If we have to listen to any more soawks about the millions Roosevelt WASTED on the W. P. A., so that the workers could lean on their shovels and have nice green parks to lie down in, we're going to commit hari kari! Everytime a group get together for supposedly social "time while-ing," they fill themselves with wobble water and end up in a free-for-all.

Who is the Grosse Pointe matron who invited a group of people for dinner, to honor an out-of-town visitor, then forgot about the whole thing Interest on Sewer Bonds and wasn't even in town on the appointed evening? (tsk, tsk, tsk!).

Have you noticed that the announcer on the "Johnny Presents" program sounds exactly like Roosevelt?

Dawn Patrol Officer Helps In Capture Of Burglar

The combined efforts of a special officer of the Dawn Patrol and the Grosse Pointe Park police resulted in the capture of a burglar discovered looting the home of Stewart W. Munroe, at 938 Balfour Road last Friday Seward Mills, Dawn Patrol investigator, noticed a broken window in the Munroe residence while making his hourly rounds. Mills called the Park police department and five patrolmen surrounded the house. The thief, later identified as Albert Cooper Williams, was trapped in a secondstory room and hailed by Patrolman Alphonse Boone. Boone shouted, We're coming in," and Williams replied, "I'm coming out." Willams had ransaked the Munroe home and had gathered thirty items of jewelry, 120 pieces of silverware. and a .32 calibre revolver. Williams said that he was living in the Book-Cadillac Hotel after his arrival by plane from New York. Detroit police found $660 on deposit at the hotel and five expensive suits in his room. He also had purchased a $1,750 automobile.

A warrant for Williams is on its way from New York, and Grosse Pointe and Detroit police are questioning the bandit concerning other recent unsolved thefts.

The Dawn Patrol has operated in Grosse Pointe for nine years and their office is located at 15000 Mack which may come to their attention.

Citizens Assoc. Commonts on School Election

When asked to comment on the lection for School Board Trustees to be held Monday, June 10, Victor H. Wehmier of the Citizens Association of Grosse Ponte Park said that the matter had been reviewed several that a man should be put in office who was definitely pledged to a program of economy. That might be considered a regular stock answer and such a reply to be expected from any organization citizens. However, it application here.

Everyone appreciates the fine school system that the community has and gladly acknowledges that the members of the present school board have devoted much thought to the work. However, the Directors of the Citizens Association believe they express the opinion of a cross section of people of penditures and that the time has arrived when the people realize that to develop the school system along the present lines will nour expenses greater than what they really want to pay for. It is obvious that more schools will have to be built as the population increases and to carry on a program of the present scale would create a staggering burden to the taxpayers. As some one put it, there will be fine schools but empty ones as no one can afford to live in the community because of high taxes.

Graduation Speakers Will Discuss "What Is Right With Schools"

Honoring 175 candidates for gradustion, commencement exercises for the class of June '40 of Grosse Pointe High School will be held in the front of the building at 8:15 o'clock on Thursday, June 13.

It was 15 years ago that the first seniors were graduated from Grosse Pointe High School. In that class there were only 24 students. By last June, 1,950 students had become alumni.

This year as in former years, the program will include the following: presentation of the class by Mr. Paul A. Rehmus, principal presentation of diplomas by Dr. E. R. Van Kleeck, superintendent; invocation; address by three student speakers Fred Hofmann, Dorothy Bobbins, and William Heyser, who will discuss "What's Right with the Schools?"

Decoraions and flowers are to be presented by the Mothers' Club. The committee in charge is headed by Mrs. is among the graduates.

I shall run on an Economy platform and yet insist that our children have the opportunity to secure a basic and thorough education. I insist upon holding school activities and therefore, the cost, to useful essentials. I shall always, if elected, be the real representative of my constituents. In common with others, I'm sure that my training, education and professional interest fits me to help manage our school system. The school system is a business and so far as its financial operation is concerned, should be operated as such-with due regard for what we can afford and with all insistence upon value for expended money."

Voters may register for this election with the principal of any of the seven municipal schools from 8 to 4, up until After the polls close on election night the ballot boxes will be taken to room 119 in the high school and counted. The result will be announced immediately in the auditorium. In the past a 1,000 vote turnout has been termed as a "good number.'

Three teams remain in the undefeated ranks of the Grosse Pointe Baseball League standings as a result of the games played last Thursday and Sunday afternoons.

Grosse Pointe Farms continued their undefeated play by tripping the Park team, whom they conquered Grosse Pointe Park and the Carrier Sawduster's nines. The Farms winning streak now stands at four straight.

Thursday, the Farm's best Roy De-Perno, ace Park pitcher, 3-2, DePerno struck out 23 men in his first start of the season.

'Uncle Dan' Lehan Still Oldest Of Detroit Trainers

The honor of being the oldest active trainer among the horsemen at the Detroit race track belongs again this year to Dan Lehan of Jeffersontown, Ky., who has a good stable of horses which he bred himself. The veteran Kentuckian, known to all as "Uncle Dan," enjoys excellent health at 77 and is on the job early each morning to supervise the conditioning of his horses.

Uncle Dan isn't overly inclined to conversation but one of the greatest aids in interpreting his wishes is his method of chewing tobacco. When Uncle Dan squirts tobacco juice with emphasis in reply to a question, his grooms interpret it as an answer in the affirmative and hustle about their Chewing tobacco is a habit Uncle Dan picked up after his arrival in this country, some say very soon after his family brought him from County Cork. Ireland, at the age of 6. At the age of 30 Dan took out his first trainer's papers and has been continuously employed in the profession for 52 years.

The Lehan farm is still on the turf map as a nursery and this year seven mares were bred to some of the better sires standing in the vicinity of the Jefferson County homestead. With the usual optimism of all horsemen, Uncle Dan believes the 1941 foals will be one of the finest crops in the Blue Grass.

Margaret Winsor, winner of the Latonia Oaks in 1922 was, in the opinion of Lehan, the finest thoroughbred he on their perilous course through crowdever raised and campaigned. Game and consistent, the filly raced with the best and asked no quarter as to competition, track or distance. Her Oaks victory was attained only after a strenuous contest.

Daughters of American Colonists Install New Officers

One of the most delightful meetings of the spring season was held on Tuesday, May 22, when the Michigan State Society Daughters of American Colonists met at the home of Mrs. Henry B. Joy for the installation of the newly elected officers of the society.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Joy gave an entertaining talk on her recent trip around the world, showing colored motion pictures of the beautiful and interesting spots she had visited. Of particular interest were the pictures taken in the Dutch East Indies.

Mrs. Joy's home, always attractive, was unusually lovely with many bouquets of spring flowers placed about the rooms. The long refectoire tea table was covered with exquiste alter clothe lace and was decorated with two tall silver vases filled with ocean spray and pink carnations. Assisting with the tea were Mrs. Edward F. Dickerson Jr., and Mrs. Raiph Wisner.
