National Yacht Races Will Be Held Here On August 23, 24

The national championship races of the "110" Class Yacht Racing Association will be held on Lake St. Clair off the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on Aug. 23 and 24, it was announced Tuesday by Jean F. Mesritz, recently-elected vice-president of the national organization and secretary of the Detroit "I10" Association.

Mesritz, who lives at 1/102 avenue, City of Grosse Pointe, attended the first annual meeting of the new "110" Yacht Racing Association in New York City on Jan. 14 and entered a bid for Detroit.

Mesritz' offer was accepted and the Detroit "110" Association is now formulating plans for this important yachting event. Racing fleets from all over the United States have pledged to send their local champion, and "110" skippers from Boston, Marblehead, Chicago, Rye, and Los Angeles are expected to enter the competition. The "110," yachting fastest growing sail class, is scarcely a year old, but already over 200 boats have been launched and 10 fleets are now spread over the waterways of the land.

Boat's Features Told Designed by C. Raymond Hunt, the '110" is radically proportioned and exremely fast, yet easy to handle and unusually seaworthy in rough weather. Mesritz, John Hutchinson, and Clark Wormer were the first to introduce the "110" to Detroit's sailboat enthusiases and were amazed at their rapid success. On March 17, 1940, the three men placed an initial order of 17 "110" hoats with the well-known yacht building concern. George Lawley and Son. At the present time, there are 22 "110's" in Detroit waters and the Grosse Pointe Yacht club has adopted the new model as the official club boat.

Prominent among the local "110" owners are Gilbert Pingree, Harrison T. Watson, Jack Hock, and Kenneth Crit-

By THEUS J. MLQUEEN

(Special to The Grosse Pointe Review) CULEBRA, Puerto Rico, Feb. 10 -The Atlantic fleet of the United States navy left this proving ground of Marine corps "wars" early this morning, sailing well into the Caribbean to prepare for the biggest "assault" of the current maneuvers and one in which the marines will attempt to dislodge an enemy" and capture the island.

The landing will be the fifth in which nembers of the 17th Battalion (including several residents of Grosse Pointe and vicinity) have made since leaving Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, on Jan. 21. It has been hinted that the forthcoming affair will be the most exciting yet, and one that may require a week or more to complete. This means that those participating must conserve energy whenever possible during the first discussed for the state assembly, which to complete the problem.

The outstanding feature of the twoday "encounter," from my observations, was the perfect functioning of all units engaged in the "attack."

Now, Let's Get Back To Work

By a vote of more than two-to-one, Grosse Pointe Park citizens have decided that their present form of village government is still good enough for them. To emphasize their opinion about this matter, they gave a heavy plurality vote to Commissioner C. A. "Cap" Freffer, who had unequivocally opposed the city incorporation plan. Commissioner D. J. Leithauser, who made strenuous last minute efforts to gather votes for the proposition, was relieved of his commissionership. Thus ends the 1941 attempt of Messrs. Wehmeier, Moreland, Fruehauf and the Citizens Association of Grosse Pointe

Park to effect another governmental change.

The smoke of battle has cleared away. It will take a little while to heal up all of the wounds that any campaign as vigorous as the one just finished, is bound to leave. But old Father Time is a wonderful physician and we'll all be good friends again.

The victors are happy, the losers may not feel so good about it, but now that it's all over, let us be thankful for the privilege of selfdetermination that is our heritage. Let us be proud that we live in a country that settles its differences with ballots instead of bullets.

If any of our shortcomings were brought to light during this campaign, let's take the opportunity to put our house in order, so that Grosse Pointe Park will be a better place to live in. That's the plain duty of every good American citizen.

What About Bawdy Houses in Grosse Pointe Park?

One disturbing assertion has been made by Paul Moreland, president of the Citizens Association of Grosse Pointe Park. In a signed article appearing in this paper last week, Mr. Moreland intimated that two bawdy houses have been flourishing within the boundaries of the village of Grosse Pointe Park.

If this is true, what did the Citizens Association do about it? Was a report made to local authorities by them and just what action was taken? This newspaper believes that the public is entitled to all of the facts.

If such places were in existence, with the knowledge of the an excellent political barometer as connect and travel south to where Citizens Association, why did they not make the matter public at the shown by the results of Monday's vill- Windmill Pointe drive (extended) time? Pedestrian Protection — Plan Suggested to Reduce Accidents

COOPERATION IN STREET USE: To make street use convenient and safe for both motorists and pedestrians, there must be an equitable division of right-of-way. In return for pedestrians yielding the right-of-way to motorists BETWEEN INTERSECTIONS, motorists should yield right-of-way to pedestrians in crosswalks or when making right or left turns, when pedestrians are crossing on the proper signal. Motorists should also yield right-of-way to pedestrians before crossing sidewalks. At intersections where vehicle turns interfere with pedestrians, a vigorous program of education and enforcement should be instituted. -AAA Safety Features

Hoover Presents New Plans to Save Hungry in Europe

Asks British and Germans to Try Soup Kitchens in Belgium as Military Test

Chicago-(Special) New plans to save the inhabitants of the occupied democracies in Europe from starvation were presented by former President Hoover at a mass meeting, held in the Opera House Auditorium here last Eunday night. In expressing his appreciation to the two thousand public bodies who have supported this movement to aid these unfortunates, and the sixty thousand who have written letters of approval, Mr. Hoover explained the purpose of the Committee was to expose to the world the facts of the food situation and to raise a voice in behalf of those tens of millions of innocent men, women, and children, now suffering from want of nourishment.

Speaking as Honorary Chairman of the Committee on Food for the Small Democracies, he made public the proposals submitted to the British and German governments a few weeks ago, to establish Soup Kitchens in Belgium as an initial experiment to test out whether these people can be saved without military advantage to either

There is nothing new in this war "March of Hunger," Mr. Hoover told his audience. The consequences of great wars are always famine and pestilence. The World War of twenty-five years ago brought hunger to three hundred million people. In the present conflict it is coming faster and with more violence. Today nearly three hundred million people are on rations more drastic, except in Germany and Great Britain, than at the end of the third year in the last war. In this creeping famine the most immediate danger and greatest suffering is among the seventy million people in the democracies which have been overrun by the Ger man armies.

Two weeks ago the Committee's American experts in Belgium reported that within a month the city and town population consisting of over eight million people would be without for unless supplies were brought in som where, somehow. Reports from Ho land, Norway, Central Poland and fr France, indicate an extreme food she age, and Finland and Spain preserious problem.

NEW PROPOSALS

In presenting the new proposals, Hoover said, "You are aware that ti Committee has made proposals to t belligerent governments that ex pletely organised food control she be set up for the peoples on the of the last war. Those proposals would have given time to organize preven tion. Wher are the ultimate mountain. But a distracted world is slow to be lieve, and we were reluctantly com pelled to conclude that it must be confronted with ghastly reality before action could be hoped for. That ghastly reality has arrived in Belgium. Furthermore, while I do not agree to the grounds for the rejection of our previous proposals, yet if these people are to be saved, we must seek to meet those objections by proving our case

"Therefore a few weeks ago, we laid before the British and German Governments the following suggestions: "First: That we make an initial experiment in Belgium to test out whether these people can be saved without military advantage to either

'Second: That this test comprise feeding only through soup kitchens, where the people come to get their food and thus there can be no question of feeding Germans.

"Third: That at the beginning we provide for one million adults and two million children: the adults to receive half a pound of bread and an allowance of soup, the children to receive special food in addition, including preserved milk. This would require about 50,000 tons a month, of which about one-half would be breadstuffs and onehalf meats, fats, and food for children.

"Fourth: That the German Governments agree there is to be no requisition of native food.

"Fifth: Both Governments to give Relief ships immunity from attack. "Sixth: The whole to be under the supervision and checks of some neutral

"It is my belief that the Germans should cooperate to secure some breadstuffs from continental sources. But for meats, fats, and food for children there are no sources of supply on the Continent. That must come from overseas,-and that requires cooperation from the British to pass the blockade.

"If we can make this experiment work in Belgium then such a plan can be extended to the other democracies. It is primarily devoted to saving the unemployed destitute and the children. "These Governments have this plan under consideration.

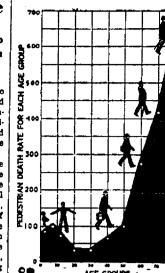

Mr. Hoover was of the opinion that the relief of these countries would not prejudice the British and would be of no gain to the Germans.

The countries benefited are not seeking charity, and would defray all expenses. The amount exported from America would simply use our surplus

"To those who say it cannot be done," said Mr. Hoover, "the reply is simple-at least let us try it and if we fail that ends our effort. To those who say, the Germans, even if they made such agreements, would yet violate them there is also a complete answer. If such a thing should occur, then we have failed and we quit."

That street crossings are especially hazardous for elderly pedestrians is one of the clearest facts in the pedestrian situation revealed in a three-year study by the American Automobile Association. Strength

ANY a weak and weary one has found comfort and strength is contemplation of the loving invitation of the Master (Matthew 11:28), 'Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." This is a call to mankind to cast out fear, doubt, and sin, and to utilize the truth that

It was his understanding of God as Spirit and of the spiritual nature of man that gave Christ Jesus dominion over sin, disease, and death. His conscious unity with God made him the Exemplar lor all time. Circumstances could form no obstacles to his right-eous activity. He walked on the water, fed the multitude, healed the sick. and raised the dead. It was no material sense of authority that enabled him to cast out the devils of unbelial hatred, and fur. The good he understood and embodied constitutions tuted his spiritual strength. . . .

An important step if one would demonstrate strength is to realize that no. I ruth, and intelligence are not in matter. Man is the image and likeness of his Maker; be is spiritual, not material, and strength is a duality of Spirit, not a condition of mat.

Weakness, weariness, fatime, and sin are barassing pictures, drawn by mortal mind, but these are not a necessary part of human experience. They persist in their claim to power, and would deceive and enslave humanity. Only the mighty power of Truth can end their tyranny. Spirit ual understanding reveals man unfettered by enslaving beliefs - up-right, pure, and free. The daily task is done with energy and freedom when we claim spiritual strength as our divine right. Fatigue is no more necessary in human experience than is sin; and both sin and fatigue are overcome by the humble acknowledgment and confident claiming of the real man's inherent purity. strength, and freedom.

No one need lack spiritual strength. The Bible is filled with examples, exhortations, and promises that furnish daily sustenance. . . . We need a better understanding of man. The weak, weary mortal whom we see bowed down with responsibility, fear, foreboding, and discour-agement is not the real man. . . . Man is spiritual, and for that reason he cannot be tired or weak. The image of Love is never tired, never under a strain, never overworked.

Worry, fear, and a false sense of responsibility do not belong to man. Man is not separate from God. . . . Like Jesus, we need to be determined to do God's will under every circumstance, in order that we may derive from God the ever-present quality of spiritual strength. We can be faithful in our consecrated effort to reflect God in every thought and deed. We should resolve calmly to use the energies of Truth in all our activities. When we strive to follow the example of our Master, we gain clearer views of Life, Truth, and

Love. The genuine strength of individuals, groups, or nations is in exact proportion to their exercise of spir-itual power. Power is not in arms, in lands, or in money. Each individual makes a real contribution to world progress when he purifies his own thought and claims abundant spiritual strength for man. Only spiritual strength can overcome the aggressive elements of thought that are abroad in the world today. Greed, pride, fear, and tyrangy are human weaknesses. Obedience to the law of God ensures genuine strength. The Scriptures say (Isaiah 40:31), "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint."

Speaking of this passage, Mary Baker
Eddy writes (Science and Health, p.
218), "The meaning of that passage is not perverted by applying it literally to moments of fatigue, for the moral and physical are as one in their results."—The Christian Science

By JUDGE THOMAS F. MAHER Of Traffic Court

The Motoriet in Search of An Acciden A driver appeared before me the other day in Traffic court charged with reckless driving. He had been apprenended while driving 55 miles per hour on Livernois avenue, early in the morning on his way to work. This particular street is one of Detroit's widest thorrate of speed. His answer, it seems to The rest decided to turn reporters, and motorists using wide thoroughfares in history of the village in which they this or any other city. He said the live. street was wide, that it was a stop street and that there seemed to him the classroom was stimulating. Parents no particular danger at that time of day in driving as fast as he was charged.

Many serious accidents occur on these wide streets which apparently the space of a month last winer, one pedestrian was killed and another seriously injured on Livernois between McNichols road and Curtis. Both accidents happened early in the morning just before sunrise, when the hazy light adds to the hazards of motoring. Unless these wide streets are to be motorists in search of an accident, the as dangerous as narrow ones. They ecome more dangerous when motor. ists using them feel a false sense of senot take on other streets. The pedestrian is a greater safety problem on wide streets, because it is difficult to cross them without being caught in the middle, and in the uncertain light of dawn or dusk a speeding motorist may not see him.

Nobody wishes to go back to the norse and buggy days and nobody wants narrow streets in preference to wide ones. But the rules of traffic safety apply to both.

Richard Pupils Study Early Pointe History

Early this Fall_the_children in Mrs. Anita Howarth's 2 and 3A rwms of Richard school studied the ways of their parents and friends in getting ready for Winter. This led to the discussion of how Grosse Pointe prepared for the past year or more to have an for Winter, and the various activities of the maintenance department.

One boy brought information to the group of the different ways his grandmother and grandfather made ready for the long Winter months. It was disoughfares and the zone in which he was covered that eight of the 21 children in traveling is marked at 35 miles per the rooms were of pioneer families in Michigan. The information they brought into visited libraries and read histories to aid in the search. It was discovered the old settlers were French and English as well as eastern Americans. Methods seem so safe to most drivers. Within of storing food and hunting were discussed. Early clothing and recreation were debated. More facts were wanted about the Grosse Pointe settlers, so maps were studied and the location of Grosse Pointe in Michigan was settled. Each child made a note book and kept information he gathered. Stories from story books, histories, and magazines come an unhappy hunting ground for were brought to school, if they held any facts of interest. Pictures depicting public both on foot and on wheels must early life in Michigan and the Detroit realize that wide streets can be just area were studied and discussed. E. G. in The Grosse Pointe Review of the Vernier home, created more interest-The picture was mounted and the story GLOVER read by all the class. A visit to the Detroit Historical museum in Barlum Tower was arranged for on Jan. 6 Through the kflindness of several room mothers, the trip was made possible. Mr. Hampton, the curator, was kept busy for over an hour answering questions of the information-seeking chillren.

During the discussion that followed the excursion, Donald Moses suggested. that they have a Grosse Pointe museum in their school room. This was agreeably accepted, and plans were made. Every spare moment was spent in painting orange crates to be used as museum cases. When all were ready, the treasures hunted from old trunks, attics and grandfathers' collections started to Richard school.

Large murals illustrating the children's conception of old Grosse Pointc and the present Grosse Pointe were painted by groups and hung on the walls. The facts collected about Grosse Pointe history were written and illustrated on a wall chart

The museum grew rapidly. The cases were filled and a table and bulletin board were needed to display some of the historical pieces.

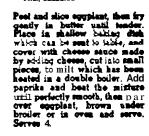

It was decided to invite all parent!; and friends to see the museum. In or. der to entertain their guests, the children wanted to have a play, followed by a tea. The play was to illustrate life in Grosse Pointe over 100 years ago. Parts of the stories written by Sara Woodruff, Dinny Piatt and Larry Figley were built into a fact play called 'The French Pioneers and the Indians." Timmy Leach suggested the name, as being most descriptive of the play and the children voted to acctpt

The interest in old Grosse Pointe is still very real. Only yesterday, Donald Schmitr suggested old Indian arrow heads had been found in the pine woods near school. The children are' now waiting ior the weather to warm up so they can make a trip to the woods, and look for themselves.
