Four Fatalities In Past 8 Weeks Shows Urgent Need For Safety Drive

Influenced by the staggering toll of deaths and injuries in automobile accidents on Grosse Pointe streets in the past two months, local police authorities, public officials, and leading citizens are seriously considering the possibility of launching a community-wide safety drive.

With the tragic fate of two young Grosse Pointe residents, killed in a crash last Thursday morning, bringing the death total in the last eight weeks to four fatalities and over a score of injuries, it is quite obvious that safety campaign steps are inevitable.

Commenting on the grave situation, Grosse Pointe Park Police Chief Henry W. Piel believes that excess speed is undoubtedly the cause of the recent wave of needless crashes. For a photographic portrayal of four of these serious accidents, turn to page 5.

At a meeting of his officers last week, Piel stated: "Speed has got to be controlled and speed laws must be strictly enforced, especially in the early morning hours."

Remark that his men have received exacting orders in this respect, Piel issued a warning to all speed limit violators. "Any driver receiving a speeding ticket in Grosse Pointe Park will be shown no leniency and will be punished to the full extent of the law!"

Toy Club Starts Annual Xmas Drive Urging "Not A Kid Without A Toy"

For the eighth consecutive year the Toy Club has opened its annual drive for memberships. "Not a kid without a toy for Christmas," is the clarion call that will rally all members to renew their memberships for 1940.

Ernest A. Froese, Gratiot Township Supervisor, stated early this week that he was too busy making plans for two skating ponds for Gratiot Township, along with his personal business rush, to enter into any worthy battle with Township Treasurer Jones.

Herman Rouek, chairman of the township zoning committee, remarked that he will address an open letter to Mr. Jones, asking him to clarify a few of his remarks such as the general fund being low. Rouek stated that Jones has drawn nearly $500 in advance on his wages, which could cause the fund to be low, and will ask Mr. Jones if a shortage exists at this time.

Rouek's open letter will be published in next week's issue of The Grosse Pointe Review.

At the present time, there are 1,464 students enrolled in the high school, and 4,743 enrolled in the entire Grosse Pointe public school system.

New Kresge 5 & 10 Store Opens Saturday In City Of Grosse Pointe

When Grosse Pointe goes shopping on Kercheval avenue Saturday, November 23rd, one of the big attractions will be the new, modern Kresge 5 and 10 store at 16931 Kercheval.

The large, beautiful store will throw open its doors to the public on Saturday, displaying to the crowds, which enter a shopping center that should prove popular with those who desire comfortable, economical and convenient shopping.

As shoppers wander from counter to counter, and pause at the many interesting departments, they will be impressed with the conveniences and modern features to be found here.

Approaching the new store one sees an attractive building with light masonry facade and piers. Across the front is a red porcelain enamel sign with Kresge's "5 and 10" in gold leaf letters prominently displayed. Four-foot show windows with stainless steel sash bars and linoleum covered columns create an appealing setting for the interesting assortments of merchandise displayed.

Upon entering the store a broad expanse of cheerfully decorated, gaily lighted sales space, totaling more than 5,000 square feet, confronts the visitor. The attractively finished fixtures and trim, with buff walls and white ceiling, blend harmoniously, and tend to increase the roomy atmosphere.

Grosse Pointe can take lengthy shopping lists to the new Kresge store and find little difficulty in filling most of the items required. More than 40 departments are featured, each under the capable supervision of sales ladies who understand the public's wishes, and who endeavor to make shopping easy and enjoyable.

The new store will be managed by H. B. Cunningham, of 840 Neff Road, City of Grosse Pointe.

Compared to the Kresge Company's modern stores of today, the first Kresge store which Sebastian S. Kresge opened in Detroit in 1897, was a very small and unpretentious establishment.

Yet it was there that Mr. Kresge saw his idea of selling merchandise at five and ten cents begin to bear fruit. Up until that time the public had little opportunity to put its small change to much productive use, and it welcomed (See KRESGE on Page Eight)

State Unemployment Commission Warns Against False Agents

John C. Townsend, executive director of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission, revealed earlier this week that certain Detroit credit houses are "calling benefit claimants and misrepresenting themselves in order to secure certain information."

Townsend declared that "these credit houses are misrepresenting themselves as being agents of this commission in order to secure information as to where a man or woman may be working."

"All claimants are asked to notify the commission immediately of any such calls," Townsend said, "and are asked to secure the name and the telephone number, whenever possible, of any person who calls them for such information."

The commission, Townsend explained, does not call any claimant to ask him where he is employed, since such information is always available to the commission through reports received from employers.

Thanksgiving Day In 1940 Emphasizes Vast Freedom American Citizens Enjoy

The sun will arise Thanksgiving morning, November 21, 1940, on a troubled and worried world!

With war in all its horror raging on three continents, great nations are poised, teeth bared at each other's throat!

Priceless and century-old monuments, institutions and heritages are slowly crumbling before man-made instruments of annihilation and horror!

With our civilization seemingly on the brink of destruction, this particular Thanksgiving Day has assumed unprecedented importance. We here in America have everything for which to be thankful!

Safely past an important national task, the election of President, Americans can well be proud of the fact that we still maintain the right to make such a choice.

Unoccupied New Home Destroyed By Fire

Fire of unknown origin swept through the partially completed house at 1087 Sunningdale Drive early last Friday morning, inflicting considerable damage before being brought under control by Grosse Pointe Woods firemen.

At 2:45 a. m., a Grosse Pointe Shores police officer patrolling his beat in a scout car noticed the reflection of flames on the fire hydrant in the area.

Under the direction of Assistant Fire Chief Harry Dross, the Woods' volunteer fire fighters turned out of bed and into action. Hampered by numerous air ducts that fanned and spread the conflagration, Dross and his five-man crew managed to confine the flames to one section of the residence. In all, nearly five hours of work was required to completely extinguish the stubborn blaze.

The damaged home was in the final stages of construction, and the owner, Henry J. Schulte Jr., had contemplated early occupancy.

Bill Allard, 21-year-old volunteer suffered several torn hip ligaments when he fell into an uncovered 10-foot basement window cavity shortly after starting work. Allard, who lives at 2024 Hawthorne, was taken to Saratoga General Hospital for examination, but returned to the fire later in the morning.

Mistaking the flames' reflection for the sunrise, a sleepy nearby resident realized his humorous mistake when Woods firemen arrived on the scene and started unrolling their equipment.

peace loving Pilgrims, America has held aloft its symbol of democracy for over three centuries. A haven for the persecuted and down trodden, America has prospered and grown strong on its hallowed basic principals of Democracy; freedom of speech, of worship, of education, and of equal justice under law!

Strong in world affairs, the United States shines as a bright beacon burning staunchly in today's dark and sinister clouds of hatred and destruction. Across the Atlantic ocean, another valiant nation is day by day giving freely of its life blood in the death struggle of Democracy versus Totalitarianism! With the faith of God in their hearts, Americans and English alike will never lose sight of their hard-won freedom!

Abundant with truth and righteousness, the Constitution of the United States begins; "We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do hereby ordain and establish this Constitution."

So, on this joyous day of gratitude, with the fruits of the harvest of another peaceful year in mind, let us harken to the democratic ideals of the immortal Scotch poet Robert Burns: "The rank is but the guinea's stamp; The man's the gold for a' that."

"God bless America, the land of the free and the home of the brave!"

High School Enrollment Shows 165 New Students

One of every nine of the students in Grosse Pointe High School this semester is new to the school system. Of the 165 new enrollments, 132 students did not reside in Grosse Pointe last year.

More than one-fourth of the newcomers were in non-public schools last year, and the 66 schools attended by the new students last year were in 25 different states scattered from Massachusetts to California.

Competition Between Rival Gardeners Keen; De Petris' New Blooms Well Received

The Queen of Autumn flowers once again held court to an admiring public at the 24th annual chrysanthemum exhibition this past week-end, November 16 and 17, at the Neighborhood Club with total attendance for the two days reaching over 2,017.

Sponsored by the Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society, these shows are always noteworthy for excellent material and fine staging, and the latest of the series was no exception.

The large gymnasium at Neighborhood Club formed a fine setting for the massed groups, specimen and standard plants, and numerous arrangements of gorgeous chrysanthemums, in all their varying types of form and color.

Giant exhibition blooms aroused many exclamations of delight, but the miniature varieties also received their full share of approval.

Competing in the general schedule of classes were the following estates with gardeners, who were awarded the coveted blue ribbons for their entries:

- Mrs. W. W. Knight, Perrysburg, Ohio—Thomas Wilson.
- Mrs. Lawrence D. Buhl—Theodore Kalkhoff.
- Mrs. Truman H. Newberry—Roy Berry.
- Emory L. Ford—Ernest Wolff.
- Mrs. E. B. Whitcomb—William Crichton.
- Mrs. Walter O. Briggs, Bloomfield Hills—Ernest Marsh.
- Mrs. E. S. Evans—Fred Martin.
- Mrs. John S. Newberry—Richard Sayward.
- Mrs. E. A. Turnbull—William P. Thomas.
- Charles T. Fisher, Grosse Ile—Stanley Davies.
- Mrs. John B. Ford Jr.—Charles McDonald.
- Judges were William C. Symons, Harry Cartwright and Charles E. Farrow.

In a section devoted to garden clubs, for six classes in artistic arrangement, competition was extremely keen, with entries from members of The Garden Club of Michigan, The Little Garden Club, Grosse Pointe Branch of The Women's National Farm and Garden Association, Junior League Garden Club and Detroit Garden Center.

Mrs. David D. Dunlop and Mrs. A. F. Allmayer were the jurors with Mrs. Harold Baker acting as secretary.

Class I—Arrangement of white flowers in any container; colored centers permitted: First prize, Mrs. V. R. DePetris; second, Mrs. John S. Newberry; third, Mrs. D. M. Ferry Jr.

Class II—Line arrangement of foliage with chrysanthemums for accent, in any container: First prize, Mrs. D. M. Ferry Jr.; second, Mrs. C. G. Chapin; third, Mrs. Roy D. Chapin.

Class III—Modern arrangement in any suitable container: First prize, Mrs. John S. Newberry; second, Mrs. C. W. Naas; third, Mrs. D. M. Ferry Jr.

Class IV—Mass arrangement of any flowers, in any container: First prize, Mrs. Roy D. Chapin; second, Mrs. J. R. Angell; third, Mrs. Lawrence D. Buhl.

Class V—Arrangement of gourds and any other material suitable for a Thanksgiving centerpiece: First prize, Mrs. John S. Newberry; second, (No second award); third, Mrs. Raymond H. Berry.

Class VI—Arrangement of dried plant material in any container: First prize, Mrs. John S. Newberry; second, Mrs. D. M. Ferry Jr.; and Mrs. C. W. Naas; third, Mrs. Frank Lambert and Mrs. V. R. DePetris.

Another division in arrangements was restricted to children of Grosse Pointe community, and staged under the supervision of Miss Pauline Masak, for which prizes were donated by Mrs. John V. Redfield.

In this Mrs. Allan Sheldon, Mrs. Harold Baker and Vincent R. DePetris acted as judges. First prizes went to Jane Senick and Geraldine Trongo; seconds to Dolores Moore and Virginia Clinton; thirds to Charlotte Brace and Marie Van Slembrouck.

Several special classes were judged in the evening by Stanley Davies, Maurice W. Haven and William C. Jones, who awarded blue ribbons to Roy Berry for "A Dinner Table Centerpiece" and to Mrs. William P. Thomas for "A Vase of Chrysanthemums suitable for a Living Room, arranged for Effect."

A second award to Ben Nankervis for a centerpiece and a first award to Mrs. Roy Berry and second to Mrs. William P. Thomas in a class restricted to gardeners' wives only, calling for a luncheon table arrangement.

Presented to the show was a choice basket of chrysanthemums from Mrs. Harry N. Torrey; a bowl of Passiflora Caerulea and standard chrysanthemums from the Edgar B. Whitcomb Estate, and a table of begonias (variety sempervirens) from Charles T. Fisher.

Vincent R. DePetris, Grosse Pointe hybridist, in a striking stage setting, displayed many of his novelties and recent introductions centering around a large vase of the golden yellow "Pensrod." Others were "Athena" a single strawberry pink; "Bronze Prospect," a pompon and "Nevada," a white anemone with delicate green center.

Pointe Librarian Addresses High School English Classes

"Libraries are established to distribute books and materials to all classes of people, and are one of the most democratic projects in existence," Miss Florence Severs, head of the Grosse Pointe libraries, told Grosse Pointe High School's senior English classes in a recent speech.

The history of various libraries, including those of Grosse Pointe, was traced as rather backward in establishing a library, in spite of the fact that the Michigan constitution gives power to establish one in every school district. Miss Severs, who came here in 1928, was the first professional librarian in Grosse Pointe.

The necessity of having a versatile nature in order to be a librarian was pointed out by Miss Severs. One must like children, take part in community affairs, like to work with people, and be interested in literature.

"As a result of the work of the American, Melville Dewey, whose decimal system is used in libraries throughout the world, the library system of the United States is considered first in progressiveness," said Miss Severs.

Van Kleeck Links Work Of Teachers, Librarians

The work of librarians and the work of teachers are coming to be more and more alike, E. R. Van Kleeck, Grosse Pointe school superintendent, told members of the Michigan Library Association during their annual meeting in Grosse Pointe on Friday, November 8.

"We teachers, if we are good teachers, are becoming more and more librarians, in the sense that we are making, in all subjects of instruction, continually greater use of the treasures stored up within the covers of books," Van Kleeck said.

The librarians met for morning and afternoon sessions in the John D. Pierce Junior High School, after which they lunched at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and were later entertained in the Pierce home economics department at tea. Local arrangements were in charge of the Grosse Pointe public librarians under the chairmanship of Miss Florence Severs. Dr. Marian Fitz-Simons, psychologist for the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, was the principal speaker in the afternoon sessions.

Grosse Pointe Traffic Accident Toll---4 Fatalities In Last 8 Weeks

Two Die When Speeding Car Hits Tree

Death struck down two young Grosse Pointe residents in this gruesome crash early last Thursday morning, when the speeding car struck a roadside tree.

Traffic Safety Campaign Imperative As Mounting Deaths Become Menace

Township Justice Victor H. De Baeke has been levying stiff fines and many license revocations, and will change fines to jail sentences in an effort to reduce careless driving on Grosse Pointe streets.

According to De Baeke, high school age traffic violators have been receiving probation sentences plus the suspension of driving privileges. In the future, probation terms will be lengthened, De Baeke stated.

The privilege of settlement of traffic violation tickets at police departments in Grosse Pointe Park, Grosse Pointe Farms and Grosse Pointe Shores has been suspended for school children, De Baeke remarked, adding that youthful violators must appear in court, where suspension of driving privileges will be the sentence, rather than fines.

The advent of winter weather conditions has added slippery, ice-coated streets to driving hazards, and motorists must now exercise double caution at all times.

Cautioning merchants against overdoing outside Christmas decorations,

State Highway Commissioner G. Donald Kennedy has stated:

"From requests pouring into the offices of the state highway department for information on regulations covering the installation of Christmas decorations, it would appear that cities and towns throughout the state are apparently preparing to deck their streets in holiday attire."

Kennedy remarked that colored lights were not ruled out by the department, but that they must be used so as not to obscure traffic signs and signals and so that they will not confuse motorists looking for the regular traffic lights at intersections.

In co-operation with the State Highway Department and Detroit police officials, The Grosse Pointe Review definitely approves of safety campaign plans, and we are open to any suggestions as to how we may contribute our part.

Traffic safety can be brought about in Grosse Pointe, but conditions will not improve until motorists realize that the lawful speed is the only safe speed.

Wendell J. Smith, 26, of 14115 E. Jefferson, died of injuries suffered in this head-on collision at Jefferson and Westchester on October 28. Smith's head was forced through the windshield by the force of the crash, leaving the jagged hole pictured above.

A young couple barely escaped death in this smash-up near Balfour and Essex recently. The driver lost control, the car hurtling the curb and smashing full force into a tree. A 29-year-old girl occupant sustained a fractured skull, a fractured jaw, and internal injuries.

A 16-year-old lad was killed in this crash early Sunday morning, September 22, when the driver lost control near Nottingham and Charlevoix, while traveling at a high rate of speed.

Pedestrian Suicides

Accident records for this year throughout the country indicate that the pedestrian has become the major safety headache for officials charged with the difficult task of saving lives on the nation's streets and highways. In Detroit this year approximately three-fourths of the traffic fatalities have been pedestrians.

One of the most certain methods of committing suicide is attempting to cross a street in absolute defiance of the rules of safety and the laws governing the rights and duties of pedestrians.

An important city ordinance enacted for the protection of the public on foot requires that the motorist overtaking a street car stopping to receive or discharge passengers at an unprotected safety zone must bring his vehicles to a full stop 10 feet behind the car. The motorist must then wait before proceeding until such passengers have either boarded the street car or reached the adjacent curb.

The effect of this law is nullified, however, if the pedestrian does not wait on the curb until the street car has stopped, or makes a sudden dash for the curb after it has started in front of automobiles lawfully proceeding on their way.

Unprotected safety zones are not as safe as their designation implies. On dark or stormy nights, with the street poorly lighted, it is inviting sudden death to leave the curb and stand in one of these zones.

Streets are primarily for vehicular traffic. Only under those conditions prescribed by law and ordinary common sense are they safe for pedestrian traffic.

Michigan Schedules Construction Of First Military Highway

The State Highway Department announced this week that plans are under way for extension of the contract for construction of the nation's first military highway at Fort Custer, near Battle Creek.

The department's action followed a suggestion by Thomas H. MacDonald, commissioner of the Public Roads Administration in Washington, that the present project be extended to keep pace with additional expansion of Fort Custer facilities. Deputy State Highway Commissioner Harry C. Coons has been at Fort Custer making arrangements for the contract extension. Actual start on the additional construction will depend upon approval of authorizations now being submitted to the Chicago office of the Public Roads Administration and approval by the state administrative board.

The work in Fort Custer involves the construction of a four-lane divided highway. The original project was for 12.3 miles, and the contract price was $219,540. The extension will call for approximately two miles of additional work.

Remember motorists, the only safe speed is one at which your vehicle can be brought to a stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

Sets Own Damages

Farmer Marvin Foulke informed the motorist whose car had gone through his fence that he "guessed" $5 would pay for repairs. "No, sir," replied the driver. "I own a farm and I know how much fences cost. And another thing, there ought to be a law against issuing a driver's license to persons who chew tobacco. I was opening the door of my car to spit when this happened." Whereupon the motorist spat again, handed Foulke $10 and drove on.

High School Advisors Visit Local Freshmen At U. of M.

Principal Cleminson And Five Teachers Interview 23 Grosse Pointe Students

Principal Walter Cleminson, Mrs. Ruth Flom, William Mann, Vincent Peterson, Charles Saltzer and Sterling Shoemaker of Grosse Pointe High School visited Ann Arbor last Thursday to consult with former Grosse Pointe High students, now freshmen at the University of Michigan.

More than 150 principals and teachers from 96 high schools in four states, attended the conferences, in addition to representatives from 19 other colleges and junior colleges invited to interview transfer students at the University from their schools. Approximately 675 freshmen at the University were interviewed by their former principals.

The consultation plan, which has been in operation for 13 years, is intended to bring about closer understanding and cooperation between high schools and the University, according to Registrar Ira M. Smith, sponsor of the plan.

High school teachers are enabled through these conferences to detect needs in local educational systems and to become more familiar with university methods. University instructors are also aided in studying preparatory school methods and in the solution of the problems of freshmen.

University freshmen from Grosse Pointe High this year are Marilyn B. Bell of 246 Ridgmont, Julius W. Berns of 1240 Bedford avenue, David O. Eyre of 459 McKinley Road, Carson C. Grunwald of 907 Fisher Road, Mary C. Hughes of 124 Meadow Lane, H. James Johnson of 519 Washington avenue, Henry D. Kaine of 1079 Balfour place, Sidney L. Kaplan of 858 Lakepointe, Marjorie A. Kaufmann of 797 Bedford Road, William P. Kreidler of 633 Lincoln Road, John D. Lynch Jr., of 1025 Yorkshire, William R. Ludwig of 1137 Kensington, Binning P. Chambers of 744 Rivard Blvd., Dorothy E. Treadwell of 1337 Berkshire, Marcellus J. Walker of 1144 Berkshire Road, Paul A. Meyer Jr., of 777 Fisher street, Sally G. Morton of 1386 Harvard, William L. Schmidt of 1808 Roslyn, Shirley G. Schreck of 894 Westchester, Alvin G. Sherman Jr., of 216 Lakeland, Susan E. Stephenson of 359 McKinley, James A. Sterling Jr., of 721 Balfour and Arlie R. Trahern Jr., of 380 Fisher Road.

Park Resident Acclaims Rabaut Election Victory; Strikes 'Economy Group'

In the aftermath of political discussion following the November election, The Grosse Pointe Review has received this interesting open letter from an outspoken Grosse Pointe Park resident concerning the re-election of Louis C. Rabaut to the 14th District's seat in Congress:

AN OPEN LETTER TO CONGRESSMAN RABAUT

"Dear Mr. Rabaut:

"The election is over! Only a candidate can appreciate the full purport of that sentence. It is natural, following your splendid victory, that the words should have a special ring of gladness for you. But to me, there was something very significant in the election and in your victory.

"Perhaps, in the joy and confusion after your triumph, you overlooked two important facts. One was normal and expected, the other was abnormal and paradoxical.

"The former fact relates to the overwhelming vote of confidence which was given to you, with special reference to the more than 23,000 majority. Because of your splendid record this was normal and expected. In only six years your ability has merited you prestige in the House of Representatives. You have attained the chairmanship of the Legislative committee of the important appropriations committee, and in this capacity you have received the commendation not only of the speaker, the majority leader, and your colleagues, but also of prominent Republicans. Your opposition to the first re-organization bill showed that you were no 'rubber stamp'. The splendid historical report relative to the addition of six justices to the Supreme Court, which you mailed to the thousands who addressed you on the subject showed independence of judgment. But perhaps the one point in your record most appreciated by the people of this District is your attitude on foreign affairs. Your efforts to keep this country neutral and at peace are exemplified in your votes in favor of the original Neutrality Act and against the lifting of the arms embargo. The mothers, in particular, recall with gratitude your opposition to the Conscription Act. The workers refer to your support of the principles of the Wagner Act and the Wage and Hour Act. The older people appreciate your attitude on Social Security legislation and your strong fight to secure advantages for those persons with dependents who are 45 years of age or older. The unemployed are grateful for your work in their behalf for adequate WPA appropriations. Business men of all industrial Detroit remember the benefits which they received from your strong support of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements program. These are only a few of the national issues in which you truly represented this District.

"Now, allow me to refer to the abnormal and paradoxical fact of the election. In the Township of Grosse Pointe the majority of the people voted for your opponent. Most of them have been denouncing the Roosevelt Administration for extravagance. Many of them have joined the Economy League or groups of a similar nature which bemoaned the rising debt. Yet wending their inconsistent path to the polls on election day, they voted against the greatest economy record in Congress! For two consecutive years your Legislative subcommittee made the greatest percentage cuts in the budget estimates. Last year it was a reduction of more than 10 per cent, this year it was more than 9 per cent. No other subcommittee even approached this record, for many of the appropriation bills were substantially over the budget recommendations. For your work in this respect an unprecedented tribute was yours when Representative Robert F. Rich, Republican of Pennsylvania, stated from the floor of the House: 'Congressman Rabaut displayed business judgment and ability in everything he did in handling the hearings and I have not seen anything like it in years.'

"If the vote of the Grosse Pointers is to be considered as their repudiation of your record, and since you have a record of economy, then they are repudiating the very thing that they rant about the most. Is this consistent? Is this intelligent voting? Or, are we to understand that although 'economy' is shouted, actually increased expenditures are desired?

"Personally, I have followed your record assiduously and I heartily approved, and I am glad that the majority of the people heartily approved and voted for you. For now we shall have at least two more years of sincere and conscientious representation in the Congress of the United States.

"Faithfully yours,
"MAXWELL C. LAFFREY,
"1176 Grayton Road,

Junior Red Cross Plans National Drive

There is a national movement under way at the present time to establish a Junior Red Cross Organization throughout all the schools of the country. Recently a meeting was held to organize the schools of Grosse Pointe. Miss Hendricks, from the national headquarters in St. Louis, recently spoke to a group of teachers representing all the schools of Wayne County.

The Junior Red Cross is a unit intended to expand and supplement the work of the Senior Red Cross. The Junior Red Cross is a citizenship and character building program and has a membership of 16,500,000 young people in the schools of some 40 nations, including all grades from kindergarten through high school.

The objectives of the Junior Red Cross for the entire world are:

1. To guide altruistic tendencies of youth.
2. To give practice in assuming social and civic responsibility.
3. To teach and stress the social aspects of health.
4. To promote world friendship.

In the near future, it is hoped that more schools in Grosse Pointe will become a part of the Junior Red Cross. Miss Gertrude Hunt of Trombly School has organized her group as a unit of the Junior Red Cross. The Pierce Junior High and the high school have started their organization.

The Junior Red Cross is used as a teaching aid and is to be an integral part of our school program. The participation in community life, primary classes may make birthday and Mothers' Day cards for persons in old folks' home, scrap books and toys for children's hospitals. National service activities include covers for Braille books and greeting cards to be sent to state institutions for blind students. (Books and cards are furnished by the national Red Cross office in Washington, D. C.). High schools and junior high schools may provide Christmas menu covers for the U. S. Navy. (An individual vessel is assigned by the national Red Cross). Bedside bags, games, greeting cards and holiday tray favors to be used by patients of the Veterans Army and Navy hospitals. International service activities include group correspondence in the exchanging of portfolios of children's work with schools of 40 nations. The national Red Cross provides transportation and translation free of charge for schools enrolled in the Junior Red Cross. The Junior Red Cross was first formed in 1917.

Gold Nugget
A prospector who refused to give his name or tell where he was working appeared at Marysville, Calif., to have a gold nugget, which he had dug up, weighed by Frank Mooney, local gold buyer. It weighed 15 ounces and was valued at $525, making it second in size and value to the $600 "horned toad" found two years ago. The nugget bore just one scar from the miner's pick as he brought it up.

'Organizing for Defense'

By LEE BALINER

The seven-man defense commission has been handed the job of organizing industry for the production of a two-coast navy and also equipment for a 1,200,000-man army. The responsibility is large here because it not only requires the placing of many billion dollars worth of contracts, but also the Herculean task of re-arranging "geography" so that the most vital industrial plants will not turn out to be in the most vulnerable spots for an attacking enemy aggressor.

At the outset the manufacturing of aircraft is and will remain vital, but the largest producers of aircraft engines center in Connecticut and New Jersey. The principal producers of aircraft frames center in Connecticut, New Jersey and California. Complete airplanes may therefore be produced in the east but engines must be shipped all the way to California for equal complete aircraft production on the west coast. Both east and west locations are obviously vulnerable. The government, therefore, plans to build new plants distributed at intervals between the Appalachians and the Rockies.

Ammunition, explosives and firearms are now made principally in New England and New Jersey. There is a slight spotting of powder makers through the central states and west coast states. Many industrial plants will be scheduled throughout the central states to make guns and parts which normally are engaged in making articles no more war-like than spark plugs or electric refrigerators. Here is a big job alone in adapting and co-ordinating.

Chemical plants are clustered around the Great Lakes Region and east to the Atlantic coast. In the last war we had a distinctive chemical industry. Since that time chemical plants have sprung up all over the country. At present the industry is well equipped for production of everything except toilet and smokeless powder.

The group of machine and precision tools is the nation's production bottleneck. It is grouped around the Great Lakes and east through Pennsylvania into New England. It cannot be shifted in location but must be increased in production capacity.

Armaments and Navy yards, now operating at capacity, are mainly concentrated on the eastern seaboard north of "Mason and Dixon." There is one Navy yard in South Carolina, one in California, one in Washington and one general in Illinois. The "thirteen colonies" are all out, but the rest of the country will need attention in order to provide for being in a position for expansion and defense.

We have plenty of gasoline and fuel oil. It is a concern, however, that the principal concentrations are on the Atlantic, West and Gulf Coasts. Tanks, airplane engines, guns and shells will be a mass production problem and "motorless" clustered in Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin will be called upon for the bulk of the job. The manufacturing capacity for tractors, cranes, agricultural implements and electrical machinery concentrated in the north central states from New England to the Mississippi, has enormous expansion possibility with present facilities and will probably soon be included in the big schedule more extensively. The famous ship yards on the Atlantic are teeming with activity. The scattered yards on the West Coast are being re-equipmented. Copper processors are located at the mines, in the Rocky Mountain states and Michigan. The very important optical equipment such as range finders, aircraft height finders, etc., stand fourth on the list of defense bottle necks.

Largest Bloom at Show

The biggest "mam" at the Grosse Pointe show may be judged by comparing it with the youngster's head. The bloom was colored light yellow and measured 8 1/4 inches across. An exhibit from the greenhouse of Mrs. E. B. Whitcomb, it won first prize as the largest bloom.

Bridge Party Benefits Old Newsboys' Fund

The ninth annual bridge party, sponsored by girls of the Union Guardian

Table prizes and 300 door prizes will be awarded.

Kresge

As business increased the Kresge store was compelled to expand naturally. That expansion has been constant and rapid during the past 43 years as proved by the fact that today there are 743 Kresge stores conveniently located to serve thrifty shoppers in the United States and Canada.

Robert R. Williams, president of the company, has held that office since 1938. He succeeded C. B. Van Dusen, who had followed S. S. Kresge, the founder. Mr. Kresge is now chairman of the board.

Other officials of the company include: C. B. Tuttle, senior vice-president and treasurer; F. R. Wertman, H. H. Servis and C. E. Holzworth, vice-presidents, and D. C. Fisher, C. B. Van Dusen, H. C. Baldwin and R. A. Bell, directors.
