Grosse Exaggerations?

By A. PRYOR
We are disappointed with the I. O. of the many Americans who acted like morons (according to the newspapers), during the "War with Mars" scare on Sunday night. The woman we envy is the one who told New Jersey police that she SAW the fire. What an imagination!

This week we received from a friend in England, one of the cards that were sent to all British subjects. It read: "County Borough of Bootle; Orrell Ward. The chief Constable of Bootle requests all persons residing in this house, to call at Orrell Council School between two and ten P. M. on Tuesday, October Fourth, for the purpose of being issued with gas masks." That is our idea of something to be concerned about.

Just finished unboarding the homestead, where we barricaded ourselves over Halloween. Not that we feared the goblins and witches, but past experience has made us slightly timid about the bevy of small-sized, harmless-looking children, who pelt us with rotten tomatoes, empty our car of gasoline, put grease on the window panes and write unkind things on our door. We have tried everything. Nothing works—not apples, nor candy, nor money. Maybe the answer is nuts.

We called Mrs. John T. Wodehouse the other day and her young son answered the telephone. When we asked to speak to his mother, he replied, "What do you want to say?" We were so non-plussed at this impasse, that we slowly cradled the receiver and went on with our work—completely defeated.

This is the sort of yarn that adds whimsy to the title of our column. A few of the parents of sub-jobs and their escorts agreed to report to one another, any deficiencies in the politeness or conduct of each other's "off-sprung"—while attending parties. To date, the only result is strained relationships among the parents! The moral must be, "What you don't say about your neighbor's children, won't hurt you."

A few nights ago we fell off the diet wagon at Pete Moor's restaurant on East Jefferson. The food is so good that you might as well leave your "mind over platter" attitude at home—because it won't work.

If you like to be daring about your canapes, startle your next dinner party by serving those sweet Italian onions. Cut them in thin slices, put them on round pieces of buttered bread (cut to fit the onion), and add a dash of salt and pepper. You can eat them from now 'til doomsday without offending that best friend who won't tell you.

If you don't mind "snooping to conquer" in order to get the real low-down on yourself and your neighbors, don a long black beard and board one of the Grosse Pointe buses on "maids day out." All the attractive adjectives you've ever applied to yourself will disappear before your astounded ears. For an honest-to-goodness butt in the ribs, you can't beat it. There's no "Yes M'Lady" and "No Madam" on THAT day—they "cotton" to no one—it's all wool—and believe me, it's a yard wide!

For sheer nonsense, listen to the Jack Haley program on Friday evenings at seven thirty, over WJ.R. The actors (?) are too "humorous" to mention, but the chief wit is Haley, who is called the "Wonder Brat." The program advertises Wonder Bread—catch on?

We asked an old Southern mammy for a recipe for some delicious waffles she made. What she told us went something like this: Some flour, some butter, a little milk, a pinch of salt, a dash of baking powder, a few eggs and a bit of sugar, and "Heah we are!" If you can make anything out of it, let us know. As far as we're concerned, it's every man for himself.

It would seem that Elsa (party girl) Maxwell puts us in the category of Mid-Western Hicks. During a recent visit here, she made some supposedly (Continued on Page Four)

Jacob P. Sumeracki Reviews His Record as County Treasurer

With thousands of Detroit and Wayne County workers returning to daily employment, all business barometers show an upward trend. Retail sales reached a new high for the year. Factory employment in automotive and other lines has more than tripled in the past six weeks and further additions to payrolls are said to be contemplated by most major manufacturers.

JACOB P. SUMERACKI
Students of economics have long held that tax payments are an accurate gauge of business conditions. County Treasurer Jacob P. Sumeracki announced that collections in his office have doubled in the past three weeks. "It has always been our contention," Sumeracki said, "that if people are given a fair tax rate and the opportunity to work, they will pay taxes readily. The recent spurt proves this theory."
Many recent payments are being made under the two ten-year plans now in use by the county, records showed this week.
"The plans have been life savers for the taxpayers," Sumeracki said. "In (Continued on Page Two)

Rabaut Hails Detroit as Foremost Champion of Recovery Program

Congressman Louis C. Rabaut, Democratic candidate for re-election in the 14th Congressional District, this week pointed out that the slogan of the present crusade, "Sales Alone Makes Jobs," is nothing other than the application by businessmen of the principles laid down by the 74th and 75th Congresses of the United States.

Speaking at various campaign rallies in the 14th Congressional District Wednesday night, Congressman Rabaut said that the basic thought behind the Wages-and-Hours Bill, the spending and lending program, and other economic legislation passed by Congress was that the purchasing power of the Nation must be increased so that more people could buy and more jobs result. "This is the purpose of the WPA," Mr. Rabaut said. "It is the story of the PWA. I am happy to see that Dy- (Continued on Page Three)

Absentee Resident Voters Attention

The attention of all residents of the City of Grosse Pointe who expect to be absent from the city on election day, Tuesday, November 8, 1938, is directed to the following: If such absentees desire to vote they may do so before leaving the city, or, ballots will be sent them to the out-of-town address provided the lawful application is made in ample time to allow for transit.

The special attention of city residents who are ill or confined at home or in a hospital is likewise directed to this feature of the election laws which allows the Clerk to receive applications for so called ABSENT VOTERS' BALLOTS up to the second day prior to election day. Because of the Sunday intervening applications will be received up to and including 8:00 p. m. Saturday, November 5, 1938, at the office of Norbert P. Neff, city clerk, 17150 Maumee avenue.

In view of the apparent intense interest being taken in the forthcoming election expectant absentee city residents are urged to co-operate by making application for Absent Voters Ballots at as early a time as possible in advance of their departure from the city.

Important Officials To Be Elected Tuesday, Nov. 8

Every voter in the Township of Grosse Pointe and the City of Grosse Pointe should consider it his duty to go to the polls this coming Tuesday, November 8, and cast his ballot. This coming election is of considerable importance for it deals with the filling of both county and state offices.

It is the ones who fail to vote on election day that kick about the taxes, the corruptness of the men in public offices and the terrible condition into which the state is falling. The country won't change with you just talking and doing nothing about it. Your men can't get into office unless you vote for them.

Let us not shirk our duty nor fail to exercise our rights as citizens, but let us be fair to ourselves and neighbors and vote intelligently November 8, 1938, and all subsequent elections to insure the functioning of our Government as we want it to function and not criticize the choice of those who do vote if we fail to do our part.

Think it over—and vote wisely.
The Colonies revolted from England during the Revolutionary War because they had nothing to say as to the manner in which the government was being run. From that day on because of this revolt every citizen of the United States, who has reached the age of 21, has been given the chance to have a voice in the management of his government. Your right to vote on election day is the way in which you express your wishes as to how you think your government should be run.

This is no European country. If you don't care for those now holding public offices go out and vote against them. Here in the United States you may vote for whomever you please without the risk of losing your neck.

Get out this coming Tuesday and cast your ballot for the candidate that you believe is the best qualified to fill the office for which he is running. You have been given this right to have a voice in your government, therefore make use of it. Whether Republican or Democrat go to the polls Tuesday, November 8, and vote.

If possible, cast your vote early during the day, owing to the various amendments and the big ballot, so that those who cannot vote till night will not have to stand in line so long after 8 o'clock.

Big Parade, Rally for Fred Raymond Deserves Your Vote

The campaign committee on behalf of Frank W. Lindemann, Jr., the Republican nominee for the State Senate is giving a parade and rally Friday evening, November 4. The parade will assemble at Mack and Outer Drive at 7:30 p. m. After a tour of the district a rally will be held at 17512 Mack ave-

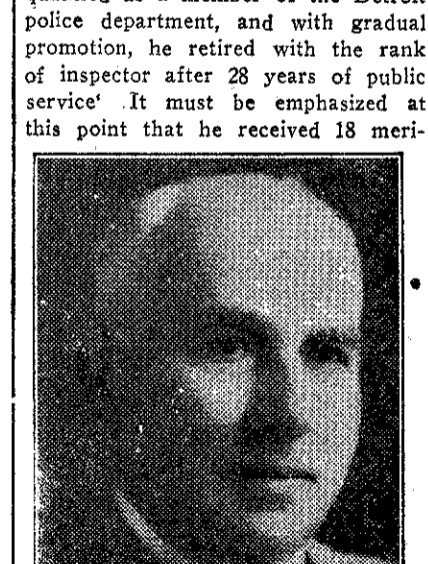

Grosse Pointe voters should be reminded that Fred Raymond is a Republican candidate for Sheriff of Wayne County and deserves your most worthy consideration.
Fred Raymond, a native Detroiter, sold newspapers as a young lad in Detroit's metropolitan area. In 1902, he qualified as a member of the Detroit police department, and with gradual promotion, he retired with the rank of inspector after 28 years of public service. Further, Fred Raymond has had experience in every field of police work, and it must be particularly stressed that his qualifications were so outstanding that for a period of twelve years, he directed the police training school, thereby giving the value of his experience to the younger men of the Detroit police department.

Following his retirement from the Detroit police department, Fred Raymond was appointed in 1931, to the position of Chief Investigator in the office of the Prosecuting Attorney, where his past experience in police work and knowledge of underworld methods greatly aided the prosecution in the preparation of cases against dangerous criminals.

Norbert F. Denk Entertains Out-County Supervisors

Norbert F. Denk, Supervisor of Grosse Pointe Township, entertained the Out-County Supervisors of Wayne County at the Neighborhood Club Thursday, October 20th. A delicious meal was served and a splendid program of entertainment was provided for the 175 guests who attended the party.

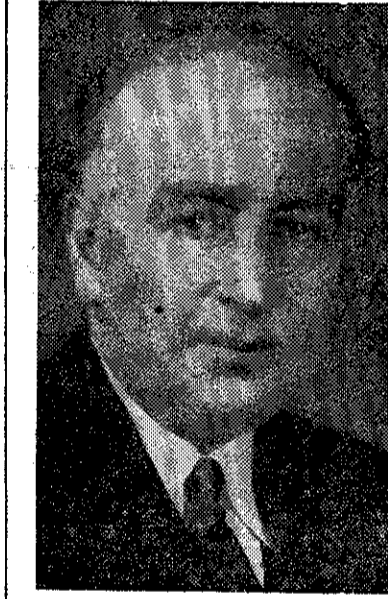

Among those present were a number of candidates for office in the forthcoming election.

Mr. Denk deserves commendation for the splendid manner in which the program had been planned for this occasion, and the fine program presented. He really was the congenial host.

Caspar J. Lingeman Cites His Record as Wayne County Clerk

Caspar J. Lingeman, Wayne County clerk, is the only county official living in the Grosse Pointe area. For this reason you are better acquainted with his record and achievements than you are with other candidates seeking election and re-election in the November 8th election.

In his many years in the real estate business he established an enviable record as a leader in Wayne County development. Moreover we need not mention his years in the state legislature where he battled for the ten-year taxation plan and the mortgage and contract moratorium act with signal success.

Here we re concerned only with Mr. Lingeman's record as County Clerk for the past two years which may or may not be familiar to you.

Wayne County has eighteen Circuit Courts in law and in chancery. As clerk of these courts, Mr. Lingeman has been in close contact with both the eighteen judges and Detroit's Bar Association. These men are in a position to know Mr. Lingeman's record.

In selecting the personnel of his office Mr. Lingeman chose men who were experts in the duties they were to perform. That is why he has 15 lawyers on his staff who have legal training and experience ranging from one to 25 years. Their daily contact with courts and lawyers make their legal knowledge invaluable for their particular positions.

C. S. Houston Candidate for State Representative

Mr. Houston has been a resident of Detroit and a taxpayer in this city for a number of years. He was educated in the public schools and college, as well as having traveled in 18 different countries of the world. He served in the United States army on the Mexican border and spent two years in France during the war.

At the present time he is business counsellor for 137 small businessmen in Detroit who employ from 15 to 350 employees in each of their establishments. In addition to this he represents 476 outstate small businessmen. His experience and success with fair trade practices and labor organizations have been so outstanding that he enjoys a national reputation in the industry with which he is connected. The employees in these firms have been so fairly treated that they have unanimously expressed the desire to support his candidacy even though a

O. Z. Ide Declares 14th District Not Well Represented

Charging that Congressman Louis C. Rabaut is seeking to gain re-election through warped statements and a false interpretation of his record, O. Z. Ide, Republican candidate for Congress in the 14th District, assailed these tactics in a broadside before a large Grosse Pointe gathering Wednesday night. The meeting was held at the home of John G. Keys, 84 Kerby road.

O. Z. IDE

"When a Congressman returns to his District seeking re-election," Major Ide said, "the people are entitled to a full, fair and accurate accounting of his stewardship in that office. They are entitled to know what he did for the District, how he voted upon important measures and what, if any, legislation he proposed and fought for the benefit of his District, State and Nation.

"To date no such fair report has been forthcoming from our present incumbent. Instead we find him styling himself as the 'District Delivery Man' and running paid advertisements in the local papers with pictures showing the large bags of Government money which he infers were procured by him for the District. Nothing else in the nature of a report has yet been seen.

Republicans Take Issue With Certain Rabaut Statements of Last Week

Mr. L. B. Oldham, Publisher, Grosse Pointe Review
Grosse Pointe, Michigan.
Dear Sir:

We, the undersigned, being active members of the Republican Party and being affiliated with the organized Republican Groups in the 14th Congressional District, wish to take issue with certain statements published in the Grosse Pointe Review last week. We refer especially to the article on Page 1 under the caption "Louis C. Rabaut has served this locality well as Congressman."
Therein is printed:

" he has been given the endorsement of numerous Republican groups in the 14th Congressional District."
"Thousands of Republicans who will split their tickets to vote for Congressman Rabaut will do so because they realize that his vision is that of a statesman, etc. ***"

Frankly Mr. Oldham, Publisher, where do you get this information? Why does not Mr. Rabaut be specific?

Capizzi Promises Elimination of 'Pull' in Prosecutor's Office

Close co-operation with the police department and the ouster of "political Ward-healers" on the prosecutor's staff are the chief promises in the campaign platform of I. A. Capizzi, Republican nominee for Prosecuting Attorney of Wayne County.

"I am determined to eliminate political pull from the prosecutor's office," Capizzi said. "I have never been a politician and I have no political connections. Because of that freedom from political obligation I can and will select my staff solely on merit. I will confer with leading lawyers and with the Michigan and Detroit Bar Associations in deciding on my staff."

I. A. CAPIZZI

Repeating his charge that the present prosecutor has always been a politician first and a prosecutor only when convenient, Capizzi said. "He styles himself, 'your fighting prosecutor' but to date his fighting has been directed chiefly against the police, the judges and other law-enforcing bodies. I believe the prosecutor's most solemn duty is the fullest co-operation with the police department, and the assurance that every law-breaker will be prosecuted, regardless of his political, economic or social status, for the protection of those who observe the law and the assurance of impartial justice."

St. Clare Bazaar to Be Held Friday, Nov. 4th

Everything is in readiness for the opening of St. Clare's biggest bazaar on Friday, November 4.
This bazaar will run three days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, November 4, 5 and 6, and judging from the returns already in, will far surpass any affair of its kind ever held at this Parish Church at Audubon and Charlevoix.
The booths will be most attractive, not only in outward appearance, but the interior will be loaded with the very best of hand-made effects, and the ladies of the parish can be justly proud of their work in this regard, of course the men of the parish too, have done their bit, but without the ladies, well I'll leave the rest to you. "SeS you at St. Clare's."

Maire School P-T-A

The members of the Maire school P-T-A will have a splendid opportunity to learn about children's books when Prof. Lois Place of Wayne University will discuss the subject at the next regular meeting on Tuesday evening, November 8.

In addition there will be an exhibit of new books in the school library, giving parents a chance to select books for Christmas gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Joseph Belanger and daughter, Virginia Anne, have taken up their new residence at 1358 Bedford road, their former address being 551 South Marlborough avenue, Detroit.

Helen Raven and Virginia Drummer, freshmen at St. Marys, Notre Dame, spent the week-end with Helen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Raven, of Whittier road.

Women's Republican Club Disagrees with Rep. L. C. Rabaut

The Women's Republican Club of Grosse Pointe requests Mr. L. Rabaut to offer an explanation of the remarks "he has been given the endorsement of numerous Republican groups in the 14th Congressional District" and again "the thousands of Republicans who will split their tickets to vote for Congressman Rabaut." These statements appeared in the October 27th edition of the Grosse Pointe Review. Republican women have always considered Mr. Rabaut a New Deal Congressman, who voted for every measure which called for the spending of the taxpayers' money. Mr. Rabaut also voted against the investigation of sit-down strikes.

Mr. Rabaut has voted for all New Deal legislation with the exception of the so-called "Third Basket" and the Re-organization bill" which would have taken away the rights of congress and given them to the president. Mr. Rabaut did this after tremendous pressure from his constituents. While Honorable Congressman George Dondero of the 17th Congressional District received three thousand letters protesting the Re-organization Bill Mr. Rabaut received ten thousand.

This club wishes to suggest that the cartoon appearing in the Grosse Pointe Review of a farm wagon piled high with huge sums of money-grants to this district, and driven by our Democratic congressman and drawn by a staggering donkey—that in place of the weary donkey an overburdened taxpayer be substituted.

A Message from Your Department of Health

This is written in an effort to get ahead of the winter season which always brings so many communicable or contagious diseases. Parents can help control contagion in the schools by inspecting their children each morning before starting to school. In most instances a child who is ill at 10 o'clock will show some symptoms before starting for school in the morning. The difference that these few hours in school makes means that the child who may be developing a communicable disease will have opportunity to spread the disease to the number of children with whom he will come in contact in school.

A few of the symptoms for which parents should be on the lookout are: Unusually flushed face Unusually pallor of face Any rash or spots Swelling of neck glands Symptoms of acute cold Coughing or sneezing

Grosse Pointe Lutheran Church

"Giving Thanks for Our Home and Church," will be the subject of the sermon at the Grosse Pointe Lutheran Church, worshipping in the Gabriel Richard School auditorium, Kercheval and McKinley, Sunday morning, November 6, at 11 o'clock, preached by the Rev. M. Luther Canup, D. D., pastor. This will be the first in a series of three sermons—"Why we should give thanks." "Honoring our Parents" will be the topic taught in the advance classes of the Sunday School at 9:45 a. m., where we have classes for all ages and grades. This has to do with the teaching of the 4th Commandment. Has America lost the art of home discipline? Are we teaching our children to honor, serve, love and obey their parents? Are our homes shifting the responsibility of training their children to the state and church? Come and hear more about this next Sunday in the Sunday School. Bring your family.

1933 there were $38,500,000 in delinquent taxes on the county's books. Long years of depression had made full payments impossible. In an effort to give honest taxpayers relief when it was most needed, the first 10-year plan for 1932 and prior years' taxes were installed. In four years, nearly half the accounts representing that 38½ million dollars have been paid in full or in part."

A second plan was later set up to care for 1933, 1934 and 1935 taxes. Records show this to be equally as successful as the first moratorium. "Another important phase of the 10-year plans," Sumeracki said, "was the fact that taxpayers did not have to fear an immediate tax sale; during the intervening time a new system of tax sale was instituted, based in many ways on suggestions from the Wayne County treasurer's office. This new system eliminated the professional tax-title buyer."

Prior to 1932, professional tax title buyers were allowed, although the practice was illegal, to make "down payments" on large blocks of property. The law then allowed them to collect 100 per cent interest or more. There are many cases on record where evictions were made with no regard to the legal rights of the owner.

The new law allows only 10 per cent interest and gives the property owner 18 months in which to make redemption.

"We are particularly proud of the fact," Sumeracki said, "that not one foot of Wayne County property has been sold to a professional tax-title buyer since 1932."

With the real estate levy showing improvement, the treasurer this week called attention to collections in the personal tax department.

"Prior to 1933, there was little effort made to collect these taxes," he said. "There was a move afoot at one time to abolish the department; this would probably have meant a higher real estate tax."

Under Sumeracki's administration, personal taxes have been collected as high as 94 per cent the levy. No year has dropped below 90 per cent in collections, records show.

"We have concentrated on collection taxes," Sumeracki said, "because we know that such a policy leads directly to a lower tax rate. The more persons who carry a burden, the lighter becomes the share of each one. As proof of this, we see that the county rate in 1932 was $8.15 on each thousand dollar valuation. The figure in 1938 has dropped to $5.47, a saving of $2.68 on each thousand dollar assessment."

Reviewing the work of the office during his administration, Sumeracki revealed this week that his staff has collected, safeguarded and disbursed to county agencies, cities, villages, townships and school districts, $276,000,000 in the past 5½ years. Accounts have balanced to the penny.

Jacob P. Sumeracki was identified with the real estate and building business in Detroit prior to the World War. He saw overseas duty with the 125th Field Artillery. He was first elected county treasurer in 1932 at the age of 43.

If this were true, why were not the so-called "Republican Groups" named? The following is a list of the recognized and official Republican Groups functioning in the 14th District:

- Fourteenth District Congressional Committee Wayne County Republican Committee

- Grosse Pointe Women's Republican Club 14th District Women's Republican Club Indian Village Republican Club The Acorn Club East Side Republican Club The Pingree Club Greater East Side Republican Club Belgian Republican Club

The undersigned represents membership in most of the groups above listed and we have made inquiry from all known Republican Groups. Not one Republican Group that we know of, has endorsed Mr Rabaut's candidacy.

On the contrary, all are working for the election of the Republican candidate, Mr. O. Z. Ide. We also take issue with the inference made in the second paragraph above quoted. You would have your readers believe that an organized movement is on foot among Republicans to split their ballots in favor of Mr. Rabaut. Nothing could be farther from the actual truth. The group of us who have prepared this letter are in constant touch with the great masses of Republican voters in this District. Not one of us has heard of a single instance wherein a Republican voter intends to split his ticket in favor of Mr. Rabaut. On the contrary, we definitely know that a great many of our citizens who normally vote the Democratic ticket are either voting the straight Republican ticket this year or are splitting their tickets in favor of Mr. O. Z. Ide for Congress in the interest of good government and as a protest against new Deal "rubber-stamp" dictatorship. Therefore Mr. Publisher, we ask you in all fairness to publish this letter and our name in the next issue of the Grosse Pointe Review. Respectfully submitted, Mr. Chas. Beecher Warren, member Wayne County Republican Committee Barney Besso, 14th District Republican Committee John L. but what does 3 mean to me? GOOD ROADS mean everything to all of us. Michigan's top-ranking automotive industry depends upon good roads. Our second most important industry—the tourist business—could not exist without them. Agriculture thrives only when farm products can be rushed to markets over good roads. Business prospers as these basic industries prosper. On election day you will vote on Amendment No. 3, the Good Roads Amendment. Here's what a "yes" vote means to you: As a wage earner "yes" means more jobs; as a farmer "yes" means good farm-to-market roads; as a business man "yes" means more business, and as a taxpayer "yes" means a brake on your property taxes. O. Z. Ide Declares 14th District Not Well Represented

"Let us examine some of these alleged services and see if we have had a fair report. One of the largest bags depicted upon the wagon driven by Mr. Rabaut is labeled 'New Veterans Hospital, $1,600,000.' This hospital, I submit, was built in Dearborn, and not in this District. Our friend, in order to woo the Veterans' vote has boasted openly that he promoted the project single-handed. Not doubting his word, but merely to check up on the situation I wired to Congressman Earl Venable, in Washington inquiring as to what part, if any, Mr. Rabaut had in procuring the appropriation. On October 26th I received the following reply:

"Replying your wire entire Michigan Delegation appeared before Federal Trade Board for hospitalization urging Veterans Hospital and Dearborn site selected as most desirable not because of any particular preference for Fourteenth District. Republicans and Democrats alike worked to get hospital. Data follows."

(Sgd) EARL VENABLE.

"Is this, I ask you, a fair report from Mr. Rabaut? Most of the other 'bags of money' appearing in Mr. Rabaut's advertisements represent loans to the community, which must be paid back with interest instead of being Federal appropriations as he would obviously have the unthinking or unschooled voter believe.

"Now let us actually take a look at his record. So far as we can learn the only measure which Mr. Rabaut proposed in the Congress in four long years, was one which would have provided a fish hatchery in Grosse Pointe. To date I haven't noticed that work has been commenced upon this great project but perhaps we still have that to look forward to.

"The next question is, how did he represent the people of the district? Did he confer with them before voting upon important measures or did he 'rubber-stamp' for the President? I have examined the official voting record of Mr. Rabaut and have conferred at length with many of his colleagues in the Michigan delegation. From this investigation I can honestly report to you that Mr. Rabaut went bright down the line with the President upon every bit of legislation offered in Congress, voting 'yes' when the New Deal said 'yes' and 'no' when the Great White Father said 'no.' Every spending measure which was passed by the Congress in the past four years was approved by your representative. He voted against the Reorganization Bill but only under the pressure of 10,000 frantic letters and telegrams (the figures are his own) from his constituents, and then, I am informed, he apologized on the floor of Congress for the way he had voted.

"Rivaling the Re-organization Bill as the most vicious law ever proposed in Congress came the bill which would have permitted the packing of the Supreme Court. Did Mr. Rabaut represent the people of this district when he voted for that measure? He did not. With sentiment in the 14th District running ten to one against it your Congressman and mine cast his ballot the way the President wanted it cast and by that one vote alone, if for no other reason, Mr. Rabaut in my opinion disqualified himself forever from representing this District in Congress.

"The issue in this election," Mr. Ide continued, "is do we want a 'rubber-stamp' Congress or one independent from the New Deal Mr. Rabaut may sing his lungs out and he may talk about everything else to becloud that issue, but that one question alone is the one which is to be decided when we go to the polls on November 8th."

New Church Formed for Lochmoor District

For the past nineteen months a group of people in Lochmoor have been conducting an inter-denominational Sunday School in the Mason School on Vernier Road. This Sunday School was well received in the community and the people and their children have shown their appreciation by their faithful and increasing attendance.

The work and enthusiasm of the group plus the co-operation of the community has finally culminated in the establishment of a church. This new church is still inter-denominational until such time as the congregation decides what denomination it will become. At present it is called the Lochmoor Protestant Church.

The services are still being held in the Mason School auditorium and are of the unified type, that is the Sunday School and church services being conducted at the same time. The adult, senior and intermediate classes attend the church service and have a class in Bible study immediately following. The Junior, Primary, Beginner, and Nursery classes hold their own devotional services in other parts of the building at the same time the church service is being held and have their lesson and activity periods following.

All programs start at 9:30 a. m. and dismiss at 11:15 thus enabling an entire family to come to the various services as a unit.

It is hoped that this unified service will create a closer tieup between Church and Sunday School with the pupils naturally gravitating into the Church.

Through the co-operation of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church the Reverend O. W. Burdette Olson, their assistant minister, is conducting the church service and preaches every Sunday. The Reverend Olson also directs the religious education of the Sunday School.

name Detroit with its job and sales program becomes a willing victim, as well as the foremost champion, of the great Recovery movement making for better times.

"Opponents of the Administration criticize the spending program, yet this entire Sales Crusade is based on the same principle. If American citizens are justified in borrowing through the installment plan, then certainly Uncle Sam has a right to borrow for the good of all the people. No one could criticize a father who borrowed half of his year's salary to save the life of a sick child, and that is all that our Government has done in borrowing half of a year's income to cure a sick Nation."

Vote 'Yes' on State Welfare Referendum

social welfare workers of recognized ability.

The basic features of the plan run parallel with many other recent or proposed changes in government system and methods, all seeking to benefit the people of Michigan and to reduce political interference. As one leader puts it, the aim has been to get Michigan out of its "horse-and-buggy" difficulties, and to substitute more modern, humane and non-political methods.

Naturally this plan, like all other progressive movements, has roused the opposition of a vast number of petty officials. These people decline to be relieved of their offices, responsibilities or prerequisites.

In Wayne County particularly the opposition has proved costly to taxpayers because it has prevented state contributions which otherwise would have been received.

In favor of the act are the recognized social workers of Michigan, unprejudiced state officials, the Michigan Municipal League, the Detroit Bureau of Governmental Research and the official government of the City of Detroit; also Fred A. Behr, Paul H. Deming, Norbert F. Denk, Jules DePorre, Dexter M. Ferry, Jr., Alfred J. Garska, Kenneth L. Moore, Charles A. Parcels, John S. Sweeney Jr., Herbert B. Trix, Edwin R. Van Kleck and Clarence A. White.

They particularly point out that control of the county administration, under the proposed plan, will not be removed from local county authority—it will be vested in a commission of three persons, one appointed by the governor and two chosen by the county board of supervisors. Though superintendents of the poor and perhaps other present officials under this act will be removed from responsibility, it is evident that local administration will continue to be locally determined. It also will receive benefits from co-ordination of local and state control, with details which appeal to us as promoting more economical and efficient administration.

It is also noted that the act in question, passed by the state legislature, may be amended by future legislatures, as its administration discloses defects or weaknesses.

You are urged to vote "YES."

We crashed the Country Club on Saturday night and found much gaiety amid the decor of skeletons, ghosts and pumpkins. The younger crowd was very much present, including

Saw Mrs. Robert Martin—Lambeth—Walking with Cortland Larned, and Mrs. Edwin Henry doing a mean rhumba with Wendell Anderson. Also spotted Mrs. Philip Wright, (Grace Wright to the clothes conscious), who we understand is going to have a

And now to the woods to "bag" our dinner before the season closes.

Christian Science

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 6. The Golden Text (John 3:31) is: "He that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Gen. 2:6): "But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 523): "The creations of matter arise from a mist or false claim, or from mystification, and not from the firmament, or understanding, which God erects between the true and false."

Cites His Record as Wayne County Clerk

A modern system of indexing, unique in court room history, has been completed in the county clerk's office. This system saves you many hours in the search of public records and has become an exemplary system for other county officials in the state and county.

As a further step in modernizing the office there is being formulated and installed an up-to-date flat filing system for the keeping of documentary files.

This innovation will be another time saver as well as an economical method of record keeping new in public office.

It is under Mr. Lingeman's administration that the pre-nuptial medical examination law went into effect. This change, which materially affected the vital life of the county, was efficiently and smoothly put into effect through the co-operation of the clerk's office, the medical profession, and the State Department of Health.

Mr. Lingeman has brought the county clerk's office out of the red tape of politics into the realm of modern business.

NORBERT P. NEFF,

City Clerk

C. S. Houston Candidate for State Representative

(Continued from Page One) great number of them are sympathetic to the Democratic platform. Mr. Houston is 40 years old, married and has one son. He has a sister who has been a missionary in China for the past 20 years. He is not a politician but he is seeking this office because he is definitely opposed to the outrageous and unnecessary tax burden that is imposed upon the workers and business-men alike. Every new tax upon business drives industry out of Michigan, thus causing many workers to lose their homes due to lack of employment and the voters of Detroit and Grosse Pointe are most fortunate in finding a man of Mr. Houston's ability, willing to accept this office due to the fact that the salary is only $3.00 a day and unless the voters can secure businessmen to accept this office, they can only expect to have grafters because no one can live in Lansing on a salary of $3.00 a day and at the same time fairly and honestly fulfill the duties of their office. Let us put Houston in office.

Fred Raymond Deserves Your Vote

(Continued from Page One) mane, as well as sympathetic and courageous. He is a man of high principles and will not have to experiment in the office of Sheriff. We, in Grosse Pointe, know that there is no substitute for experience and Fred Raymond as a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Wayne County offers for our approval experience and excellent reputation.

Good Roads Federation Favors Amendment 3

(Continued from Page One) Ronald C. Seelye, director of the Amendment 3 campaign, announced that more than $3,000,000 of highway money was used for non-highway purposes in 1933 under the so-called Kulp

Act. Thirty-six counties, he said, took advantage of the act which authorized diversion for a one-year period. The act contained its own repeal clause.

Seelye said that this amount of diversion today would mean an actual loss to the Michigan road and street system of more than $5,000,000. He pointed out that states which have increased their diversion since 1934 are subject to a loss of one-third of their Federal road appropriations. In the case of Michigan, he said the amount would be $2,000,000 a year.

"What happened in Michigan in 1933 can happen during any legislative session," Seelye said. "Numerous bills are introduced in every session to use motorists' taxes off the roads and streets. Experience has shown that mere laws do not constitute a guarantee that these funds will be properly expended. They can be easily repealed and in the states where they are not repealed they are easily ignored. New York, for example, has an anti-diversion law which has become a mere scrap of paper.

"In addition to the Kulp Act, no one knows just how much was diverted in past years under the guise of borrowing in from the highway fund. It was considered good governmental practice not so long ago to balance the state's general fund with such loans. "The way to prevent this misuse of motorists' taxes—and the only way—is through Amendment 3 which guarantees the use of gasoline and license plate taxes for highways, roads, and streets."

Welfare Reorganization Bill Is Analyzed Here

By MORRIS H. MARKS All legislation must be viewed not alone in the light of what benefits, savings, efficiency and coordination of governmental functions it offers, but more especially as to what potentialities for deprivation of private rights, for regimentation of individual action, for surrender of American principles of government are skillfully camouflaged in legal phraseology. The proposed Welfare Reorganization Bill, known as Act 257, when analyzed as to its various provisions, is a case in point.

The proponents of this bill have stated that those who oppose it are raising "ghosts" where there is no real basis for any fear. It has been said that an intensive whispering campaign is being conducted by those who oppose this act. If what the opponents have heretofore said can be called "whispering," then the full volume of their voices would be a deafening roar.

Those in favor of the bill say that under the Social Security Act the states must adopt such a law as is proposed in Act 257. Nowhere in the Social Security Act can such a provision be found. The Social Security Act sets out what the state plan for Old Age assistance, aid to dependent children, child welfare services, and aid to the blind must provide in order to participate in federal funds. It does not require any state law. It specifically says that if the Social Security Board finds that "there is a failure to comply substantially with any provision required," then further payments to the state will not be made until such "prohibited requirement" is no longer imposed. No state is asked to bind itself, in advance, by its own laws, to accept and comply with any future amendment to the Social Security Act or future rules and regulations of the Social Security Board. As matters now stand, the state is not obligated in that way, but if this act is passed it will be. If any future amendments or regulations are distasteful to the citizens of the state, then the only remedies will be (1) to refuse the federal funds, (2) to make no appropriation of state funds for those welfare purposes designated above, or (3) to repeal the law. Any of these alternatives will create a "pretty kettle of fish."

A great deal of objection has been made because of section 13, f, which, under Powers and Duties of the Commission, reads, "To co-operate with and direct all persons, societies, organizations," etc. concerned with the care of children. The opponents take this provision to mean just what it says, and that under it the commission will have power to "direct" every private institution concerned with the care of children whether such institution is operated by a religious, patriotic, or privately endowed organization.

A vote against the adoption of Act 257 is a vote for the preservation of American principles of government, for preservation of states' rights, for retention of local control over local problems. Changes which are necessary in welfare administration can be made without the surrender of these principles.

Fort Portchartrain Group Meetings

The human conservation committee known as the "Becker Group" in Fort Portchartrain Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning, November 3, with Mrs. Victor E. Krohn on Ashton road. Mrs. A. J. Barnum, chairman, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Hammerl, in charge of sewing, will assign work on new dresses, or alterations on other garments for school children. On Thursday morning, November 10, at 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Walter W. Millard on Blaine avenue will open her home to the group. Attendance is not limited to committee members, as any chapter member interested is invited to one meeting or both. Those who plan to attend are asked to notify hostesses; also to bring clothing to be given or altered for underprivileged children. Baskets of food will be given by this committee at Thanksgiving and Christmas time to recommended families.

Eugene Lyons to Be Town Hall Speaker

Wednesday, Nov. 9 The truth about what's happening in Russia today will be told on the Detroit Town Hall platform when Eugene Lyons, author of the widely read "Assignment in Utopia," speaks in the Fisher Theatre next Wednesday morning, November 9, at 11 o'clock. Eugene Lyons set out for Moscow at 30 to be chief correspondent for the United Press in Russia. He was convinced a better world was in the making there. For the next six years he lived and worked close to the great Soviet events he was reporting for millions of American readers. What he saw filled him with disillusion, but not with bitterness.

A Little Beauty Chat by Donna Williams

Athletic Hands Need Reconditioning After the hot summer of driving a ball over the golf course or serving the tennis ball or riding the ponies around the bride path—the hands usually indicate that extra care is needed to restore the beauty that grace healthful hands.

Most of us pass up fatty foods—and what little we do eat is consumed for energy—leaving the skin and tips to look dry and parched, ugly and often uncomfortable.

Discriminating women today look to beauty culture to help them enjoy the pleasures of the great outdoors and yet not suffer undue hardship afterwards. While "protection" is best to avoid the dryness, much can be done to correct it afterwards. The reconditioning must be thorough—not merely superficial—or else a washing of the hands removes the oil and the hands are in as poor condition as they were before.

The scientific beautician has worked out the best means of doing that which is prepared to help all women feel that something must be done to restore the beauty marred by the elements.
