William H. Hartman Seeks State Senator's Post in 1st District

[Editor's Note: The opinions of political candidates are strictly their own and not necessarily those of The Grosse Pointe Review.]

"The office of State Senator is now, always has been, and always should be symbolic of a sacred trust which should be granted only with the greatest of care," declares William H. Hartman, Republican nominee for the office of State Senator from the First Senatorial District, comprising the 17th, 19th and 21st wards, together with Gratiot and Grosse Pointe Townships.

Mr. Hartman has stated: "In times of economic stress or depression such as we have experienced during the last 10 years it is indeed the sacred duty of the electorate to cast their ballots and to exercise their franchise for only such persons as have acquired, through education and experience, such insight and foresight into political and economic science as will preclude any possibility of irrationalism or fanaticism to creep into our State or Federal statutes. Our present era demands greater thought and wider vision than ever before."

"Having spent the many years that I have as a business man in this district, and having seen the many immediate needs of our district, I am happy to offer my future services, as your State Senator, in the solution of those problems, and such other legislation as will from time to time intelligently better as well as perpetuate the needs and rights of my constituents."

"Unfortunately today there exists, with ever-increasing velocity, an alarming prevalence of new, untried and impractical solutions for most of our present economic ills. And just as unfortunately, there has never been a time in our history when experience, sound judgment, and rationalism should be the prevailing order of the day. We must return sanity to our government."

"Above all things let us exercise our franchise and let us see that every person in our community votes this November. We need not only an intelligent vote but we must have a representative vote. Every American should cherish this privilege which is the very foundation of our democracy. Let us join hands at the polls in November that our nation shall not perish from this earth and in the words of Wendell L. Willkie, let us do our part to exert every effort to save America for Americans."

Increase In Elementary Spanish Courses Noted At U. of Michigan

Popular interest in the nation's good-neighbor policy toward Latin American republics is indicated in the greatly increased enrollment of elementary Spanish courses at the University of Michigan, according to Professor Hayward Keniston, chairman of the university's romance languages department.

Professor Keniston likens this growth of interest in the Spanish tongue to a similar growth during the World War, when commercial activity of United States firms in South and Central America was increasing rapidly and Americans foresaw opportunities to use the language in business.

The present increase in the study of Spanish, Professor Keniston believes, is due not so much to the commercial factor as to the greater realization of the importance of Latin America politically and culturally to the future of the United States.

Corresponding decreases in the study of languages of those countries now involved in the European war also have been noted, Professor Keniston remarked.

"There are six different groups of persons who may qualify for monthly checks under the Social Security Act. They are workers who reach age 65, retired and qualify for these payments; aged wives of such workers; widows of insured workers who have minor children in their care; the children who are covered by this plan; aged widows of insured workers, and in a few cases, dependent parents.

"In addition there are lump sum payments which are given to relatives who have paid funeral expenses of insured workers who have died without leaving a relative who is entitled to monthly checks. The number of claims in each group and the amount of monthly or lump sum payments from January 1 to June 30, was as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Type of Benefit, No., Amount. Rows include Primary benefit, Wife over 65, Child, Widow with child, Widow over 65, Aged parent.

Total lump sum payments... 3,887 $72,896. "In all, more than 5,000 claims filed in Michigan were approved in the first half of the year. The number is now several thousand greater," Pollock said. Information on benefits may be obtained at the Harper East Side office at 8037 Harper at Van Dyke, telephone Plaza 8714.

Ghesquiere Concludes Series Of Articles

This is the last in this series of articles and I wish to thank The Grosse Pointe Review for their co-operation in presenting these facts, opinions and problems to our residents for their enlightenment. I hope they have been of interest. At a later date, if this paper is willing, I desire to present another short series.—Alois A. Ghesquiere, president of Grosse Pointe Woods.

A remark often heard about the village is "With all this new building going on, more taxes will be collected and so taxes should be reduced." Another remark heard elsewhere as well as here is to the effect that taxes always go up, never down and that the politicians always find a way to spend more money if it is obtainable.

When first heard these remarks seem logical and truthful, but if one thinks and analyzes he will discover that in most cases the facts do not bear out the remarks.

Regarding the first remark about the additional revenue from the new buildings, let us look at the facts:

(1) When delinquent taxes are paid up on a lot on which a new building is to be constructed, the greater portion of the amount received is ear-marked to be put into a sinking fund to retire bonds and to pay interest.

(2) When a new building is constructed during one fiscal year it is rarely assessed for more than just the value of the lot until the following year and yet that building during that year receives all of the services that other buildings do, such as street lights, road maintenances, garbage, rubbish and ash disposal, police and fire protection and sewer service. These services the village must maintain for quite a period of this time before any collections can be made.

(3) When a lot or acreage is vacant taxes are collected therefrom and almost no services are rendered to it, making most of the money received from that source available for all general purposes. In this case of course it means that the taxes that are paid on these vacant properties every current year.

(4) During building activities a great deal more money is spent especially on unpaved streets to maintain them in good condition.

(5) Because of the increase in numbers of homes it was necessary this year to add to our budget to provide for an additional police officer, additional help for our highway department, and our water and sewer departments, additional clerical help for our treasurer and clerk and more frequent audits. It was also necessary to set up in this year's budget an amount of $5,000 to start proceedings for a sewer treatment system as mentioned in a previous article by this writer.

(6) During the past two years more work has been done to all the physical properties, such as pumping stations, pavements, fire hydrants, etc., than during many previous years when things were let go for lack of funds.

So the remark about reducing taxes because of the increased building is unwarranted; in fact it is gratifying that it is possible to keep the rate the same, it was just possible this year to meet the increase in the budget by the increase in assessable buildings.

Regarding the second remark about politicians always increasing taxes and spending money, let us again look at the facts.

Unless a government is corrupt and graft is permitted or there is gross mismanagement, none of which have ever been the case in this village, all money raised by taxes is paid out to render services and to pay off debts incurred for improvements. No one makes any profit on any of it except the bondholder who collects interest. All services rendered and debts incurred have been petitioned for by the property owners or requested by the residents through their elected officials. So again we see that the remark about politicians spending is not true because taxes are increased or maintained at a level because the people want the services increased or maintained at that level and there is no one that can render these services any more economically than a municipality as this writer pointed out in a previous article.

Taxes may of course be reduced by reducing service or reducing indebtedness. The latter would be the best and is gradually being accomplished in this village. Debt service is still quite an item in our taxes. Of the $3 per month or $36 per year that Mr. Average Home Owner pays in this village about one-half or $1.50 per month is used to pay on the interest, and principal of our debts. This writer recommends highly that we strive always to keep our bonded indebtedness as low as possible and to borrow only when absolutely necessary to construct only essential improvements and then to issue bonds for as short a period of time as possible, preferably not to exceed five years. It is the best way to lower taxes down.

It is hoped that we may continue to enjoy our low tax bills and it will be possible to do so, excepting for unusual emergencies or the demand by our residents for bathing facilities of our own, or the establishment of a sewage treatment system, both of which have been explained in previous articles by this writer.

"BEYOND THE BENCH"

By JUDGE THOMAS F. MAHER
Of Traffic Court

Operators' License Violations

Many thousands of motorists every year violate the laws relating to operators' licenses. The cause of these offenses is not so much willful disregard for law by the driving public, but rather a lack of knowledge of its provisions and its importance to traffic safety.

The driver of a passenger vehicle in the State of Michigan must renew his license every three years. He must keep it, in good condition, in his possession when driving and any change of residence must be noted on the license by police authorities.

Most drivers fail to appreciate the importance of having the correct address on their license. But let them become involved in an accident and be put to the trouble of locating the other driver afterwards, only to find that he has long ago moved away from the address given on his license, and there are plenty of harsh words spoken! To many people a law becomes important only when they endure the actual experience of finding out why it was passed.

Ignorance of the law, however, does not excuse those motorists who loan their license to another or who permit unlicensed drivers to operate their vehicle. Such offenses are particularly reprehensible and it is surprising how many otherwise decent, law-abiding citizens are guilty of these practices. They only contribute to the hazards of motorizing and hinder the efforts of traffic authorities to bring the lawless motorist to justice.

The safety-minded motorist does not wait for a traffic "ticket" to inform him that he has violated the provisions of the law governing his operator's license. He knows the law and abides by it.

High School Election Plans Under Way

During the week of October 7 to October 11 the students of Grosse Pointe High were supplied with the opportunity to register in preparation for the general election to be held at the high school in November. Instead of the usual type of straw vote taken by social studies classes in some schools, Grosse Pointe High will provide a realistic experience for its students. This is another part of the educational program to promote an active appreciation of American democracy.

The entire program has been planned in the civics III class of Leroy Selmeier, whose students have received much assistance and encouragement from the committee on elections of the council of the City of Grosse Pointe. Students in Miss Marian Lampman's art classes and Charles Peterson's shop classes are also lending a helping hand.

Just as the adult citizen must register with the proper officials in his voting area, high school students are being instructed in the vital importance of registering in order to preserve the right to vote as now exists in America. While all registration is a voluntary act, the civics students are making every effort to secure a higher percentage of eligible registrants than is usually found in an ordinary community.

Dental Practice Act On November Ballot As Proposal No. 4

A matter in which all citizens should be vitally interested will be voted upon by the people of Michigan in the November election. The vote on Proposal No. 4 of the state ballot will decide whether Dental Practice Act No. 122 shall be upheld.

This act is favored by 3,000 ethical Michigan dentists out of the 3,200 dentists licensed to practice by the state, and is "An act to regulate the practice of dentistry and dental surgery; to provide for the examination, licensing, registration and regulation of persons who may practice the same; to provide for the disposition of moneys received under this act; to provide penalties for the violations of this act; and to repeal certain acts and parts of acts." The purpose of this legislation is to improve and protect the public welfare where the dental profession is involved. It thus becomes a public health measure.

To give this improvement and protection to the public welfare, dentists ask that they be regulated by law in important aspects of their profession. This regulation, if upheld by the approval of Proposal No. 4 will make for the following accomplishments: (a) A State Board of Dental Examiners made more qualified to discharge a public trust by the removal of State Board appointments from the field of politics. (b) Protection against the licensing of "diploma mill" dental graduates by authorizing the State Board of Dental Examiners to ascertain and determine what shall constitute a reputable dental college according to necessary qualifications, set up in the dental act. (c) Trained specialists through the requirement that dental specialists be licensed as specialists after submitting proof of extra training in the field of a specialty. (d) Improving dental service by making the profession, as a career, more appealing to young men of discrimination, through the outlawing of such things as grotesque displays which are unbecoming to a healing arts profession. (e) Protection against exploitation by unscrupulous dentists through the regulation of types of advertising. This regulation will still permit those who choose to do so, to advertise, but it will be unlawful for them to use such advertising as will mislead or deceive the public.

These are the salient provisions of the act which was passed without a dissenting vote by the State Senate and was signed by our governor during the regular session of 1939. It has the approval and support of the American Dental Association, composed of 65,000 dentists; of the Michigan State Dental Society; of the Michigan State Medical Association, and the Michigan State Board of Dentistry. It would have been enacted into law within 90 days of the date of signing by the governor, had it not been brought to referendum through the activity of less than one-half of 1 per cent of the dentists practicing in our state, who secured sufficient petitions by various questionable means.

Public health legislation has lagged behind in Michigan, at least as far as dentistry is concerned. Sufficient "yes" votes for Proposal No. 4 will give us public dental health laws that are on a par with those already existing in 44 of the 48 states in the union.

In this sermon Dr. Canup will answer the following questions: Does God or the devil tempt? What is the difference between the testing of God and temptations of the devil? Christian Science Church

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 20.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (II Corinthians 6:1): "We, then, as workers together with him, beseech you also that ye receive not the grace of God in vain."

Navy Enlistment Rise Explained By Detroit Recruiting Officer

Remark on the constant increase in Navy enlistments since last September, Commander Carson R. Miller, Navy recruiting officer in Detroit, stated early this week: "The expansion of the Navy to meet the nation's needs for a two-ocean defense is providing new opportunity and new frontiers for young men of spirit. These young men, entering the Navy now will, through training in the schools of our service, become the nucleus of the new Navy, now building, which will be the largest organization of its kind the world has ever known."

The Navy recruiting station in Detroit is located in room 670 of the New Federal Building.

Wayne U. Instructor Publishes Biography

"As a Flame Springs," 356-page critical narrative biography of Robert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning during their courtship and married life, has been written after five years' research by James McCormick, instructor in English at Wayne University. The book was published recently by Charles Scribner's Sons.

Incorporating new materials drawn from letters, diaries and magazine files of the period, the biography deals at length with the Brownings' 15 years of married life, a period little discussed by most scholars, who have concerned themselves principally with the famous courtship which ended in elopement. The book traces the influence which the two people had upon each other as individuals and as poets.

Symphony Orchestra Opens Season With Iturbi As Soloist

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra's eagerly anticipated guest conductor season will open this evening, October 17, in Masonic Auditorium. The soloist will be Jose Iturbi, noted Spanish pianist, and the conductor will be Victor Kolar, now beginning his 21st year of activity with the orchestra.

Opening program: Mozart, overture to the opera, "Marriage of Figaro"; Michel Brusselmanns, Suite after the Caprices of Paganini (first performance in Detroit); Grieg, Concerto for Piano and Orchestra, in A Minor, Op. 16; Tchaikovsky, Fifth Symphony, in E Minor, Op. 64. The last named work will be played in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Tchaikovsky.

Born in Valencia, at seven Iturbi knew the growing pains of public life. After studying in his native city and in Barcelona, the people of Valencia made up a purse to send the wonder boy to Paris. There he attended the Conservatory by day, played in cafes all night to earn food and board. But at 17 he was graduated with first honors. Four years as head of the piano faculty of the Conservatory of Geneva followed. He left to embark on the life he was destined for, the life of a virtuoso.

Trailing clouds of European glory, the Spanish pianist arrived in the United States for the first time in October, 1929. In that first season he made his name a household word in musical America, a verdict the country has confirmed in 11 successive seasons. Iturbi also is widely known as an orchestra conductor.

Brusselmanns, a contemporary Belgian, wrote the following in the score of his suite: "The performance of this orchestral suite offers considerable difficulties; occasionally the limit of actual orchestral possibilities. But it gives every player and group of instrumentalists an opportunity to display his virtuosity."

Mr. Kolar decided to perform this number to illustrate how effective in performance an expertly orchestrated work, based on the classics, can be. Brusselmanns was so successful in keeping the work, it is predicted, will become a favorite of many orchestras and conductors.

The Grieg Concerto which Iturbi will play was composed in the summer of 1868 in a little village of Denmark, where Grieg was spending his vacation in a period of teaching and conducting in the Philharmonic Society in Christiania.

Immediately following the concert the audience will be invited to meet informally on the stage the new president of the Detroit Symphony Society, Dr. Fred T. Murphy and Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. John S. Newberry, retiring president, Mr. Kolar, Mr. Iturbi, officials of the society and members of the orchestra.

Unity School Of Practical Christianity

The subject for the lesson this week at the East Side Unity Class, which meets in the Hotel Savarine, East Jefferson at Lenox, each Thursday evening, will be "Realization Precedes Manifestation."

This lesson comprises the third chapter of the book "Jesus Christ Heals," by Charles Fillmore, and will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Fishburn, who are licensed Unity ministers, affiliated with the Unity School of Practical Christianity at Kansas City, Mo., and working in co-operation with Detroit Unity Association, 1124 Macca-bee Building.

Unity students and all who are seeking spiritual help are welcome and experiences, questions and individual expression are invited in the classes.

The statement of truth used for realization in the classes is the one which is used in all Unity classes and centers throughout the world.

"I am now in the presence of pure Being, and immersed in the Holy Spirit of life, love and wisdom."

"I acknowledge Thy presence and Thy power, O, blessed Spirit. In Thy divine wisdom now erase my mortal beliefs and from Thy pure substance of love bring into manifestation my world, according to Thy perfect law."

"Mind is the common meeting ground of God and man. It is the study of mind that reveals God. God may be inferentially known by studying the creation that springs from Him, but know His as a child knows his father, man must come consciously into the place in mind that is common to both man and God."

The scriptural reference used as the foundation for all Unity teaching is John 8:32. "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

Scholarship Money Helps Eighteen College Students

Scholarship money is helping 18 members of 1940 graduating classes of Grosse Pointe High Schools meet their expenses at various colleges and universities this fall.

Pearce Chambers, who won the $100 cash scholarship from the Frederick M. Alger Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is attending the University of Michigan. Pearce also has a scholarship given by the local University of Michigan Alumni Association.

Also attending Michigan, assisted by scholarships from Grosse Pointe University of Michigan alumni, are Carson Grunewald and William Schmidt. Carson holds in addition the $50 Horace Rackham award, and Bill was awarded a $100 Mothers' Club scholarship.

Sue Stephenson of the February class is using her $100 scholarship, granted the Student Association of the University of Michigan.

Phyllis Elsworth entered U. of M. through the aid of the Mothers' Club major scholarship of $200.

Mothers' Club scholarships of $100 each are also helping Marilyn Rosselle, who attends Michigan State; Dorothy Robbins, who entered Wayne; Dorine Shaw, who attends Adrian; Sherman O'Neill, who is at Wayne, and Bette Jeanne Stoner, who attends Michigan State. Miss Robbins was also awarded a tuition scholarship by Wayne.

Bruce Bockstans and Geraldine Rowley are at Oberlin College on scholarships won from organizations connected with their college.

Partial scholarships from the institution helped James Barnes, February, 1940, enter the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Highway Dept. Studies Plan To Cut Downtown Parking Congestion

The Michigan State Highway Department is now surveying Detroit's downtown parking problem in connection with department plans now under way to relieve traffic congestion by building express highways.

In co-operation with the Yale University Bureau for Street traffic research, Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner recently had aerial photographs taken of the entire central business district at two-hour intervals from 6 a. m. to 4 p. m. during an average week day.

When assembled into a "mosaic strip map," these photographs will enable the department to count the total number of vehicles of all types on streets and in parking lots at each of the six periods.

At the same time that each of the six sets of photographs were taken field workers checked on vehicles parked in downtown garages, said Van Wagoner. Thus the assembled data will give a complete picture of parking requirements and capacities

The Grosse Pointe Congregational Church

Last Sunday the Rev. Charles W. Scheid, pastor of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, preached on the subject "We Live by Symbols." Mr. Scheid said, "There are many symbols in life varying from the ordinary crossed bars which stop at the railroad crossing to the numerous political symbols which call upon us for allegiance to the symbol of the cross which symbolizes devotion to the highest and the best. Within the past week Sir Wilfred Grenfell completed his work for Labrador. He symbolizes for the followers of the way, what it means to live by the cross. He gives himself without reservation or condition to serving his fellowmen and his Lord with his last full measure of devotion." The service was completed with the celebration of the Lord's Supper.
