The boys have been training hard for this forthcoming battle and are in excellent condition.

Corrigan That's Me

Who flew the country backwards
A'landing cross the Sea?
Corrigan? Corrigan That's Me.

Who drove the ship
Without a slip—
Nary a bottle on the hip?
Corrigan? Corrigan That's Me.

Who grinned a broad smile
For each weary mile,
And never lander in a pile?
Corrigan? Corrigan That's Me.

Who flew an old crate
Away out of date
Writing their name on History's slate?
Corrigan? Corrigan That's Me.

Whose pockets were clean
As anyone else's I mean
Now they're bulging at the seam?
Corrigan? Corrigan That's Me.

What about this Fame?
Oh, that's all in the game;
Shure I would try it just the same;
Corrigan? Corrigan That's Me.

Why You Should . . . . . Vote "Yes" for Junior . . . . . . . . High School Proposition

By MARY JANE STOETZEL

Do you know why Grosse Pointe is facing a large school problem today? If you do then your vote on Tuesday for the new Junior High School will be "YES." If you don't, you should consider it your duty as a citizen of this community to find out, for you will jeopardize not only yourself by your ignorance, but your neighbors as well.

The total population in the Pointe in 1920 was 6,068; while today it is 27,912. This great increase was due to the fact that the property in Grosse Pointe was the most attractive to the people of Detroit.

Detroiters moved to the Pointe because of the space, air, quiet, low taxes, quick and easy transportation to the various business sections of Detroit and the good public and private schools. For years they had all of these advantages and made use of them. But things have changed in the past 18 years. The proportion of children between the ages of 5 to 19 has been greater in the Pointe, in spite of the declining elementary population in the cities. Today the people of the Pointe have all their desires fulfilled except one. That one is the schools that are offered for their children to attend.

They realize that the Pointe schools are no longer adequate. (That is, the wide-awake ones do.) They see immediately the fault lies with the present annex system. Readily they see that a one-sided program results from the assignment of all academic subjects (English, mathematics, social studies) to one half day; while all non-academic work (shop, home economics, art, music, physical education) are assigned to the other half of the day.

Everyone knows that academic and non-academic work should be alternated in order to get the most out of the students. Another vital fault in the annexes that comes to their attention is that the pupils receive virtually no special help after school from the teachers, who are not in the buildings where they are at the end of the day.

Neither does it take them very long to see the faults in the present junior high school system. They are aware of the fact that the junior high school pupils inevitably tend to lose the sense of belonging to a school since they are separated from the other teachers and students of their grades. Under the present system they realize that a broad and well-balanced extra-curricular program cannot be worked out.

They know that the unsettled housing conditions decrease the effectiveness of the guidance program. Since the teachers do not know the students over a period of several years they are unable to guide and counsel them concerning individual problems as effectively as they might.

They become uneasy when they see the junior high pupils placed in with senior high school students. Indeed they should for this is the worst schooling problem in the Pointe. A superficial maturity is created with the combining of 11, 12 and 13-year-old students with adolescents of 17, 18 and 19. Discipline of 11-year-olds can't and shouldn't be the same as that of the 18-year-olds. This combination tends toward senior high school domination of the whole program in the eyes of the public and the pupils.

These persons have been used to good schools. They want their children to be brought up in a proper manner; to have all the educational advantages possible as well as decent homes. Until a few years ago they have been able to give their children the necessary educational advantages. The growth of the population in the Pointe in the last 18 years has not been a shanty growth. The Pointe is known for its beautiful homes in which the population lives. Therefore, they will not long stand for the shanty education that is being given their children. They realize that the annex system is an emergency solution of an educational difficulty. It has been the best that the Pointe could do in the past, but it is no longer the solution.

A building has been planned for that will serve all seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils living west of Neff road. It will make possible the abandonment of the three present junior high school annexes in the Cadieux, Trombly and Defer schools. This building will be across from the Defer school on Somerset road,

Charles A. Poupard Approves New Junior High School Project

From Charles A. Poupard, prominent Grosse Pointe citizen and dean in age and in years of service of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, came today hearty and unqualified approval of the junior high school-public library project, on which the voters will express their wishes at the polls next Tuesday. "I have served twenty-two years on Grosse Pointe Boards of Education and we have never had, except for the consolidation vote, a ballot more important to us than next Tuesdays," Mr. Poupard declared today. "This is more important than the vote to construct the Grosse Pointe senior high school because in next Tuesday's election we have at stake nearly $400,000 of Federal funds."

Mr. Poupard joined the Grosse Pointe school board in 1916. At that time the five communities had not been consolidated and he served as a member of the Board for District No. 1. He has participated in building the school system to a point where it is acknowledged as one of the outstanding suburban school programs in America. Mr. Poupard has seen amazing increases in enrollment in the schools, both public and private. Serving for many years in organizations in St. Paul's parish, he has seen both parochial and public and private school enrollment shoot rapidly upward. For many years he has been treasurer of the Grosse Pointe school district.

When Mr. Poupard joined the school board, the old Hanstein school on Rivard, north of Mack avenue, was part of the system. It now lies outside the school district. The older Cadieux school, condemned for many years for housing pupils and now used for Board of Education offices, was one of the elementary schools, as was the old Trombly school on Jefferson avenue, now abandoned. The district also operated as a school, the one-room Cook building on Mack avenue.

"To all my friends who have at heart the best interests of our community and the welfare of our boys and girls, I say 'Come to the polls Tuesday. Vote 'Yes' on all propositions."

John B. Ford, of Touraine road, arrived Monday in New York aboard the Queen Mary after a six weeks of travel in England, France, and Switzerland. He returned home Tuesday.

Chess Club Being Organized Here

A chess club is being formed on the East Side of Detroit, and its suburbs. The intention is to bring to the front a game which, while popular in the Eastern States, has never reached its peak in the Mid-Western cities.

This club is open to all experienced enthusiasts, and all beginners are equally as welcome.

U. S. Daughters of 1812

Mrs. Lloyd DeWitt Smith, state president of Michigan Society, United States Daughters of 1812, opened her home on Grand Marais boulevard Saturday evening, September 17, to members of Gen. Alexander Macomb Chapter, U. S. D. 1812, for a family dinner, observing Constitution Day. About forty members and husbands were seated at the dinner which was served in the commodious and tastefully decorated recreation room.

After adjourning to the living room, the hostess introduced the honor-guests, which included Mrs. Curtis T. Wolford, of Grand Rapids, state vice president; Mrs. Emma A. Fox, state parliamentarian; Mrs. Charles Horton Metcalf, state president of Michigan Society. Daughters of Founders and Patriots, and active in many other patriotic and historical societies.

The program consisted of community singing, with Mrs. Kenneth Landis at the piano; and a Constitution Quiz, written by the hostess, and presented by Mrs. Karl F. F. Kurth, chapter historian.

C. Frederick Breer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Breer, of Windmill Pointe drive, left yesterday by motor for Palo Alto to continue his studies at Leland Stanford University.

Board of Education Offers Information

Parents or school taxpayers are those who may vote at the Tuesday junior high school-public library election, official information issued by the Board of Education this week indicated.

On the proposal to accept the government grant of $395,100 voters must be registered and must be owners of property assessed for school taxes within the Grosse Pointe school district. They must also be residents of the district.

On the approval of the proposal to increase the millage limit not to exceed one mill for a period of five years, a proposal which does not have the effect of increasing the millage but merely making it possible, both registered voters who are owners of property assessed for school taxes in Grosse Pointe and the parents or legal guardians of children on the school census may vote. These parents must also be residents of Grosse Pointe.

Prominent Grosse Pointers Approve New Junior High

The question uppermost in the minds of Grosse Pointe's voting public is the proposed new junior high school project. The merits of this project, well known to the citizens of Grosse Pointe, have been fully analyzed by a group of Grosse Pointe residents.

After fully considering the proposition from all angles and with the interests of Grosse Pointe at heart, the action of the Board of Education in proposing this junior high school has been wholeheartedly endorsed by the following residents: Edward P. Wright, Victor H. DeBaek, E. F. Conely, S. S. Dickenson and John S. Sweeney, Jr.

To The Women!

Women, don't be old-fashioned any longer. Mothers, cease this slavering over a hot oven cooking Sunday roasts and make your husbands take you out for your Sunday dinners.

Where you ask? Why down to Pete Moors, located at 15019-21 East Jefferson avenue.

Pete opened up his new place last Friday and beginning this coming Sunday he will specialize in full-course Sunday dinners at reasonable prices. For years he has been known to Pointers for his clean, cheery, pleasant places. He is now giving you Pointers a chance to eat good, wholesome Sunday dinners, that require no work on your part save the labor of eating. By the way if you like atmosphere along with your food you will enjoy Pete's new place, for it will be rustic, as far as looks go, to the nth degree.

Victor H. Wehmeier Addresses Trombly Parents and Teachers

At a meeting Wednesday, September 14, at the Robert Trombly school, the Parent-Teachers association of that school listened to a short talk by Mr. Victor H. Wehmeier, president of the Citizens Association of Grosse Pointe Park.

Mr. Wehmeier stated that after considering the benefits and costs of increasing the school system by building at this time a junior high school, the association has given its stamp of approval on the project. They felt that it was a progressive step and a requisite one due to the overflowing of the facilities of the Robert Trombly school, the Deter school and the senior high school.

New School Buildings Are Being Opened Throughout Nation

Nearly one thousand new school buildings completed in the last year are being opened for the first time this month, figures released in Washington, D. C. show. Under the nationwide "back to school" campaign of the Federal PWA, the construction of about one thousand modern school structures has been made possible. Forty-two per cent of the non-federal projects of the PWA programs from 1933 through 1937 were for educational buildings. PWA grants for 5,886 educational structures during this period total $392,751,272. This was in addition to loans of $89,683,445. Communities in every state shared in the construction program. Colleges and universities built 493 new buildings at a cost of $147,053,134 with PWA help. The PWA 1938 program maintains an even higher ratio of projects designed for educational buildings. To date, slightly more than 44 per cent of the approved projects are of this type, meaning that approximately 2,100 more new buildings will, when completed, provide 11,000 classrooms for 470,000 students. For this part of the program PWA has made grants of nearly $200,000,000.

Plans are made whereby this building will be paid for in five years. A government grant, of $395,000 will pay for 45 per cent of the cost of the building. Only 55 per cent, therefore, has to be raised by Pointers. This will be easy for the Board of Education has accumulated a building fund of $132,000. The rest of the building cost will be raised by a $350,000 bond issue. The total amount of this issue plus interest will be paid off in five years by a tax not to exceed one mill.

Not only will a school be given to the Pointe through this building, but also a public library and auditorium. Communities like Dearborn, Highland Park, etc., have had beautiful libraries for many years. Grosse Pointe has never built one. It has used basements, stores, council rooms and remodeled schools.

The present library has a collection of 19,000 books, thereby filling every available shelf space. Without enlarging the growth of book collections will be definitely stopped.

Larger reference collections are needed, as are storage spaces, seating places for readers, workrooms for cataloguing, exchanging of books and general office work.

This new public library, while built in the new building, will be closed off from the school and opened to the public. The students of the school will have their own separate building.

The auditorium which has been planned, will likewise be open to the public. It may be easily shut off from the school and rented to outsiders. This auditorium, which will be the largest one in the Pointe, will seat 950 persons, 475 more persons than the present high school auditorium does.

Therefore, if you consider the future of the Pointe, the future of your own children or your neighbors, go out and vote Tuesday at the School Election and Be Sure That It Is "YES."

High School Students Express Their Views on Proposed Plan

What do high school students themselves think about the overcrowded conditions which are making necessary the new junior high school, to be voted on next Tuesday? In order to find out the answer to this question, The Tower, official newspaper of the student body at Grosse Pointe High school, conducted a symposium among high school boys and girls. Here are some of the answers, which The Tower received and published in its first issue last Tuesday:

Bob Beale, 8-B, points out, "We do not have the privileges of a library or study hall."

Barbara Rausch, 8-A, complained, "I like to go to a school where I feel that I belong."

"The Grosse Pointe High school was really built for senior students," added Betsy Berge, 7-B, "and they believe conducted a symposium among high that the school belongs to them."

And Jean Garréson, 8-A, remarks, "It's very inconvenient to carry your books from one school to another."

Another, 8-A, Mary Clemens, says: "It is very hard to get help from teachers that are at the opposite school from where we are, at 3:30!"

Joyce Fitch, 7-A, comments: "We would have more activities if we had more room."

"It is very inconvenient for us during noon hours as some of us do not have enough time to eat," contributes Jean Cook, 8-B.

Gerard Brys, 7-B, has another grievance. "There wouldn't be any big twelfth graders to tell you what to do." And Jean Corfié, 7-A, adds feelingly, "We wouldn't have to go back and forth between two schools."

The need for a gym of their own, individual lockers, a less lopsided schedule (they have all their "heavies" in the afternoon when their pep is all gone), and a student government of their own were also stressed among their reasons.

The Young People's Society will meet Tuesday, September 27, at 8 p. m., and the Ladies' Aid on Wednesday, September 28, at 1:30 p. m.

The newly-organized Membership Class for Adults will meet for its second lesson Thursday, September 29, at 7:30 p. m. Interested persons may still join the class.

Music Lovers Lined Up Behind New Junior High School Plan

Organizations of drama and music lovers in Grosse Pointe lined up this week behind the proposed new junior high school building, stating that the public auditorium, to be included in the building for use by both children and adults, will fill a long-felt Grosse Pointe need.

Support of such organizations at the election on the junior high school next Tuesday is expected by both friends and opponents of the plan to be a big factor.

Except for church auditoriums and a motion picture theatre, Grosse Pointe is without large rooms suitable for public assemblages. The high school auditorium seats less than six hundred fifty pupils, it is reported, and this is only a third of the enrollment of the high school. The motion picture theatre seats more, but is not readily available for public meetings, plays and concerts. School officials have declared that an auditorium for use for student dramatics, music organizations, assembly programs, public speaking and like affairs, is an essential part of a junior high school program. The auditorium, however, will be often unoccupied evenings and at other times, they declared, adding that its location in the building would make possible its use by responsible organizations without opening up the rest of the building. In this respect also, it will be more suitable than the smaller auditorium in the Grosse Pointe High school.

Plans for the auditorium call for a seating capacity of about nine hundred fifty persons, according to the architects, Derrick and Gamber. This capacity will be comfortably accommodated on the main floor and in the balcony. The stage, although designed chiefly for use by students, will be suitable for dramatic entertainments, which do not require too elaborate staging. The stage will be wide and deep but will omit many of the expensive scenic features of commercial theatres.

Back of the balcony will be a projection booth. There will be public sanitary conveniences on the main floor, off the entrance lobby, so that adjoining portions of the building will not have to be opened. There will also be small dressing rooms built at the side of the stage, above the entrance corridors from the main part of the building.

The main entrances will be from Kercheval avenue, with the front of the entrance lobby about twenty feet from the sidewalk.

Dr. Brownell Endorses New Junior High School

From Dr. S. M. Brownell, until recently superintendent of schools of Grosse Pointe and now professor of school administration in the graduate school of Yale University, has come a strong and forceful endorsement of the junior high school-public library proposal to be voted upon next Tuesday.

Writing as a non-resident taxpayer, Dr. Brownell has sent the following letter to Superintendent E. R. Van Kleeck, his successor:

"I have gone over the proposal for the junior high school election on September 27th very carefully. I naturally have great interest in the possibility of a junior high school in Grosse Pointe for I know so well how badly it is needed. The proposal looks very good to me, and I only wish I might be in Grosse Pointe to work for its approval.

"Now, however, I am a non-resident who owns property and is a taxpayer in Grosse Pointe. Looking at it from this angle alone, I surely hope the resident taxpayers will look after my welfare by voting 'Yes' on September 27th.

"Need of the school is, of course, evident. Any one who knows how Grosse Pointe has grown and is growing recognizes that the new families moving in have children who need schooling. That, of course, means that new schools are inevitable. The inadequacy of the public library is quite a great. I know, too, that perhaps the need is not as well known generally as is true for the junior high. There seems to be no chance that the building could be built at less cost to the taxpayers than in this proposal. The 45 per cent paid by the PWA will exceed by far any reduction which might be hoped for in building costs at some other time, or in savings which might come if the job were not a PWA job. Getting the building and site completely paid for in five years and at a low interest charge will save a great deal in bond interest over a long term bond issue. Furthermore, it seems very sensible to combine the junior high school and library on one site and in one building. It will save both in building and operating costs I can readily see. If the junior high school proposal is approved and the crowded high school is thereby relieved, it should mean greater ease in renting or selling my house to advantage, for I find prospective renters or buyers are seeking adequate schools as one of their first requirements.

"All in all, entirely aside from the educational need and purely as it affects my selfish tax interest, the proposal looks to me as one I certainly hope is approved."

Pointe School Paper Prints Editorial

Urging students to bring the need for the junior high school to be voted on next Tuesday, to the attention of parents, the Tower, student newspaper of the Grosse Pointe High school, Tuesday printed the following editorial, written by members of its student staff:

Thoughts of the coming junior high school election bring to mind the old spiritual that goes something like this: "It's not my father nor my mother, but it's me. O Lord, standin' in the need of prayer!" Well, the way we look at it, it's not our fathers nor our mothers, but it's we, O Lord, standing in the need of that new junior high school!

Our need must be very clear to anyone who's ever seen the stampede in the halls between classes, to say nothing of the crowded classrooms. We've just got to have room to expand in!

Since it's our fathers and mothers who vote next Tuesday and not we, the most we can do about it ourselves, probably, is to pester our parents into going down and doing their duty as citizens at the polls—and putting their cross in the little boxes in front of the "yes propositions." We need a junior high school!

Detroit Racing Season to Close with Gala Event

Featuring the Getaway Day program the Detroit Fair Grounds for Saturday, September 24 will be the De La Salle Handicap. It is a $2,500 added event over a distance of a mile and 70 yards. The race should draw together the pick of the Detroit handicap runners in the last test of the 1938 program.

Ladies' Day will be observed as usual at the Fair Grounds Friday. These bargain bills have had a popular reception since their introduction late in the spring meeting.

High School Students Get Gifts from Rotary

Explaining the Rotary ideal of service to the community, Dr. Rex Cranson, president of the Grosse Pointe

Rotary Club, presented gift books to 15 students in Tuesday morning's assembly at the high school as a means of encouraging outstanding achievement in scholarship.

The local club is, Dr. Cranson said, establishing a precedent which it intends to observe each February and June hereafter, when gift books will be presented to all students in grades 7 through 12 who earn A's as semester marks in all subjects meeting four times a week, regardless of the credit offered. The expectation of the Rotary Club is, according to Dr. Cranson, that such recognition will help to encourage excellent scholarship in the school.

Recipients of books this morning were: Helen Briggs, Jean Neff, Allen Parducci, Elaine Rais, Thomas Tyree, Stephen Baits, William Healy, William Arnoldy, Phyllis Elworthy, Mildred Farmer, Carson Grunewald, Betty Harris, Marjorie Haufmann, John Lucas, and Betty Baer.

All of these students attained A's in subjects meeting at least four times a week when semester marks were issued in June for the work of the second semester of the past school year.

The major portion of three assembly programs being held at the high school this week is devoted to the interests of the Student Association, which is conducting its annual sale of tickets entitling purchasers to participation in a wide range of student activities.

Offered at $1.50, the ticket is, Mr. Paul A. Rehms, principal, told Tuesday's assembly cheaper than any similar ticket in any other Michigan school of which he knows.

Plans of the Student Association for athletics, dramatics, debate, student publications, noon recreation, and music were sketched for the assembly audience by student officers of the school's central organization: Allan Cooke, president; Donald McConachie, Donald Beaver, and Joan Ruetter. Mr. Leroy Schmeier spoke on behalf of the faculty. Mr. Rehms officially welcomed those attending the year's first assembly on Tuesday. He introduced the new superintendent of the schools, Dr. E. R. Van Kleeck, who spoke briefly in response to the welcoming cheers of the students.

On Saturday, Sept. 24, Alger Post No. 995 will give its first fall dance. All post members are asked to be in attendance. The many friends and guests of our membership will desire to attend on this festive occasion are assured of a cordial welcome. Don't forget the date, Saturday, September 24. We will be seeing you.

Citizens Association Endorses the New Junior High School

The Citizens Association of Grosse Pointe Park, the new civic organization formed this summer to promote civic improvements in the Park, at a recent meeting of its directors considered junior high school and library. Following its policy of making recommendations to its members on all civic questions it reviewed the proposed project from all angles and adopted a resolution in support of it. Its directors in commenting on the question observed that the need of the junior high school was undisputable and that it would be a mistake not to build it at this time and take advantage of the PWA grant. The Citizens Association urges all qualified voters to vote "yes" on the bond issue to make possible a much-needed improvement in our school system.

The formation of the Citizens Association occurred when a group of public-spirited citizens concerned over the inadequate sewer facilities decided that a permanent citizens organization could be of great help to public officials and the citizens of the community in making recommendations on civic questions. It is a non-partisan, non-secretarian, non-profit corporation devoted to the interests of the public to which all citizens of Grosse Pointe Park are urged to become members, in order that it may carry on its work, such as it has in investigating impartially the question of the storm relief sewer and the new junior high school.

Hannan "Y" News

The sixty men and boys who have been shooting tournament archery during the summer and fall are adding archery tackle making to their accomplishments. Outstanding shooting has been done by Donald Wheeler, John Kostich, Richard Hansen, Christ Zguris, Walter Derr, John and Peter Logothetis and Richard Garrett in the boys' club and Chalmers LaFray, Don Hernandez and John Abbott in the men's club. The boys' archery club is under the leadership of Charles Vigor and Joseph Gee—the men's Chalmers LaFray.

Mr. Frederick Dustin Hess will teach bow and arrow making to men and boys on Tuesday evening and Saturday afternoon in the Hannan craft shop. Bows will be made of hickory, lemon, cedar or osage orange and both birch and Port Orford Cedar will be used in arrow making.

Plans for an indoor archery range in the large gymnasium are being made so that shooting may continue into the winter months.

Both men and boys' clubs are looking for competition with other amateur clubs.

On Wednesday afternoon of this week the "Y" boys' orchestra will begin its fall rehearsals under the direction of Mrs. A. R. Deiss. The 25 boys who played with the concert group last year are expected to re-register and begin preparation for the fall concert season. Last year the orchestra played for dinner groups, entertainment and radio audiences. This year plans include a full concert program with assisting artists.

The Harmonica band will continue its Friday afternoon rehearsals preparing for the minstrel show which is planned for early December. Each of the boys in the band is given free instruction by Roland Schunck and Roberts D. Burr who have been sponsoring this group.

A banjo group and an accordion band are being organized by Merle Burkheiser and Gren L. Hill. These two groups teach boys through private lessons and hand work and are open to beginner and advanced pupils.

The fifth group, an older boys' choral club, will start during the first week of October. It is fun for boys who are twelve and older, who enjoy singing. The club will be directed by Mrs. A. R. Deiss, who has led similar boys groups in intermediate schools in Ohio and Mississippi.

"Be strong and of a good courage"

THROUGH the progress of human invention, modes of living have become increasingly luxurious, and today the average person enjoys many comforts that were unlearned of a few generations ago. While being grateful for every progressive step that lessens drudgery and reduces hardship, we need to watch lest the enjoyment of material comforts renders us unfit to face difficulties. One need only look around him at the state of human affairs in many countries, to realize that humanity has a great need for moral courage today.

There is a vast difference between genuine courage and a stoic submission without complaint to wrong conditions which are believed to be unavoidable.

True courage or fearlessness belongs to the children of God, who are called to all the children of God. Divine Love is an inexhaustible fountain of good, from which one can draw an endless supply of courage, patience, endurance, tolerance, and tenderness, whenever it is necessary to use these qualities. The spiritual strength supplied by omnipotent Love can be realized and proved in our daily experience.

In encouraging Joshua and the children of Israel, who were soon to cross the Jordan to take possession of the land of promise, their great leader, Moses, said (Deuteronomy 31:6), "Be strong and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid . . . for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee." How often we need to be reminded of this spiritual fact, when approaching some new and untried experience, or when fear and discouragement try to rob us of the fruit of our labor! It is our certainty of divine Love's ever-present ability to protect and guide which endows us with courage and spiritual endurance.

"But how can such certainty be gained," asks one, "when on every side there seem to be danger and discord?" . . . In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy says (p. 228): "There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God." This spiritual fact, when understood and applied, enables us to face any difficulty, and teaches us how to solve our problems.

Discouragement is a mental state produced by believing that there is a power opposed to God, and that this power, named devil or evil, can frustrate God, good. Perhaps we may be listening to arguments of evil which seem to whisper, "You are sick; you are poor, lonely, miserable, unwanted." And the more we listen to the louder these arguments seem to talk, until we become mesmerized by them and self-pity clouds our mental horizon. Even a glimpse of spiritual reality will aid in breaking such mesmerism. How often a thought of gratitude destroys the gloom of discouragement, for gratitude is an acknowledgment of the reality of good. If we continue to be grateful, we shall find that other spiritual realities will come to our aid, and we shall regain our courage; for it is not a personal characteristic, but a spiritual quality to be claimed and utilized by each and all.

Mrs. Eddy also writes (ibid., p. 514): "Moral courage is the lion of the tribe of Juda, the king of the mental realm. Free and fearless it lies in the open field, or rests in 'green pastures,' . . . beside the still waters." Moral courage is free and fearless because it is inspired by the understanding of spiritual reality. It is undisturbed, whether in the forest, in the open field, or 'beside the still waters' of peace and contentment. This spiritual courage proceeds from trust in the infinite ability of God to guide and guard His children, and from a deeper understanding of the obedience which acknowledges His will as supreme.

The scientific revelation of creation, as given in the first chapter of Genesis, declares God to be the only creator, and proclaims the inspired truth regarding man, the image and likeness of God, divine Mind, namely, that he is endowed with dominion "over all the earth" (Genesis 1:26). Our demonstration of these spiritual truths depends on the measure of our obedience to the First Commandment (Exodus 20:3): "Thou shalt have no other gods before me," which is the basis of moral and spiritual law. The understanding and demonstration of this spiritual requirement overcomes fear, discouragement, and impatience, and brings us into our heritage of spiritual dominion.—The Christian Science Monitor.

Grosse Pointe School District Enrollment Is Largest Ever

Public school enrollment in Grosse Pointe since 1924 has practically tripled, figures announced by the Board of Education yesterday indicate. From a 1924 enrollment in all grades in the system of 1,443 to a first week enrollment this year of 4,016 pupils has been the extent of the jump, the figures show. It is believed to be one of the most rapid rates of growth of any public school system in the state.

In the same period, all five communities making up the school district have also increased hugely. Between the Federal census of 1920 and the Federal census of 1930 the total population of the school district increased from 6,068 to 21,462 persons. The most recent figure obtained last May by the school census enumerators was 27,912 persons, or about four and one-half times as many as there were eighteen years ago.

Board of Education members cited these figures today as indicating one of the reasons why school housing accommodations in the district have fallen so far behind, making necessary the junior high school building which is to be voted on next Tuesday.

Between the Federal census of 1930 and the school census of last May the population of Grosse Pointe Park increased 17.48 per cent and the population of Grosse Pointe City 18.98 per cent; population of Grosse Pointe Farms 75.57 per cent; Lochmoor and that portion of Gratiot Township in the school district 65.62 per cent; and Grosse Pointe Shores, 34.46 per cent. The increase for the school district as a whole during the eight years is 30.35 per cent. During the same years, however, the increase in the school census, which includes children in all schools, public and private, was 37.33 per cent, showing that the increase in persons of school age was faster than the increase in the general population.

Faster than either of these was the

Has your child a GOOD STUDY LIGHT?

SCHOOL days are here again, and children will spend an increasing number of hours indoors—studying, reading and writing under artificial illumination. Has YOUR child a good study light?

The lighting of a child's study desk should receive careful consideration, because this is a place where young eyes are being used constantly on tasks requiring close visual application. Children tend to be careless of such things as proper light . . . and abuse of the eyes through poor illumination often results in eyestrain and impaired vision. This is doubly regrettable when GOOD lighting is so cheap and easy to provide.

An I. E. S. reflector-type table lamp, equipped with a 100- or 150-watt bulb, makes an ideal study light. There are also many excellent Pin-It-Up lamps on the market—using the principle of the reflector-bowl under the shade—that furnish good lighting. (These lamps may be pinned on the wall directly over the child's desk.) The diffusing bowl eliminates glare and assures soft, pleasant illumination.

Our Home Lighting Advisors will be glad to help you with any lighting problem you may have. Call Randolph 2100 and ask for the Lighting Division. The Detroit Edison Company does not sell lamps or lighting fixtures. See them on display at department stores, lighting fixture stores or electrical dealers.

Dr. Van Kleek Made Appeal for Junior High Thru Station CKLW

A large Grosse Pointe audience listened Thursday night as the community's need for a junior high school and public library building was explained over Station CKLW by Dr. E. R. Van-Kleek, superintendent of schools.

The time for the brief talk was donated without charge by the radio station, through the courtesy of Jerome Du Mahaut, former president of the Kerby Parent-Teacher Association.

The radio speech was received also in the auditorium of the Mason school by the Parent-Teacher Association meeting there, and at the auditorium of the Grosse Pointe High school, prior to the beginning of the Thursday night band concert.

The address follows:

We in Grosse Pointe need a junior high school and that is why we address this message to the residents of Grosse Pointe Park, of the City of Grosse Pointe and of the villages of Grosse Pointe Farms, Grosse Pointe Shores and Lochmoor and we ask the indulgence of other listeners. We would have had the junior high some years ago but for the depression and the bank holiday. We needed it, last year, badly. We need it now desperately, and are, therefore, taking this opportunity over the air, through the courtesy of CKLW, which without charge or cost has donated this time, to say to our Grosse Pointe residents that on Tuesday, September 27th we appeal to them to come to the polls. We appeal to them to vote "Yes" on the various propositions which the Board of Education will then submit to them, to endorse the Board's acceptance of the Federal government's outright grant of $395,100, and to endorse the supplementary bond issue of $350,000.

The need, great though it was last year, is unparalleled this year. The largest single year increase in enrollment in the history of the Grosse Pointe school district has come this month. In our schools today at Grosse Pointe there are 345 more boys and girls than there were at this time last year. In our high school, already so over-crowded, we have had to take the eighth grade pupils out and put them into the annexes, and the increase in high school enrollment is over one-eighth, 13 1-5 per cent in one year. With the 8-A pupils out, the high school building today is more crowded than it was before they were taken out! In our Richard school, in the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms, we are again using a library as a classroom, and we are using attic rooms in place of other needed facilities there. In our Kerby school, in the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms, we are again using basement rooms for kindergarten and primary classes every day. We have reopened our Vernier school in the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores, but, even so, the Mason school in Lochmoor still has an enrollment as large as last year's. All of our seventh graders, all of our eighth graders, are put to the inconvenience, the annoyance, and into the unsatisfactory educational situation, of having to attend one school in the morning and another, often many, many blocks away, in the afternoon. A thirteen-year-old boy here in the studio with me tonight has had to attend five different Grosse Pointe schools in seven years. To our already pressing problem, have been added 345 new boys and girls this fall, and in the whole 4,000 children in our schools only ten or one-quarter of one per cent are non-residents. Only ten come from outside Grosse Pointe. What will happen a year from now if we are not in a position to open this junior high school, if, on September 27th, we turn down this outright government grant of nearly $400,000, we cannot say. Perhaps portable school buildings, and all that that means; perhaps, even worse, we cannot longer avoid the double-session plan in the high school. We mention those things not as threats, but merely because we think that you should realize how serious the situation is, and, therefore, how unparalleled is this opportunity to do, with the help of $395,000 of Federal money, what we know we shall have to do anyhow.

If we are to get these Federal funds, we cannot delay. We must act on September 27th because the Federal PWA program expires on October 1. The election is Tuesday, the 27th, but in order to vote then you must be especially registered as a school elector. It is not enough to be registered for the other types of election. You must be especially registered for school elections in Grosse Pointe and you must be registered if you are to vote on the 27th, by 9 o'clock this Saturday night, by forty-eight hours from now, by Saturday, September 17th. You can register tomorrow in all of the elementary school buildings, at the Board of Education building in St. Clair avenue, Grosse Pointe, or at the Grosse Pointe High school during regular office hours. On Saturday you can register at any of these places from 9 o'clock in the morning until 12 noon and from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until 9 in the evening, and that is the last chance under the Michigan election law.

Into the proposed building, the district plans to place, not merely this nine hundred-pupil junior high school, but also a public auditorium and a public library branch—both greatly needed facilities. The auditorium will be the largest in any of the Grosse Pointe communities, and should be of much use to dramatic, musical and general organizations, which of course will be permitted to rent it when it is not in use for school purposes. The auditorium will seat approximately 950 pupils and therefore will be about fifty per cent larger in capacity than the similar room in the Grosse Pointe High school.

The public library branch is a facility which the people in the western part of the district have long wanted. Some five hundred residents, in fact, petitioned the Board of Education a few months ago to provide better library housing. The library, which will be entirely separate from the rest of the building, will be centrally located in relation to the population of Grosse Pointe Park and will be built with the future growth of the district in mind. Considerable economy in both maintenance and original construction will result from having this library under the same roof with the junior high school.

The location of the school, directly across Kercheval avenue from the George Defer Elementary school, will be advantageous in a number of ways, especially to people in the western part of the Grosse Pointe school district. However, the Board of Education considers that all children, wherever they live in the district, are to be benefited. If they reside in the eastern section they will be freed from the so-called annex system during their seventh and eighth grade years. They will attend a far less crowded senior high school. If they are children in the lower grades these benefits, although delayed a few years, will eventually be realized.

Now, what will this building cost? This building will be completely paid for in five years by a bond issue which will be paid off by a tax of not more than one mill per year. No to exceed one mill per year for only five years will completely pay the cost of this 900-pupil junior high school, which we so desperately need.

The reason for that surprising situation is this. Besides the chance of getting the government grant of nearly $400,000, or 45 per cent of all the different types of expense to which we are put for a school building and its equipment and site and furniture; besides that $395,100, the Board of Education, through the excess collections of delinquent taxes and through careful and prudent economy in operation over a period of years, has accumulated $132,000 in a buildings and sites fund. As soon as it can the board also hopes to sell one or two small plots which the district owns. The government grant, plus that $132,000, will reduce the amount which needs to be raised by bond issue on the 27th to $350,000 or slightly less than two-fifths of the total cost of the building.

Besides this, the Board of Education, looking into the future, seeing the increasing needs of the district in future years, has planned a building, which, though it will be attractive, though, it will be adequate, will be inexpensive in design and in size. Those are the things which make it possible for us to say positively that the junior high school will not increase school taxes more than one mill and will do that only for a period of five years.

There are two propositions to be voted upon on Tuesday, the 27th; one concerns this increasing of the millage by not to exceed one mill for five years; the other authorizes the $350,000 bond issue, and authorizes us to accept this government grant of $395,100. On the first proposition, to increase the millage, voters, if they are registered for school elections, are required to be either school taxpayers or the parents or legal guardians of children of school age in Grosse Pointe.

On the second proposition, to raise, by bond issue, $350,000, only taxpayers may vote. So we appeal to everyone to come out on the 27th and give us these "Yes" affirmative votes. This is important. If you have questions about any phase of the proposition or if you are not sure whether you are registered, we urge you to phone Niagara 2000 and ask. In a word, anyone registered for school elections of any kind in Grosse Pointe can vote September 27th.

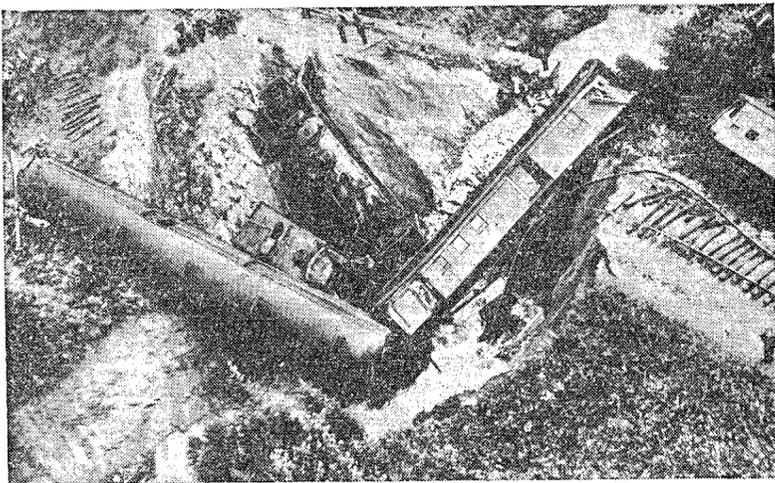

We are often asked this: "Why should someone who has no children in your public schools vote affirmatively on this matter?" That is a good question and it deserves an honest answer. There are several reasons. We shall mention only two. First of all, real estate values are largely set by such facilities as schools. When schools are inadequate, in number or otherwise, real estate values cannot be kept up. If property is sold in an area of overcrowded schools, it sells at a poorer price. If property is to be rented, it cannot be rented advantageously unless there are adequate school housing facilities for the boys and girls. Any real estate dealer of any substance will endorse that statement, and, in fact, the real estate dealers of Grosse Pointe do endorse that statement.

The other reason is much more important. Even as I speak, the threat of war hangs over Europe. If war comes, it will be solely because, in Europe, the forces of democracy—the forces of people-government—are on the wane tonight. The forces of dictatorship in Europe, unfortunately, seem to be in the ascendant. We in America, have as our bulwark against dictatorships, against Fascism, on the one hand, and against communism on the other our vast system of education, public and private. We have no dictator to tell us how to think. We want no Hitler or Mussolini to tell us how we shall vote and whether or not we shall go to war. We want to make our own decisions, but if we are to make wise decisions, we must bring up from generation to generation men and women who have had complete and full and adequate educational opportunities. It is, therefore, a patriotic duty for every citizen, whether or not he has children in schools, to support education in America. It is a patriotic duty for everyone, regardless of where his children may attend school, to support schools in democratic America, but it is not only a patriotic duty, it is also a step toward self-preservation, and a step toward the preservation of our democratic form of government. Self-government, as has been wisely said, can succeed only through an enlightened electorate.

Advance Registration Shows Many Persons Interested in Proposal

Grosse Pointe voters decide on the PWA offer of $395,100 and on the junior high school-public library bond issue Tuesday.

With huge expression of public interest in the proposal indicated by advance registrations for the school election, voters of the community, both parents and taxpayers, will assemble at polling places to determine what is to be done about the overcrowding in the school system.

Every one of the elementary schools, Defer, Tromby, Maire, Richard, Kerby, Mason and Vernier, will be polling places and will be open Tuesday from 8:00 in the morning till 8:00 at night. A previous notice incorrectly gave the opening hour as 7:00 a. m. Registration ended last Saturday night at 9:00 o'clock.

Meanwhile this week expressions of endorsement from prominent leaders in the civic life of the Grosse Pointe communities were received by the Board of Education. Endorsement of several of the leading real estate agents has been given the proposal, and officials of the Village of Grosse Pointe Park, in which the building will be located, have lent assistance to the Board of Education. All parent organizations in the district have endorsed the proposal.

Two ballots will be presented to the voters Tuesday. One, for taxpayers only, is on the question of bonding the school district for $350,000 to be paid off entirely in five years. This same ballot includes a clause authorizing the Board of Education to accept the Federal Government's outright grant of $395,100.

The other proposition, on which both parents of children of school age as well as taxpayers may vote, is a technical question designed to increase for a period of five years the millage limit which is now set for county, township and school district taxes. This proposition which does not increase the millage, but merely authorizes tax paying voters to increase the millage, has the effect of changing the limit on the millage for a period of five years. Lawyers explained this week that it was because this proposition did not have actual effect in either raising money or increasing the millage that non-tax-paying parents were permitted to vote on it, in accordance with recent rulings of the Attorney General in similar elections throughout the state. It will make the school bonds more attractive to bidders and the interest rate on them lower.

Board of Education members emphasized this week that the school tax rate, which was $10.20 per thousand last year and is scheduled to be $9.80 per thousand this year, will not increase more than $1.00 per thousand because of the junior high school. This increase of $1.00 per thousand at the most, will continue for only the five-year period because of the junior high school-public library.

Several hundred library patrons living in the western part of the district, who signed a petition to the Board of Education some months ago asking better library housing facilities, were reported to be almost solidly behind the proposal which will include a wing for a large public library branch on Kercheval avenue on the west side of what is now Somerset.

"The Board of Education has done its part. It is now up to the people to decide what they think is best for the boys and girls," Charles A. Parcells, president of the school board, said today. "As a business man I cannot see how anyone interested in real economy could possibly fail to support this proposal, which will obtain for us, through a bond issue for about two-fifths of the total cost, this badly needed building," Mr. Parcells added. "The overcrowding has reached the point of seriousness where we really do not know what can be done if the building proposal does not carry. The only danger is that we will have to do what is necessary in the way of building without the help of the government grant, which is in the sum of nearly $400,000. This amount is larger than the amount we are proposing to raise by bond issue. The Board has given many months, and in fact, years of study, to the junior high school and other building needs of the district. We hope that between now and Tuesday residents of the community who have questions concerning the facts which led the Board to come to its present conclusion will give us the opportunity of giving them those facts. The reason for haste in this matter is that the Federal PWA program expires October 1st, and no one can tell whether there will be another similar Federal grant policy."

Charles A. Poupard, of St. Clair avenue, treasurer of the school district, and one of Grosse Pointe's most highly respected citizens, this week came out with a strong and unhesitating endorsement of the proposal. Mr. Poupard urged all residents of the community who have both the welfare of the students and the interest of real economy for the taxpayers at heart to vote "Yes" on all the proposals next Tuesday.

Property Owners Have Vital Interest in the New Junior Hi School

Property owners, taxpayers and parents all have a vital interest in the proposed new Grosse Pointe junior high school and public library building to be voted on next Tuesday, September 27, J. Randolph Kennedy, president of the Grosse Pointe Council of Parent Associations, told the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club at its luncheon Monday noon.

Stating that because of the location in the Grosse Pointe school district of his own home, none of his children would ever attend the proposed new building, Mr. Kennedy urged that Grosse Pointe's attractiveness as a residential outlet for Detroit be maintained at the present high level. This, he declared in a speech at the Rotary luncheon at the Neighborhood Club, could be accomplished only by adequate housing for the schools. Still greater growth is probably ahead for the Grosse Pointe area, where the school district is seven miles in length, embracing Grosse Pointe Park at the west, Lochmoor and Grosse Pointe Shores at the east, with the Farms and the City of Grosse Pointe in between. Already the problem of congestion in the Grosse Pointe schools is acute, he declared. Citing figures on building permits in three and a half years, he showed that, starting in 1935, 1,279 building permits were issued in the Grosse Pointe communities.

"We are proud of the community, proud to live here and proud that others want to move here and that there is a demand for residential building lots," Mr. Kennedy said. Businessmen and owners of real estate, as well as parents, have an important stake in the proposed school, he said.

"Nothing is to be gained by putting off the building problem," he declared. "If there are not enough school buildings for the children, it reflects adversely on property values. Real estate men have assured me of that. Property should be kept at its present high marketable state here. While there is the chance to get the Federal PWA grant of $395,100, we should grab the opportunity. The Federal government is going to spend the PWA money somewhere anyhow."

Due to the large assessed valuation of the school district and to the PWA to exceed one mill a year will compare and to cash on hand, a tax of not pletely pay for the building in five years, Mr. Kennedy pointed out. This will include the interest charges on the school bonds, which will run from one to five years.

Alfred Herrmann, prominent Grosse Pointe merchant, who declared that he had opposed the last school building project in Grosse Pointe, urged the Rotarians to support the junior high school next Tuesday.

"There is a moral duty here, as well as a business proposition," Mr. Herrmann said. "Our parents and grandparents provided education for us and we owe it to future generations, whether or not we have children of our own of school age, to do the same."

Fintan L. Henk, Grosse Pointe realtor, also endorsed the proposal.

William Watkins of the Rotary Club introduced the speaker and Paul A. Rehms, vice president of the club, presided.

The Golden Text, (Ps. 45:6), is "Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: and the sceptre of thy kingdom is a right sceptre."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 145:11, 12): "They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power; To make known to the sons of men his mighty acts, and the glorious majesty of his kingdom."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (P. 513): "God creates all forms of reality. His thoughts are spiritual realities."
