Grosse Exaggerations?

By A. PRYOR

It won't be long now! We saw the first Santa Claus of the season strolling around Kercheval in the shopping centre. Seeing him reminded us of a story someone told about Peggy Hopkins Joyce. She felt so sorry for the forgotten Santa Clauses who fade into oblivion right after Xmas, that she used to give a big dinner for all she could find, at the Ritz the day following Xmas. She gave up the custom when she found them multiplying to such startling degrees that the Ritz could no longer cope with the situation.

If you find it difficult to get into the spirit of Xmas, try driving around the Pointe any evening this week. The houses begin to take on that holiday air, with colorful window decoration and outdoor trees lighted for your pleasure. There is no lovelier sight at this time of the year, than the homes along Lakeshore Road with their mammoth trees outlined in hundreds of colored lights, and the snow, (We hope!), wrapping the land in cellophane. We hope the weather man reads this and does something about it. He did a good job last year, and we hate being let down.

If you still haven't got around to Uncle Abner, who is so hard to please, have a look at "Comin' Round The Mountain," a book of those hillbilly pictures that appear in Esquire. They're the funniest we've seen. Ogden Nash's "I'm A Stranger Here Myself" is another book written in side-splitting prose that ought to amuse the most difficult member of the family. You can get both at The Little Book Shop on Kercheval. They also have an attractive selection of gift wrappings, stickers and ribbon.

We read the following recently, and enter it in our 'You never can tell department.' Many years ago, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle made the acquaintance of a ten dollar a week actor, who appeared in one of his plays. The actor jokingly suggested that he and Doyle 'swap' half of their incomes with each other—for the rest of their lives. The actor's name was and still is—Charlie Chaplin!

If you are one of those people who cry at movies, fortify yourself with a box of Kleenex and go to see "Boys Town." There's a snuffle in every hundred feet of film and Mickey Rooney's antics will make your toes curl this way and that.

The Grosse Pointe smart set have forsaken whoopee palaces for bowling alleys. There are a group who go every week to the 'rumbling cellars,' probably practising for the opening of the new alley being built at the Country Club.

We ran across a five year old edition of Vanity Fair, (magazine), the other day. We used to save things like that before we started collecting rubber bands and old pieces of tin-foil. In it were several pictures of movie stars as they look on the screen AND as they look running to the grocery at eight in the morning. The result of the latter is very much 'even as you and I.' Surprisingly enough, Elissa Landi looks the worst and Janet Gaynor is enough to scare junior in the dark. Freckles, drab hair and teeth parted in the middle are rampant and OH their HATS!

Invitations to Debutante receptions are beginning to flood the mails again. The Country Club and the Little Club will be wearing their party dresses and white ties on and off for the next two weeks and the season's Debutantes will reign supreme.

Interest Rate on School Bonds Lowest in History

The lowest interest rate on school bonds in the history of the Grosse Pointe School District has been obtained by the Board of Education for the $350,000.00 bond issue for the new junior high school building. The bonds sold at an interest rate of 2 1/4%, or greatly lower than the average for school bond issues in the district in former years. At one time, an occasional issue was sold at as high a rate as 6% and most of the bond issues of the school district have been for interest rates of 4 or 4 1/4%.

The sale of the bonds at the 2 1/4% rate will result in a very substantial financial saving to the school district, according to Charles A. Parcels, president of the Board of Education. Considerable interest in the issue was shown by bond houses and other financial institutions and a large throng of representatives of these firms assembled at the Board of Education offices recently to witness the opening of the bids. Low bidder was Cray, McFawn and Petter, of Detroit, who offered also a premium of $207.06. With that firm were associated Ryan, Sutherland & Co. of Toledo and H. B. Sattley Company of Detroit and Martin, Smith & Co., Inc. of Detroit.

In addition to the proceeds from the sale of the bonds, the Board of Education is providing $32,000 of the cost of the new junior high school and public library building from moneys accumulated through operating economies and excess collections of delinquent taxes. The remainder of the cost of the building, $395,100, is being contributed in the form of a government grant by the Public Works Administration.

Work on the foundations for the buildings, which was begun on Wednesday, December 8, has been greatly aided by the good weather which prevailed. The pouring of concrete was begun Tuesday morning, December 13, and the excavations were pushed ahead at a rapid rate due to the combination of good weather and excellent soil conditions. Somerset road between St. Paul and Kercheval, which was ordered closed by the Grosse Pointe Park village council some time ago following a hearing on the subject, has been closed to traffic.

The sub-contractor in charge of the excavation work is the Joseph P. Carnaghi Company of Detroit. Representing the Board of Education and the architects, Derrick and Gamber, as superintendent of construction is Oscar Knox, of Grosse Pointe Park.

Fr. Albert L. Melvin Made Initial Appearance at St. Paul's Benefit

Reverend Father Albert L. Melvin, newly appointed parish priest of St. Paul's Church, had an opportunity to meet personally a large number of his parishioners at the benefit party given Friday evening, December 16, to raise money for the St. Paul's athletic fund. This party given in the auditorium of the school and sponsored jointly by the Holy Name Society and the Young Ladies' Sodality turned out to be a surprising success.

The success of the party was due largely to the co-operation of the two societies. Both organizations gave much time and effort to make this party a success. The party was also successful because so many parishioners of St. Paul's attended and thereby made it possible for Father Melvin to meet and talk to him. Father's one wish is to meet every member of his parish personally.

For years it has been the custom for the Holy Name Society to furnish athletic equipment for both the girls and boys of the school. This is the first year that the Young Ladies' Sodality has given any support and co-operation to this undertaking.

Barbara Cation, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cation, of Balfour road, has returned from Southern Seminary to spend the holidays with her parents.

During the past year the merchants, listed in this paper, have striven to better serve you and the community. Your loyal patronage has been a tribute to their efforts. Now, they join together in wishing all of Grosse Pointe the merriest Christmas in its history.

Christmas Bells A-Ringing

By FLORENCE POWELL

O Christmas bells a-ringing
Our hearts are singing your refrain.
We hurry home by motor,
By boat, or rail, or airplane.
We know dear Mother's busy,
And Father's anxious near the door.
O how precious is the comfort
Of just being home once more.

There will be merry greetings,
And joy of welcome most sincere.
There will be children's faces
To give the happy atmosphere
Their eyes a-gleam like starlight,
With all of heaven in their smile
For old Santa Claus is coming now
In just a little while.

There'll be shining wreaths of holly,
Sprigs of charming mistletoe
And the most delicious dishes
Set on linen white as snow.
O Christmas bells a-ringing,
Your message sings in glad refrain.
We hurry home by motor,
By boat, and rail, and airplane.

Grosse Pointe Cagers Lose to Fordson High

By JOE COOK

Grosse Pointe's Blue Devils met defeat at the hands of a strong Fordson team last Friday in Dearborn. The final score was 30 to 17.

The game was a typical Grosse Pointe-Fordson contest with both teams doing their best throughout the tilt. Friday's defeat was Grosse Pointe's fifth consecutive loss to the Tractors, but only the first loss this season.

The superb playing of George "Red" Rebb, the spraking of the Fordson team, enabled the Tractors to give the Blue Devils a sound thrashing. Rebb was the high point man for both teams with 12 points to his credit. Touhey was high point man for the Blue Devils with nine points.

Lee opened the scoring for Grosse Pointe with a long shot that sent the 1,500 fans to their feet. Neeme followed with two consecutive foul shots before Fordson scored on three straight field goals by Rebb. The quarter ended 6 to 4 in Fordson's favor.

Renko put the Fordson team two more points ahead with a dog shot immediately after the second quarter opened and Fleming followed with a foul shot. Fordson led for the remainder of the game. The score at half time was 13 to 6 in favor of Fordson.

Two of Fordson's players were put out of the game for making four fouls, and another for swinging at Touhey.

Korte Reports Over $3000 from Paper Sale

Once again the Grosse Pointe Lions' Goodfellows have gone over the top in their annual Christmas sale of the Grosse Pointe Review. Nelson L. Korte, chairman of the Goodfellow's drive, wishes to thank all those who took part in the sale and those who made the drive a success by their generous contributions.

Though a cold and bleak day, the members of the Grosse Pointe Lions Club and police and firemen of the various municipalities in the Pointe, collected $3,000. More money will be mailed in by the end of the week to help swell the fund created to help the poor families living in the district during the year of 1939. The sale terminated around 1:30 p. m. when all workers gathered at the Detroit Socialer Turnverein for the Christmas luncheon given by the Lions Club.

Following the luncheon there were speeches and entertainment. Gus Howard and company furnished the music for the afternoon fun, which the men earned, for they had worked hard and earnestly throughout the morning selling their papers.

Musical Program at Jefferson M. E. Church

A musical program consisting mainly of Christmas selections is to be given at the Jefferson Avenue M. E. Church on Friday, December 30, at 8:15 p. m., under the auspices of the I-DA-KA group. The Detroit capella choir under the direction of Mr. Arthur Lack, the Welsh quartet of Ferndale with Mr. James Richards, and the Jefferson Avenue church orchestra directed by Mr. Roy Lanyon, have planned an evening of beautiful Christmas music.

P. B. Fitzpatrick Named to Important Post

Mr. P. B. Fitzpatrick, 1126 Bishop road, has been appointed general manager of Grand Trunk Western Railroad Co. He was chief engineer of the road. The appointment is effective January 1, succeeding Mr. C. G. Borcher who has retired.

We Extend Greetings to Our Advertisers

It is with great pleasure that we extend our sincere wishes and those of our advertisers that each and every one in the bounds of Grosse Pointe have a bountiful Christmas and that Santa Claus is liberal in the distribution of his wares to each and every home in Grosse Pointe.

At this time of the year a memorable age old occasion is commemorated in a fitting manner with Christian worship and joyful giving.

On this day the Grosse Pointe Lions Club, a worthy organization of local businessmen, donate their services to the community in the garnering of funds to care for those who are, through circumstances over which they have no control, must be provided for during the course of the year.

Many families are deeply grateful to these men for their splendid community spirit, and their generosity which has provided succor to indigents of this area for almost a decade.

We commend these individuals for their benevolent efforts and extend to every one our greetings for joy on earth, and peace and good-will to all.

Do You Know?

Do you know of any person in need or in destitute conditions living in the Pointe? If you do would you kindly get in touch with either Louis Julien, James N. McNally, John J. Bretz, Ben Youngquist, Louis Chesquier, William Parcels, Carl Schweibert, or Prudent Versickle. Telephone them immediately so that help may be given to these persons and lessen their despair.

Alger Post News

As fine a tribute as ever given a living comrade, was tendered Bill Kane on the night of December 12, at a reception in Grosse Pointe High school, where a capacity crowd of veterans and friends extolled the deeds which have characterized his work as a member of Alger Post.

Red Cross Seeks Cut In Accident Toll

1,725,406 First Aiders Trained Since 1910 Cognizant of tremendous losses in human lives and of permanent injuries resulting from accidents in homes, on farms and highways, and around industrial plants as well as in the basement workshop, officials of the American Red Cross have been directing a systematic fight against what they term "this economic waste."

As part of this nation-wide effort to reduce deaths and permanent injuries from accidents, a recent statement from Red Cross headquarters in Washington reports that during the past 12 months certificates have been granted to 295,023 persons completing courses in the administration of Red Cross first aid.

Holders of these certificates have followed detailed courses of study and have been taught how to splint fractured limbs, stop flow of blood, treat poison sufferers, care for victims of heat, electric shock, and handle other common emergency situations.

Mobile first aid units also have been established in cooperation with state highway and police departments, operators of public utility vehicles and others frequenting highways, operators of such units also receiving the prescribed Red Cross courses in first aid.

These efforts to lessen such appalling tolls of human lives and usefulness are made possible through memberships in the Red Cross. The annual Roll Call will be held between November 11 and Thanksgiving Day, when all Americans are asked to join or renew their affiliation to ensure continuation of accident prevention measures.

Join the Red Cross Chapter in your community during the Roll Call, November 11 to 24.

Thrills Aplenty for Women At New York Fair, 1939

NEW YORK (Special).—The thrill capital for women next year will be the New York World's Fair. Designers, merchants, manufacturers, artists, governments—all "the authorities"—have seen to that. And yet, uniquely enough, there will be no "woman's building" at the $150,000,000 exposition.

Now, in this last year of construction, it is already obvious that woman is going to have her due at the New York fair. Those fortunate enough to attend are going to know thrills that will live with them always. The following presents only a pot-shot at all there will be to interest and delight women in the 12 1/2 acres of fair grounds. It is one observer's idea of what to see where.

Some of the Wonders House of Jewels—a $5,000,000 display, by gem mining concerns and leading jewelers, showing stones in the rough, precious gems in finest settings, famous gems and perfect examples of goldsmith's and silversmith's art.

Apparel and Accessories—in their own building along Petticoat Lane—a $750,000 exhibit of all dear to woman in her costuming and in furs, hats, handbags and similar wearables or gadgets.

Cosmetics Building—showing just about everything ever done since the history of beauty aides and preparations began a few thousand years ago—with accent on the cosmetics and perfumes of today and a look at those of tomorrow.

Hall of Textiles—showing how they (worms to machines) make woven fabrics—hand looms, demonstrations of needle arts, discourses on home furnishing materials—silks and woolsens here, rayons in one wing, cottons in another, 88,093 square feet, to be event of allied exhibits.

Health and Science Home Furnishings Building—"Heart of the Community Interests Zone," with its focal display showing the meaning of "Home" in present and future phases and how to create one of your own—all in exhibits that thrill.

Medicine and Public Health and Science and Education Building—a "famous first" exhibit showing the wonders to be accomplished by due attention to the "body beautiful"—a must attraction that'll not leave one with a dull moment.

Gas Industries Building—everything from a laboratory to an all-gas house, a cooking school and a gas flame 50 feet high—spectacular but looking to comfort at home.

Food Buildings 1, 2 and 3—putting romance into the age-old task of fixing a meal, by and with the world's knowledge and products.

Horticultural Exhibit—acres of gardens, flowers and equipment (with a chance for a cup of tea).

Thrills in a Lifetime Theme Centre—thrill of a lifetime from a ride on the "Magic Carpet" through the 200-foot globe and the World of Tomorrow.

Contemporary Arts Building—World's Fair Theatre (music and drama)—Consumer Building—an "Hospitality Centre," first of its kind, for feminine get-togethers—spectacles on the island stage of New York State's Amphitheatre on Fountain Lake—products and kitchens of the world in two score foreign-built pavilions—the Hall of Nations, the Court of State Buildings, the $3,000,000 Federal Exhibit—buildings of industries and the City of New York—eighty spectacles of water-fire-color-and-sound—280 acres of amusements—and, withal, a setting of courts and garden with an ample supply of shaded benches.

Refreshment to go on and on may be had in any one of some 80 restaurants, affording a total of 43,200 seats, and serving the meals of almost every known nation. And—perhaps most thoughtful provision of all—the youngsters can be parked in the Children's World where they'll be happy and well-cared for.

FAIR GUIDE

When you visit the New York World's Fair 1939 you will find fair girl guides in natty costumes ready to furnish information or even escort you around. The fair girl guide above is a fair sample of the service the Fair will give Fair visitors.

CHRISTMAS MORNING ECSTASY

"Hello, Santa? Sorry I'm so late but Christmas is just around the corner and I'd like to place my order. Bring me a doll, a teddy bear, a tricycle, a toy piano, a bag of candy, a new dress and a... What's that Santa? Have I been a good girl? Of course I have! Er... that is, I hope I have."

"Look at that doll! Santa WAS here last night, wasn't he, mummy? Guess I must have been an awfully good girl to deserve a doll like this! Brown eyes, real hair, a pretty dress... 'n everything!"

"What's this? Another doll! Kind of hard to get it out. Wonder what else is in this big stocking... maybe it's the candy I ordered from Santa Claus!"

"Whee-e-e! Some tricycle Santa let me. There's so much to play with that I hardly know where to start. Wouldn't it be nice if Christmas came every day? But maybe that would be too much work for Santa Claus, and, after all, maybe I'd get kind of tired, too."

"Here it is bedtime already. I've had a busy day but I'm really not tired. Better go to bed, though, 'cause mummy says I should and I really ought to be a good girl after this wonderful Christmas. Thanks a lot, Santa Claus!"

Childlikeness

JESUS said (Mark 10:14), "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God." The great Teacher knew the loveliness and purity of the child thought. How the unquestioning innocence of a child must have appealed to him who constantly faced the unbelief and distrust of a world ready to destroy him! He understood children, and they came to him as naturally as the flower turns to the light, for the sweet, clean thought of a child accepts readily the loveliness of Love, wherever it is expressed.

One may think that when he attains a certain age he will no longer express childlikeness; but this is not so, for childlikeness is the purity and innocence of thought which is untainted by the beliefs of the world. According to a modern dictionary, "childlike suggests those qualities of childhood which are worthy of respect or emulation;" while "childish" indicates "its less pleasing and admirable characteristics."

Paul said (I Corinthians 13:11), "When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things." We can well afford to "put away childish things,"—the petty, trivial suggestions that come from mortal mind. In order not to be hampered by the "childish things" of mortal sense we must adopt the spiritual concept of existence.

Mortals sometimes pride themselves upon their skeptical outlook on life, failing to realize that Life, God, is expressed only in loveliness and spiritual beauty. We cannot afford to carry with us day by day the burden that results from materiality. The egotism and conceit of mortal mind's claim to power tend to adulterate the confident and abiding sense of trust we should have in Father-Mother God. Childlikeness includes joyousness, spontaneity, and a pure uplifted outlook on life. These we need so much in a world darkened by its own self-importance, troubled by wars and rumors of wars, the fears of mad ambition, and the pride of place and power.

In "Miscellaneous Writings" Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 110): "Beloved children, the world has need of you,—and more as children than as men and women; it needs your innocence, unselfishness, faithful affection, uncontaminated lives. You need also to watch, and pray that you preserve these virtues unstained, and lose them not through contact with the world."

Is it not probable that Jesus, in dealing with the self-assurance of the doctors of the law, the pharisaism of the priests and rabbis, the continual unbelief of the carnal mind, felt relief when there appeared before him the sweet, loving, wholesome purity of the child thought? Children, doubtless, recognized his tenderness and purity, and felt at home with him. He, likewise, felt at home with them because of their sweet thinking. It is possible for all to include this same sweetness in their thinking, regardless of what mortal mind argues about age.

Genuine childlikeness is a very desirable evidence of right thinking. When one manifests enough humility to be childlike and teachable, one is blessed with a serene trust in God, good. True childlikeness never strives for place and power, is never tainted with selfish ambition or greed, for it has within itself all the loveliness of good.

The great Master left this statement, which may well be pondered by everyone (Mark 10:15): "Whoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein."—The Christian Science Monitor.

County Building

By GEO. W. CRELLIN

The Wayne County building stands today as one among the many Temples of Democracy in this country today.

Within its portals there work side by side in fellowship and amity, Gentile and Jew, white man and black, Republican and Democrat, all proud and strong in the knowledge that only in this great bulwark of democracy, these United States of America, is it possible for men of differing creeds, colors and political ideas to mingle in happy friendship far from the hell-fanned fires of bigotry and intolerance.

Thus it is in this structure that houses a part of our democratic form of government as it is elsewhere in America, that men of ability and worth irrefragably of creed, color or politics, work as the public servants, protecting the public welfare.

With the ravaging fire of anti-Semitism, scouring the countries of Europe, doubly encouraging is the picture here, the fine example we see of Jew and Gentile working hand in hand to make glorious a Christian holy day.

In the county building those of Jewish faith set fine example for their Gentile brethren in the whole-hearted way in which they lend tireless effort to help make Christmas a happy day for everyone. . . some of the boys enjoy playing Santa Claus and say very little about it, but their good works are familiar to all their fellow workers.

Sam Leve, head of the county's bureau of investigation, annually supervises the filling and distributing of several hundred Christmas baskets to the needy. . . Max Goodman and Max Smith, both of the auditors' office, annually spend a great deal in Christmas cheer for unfortunates referred to them by their friends. . . Sol Slomovitz of the register of deeds office, has for the past few years provided Christmas fowl to the needy families of St. Leo's Catholic parish. . . Amongst the hardest workers in the effort to make the County Employees twirling baton majors went through a

Smith, who enjoys the liking and respect of all who know him.

The dream of all bowlers came true for Bill Jordan the other night. . . Bill rolled a perfect score. . . 300 for one game and 233 and 234 for two other games. . . Bill is one of the best bowlers in the county building. . . works for the Abstract & Title Co. . . verifies records in the register of deeds office. . . Jack Cicotte of the register of deeds office is now called "Coach" Cicotte. . . has taken over the coaching of Our Lady of Lourdes C. Y. O. basketball team. . . Jack used to be a star on the University of Detroit basketball team. . . also coached Our Lady of Lourdes high school team of River Rouge for several years. . . Rumor has it that Barney Youngblood, deputy secretary of state to Leon D. Case, may land somewhere in Probate Court after the first of the year. . . he's quite a capable fellow and versatile. . . be an asset almost any place.

Federal judges from the District of Columbia have been here in Wayne County for the past few days studying the "pre-trial" Court and the Friend of the Court systems. . . very impressed with them. . . want to inaugurate them in the District of Columbia. . . say their dockets are 21 months behind. . . Looks like Wayne County is developing into a school for government officials from outside the state.

Pays to know a little law. . . Art Jones, clerk in Judge Jas. E. Chenot's court, is one individual who got the better of a deal with a finance company. . . statute says finance companies may charge three per cent per month. . . if they overcharge on interest it voids note. . . Art discovered he had been overcharged three cents on one installment. . . when company attempted to collect he refused. . . they sent him check for three cents but he refused to accept it. . . they took him to court and when the case came before Judge Ned Smith, the judge ruled that the note was void and Art would not have to pay. . . Art acted as his own attorney and represented himself although he is not a lawyer.

Harold E. Stoll, register of deeds, was the principal speaker at the Ohio Register of Deeds Convention held recently at Columbus, Ohio. Harold is the president of the Michigan Register of Deeds Association. He was accompanied at the convention by Roy Moredock, deputy register of deeds.

Defer School Notes

The entire teaching staff of the Defer school as well as the office clerk aided in dressing three dozen Goodfellow dolls. Girls from the eighth grade also helped with some of the mothers. There were dolls of every type and all were beautifully dressed.

In addition to the dolls the Toy Shop which has been conducted every Thursday morning under the direction of Mrs. Harold Chandler turned in some forty toys which will be distributed to the Sigma Gamma Home.

The Sigma Gamma has asked that we supply them toys of every type since they have children from tiny babies through adolescent and are always in need of new toys. Should anyone in the community be interested in this project, the next class will convene on Thursday morning, January 5, at 9:30 in Room 313 of Defer school.

The annual Christmas party will be held at Defer school, Tuesday evening, December 20, at 8 o'clock.

High School Band Development Traced by Board President

By HAROLD LEE

(High School Journalism Student) Charles A. Parcels, president of the Board of Education traced the development of the band in Grosse Pointe schools in his short address to the audience of the first annual Christmas concert given by the recently organized Grosse Pointe High School band.

"The co-operation of students, faculty, parents, board of education, in the organization of the band is one of the finest instances of co-operation in the history of the Grosse Pointe school system," Mr. Parcels said.

"I wish to express the appreciation of the board to everyone who has taken part in fostering this band," Mr. Parcels declared. "I wish to thank the parents for providing the instruments for students and for standing the noise that comes with individual practices at home. The Board of Education has provided the necessary larger band instruments and these instruments will be used by the band for semester after semester. The students of the high school have done an excellent job of providing the band with such fine uniforms. This purchase by the students was appreciated by the Board of Education tremendously," he explained.

The band played every type of musical arrangement from marches to religious pieces with very excellent results. It is indeed a band that everyone felt proud of after the concert.

The twirling routine proved to be the highlight of the evening with Hubert Strem, drum major, directing. Marion Bishop and Richard Hunter, twirling baton majors went through a twirling routine. Bob Roberts, the boy who has instructed the twirling majors, thrilled the audience with his twirling exhibition using two batons at the same time.

Some of the more popular pieces acclaimed by the audience with a loud round of applause were: the two famous waltzes, "Merry Men Selection," "Indian Intermezzo," which was played so well that one could almost see Chief Clear Cloud leading his tribe in dance on the stage. The closing number was "Silent Night," with Mary MacBeth joining the band in singing the solo.

Champion of Economy Named Deputy Auditor

The well known team of Brown and Hartman will step into double harness again on January 2 when Gus T. Hartman assumes the job of deputy auditor general of Michigan alongside Vernon J. Brown, auditor general elect, who Wednesday announced the selection of his former house colleague as chief aid and assistant. The combination of Brown and Hartman is not unknown in state affairs. Both are veteran members of the house of representatives. Their names were associated much during the 1933 session of the legislature when they jointly introduced on the opening day of the session more than a hundred bills, all aimed at reducing state expense, and the cost of administering government, both state and local.

Mr. Hartman, who hails from Houghton, served as deputy auditor general under John J. O'Hara during 1935 and 1936. Previously, he had served in the 1925, 1927, 1929, 1931 and 1933 legislatures. He is a Cleary college graduate and previous to his legislative experience, was engaged in the railroad business, resigning as assistant superintendent in 1913 to enter the real estate business. He has served as supervisor and as mayor of his home city.

When Representative Brown began his crusade against waste and extravagance in state affairs back in 1932, Gus T. Hartman was chairman of the house committee on ways and means, he also having won a reputation as an advocate of economy in public matters. Browns crusade culminated in the creation of a special commission of inquiry into state governmental expense. One senator and two house members were appointed by Governor Wilber M. Brucker; three senators and three house members were selected by the lieutenant governor and the speaker respectively. This commission of nine worked through the summer of 1932 but before its work had been completed the political landslide of that year had swept out of office all of the nine except Brown and Hartman. Then it was that more than 100 economy measures drafted as the result of the work of the commission were presented to the 1933 legislature, then overwhelmingly democratic. They bore the names of Hartman and Brown as joint introducers. How this team can work in harness is best demonstrated when it is recalled that more than 85 of the bills actually became law, enabling the legislature to clip nearly $10,000,000 from the general items of the state budget.

In commenting upon his choice of deputy, the incoming auditor general said, "I have promised drastic reductions in the cost of operating my own department and close auditing of every item which goes through that department for payment. In addition to this I expect to institute a greatly improved system of accounting and expect to give much attention to my duties as a member of the state administrative board and the board of sales tax administration. Obviously I must have a deputy on whom I can depend and one familiar with the details of the department. In my opinion no man in Michigan, available for appointment, fills these requirements so closely as Gus T. Hartman. We have worked together before. We know each other well and hold each other mutually in high regard. The people of Michigan may expect a smooth running department, tuned to efficient operation and prompt service to the public."

Statutes Available for 1938 Extra Session

Few people realize the extent to which the state of Michigan is in the business of publishing books. In the execution of his duties as provided by law, the Secretary of State is the Capitol's chief publisher of books, pamphlets and other public records.

The publication of the Michigan Manual and the Public Acts of each session of the legislature, is a matter of routine for the Department of State and has been for years. Because of this the immensity of the project escapes the public notice.

Every two years the Department publishes 15,000 copies of the Michigan Manual, or "Red Book", which has been a familiar symbol of state records for many years.

Also after each session of the legislature, bond volumes of the Acts passed and signed by the Governor are published. The number of books published is usually about 13,500. These Public Acts, as well as the Michigan Manual, are distributed to thousands of public officials without cost as provided in the distribution act.

The most recent publication of the Department is that of the extra session of this year or properly called the Public Acts of 1938. This is a small paper bound volume of 30 pages recording the 9 acts passed by the last legislature.

The cost of this most recent publication is forty cents per copy.

Early Mailing Helps Postman Avoid Problem of Yule Rush

Public Always Waits Until Last Minute Despite Tearful Pleas

If Christmas mailers didn't wait until the last minute with their cards and packages, post office officials predict the annual Yule rush would be minimized immensely. But despite tearful pleas each December, the bulk of holiday mail falls into post offices, less than seven days before Christmas. What the public really fears, say officials, is that their gifts will be delivered too soon before Christmas. As a result all too many gifts don't arrive until after Christmas! "Mail today," is the plea of the heavily burdened postmen below.

A REAL CHRISTMAS

By Vera Ashton

"O H, lookit, lookit, Jimmie. Doesn't it look like a real baby? Just 'magine it's for me!" And little Sally's face was radiant with the imagined joy.

"Ah, that's nothin' but a doll! You girls!" and Johnnie's nose turned up with disgust. "If you're lookin', just lookit that!" and he pointed to a scooter that leaned proudly against the wall in the show window. "That's what Santa Claus has picked out for me." And Johnnie's eyes shone.

A well-dressed man standing near them heard the words, and looked curiously at the ragged children. As he saw his wife approaching, the children started on, but not before he heard the boy say to his sister, "It's no use 'magine anything this year. Aunt Meg doesn't even have a chimney for Santa to crawl down, and he probably doesn't even know that daddy and mother aren't here any more," and his brave little lip quivered.

The man turned to his wife, who had just reached him. "Madge, look at that window."

But her voice was shrill with a hysterical grief, as she exclaimed: "Oh, Phil, I can't look at those toys. You know I can't. When little Elsie is dead, and we have no one to make Christmas for."

"But Madge, that is what I mean. We have someone to make a Christmas for. See those kids there, just going round the corner? They are the Mayne children, whose father and mother were killed in that factory fire last month. They're living with their aunt, who already has four children of her own, and her husband is only working part time since the fire." He said no more but watched his wife anxiously.

Her look of grief turned slowly to one of questioning and then pleasure.

"We'll do it!" she exclaimed in glad tones.

"I heard them tell each other what they wanted," Phil said joyously.

So on Christmas morning Sally and Johnnie were surprised to have an auto drive up in front of their Aunt Meg's house, and have a fine big man ask them to go home with him to dinner. And there, when they had taken off their coats and hats, they found a lovely Christmas tree with a beautiful doll and a perfectly grand scooter, and a new suit for Johnnie and a dress for Sally which made her dress sparkle with joy.

"We don't want you to go home," Mrs. Vigers said when the children began to talk about having to go, after the dinner of turkey and cranberry sauce and all the fixings. "We want you to stay, don't we Phil?"

"Indeed we do, for we need a little boy and girl in our house," Phil Vigers replied, with a happy smile on his face. And he added, under his breath, as he gave his wife a mighty hug, "This is a real Christmas, Madge. I'm glad that there was plenty of room at this inn."

Survey Shows Transfer of 141 Pupils to Pointe

By BARBARA COWE (High School Journalism Student)

As a result of a recent survey, Mr. Charles E. Leavitt, assistant principal of Grosse Pointe High school, discloses the fact that there were 141 pupils transferred to Grosse Pointe from 69 schools spread over 15 American states and Canada.

The new students come from as far east as Massachusetts, and as far west as California. The southern states are represented by newcomers from Georgia and Florida. Seven New York students from the eastern state form the largest delegation of out-of-state pupils. Other eastern state students hail from Pennsylvania and Maryland. The middle west states are represented by newcomers from Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, South Dakota, Missouri, and Wisconsin. The totals show 41 out-of-state students and 100 students from Michigan schools.

These new students come from various types of institutions, including 57 public schools, nine parochial schools, and nine private schools, a total of 69 different schools and two tutors.

Mr. Leavitt made the survey by half grade enrollment from grades nine through post graduate. It revealed that the first half semester B grades showed a considerably larger number of transfers than the second semester A grades.

Girls' Gym Classes Answer Questions

A questionnaire designed to reveal the characteristics of the average 16-year-old girl was answered by all the girls in the senior high school gym classes recently.

Miss Florence Davies, woman's editor of the Detroit News, has sent these questionnaires to all Detroit schools in an effort to obtain a composite picture of "Sweet Sixteen," which will be printed in the News in February.

The questionnaire included queries about careers, amusements, dates, beaux, grooming, cooking, music, reading, and a variety of other points making a total of 28.

Three Members of Grosse Pointe School Board to Be Married

Three members of the Grosse Pointe High School faculty, Miss Helen Hendrickson, Mr. Donald Horton, and Mr. Charles Peterson, will be married during Christmas vacation.

Miss Hendrickson will be married to Mr. Horton on December 27. The wedding ceremony will be performed in Christ Church Chapel by Reverend James M. Horton, father of the groom. The bridal party will include Miss Dorothy Hosteler as a maid of honor, Mr. Harvey Christianson as best man, and Mr. Paul Junge as one of the ushers. The reception will be in Redford.

Mr. Peterson and Miss Catherine L. Adams of Syracuse, New York, will be married in Syracuse on December 23. The following day they will sail for Bermuda on their honeymoon. On their return, they will live in Grosse Pointe.

CONCENTRA, is as the name implies, a highly concentrated, dehydrated vegetable root and fruit compound. This is in capsule form and contains rhubarb, soya bean meal, Irish sea moss, gravel root, and dehydrated cranberries.

There are sixteen major elements in the body which must be furnished to the body through foods. If there is an over-supply or a deficiency of these elements in the body, then that body is abnormal.

The rhubarb aids the elimination of poisons from the body. The rhubarb used in CONCENTRA is the very highest grade of the Chinese variety.

The soya bean meal is the food substance containing a powerful ferment oil which is an excellent diabetic food. The Irish sea moss furnishes iron and iodine. Most vegetables do not contain a sufficient amount of iron and iodine.

The gravel root is a cleaner for our kidneys, thereby eliminating poisons accumulated in the kidneys, just as the rhubarb does for the alimentary tract. The Dehydrated Cranberries is a table item whose value is familiar in every household.

As long as we have to eat why not eat the correct way? Whether the food is raw, cooked or concentrated, shouldn't make any difference, if we satisfy our body's need.

Mrs. R. L. Shugg, of Berkley road, is now busy entertaining her daughter, Jane, who arrived in the Pointe Saturday from Wellesley. Her son, Dick, will not be home for the holidays until tomorrow wifrom Mrgan Park Military Academy in Chicago.
