PARK COMMISSIONER PETZOLD RESIGNS

Frozen Pipes Break, Water Floods City of G. P. Home; Property Damage Heavy

Two broken water pipes flooded and severely damaged the home of Russell B. Gray, 861 Fisher road, last Thursday afternoon, before two City of Grosse Pointe patrolmen noticed water leaking out the front door while making their daily inspection of unoccupied houses while the residents are away.

The officers, John Meathe and Clarence Blinn, summoned the city fire department, who turned off the gushing stream that had buried both the first and second floors of the house under four feet of water. "When we opened the front door, it was like the 'Johnstown Flood'," Meathe replied when asked for his impression of the mishap.

The Gray family were visiting their farm in Brighton, Mich., at the time of the accident. Gray, who is president of the Gray Hub Manufacturing company, explained the cause of the broken pipes Monday. "The automatic part of our oil burner wasn't working," he related, "and the cold spell on Monday and Tuesday of last week evidently froze the pipes till they burst."

Gray told a Review reporter that as yet, he has made no effort to contact the water company. Damage cannot be estimated till the water dries up, Gray explained. A large portion of the furniture has been ruined, the plaster on the walls has been loosened, and the wooden floors will warp and buckle, it is believed.

Both Had 'Green Light', Two Pointe Residents In Accident Claim

Claiming they both had the "green light," two middle-aged and slightly embarrassed Grosse Pointe residents confronted Farms police with an unusual case at 6 p. m. last Thursday evening when their cars collided directly underneath the traffic signal at Fisher road and Ridge.

Police officials announced that both drivers, Walter H. Hemingway, 54, of 621 Fisher road, and Adolph Wenger, 55, of 301 Touraine road, told officers at the scene of the crash that "the light had been in my favor."

Mrs. Emilie Wenger, the only passenger in either car, was taken to Cottage hospital and treated for a wrench back. At the time of the accident, Wenger was traveling west on Ridge road, and Hemingway was driving north on Fisher, Farms police pointed out. Damage to both cars was estimated at $350.

Police said that statements have been secured from several witnesses: H. E. Stenzel, of 337 McKinley road; J. H. Eichelberg, of 294 Fisher road, and M. Allard, of 197 Oak street.

Absent Voters Ballots Are Now Available City Clerk Announces

The public and especially young men in the military service who may be out of town, in camp, or other locations, are urged to take advantage of the convenient method of voting for the candidates for the city clerk's office.

It is only necessary to address a request for ballots to the city clerk, 17150 Maumee avenue, and if the applicant is duly qualified and registered, absent voters ballots will be immediately sent.

Of course, in order that such request be valid and honored, it is required that the applicant be previously registered and otherwise qualified for voting in the city.

The families of the young men in the various branches of the service are urged to ascertain whether or not such service men desire to vote and whether or not they are registered, and to secure the necessary applications and ballots for them. Application can be made to and information will be supplied from the office of Norbert P. Neff, city clerk, 17150 Maumee avenue, N. L. 5800.

Representative Vote Is Urged for April 7

Only 686 out of a total 3,442 qualified and registered electors exercised the right of franchise at the primary election held on Feb. 17, 1941, at which candidates for various important offices, including that of circuit judge, were nominated. In a community in which there exists an extremely high percentage of qualified and registered electors in proportion to the population, this is certainly not a very good example of interest on the part of the population.

The public, in view of this and in view of the extreme importance of selecting the proper officials for the positions to be filled, are urged to make every effort to express their choice by ballot at the election to be held on Monday, April 7, 1941, at the Fire Hall, 17145 Maumee avenue, between Neff and St. Clair.

In the City of Grosse Pointe, residents will vote on a special City Charter amendment, if adopted, will require that candidates for the office of mayor and council must have been registered and qualified electors for at least three years before running for such office, and will further provide that the term of the members of the council will be staggered so that the three members out of the six who receive the highest number of votes will be declared to have been elected for a four-year term, and the three candidates receiving the next highest number will be declared to have been elected for a two-year term of office. In this manner, only three council members will be elected at the city election each two years thereafter.

Registration of new residents of the City of Grosse Pointe and others qualified who have not previously registered will be taken at the office of Norbert P. Neff, city clerk, 17150 Maumee avenue, daily and until 12:00 noon, Saturday, March 29, 1941.

Dog Licenses Now On Sale At Clerk's Office

Dog licenses for the fiscal year 1941-1942 are now available at the office of Norbert P. Neff, city clerk, at 17150 Maumee avenue, and will be issued through office hours daily.

It is important to note that vaccination or immunization against rabies is a requisite in all cases before a dog can be licensed. This means that this particular animal must have been vaccinated since Jan. 1, 1941, and the duplicate copy of the immunization or vaccination record must be brought to the office of the city clerk before such license is issued.

It is understood that the cost of immunization has been increased during 1941, and for this reason owners of dogs in the City of Grosse Pointe are urged to secure such vaccination as soon as possible, and to obtain the 1941 license for their animal. The license fee for the male dog is $1.10, female $2.10, and for the unsexed animal $1.10.

Students Holding Low Draft Numbers Urged To Be Examined

Grosse Pointe college students who are home for Spring vacation and who hold low draft numbers, are being urged by C. Ernest Briggs, clerk of Board No. 57 to arrange now for their physical examinations.

Much confusion and delay will be avoided if prospective draftees have been examined by selective service physicians before the school year ends in June, Briggs believes. Board 57's first 1,300 men out of 3,161 registrants, have been mailed questionnaires, Briggs announced.

Monday, two Grosse Pointe Farms residents visited Board 57's headquarters in the Park Municipal building and volunteered together. The men are Willard J. Fulary, 22, of 153 Oak street, and Charles F. Marsack, 23, of 166 Oak street.

Julien L. Imbo, who was appointed leader of the local board's Call No. 4 of 30 men inducted on March 12, recently wrote Clark Briggs a postcard from his camp, the famed Jefferson Barracks, Missouri. Imbo, who had previously served four years in the marine corps and four years in the marine reserves, said, "As I never give up, I am hoping that I soon may re-earn my sergeant's stripes."

Shot twice through the chest and head with a shotgun at close range, a dying 28-year-old Detroit mother was rushed to Cottage hospital by her fearless assailant at 2:28 p. m. yesterday afternoon in his speeding car that tore through the heart of Grosse Pointe along Kercheval avenue and narrowly avoided hitting a score of unsuspecting local motorists and pedestrians.

The entertainment program was in charge of Phil Skillman, known as "Don Artiste". Phil and his band furnished the music. Two side-splitting acts on the program were Bob Hall, the rhyming minstrel and Bonzo, the gigantic dog. Inside of Bonzo's skin was Alfred Lytell. Bonzo did everything a dog should do, in very doglike fashion.

Mrs. Edith May Searle Passes Away At Home

Edith May Searle, 46-year-old wife of Clem Searle, passed away in her home, at 84 St. Clair avenue last Thursday morning after a short illness.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the William R. Hamilton company chapel, 3975 Cass avenue at Alexandrine street. Mrs. Searle was the daughter of Frank and the late Jessie Duchine. The couple had been married a little over 2 years, friends announced.

By Gustafson with the butt of the shotgun, police announced. The child's face was crushed and her arm was broken, hospital authorities stated. Mrs. Deveraux's husband, Leo, was at work in a Detroit factory at the time of the shooting. Clarence Blinn, City patrolman who halted a passing motorist and followed Gustafson's car, told reporters that three local women were nearly run down at the corner of St. Clair avenue. Blinn said Gustafson ran through all three red lights in the City's shopping district, and judged he was traveling at least 70 miles an hour.

National Defense Work Given As Reason, New Man Will Be Appointed

Thomas T. Petzold, Grosse Pointe Park village commissioner, who was elected to office March 11, 1940, tendered his written resignation to President Karl B. Goddard at a meeting of the commission last Monday night.

A motion by Commissioner C. A. "Cap" Pfeffer to immediately accept the resignation was passed, only after a move by Commissioner Ward S. Van Deussen to have the matter tabled until the next meeting was defeated 3 votes to 2.

Petzold, who resides at 1022 Buckingham road, stated in the resignation that he has severed Detroit business connections and intends to move his family to Washington, D.C., in order to participate in urgent national defense work. He handled the village's fire and police department affairs during his one-year term in office. Busy in the national capital all this week, the article referred to by Pfeffer and Petzold could not be reached for a statement. He is expected home Sunday.

A successor to Petzold's seat will be appointed by the commission, President Goddard stated after reading the resignation statement. Possible candidates will be discussed at an executive meeting of the commission next week, it is believed.

Pfeffer, fiery leader of the village's financial department, who vigorously fought the recent "city plan," told the commission and a good-sized audience: "I contacted Mr. Harvey Freuhauf by telephone today and asked him if he wouldn't like a job on the commission. He said he was too busy, but that's the kind of men we need on this body—busy men! Freuhauf also told me that he positively did NOT write the article which appeared under his name in the Feb. 27 issue of The Grosse Pointe News. I am glad to hear that."

The article referred to by Pfeffer and Petzold could not be reached for a statement. He is expected home Sunday.

Pfeffer, generally considered the "work-horse" of the commission, also authored two other important motions. Pfeffer asked President Goddard to appoint a committee of three prominent attorneys who are Grosse Pointe Park residents, to make a thorough study of the village's zoning ordinance and its present restrictions. Several snarks, one involving the proposed construction of a new funeral parlor, have been laid before the commission lately. Pfeffer hopes that new building restrictions will be introduced in the Park if such

The second Pfeffer motion involved the transfer of $25,000 of the village's funds to a new account at the Wabcock State Bank. Several Park residents are connected with the Wabcock bank, the commission announced.

Gang of Street Light Breakers Run Up $100 Bill in G. P. Park

An epidemic of broken street lights that has annoyed Grosse Pointe Park for the past three months was climaxed last Monday night, when seven globes were found destroyed by pellets apparently discharged from air guns.

Park police are positive that this wanton destruction is the work of an organized gang of youths traveling around the village in a car, because the broken lights are discovered in all parts of the community.

Henry W. Piel, police chief, has appealed to all Park residents to be on the alert and report any suspicious actions. Piel stated that these costly pranks were "only at night, and any person found guilty will be dealt with severely no matter who they are". Piel has urged parents whose boys or girls own air rifles to warn their children, because "any such gun found in use by kids on the street, will be taken away."

Byron J. Rockwood, Park village manager, remarked yesterday, "At least 25 globes and bulbs have been smashed in the last three months." At $4.25 for each globe and bulb broken, Park taxpayers have taken on an additional $100 expense. Warning lights at Somerset and St. Paul and at Maumee and Kensington, have also been destroyed, recently police said.

The council of Wayne county Republican Women's clubs will meet candidates for state and county offices at a meeting to be held in the home of Mrs. F. H. Heath, 78 Rickett avenue, Highland Park, tomorrow, March 28.

Mrs. Edwin C. Roraback, president, will call the meeting to order at 2 o'clock, following the board meeting at 11:30 a. m. and the potluck luncheon at 12:30 p. m.

Kennedy Seeks Election As Highway Head

Kennedy knows the job! This is the slogan Michigan Democrats have adopted in their campaign to continue in office the present state highway commissioner, G. Donald Kennedy, who is on the state ballot April 7 for both the long and short term as highway commissioner.

Kennedy became business manager and chief deputy highway commissioner eight years ago, when Governor Van Wagner first was elected highway commissioner. His was the job of carrying out the policies that changed Michigan's highway system from ordinary to best in America.

For the last six months, after succeeding Van Wagner as highway commissioner, Kennedy has laid the groundwork for a new federal-aid program of elevated and depressed express highways for the metropolitan area and the main connecting trunklines. President Roosevelt has approved Kennedy's plans for an industrial defense cross-town highway.

"The federal government recognizes Kennedy as the nation's best authority on defense highways," Governor Van Wagner said recently. "Proof of this is the fact that Kennedy drafted the entire national program for federal defense road projects, including Michigan. This program was sent to congress without change by the President."

A change in state highway administration at this time would endanger the continuation of Michigan's national record of the last eight years, Van Wagner said, and would force Michigan to start all over again in its efforts to get federal defense highway projects.

Kennedy pointed out that for eight years, his department has worked on a $30,000,000 widening program in Detroit to lay the basis for a new expressway program. The widening work will be completed this Summer.

"If our people like our past program, and our roadside parks and tourist and lakeshore roads, and want the new expressway program to start at once, Kennedy is the one man who can guarantee continued progress," Van Wagner said.

Kennedy is endorsed by the state CIO and other organized labor groups.

The Grosse Pointe Review is read every week by 35,000 readers in Grosse Pointe and Grosse Pointe Woods.

Five A Assembly

The boys and girls in Mr. Hourihan's 5A group presented a health play, "Humpty Dumpty", in assembly on Friday, March 21.

Children in the class painted stage scenery to portray the setting, King Cole's courtyard. The upper grades of Mason school and the parents of the 5A children attended the assembly.

A Trip to the Plymouth Plant

The 6B group of Mason school enjoyed a visit to the Plymouth plant recently. This visit to an automobile factory correlated with their social studies unit, "Transportation". Every-one learned many interesting facts in this complete assembly plant. The students were accompanied by Miss Marjorie Harger and John Hammel.

Kerby PTA Re-Elects Officials; Hears Talk By Traffic Director

Officers of the Kerby school PTA were re-elected at the group's annual meeting at the school last Wednesday evening, March 19. Featured speaker at the gathering was H. O. Rounds, safety and traffic director of the Automobile Club of Michigan, and founder of the schoolboy patrol movement in Detroit, which has since grown into a unit of 350,000 juvenile heroes.

Re-elected to office were Ralph B. Thomas, president, of the Speaker-Fines Printing company and also president of the Automobile Club of Michigan; Harry Barnard, vice-president; Mrs. C. Baird Johnson, treasurer and Cecil Schaffer, secretary.

Rounds, who is recognized as one of the pioneers in street and highway safety, outlined the growth of the schoolboy patrol movement from an inconspicuous beginning in 1916 to the present army of schoolboy patrols.

"Teaching safety is as important as any fundamental of education," Rounds said. "With the law of self-preservation and a good foundation in the principles of safety a youngster has a better future as an automobile driver or as a pedestrian in this automotive age. The youngster of today is a far better motorist than his parent. This is because the schools have recognized the importance of preparing the child for the days ahead when he will drive."

Rounds pointed out, "Since 1922 the accident death rate in the 5-14 age group has decreased 31 per cent, whereas the rate for all ages has increased 79 per cent. If the rate for the 5-14 age group had kept pace with the rate of the other ages during these years there would have been more than 6,000 traffic fatalities among youngsters of this age group. Instead 2,350 actually occurred. This is a difference of 3,750."

Gratiot Candidate Tells of Proposed "Deal" By Editor

Haskell Jones, a candidate for the office of Gratiot township treasurer in the recent primary election, by a signed statement has admitted that he was approached by Matthew M. Goebel, the editor and publisher of "Town News," and offered the publicity and backing of his newspaper, but was informed that it would "cost a lot of money."

Goebel inferred in his conversation that such backing might result in the election of the candidate, Jones said. In one issue of "Town News," Goebel stated on the front page that his newspaper was opposed to "deals," it was pointed out by Jones.

Due to a recent sickness, Jones was unable to put up any sizeable amount of money, and, therefore, did not receive the backing of Goebel's paper. However, he finally did pay Goebel $18 for which he has a receipt, for a news article that usually is run without cost, Jones stated.

FIVE COTS TO BRITAIN

On Friday, March 21, the Iadom Club of Grosse Pointe presented the local chapter of "Bundles for Britain" with a $200 check, to be used to purchase five fully-equipped hospital cots for bomb-injured Englishmen. This donation, which club members hope will be the first of many, was raised during the first three weeks of operation by this new organization. The Iadom Club holds a social card party every Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Iadom Club of the Hotel Savoy.

Trombly School Notes

The Trombly school PTA had a fine attendance at their last meeting on Wednesday, March 19.

Dr. Maude Watson, director of child guidance at Children's Center, Detroit, talked on "Building Together for the Emotional Growth of the Child". Doctor Watson in her talk, stressed emotional security for children. She pointed out the importance of giving a child some opportunity for responsibility in the home. She also stated that children are important personalities and should be given the same consideration and thought that is extended to fellow adults. They should be given an opportunity to talk over their problems with adults and assist in making decisions. It is surprising how much responsibility they can shoulder.

Mrs. John Petrosky, accompanied by Miss Naomi Jones, music instructor at Trombly school, played several violin selections.

Miss Seymour's room won the prize, a lovely pot of yellow daffodils, for having the greatest percentage of attendance.

Michigan Flower Show Will Include Exhibits By Several Residents

The 1941 Michigan flower show, which opens in Convention hall on April 5 continuing through to April 12, will occupy 33,000 square feet and will contain hundreds of varieties of rare tropical plants. Steaming bogs will be reproduced, and giant mirrored pools will serve as wading area for dozens of flamingos, egrets and cranes. Five carloads of plant material have been brought from Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, North and South Carolina, Florida and California for a special tropical garden. At one end will be a complete jungle, moss draped, dark and dense, which will gradually develop into a cultivated section, until at the other end it will become a Michigan Spring garden. Banks of rhododendrons, azaleas and mountain laurel will provide a riot of color. In addition to this tropical garden, sponsored by the Chrysler corporation, there will be 14 completed gardens of various designs. Some of them will have mirrored pools reflecting flowers along the edge, as well as flowering shrubs and graceful trees. Others will have fountains playing in the center of a bird bath or brooks with mossy banks, rippling over rocks. A collection of rare orchids will be shown by Leslie H. Green, who owns one of the finest private collections of rare orchids in the country. There will also be orchids from the greenhouses of Edgar B. Whitcomb of 383 Lake Shore road, Grosse Pointe Shores and Mrs. John S. Newberry, of 99 Lake Shore Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, as well as from several eastern growers. The show will be open from 10:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. every day, and advanced sale tickets may be purchased at the office of the Michigan Horticultural Society, 236 Convention Hall, Detroit. More than 3,500 birdhouses will be shown and a unique exhibit by the Detroit Audubon and Michigan Audubon clubs will present many birds in their natural habitats and birds nests in their typical locations. There will be more than 300 exhibits in the garden club section under the direction of Mrs. Frederick Clifford Ford, of 1032 Bishop road, Grosse Pointe Park. These exhibits will include arrangements of flowers in frames, table arrangement for the bride, economy tables, personal tables and Easter tables. They will also be arrangements for a corner of a room, tray arrangements, and arrangements in small pockets.

Marx Brothers in Show At Punch and Judy

Laughing days are here again! The Marx Brothers will be at the Punch and Judy theatre Friday and Saturday in "Go West". It is a scream from start to finish and laughs are too numerous and come too fast to be counted. "Kitty Foyle" presents Ginger Rogers as the heroine of Christopher Morley's best-selling novel, enacting the supporting roles of the well-known tale of a white-collar girl's career. The film gives two clever young actors their finest roles, Dennis Morgan, the leading man of many recent offerings, is cast as the weak but likeable Wyn, and James Craig plays the quiet Mark. This film will be the attraction at the Punch and Judy theatre Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. "Tall, Dark and Handsome," starring Caesar Romero, Virginia Gilmore, Milton Berle and Charlotte Greenwood comes to the Punch and Judy next Wednesday and Thursday.

Reserve Basketball Letter Winners Named By Coach

Seventeen members of Grosse Pointe high school's reserve basketball team have been awarded letters, according to an announcement by Coach Harvey Christenson yesterday. The squad, which dropped three games in 13 starts, scored 337 points while holding their opponents to 206 points, Christenson stated. The boys who received letters were: George Beyer, Robert Bridge, Robert Brown, Robert Everett, Stuart Fraser, Fred Gallagher, Douglas Graham, William Healy, Elmer Jacobson, Gordon Lichtwardt, Richard Lowmaster, Gene Lamont, Douglas Mackenzie, Donald Neisch, Richard Robbins, Patrick Wallace and David Walton. "Asleep at the wheel" is a much more common cause of automobile accidents than most of us realize. Avoid mental or physical fatigue. Tired minds and muscles are slow to react properly, and drowsiness, which naturally follows, is extremely dangerous. Don't try to cover too many miles in one day. On a long trip, stop frequently to rest and relax. If you feel sleepy, let someone else drive, or pull off the road and take a nap.

BRAKES ARE IMPORTANT

Have you ever stopped to realize how much you depend upon your brakes while driving a car? They're just as important as the steering wheel. There's no excuse for driving with poor brakes. Keep them adjusted properly, so you can stop quickly and without swerving.

Shall Grosse Pointe Build Temporary Frame Schools

Our Board of Education is again faced with a problem that will require much thought and study because Grosse Pointe Woods, youngest of the Pointe villages is undergoing a remarkable growth in population, due to a rapid increase in new homes.

It appears that many of our new Pointe citizens are youngsters of school age and of course there will have to be more school rooms to accommodate them.

President Gleason of the Woods village is making a strong plea against the proposed construction of temporary buildings. He bases his arguments on unsightly appearance, lessened safety factor, and the fear that while such buildings are primarily intended to serve but temporarily, they usually survive for many years.

Grosse Pointe has reason to be proud of its very fine school system. It is one of the very best in these United States. It required much courage on the part of our Board of Education in years past, to erect buildings that at the time seemed to be far too preposterous for the then sparsely settled sections they served.

It required wide vision, and our educational leaders, though often bitterly criticized by some taxpayers, pursued an unwavering course in their plan to provide schools for Grosse Pointe second to none.

Today we are in a changed era. With bonded indebtedness limited by state law and long-term financing only a remembrance of the golden twenties, the erection of any new school building becomes the immediate burden of today's taxpayers. Five years is a very short period in which to finance the construction of a school building that will probably serve the community for more than ten times that many years.

But — Our children must be educated. And children of Grosse Pointe Woods are entitled to school buildings as good as those attended by children in the other four Grosse Pointe communities.

We believe that most taxpayers of all of the Grosse Pointe communities are ready and willing to do their duty in this regard. We do not believe that Grosse Pointe wants, nor should it have, any temporary frame school buildings. Campaign of citizenship would preclude that.

We believe that every Grosse Pointe citizen will stand squarely behind its Board of Education, should it decide in favor of an up-to-date addition to the Mason school instead of any temporary wooden structure.

We do not believe that Grosse Pointers would vote out of office any member of the School Board who will insist upon the continued development of our splendid school system, to keep pace with the population growth of our various communities. We believe Grosse Pointers would O. K. a bond issue to build an addition to the Mason school.

Too Much Mud-Slinging In Gratiot Township

Political campaigns are seldom free from heated debate and more often than not, personal attacks are indulged in. This is probably part of our Democratic system of self-determination.

Gratiot Township is about to hold its annual township election. This paper, which has a complete circulation coverage in that township has been flooded with letters addressed to the Public Letter Box. In the rush of going to press, several of these letters were printed just as we received them. We want to apologize to our readers for one such letter published last week.

The columns of this paper are open to all of our readers. We shall be glad to publish any letters of moderate length, in which the writer gives his personal opinion about any matter of current interest. However, we shall in the future refuse to publish any letters in which the writer attempts to vent his personal spleen by indulging in insults and vicious personal attacks.

Politics, according to Mr. Webster's dictionary means "the science of government." It is an ill omen when public office seekers resort to mud-slinging. The thoughtful citizen must seriously question the qualifications of any candidate who would permit such electioneering in his behalf.

Confusion In Grosse Pointe

Last Sunday the Grosse Pointe Lions Club held its annual family entertainment and luncheon at the Neighborhood Club. This event featured some headline acts. Bob Hall, the rhyming entertainer was on the program. It seems that Bob is not familiar with Grosse Pointe streets. He tried to find 17145 Vernor Highway. He got past the 16,000 numbers and found that he was not on Vernor Highway, but was now on Waterloo street. Anyway, it took him 45 minutes to locate the Neighborhood Club. Bob Hall in rhyme and song gave his opinion of Grosse Pointe's manner of naming streets.

This seems to be a very common complaint. Vernor Highway is an important thoroughfare in Detroit. It continues through Grosse Pointe Park and to and behold, its name changes to Waterloo. At the borderline between the City of Grosse Pointe and Village of Grosse Pointe Farms, it again changes to Ridge Road. This is very confusing to strangers visiting Grosse Pointe.

Both the City of Grosse Pointe and the Farms should change the name of the street to Vernor Highway. It would avoid much confusion. To have three names for the same avenue seems rather silly, doesn't it?

Although no Grosse Pointers are included in the cast of "One on the House", Harvard university's 1941 Hasty Pudding club production which will be presented in the Pierce Junior high school auditorium on Thursday evening, April 3, three local students are members of this famous 146-year-old dramatic club. This trio of Harvard's Hasty Pudding boys who reside in the Pointe are: James Finkenstaedt, 20, of 6 Woodland place, City of Grosse Pointe; Henry Stephens, 22, of 237 Ridge road, Grosse Pointe Farms; and Henry M. Observation—Detroit's startling graft grand jury trial and unexpected housing bribe confessions by two respected councilmen, have left a blotch on the city's governmental history that will haunt future administrations till bigger and better scandals are uncovered!

A Detroit dope peddler seized late last week with $25,000 worth of marijuana in his possession, told government narcotic agents that a number of members of a nationally-known swing band were among his customers. And I often wondered what kept those guys "going"!

Your City and Mine Department—Two or three ancient 26-year-old rescue trucks which are still being used by the Detroit fire department will be "retired" on July 1. . . . Belle Isle's five bears have been removed to the Detroit Zoological Park in Huntington Woods, and will not be returned to the island's zoo this Summer because Director John T. Albert Fluit, Jr., 23-year-old son of A. O. Fluit, Grosse Pointe Farms police chief, of 343 Kerby road, has announced his engagement to Miss Virginia Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Burns, of 4426 Harvard road, Detroit.

The case of Gen. Walter G. Krivitsky, ex-Communist military spy who fled to America and exposed the Soviet secret police in a series of magazine articles and who was found dead in his Washington hotel room in February, has been officially recorded as "suicide". Persons familiar with the working of Stalin's dreaded OGPU are positive that Krivitsky did not take his own life, but was murdered. One little-discussed fact supports this theory. Krivitsky left behind three "suicide" notes, (tentatively checked as "genuine") one of which was addressed to his lawyer and written in English, yet just one short year before, the General told Martin Dies' rabid congressional committee that he could speak, but could not write our language!

He now faces a long jail sentence, a stiff fine, and the loss of his precious bars. . . . Hollywood Merry Go Round

By JAY TULLER

Embarrassing Moment

Raoul Walsh, director of Warner's "The Strawberry Blonde," and his assistant, Russ Saunders, had been assisting on what they thought was a private conversation in Spanish. But they got their come-uppance finally from the person they least suspected.

During a scene Rita Hayworth plays with Jimmy Cagney, Saunders made some highly entertaining personal remarks about Rita, to which Walsh replied with admiring epithets.

"Gracias, senores," said Miss Hayworth. "I believe I've learned more from your off-stage remarks than from your direction."

It was then that the two red-faced directors remembered that Rita dyed her raven-black hair strawberry blonde for their particular picture, that she is Spanish and, of course, speaks and understands the language fluently.

Shooting the Bull

The biggest crowd ever to watch the filming of a movie scene — 30,000 people — turned out in Mexico City's Plaza de Toros to see Tyrone Power play a matador before the cameras.

The people were there at the invitation of Director Rouben Mamoulian who wanted them as "technical advisors" for "Blood and Sand," the Blasco Ibanez story being filmed in technical or with a troupe of 300 from Hollywood.

Before he began the day's shooting, Mamoulian spoke over the loud speaker system, asking the crowd to react exactly as they would at a real bull fight. If Tyrone did well, he wanted them to cheer him. If he made mistakes, he asked them to hiss and boo.

Mamoulian took his cue from the mob and re-shot the scenes that it didn't like. It was the first time any director ever has used 30,000 technical advisors!

Gilding the Lily

Ernie Haller, ace Warner Bros. cameraman now shooting location sequences for "The Bride Came C.O.D.," tells me that Death Valley doesn't look enough like Death Valley.

Death Valley sunlight, which sometimes heats the air to 130 degrees, wasn't bright enough for Haller. He sent to Hollywood for more lamps. Death Valley sand didn't look like sand so he sent to Hollywood for sand. Death Valley cactus wasn't green enough. He sent for studio cacti.

And Death Valley clouds were unsatisfactory. Haller sent a message to the camera department: "Send me some clouds," he said. The clouds, on film of course, arrived next day by airplane.

Michigan State Alumni Dance Plans Told By Local Club President

East side alumni of Michigan State college will hold their annual Spring dance on Saturday evening, March 29, in the Book-Cadillac hotel. It was announced yesterday by alumni club president, Charles Burns, of 819 Barrington road, Grosse Pointe Park.

Dance music will be supplied by Carl Vincent and his popular NBC orchestra. Dress will be informal and tickets may be reserved through Walter R. Ewald, (Madill 043). Admission may also be purchased at the door. Ewald, who is predicting a capacity crowd, has announced.

The last function arranged by the alumni club, a Thanksgiving party, was assisted by foul weather and the ex-Michigan States have recently won an order for an overtime dose of seal Spring weather.

Public Letter B-O-X

March 25, 1941

Grosse Pointe Review, 15121 Kercheval avenue, Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan.

Gentlemen: I am most certainly at a loss to understand your complete disregard for a piece of news that apparently the Detroit papers found interesting to print. I am referring to the fact that one of our local boys was fortunate enough to be chosen as an All-City player in the Catholic League.

It has come to my notice that all through the current basketball season and the past football season, that a great deal of space has been given to praising the aptitude of the Grosse Pointe high school athletes. Although I am not in any way trying to discredit these young men, it seems a bit unfair that not a word is mentioned about the doings of St. Paul's high. If there is a reason why the school is not included on your sport page, I would appreciate knowing that reason.

This paper is supposed to be one of interest to all of Grosse Pointe, not just a part, and partiality should not be allowed. This is not a crank letter, it is just voicing the opinion of more than one person who would like to see their school get in the "sport-light" too.

A VERY DISAPPOINTED "REVIEW" READER

EDITOR'S NOTE — Our "Disappointed Reader" puts forth his or her arguments in a straight-forward and much appreciated manner. True, our past coverage of St. Paul's prep sports has been lacking. In our defense we could mention that St. Paul is a small Class C school as compared with Grosse Pointe high school's Class A rating, and we could point out a number of St. Paul's athletes are not Grosse Pointe residents, but we won't! Now that the short-circuit has been discovered, we guarantee that St. Paul's athletic teams will soon shine in the local "sport-light".

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following letter was written by Frank Jones, Gratiot township treasurer, in answer to a circular distributed throughout the community recently by the "Provo for Supervisor Committee".

March 24, 1941

Dear Editor: Why can't Mr. Provo tell the truth? It's one falsehood after another.

Why doesn't the clerk bring the money over to the treasurer? Who ever heard of a treasurer running around for money to be put in a bank? I am not bonded in case of a holiday, like the clerk is. Why didn't Mr. Provo have me bonded?

The clerk has been over to the treasurer's house several times, but refused to bring the money. If Mr. Provo and Mr. Piornack will read Chapter IX, page 216-(852), they will understand the law.

Again Mr. Provo was wrong about the winning margin of 52 votes, 171 for Provo to 223 for Houtekier, out of a total of 517 instead of 497 votes cast. What happened to the other 20 votes cast?

Sometime last year, Mr. Piornack stated that the supervisor was not getting enough money for what he was doing. I would like to know myself what he did. The lawyer and engineer did the work in the township, not Mr. Provo.

I still say that Mr. Provo raised the taxes. He did that much for the people in Gratiot township.

The question about Mr. Houtekier, what does he know about the office he seeks that makes him fit to succeed Provo? What did Mr. Provo know about being supervisor of a township before he took office? He took office in April, and along came the assessments. He then had Clarence Cayan to help him, going from house to house. Then came the next year, then he got Wayne county to come in and do the assessments for him.

What does Mr. Provo mean by getting Gratiot township's share? Mr. Provo get that — the people pay the bill.

The facts on the Raizen "deal" — ask Mr. Provo who got a letter from Judge Sage's office recommending Raizen for the job? It takes more than two members out of five to pass a motion. What happened to Mr. Provo's and Mr. Piornack's votes when they attended the meeting that night?

FRANK JONES, Treasurer, 18735 Eastwood Drive, Gratiot Township, Mich.

March 24, 1941

The Grosse Pointe Review.

Dear Sir:

Here is the date of the annual Gratiot township board meeting — April 8, 1941, at 7:30 p.m.

This is the meeting when we electors will set the salaries of our servants, namely the supervisor, clerk, treasurer, justice of the peace, and election board. There is some doubt as to who set the salaries last year. I shall list a few of the things that are on the record. If it is true that 18 people attended the last annual meeting and that 14 people approved the salaries, there is no mention of these figures in the records, as there was no motion or resolution made by the electors. The records of the township will bear me out, when I say

The Home Front

By ROBERT LAW CRINNIAN

The opinions, and beliefs, expressed by the writer, do not necessarily express those of this publication.

OF UTMOST IMPORTANCE

A striking similarity exists between the fever-charts of the pre-Democratic nations of Europe and the fever-charts of strikes, sabotage and general confusion of our United States of America. On the map that I have hanging in my study — a map of Europe and North America — I have marked the progress of the subjugation of France, by the fifth-columnists. I have, also, outlined—or charted—the nation that would be followed in reducing the people of the United States to the subsistence level of that of the Middle-Ages. The progress made by the 500,000 subverters within our borders varies not one iota from the plan, and progress, made in subjugating the workers, and people, of the major portion of Europe to a condition of existence no whit better than serfdom.

We, the people of America, stand on the very brink of an abyss — the very same abyss into which every conquered country was plunged — from which there will be no escape if laws are not enacted, and thoroughly enforced, to stem the wave of Communistic-inspired strikes. We have arrived at the very point where the Republic of France was rendered absolutely helpless by a handful of organized saboteurs. Working from within one of our labor unions, these subverters of spirit utilize every avenue to the human brain in attacking all of our existing American institutions; utilize every channel of communication in spreading confusion, distrust and fear.

The complete news reports are not given to the people. In many instances the reports of new strikes are buried in obscure corners of the publications. For instance — at the time of this writing, March 24th, 1941, nothing appeared in the daily papers relative to the sit-down strike (several thousands of workers, in three departments) of the Ford Motor Company. There is no grievance, save that the CIO now has a petition before the NLRB for a vote on who shall be the bargaining agent for the workers of the company — or maybe they don't like the color of the boss' necktie.

Our first President had but one Benedict Arnold to contend with. On the other hand, our Mr. Roosevelt allows about 50 divisions of trained fifth-columnists (20,000 to the division) to run at large. My, how times have changed.

Spirit and a Plan

The perils of the wilderness forced our forefathers to band together for protection. The overt acts of those who governed forced the people, in the New Found Land, to formulate a plan for the overthrow of their oppressors. Everything that went to make America what it is today was brought into reality by the undaunted spirits of our forebearers — that is, SPIRIT and a PLAN.

Those who have gone a long way toward destroying, and undermining America, have a very carefully prepared plan. WE AMERICANS HAVE NO PLAN. The Country who possesses the greatest wealth of any nation in the history of the world; the nation who has contributed more toward the advancement of civilization itself — HAS NO PLAN TO PRESERVE THAT WEALTH and that CIVILIZATION. WHY?

I wonder how Henry Ford, one of the last of his line, a staunch believer in free-thought and free-enterprise — a supreme individualist — feels. Henry Ford has created a monument to free-enterprise; created new jobs, new homes and security for hundreds of thousands of FREE AMERICANS. Now, Henry Ford is being attacked by men who never created — even a job for themselves — anything of use; men, many of whom are from the sink-holes of the birthplace of all intolerance — Europe.

"Henry Ford must prove that he is a good American," said Philip Murray, president of the United Mine Workers — CIO. My heavens, good citizens — how we must have regressed, when a man, who in no way measures up to Henry Ford, is allowed to make such a statement. Think of it!

Henry Ford offered his entire plant to the government for the production of armament. The offer was refused. But he now finds himself handcuffed by the "Wagner Act", the LaFollet Investigating Committee and a dozen or so others, with no mortal souls — not even the leaders of our people — to sustain his undaunted courage. Awake Americans! AWAKE BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE.

that the board set the wages. Only five men set the wages! You may read the record at 20586 Elkhardt avenue in the clerk's office.

For the information of the present board, we electors shall relieve you of this duty this year. The law says the electors shall set the salaries at the annual meeting. Shall we do this, or will we again let the board set the salaries merely by asking the people to approve by voice vote? We may even ask for a ballot this year, and we shall get it if we want it. The annual meeting shall be conducted according to parliamentary law.

So attention electors, if you don't come to this meeting and do your duty, don't complain about the salaries because your not attending may cause it.

Let's all get out to the Eastwood school the day after election, Tuesday, April 8.

Don't forget. You are Americans, and all good Americans use their right to vote!

The Grosse Pointe Review.

Dear Editor:

I hope you will excuse me again for appearing in your paper. I wouldn't have done this, only I notice that Matthew M. Goebel, editor and publisher of the "Town News" is writing the letters for Mr. Lyle and Mr. Bugg, which appeared in your paper, so I do not think I am imposing by sending in two letters in two weeks of my own writing.

Mr. Goebel so far has refused my challenge to debate the issue before the people on April 5.

I believe that Mr. Goebel should at least be gentleman enough to tell the people that he is interested in the affairs of Grossetown for mercenary reasons.

I notice, also, that the ad appearing in the "Town News" for Mr. Houtekier and Mr. Korson is refraining from mentioning the million dollar electrical deal. Wouldn't it be nice if Mr. Houtekier would admit now that he has not been fair to the people.

It seems as though Mr. Goebel, the commander-in-chief of the Houtekier, Korson-Jones mob is taking a few cracks at our present Clerk Piornack. Why doesn't Mr. Goebel print some of his own reputation or is he waiting for me to print it? It is my consensus of opinion that if the people of Grossetown knew what was in the files in our county courts regarding Mr. Goebel's past that they would have no interest in reading his newspaper. They could readily see what causes the remarks appearing in Town News. There must be a distortion of something somewhere. Would Mr. Goebel be so kind as to tell the residents of Grossetown why so many of his advertisers in Grosse Pointe Woods have quit advertising with him? The same could go for Grossetown. Mr. Goebel refers to Clerk Piornack as an "oft time indulger in the public bar" just as though this was any of his business, and, what's more, this is just more insinuations. He doesn't prove the remark at all. He remarks further in this article that Piornack was fired by a Detroit brewery for being intoxicated. Maybe it will, and maybe it won't, interest Grossetown taxpayers to know that Clerk Piornack has never been employed by a Detroit brewery or a brewery in any other state. Of course, Mr. Goebel furnished no facts with this remark.

It is admitted that Ray Johnson and Vernon Weber are reading meters for the township, and they are doing so on a production basis of 5 cents per meter. Of course, Mr. Goebel says they are campaigning for Provo at the expense of the township, but it is just another insinuation, but the people are accustomed to reading Mr. Goebel's insinuations without facts.

As to Al Jones, he was not a leader in the Stricker forces in the recent primary, and as far as being an outstanding citizen, we would like to know one thing he has ever done for the community outside of being one of the first violators of the township zoning ordinance.

Mr. Goebel was happy to print on the front page of his paper who secured the Grossetown water. There is no one who knows better than this writer, being a resident for 15 years, a justice of the peace for four years, and clerk for two years, and my last year as clerk working with Provo on the water system. I don't need anybody to tell me about it.

For the first time a remark is made in the Town News stating that Joseph Boardman is the campaign manager of Odilon Houtekier. It took a long time for the Citizens Committee to decide who was campaign manager, but it so happens that we found out who was campaign manager before this insertion appeared in the paper, and, surprising to say, the information was received from one of the members of the Citizens Committee, who stated, "None other than Matthew M. Goebel is the campaign manager of Houtekier, Korson, Jones and Company, and most of his work done in connection with the campaign is done right in Odie Houtekier's store."

I don't believe, Mr. Goebel, that the people will want you as an unseen supervisor in this township, and continuing your common practice of confidence deals, and, furthermore, according to your past, the township couldn't be assured that you would always be in circulation.

While on the subject of a connection between Matthew Goebel's Citizens Committee and Mr. Houtekier, I am pleased to announce that a visit was paid me by Mr. Bugg and Mr. Tigue of the Citizens Committee, who proclaimed to me that they have no connection with Mr. Goebel and do not care to have Mr. Goebel connected with them. In the interest of the people, I believe this to be good information for the voters. This should clearly point out to Mr. Goebel that he is absolutely not wanted in the Grossetown political circles. We are intelligent enough to conduct our own affairs.

I believe, Mr. Goebel, you should stick to just editing a paper as some of your recent articles appeared to be pretty well balled up. I am not an editor but I could certainly give truer facts than some of your news articles.

Again, Mr. Goebel, let me ask, where do you live? Where is your paper published? Whose address is given with your phone number? As far as I know, Town News is the only newspaper published in Wayne county that I cannot give you the address of, so I ask, Mr. Goebel, either publish the address or make known as to why it cannot be published.

You recently stated that you had hundreds of subscribers. Would you name these subscribers, Mr. Goebel? I know of hundreds who are not subscribers and still there are only hundreds in the entire township. These non-subscribers receive your paper as well as the paid subscribers. What a gag you are making of your paid subscribers. Do you think this is fair to them, Mr. Goebel?

Did you say before the primaries you were not interested? The answer is "No", but after the primaries, with the nomination of Houtekier, you were very quick to print a notice in your paper that you were not interested. Was it because you were scared that I was going to start actively campaigning for Mr. Provo and the fact that I would tie you to Mr. Houtekier would not help Mr. Houtekier in the finals? You now wish to sit back and say, "I am not interested". Well, if it doesn't do any more, at least it gives me a good laugh.

Again I wish to go on record in asking the people to look at the facts and upon this I am sure they will support Mr. Provo. Thank you,

CLARENCE CAYAN,
20696 Nesbitt Road,
Grossetown, Michigan.

March 24, 1941
Grosse Pointe Review.
Dear Editor:

In the last issue of The Grosse Pointe Review, a letter appeared by Mr. Clarence Cayan. In a part of his letter, which was all political, I was mentioned. Our association does not indulge in political disputes, so in the interest of fair play I hope you will publish this letter. Let me begin by quoting Mr. Cayan's letter in part, referring to the paragraph pertaining to me.

"Now, Mr. George Schmuck, I'd like to advise you that the Township Board of Review has nothing to do with the zoning ordinance as you stated in the 'Town News' of March 13, 1941. This is not entered as an argument, just a correction. I would prefer to go on record as saying I enjoyed your comments therein."

Mr. Cayan is correct, the Township Board of Review has nothing to do with the zoning ordinance. It is a board to review taxes. My error was saying "Review" instead of "Appeal". But also, the board of review is not the township board. There is one gentleman to whom I was referring. So that there be no doubt in anybody's mind, I shall rewrite my letter of March 13, the part pertaining to this error. This is quoted verbatim excepting the word review which is changed to appeal.

"Also, the board should remember that in the future, if we people do not want a zoning ordinance we shall repeal it. We taxpayers approved it. You gentlemen of the Township Board of Appeal read the bill and you will find your duties defined. It is not what you think, it is what the laws say we want you to do and nothing else."

I want to thank Mr. Cayan for this correction and calling my attention to it, so it could not be misconstrued. I think I have made it quite clear who I was referring to in that letter.

Also People of the Township, the Grossetown Improvement Association, Incorporated, endorses no candidate for office, but requests you to vote on April 7. As I have said before, you know your politicians better than we do.

Yours for a united township,
GEORGE SCHMUCK, Sec'y.,

Gas Proposition Up To Voters in City of Detroit

Up to the present, we have not heard a good, clear, thorough explanation of the rush engaged in by the city council when it ordered the gas proposals placed on the April 7 ballot. It seems to us the idea popped out of a clear sky one Saturday afternoon, and the following Wednesday final action had been taken.

Now, ordinarily, when a proposition comes up as important as the proposal to have the city of Detroit go into debt some 50 or 60 millions of dollars for the purchase of a gas plant, a lot of talking is done, pro and con, by the people, before the issue is put to a vote.

In this instance, there was none. The whole show was staged by the council, with the average taxpayer or car rider having no part in it.

The people were merely told they would have to make up their minds, yes or no, by April 7, to determine whether or not the city should get ready to go into the gas business.

Personally, we don't know much about this gas business. All we know is what we learn from our monthly bills. It may be a good, stable business that is on the way out, because of growing competition from electric power, fuel oil and other products.

Before the city plunges into such a venture, the voters would like to make sure that they are not being asked to buy a dying horse.

We don't recall having heard any widespread demand from the gas users for a municipal ownership vote. The demand which forced the issue on the ballot, probably sprung up in some individual's office in the City Hall.

Maybe that individual will tell the voters before April 7 why he was in such a great hurry that he couldn't give the people a chance to talk things over first.

The musical pageant, "The Free of the Nations" will be given Friday evening, March 28, at 8:30, in the Grosse Pointe Memorial church for benefit of British war relief.

The pageant theme, that the free spirit of all nations is today being united into one power for the release of all mankind, regardless of nationality, race, or creed to usher in a new age upon the earth, is new on the local scene.

The pageant is being sponsored by Grosse Pointe units of British war relief agencies. Wellington Ault is chairman and treasurer of the committee.

The production, which will begin at 8:30 p.m., is being sponsored by the Harvard Alumni Club of Michigan. The Detroit stop will be one leg of a vacation tour that will take the student cast through Pittsburgh, Princeton, N.J., and Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and several other Eastern cities.

Tickets for the show will be on sale at Grinnell's downtown store; it was announced yesterday, by W. Hawkins Ferry, executive committee member of the Alumni Club. Ferry also stated that following the show in Pierce junior high school, several hours of cabaret entertainment at the Country Club of Detroit, Kercheval near Seven Mile road in Grosse Pointe Farms, has been planned. Ruby Newman and his orchestra will supply dance music, and various members of the "One on the House" cast will perform humorous numbers. Tickets for the cabaret will be placed on sale at the Pierce junior high performance, Ferry added.

Struck By Car, Girl Wages Battle for Life

Critically injured with several broken bones and a double skull fracture, 19-year-old June Frazer, of 268 Ridgemont road, Grosse Pointe Farms, is waging a desperate struggle for her life in Cottage hospital today, after being struck by a car while walking on Moross road near Mack avenue last Friday night.

June, a graduate of St. Paul's high school, and three other teen-age Grosse Pointe girls were walking north (facing traffic) on Moross at 8:50 p.m. when the accident occurred. The car, traveling south, was driven by Marvin DeMeyer, 31, of 436 Kercheval avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms. DeMeyer told Farms police that he was going "25 miles an hour," and didn't see the girls until "they were right on top of me".

The right front fender of DeMeyer's Mercury sedan hit Miss Frazer's glancing blow and tossed her body into Elsie Allard, 19, of 306 Hillcrest road. Knocked to the pavement, Elsie suffered a severe scalp wound when her head struck the curb. The other two girls, Audrey McIntyre, 19, of 214 Moross road, and Elsie's sister, Leola, 16, also of 306 Hillcrest, jumped aside and escaped injury. Miss Allard was released from Cottage hospital Saturday, while Miss Frazer did not regain consciousness until Sunday, doctors said.

Asked why the girls were walking in the street, Farms police announced that there is no sidewalk on the west side of Moross road at the point of the mishap. The sidewalk on the east side, parallel to the Country Club of Detroit's golf course, is over 25 feet from the street and little-used due to poor lighting facilities, police explained. From the scene of the accident, police officials calculated that the nearest street light north on Moross was 292 feet away, and the nearest south 344 feet away.

DeMeyer, who is a caretaker at the unoccupied Lake Shore road estate of B. E. Taylor, was released at 11:15 p.m. Friday on the recommendation of George Beauchamp, assistant county prosecutor. Beauchamp announced that charges would not be preferred against DeMeyer until the outcome of Miss Frazer's injuries are known. DeMeyer's wife, Freda, was riding with him when the girl was struck. DeMeyer, who has been driving for 15 years, is not covered by liability insurance, authorities revealed. Damage to his car, a broken head lamp and a dent in the hood, estimated at $25.

Criminals Are "Made", According to Saginaw Crime Prevention Head

Friction in family groups frequently prevents children from attaining emotional stability, for parents who cannot control themselves can seldom control their offspring, says Walter M. Germain, supervisor of the crime prevention division of the Saginaw (Mich.) police department, in his 1939-40 annual report, in which he agrees with other authorities that "criminals are made, not born."

Germain's report states that character and personality patterns are shaped during adolescence; consequently, "between the ages of 12 and 21 there should be well balanced physical, mental and emotional development."

The home, school and church, long considered the basic character building institutions, "are no longer equal to the task of prevention and treatment of delinquency which is fast reaching a national emergency. To meet this new situation, which is a community problem, new procedures and new techniques must be devised. Financial stringency in most communities necessitates the development of the needed measures by existing agencies. The essential parent education service can be furnished by visiting nurses, visiting teachers, or better still, because of the usual voluntary acceptance of their authoritative status, by policewomen trained in psychiatric social work who could co-ordinate the educational home service with the treatment therapy rendered by the police crime prevention division. To meet this urgent need Saginaw's police counselor corrective therapy has been devised.

The report covers the 12 months ending June 30, 1940, and deals exclusively with male offenders, as it is customary for the policewoman to render a separate report covering both adult and juvenile feminine delinquents. Of a total of 683 cases referred to the crime prevention division during the 12-month period, 372 involved 651 known offenders.

SORORITIES
Three girls from Grosse Pointe have been initiated into sororities recently at the University of Michigan, where they are enrolled this year.
Dorothy Treadwell, a freshman, of 1337 Berkshire road, Grosse Pointe Park, was initiated into Chi Omega sorority; Marjorie Kaufman, a freshman, of 797 Bedford road, Grosse Pointe Park, into Alpha Phi sorority; and Jean M. Kilmer, of 652 Pemberton road, Grosse Pointe Park, a sophomore, also into Alpha Phi sorority.

"BEYOND THE BENCH"
By JUDGE THOMAS F. MAHER
Of Traffic Court

Motorists Who Interpret the Law
It is difficult to convince the motoring public that certain practices are violations of the traffic law. For years, some drivers will add to the hazards of motoring by interpreting the law in what seems to them a logical manner, only to be sadly disillusioned when arguing their case before the court.
Righteous indignation is expressed by many motorists brought into court in certain accident cases, when told by the judge that they shouldn't have permitted their vehicle to skid into another car. "I couldn't help it," they say. "My car skidded. It was just one of those things." Such people rarely seem satisfied as to their guilt when told that a car should always be driven with conditions of pavement and weather in mind, as the law provides, and that a skidding car is not under control. "I was only going 15 or 20 miles an hour," they protest. The answer, of course, is that if a car skids at this speed the chances are it would not at a slower rate.
Many defendants are absolutely convinced of their innocence when given a traffic ticket for cutting in front of traffic on a turn. Yet, no practice is more productive of serious accidents. The law clearly states that drivers desiring to make a turn at an intersection, must yield the right of way to "any other vehicle approaching from the opposite direction which is within the intersection or so close thereto as to constitute an immediate hazard."
Nevertheless, a large percentage of drivers accused of violating this law evidently construe it to mean that, if they can barely escape the front bumper of the approaching car, the right of way is theirs.
Verily, if drivers construe the law each to his own wisdom, a judge must needs be issued with every set of license plates and a jury empaneled in the back seat.

Grosse Pointe High's Spring Sport Schedule Announced By Geary

By DICK BODYCOMBE
Grosse Pointe high school's Spring sport schedule, covering every major activity except golf, was released early this week by Forrest "Pep" Geary, athletic director.
The "Blue Devil" baseball squad, coached by popular Pat Kaulitz, has undertaken a "home and home" series with each of the other five Border Cities league schools. Depending on the weather, additional contests will probably be scheduled with other nearby prep schools. Backed by a large group of veterans, Kaulitz believes that "it's now or never" in this season's championship battle.
Art Wittstock, hard-hitting catcher with three years of high school and sandlot experience, will handle the major share of the receiving duties, while left-handed Ralph "Rosie" Stream will shoulder the main pitching burden. Jack Dillon, George Graham, Pat Wallace, and Bob Carman will fill the infield positions, reading from third to first base in that order. Joe Faust is the only outfielder returning this season.
Lawrence Westerville's tennis team that turned in a mediocre record last year, will feature Doug Mackenzie, Tom Ireland, Charlie Marzoff, Dan Johnson, Mike Ware, and Johnny Parks.
The track team, handled jointly by Frank Banach and Wheldon Zimmerman, has been hit the hardest through graduation. Charles Lee and Ralph Savory, two excellent hurdlers, and Ray Weaver, quarter-miler, are the only varsity letter winners back for another year.
The schedule for the three sports follows:

Athletic Club Girls Win Three Contests; Lead Local League

By KATE HOOVER
The Grosse Pointe Athletic club girls have captured three games in the same number of nights recently, and are well on the way to their second basketball championship of the year, having already been proclaimed the champions in the Inter-Settlement league.
The first game, with St. Ambrose a 21-16 affair, was a close battle from start to finish, with neither team being able to secure a wide margin.
One of the most exciting and hotly contested games of the season, was the one with the St. Paul alumni, which ended in the score of 14. Plenty of arguments were featured in the game, and many players finished the contest with the limit of personal fouls chalked up on them.
In the third victory, the St. Paul high school team was defeated by the score of 16-15. The contest was one of the most thrilling games in many days. The girls were evenly matched, with neither team gaining more than four points on their opponents.
With the winning of this game, the Grosse Pointe Athletic club has really established its supremacy in the local basketball field.

Highway Candidate Backed By 32 Years Of State Experience

Leroy C. Smith, Republican candidate for state highway commissioner, is a nationally recognized road builder whose works have been studied and adopted by engineers not only in this country but throughout the world.
His 32 years of highway experience has not only dealt with county highways but with state highways. Smith served nine years as engineer and deputy commissioner in the Michigan state highway department.
Smith played a definite part in the founding of the Michigan state highway department, as one of the first few men employed. He assisted Frank Rogers, the third state highway commissioner, in formulating engineering and administrative policies which created the ground work for Michigan's system of good roads, long considered among the country's best.
In 1918, when the Detroit area realized that the automobile industry was going to forge ahead, the Wayne county road commission planned a highway construction program as large or larger than that of the state. To direct this work a competent young man with vision was required, and Smith was selected.

First Round Completed In Neighborhood Club Basketball Tourney

Verheyden drew first blood in the Neighborhood Club basketball league playoff series last week when they nosed out the Essex A. C. 28-26 in an overtime contest. Essex led 15-9 at half-time and were enjoying a 26-16 lead with just three minutes remaining, when the one handed push-shot artist, Harvey Pierce, took matters into his own hands and connected for four hoops in a minute and a half. With 30 seconds left to play, "Ace" Marshall sunk a long one from mid-court and forced the game into overtime. Marshall again came through in the overtime, when he hit the meshes with the basket that put his mates ahead 28-26. Pierce, former Southeastern high star, topped the Verheyden scorers with 12 points. Ted Rybicki, Detroit Tech co-captain, was high for the losers with 13 points on four field goals and five foul tosses.
Eastminster completely swamping a tired but determined Club 15 quintet 46-22. Holding a large lead throughout the contest, the churmen, led by Speedster Elmer Schram, established themselves as a tournament threat. Schram connected for eight buckets and two charity throws for 18 points. Bob "Bonehead" Hollihan with nine points, topped the scoring for the losers.
The up-and-coming Indian aggregation had little trouble subduing the City of Grosse Pointe Police and Firemen five on Friday evening, when they chalked up a 36-20 victory. Living up to all predictions, the ex-St. Paul high cagers took a 19-12 advantage at the intermission, which they never relinquished. "Red" Maison and Bob Allor were the offensive stars for the Indians, scoring 10 and nine points respectively. "Deadwood Dick" Bodycombe with seven points, was high man for the Police and Firemen entry.
Essex A. C. is scheduled to meet the Comets, last year's champs, tonight at 7 o'clock. Needing a victory to stay in the running, Essex will be out in full force to stop the fast-moving Comet five. Tomorrow night at 8 p.m., the Police and Firemen will resume an old rivalry when they engage Club 15. Both teams have lost one game, and the loser of tomorrow evening's contest will be
