

Grosse Exaggerations?

By A. PRYOR

Now that the sun SEEMS here to stay, hordes of vacationists are training North. Our favorite bartender told us the other day that "when the crowd leaves, that's when the swells come out of hiding." It made us feel a little out of sorts, so we're going to retire for a week or two and then reappear with the best of 'em.

Scene at the Bath and Tennis Club:

A goodlooking, middle-aged woman, wearing a long white beach robe, approached the swimming pool and standing on the edge of the shallow end, she proceeded to wind a long piece of chamois skin around her hair, then covered the whole business with a white rubber cap. This done, she dropped her robe and we saw that she was garbed in what looked like a red silk sweater with long sleeves and a pair of red bloomers that reached to her knees. We were afraid to look any further (but did) and found that she was also wearing white stockings and white rubber shoes. Just before poking one shoe into the pool, she pulled on a pair of white gloves and away she went, breast-stroking to the other end of the pool, while her companion took movies of the performance. We thought for a moment that we were witnessing some stunt for a short comedy movie, but no—it was Mrs. Joseph E. Davies, the former Mrs. "Ed" Hutton, taking her daily plunge and she wasn't supposed to be at all funny!

On the same day, we saw ex-Ambassador Gerard taking a tennis lesson. When someone asked Mr. Gerard, (who we'd guess to be over seventy), if tennis might not prove to be a little strenuous for him, he replied, "I'd be an arm chair." Atta boy, Mr. G! That's the stuff that Ambassadors SHOULD be made of.

Stop us if you've read this in another column—as we have. When "Grapes of Wrath" played here, half the audience (on opening night) left the theatre long before the picture was over. Apparently the story is so sordid that even he-men can't take it. One being financier sat throughout the entire performance, grumping in an audible voice, "Propaganda—that's all it is—a lot of propaganda."

We read in the local press that Mrs. Hugh Dillman is being sued by her maid, for twenty five thousand dollars. The maid claims that Mrs. Dillman slapped her face and according to the amount she's suing for, it must have been a hearty slap! If the maid wins the case, she'll be able to live like a sweepstakes ticket winner until the money runs out, then she can get herself slapped by someone else. If the maid had known her onions, she'd have turned the other cheek and gotten fifty. Nice work if you can get it.

Grace Moore, who is evidently not a favorite with the fourth estate, is here visiting Mrs. Jessie Woolworth Donohue. (The O'Briens must have slipped up somewhere.) We met Grace yabs and yabs ago when she sang in a musical show and understudied Julia Sanderson. We knew then that she'd get to the top, even if she had to build her own ladder. Today, besides being a great artist, she covets with Royalty without batting the eye that first saw light of day in Jellico, Tenn.

Met Mrs. Lee Smiths, who's husband used to write that interesting bird and dog column for a Detroit paper. Mrs. Smiths told us an interesting story about a Swallow Hawk, given to her about two years ago by a member of the Audubon Society. The Hawk was found with a broken wing and Mrs. S. decided that she'd like to try to cure it and take care of the Hawk until he

Grosse Pointe Park's New Commission Holds Initial Meeting

Grosse Pointe Park's reshuffled board of commissioners met for the first time last Monday evening in the Park Municipal Building. With a good-sized audience in attendance, President-elect Karl B. Goddard took charge of the evening's procedure.

Thomas Petzold and Ward S. Van Deusen, new commissioners, seated themselves at their assigned desks and dealt with the order of business. Homer Fritch, the third new commissioner, has not yet returned from Florida.

President Goddard opened the meeting by thanking the voters for the trust they had placed in him. He promised to uphold his position to the very best of his ability.

Clarence Pfeffer, veteran commissioner, spoke a few words of welcome

"Crime Wave" Bandits Plead Guilty

The three youths who robbed six stores in one night, including the Grosse Pointe Garage, and were finally captured by the police after an 85-mile-a-hour chase, pleaded guilty last week at their hearing before Circuit Judge George B. Hatrick in Pontiac, Mich.

The prisoners told Judge Hatrick that they had quit high school and had been jobless for months. They needed some "easy money," so they took to the road of crime.

They confessed to 15 robberies since February 25. Their total take for the holdups was estimated at $151.

The captured youths are Thomas Pagan Jr., 18, 8218 Kenney avenue; Casmer Reznik, 21, 1095 Arcola avenue, and Edward Chom, 18, 7123 Milton avenue.

They will be sentenced Monday on the charges of robbery armed.

Nursery Owner Presented With "Blessed Event"

Ben Hollis, co-partner of the Edelweiss Nursery, 2071 Mack avenue, was presented with a 12-pound, 4-ounce baby boy at 9:15 Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Hollis is resting comfortably in St. Joseph's Hospital, and will be moved to her home at 2191 Maxine avenue, in St. Clair Shores, later this week.

The boy has been named Joseph Henry Hollis.

Coast Guard Station Again Probable

The $100,000 appropriation for the establishment of a Coast Guard Station on the Detroit River was restored last week by the House of Representatives. This national legislative body, which threw out this scheduled expenditure last month, reappraised construction of the station and passed the bill on to the Senate.

Clarence J. McLeod, Detroit representative, who served on the Treasury-Post Office Appropriation Committee, stated that he expected rapid ratification of the expenditure by the upper house.

McLeod, who in 1936 sponsored the bill providing for construction of the station, has had a long fight in obtaining his objective. The $100,000 will be used for preliminary construction of bulkheads and docks. The City of Detroit has agreed to set aside a section of land at the head of Belle Island for the building. The remaining $200,000 necessary for the completion of the structure will be taken from the United States Coast Guard fund.

The Detroit River and Lake St. Clair have sorely needed a life-saving station for many years. The water-way in and around Detroit is one of the busiest in the world with over 20,000 registered craft. It is estimated that over 200 lives have been lost in the last few years in drownings, and the capsizing of small pleasure craft.

If the Senate passes the proposed appropriation, construction will start immediately and should be finished within a year. Twelve men will be stationed at the building and the Coast Guard's four cutters will be docked there.

Suyles was reported missing to the City of Grosse Pointe Police Department on Saturday evening by his mother. He had left his home Saturday morning and failed to return.

Early Sunday morning State police notified the city authorities that the missing man had walked into their Erie post.

City of East Detroit Places High Bid For Ridgemont Golf Course

During the recent state land auction sale in Macomb County, the city of East Detroit placed a bid of $55,577.99 for the 83-acre grounds of the Ridgemont Golf Club on Eight Mile, just east of Grosse Pointe.

Easley J. Rausch, city treasurer of East Detroit, placed the bid shortly after a Detroit attorney had offered the minimum price of $11,625.

The original owners have been given 30 days, dating from February 27, to meet their former obligations. If the necessary money can not be raised, the 18-hole layout will become the property of East Detroit.

Treasurer Rausch stated the decision as to the fate of the purchase will be decided by the city council, if the previous proprietors fail to claim their property.

The municipal offices of the City of East Detroit are at 1903 Nine Mile Road.

Shores Police Prevent Serious Fire

At 5 a. m. last Wednesday morning, Officers Harold Parker and Alfred Farrell, of the Grosse Pointe Shores police were cruising down Renaud Road. At 41 Renaud, the residence of Frederick Bahr, the pair noticed a dull flickering of light in the living room.

Investigating, the officers discovered flames slowly licking their way up the wall. The patrolmen quickly called the fire department on the scout car's two-way radio set. The sleeping family was awakened by the officers' repeated pounding on the door.

The Shores' fire engine arrived a short time later and put out the blaze. Damage was estimated at $1,000. No official cause was announced, but it is believed defective wiring was responsible.

Basement Fire Extinguished By Woods Firemen

A stack of burning papers in the basement of a home at 1654 Newcastle, in Grosse Pointe Woods, was quickly put out Monday morning by the Woods Fire Department.

The blaze, which was apparently started by an unnoticed child, filled the house with smoke and aroused the surrounding neighborhood.

Veteran Musician Dies At Home

Henri Matheys, 1099 Beaconsfield, died last Tuesday at his home after a long illness.

Matheys was a violinist, composer and teacher in Detroit for 30 years. He was one of the original members of the Detroit Symphony when it was formed in 1917. Many of his compositions have been played by this organization.

Born in Liege, Belgium, Matheys moved to Detroit in 1910. He leaves a wife and a son, Eugene, a senior at Grosse Pointe High School. The funeral service will be held today at the Matheys' residence.

Three-Car Garage Destroyed By Blaze

The three-car garage of C. L. Clements of 737 Bedford was almost completely destroyed by a disastrous fire which swept through the structure last Tuesday morning.

At 11:20 a. m. Mrs. Clements noticed smoke blowing past her window. Upon investigation, she discovered the blaze on the garage roof. The Grosse Pointe Park fire department arrived a short time later, but the flames had gained too great a headway.

Fire Chief Holme estimated the destruction as nearly a total loss. Defective electrical wiring was given as the unofficial cause. A Chrysler Airflow, parked inside the garage, was also gutted by the flames.

Grosse Pointe Schools Begin Easter Vacation

Three-thirty o'clock Sunday afternoon, March 31, has been set as the hour for the dedication program for the John D. Pierce Junior High School. As previously announced, there will be no reserved seats and the policy of "first come, first served" will be followed in admitting adults to the Pierce auditorium. Students, and in fact all other than adults, cannot be admitted to the auditorium, even if accompanied by parents, as the enrollment of the public schools alone is nearly five times the capacity of the Pierce auditorium. Students and any overflow among the adult audience will be accommodated in the two gymnasiums in the school and, if necessary, in other parts of the building. The complete program from the auditorium will be broadcast to the rest of the building by means of the school's public address system and seating accommodations will be provided in the gymnasiums.

The unusual degree of interest in both the program and the principal speaker, plus the fact that the Pierce School represents a community achievement for which many people labored for years, are the reasons for the policy of dispensing with special tickets, reserved seats and the like, it was explained.

Professor William Lyon Phelps, famed literary critic, author and lecturer, who will deliver the dedicatory address, will come to Grosse Pointe from an engagement the previous day in Ann Arbor. He will leave later Sunday for the East.

Proceeding the program, William J. Watkins, director of music in the Grosse was able to fly. At the time, she was living in a N. Y. Apartment where Hawks weren't considered household pets, but undaunted, Mrs. Smitts persisted in her patient treatment of the bird, despite the fact that everytime she opened the front door, he flew in her face and tried to scratch her. Her persistence and gentleness in caring for him and keeping him well fed, finally calmed him down so that he not only became a pet, but refuses to leave his new found home. He sits around the apartment, docile as a lamb; cats out of anybody's hand; perches on his benefactor's shoulder; accompanies her in the garden and has never tried to fly away. On any motor trips that the Smitts take, Jerry the Hawk sits on his perch on the back seat of the car; a sight which causes passers-by to view the Smitts with alarm. Jerry lives chiefly on raw meat and vitamins, instead of the Swallows he dined on in the past. Anyway, Mrs. Smitts tells us that his appetite is so enormous that 'one Swallow' wouldn't make a supper.

TREND OF EVENTS

By PAUL M. DEAC
Newspapers were flooded with all sorts of conjectures when two former pals met this week in a railway car on the Italian side (the Duce is so prudent) of the Brenner pass. The wildest rumormongers their way around the world. Even the least important neutral chancellery showed a substantial increase in activity. Statesmen and diplomats were more non-committal than ever. Their affected disinterest of what was going on between Hitler and Mussolini coupled with their mysterious airs only served to drive newspaper men wild. Yet, when the smoke will clear away and the true purpose of this meeting will be brought to light, it will appear that there was no real reason for so much excitement. But, then who will care, for headlines will be working on something else. And, the gullible reader will keep on getting excited over nothing at all.

The hypothesis of a renewal of the Rome-Berlin axis and Italy's lining up with Stalin was first presented by the Nazi propaganda bureau as a possibility; and then as already in the bag—another Nazi victory, gloated Goebbels. Well, it now appears that the main purpose for the Fuehrer's trip to Brenner was to try and persuade the Duce to intervene in his behalf and get him out of the frightful jam he has been so cleverly stuck into by Kamorad Stalin. Coming in the wake of Sumner Welles' visit to Berlin, the Brenner meeting tends to show that Hitler must either have peace right away or collapse at a later date. Adolf, who is reputed to have become strikingly tame lately would much rather prefer peace than the kind of war the Allies have in store for him.

The poor showing made by the Red Army in Finland has wiped out Hitler's taste for a full-fledged military alliance with Stalin Russia. He would much prefer to see Russia remain neutral. This solution would have two advantages to it: first the Germans would not have to rush to Soviet Russia's assistance; next Russia could furnish Germany with many raw materials and foodstuffs which are badly needed in the Reich. Only, that leaves Germany without an ally to rely on for manpower and military aid.

Hitler may have tried once more to convince Mussolini of the advantage for Italy to enter the war on Germany's side, but it is improbable that any words will ever do to steer the bullheaded Duce. And, what else has the Fuehrer to offer than imaginary advantages. Besides, Hitler tried this stunt last September, when the Allies started out to chastise him. Convincing the Duce wasn't a hard job at all and Goebbels even announced Italy was mobilizing to attack both France and Great Britain. The only trouble was that, as the story goes, when Mussolini presented the mobilization decree to game little Emmanuel III to be signed, the King of Italy a grilly brushed it aside and told the Duce that so long as he, Emmanuel III, head of the Royal House of Savoia and by the Grace of God, King of Italy, sat on the throne there would be no war between Italy and her former allies. About 70% of the pro-Balbo members of the Fascist Party applauded the courageous king for his decision.

Since the present King is very popular in Italy his removal by force is out of the question. Nor is his resignation any more desirable for the Duce, because Emmanuel III would be automatically replaced by Crown Prince Humberto who is a sworn enemy of Benito, and a staunch friend of Marshall Italo Balbo, a likely successor to the Duce. It is ever since that sickening incident that the Italian dictator was reported to have become "a sick man." He has been slipping ever since the fasco of his ambitious and ruinous campaign in Spain. His failure to secure the necessary capital to exploit the natural resources of Ethiopia only added to his woes. And, a man in trouble is never popular.

It is improbable that Mussolini's word has any weight with the Allies. This is a preventive war forced on Nazi Germany by Britain and France and nothing can stop them from crushing Nazism. Nazism is marked for a violent death in the views of the west. Fuehrer's new astrologer (his former ones are now gazing at the stars from a concentration camp) can change that. The best Hitler can obtain from Mussolini is benevolent Italian neutrality. Of course, even that is subject as to whether the Allies will stand for any such meddling. They know Italy, how vulnerable she is on both land and sea, how eager she would be to take over part or all of the former German colonies presently held by England and France in exchange for services rendered against the Nazis. Right now, Italian factories are working for the Allies and their Balkan associates. It is a profitable enterprise for the Italians. It is very unlikely they will consent to give it up just for the "good looks" of beau Adolf. They will more likely enter the war on the Allied side. There advantages are not only concrete and greater, but that would also shield Italy from destruction. The Allies can help the Italians to hold out against the Germans, but the Germans would never dream of protecting the Italian peninsula against a combined Allied land and naval attack. This very consideration of safety had more to do with Italy's swerving in line with England and France at the very last moment in the last war, than any promise of spoils.

The Italian peninsula was shaped like a boot in 1914 and has not changed since; nor have the basic principles of Italian foreign policy changed any, in spite of certain appearances. Italy simply cannot afford to go to war against the Allies so long as they control the Mediterranean.

He is an ordained Presbyterian minister, at one time instructor in the Country Day School of Detroit, and has been president of Lincoln Memorial University since 1932. It is a patriotic, co-educational, non-sectarian but religious institution founded as a memorial to Abraham Lincoln to make education possible for children of the humble common people of American, among whom Lincoln was born.

Detroit Colony, National Society of New England Women, will meet Wednesday afternoon, March 27, at the Women's City Club. A twelve-thirty o'clock buffet luncheon will precede the meeting which Mrs. Harlow B. Loveland, president, will call to order at one-thirty o'clock.

A program consisting of the projection on a screen of famous religious paintings giving the Easter story is planned. A Good Friday talk for the boys will be given by Rev. Harvey Hosteler of The Church of the Brethren.

All departments of the Hannan Y. M. C. A. will be closed Good Friday from 12 noon to 3 p. m.

Dr. Doty to Address Forum Dr. C. A. Doty will speak at the final forum program of the health series at Hannan Y. M. C. A. on Monday, March 26, at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Doty will speak on "Venereal Diseases." This will be an illustrated lecture to which the male public is invited to attend without charge. Dr. Doty is a recognized authority in this field and has appeared on the "Y" health forum programs in past years.

Baseball Pictures to Be Shown The American League baseball picture, "Touching All Bases," will be shown at the monthly young men's supper to be held at Hannan Y. M. C. A. on Thursday, March 21, at 6:30 p. m. Max Lee, chairman of the dinner, extends an invitation to readers of this newspaper interested in baseball, to see this picture. Dinner reservations may be made by telephone.

GIRL Scouts

Scouting in the Pointe carries on its work in a quiet but effective way. Training courses have been most successful this winter and many adults attended the birthday dinner on March 12 to celebrate the founding of scouting. This was held at the Highland Park Y. W. C. A.

The scribes keep busy with their writing and are now writing feature articles on the various phases of scouting. All those who have written previous articles which, for lack of space have not been printed, are asked to re-write these articles and send them at once to Viva Cossey, 367 Roosevelt place.

Next Monday, March 25, the scribes will meet at 1 o'clock at the Detroit News to participate in their annual tour and instruction in the ways and means of newspapers.

The district committee met at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Jas. J. Phelan Jr. on Wednesday, March 20, at which time plans for the spring events were made. Mrs. Ford Whelton reported on the great financial success of the card party which was given in January. Two new members of the committee who were present were Mrs. Alexander Girard and Mrs. John Veech.

There was a large attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the leaders, which was a luncheon at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on Tuesday, March 19.

Camp folders will soon be out with all the news of Camp Metamora, so be watching.

OUR LIBRARY

By Shirley Searles

Entering the room of Troop 180, you glance about and at once your eye falls upon a cabinet. It contains the books of their library. The scouts of this troop have the opportunity to borrow books.

This library began at the suggestion of several members and a unanimous approval by the other girls. Then the question arose, where would they get the books. At first a few of the girls donated some books and the Scouts were permitted to read them before the meeting or take them home. Because the library grew, a librarian and assistant were elected. Since that time the Scouts have spent many pleasant hours through the use of their library.

TROOP 84

Last Friday the girls worked on their second-class badges. Since many of the girls had been absent when Mrs. Smith taught the troop how to make maps on a scale, she gave the lesson again.

SENIOR PATROL 85

The Girl Scouts who are 14 years old belong to the Senior Troop and meet at Mrs. Orr's home, 1427 Roslyn Road, Grosse Pointe Woods, on Mondays from 7 to 9 o'clock. The girls take turns serving as hostesses at each meeting.

The group has been enjoying winter sports, especially skating. The members are now enjoying folk dancing and have started needlecraft. They are also sewing hat pads.

The girls plan to visit the Vernor's ginger ale plant soon.

Movie And Speech Part Of Current Campaign On Counterfeiting

Speaking to senior high school history and economics students recently J. J. Cassidy of the United States Secret Service, warned his audience to "know your money."

"This is the first time that education has been used to combat a major crime," stated Mr. Cassidy. He went on to explain that the educational campaign against counterfeiting was started in New York and then extended to the nation at large.

Outlining the general ways of detecting counterfeit money, Mr. Cassidy said that the first essential is to know what portrait belongs on the various bills and coins. Know what markings are found on the money. If you suspect a bill or coin, compare it closely with genuine money of the same denomination.

"If the suspected money is a coin, Mr. Cassidy advises ringing it or feeling it, for counterfeit money is greasy and makes a dull sound.

Answering a student's question, the speaker said that the movie, "Know Your Money" was the first picture in which the face of real money has been photographed. He explained that the United States Secret Service filmed the picture only after Secretary Morgenthau had granted his permission.

making it legal.

Mr. Cassidy denied that there is a mistake on the Jefferson nickels and added that they are being coined freely. "Even old coins like Indian head pennies are worth only face value to the government. Go to a collector if you expect more," he advised.

The movie and speech was sponsored jointly by the Grosse Pointe Police Department and the Board of Education.

Maire School Notes

The March meeting of the Maire Parent-Teacher Association has been postponed until Tuesday, April 2, at 8:15 o'clock. The speaker for the evening will be Douglas Dow, head of the research department of the Detroit Edison Company, who will talk on "Research and Advances in Electricity." Class rooms will be open from 7:30 p. m. to 8 p. m. and it is hoped that all parents will use this opportunity to visit their children's rooms and to become better acquainted with their teachers.

Trombly School Notes

The 6B class at Trombly School is studying about the friendly social movement in the 19th century. To become better acquainted with the work of social groups, the class visited the Goodwill Industry.
Hugh Heck, one of the pupils, wrote up his trip in part, as follows: "As I went through the building, I found that most of the workers were skilled craftsmen, such as the man who repairs the clocks, or the man who silvers the mirrors to make them as good as new, and the man who re-upholsters the furniture."
"I also inspected the dry-cleaning plant, the tailor shop, the furniture department, and the shoe repair department. I was surprised to find out that 7,270 of the workers employed at the Goodwill are handicapped in some way. "The Goodwill is an organization to help prevent the waste of articles that can be reconditioned. It also gives work to handicapped people and gives poor people a chance to buy goods at reduced prices."

After chalking up a winning streak of 11 games the mighty Eastminster cagers finally bowed to a speedy and plenty scrappy Comet aggregation 48-45. Some two hundred (more or less) spectators witnessed one of the most spectacular games of the season, with neither team going ahead by more than four points throughout the entire contest. Jack Bretz, rangy center of the Comets and Leo Durocher, former St. Paul star combined to score 16 points in the first half to stay even with the speed merchants at 23 all. Holding a point lead with a minute to play Durocher interrupted a pass and went in for a "dog" shot to sew up the encounter. Durocher also topped the scorers with 16 points. Clinard was high for Eastminster with 15.

Fifteen Club popped right back into the thick of things with a surprise 35-24 victory over the Indians, last year's champs. Taking a 24-12 lead at half time the "15" Club, with Bob Koebel doing most of the scoring coasted into victory. Koebel was the star of the contest scoring over half his teams points. He connected for 7 hoops for four fouls for 18.

The Saints were handed some stiff opposition when they tangled with the lowly Arrows crew. With Toepel, doing some fancy shooting the Arrows were ahead 28-23 at the intermission only to tie in the final few minutes of the game and go down to defeat 58-48. "Whitie" Toepel, as he is known by his friends, topped all the scores with 21 points. He was closely followed by T. Myers, center of the Saints team who hit the meshes for 20.

Girls' Basketball: Two upsets in the Grosse Pointe Girls' Championship Basketball tournaments resulted in the Imperials and the Cadettes dropping from the tournament leaving St. Ambrose and St. Paul to battle it out next Monday night, March 25th, at 8:00 p. m.

The first game played between St. Ambrose and the Imperials proved to be most exciting with the Imperials leading 15 to 10 at the half and the St. Ambrose team running up their score in the second half to take the game 21-17.

In the second game St. Paul was leading the Cadettes 14-13 at the half and defeated the Cadettes by a score of 36-21 with Shirley Carr doing some outstanding shooting and making 24 of the 36 points alone for her team.

The next game to be played will be Monday night, March 25th at 8:00 p. m. between St. Ambrose (1) and St. Paul. In the two-game knockout series St. Paul has not lost a game while St. Ambrose (1) has lost one which means St. Ambrose (1) will be playing with determination to stay in the tournament while St. Paul will be playing to win the tournament. This promises to be an "on the edge of your seat" game—so don't miss it—Monday night, March 25th at 8:00 p. m.

Trombly Notes

The 5A class took a trip to the Alger Museum last Tuesday afternoon. The pupils found out a great deal about Grecian art. Mr. Wolfenden showed them many interesting articles. They saw chairs, tables, beautiful carved chests, and hand-painted vases. They were especially interested in the boxes with secret compartments. The 5A class entertained their mothers Tuesday afternoon, March 5, with a program demonstrating what they had been doing in their social studies. The three topics the class has studied are communication, transportation and making goods with machines. Through drawings, oral reports, pictures and poems, the pupils showed the evolution of communication and transportation from the earliest days to the present time. The mothers were very interested, for 27 of them were

St. Ambrose Student Chosen On All-City Basketball Squad

Bill Crandall of 1073 Maryland avenue, was recently picked on an all-city Catholic league team compiled by The Detroit Free Press.

Crandall, a senior at St. Ambrose High School, was conceded a guard position on the first division quintet. The Catholic league schools are separated into divisions according to their enrollment. The St. Ambrose squad competed in the top section. Crandall averaged 10 points a game in league contests and was known as a steady, cool player.

Leib Music Student Sings At Wedding

A beautiful wedding ceremony took place at East Jefferson Methodist Church, corner Marlboro, Saturday, March 16, 7:30 p. m., uniting Marjorie Sparkman and Clifford White. Rev. Harry T. Howard, pastor, officiated.

Detroit Lions Will Lose Line Coach

By DICK BODYCOMBE Mr. Hearty W. Anderson, of 271 McMillan Road, better known to the nation's football fans as "Hunk," will not return to the Detroit Lions as line coach this fall, it was announced recently in the Detroit dailies.

During the recent change of management in Detroit's entry in the National Professional Football League, Anderson remained silent, as did many other performers of last season.

Shortly after the new syndicate stated that "Poty" Clark had been signed as the Lion's head coach for the coming season, Anderson proclaimed his decision to leave the Lion's employment. It is expected that Clark, who led the Brooklyn Dodgers last year, will bring his present line coach to Detroit with him.

Several other veteran Lion linemen have been suggested as possible successors to Anderson's post. Anderson, who is holding a suitable business post here in Detroit, remarked that he had turned down the job as head coach of the Chicago Cardinals. Hunk doesn't aspire to a head coaching job, but wishes to keep his present position and do a little line coaching on the side.

Detroit sportsters have Anderson cut out as line coach for the Chicago Bears, and other sundry positions with numerous additional pigskin organizations.

Chuck Hanneman, veteran Lion end and Grosse Pointe High graduate, was non-committal when questioned as to his plans for the coming season. Hanneman, employed by the Ford Motor Car Company, didn't know whether or not he could obtain a leave of absence.

My compliments to you on your improvement and may it continue in the future. J. S.

Christian Science Church

"Matter" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 24.

The Golden Text (Matthew 6:19) is: "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Romans 8:5, 28): "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit." And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to his purpose.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 444): "In some way, sooner or later, all must rise superior to materiality, and suffering is oft the divine agent in this elevation. 'All things work together for good to them that love God,' is the dictum of Scripture."
