Fair Play. He has never been asked to cover such a route. His three victories in four starts in Detroit have been over three quarters of a mile but his breeding and the style with which he runs his races enhances a belief that he will.

The Wolverine Handicap will be another meeting of Zevson and the grand three-year-old filly Dolly Val. The latter was the only three-year-old and only filly which started in the Frontier Handicap recently but that made no difference, she whipped Zevson, Memory Book, Main Main for first honors, Zevson, which appears to be returning to the form he showed last winter, ran the Jean Valjean filly to a nose decision in the Frontier recently.

It will also be a returning to the wars for Azucar, a faithful turf campaigner for the last eight years, winner of more than $200,000 and the initial running of America's richest race, the Santa Anita feature in 1935 which again race through the fields this summer. He has several steeplechase engagements at Saratoga.

It appears very probable that Trainer Kirby Ramsey will bring the two eligibles, Bow and Arrow and Mucho Gusto for the Wolverine from Chicago.

The Wolverine Handicap, $2,500 added, to be run Saturday, July 9th, for three-year-olds and up, one mile and one-sixteenth:

Azucar; owner: F. M. Alger Jr. Zevson; owner: Mrs. E. H. Bartlett. Gyrat; owner: T. D. Buhl. Chalphone; owner: Dattner Stable. Francesco; owner: Darby Dan Farm. Dolly Val; owner: J. Emery. Sturdy Duke, Scally Gal, Prince Derek; owner: Parkwood Stable. Congressman; owner: Parkview Stable.

Hannan Y Notes

On Thursday, July 7, at 2 p. m., members of the junior and intermediate divisions will test their aquatic skill to determine the champions of the branch. These winners will compete with boys from the other Y. M. C. A. branches in the city-wide meet to be held on the following Tuesday, July 12. This city-wide meet is to be held at the Hannan branch.

On Thursday morning at 8 o'clock 30 eager boys will be bound for Camp Ohiyesa, the short term Y. M. C. A. camp on Fish Lake.

Camp Ohiyesa are magic words to several thousand Detroit boys who have attended this camp during the 18 years of its operation. Camp Ohiyesa signifies to them camping at its best—ideal location; congenial friends; friendly counselors and directors; splendid equipment; wholesome food; swimming; boating; baseball; tennis; hikes; hobbies; camp fires, music; dramatics; in short every day is crammed full of fun and action at Camp Ohiyesa. What an ideal vacation for a normal red-blooded boy. Camp Ohiyesa is a well organized, efficiently conducted camp, with 18 years of successful operation. Information on camp may be had by calling Mr. Burr at the Hannan Y. M. C. A.

There will be home runs and sore legs when the dads and sons of Hannan "Y" have their first baseball battle at Waterworks Park this Friday at 7 p. m. Last year at the opening game of the summer season the dads beat the sons. This year the boys are out for revenge.

After the game a refreshing swim at the "Y" will top off the evening.

The Golden Text, (1 Cor. 5:8), is "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth." Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 15:12): "This is my commandment. That ye love one another, as I have loved you." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 25): "The divinity of the Christ was made manifest in the humanity of Jesus."

Largest Spiders in World

On Tobriand island are some of the largest spiders in the world. They spin extraordinarily large webs in which even small birds are caught. When the Tobriand islander goes fishing he collects some webs, winds them into a ball. The balls of web are used as bait and are attached to long lines of twine. When the mackerel takes the bait its teeth become entangled in the strands of the web, and it is as helpless as if it had been hooked.

PLEASE!

NEW YORK—In the World of Tomorrow, there will be no such harsh, forbidding signs as "Keep off the Grass!" At least the New York World's Fair 1939 has already introduced, on the Fair grounds, signs reading merely "Please." The young lady in the picture, Miss Betty Rafferty, is regarding the sign with genuine pleasure.

"I never liked those signs 'Keep off the Grass.' It is certainly a happy and considerate thought to use the one word 'Please.' Surely the public will both understand the meaning and will appreciate the friendliness of the request."

The Pointe Pantry

By MARY KATHLEEN EBNER
 Yes, another July Fourth is past. There were picnics and parties, but along about Sunday the hungry members of your family will be hoping for something quite different than a picnic supper. To fulfill those demands and desires let me suggest one of those especially delicious ham dinners. It really is not necessary for you to die from the kitchen heat in preparing this dinner if you use one of those very efficient new electric cookers.

Here's a delectable combination that is a sure ticket to the family's praise and approval of your food choice:

Baked Ham
 Scalloped Potatoes
 Buttered Green Beans
 Pickled Peas or Peaches
 Cabbage Orange Salad
 Cloverleaf Rolls
 Split Carrots, Green Onions, Celery
 Frozen Pineapple Whip
 Buttermilk Cookies
 Iced Coffee

To prepare the ham choose half of a 10 or 12-pound ham. Rub with half cup of brown sugar and put in electric cooker or roaster. Pour half cup water in bottom of cooker or roaster. Start the ham in moderate oven, 350 degrees F. When ham is hot turn oven down to 200 degrees F. and bake three to four hours. Baste the ham every half hour with one-sixth cup canned fruit juice.

The scalloped potatoes are made by slicing about eight medium potatoes in baking dish. Add one teaspoon of flour, one tablespoon butter, one teaspoon salt, and a dash of pepper. Pour on enough hot milk to cover the potatoes. Cook uncovered at 400 degrees F. for 20 minutes. Turn down to 300 degrees F. and bake until done.

Cabbage orange salad can be whipped together in a flash yet it adds a delightful touch to this meal. Shred a medium-sized head of cabbage very fine. Peel one orange and divide the sections. Cut each section into small cubes. Add a dash of pepper and one-half teaspoon of salt. Mix together with about 3 heaping tablespoons of mayonnaise or enough to moisten.

Frozen pineapple whip is a "knock-out" of a dessert. It is light in flavor and texture, giving our dinner that added dash. To make this prize dessert whip about one pint of heavy coffee cream. Add one and one-half cups of crushed pineapple and one teaspoon of Parke-Davis vanilla. Sweeten to taste with powdered sugar. Put in ice-box trays and chill until solid (two to three hours).

Buttermilk cookies are an especially appropriate accompaniment for the frozen whip. The recipe for these is as follows:

2 cups sugar
 1 cup butter
 3 eggs
 1 cup buttermilk
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon soda
 1/2 grated nutmeg
 1/2 cups flour

Cream butter with sugar and add the eggs, well beaten. Sift the dry ingredients and add them alternately to the mixture with the butter milk. Drop on greased pan; bake 15 minutes in moderate oven.

New Pointer's Viewpoint

By RICHARD SONNE, JR.

No one can complain about the weather over the holiday week-end, for Sunday and the Fourth were ideal. New Pointer noticed very little fire-cracking about Grosse Pointe, and was surprised to find that he was able to sleep undisturbed Sunday night and early Monday morning. In the small New England town where New Pointer lived, the explosions started Saturday afternoon and continued with little interruption through to the night of the Fourth. Sleep was practically out of the question.

It was common to meet small boys on the street, begging a nickel or a dime, when their own funds had run out to continue the glorious breach of peace. Dignified citizens could be seen with pink stick in hand, running for their lives with a bunch of youngsters after lighting the giant cracker. When adults enter into the spirit of the Fourth and join the children in setting off the fireworks, the effect is healthy for all concerned.

Adults often need the release and abandon of playing with combustibles more than the children. They can direct the pyrotechnics and see that no one gets blown up and at the same time let off plenty of pent-up emotion which has accumulated through a nagging wife or a Simon Legree employer. Every time the explosion occurs he secretly delights in the mental picture of Emma going up in bits or Mr. Johnson distributed across the landscape. This is very good for the nerves.

In Mexico, a country where such things as nervous breakdowns, and psychiatrists are practically unknown, fire crackers display a major role in all holy holidays. As a rule the fireworks are set up right in the churchyard so that as soon as mass is over the sport can begin. The Mexicans have managed to keep about 40 or more saints on their calendar who require a holiday (imagine forty fourths a year!) and it would be an insult to the particular saint of the day if no fireworks were included in the festivities.

The way government appropriations are being made today, the time is not far off when there will be a FFD or Federal Fireworks Display for boom-hungry citizens on the Fourth of July. Did you ever think that every time the nasty little boy next door set off a fire-cracker while you were trying to get to sleep, there was just that much less gunpowder to be used in a war? Fire-crackers have a much sweeter sound than rifle reports.

Funds Sought to Aid American Wounded from Spanish War

The repatriation and rehabilitation of American volunteers wounded while fighting for the Spanish government will be the main topic at the Emergency Conference being called by the Friends of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade on July 16 in the English Room of the Hotel Book-Cadillac.

The Friends have issued a call to all trade unions, fraternal organizations and churches to send delegates or observers to take part in the conference. The call tells of 125 wounded Americans who are in France waiting until funds are raised to pay for their transportation back to America. Of the 125 wounded Americans approximately 20 are Detroiters.

Among the many prominent people who are sponsoring the meeting are Councilman Edward J. Jeffries, Mrs. Clara Van Auken, National Committee Woman of the Democratic party; Rabbi Leon Fram; Hon. Patrick O'Brien; Rev. John T. Bollens; Walter Reuther, president of Local No. 174 of the United Automobile Workers of America; and Richard T. Frankenstein, vice president of the United Automobile Workers International Union.

Organizations desiring to send delegates may obtain credentials from the office of the Friends at 1504 Broadway or they may call Cadillac 4505 and calls will be mailed to them.

Ancient British Navy Laws Reveal Some Odd Punishments

The following is a section of laws which were adopted to govern the British Navy by Richard I of England:

"Know all men that we, with the aid of upright counsels have laid down these ordinances.

"Whoever shall commit murder aboard ship shall be tied to the corpse and thrown into the sea.

"If a murder be committed on land, the murderer shall be tied to the corpse and buried alive.

"If any man be convicted of drawing a knife for the purpose of stabbing another, or shall have stabbed another so that the blood shall flow, he shall lose a hand.

"If a man strike another with his hand, he shall be ducked three times in the sea.

"If any man defame, villify, or swear at his fellow, he shall pay him as many ounces of silver as times he has reviled him.

"If a robber be convicted of theft, boiling pitch shall be poured over his head and a shower of feathers be shaken over to mark him, and he shall be cast ashore at the first land at which the Fleet shall touch.

"If any man within a ship had slept upon his watch four times and so proved, this be his punishment: The first time he shall be headed at the mainmast with a bucket of water poured upon his head, the second time he shall be armed, his hands held by a rope and two buckets of water poured into his sleeves. The third time he shall be bound to the mainmast with gun chambers tied to his arms and with as much pain to his body as the Captain will.

The fourth and last punishment being as we would say nowadays, a cumulation of offences, "It is enacted that being taken asleep he shall be hanged to the bow-sprit end of the ship in a basket, with a can of beer, a loaf of bread, and a sharp knife, and if he choose he may hang there until he be starve or he may cut himself into the sea."

Joe Cowley One of Favorite Jockeys at Detroit Fair Grounds

Joe Cowley, the 102-pound rider who piloted James Emery's Dolly Val to a surprise victory in the $10,000 Frontier Handicap at the Detroit Fair Grounds last Saturday, is no stranger to racegoers of the Detroit area.

Cowley rode his first race at Toronto Woodbine track in the spring of 1931. The same summer he moved to Windsor to continue his apprenticeship at Devonshire and Kenilworth tracks, then well patronized by Michigan sports followers. It was July 15, 1931 that Cowley got his first winning ride. He made the journey with Sudden for owner Joseph McGraw. The mare paid better than 35 to 1.

Continuing his jockey education on American tracks, Cowley served one season under contract to Frank Lettler, New Orleans horseman.

Probably Cowley's most important turf victory was with the good campaigner, Calumet Dick in the Mardi Gras Handicap at New Orleans last winter. Calumet Dick is the horse that defeated Seabiscuit in the Narragansett Special last season.

Owner James Emery was so impressed with Cowley's fine jockeying aboard Dolly Val at the Fair Grounds in the Frontier that he immediately commissioned the lad to ride the filly in the Arlington Matron Stakes at Arlington Park next week.

Cowley is a native of Huntsville, Ontario, the home town of Outfielder George Selkirk of the New York Yankees. Jockey Cowley has made his home in the United States for six years. Two years ago he married a Louisville, Kentucky, girl—Ruby Fife. They have a six-months-old daughter, Francine Pearl.

U. S. Yankee Is Stranded 200 Feet Above Sea Level

The U. S. S. Yankee, of the old steam and sail Navy, lies one mile high inland in a valley surrounded by hills at a height of 100 to 200 feet above sea level, at Arica, Chile, in South America. This ship was carried there by a huge tidal wave several years ago. Part of her boilers and propulsion machinery are still intact. The boiler plaque gives her name and date of commissioning. This same tidal wave swept a cement fort and the entire face of a 200-foot cliff containing it into the sea where it disappeared from view. In the past 25 years an island containing sections of the fort has been raised to the surface of Arica Bay. Prior to this tidal wave the 75-mile strip of coast which it hit was luxuriantly green and covered with foliage and vegetation akin to our own temperate zone. Since that time, however, it has only rained twice there, the last time over thirty years ago, and the land is arid even to the tops of the mountains.

Forest Fire Lines Established by CCC Camp Crews

Two new forest fire communications lines are being constructed in the Kalaska area, one from the Deward to the Pickereel lake observation towers and the other from the Elk hill tower to the new headquarters on the Au Sable state forest.

Material for 950 poles for the new lines was obtained by CCC crews from Camp Kalkaska.

Several other new communication lines have been strung this spring throughout the forest fire zones, all together adding approximately 100 miles to the system which links the various forest fire division headquarters, observation towers and other units.

Of the 1,903,000,000 acres of land the continental United States and 820,000,000 acres were originally covered with forests.
