

Grosse Pointe to Vote on Accepting Federal Grant For Junior High School

Residents of the Grosse Pointe school district will vote on Tuesday, September 27 on the question of whether to accept an outright government grant of $39,100 toward the erection of the proposed junior high school and public library building in the Village of Grosse Pointe Park. Resolutions setting Tuesday, September 27 as the date for this election and for voting on a proposition to raise by local tax the $350,000 needed to supplement the government gift have been adopted by the Board of Education.

"This is the best news in a long time for the boys and girls in Grosse Pointe," Charles A. Parcels, president of the school board, declared when news of the government grant was telegraphed from Chicago. First word of the success of the district's application for $39,100 reached Grosse Pointe through Hon. Louis C. Rabaut, Congressman for the 14th District, who has been active in helping obtain the grant. Later in the day, the message was confirmed by an official telegram from the Regional Director of the FWA at Chicago and by a telegram from Washington from Hon. Prentiss M. Brown, United States Senator, who, Board members said, has also aided greatly.

"The present so-called annex system for seventh and eighth grade children is the one flagrant flaw in an otherwise uniformly good system," Dr. E. R. Van Kleeck, superintendent of schools, said in commenting on the news. "The annex problem will be solved by the junior high school building if the voters see fit to approve the proposals at the special election September 27."

Frank W. Lindemann Jr. Sheds Light on State's Financial Condition

Frank W. Lindemann, Jr., made comparisons with regard to state finances at a recent gathering and stated that it can be noted by a statement of cash receipts and disbursements of the State of Michigan published in the report of the state treasurer for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938 that the disbursements for the year from July 1, 1937 to June 30, 1938 exceeds the receipts by more than eight and one-half million dollars.

FRANK W. LINDEMANN, JR.

Can any business or government continue to function at this appalling pace, without an excessive burden to the taxpayers of the State of Michigan?

In this report we note the following which is taken from the official bulletin of the state treasurer:

They will soon be full-fledged bird dogs, according to Miller.

James N. McNally Outlines Needs of Capital and Labor

With only a little over a week to go before the primary elections, the campaign of James N. McNally for the Republican nomination to Congress in the 14th District was increasing in activity. At the Women's Republican League he told his audience that Felix Frankfurter, recently mentioned as one of the possible appointees to the U. S. Supreme Court, was described by President Theodore Roosevelt as "having an attitude which seems to me to be fundamentally that of Trotsky and of other Bolshevik leaders in Russia."

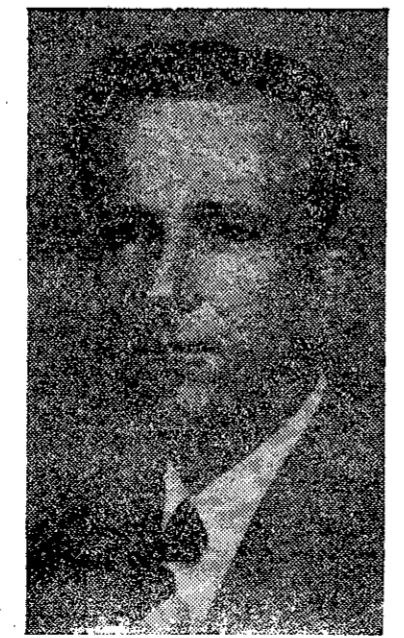

JAMES N. McNALLY

He further told them that the same Felix Frankfurter filed charges against the U. S. Department of Justice for its activities against communists with the National Popular Government League.

Addressing another group he said: "One of the biggest problems of today is the relationship between capital and labor. It is time that more friendly relations and better co-operation should exist between them. I believe that it is the duty of Congress to establish a labor program which is fair to both sides and thereby create a condition which would reopen the industries of the country, give the laboring man back his job and go away with the unrest we have at the present time."

Governmental economy rather than new taxes is what is needed. If government really wants to restore industrial employment and real wages, it should reduce expenditures and taxes and not increase them.

No one will deny the need of adequate relief for the unemployed but increased taxation is not necessary. Michigan tax revenues and Federal aid have soared to an all-time peak during the past two years. Expenditures have risen faster than revenues. Now the public purse is empty. Additional taxation is (Continued on Page Two)

Grosse Pointe's Annual Flower Show Sept. 11

By MARY JANE STOETZEL
Once again the time has come for the largest tomato and the largest dahlia or what have you to be selected by the Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society. The 24th annual show of this organization will be held in the gymnasium of the Neighborhood Club of Grosse Pointe Saturday, September 10, and Sunday, September 11.

In order that this show be a success everyone's entry and presence at the show will be necessary. All entries must be mailed to the secretary, David Rawnsley, 42 Lakepointe, Grosse Pointe Farms, before Friday evening, September 9, at 7 p. m.

An added feature this year is the 12 classes open for amateur gardeners. Six of these will be for flowers and six will be for vegetables. The number of flowers in these classes will be six; while the number in the vegetable classes will be three. These classes will be in addition to the regular classes which are open only to the members of the organization.

It is well to note that there will be no entry fee charged. Prize money and ribbons will be awarded to the first and second best in each class, however. Special prizes will be given for the most outstanding exhibits.

Therefore, if your gardens have yielded good fruits this year bring over your specimens for all to see at the 24th annual show of the Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society. (Continued on Page Two)

Forty-Four Republican Candidates Spoke at Rally Here Friday

By MARY JANE STOETZEL
Forty-four Republican candidates addressed the officers and members of the Council of Wayne County Republican Women's Club Friday, August 26, at the regular meeting held this month at the Grosse Pointe Park. Since this was the only candidates' meeting sponsored by the council before the Primaries a large attendance was on hand for the meeting held between the hours of 2 and 4:30.

Preceding the candidates' meeting the women held a pot-luck luncheon for themselves. The U-shaped serving table presided over by Mrs. Henry Hudson, president of the Women's Club of the 14th District, was covered with food. The women brought everything imaginable for their luncheon and the fruits of their labors showed that they had spent hours in preparing their particular donations.

The 20 gallons of mint ice tea prepared and brought by Mrs. Charles Beecher Warren was the talk of the luncheon. No one it seemed could get enough of that cooling, tangy drink. Mrs. Warren was honored after the luncheon by Mrs. Hazel Moran, president of the Council of Wayne County Republican Women's Clubs, when she gave her one of the council's honorary life membership cards. Life membership cards were also given to Mrs. Lottie B. Marks, Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, Mrs. John D. Evertson and Mrs. Clara Brucker.

Following the luncheon a short business meeting was held by the women after which the 44 candidates gave in turn a five minutes resume of their life and their plans for the future. Judge Joseph A. Gillis, running for prosecuting attorney on the Republican ticket, was present as was Frank W. Lindemann, Jr., who is running for State Senator of the 1st District. Mr. Lindemann, by the way, feels that he is qualified for the office since he was born in this district, has twice been the Justice of Peace in Grosse Pointe and will be able to do his work honestly since (Continued on Page Two)

Korte Sees Success for Republican Party

It is very evident that voters individually are doing their own thinking in this campaign, not only as to the personnel of candidates, but what they mean in office and the effect it will have on the future of the civic life of this community. Nelson L. Korte, Republican candidate for Register of Deeds and new in the matter of seeking votes for himself, has been impressed with this idea in the few weeks he has been meeting the voters. The Korte candidacy has made a special appeal to the young voters of that party who are thinking of party success not only this year, but in 1940. A native of Detroit where not only his father but grandfather were ardent Republicans thirty and fifty years ago, Korte has found that the loyal Republicans of all ages are looking for true Americans of the age that can look to the future with a clear vision for leadership this year and so from all elements his supporters are volunteering to work.

"There is really something more important in this campaign than the warm reception my own candidacy is receiving," Mr. Korte commented to friends after a series of evening meetings. "The whole trend of sentiment, particularly in that element we term the independent voter, seems to be headed back towards the Republican party. No matter whether you are at a meeting in a colored section, among the Polish, the Italians or the Belgians, there is the same talk. It is more evident in the strictly residential sections and increasingly strong out in the townships. With a ticket that has an appeal to the voters, the Republicans should click in Wayne county in November."

Nelson L. Korte, 43 years of age, native of Detroit, has had business connections for years that particularly fits him for the post he is seeking in this campaign, that of Register of Deeds.

Harold C. Robinson Republican Candidate for County Sheriff

Among the outstanding candidates for office is Harold C. Robinson, Republican candidate for sheriff. He is of English and Scotch descent, and a member of the Episcopal church.

He is a member of the various Masonic orders, the No. 1 Kiwanis Club of Detroit, the Detroit Yacht Club, and is vice president of the Variety Club.

He believes in a businesslike administration under the guidance of a business man. Mr. Robinson has been successful in business, heading the Film Truck Service as its president for the past eighteen years, and is also president of the Robinson-Spicer Motor groups endorse his candidacy. Sales.

He served several terms as undersheriff and is thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office. If elected he would first of all eliminate all duplication of police work which is being cap- (Continued on Page Four)

Register for Primaries Up To and Including Saturday, September 3

In interviews with Carl Schweikart, Township Clerk, and Neil Blondell, Deputy City Clerk, it was learned that voters who have not already registered for the Primary Election can do so by visiting their respective offices on or before Saturday of this week.

It is vitally important that every man and woman entitled to the privilege of voting use this franchise so that you can feel that at least you have done your share in endeavoring to place men in office in whom you have confidence and feel that the best interests of the community will be served.

There are many fine characters and conscientious individuals among the candidates for the various offices which are to be filled, therefore we urge you to register now and carefully select your candidates and vote at the primaries September 13. It is your duty.

David Patterson Outlines Platform for State Senator

Speaking before a group of men, members of a neighborhood club, recently, David P. Patterson, candidate for Republican nomination to State Senator from the First District, expressed his views on what he considers important problems now confronting our State government.

Relief, problems of labor and industry and education, in his opinion, are matters of paramount importance at this time and require the immediate attention of the governmental agencies. "Every man, woman and child in the State is affected by misunderstandings between labor and industry. A labor dispute in the key industries of our State, with its subsequent curtailment of production as a result of strikes and long drawn out conferences, cause a lack of confidence and widespread unemployment and business in general suffers." Mr. L. B. Oldham, Publisher
The Grosse Pointe Review

Grosse Pointe, Michigan

Dear Mr. Oldham:

I should like to express to you on behalf not only of myself but of the Board of Education our appreciation for the generous attention which the Review has given throughout the summer to the series of twelve orchestral concerts sponsored jointly by the Board and the W. P. A.

Your publication in a prominent front page position each week of the program for the concert has been most effective in bringing out a large attendance, since apparently the Review is widely read in the school district.

We are indebted to you for this help, and thank you heartily.

Cordially yours,

E. R. VAN KLEECK,
Superintendent of Schools

Why Grosse Pointe Needs New Junior High School

For the information of residents of the Grosse Pointe School District, the Board of Education has authorized the Review to print the following statement of the reasons which have led the board to its decision to advise that the Federal grant of 45 per cent be accepted and tax monies raised to build the badly-needed new junior high school and public library.

WHY GROSSE POINTE NEEDS THE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NOW In Brief—

- 1—The high school building cannot take care of the present enrollment.
- 2—Junior High School pupils are scattered among four buildings.
- 3—Annex pupils suffer unavoidable disadvantages.
- 4—The junior high school program is tending to fall apart.

the first solution proposed by hysterical politicians. If ten million dollars for relief are necessary, they can be found by meager economies in Michigan's governmental expenditures. What we need is common sense administration of governmental expenditures—state and local—not more taxes.

Every day it is becoming more apparent to everyone except the politician that business is the only source of real employment. The worker's only hope for a job is business recovery. Business bogged down because the average individual lost confidence in a future regim- ented by political novices and anchored to excessive taxes and debts.

Business is today engendering a new confidence and starting the nation back towards recovery. Every tax levied on business is a tax on the laborer, who is the consumer. Every new tax on Michigan business drives employment out of Michigan and the workers are entitled to a fair deal.

- 5—The junior high school courses of study are handicapped.
- 6—Junior and senior high school pupils should be separated.
- 7—The senior high school is badly handicapped.
- 8—The school district is growing.
- 9—The annex system is only a temporary make-shift.
- 10—The public is dissatisfied with present conditions.
- 11—The Federal Government has offered an outright grant of $395,100.

More Fully Explained—

1—The present high school building cannot accommodate the present enrollment in grades 7-12.

Enrollment May 31, 1938 1872
Capacity of high school bldg. 1450

40 classrooms, shops, laboratories, and the swimming pool accommodating an average of 25 each 1000

9 gymnasiums, auditorium, library, study halls, music room accommodating an average of 50 each 450

(Note: These figures assume the use of every room every hour. The class average assumes that classes of less than 25 which are bound to exist in advanced courses will be offset by classes larger than 25.)

2—The junior high school grades have had to be broken up and pupils assigned to four different buildings (the annex system).

Seventh and eighth grade pupils living in the central and northern portion of the district go to the Cadieux building for their academic work one half day and to the high school building for their non-academic work (requiring specially equipped laboratories) the other half. Pupils living in the southern part of the district go to the Trombly school for academic work and to the Defer School (where laboratories are available) for their non-academic work. Both groups transfer between buildings at noon. It has been necessary to add the 8A grades to the annex group this fall.

3—Students attending the annexes suffer unavoidable disadvantages.

The transfer between buildings creates a traffic problem. In good weather the children walk or ride bicycles; in bad weather the school provides buses. In spite of all possible safety precautions an element of danger attends this daily transfer.

A one-sided program results from the assignment of all academic subjects (English, mathematics, social studies) to one-half day and all non-academic work (shop, home economics, physical education, art, music) to the other half. Particularly for young children, academic and non-academic work should be alternated.

Pupils attending the annexes receive virtually no special help after school from the teachers who are not in the buildings where they are at the end of the day. A pupil who spends the afternoon at Defer cannot consult his English teacher at Trombly concerning some difficulty with his work unless he walks the mile back to Trombly before going home.

The annex student has no general school library facilities unless he is one of the group attending the high school in the afternoon. The elementary school libraries are inadequate for junior high school use.

Only limited extra-curricular opportunities are open to pupils attending the annexes. Auditoriums and gymnasiums in the elementary schools are equipped for younger pupils and must first serve the interests of the elementary schools, thus restricting all types of athletic and dramatic activities among the junior high school groups.

4—With junior high school students and teachers scattered among four buildings the junior high school program is tending to disintegrate.

Separated from other teachers and students of their grades, junior high school pupils inevitably tend to lose the sense of belonging to a school. A unified junior high school spirit, with its incentives to interest and endeavor, is becoming practically non-existent.

The close work among teachers necessary to achieve a closely correlated course of study becomes almost impossible with various sections of the same course and grade isolated from each other.

A broad, well-balanced extra-curricular program cannot be worked out under existing conditions. Clubs, athletics, dramatics, assembly programs, student government, publications for junior high school students are all cramped and handicapped by unfavorable circumstances.

Unsettled housing conditions also take their toll from the effectiveness of the guidance program. Teachers have insufficient opportunity to come to know students over a period of several years and hence are unable to guide and counsel them concerning individual problems as effectively as they might. Instead of having only one home room teacher during their junior high school course, many pupils now have three.

5—The junior high school curriculum is handicapped because of inadequate building facilities.

The variety of exploratory courses offered to junior high school students is undesirably limited. Present building facilities permit provision for only the minimum work. With a junior high school building, exploratory courses could be added in sheet metal work, electricity, household mechanics, costume design, typewriting, arts and crafts, general language (an introductory foreign language course) and other such subjects which help the child discover and develop his individual talents.

No opportunity for elective work is now open to seventh and eighth graders. These students should have some experience in choosing among courses before the ninth grade when they are obliged to select two-fifths of their work.

It is impossible to arrange class periods in the high school buildings long enough to provide for study periods under the supervision of the classroom teachers which junior high school pupils should have. All classes at the high school must change at the same time to make rooms available for the next classes.

6—Junior and senior high school students should not attend the same school.

The over-stimulation of children who are 11, 12 and 13 years old which inevitably results when they are placed with adolescents who are 17, 18 and 19 years old tends to bring about a superficial maturity. Both the children and their parents may become unhappy and troubled because of the desire of the youngsters to do whatever their older school mates do.

The discipline of the school, involving the handling of study halls, regulation of clubs, student government, social activities, and extra curricular life of pupils, has to serve pupils from the age of 11 to 19. Regulations suited to 11-year-olds do not permit the development of responsibility which should be expected of students six years older.

The present six-year set-up results in a distinct tendency toward senior high school domination of the whole program in the eyes of the public and the pupils. It also tends to influence teachers to hold standards which are too severe for the younger children.

The equipment of the building cannot be satisfactory for both junior and senior high school pupils. The same desks and chairs must be used one period by senior football players and the next by 12-year-olds in knee pants.

7—The senior high school program is handicapped by inadequate building facilities.

To accommodate the number of classes necessitated by the enrollment, class periods can be no longer than 45 minutes, the shortest possible time allowed if Grosse Pointe is to remain an accredited school. The recommended class hour of 60 minutes is impossible. This means that supervised study is nearly impossible and that most studying has to be assigned as home work.

Lack of space necessitates using the school's reference libraries as study halls where no assistance from books or supervising teachers is available to the student in his work.

Books which were intended to be shelved in the reference libraries have to be shelved in the central library, thus creating a space problem there. The effectiveness of the central library is particularly paralyzed by the fact that students have to be assigned to the library as a study hall so that it is constantly filled with people who have no particular desire to be there.

The commercial program cannot be expanded because of lack of space for typewriters and other office equipment. The demand for this work exceeds the available opportunity. Students have to be arbitrarily barred from classes in typewriting.

The manual arts program is limited to very little senior high school work because the shops are monopolized by required junior high school courses. Then senior high school boy can get only limited mechanical training.

No crafts work in art is possible for some students because of the fact that the art room has to be given over almost entirely to junior high school classes.

Much choral music work has to be carried on in the auditorium, which is entirely unsuited to such work.

Double-periods cannot be organized for laboratory subjects because the maximum number of classes has to use all home economics, art, and manual arts laboratories. The effectiveness of work in these subjects is thus greatly reduced.

8—The school district is growing. Building permits from 1924 to 1937 have been very numerous.

9—The annex system is only a temporary expedient because elementary school buildings will not long have room for junior high school classes.

The elementary schools will soon need every room in their buildings. Three are over-filled now.

10—The public is dissatisfied with present conditions.

Existing arrangements for junior high school students are very generally regarded by citizens as a way of making the best of a bad situation. Complaints are frequently made to Board of Education members and school officials by letter and orally. Petitions from parents, resolutions by parent organizations and delegations of residents at Board of Education meetings have emphasized the growing demand of the community for adequate junior high school facilities.

11—The Federal Government has offered an outright grant of $395,100. Since the Board of Education has accumulated some funds through larger receipts in delinquent taxes than anticipated and through careful economies in operations, the amount needed to be raised by tax is less than the government grant. The amount to be raised by tax is $350,000. Not to exceed one mill a year will raise this sum in five years. In other words, if the voters decide to accept the government grant, one mill a year for five years will complete all payments on the junior high school building.

According to the table, over the past seven years the receipts have increased over one hundred million dollars and the disbursements have increased over one hundred eight and one-half million dollars. What will the next seven years bring if this pace continues?

The legislature is now in session and is being asked to appropriate ten more million dollars, which would increase the deficit to a total, for the period from July 1, 1937 to January 1, 1938 (18 months), to more than eighteen and one-half million dollars, which means increased taxes to secure the amount of the deficit.

The important questions for you to decide is whether this gross spending of money was necessary and used for worthy purposes. If necessary was it spent wisely and efficiently. Whether you believe it was necessary or not you should voice your opinion on this question and many others by voting. You are the government, exercise your right, vote at the primary and at the general election.

"The farmer, the businessman and finally, and most important of all, the home is made to suffer the hardships that naturally follow," Mr. Patterson said.

"The home must turn to the Government for relief and it necessarily becomes the duty of our government agencies, the serious business of the Government is fact, to come to the relief of families so affected.

"We hear a lot of talk about balancing the budget, which is all very well. The budget should be balanced, if such a balance can be effected without neglecting our worthy needy families.

"Of first and more vital importance," Mr. Patterson stated, "is legislation that will bring about an atmosphere of confidence between Government, Labor and Industry. The enactment of laws whereby labor may expect and get a fair return for what it puts into industry, industry may be assured of the co-operation of labor and both may have the protection of the Government.

Mr. Patterson favors changes in the educational system, by which the youth may utilize the time during the school years to a better advantage. A plan whereby the boy or girl may follow a course of study for which they are qualified and with the rapidity of which they are mentally capable.

"Many children are over-worked during their school years, in his opinion. They are pushed ahead faster than their minds, in the course of development, can absorb normally the details of the studies they are forced to master. They are forced to fight a rebellious nature to acquire knowledge that may never be of any use to them, with the result that they become mentally tired, afflicted with brain fag, before their course of study is completed. Their spirit is broken and they take on an inferiority complex.

"This mental condition in many instances may cause the child, so affected, to readjust his social life and this readjustment often proves detrimental to the youth and too frequently he becomes a menace to society," he explained.

Mr. Patterson told the group that he did not want to be classed as a reformer and that he does not believe in the enactment of a lot of unnecessary laws. But he does believe amendments to existing laws, with the possible exception of labor laws, will meet our present day requirements and that Michigan once again will lead the way to peace and prosperity.

Patterson is a veteran of foreign wars, having served in France for the duration of the World War. He is a member of Denby Post, No. 124, American Legion.

Paul De Ronne State Senatorial Candidate

Paul De Ronne, a familiar figure on Detroit's Eastside for over 45 years, at the insistence of a host of friends, became a candidate for State Senator on the Republican ticket from this area.

Mr. De Ronne, who has always been considered the working man's friend, has always favored improvements and beneficial movements in the interests of the home owners and citizens. He was the first president of the Warren Avenue Businessmen's Association, the first president of the Lakewood Improvement Association and is active in the Belgian businessmen's association.

He was a candidate for alderman in 1916 and has served in the sheriff's office under three administrations. He is a business man, having been in business locally for the past 18 years, and is capable and conscientious, and a taxpayer.

He deeply appreciates the fine support given him by his many friends and neighbors of the vicinity who are actively campaigning for his election.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Stoddard, of Lincoln road, spent the week-end at Burk Lake as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Cudlip in their summer home. Mr. and Mrs. Cudlip will not return to their home on Rivard boulevard until after Labor Day.

Thomas C. Murphy Seeks Re-Election as Probate Court Judge

Citizenship carries with it not only the privilege of voting, but it also imposes a serious responsibility. It becomes our duty to study the records and the background of the many candidates paraded before us in order that we may vote intelligently when we are called upon to do so.

Orphaned at the age of three years, Judge Thomas C. Murphy has reached the office which he now holds through constant effort on his own part and through the assistance of his many friends. This unfortunate circumstance in his life has afforded him unusual opportunities to gain the experience which is requisite in the office of Probate Judge.

The Judge voluntarily spent untold hours outside of his regular duties in the editing of the "Probate Manual" in the printing, binding and distribution of it in order that it might save the time of both court and counsel and speed up procedure generally, and to familiarize the people with the various matters handled before his Court.

upon the Probate Bench and his record in office have stamped him as possessing outstanding judicial qualities both in experience, temperament and training so essential in order to understand the may problems of family life administered in the Probate Court.

It is men of this character who deserve support at the polls and who should be sought out and given the whole-hearted support of the electorate.

High School Book Store to Open 3 Days Earlier

The student book store in the Grosse Pointe High School will be opened three days earlier this fall as an added convenience and service for students, it was announced today. If enough students take advantage of the opportunity of purchasing all or part of their textbooks before the formal opening of school this year, the plan will probably be continued in the future. Dennis Duguid, who is in charge of the book store, will have it open from 8:00-4:00 on Thursday and Friday, September 1 and 2, and on Saturday morning, September 3, and students may purchase books then rather than in the rush of the opening day of school, Wednesday, September 7.

Numerous new students coming to the Grosse Pointe High school for the first time this fall, have already taken advantage of the invitation of Vice Principal Charles Leavitt, issued in last week's Review, to confer with him at the high school concerning their courses of study this fall. In order that a longer time may be given to the consideration of each newcomer's problems, Mr. Leavitt has been at his office in the high school building, at Fisher and Grosse Pointe boulevard, each day this week and will be there for the same purpose from 8:00-4:00 tomorrow, this Saturday morning, and from 8:00-4:00 Monday through Friday next week, and on Saturday morning, September 3.

Lepper moved in from Chicago in charge of trainer Chris Raynor. In the shipment were Sachem, Lillian Z. Candy Hero, Fly Mc and Way Ray.

Christian Science

"Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 4.

The Golden Text, (Ps. 84,12), is "Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee . . . O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 8: 4, 6): "What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him? Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 29): "Man as the offspring of God, as the idea of Spirit, is the immortal evidence that Spirit is harmonious and man eternal."

Dr. Eugene Keyes' Qualifications for Coroner's Office

Dr. Eugene C. Keyes is the only candidate for Wayne County coroner who has degrees in both medicine and law, his supporters point out, and both degrees are necessary qualifications for a good, competent management of that important office.

The Cornell University College of Medicine, the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia, and Harvard Medical School also offer lectures in legal medicine. However, most first-rank medical schools offer no preparation at all to the doctor who may find himself at the scene of a crime or an accident.

Reprint from the Encyclopedia of Social Science (Vol. 4 page 210) Detroit Public Library.

"Unfortunately there are few coroners in the United States who have either the necessary medical or legal qualifications. From the point of view of legal procedure the system is faulty. The coroner frequently selects a jury from among his friends and in general his ignorance of legal methods makes his inquests valueless. The usual lack of co-operation between the coroner and the prosecutor is another factor which makes the office of coroner a deterrent rather than an aid in tracing the criminal. Such a system must break down because the training now required is so highly specialized that it becomes increasingly difficult to find anyone for the position who has both the necessary medical and legal qualifications."

The office of coroner is quasi-judicial in character and authorities on government, as can be attested to by the Encyclopedia of Political Science, lament the fact that they cannot find a man with the proper medical and legal qualifications. Dr. Keyes has been admitted to the practice of medicine and law, and believes that he measures up to the standard required.

Dr. Keyes, who has practiced in Wayne County for 15 years, is the founder of Keyes hospital.

Swimming Meet Was Held at Grosse Pointe Farms Sunday

Sunday was an ideal day for the special swimming meet held at the Grosse Pointe Farms swimming dock. Several records were made and broken as the various races were held. C. Belanger, Jr., walked away with two first prizes, one for the 25-yard free style race held for boys 13 to 15; while the other was for the 25-yard breast stroke race held for boys of the same age.

Of the girls, the outstanding swimmer was D. Pelkey, who took both of the breast stroke prizes, one for swimming 25 yards, and the other for 50 yards. The winners of the other races are as follows:

Boys 16-17 years, 50-yard free style: 1, W. Christie; 2, R. Davis.

Girls, 16-17 years, 50-yard free style: 1, J. Dickson; 2, Sue Stephenson.

It looks like the ceremony will be held at St. Ambrose church about the middle of October. We guess that the Good Kid Rabaut has been honored with the information that he is to be the candle bearer. I wonder why he leaves his pal Casey, the barber of Seville, out of all of his plans. Local barbers and this writer are hoping that Buddha will be entertaining at a very good wedding party but the doctors are wishing it would be otherwise. Business is so slow now, you know. The good Deacon (better known as Jim Reno) is making plans for an assembly of the policemen of the City of Grosse Pointe. (Signed) INO NOTHING.

Grosse Pointe to Vote on Accepting Federal Grant

under the law. Registration for regular municipal and state elections does not include the school election. Opportunities for registration will be offered daily at the public school buildings and the Board of Education office at 389 St. Clair and two other registration days—Saturday, September 10 and Saturday, September 17—have been also designated by the Board of Education. Persons not sure whether or not they are registered for school elections are requested to telephone Mr. Edmund West at the Board of Education office, Niagara 2000.

One part of the propositions to be voted on September 27, the law requires that non-taxpaying parents of public school children as well as taxpayers vote. All such persons should therefore register by September 17 or they cannot vote. On other phases of the proposals only taxpayers may vote and these also, if not already registered for school elections, must do so by September 17. To comply with technical legal details and in order to make the proposed school bonds as attractive as possible to prospective buyers, the various phases of the questions will be presented as separate propositions at the election at the various voting precincts which are located in the public school buildings throughout the school district September 27.

The PWA grant, which has been formally accepted by the Board of Education, subject to the approval of the voters, calls for the government furnishing 45 per cent of the funds not only for the erection of the building itself but for the acquiring of the site at Somerset and Kercheval, opposite the Defer school, and for the preparation of the site, the furnishing and equipment of the building and the public library wing, the landscaping of the site and the fees of the architects. All expenses of the building except textbooks and library books are thus included.

"The reason that the amount to be raised by local tax is less than the government grant is that the Board of Education has accumulated from delinquent taxes received in excess of expectations and through prudent economies in operation the sum of $132,000," Mr. Parcels explained. "This amount in the building and sites fund, plus the proceeds of the bond issue, make up the district's 55 per cent contribution to supplement the government's 45 per cent, or $395,100."

Friends of the schools, parents and others have been urging for several years that a junior high school be constructed to relieve the over-crowding in the present school buildings. The Board of Education, realizing that the rapidly growing enrollment was making the over-crowding more acute from year to year, saw in the Public Works Administration program the possibility of obtaining government funds to help build a school house, which sooner or later would in any case have to be constructed. Members of the Board this week expressed themselves as highly elated over the outcome of the request for the federal grant.

cers under capable chiefs and commissions of the respective communities of Wayne County.

It will also be his object to secure efficient and courteous deputies. He has numerous friends in the Grosse Pointe area who feel confident that his administrative ability sets him out as a worthy candidate for the office which Betsy Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Howard Bennett, of Touraine road, is waiting until the Christmas holidays to make her debut. She is leaving the end of September for Smith College in Northampton.

A Little Light on The Dark Secret

We gentlemen in Grosse Pointe Park have received information stating that a certain Ford coupe of dark color bearing Michigan license plates No. U-6604 has been seen in the last few mornings parked in front of a certain house on Philip avenue, north of Essex. (This information received from a milkman who was inquiring regarding this suspicious car). It is also understood that this party has a set of golf clubs which are getting very little use this summer. I wonder if this is an economy move or if she doesn't like golf, as the above car has been seen on various occasions parked in the vicinity of various tennis courts.

It is generally known that said officer (being a very bashful chap) had his well known partner assist him in proposing to the girl. We are now wondering if he will be asked to accompany the couple on the honeymoon. From reliable sources it is understood that the date is September 10, and that an invitation will be forthcoming for the gala event in the near future.

Any information on that policeman out there in the City of Grosse Pointe who is known as "Buddha Meath" seems hard to get although we understand that he has been bothering several of the local contractors lately. It is understood that this prospective groom has a book of plans on which they are submitting bids. Here's hoping one of the local boys gets the business, that is if they can stand the 40 per cent discount John expects. It is also understood that John has been canvassing the clergymen of the various local churches in regard to a discount but has not met with much success so
