Grosse Exaggerations? | *

By A. PRYOR It strikes us as being a little ridiculous to have Mickey Rooney go to Washington to make a personal appeal to the Senate on the child immigration question. There have been so many appeals already made by child actors, child prodigys and what all, that by the time they get through, the Senators will be suffering from a starspangled hangover.

Excerpt from a book on tropical fish: "The breeding behavior of the Swordtail is similar to that of the Platy, but the courtship of the male is more spectacular. The male dashes about the tank madly, trying to catch the eye of the female and when he thinks he has, he darts back and forth, his body rigid. The female, which is slightly larger than the male, usually pays the frenzied male no attention, assuming or perhaps maintaining a "don't care" attitude. So, after a up to the female from below or be-

Overheard at Schettlers: Young Henry Buhl asking his Mother what 'christening' meant. She explained and added that he was too young at the time of his baptism, to remember it. Young Johnny Woodhouse, who had been listening in, piped up with "I was christened and Chuck Merkle took out my tonsils." (We hope not all in one fell swoop, Johnny!)

A young man wrote out a telegram to send to his girl. It read, "Piffle piffle piffle, piffle piffle, piffle piffle piffle." The operator glanced at it, handed it back and said, "You have only nine words here and you're allowed ten. Don't you want to add another word?" The y. m. gazed at the telegram, then lapsed into a pencil-chewing concentration, his brain obviously straining at the leash. "Why not add another piffle?" suggested the helpful operator.

"Oh no," replied the unimaginative romeo, "that would be silly."

Our "little pitchers have big ears" dept.—A local benedick has the man habit of leaving his car parked on the front lawn whenever he arrives home late at night in a state of weavement. Apparently, the neighborhood had been discussing it, because recently a small fry said to his Mother, "Mr. So-and-so must be drunk again. His car is on the front lawn."

Joe Madden, affectionately known to New Yorkers as the "Mad Marquis," has written another book entitled, "Set 'Em Up." - It deals with reminiscences, anecdotes, and the clientel of his receefined pub in the fifties. He has listed several definitions for the carriage trade, but the most amusing are those for the Bowery readers. Here are a few of them:

Debutante: Any gal whose momma and poppa spend twenty five G's to tell the world that their daughter has begun to think about boys. Cocktail: A "powder" with high-class manners.

Cafe Society: A mob that shows off until they start drinking nickle beers. Social Consciousness: Just high-class not-minding-your-own-business about things you never get around to do any-

A well known G. P. sportsman, who is given to going off on tangents over some new hobby, about once a month, recently caused his wife much merriment over a short wave broadcasting set, which he installed on his boat. His excuse for paying a fabusous price ually save money on telephone calls to his wife, during an annual fishing trip in the Georgian Bay region, where he spends about a week each year. His wife, who thought it a silly idea from the start, figured out mathematically that in order to break even on the apparatus versus the telephone calls, he would have to call her from Georgian Bay seven days a year, for the next hundred and fifty years!

The words most used in describing her are: frank, direct, witty, energetic and intelligent. She is a member of a socially and politically prominent Chicago family. Most of her youth was spent in Washington, where her Father was assistant Secreatry of the Treasury, under Mellon. (Continued on Page Two)

To the Editor,-Please print this to the taxpayers of Grosse Pointe Park .--Have you seen your $1,500 Liability at your Recreation Park? A fence similar to those you expect to find at a Zoo, and a Liability for the simple reason a thing as unnecessary as a nigh wire fence, where you as a taxpayer of the Grosse Pointe Park expect to feel free to enjoy yourself, cannot be an Asset. Are you going to sit back and be made a monkey of?

To date, this year, our Park is the most disorderly of all the Parks of the Grosse Pointes. This has never been before. By Decoration Day, of previous years, all Park tickets had peen issued to their rightful owners, and things were running in order. This year, at this date, only a portion of the tickets are issued, and many taxpayers of your own vicinity were turned away over the last week-end.

No one human is capable of managing two businesses successfully, so how can a man who has one flourishing business expect to assume another responsibility equally necessary as far as thought and duty is concerned, and do right by both? One or the other will suffer. Your guess is as good as mine, but my guess is that it will be YOUR Park. Already we are suffering.

Is this new addition of the $1500 fence going to be 'Fool-Proof,' for this period of courting, the male drops his seems to be the only answer to the tactics and concentrates on sneaking question as to why it is there. Of course, as taxpayers, we may have no right to know all the answers.

At least, heretofore, you felt you were being treated as a human being, and that it was a privilege to live in Grosse Pointe Park. It is high time something is done to maintain that

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalms 100:3): "Know yet that versation is animated and original and made us, and not we ourselves; we are tract. his people, and the sheep of his pas-

Lily B. Deming Has Laugh on Men Trainers nual roll call of members, reception of

Lily B. Deming, the only woman tion or letters of transfer and the Holy trainer at the Detroit race track, certainly has a laugh on the lot of men union of all confirmation classes since trainers these days. the congregation was organized in 1936.

With every one of the 150 stables on the grounds shooting for a victory she scored during the first week of the 49day Detroit meeting with her good gelding, Manamaid. And she expects to win more races with the eight horses in her charge.

Isly Deming (she prefers to drop the "Mrs." while engaged in her profession) is a pleasant-faced, middle-aged woman with a way around horses and a solid knowledge of thoroughbred conditioning. She's no society trainer but a hard-working woman who' looks to Club Saturday morning, June 2, at 10 training as a livelihood in which she's willing to meet all the men trainers on an even-stephen basis. And they give her no breaks. She is from Long Branch, N. J. well as herself and likes the Detroit track, which she declares is good to the tender feet of several of her charges. When Racing Commissioner Joseph Frost granted her a license it was the fourth time in the seven years of racing here that this privilege had been daughter of a noted family of trainers who is now training the King Ranch's Santa Anita Derby Winner, Cienca, was the first in 1935. Since then license were granted to Mary Henderson, daughter of an owner, and to Mrs. James Collins, mistress of Collinsbrook Farm, a Detroit racing establishment. Lily Deming, however, is the first woman to get a license since 1937.

"I'll prove to these racegoers that a woman can really train as well as pick winners," says Lily Deming.

Bridge Player's Aspirin

By P. G. MUNRO Originator of The Autobidder

At the "Brown Stone" last Thursday evening, I was called over to a table the Lord he is God: it is he that hath at which four ladies were playing Con-

Mrs. K, who occupied the South position, said to me: "I have reached a contract of seven diamonds with this hand but, after seeing dummy, I know that I must lose a heart trick. If I discard dummy's four losing spades on trumps, I will still have a losing heart in many hand. If I play the Queen of spades and don't overtake it with dummy's Ace, I will go down two tricks. I should have been satisfied with a small slam."

"If the outstanding spades in the opponents' hands break in your favor, the contract can be made; otherwise, you are sunk. You must take that one chance; so, go to it and strip the spade suit," I advised. The Hand:

S-A 10 9 8 7 H-10 6

D-J 10 5 C-Q 63 East

5-6 4 3 2 S-K J 5 H 9 8 5 4 2 H-K Q J 7 D--9 2 C-10 8 4 2 C-J 9 7

South H-A 3 D-A K Q 8 7 6 3

The Bidding: West North

2 diamonds Pass 2 spades Pass 3 diamonds Pass 4 diamonds Pass 4 notrump Pass 5 spades Pass 7 diamonds Pass Pass

West's opening King of hearts was won with South's Ace. The Ace and King of diamonds cleared the outstandtrains horses for two other owners as ing trumps. The Queen of spades was overtaken with dummy's Ace and a low spade ruffed in the South hand. When East's Jack fell on this trick, Mrs. K exclaimed, "I'm sunk," evidently believing that East held a doubleton and West a guarded King. A trump lead to the Jack put dummy back in the extended to a woman. Mary Hirsch, lead and another spade was ruffed in the South hand on which trick the King fell and Mrs. K recovered from her slump. The Ace and King of clubs were then cashed and the Queen of clubs provided a re-entry to dummy. South's losing heart was discarded on dummy's spade 10 and the contract of seven diamonds fulfilled.

Troop 44. Boy Scouts

A city of tents-of many shapes, sizes and colors-will rise almost overnight June 2 when 100 patrols of the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, open their fifth annual Camporee at Rouge Park. In all about 800 scouts will participate.

The Camporee is held annually as a means of stimulating interest in scoutmg's outdoor program and improving the individual scout's technique in camping. The patrols, made up of six to eight scouts each will be in charge of boy leadership. The only adults on the scene will be a corps of scoutleaders on duty as judges and observers.

The patrols are judged from the time they enter the Camporee site till the close of the Camporee early Sunday morning. They will cook their own meals, set up their own tents, operate they own programs according to scouting standard of health and safety. Besides their ratings on camping technique, program, etc., they will take part in several contests and projects.

The demand for participation in this year's Camporee exceeded that of any year previous. The quota of 100 patrols was quickly filled. So many additional patrols applied that a second this week on all trunklines in the state section has been scheduled for July

Of international aspect will be the participation of a Canadian patrol of scouts from Troop 4 of Windsor, who Council.

The public is cordially invited to attend any time during the encampment especially the Campfire program, Saturday evening.

Art Exhibit of Pointe Schools at Alger House to Continue to June 7

The Grosse Pointe school exhibit now eing held at Alger House is proving to be more than successful. The exhibition, which is the first of its kind to be held at the Russell A. Alger House or in the Grosse Pointe community, was opened on Wednesday, capacity of 8 cubic yards to be mounted | May 25th at the Alger House on Lake exhibit are the Grosse Pointe schools, and St. Paul's School. Mrs. Frank Lindeman, Mrs. E. R. VanKleeck, Mrs. Paul Rehmus and Mrs. Lambert Whetstone poured during the tea hours of

The art studies are those of all ages -from the tiny kindergarten tots to those of the high school. You will want to see the most interesting variety of ceramics, paintings, puppets, posters, period dolls, block prints, charcoal drawings, textile designs, cloisonne boxes, painted bowls, clay figures, miniature stage sets depicting stories and legends familiar to children and a number of other art projects which reveal the very interesting and fine work being done in the Grosse Pointe

This exhibition will be open until June 7 and the public is cordially invited during the museum hours of 1 to every day except Monday-or from 2 until 6 on Sunday. It is the hope that this exhibition will further serve to stimulate the appreciation and practice of art among the younger generation in Grosse Pointe. Wouldn't it be fine if this could be made an annual affair-toward which all could work during the school year?

The exhibit concludes the school work at the Alger House for the year -during which classes from the Grosse Pointe schools have made visits to the Museum for talks given by Virginia

Russ Padgett Gets Trainer's License at Detroit Race Track

Russ Padgett is one of the happiest men at the Detroit race track today. The stewards have decided to grant him a license to train his racing stable despite the blindness which he has been afflicted with since an accident five years ago.

The 53-year-old turfman has been around horses all his life and has followed horse racing since he was a 16year-old youngster in Kansas. They know him from the half mile tracks of Canada down the "leaky roof" circuit to Juarez, where he raced a smart stable when Pancho Villa was in his Padgett has had some crack horses and some of the world's best jockeys, including Charley Landolt, in his charge and knows everything there is to know about, horses. Despite his blindness, Russ bandages his own horses' legs and saddles them, for races with a deftness and assurance which is amazing to the paddock crowd. He directs operations around his six-horse stable, instructs his trainer, Pat Campbell, and his smart contract jockey, Bill Page, and he uses far better judgment than many trainers who have the full command of their faculties.

Nevertheless, Russ hesitated to ask for a trainer's license here because he knew he could not appear before the stewards and explain the actions of any of his horses in a race, if an explanation were necessary. One of his sta-Grosse Pointe Park, and at the office blemen sits by him in a race and tells him how his horse is running.

A group of water colors by Miss Margaret C. Wilby, member of the National Association of Women Painters and Sculptors, is exhibited in the show cases at the high school this week.

Miss Wilby has studied at the Ontario College of Art, the Chicago Art Institution, the Art Student's League in New York City and most recently has studied water color under Eliot O'Hara, nationally well known as both artist and teacher, at Goose Rocks Beach, Maine.

Miss Wilby's works have been exhibited at Rock Port and Gloucester, Massachusetts, New York City, and several other places in New England. She had a one-man show in Greenfield Massachusetts. One of the pictures in our show cases was exhibited in a showing of the Detroit Society of Woman Painters and Sculptors, of which she is a member.

Miss Wilby does both water colors and oils. She has painted portraits of number of Detroit people. She was born in this city.

The first grade of Kerby School has een studying airplanes for some time. They have built a large airplane in the room. Their plane has room for four passengers in addition to the pilot and co-pilot. It is a two-motor transport and has safety belts, an instrument board, a stick, throttle, and rudder bar,

Last week the group went to the airport to see some real transports come in and take off. They had the good fortune to be allowed a tour through the hangars where they saw planes of all kinds. All were agreed that although it was a bit "scary" inside some of those planes, it had been a very interesting and worthwhile trip.

Mr. William J. Watkins, director of music in the Grosse Pointe public schools, recently went to Aberdeen, South Dakota, to be a judge in the annual state band, orchestra, and choral festival.

This festival was a state-wide affair n which 4,000 boys and girls participated. Mr. Watkins spent three days listening to bands, soloists, and orches-

"Musically they've very wide awake," complimented Mr. Watkins. The festival was held in an arena shaped auditorium seating 5,000 people. This is connected to another auditorium seating 2,000 people and both connected with the high school.

The Aberdeen band is going to Winnipeg to play for the King and Queen

The Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church

At the first meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church held on May 16, it was voted to call a special meeting of the church for June 4, to choose a minister and to determine his salary. Such meeting is hereby called to follow the Sunday services on June 4, which will be held in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church House at 4 p. m.

According to the Constitution of the Church a majority of the qualified voters of this Society shall be necessary to constitute a quorum at a meeting to settle a minister and to fix his salary; only such special business as is specified in the notice of the meeting may be acted upon at a special meeting; the minister shall be chosen and his salary determined by ballot vote; the right to vote on those questions shall be limited to those members who are now charter members and who are of legal age; and the clerk's list of members shall be the official list for all purposes.

Y. M. C. A. Camp Directors Named

Both of the Detroit "Y" summer camps. Nissokone and Ohiyesa, will open their camping season on June 27, t is announced by Boyd I. Walker, Metropolitan boys' work secretary, in charge of the "Y" camps. Louis W. Cross, who served as waterfront and senior program director at Nissokone in 1931 and 1932, will be director of that camp this season. He recently joined the staff of the Detroit "Y" as Student Secretary, coming from Illinois, where he was in charge of "Y" camp for boys. Donald Hyde of Western Reserve Medical School, will be the senior program director this season. Wilson Jenkin will again be director at Ohiyesa. He has been a member of the camp staff for 11 years and is a teacher in the senior high school of Birmingham, Michigan. Both camps have a graduate physician and registered nurse on duty in the camp hospital throughout the season.

"Back to Nature in Crafts" will be the keynote of the camping season this summer at the two boys' camps operated by the Detroit Y. M. C. A.

boys' clubs and groups, with special "Northern Charms" and "The Ghost rates being given all Y. M. C. A. boys' Kings" will both be published in the groups of seven or more. This period will run until July 11, when the second period for regular campers will get under way to continue until July 25. Upon the end of the third season for
