Grosse Exaggerations? Accidents in District Equal to Last Year

By A. PRYOR
On the Vox-Pop hour, Saturday night, a pyrotechnician, (fire works expert), mentioned a twenty five thousand dollar display that he was in charge of. We certainly hope that the manufacture of fire works provides work for a lot of people. It seems to us that twenty five grand is a tidy sum to spend on something that goes phfft in such a hurry.

Out Of The Mouths Of Babes And Club Employees: A young woman living in G. P. telephoned her husband at a local Club, where he was giving a stag dinner. She asked for her husband and heard the operator tell a boy to fetch him. Apparently the messenger asked who he was, because she heard the operator say, "He's the bald-headed guy that's giving the party."

One day last week, the Theodore Buhl's car got stuck in two feet of mud. Unable to extricate it, Mr. Buhl called a local garage, asking them to send someone immediately. Before hanging up, he heard the mechanic who answered the phone, say, "Get the wrecker, Buhl's mired."

Without benefit of a deck of cards or crystal ball, we'd like to predict that the rumored new ball park for night games of soft ball, will be a beeg success, if the plans ever go through. Any place as base ball minded as Detroit, should have night games for those unable to attend in the daytime. If people are willing to support a sport, why not give them an even break?

We received a letter from a friend of ours who recently returned from a tour through Spain, and thought some of the following excerpts might interest you. "Only one of my letters from Spain reached its destination. Not realizing the censorship was so strict, I 'told all' and evidently they didn't like what I said. After three days in Burgos, we drove to Madrid. Everyone advised us to take food, bed linen, and to wear rags, so we wore good clothes, and took no bed linen, but I blushed every time I thought of the six cans of baked beans in the back of the car! Madrid is one of the seats of Government and everything good to eat goes to the best hotel, the Ritz, where there was plenty of caviar and champagne, tea dancing, dinner dancing. Ako officers with ladies in dinner dress—the place jammed and full of life. The little we saw of the country was poor—nothing but rocks, sheep and grapes. It's wild and desolate, much like Mexico without the color. The poor are so wretched, they don't look human. The rich live at the Ritz—many of the rest actually live in caves with their oxen and sheep swarming all over them. The outskirts of Madrid are pretty well shot up, but the centre of town is intact. Franco knew he was going to take it—so didn't want to demolish it."

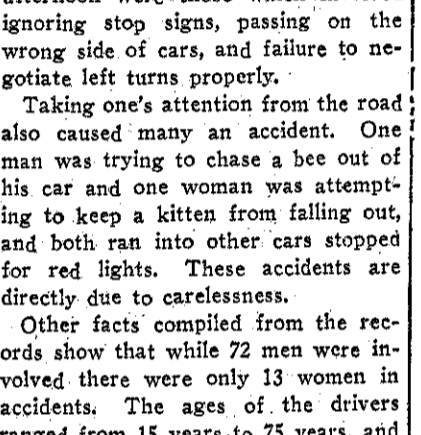

After all the bally-hooing, we finally got around to reading, "Address Unknown." Nothing more accurate can be said about it than the inscription on the cover, "Twenty minutes to read, a life time to forget." Everyone should read it if for no other reason than that it will mix you up more than ever and give you something to discuss.

Salve for the tired business man: "When sales aren't going just right, remember that a red clover contains less than one-eighth of a grain of sugar; that seven thousand grains are required to make a pound of honey; that a vagabond bee, seeking everywhere for sweetness, must obtain material from fifty six thousand clover heads. Remember too, that the bee is compelled to insert its proboscis separately into each flower tube and there are sixty of these to a head. In performing that operation five million, three hundred thousand times, the bee gets only enough nectar for one pound of honey! And THEN, he doesn't GET the honey. So what are you crabbing about?"

Cleveland School Experiments With Radio Facsimile

Miss Genevieve Maurer, Cleveland, Ohio, fourth grade teacher, explains radio facsimile reception to her students. Lesson instructions, assignments, and drawings were transmitted to four city schools in a demonstration of the system's educational possibilities. The receiver-printers pick up the broadcasts like ordinary radios and reproduce the original material in every detail. Three 8 1/2 by 11 inch sheets can be reproduced each hour.

What has been described as "the most advantageous real estate purchase ever made by the Grosse Pointe school district" has been completed by the Board of Education, it was learned today through an announcement issued by the school board. The Board announcement, made public through its president, Charles A. Parcels, showed that approximately 16 acres have been purchased in Grosse Pointe Farms for a second junior high school site. The property was purchased in three parcels from the Grosse Pointe Country Day School, Mrs. Henry Stephens, and the Ledyard family. It is bounded on the north by the Indoor Tennis Club property, on the west by Chalfonte avenue, on the east by the center line of Williams avenue as extended.

Mr. Parcels said that the cost was only a fraction of that paid last fall for the site for the Pierce Junior High School, although the Pierce site was up until then the cheapest large site ever purchased by the Board of Education.

Schools Get Fine Buy In 16-Acre Farms Site For Second Junior High

The Board has no plans for immediately building on the new site, Mr. Parcels said. "The amazingly rapid growth of our enrollment and the speed with which the Grosse Pointe communities are being built up have led the Board to believe that very large sums can be saved the taxpayers if school sites can be acquired sufficiently far in advance of the actual need for their use," Mr. Parcels said.

"This site of nearly 16 acres is still unsubdivided, which in part accounts for the favorable price at which it could be obtained. It is, however, immediately north and east of one of the most rapidly developing areas of the school district. It is also just a few hundred feet north and east of the so-called Lothrop site, which the Board designated as a school site some years ago but which was priced to the Board at a much higher figure." Mr. Parcels also explained that until the development of Grosse Pointe makes necessary a third junior high school, the second junior high school will probably serve seventh, eighth, and ninth grade pupils in the eastern half of the school district, including the children from Grosse Pointe Woods. The new site, he added, is only two blocks from Mack avenue, which is one of the most convenient means of reaching the eastern part of the district. The site borders on Chalfonte avenue and the improvement and extension of this street will mean added convenience.

"The first junior high school, Pierce, will open filled almost to capacity, and the senior high school building will be filled about to its normal capacity this September, also," Mr. Parcels said.

"Under the Michigan law, we are obliged to pay off the bonds on the Pierce Junior High School, now under construction, in five years. Three hundred fifty thousand dollars of the $878,000 cost of the cost of the Pierce School has been raised by bond issue, the taxpayers having approved by a seven to one vote the increase in the millage limit for a five-year period. Even with the government grant of $395,000 for the Pierce school, the increased financial burden of retiring the $350,000 bond issue in five years will probably make impractical the construction of a second junior high school in the near future. Probably we shall have to re-open the Cadieux Annex a year or two from now."

Berns and Marden Pay Upheld in Village of Grosse Pointe Park

In a decision handed down by the Hon. Guy A. Miller, Circuit Judge for the County of Wayne, the cases of Citizens Association of Grosse Pointe, et al vs. Village of Grosse Pointe Park were dismissed, without costs being allowed. These cases were numbered 286,016 and 286,017 and were started by the Citizens Association of Grosse Pointe just prior to the village election. The suits were started to stop the payment of monies for services rendered by Village Attorney Jules Berns and Village Engineer Charles H. Marden in connection with the construction of the new sewer in Grosse Pointe Park, which is being paid for jointly by P. W. A. and village funds.

It was the contention of the Association that the Village Commission had paid both Mr. Berns and Mr. Marden extra compensation in addition to their regular compensation, contrary to the Village charter. The litigation started just before the village election this spring caused considerable comment and it was freely charged that the cases were started to reflect against the present administration and purely as a political maneuver.

In his decision, Judge Miller in the case referring to Village Attorney Berns pointed out that while the Village charter provides in Chapter 24, Section 7, that the village commission shall not increase or diminish the compensation of any officer appointed to office during the term of office if such appointment is made for a definite term, it further provides in Chapter 10, section 4, that the term of office of the Village attorney shall be at the will and pleasure of the Village Commission. Because his appointment is not made for a definite term, the Village Commission have the right to increase his compensation after his appointment.

In the case referring to Village Engineer Marden, Judge Miller questioned the fact that he was a public officer, but held that he is merely an employee. The engineer's salary has been fixed year by year by inclusion in the annual budget of the Village. The Village Commission therefore had the right to pay a higher salary because of extraordinary services in connection with the large sewer project.

It was due largely to the fact that these suits were started against the Village, and the publicity given to these cases by the Citizens Association that Dr. Leithauser was elected to the office of village commissioner.

The court decision upholding the actions of the village administration came too late to overcome the political propaganda regarding these cases circulated by the Association. The court decision is a refutation of the Association's charges.

The defense of the case cost the Village of Grosse Pointe Park some three or four hundreds of dollars.

Detroit Federal Symphony Orchestra Presents Program July 6th

The Detroit Federal Symphony Orchestra, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, will present a program entitled "In Old Vienna," Thursday, July 6, at 8:15 p. m., on the campus of the Grosse Pointe High School. Valter Poole, conductor. "In Old Vienna," which is the title of tonight's program, is made up entirely of delightfully pure Viennese music. To be sure the Vienna referred to is the Vienna of other and happier days when song and gayety abounded above all else in the once-Austrian capital. Political changes may come and go, but the great art of yesterday remains for all time and so it is with the music of Old Vienna. Johann Strauss, Schubert, Kreisler and Von Suppe cannot help but arouse nostalgia and the hope that one day in the not too distant future this beautiful music again will be heard in the four corners of what was once called the world's "happiest city."

Parcels Re-Elected School Board President

Charles A. Parcels, Detroit investment broker, was unanimously re-elected president of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education at a special organization meeting of the Board held Thursday evening.

Ralph M. Clark was re-elected secretary, and Charles A. Poupard was re-elected as treasurer, both unanimously.

Mr. Poupard, who is completing 23 years on the Board of Education, has been treasurer of the school district since 1917.

J. Lee Barrett and Albert E. Mader are the other school trustees.

Christian Science Churches

"Sacrament" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 9.

The Golden Text (Psalms 51:10) is: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isaiah 53:7): "He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 20) "Despised and rejected of men, returning blessing for cursing, he taught mortals the opposite of themselves, even the nature of God; and when error felt the power of Truth, the scourge and the cross awaited the great Teacher."

Y. W. C. A. Notes

All college students spending the summer in and around Detroit are invited to take advantage of a fascinating series of Off-Campus Tours which the Detroit Student Y. W. C. A. has arranged for July and August. These sight-seeing trips will be packed with enough interesting facts and information to rate straight "As" on next year's term papers.

The series opens this week on Thursday, July 6, with an afternoon and evening on motion pictures. They will go first to Motion Picture Studios where commercial films are made, then to the Film Exchange Building where films are previewed for the police censors. An Italian supper will provide an opportunity to discuss the Motion Picture Council and Will Hay's office.

Any college student, man or woman, interested in Off-Campus Tours may register at the Detroit Y. W. C. A. on Witherell Street in the Student Office. Miss Grace Thompson, student executive, is in charge. The student groups in the Detroit Y. W. C. A. are sponsoring the tours, including Wayne University Y. W. C. A., Wayne-Commerce branch and Highland Park Junior College Y. W. C. A.

July 10 is to be "Men in Industry" day with a tour of the Ford Rouge plant, Dearborn Community House, etc. July 13 will be devoted to "Art and Recreation" at Pewabic Pottery and Belle Isle where the group will go canoeing and enjoy the outdoor symphony concert. On July 16 they will visit interesting Detroit churches and on July 17 study Consumer Cooperatives and the Parkside Housing Project. The schedule continues through August 14.

Universal Brotherhood

THE opening stanza of a well-known hymn (Christian Science Hymnal, No. 105), typifies the prayer of all earnest Christians today:

"Help us to help each other, Lord, Each other's cross to bear; Let each his friendly aid afford, And feel his brother's care."

Modern invention has reduced, measurably, the limitations of time and distance. Today, the so-called foreign country is our next-door neighbor. Through the medium of the radio, we are informed of current events as they occur. As a result, the problems arising across the miles of ocean, which demand attention, immediately become a part of our thought. It is, therefore, essential that all right-thinking people should develop and maintain an attitude of universal brotherhood.

The Golden Rule still remains the highest standard for the expression of this brotherhood. It applies both in the simplest dealings with our immediate neighbor and in the most complex diplomatic and other relationships with our fellow men at large. We do not hesitate to share our garden tools with the man next door. How much more, then, should we be willing to share our spiritual benefits with a group of individuals called a nation!

However, should the borrower next door misuse that which we have lent him, we may justly refuse to be allied with such a practice. In other words, the mere preaching of peace and brotherly kindness is insufficient. The essential part is the practicing of our highest concept of good. In his parable of the good Samaritan, Jesus not only rebuked hypocrisy, but also indicated the practical nature of true religion. . . .

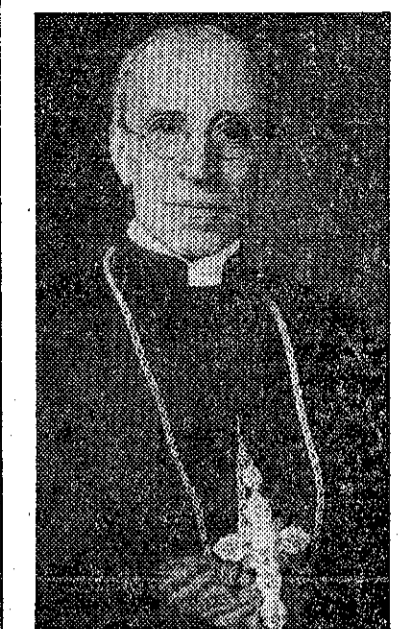

Paul wrote to the workers in the church at Rome (Romans 13:10), "Love worketh no ill to his neighbor: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law." The love which does no harm to one's fellow man is that expression of the Christ-spirit which was so perfectly exemplified by Jesus during his ministry. He was often wrongly accused, yet he retaliated in no way, but healed and blessed. . . . All forms of aggression, greed, hatred, desire for war, and the like, arise primarily from a wrong concept of God, with its attendant fear. Belief in evil or the power of evil is disbelief in God. This naturally breeds fear, for ignorance is the very foundation of such a state of thought. John wrote (I John 4:18, 19): "He that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. . . . There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear." Thus, we see, the solution to our problem of overcoming fear or distrust of a neighboring nation will be accomplished as we gain the right understanding of God and His perfect government of His creation, and as we express the love which "dwelleth in God." The acceptance and realization of the fact that, since there is one God, there is but one creation—spiritual and unified—enables one effectually to apply this understanding for the alleviation of human suffering.

Unity of thought regarding God and His creation engenders brotherly love, which precludes the possibility of inhuman warfare. Mary Baker Eddy says (Science and Health, p. 340): "One infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfills the Scripture, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself.'" And on page 467 she further states: "It should be thoroughly understood that all men have one Mind, one God and Father, one Life, Truth, and Love. Mankind will become perfect in proportion as this fact becomes apparent, war will cease and the true brotherhood of man will be established."—The Christian Science Mon-
