

GOODFELLOW PAPER SALE, TUESDAY

Lions Set for Goodfellow Day, December 19th

Tuesday, December 19th, will be the tenth consecutive year that the people of Grosse Pointe have been asked to contribute to the support of the Grosse Pointe Lions Club Goodfellow paper sale.

From the proceeds of this paper sale, the Goodfellows will again be able to load up their cars with baskets of good and clothing for children and families whose Christmas would otherwise be a dreary one.

Norbert F. Denk, chairman of this year's drive, with the able assistance of his committee, hopes to see the collection reach the $5000.00 mark.

Although the Grosse Pointe Lions Club continue the work of taking care of the needy throughout the entire year, they only appeal to the general public for aid once a year, and this at Christmas time.

The following members of the Grosse Pointe Lions Club will be on hand early Tuesday, December 19th, selling their papers to the good people of Grosse Pointe:

- Norbert F. Denk, George Elworthy, Lorne Ayling, Alfred J. Gaska, Charles Swift, Nelson L. Korte, William Ludwig, Dr. J. P. Jastinger, Ted Nammer, Arthur P. O'Connor, Fred Toepel, Carl Scheweikart, James Brown, Ed. Scheweikart, Dr. R. H. Warren, Victor DeBorja, Ed. Scheweikart, Herman Kramer, Vincent Leach, Ed. Scheweikart, Dallas Metcalf, Ed. Scheweikart, S. W. Hoskings, Leo McEachie, John H. Kressbach, Leo McEachie, Ed. Scheweikart, Dr. Werner Kersten, Phil Kahn, Harold Lyndrup, Bess Beazure

More Debunking

(The opinions expressed in this column are expressly those of Mr. Deac, and have no bearing on the editorial policy of this paper.)

By PAUL M. DEAC

Last week's column giving the inside story about Finland seems to have attracted wide attention if we are to judge by the avalanche of letters received in connection with that article.

Paul M. Deac

Before going any further, I would like to precise once for all that I have no grudge, nor prejudice against any race—and least of all, the Finnish people, but, knowing European politics as I do, I have nothing kind to say about European governments.

Public opinion rises with indignation against some crime committed by an individual. Why then be more lenient toward crimes by far more revoltingly perpetrated by foreign governments against their own people?

Grosse Pointe High to Hold Open House for Alumni Dec. 20

An open house for the 1950 alumni of Grosse Pointe High School will be held in the school library on Wednesday, December 20, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

The open house is an outgrowth of the Tower banquets given each year for the last two years for the old members of the Tower staff.

All former class officers and Honor Society students will receive notices by mail inviting them to attend, and urging them to notify as many members of their classes as possible.

Harold Husband expressed the thought of the faculty when he says, "It is our hope to bring the alumni and faculty closer together and to make the alumni feel that they are welcome here."

On the planning committee are: Pearce Chambers, chairman; Robert Rousseau and Douglas Munro for the Student Association; and Mr. William Mann, Miss Mary Kremmin, and Mrs. Elizabeth Hudson for the High School Teachers' Club.

Party Announced Monday, December 18th, at St. Paul's School Hall

St. Paul Conference St. Vincent DePaul will give a party at St. Paul School, Monday, December 18th.

This is the first party ever to be sponsored by this organization whose work has been to give supplementary aid to the needy poor, although the first work of the Society is of a religious nature it often finds cases where families are in dire circumstances due to unemployment or sickness of the bread-winner of the family.

Charles Poupard, who is the chairman, says: "Extensive plans are being made to make the party a huge success and an enjoyable time is assured all those who attend."

Mt. Clemens to Battle Blue Devils on Friday

The first of ten Border Cities League games scheduled for Grosse Pointe's basketball squad this winter will be unveiled in the high school gymnasium next Friday evening when the Bathers from Mt. Clemens invade the lair of the Blue Devils.

The Pointers have compiled an outstanding record in cage contests against the Bathers by winning every game played between the two schools since 1926. Last year the local lads turned back Mt. Clemens twice, 31-11, and 36-23. In 1938, the Devils were victorious 31-8, and 28-12.

Advance reports from Mt. Clemens herald a promising year for the Bathers. They are well supplied with returning lettermen and experienced boys from last year's reserve squad.

A reserve game will begin at 7:15 o'clock and the varsity tilt will follow approximately an hour later.

High School Singers to Appear in Cantata

Grosse Pointe High School will be singing of George Nevin's "The Incarnation" by the glee clubs and A Cappella Choir under the direction of Mr. John Finch, music instructor, Wednesday evening, December 20, in the auditorium.

The cantata will be preceded by a half hour concert beginning at 8:15 o'clock by the Grosse Pointe High School Band conducted by Mr. Dewey Kalember, band instructor.

Immediately following the cantata the audience will join with the choral groups in singing favorite Christmas carols, the words of which will be printed in the programs. Miss Nellie Messerli, typing instructor, will play the piano accompaniment.

"The Christmas concert will offer students, their parents, and friends an opportunity to take part in cheery festivity before the Yuletide holidays begin," pointed out Mr. William Watkins, director of music, last week.

Beauty Operators File Suit Asking Validity of State Cosmetology Law

The National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, Michigan members of the association and numerous individuals in the profession, have filed a suit in the Wayne Circuit Court to have the Michigan Cosmetology Law declared unconstitutional.

The suit is based primarily on the allegation that the license fees collected are so exorbitant and so out of proportion to the cost of regulating the profession, that it is actually a tax law masquerading as a license fee and therefore void under the uniform tax provision of the Michigan Constitution and void for other reasons because it contravenes the United States Constitution as well.

If the double tax of $5.00 for owners and $3.00 for operators is collected in accordance with the construction of the act by the Attorney General, there will be upwards of $100,000 remaining in the general tax fund of the State for this year alone over and above the cost of regulation.

Michigan courts have held that the "Criteria by which reasonableness of the license fee charged is to be gauged is the cost of investigation, regulation and control of the business or profession."

Grosse Exaggerations?

By A. FRYOR

The Frazer Sullivans narrowly missed a real catastrophe last week, when a short circuit in their house started a fire in an upstairs room.

"If you want the world to beat a path to your door, grow longer finger nails than your neighbor's."

One of the most worthwhile projects that has come to our attention, is the Maternal Health League, which was organized about ten years ago by a group of Detroit women.

We parked our 1936 Ford among a bevy of town cars the other day—all lined up in front of the Sign of the Mermaid, where Grosse Pointe's silver- spoon set do a lot of their Christmas shopping.

On down the street and into the Junior League Little Shop—a pleasant place to poke around to your heart's content, without being distracted by any "Can I help you Madoms."

Purse Paraphernalia. A half-moon shaped, gold compact with diamond and ruby clasp; a gold cigarette case, studded with diamond charms; a neobony cigarette holder with initials L. B. in rubys; Arden's 'stop red' lipstick and a white handkerchief scented with 'Secret of Suzanne'.

Firemen to Stage Party December 16

On Saturday evening, December 16, the bathhouse at Lakefront Park will be the scene of much merry-making when the Grosse Pointe Park Fire Fighters stage their first annual charity ball.

A temporary restraining order was signed by J. L. Harbo, D. C. on December 8th and a preliminary hearing is set for December 15th to determine, not the merits of the case, but whether or not the restraining order shall be continued to the date of trial.

Shop Club at High School Is Busy

Christmas spirit? Well, the Grosse Pointe High School students must have it. Somewhere between twenty and thirty of the senior high school boys have been spending a great deal of time building toys to be given away this Christmas.

A fine spirit of co-operation, good fellowship, and interest in the sturdy projects being made has developed. Scarcely a day goes by that one or more of the boys does not want to come into the club and enjoy that same spirit of good fellowship and the happiness one gets from giving.

These boys assemble on Monday and Tuesday nights between 3:30 and 5 o'clock and again from 7 to 9 on Tuesday and Thursday nights in an effort to complete the allotment they have voluntarily set as their goal.

Very soon sixty-five or more rocking Scotties, elephant chairs, kitticats, rocking ducks, Felix chairs, and bonnie cradles will pile into the headquarters of the Grosse Pointe Toy Club where each will be sent on his way to add to the happiness of some little boy or girl.

"All of this has been made possible," says Mr. Watling, sponsor of the club, through the fine co-operation of the Grosse Pointe Toy Club. We have furnished the time and labor and they the materials for construction."

The final sketching of faces and lines to complete the figures is the work of Miss Lampan's art classes.

Health Dept. Notes

The sale of Christmas seals in helping in the fight against tuberculosis should receive support from us all and it is too bad that the enthusiasm in the fight against this disease is not sustained throughout the year.

Passing his opinion upon the records of our Health Department, Dr. Warren believes that the number of cases of this disease, that cost over 2,000 lives and millions of dollars in Michigan last year, could be cut 40 per cent in five years.

These records show that there were 26 cases of tuberculosis in our district in 1939 with a school census of less than 1,000. Some were hospitalized and the incipient cases cared for at home. In five years 25 of them had recovered entirely or the disease in the arrested state. In spite of our great increase in population, the incidence of this disease has decreased so that there were but 14 cases in 1928.

While if it had increased in proportion to population, we would be having over one hundred cases instead of 14. Dr. Warren suggests that parents do not send children to school if they have colds, as they are infectious.

On December 19 at 8 p. m. the Deifer school children will present the operetta "The Magi's Gift."

The principal characters have been selected from the fifth and sixth grades. These will be assisted by a chorus of children from the third and fourth grades.

Christian Science Church

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, December 17, 1939.

The Golden Text (Psalms 145:10,11) is: "All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord; and they shall bless thee. They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isaiah 45:18): "For thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord; and there is none else."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 256): "All things are created spiritually. Mind, not matter, is the creator. Love, the divine Principle, is the Father and Mother of the universe, including man."

Playful Shark Leila Stepe, blond American girl, took a swim in the Taragona park aquarium pool at Sydney, Australia, in which a 10-foot gray nurse shark was swimming. She declared the shark seemed rather sluggish and that she was confident if it had made a rush for her she could have beaten it to the side of the pool.

Grosse Exaggerations (Continued from Page One) More 'Gone with the Winds': People in Atlanta are offering fifty dollars a piece for orchestra seats, one man advertised for four seats at two hundred and fifty dollars; Atlanta is declaring a holiday for the big opening; people are flying to Atlanta from all over the country—the chance of getting in to see the premiere performance. It's all too, too exciting but we intend to restrain ourselves until the picture comes to the Punch and Judy, when we will take our knapsack along and stay for three days.

Felix Francois, coiffure artist in the Punch and Judy building, has asked us to settle a rumor once and for all. He is NOT moving from his present location; he is NOT selling his business to anyone else and he is NOT going to retire. Also he is NOT the owner of a glorified hot-dog stand. Mr. Felix's only interest is "hair—not hounds."

Ghost Towns of West Show Signs of Revival

Out in the West a few years ago you could drive off the beaten path and go exploring into the last century. Behind the shoulder of some hill or in a desert valley you would discover a full-sized town where no one lived, says Popular Mechanics. Along the sagebrush-covered main street would be weather-beaten stores, post office, banks and saloons of a small city, flanked by blocks of unoccupied houses. In the eerie silence the flapping of old wallpaper behind a broken window or the creaking of a door would be the only sounds.

These ghost towns of the mining country were left intact when the gold fever died or when bonanza strikes in other districts caused the inhabitants to move away overnight. Towns like Rhyolite with a pretentious railway station and office buildings, or Bodie, built with tremendous hardship high in the mountains, were left complete right down to stacks of dishes still in the kitchens and files of records still in the banks.

Today the ghost towns are coming back to life. Towns that have been asleep for 75 years are stirring again under the excitement of high-priced gold. Modern air-conditioned stores are springing up next to the stonier ruins of old buildings. Lively saloons where harness still rots on the walls are being torn down for gasoline stations. From Cripple Creek in Colorado to the Mother Lode in California long-abandoned mines are being worked again. A survey by the Automobile Club of Southern California shows that practically every old gold camp in the West is active.

Timber Is Classified According to Usage

Yard lumber is largely general purpose lumber. It is manufactured and classified into those shapes, sizes and grades required for ordinary construction and general purpose uses. Heavy timbers for structural purposes, soft-wood factory lumber and other special use materials are not considered as yard lumber.

A bulletin from the Southern Pine association divides yard lumber into two main divisions (a) select and (b) common. These again are divided into two classes. Select lumber (1) that suitable for paint finishes and (2) that suitable for ordinary construction and general purpose uses. Common lumber (1) that which can be used without waste and (2) that which permits some waste.

The various types are graded A, B or C. A has a minimum of defects or blemishes, B is permitted a greater number of defects and blemishes, and C an even greater number.

An important factor is the moisture content permitted in the various grades and classifications.

Lincoln Historical Park Abraham Lincoln National Historical park, birthplace of Abraham Lincoln, comprises 110 acres, and lies three miles south of Hodgenville, Ky. The Lincoln Farm association bought the site in 1906 and began the erection of a granite building in which to place a log cabin said to be that in which Lincoln was born. The cabin is 12 feet wide and 17 feet long, 11 feet from the floor to the eaves and 14 feet from the floor to the highest point of the roof. The memorial building, for which the cornerstone was laid in 1909 on the centennial of Lincoln's birth, is of Connecticut granite lined with Tennessee marble. Its inside dimensions are 44 feet in width, 34 feet in depth, and 45 feet in height. The association in 1918 transferred title to the farm and the memorial to the United States, to be administered by the war department. In 1933 the property was transferred to the jurisdiction of the national park service.

Two Kinds of Margarine There are two kinds of margarine. One, made of animal and vegetable fats, salt and milk is commonly called the animal fat type or oleo-margarine. The fats most used are oleo (refined beef fat) or neutral fat (leaf fat of pork). The other kind, known as vegetable fat or nut margarine, is made of vegetable fats, salt and milk. The other principal ingredients of both varieties are peanut oil, coconut oil, cottonseed oil, soybean oil and butter.

Washing Well Waters The waters of the famous wishing well at Upwey, Dorset, are so famous that they are not only drunk by visitors but also often bottled and sold in other parts of England. Greatest fame came to the well some five years ago when 10 men who drank from it won $5,000 each in an Irish sweepstakes. Hundreds of people then crowded to the well for a drink and thousands of bottles of water from it were sold.

Lincoln Traveled Incognito The last hours of Lincoln's journey to Washington for his first inauguration were complicated by a sudden announcement of a plot to assassinate him as he passed through Baltimore in the night. Against his will, and conscious of the probable effect upon the public, he was induced to leave the party and travel the short remainder of the journey incognito.

At The Punch and Judy Theatre

Jackie Cooper and Freddie Bartholomew will be at the Punch and Judy Theatre Friday and Saturday in a stirring drama of human hearts, "Two Bright Boys." Told in the colorful atmosphere of the Texas oil fields, it pictures the swift tragedy which may come when one places confidence in dangerous companions.

Coming as an answer to that perennial question: "What do women talk about when they're alone?" "The Women," filmization of Clara Booth's outstanding stage success will be at the Punch and Judy theatre Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with an all-star cast of 135 women headed by Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford and Rosalind Russell.

Again this year, as in years past, gift books of admission to the Punch and Judy Theatre are being offered. These books will be good for any performance, on main floor or loges, by adults or children. Books may be obtained at box office.

St. Ambrose Church Ping-Pong News

Never before has the swish of a ping-pong paddle and the light tapping of a celluloid ball been heard over at St. Ambrose gym.

In the first table-tennis tournament held at St. Ambrose, there are 68 eager gentlemen trying to best one another in oblivion with a paddle while only 16 girls are competing. At this moment the girls' championship has been attained by Virginia Mullins. However, the men's championship isn't decided as yet, but, it will either be Louis Segnar or John Parchem with Mr. Segnar the slight favorite. The champions will continue to conquer foes at one of the table-tennis palaces downtown, and if they should be so lucky as to get in the finals, they will compete at the St. Clair Recreation Center.

Among the notables competing were Father Thomas Collins who lost a hair-raising first round to Bert (Goliath) Kilian, and Frank Connelly, coach of St. Ambrose High basketball team.

Bob Sharpe, custodian of the gym, is the official and head of the tournaments. Mainly through his efforts, the contest is being run off smoothly and trouble-free.

Look forward to other interesting ping-pong events to be held in the future. However, if you are one of those rarities, who has never played ping-pong (attention girls), see Bob Sharpe at the gym and he will see that you obtain a good instructor, who will make it pleasant for you to learn to play table-tennis.

High School Cagers Defeat East Detroit

Starting out slowly, Grosse Pointe High School's basketball squad picked up speed in the last half and completely crushed the East Detroit Shawrocks 30-7 last Friday evening in an exciting contest played on the high school court.

Like a stone rolling down a hill, the Devils gathered momentum as the game progressed. Louis Charvat, Pointer center, gave the rock its first shove by swishing a foul in the early part of the first quarter, and Gordon Tanner gave it another kick by curling in a pivot shot. "Bruise" Bockstanz, Devil captain, drilled a foul shot, and Tomlinson scored the Shamrocks' first point on a free throw. Blair Martin, Pointer guard, sank a long shot and a foul as the initial period ended. Tanner and Charvat scored the only field goals in the second quarter, while Flath sank another charity toss for the East Detroiters.

Bockstanz and Tanner opened the last half by chucking in two quick baskets. Mese got the Shamrocks' third foul shot. Charlie Marzolf came back with a foul toss and Louis Charvat tipped in a rebound to give the Devils an 18-3 lead. Flath scored the Detroiters' first field goal of the contest, but Charlie Marzolf whirled in two dog-shots and Bobby Sturman chalked up a long, boosting the lead to 24-5. Robertson broke away, and sank a dog shot for the Shamrocks' and completed their scoring for the game. Adding insult to injury, Bobby Sturman zipped through two long shots and Charlie Marzolf added two fouls to complete a successful evening.

Eddie Peabody Held Over for Third Week
Taking terrific bouts of applause in his stride, the smiling Mr. Peabody is being held for still a third week at Chick McNamara's Club Royale. Eddie is proving his versatility in his first night club engagement, with numbers on his bangs—as it really should be played—and song and dance bits with the Fortia Thompson Royalties, as well as acting as master of ceremonies.
Demer and Denise, who have created a new interest in ballroom dancing wherever they have appeared are getting an enthusiastic reception with their rumba, conga, and waltz routines and their special number, a musical comedy swing. Dorothy Crooker, the Rudy Vallee protégée whose control dancing is something to behold is rapidly turning from a starlet to a star, and Anne Bolin is the charming vocalist. It's Danny Demetry's music for shows and supper dancing.

Game Conservatism
The maternal instinct in dogs apparently knows no bounds, says the Country Home Magazine. If you don't believe this, witness the cases of two canine mothers—one, a springer spaniel on the J. J. Caldwell farm in Wyandotte county, Kansas, and the other, a collie on the Ted Konsteri farm, near Duluth, Minn. The collie is raising three tiny beavers, born to a trapped mother which later died, and the spaniel is mothering an equal number of small cottontail rabbits, which she stole from their nest and brought home with her. Both mothers and infants are doing well.

Scroll of Peace
The Scroll of All Nations or the Scroll of Peace is an illuminated document, inclosed in a leather case, which the Flying Hutchinsons (Lieut. Col. George R. Hutchinson, Mrs. Hutchinson and their two daughters) are carrying on a flight around the world to obtain the signatures of all the rulers to a pact of peace. They have already secured the signatures of President Roosevelt and the Latin American presidents.
Judicial Baby Talk
When Judge N. J. Bonelli of Chicago says "Him gets 90 days," don't take the jurist to task, his grammar is perfectly O. K. The "Him" in this case happens to be Yee Yuen Him, a dishwasher, accused of buying liquor and charging it to the restaurant to annoy the cook. The judge said he (Him to him) would have to repeat 90 days in jail, and then Him wished Him weren't he. Sounds a wee bit like baby talk!

Defer Class Visits Municipal Bldg.

During a visit to the Grosse Pointe Park municipal building, the Defer 4A's received first hand information concerning the protection of their community.

Among the interesting facts learned from Mr. Drysdale, chief of police, were the method of taking finger prints and the solving of crime by that means of detection.

Fire Chief Holmes showed the children not only the fire fighting equipment but also the first aid methods in preventing loss of life from suffocation by gas or smoke.

The 4A's appreciate the willingness of these men in giving them information about their community.

First Grade Tea at Trombly School

The mothers of Mrs. Jacob's A-kindergarten and Miss Gargan's 1-B groups at Trombly School were entertained at a tea Friday December 8, by a committee of mothers representing the latter group. Mrs. Gerald Chamberlin, chairman of the committee, was assisted by Mrs. Carleton Healy, Mrs. Clarence Horn, Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Mrs. Fred Kretschmar, and Mrs. Raymond Schroeder.

Mrs. Ethel Cowe, principal of Trombly, Mrs. Jane Derleth, teacher of the 1-A and 2-B group, and Miss Mary Gargan spoke on "Important Factors in the Learning Process."

Preceding the tea, the mothers observed in the kindergarten and 1-B rooms.

1-B Kerby Children Visit Fire Chief

The 1-B children of Kerby School wanted to know about fire, fire engines and firemen. They looked at many books and heard many stories about these things. Then one day they saw a movie about the firemen. Here was a chance to find out the answers to their questions.

The movie was very interesting. The children learned many things. But when they talked it over there still were things they wanted to know about firemen. "Let's invite the fire chief to visit us," said one boy. So a card was sent to the fire chief. It was a big day when he came and talked to the children and answered their questions. But it was even a bigger day when the children accepted the chief's invitation and visited the fire station. After that they felt that they really knew about fire, fire engines, and firemen.

Now they are building a fire engine and a chief's car so they can play firemen.

Feed Crops

Agriculture officials estimate that in 1915 it required 96,000,000 acres of farm crops to feed horses and mules in the United States, but in 1938 only 54,000,000 acres were required. Pasture requirements dropped from 90,000,000 acres to 55,000,000.

Spanish Main's Location Was Puzzle to Travelers

The exact location of the Spanish Main long puzzled travelers and writers. Some applied the name to the entire Caribbean, others thought it designated the mainland bordering that sea.

In the heyday of the conquistadores and pirates, the old Spanish Main comprised not only the Caribbean sea, but that part of the Atlantic ocean pilled by Spanish treasure ships.

The name later came to embrace the shores of the Caribbean islands and the adjacent coasts of South and Central America.

Now the name has narrowed down to denote the northern coast of South America between the Isthmus of Panama and the delta of the Orinoco river, thus including the coasts of Panama, Colombia and Venezuela.

Unromantic freighters replace the old gilded galleons, but precious cargoes are still shipped from the Spanish Main.

Venezuela is the third largest oil-producing country in the world.

Colombia contains the world's most important emerald mine. Exports from the mine include platinum, gold, silver, Panama hats, coffee, chicle, tonka beans, ivory nuts, which are made in many articles from umbrella handles to buttons, and kapok, a so-called "vegetable down" used as stuffing for upholstery.

An interesting relic of the old days is the Bluebeard Castle at St. Thomas, now called Charlotte Amalie. It is a three-story fortress and is now the centerpiece of a new hotel. It is a gaunt structure and popular with visitors during the daytime. At night people prefer to stand outside and gaze at it.

The rugged old fort is made awesome by the tradition that the original owner, a pirate who was nicknamed Bluebeard because of the bluish sheen on his black whiskers, had a full set of 13 wives.

Shark Fishing Is Now Million-Dollar Industry

Since the comparatively recent discovery that the livers of soup-fin sharks constitute the best source of Vitamin A, shark fishing on the Pacific coast has become a million-dollar industry.

With six companies operating with specialized equipment now, and with the industry in its infancy, fishermen, reduction companies and packers alike predict that it is destined to become one of the greatest industries in the coast.

Fishing is being carried on from Mexico to Alaska. Last year 2,500,000 sharks were caught in California waters while vast quantities of livers were sent here for reduction from other states.

Packers point out that extensive research work still will be necessary to develop all the possibilities of the industry, not only from the standpoint of the extraction of Vitamin A, but for use of all the by-products.

While the liver remains the most important element of the shark, yet the flesh is already being used extensively as food, some for fertilizer and also for food for chickens and animals.

The industry is confident that eventually a good quality of leather can be produced from the skin.

Exploration work has yet to be undertaken, they say, to discover the habits of the shark, what it eats, if and where it migrates and what equipment is best adapted to handle the fish.

Up to now most of the shark fishing has taken place from boats constructed especially for sardine and halibut fishing. When shark fishing is fully developed as a major industry, its backers here declare that it will all take place from specialized boats and with specialized equipment.

At present packers are paying fishermen $55 a ton for sharks and 27 cents a pound for the livers alone.

Entering Prize Contests

A $3 prize in a newspaper contest won by an 11-year-old boy is the basis of a modern success story by Frank G. Davis, of Springfield.

In the 35 years since that first prize, he has won $50,000 in 1,500 contests. In the last eight years, Davis said, he earned between $2,500 and $5,000, including eight automobiles—for doing nothing more strenuous than thinking up slogans, working out crossword puzzles, predicting football scores or drawing cartoons.

Davis now spends five hours a day at his work, the rest of the time doing free-lance writing and cartooning. So far this year he has come through with 71 prizes, which is considerably better than his 35-year-average of one every 10 days.

He doesn't keep account of his expenses, but estimates that expenditures for stamps, stationery and ink amount to $12 and $15 a month. The cost of soap wrappers, box tops and the like don't amount to much because he doesn't enter many of this type of contest. "They're too big; judges can't give entries proper consideration," he says.

"Dead" Lives Again

Dr. D. H. Werden, of San Diego, reports the saving of a 14-year-old girl's life after breathing had ceased for 40 minutes, by removing a brain tumor. Writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, the physician stated that 18 months after the operation, the patient's speech and mentality were normal. The only apparent aftereffects were blindness and some difficulty in walking. The respiratory paralysis Dr. Werden wrote, was compensated for by immediate artificial respiration. There was a prolonged period of unconsciousness that he ascribed to insufficient oxygen in the brain tissues. He said the condition was sufficient to cause blindness, but not mental impairment.

Hardening of Cement

The hardening of cement is due chiefly to the decomposition of the compounds of lime upon the addition of water, resulting in the formation of calcium hydrate, which on crystallization binds together the other solid ingredients. The initial setting is due principally to the decomposition of the aluminates, while the final hardening depends more upon the action of the silicates.

Koh-i-noor Diamond

The famous Koh-i-noor diamond may be worn by a queen but never by a king. According to a superstition, any king who wears the jewel will lose the rule of India, just as past male owners of the Koh-i-noor lost their dominion over that realm. In accordance with this belief, only Queen Victoria, Queen Alexandra, Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth have ever used the stone, which weighs 106 carats.

Enchanted Mesa

The Enchanted Mesa is called Katzimo (the accursed) by Acoma Indians. According to tradition, their ancestors, who had gone to their fields in the plains, were prevented from returning to their high mesa by a terrific storm which destroyed their rock ladder, leaving three women to die of starvation and one to commit suicide in despair.

Norway's Coastline

Counting indentations and sinuosities the coastline of Norway measures about 12,000 miles, or an ocean strand that would stretch half way around the world.

Crypt of Knowledge
Contains Sound Film
People living 6,000 years hence will be able to see and hear the flash and roar of artificial lightning as it is now produced.
A sound film demonstrating artificial lightning, produced by the 10,000,000-volt generator will be sealed in the air-tight Ogilthorpe university Crypt of Knowledge.
The film is one of five which have been presented to T. K. Peters, director of archives at Ogilthorpe university. The others include the life story of Thomas A. Edison, the development of land transportation from the most primitive methods to the electrified railroad, the history of Panama canal operation and the development of American navigation from the first crude Indian craft to the massive electrically propelled battleships of today.
It probably will take about four or five years to fill the crypt with the thousands of records that are to be placed in it. Micro-book records are being made of the world's greatest literature, and the films are being sealed in stainless steel receptacles after first being placed in glass containers encasing an inert gas.
An inscription plaque on the door of the Crypt of Civilization briefly describes the contents of the sealed chamber and requests that they remain inviolate until the year 8113. The date was decided by Dr. Thorpe-well Jacobs, president of Ogilthorpe university, because when he started the project in 1936 the year 8113 was just as far in the future as the total number of years man has recorded events in the past.

Scientists Seek to Chart South Seas With Bottles
Professor Wilbur A. Nelson of the University of Virginia plans a "bottle message" bombardment of the South Seas.
Outlining the itinerary of a scientific expedition he will head for National Geographic society and his university, he said he would throw 2,000 citrate of magnesia bottles into the South Pacific.
Printed messages will be inclosed telling the finder that he may "keep the bottle as a souvenir of the occasion," but asking him to report where he found it. The purpose is to help determine the movement of currents in the South Pacific.
Professor Nelson said the bottles would be tossed from the coast guard cutter Hamilton, which the government has assigned for the expedition, at regular intervals during the year that fellow scientists will tour the South Seas over an area larger than the United States.

Stones of Petrified Dew
One of the most valued possessions of the sultan of Perak in Asia is a stone which tradition says is made by petrified dew. This talisman is believed by the Malays to have many miraculous powers. An important part of the sultan's regalia, the stone has been in possession of the Perak dynasty throughout recorded history and is said to have been given to the first sultan by Tu Temong, a girl saint of Perak. The sultan's sword of state is also of great antiquity. It is believed by Malays to have been the sword of Alexander the Great and to have been used by Mahomet at the great battle of Badr.

Tree of Jesse
Jesse, the father of David, is often regarded as the first in the genealogy of Jesus Christ. Hence the design representing the descent of Jesus from the royal line of David is called a tree of Jesse. From a recumbent figure of Jesse springs a tree bearing in its branches the chief figures in the line of descent, and terminating in the figure of Jesus, or of the Virgin and Child. The design was formerly a favorite ecclesiastical ornament and is depicted in the cathedrals at Laon, Amiens and Chartres.

Bury Dead Facing East
Until recent times, people of virtually every race and race have, for religious reasons, buried their dead facing the East. To the Arabs in their burials, it was the direction in which their deity returned each morning; to the ancient Greeks, it was the way to Elysium, or paradise; and to the Christians, says Collier's Weekly, it is to be the direction, according to Matthew 24:27, from which Christ will come on Judgment day.

Share Family Bible
In Norristown, Pa., 12 heirs of Mrs. Barbara S. Harris have just been awarded a family Bible to be shared equally among themselves. In settling Mrs. Harris' will, Judge J. Burnett Holland left it to the heirs to decide whether they should cut up the Bible into 12 parts or pass it around among themselves so that each may have it one month a year.

Worship of Hungary
One of Hungary's most fascinating phenomena is the "flowering of the Tisza," one of the country's rivers. This strange sight is caused by the drowning of billions of small insects. Once in three years they hatch, fly over the river and fall on its surface, coloring it richly with their bodies to make it appear covered with small yellow flowers.

Elected by House
Thomas Jefferson and John Quincy Adams were elected to the presidency by the house of representatives.

Insects Kill Each Other
But No 'Enmity' Exists
No insect is really an enemy of another insect. But persons familiar with the several successful efforts to control insect pests by introducing other insects that kill them may not realize this, and so expect too much from this sort of "biological control." Entomologists are aware of the great quantities of insects that are the victims of other insects. But the victims are not killed because of enmity.
"One insect," T. E. Holloway, of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, said recently in explaining this difference, "may be the food of another insect, that is all. Man eats meat, but is not the enemy of cattle. The insect does not reason—does not need to. But if it could, it would not want to exterminate the species it feeds on."
Casual observers of some common insects see them leading seemingly varied lives—flies feeding on various foods, bees flitting to different flowers. They do not realize the intense specialization in the existence and reproduction of many insects. Some of the most effective parasites are strictly one-insect parasites. Unless the egg-laying parasites can find a certain stage of the insect on which it preys, it does not even place its eggs. The progeny will develop only in a particular host and in a certain stage of the host. Other parasites prey on a goodly number of species and sometimes the presence of more than one kind of host in a locality has an important bearing on the success of the parasite in the control of the species which is destructive to cultivated crops.

Appendicitis Fatalities Show Increased Rate
The depression is responsible for an increasing death rate among victims of acute appendicitis, according to two Cleveland doctors.
Drs. F. R. Kelly and R. M. Watkins, observing the mounting death rate in a study of 2,000 consecutive cases at Women's hospital here, report that appendicitis victims without funds hesitate to summon medical aid when an attack occurs and try to treat themselves.
Half of the victims studied were hospitalized in the more prosperous years of 1909 to 1935; the rest between 1931 and 1936. The death rate among the first 1,000 was 2 per cent; among the second 1,000, 22 per cent. The doctors reported their study in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Harvey Lake Dam
The Harvey lake dam in the Connecticut river basin in Vermont is a project which has been proposed for flood control. The project has been investigated by the United States army but no further action has been taken.

Campus Survey
Civil engineering students have surveyed part of the Tulane university campus more than 500 times during the last year, driving approximately 16,000 stakes in the campus sod.

Very different from its ruling classes is the Finnish people in itself. The average Finn is generally a good-natured fellow who likes to mind his own business; the best proof of his eagerness to learn can be found in Finland's admirable educational system; his thrift and industriousness has created numerous cooperative societies in both agriculture and industry. One can easily imagine what progress the Finns could have achieved under a more liberal form of government—and this, in spite of the fact that the Swedish-Finns (12 per cent of the entire population) have the upper hand in banking and industry.

Maire School to Present 'Why the Chimes Rang'
The Maire School will present the Christmas play "Why the Chimes Rang" for the parents and children. Two performances will be given on December 19th, on Tuesday morning for the children, and the second on Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock for the parents. It has been the custom at the Maire School to have a Christmas play each year, undertaken as cooperative class activity by the fifth and sixth grade children.

The story of the play takes place in a peasant's hut on the edge of a forest near a cathedral town of the Middle Ages. Two boys, Holger and Steen, have been looking forward and planning for the day when they should attend the Christmas celebration to be held in the little town. Their uncle comes to take them but they are detained by the unexpected appearance of an old woman, tired and faint with hunger. Holger, not wishing to leave her alone, decides to stay while the others go to the Christmas services. In his sorrow the vision of the cathedral service appears to him and he sees the fine gifts laid upon the altar as an offering to the Christ Child. The cathedral chimes have been silent for many years because, so the story goes, no gift given in the true Christmas spirit has yet been offered. What the gift was that caused the chimes to ring is the basis of the story.
