History of Community Club's New Building Told By Member

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following article explaining the history of the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club's new building at Mack avenue and Ridgemoor, was written by a member of the organization and forwarded to The Review for publication.

At the annual meeting of April 3, 1940, the following officers were elected: Mrs. Harold Gregory, president; Mrs. Bert Sellers, vice-president; Mrs. Alice Halled, secretary; and Mrs. Katherine Iams, treasurer.

At this meeting, the club began talking of a building to be erected on the playground, and a motion was made by Mrs. Halled that a drive be put on to raise money. Mr. Alois A. Ghesquiere, village president, was not present, the secretary was instructed to find out when he could be available.

Property Owners Convinced

The special meeting took place April 9, 1940. Ghesquiere advised us to rush into the project but to take plenty of time to plan and to get all of the members sold on the idea. Mr. Ghesquiere then told us that it was possible for the village council to grant special permission for a temporary building, which could probably be used four or five years. He also advised Mrs. Gregory to appoint a committee of two or three to contact the property owners where the playground was located.

On Monday, April 29, Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. Loos, and Mrs. Halled called on a Mrs. Chene, (one of the owners) who told us she was happy to have the club use the property and would never sell it without giving the club the first option. She was then asked if she would consider giving the property as a memorial to her family, and she promised to give the plan consideration.

On the evening of April 29, Mrs. Loos and Mrs. Halled met at Mrs. Gregory's home to reconstruct the constitution and at the May meeting it was accepted. At the June meeting, Forrest Geary of the Grosse Pointe board of education, was present. He told us that we must have toilet facilities on the playground if we wished to keep a worker there, and that during the coming summer a man would be on the playground part-time to assist the boys in their activities. He also said that Miss Swindleherst would be on hand as general director of the playground.

Building Committee Named The president then appointed Mrs. Halled, Mr. Ghesquiere, and Mrs. Iams to serve on the building committee. On June 14, Mrs. Halled and Mr. Ghesquiere called on Mrs. Chene and received her promise that the club could use the property unconditionally for five years. On June 27, Mrs. Halled called a meeting to which all builders in the village were invited. Mr. Ghesquiere submitted a plan, and H. R. Houston offered his services to contact the builders for donations. At the next meeting, July 8, Mr. Houston read us a list of promised donations of material and labor which Mr. Ghesquiere said were worth more than $900.00. The largest of these, was a donation of all the cement blocks from the Carrier Lumber company and a promise to lay the blocks by Leo Verburgge.

On July 19, Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. Loos, Mrs. Barrows, Mrs. Verburgge, Mrs. Redas, Mrs. Webster, and Mrs. Halled started the canvass. Together with the cash donations which Mr. Houston received, contributions in cash were as follows: $24.58 in donations of less than $5, and $484 in donations of over $5.00.

Property Leased At the August meeting, Mr. Halled reported that Mrs. Chene had made a decision to lease the property to the club for five years at $1.00 per year. At the end of the five years, the lease should read that the property should go to the club, and in case Mrs. Chene should find herself in a strained financial position so that she would feel she had to sell the property, the club should have the first chance to buy it. Julius Burns drew up the papers, and they were signed the following week.

At this meeting, the building committee was authorized to go ahead with building plans and to use its own judgment. On Sept. 7, work was actually started and the sewer was dug, but it was later discovered that a mistake had been made and the sewer was on property owned by Mr. Campbell and up for tax sale. A long period passed before the whole thing was straightened out, but on Oct. 26, the laying of blocks was begun, under the direction of Mr. Verburgge.

At the tax sale, the village purchased the Campbell property. Mr. Campbell redeemed the frontage on Mack, but the club will have the use of the rest of the land bordering on Ridgemoor avenue.

December 15, the floor was put in the building. The building is almost completed now, and will likely be ready for use by April 15th. So far, there have been 10 regular meetings, and the average attendance has been 14 members.

Judge Theodore Richter Backed By 20 Years Of Court Experience

Judge Theodore J. Richter, of 1071 Devonshire road, Grosse Pointe Park, who recently celebrated his 20th year on the circuit court bench, is seeking re-election to that office at the county election next Monday, April 7.

Born in Harbor Beach, Mich., in 1882, Richter came to Detroit two years later and has lived here ever since. He graduated from Eastern high school and the Detroit College of Law, and then entered private practice.

After serving several years as deputy county clerk, he was elected common pleas judge in 1913, holding that office for eight years. Richter's next 20 years were successfully spent on the circuit court bench.

Intramural Cage Crown Captured By Bureau's Entry in Prep League

Paced by John Perry's 13 points on four baskets and five free throws, Bob Bureau's team captured Grosse Pointe high's major division intramural basketball championship last Thursday afternoon by trouncing Bob Carman's entry 21 to 17.

Leading 14-13 at the start of the last quarter, Carman's squad was overwhelmed by a belated scoring rush led by Perry and Ted Dale. Perry sank two field goals and two foul shots, while Dale hooped a single basket. The Bureau entry won three games and lost only one during the short season, which began early in March.

JOHN H. BRENNAN CANDIDATE FOR Circuit Judge Attorney — 20 years a member of the law firm of Lewis & Watkins. Resident of Grosse Pointe. Deputy Attorney General, 1937-1938. Preferred by the Detroit Citizens' League. Endorsed by leading citizens of Grosse Pointe.

Judge Lester S. Moll Is Lifelong Resident Of Wayne County

Lester S. Moll has been twice elected with wide public approval to the circuit court of Wayne county, following his appointment to that office (by the late Gov. Fred W. Green) in 1926.

Before his appointment to the bench Judge Moll was engaged in the private practice of law as a member of the firm of Douglas, Barbour, Moll & Rodgers. Judge Moll was formerly chief assistant prosecutor of Wayne county, in which capacity he successfully tried many cases for the state of Michigan.

He is a native born Detroit and a lifelong resident of Wayne county. He was educated in the Detroit public and parochial schools and was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1917.

Moll is a World War veteran who saw many months of overseas duty and is a member of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Judge and Mrs. Moll and their children have lived at 508 University place, City of Grosse Pointe, for the last 12 years.

Judge Henry G. Nicol Seeks Second Term

Judge Henry G. Nicol, who is a candidate for re-election at the county election on April 7, has more than made good in his first term as circuit judge of Wayne county.

Nicol is highly endorsed by the lawyers of Wayne county and the Detroit Bar Association, indicating the approval of the legal profession for his fine work on the bench. He is endorsed by labor groups for the fairness of his decisions when labor disputes were brought before him. The few of his decisions which have been appealed, have been repeatedly sustained by the Michigan supreme court.

Judge Nicol is naturally endowed with sympathy and understanding. He is painstaking in his work. Counsel and client have frequently thanked him for his fairness, patience and courtesy, even though he has decided against them. Many trials have been avoided because of his success in reconciling the litigants. "Special privilege" interests have never been able to influence him, and no decision is handed down in his court without a full hearing of the evidence.

Prior to his election as circuit judge, he served for several terms as circuit court commissioner, where he established a reputation for his efficient and just decisions in the thousands of cases handled.

Congressman Rabaut Calls Detroit "The Bulwark of Defense"

Congressman Louis C. Rabaut, of Detroit and Grosse Pointe, one of the 12 members of the House deficiencies appropriations subcommittee who drafted the $7,000,000,000 bill to carry out the lend-lease program, told Congress recently that Detroit today is "the bulwark of national defense."

His remarks preceded the introduction of the historic measure, the largest appropriation bill in history, which he helped prepare. Pointing out that "American science and industry are being brought to a focus in Detroit as the country's engineers and technicians devote all of their energies to the common cause of making America and its democratic heritage free from the threat of conquest by any nation or group of nations in the world", Representative Rabaut told the Congress that "no other city is contributing more to our united effort to make this nation impregnable."

City Called "Backbone"
"Long ranking first of all American cities in its exports, Detroit is a city that is geared 100 per cent to the industrial processes that are the backbone not only of the material needs of modern life, but also, lamentably, of modern warfare. Its central location on the continent, easily reached by either rail, water, or highway, adds to its great strategic importance as the center for national defense industries", Rabaut continued.

He then traced the industrial history of the city, showing how Detroit industry always had been alert to changing social conditions so that today it is not unusual that it should be transferring its energies to national defense. He analyzed in some detail the various defense projects now under way in Detroit at the Packard Motor company, the Chrysler Corporation, and the Ford Motor company, showing the effect of their expansion upon the city's economy.

Automobile to Airplane
"In the face of similar activity all over the country," the congressman concluded, "technical experts say that Germany or any other country can never hope to match the industrial production of the United States. American advances in metallurgy, the substitution of castings for forgings in aircraft engines, and the adaptation of automobile production methods to airplane manufacture — all these emanate from the most part from Detroit — he will, I am confident, make America secure".

Friends Confident of Judge Arthur Webster's Re-Election on April 7th

As election day, April 7, approaches, the many friends and supporters of Circuit Judge Arthur Webster are confident of his re-election. They point out that he has had a long and brilliant career as lawyer and jurist and that he has compiled a record that is second to none.

As circuit judge he has taken a very active part in the improvement in procedure, for which the Wayne county circuit court is known throughout the United States.

Judge Arthur Webster was born on a farm in Iowa, educated in the public schools and after graduating from the University of Michigan with an L.L.B. degree, started active practice of law in Detroit. For five years, he acted as assistant corporation counsel for the city of Detroit; later as assistant prosecuting attorney. From 1907 to 1919 he was the trial attorney for the well-known law firm of Chamberlain, Denby, Webster and Kennedy. During Judge Webster's school days he took an active part in athletic sports excelling in basketball, baseball, tennis, rowing and many others.

Raymond J. Kelly, Past National Legion Head, Seeks Court Post

One of the candidates in the contest for circuit judge on the non-partisan ticket at the election next Monday, is Raymond J. Kelly, past national commander of the American Legion and former corporation counsel of the city of Detroit.

He was appointed general counsel for the Detroit Street Railways by Mayor Frank Murphy in 1930, serving in that capacity until 1933, when he was appointed corporation counsel of the city of Detroit by Mayor Couzens. He headed the legal department of the city of Detroit from that time until his election as national commander of the American Legion in September of 1939.

During the time he was national commander of the American Legion, Kelly was called to the White House to discuss with President Franklin D. Roosevelt matters pertaining to national defense.

Kelly enlisted in the army at the outbreak of the World War, and served overseas. He has always been active in the American Legion and in all veterans' affairs. He is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and of the Disabled American Veterans and is actively sponsoring legislation for proper hospitalization of disabled veterans.

He is past president of the Michigan Association of City Attorneys, and the Institute of Municipal Law Officers, the national organization of city attorneys. He has also served as president of the Detroit Lawyer's Club, and as secretary of the Detroit Bar Association for several terms. He is a member of the bar of the United States supreme court.

Seeks Wayne County Circuit Court Seat

Gerald K. O'Brien, one of the candidates for circuit judge at the election to be held next Monday, April 7, is well qualified for the office he seeks.

Mr. O'Brien graduated from the law school of the University of Michigan in 1923, and has been a practicing attorney since that date. He served for two years as deputy attorney general of the state of Michigan, during which time he assisted in drafting the banking legislation which is still the law. During these two years, he also supervised the drafting of the mortgage moratorium, the land contract moratorium and the tax moratorium laws, and successfully defended them when their constitutionality was attacked in the courts.

Mr. O'Brien also served for six years as an assistant prosecuting attorney of Wayne county. In this capacity, he was in charge of blue sky law prosecutions for a time. He also worked for several months in the investigation of the Black Legion, and successfully prosecuted the first Black Legion case.

Mr. O'Brien is an overseas war veteran, having volunteered in the United States navy during the first month of the World war.

Fish Not Biting? Don't Alibi Says Casting Champion

A trout is always hungry and will take whatever he can get with the least effort. BUT "you have to find out what he is eating as his regular diet when you are calling on him," declares "Dick Miller," world champion distance fly-caster.

Experiments with "tame" fish show that they will rise to a lure the same as they are eating at the time, but will ignore one that differs in color or general appearance. And trout are pretty persnickety, so hit the fly to the feeding habits at the time, warns Miller. Improve your casting, and you'll improve your fishing. Miller asserts: "No matter what your present ability, may be, you can double your catch." But will, I am confident, make America secure! look out for the warden!

ERICK NEWMAN, 18562 Washtenaw, Gratiot Township, April 1, 1941

The Grosse Pointe Review. Dear Editor: Please excuse me for again seeking to enter the "Letter Box" but certain remarks published in the "Town News" and "The Grosse Pointe Review" need correction.

On many occasions I have written about the present plots — the three separate plots — to subjugate the workers in America. One plot emanates from Europe. Our government wishes to utilize the overt acts of the CIO as a stepping-stone to absolute power.

Public Letter Box

To the Editor Of The Grosse Pointe Review. Gentlemen:

I had no intention of writing a letter during this campaign in Gratiot township, but my hand has been forced by an item appearing in "Town News under the heading "Deals" in the March 29th issue.

This letter is being submitted to both papers so that there can be no argument of discrimination and is being written in its entirety by myself as an answer to the charges described in the item being untrue.

I am referred to as being appointed township foreman and fired after the political debt was paid, there is some truth here, I was appointed township foreman and Mr. Goebel was at the meeting and highly praised the appointment, as being a good one, agreeing I was capable of handling the job.

There was no political debt due me as Provo was unopposed in this election, and it took no effort on my part to get him elected, and I had no idea there was any such appointment to be made until my name was called.

Under "Deals" I am linked as one of the group to vote yest on the salary raise, now while I am wholly in accord with this action I did not attend this meeting in which the salaries were raised, I knew of the meeting, having seen the announcement but had other business that night and could not attend.

Now, as township foreman, I was not fired by Provo or anyone else, Mr. Frank Jones who was water director at that time, told me the taps were costing too much money, because I could not break through three feet of frost, dig three holes and drill through 30 feet under the street fast enough to get four taps a week by myself, Mr. Jones told me, "if you want the job you can have it for $10 per tap, at four taps per week there is your $40. I said "Mr. Jones, I am not interested," and hung up the telephone. Let Mr. Jones deny that one if he dares, do you call that being fired? I have hardly spoken to Mr. Jones since that for immediately after this he gave the job to a man from Detroit for $17 per long tap and $10.50 per short tap, but I, a citizen of the township, could have the job for $10 per tap, regardless of which side of the street it was on "deodorize That One for Me," and incidentally the man he hired uses three men besides himself as diggers to get in six taps per week, no reflection on the man, he has a tough time out here in the Winter and earns every penny he receives for the work, but Jones wanted me to turn out four taps per week, and regardless of weather at $10.00 per. I do not shirk work when it is necessary, and I am willing to handle most kinds, but like anyone else, I do expect a fair day's pay for my labor, and I don't think anyone will hold that against me.

Mr. Provo is not responsible for this letter, nor does he dictate or edit the Circular that appears every week on which our committee name appears, including mine. A lot of people in the township know our editor and we are pretty sure the citizens committee does to, Mr. Goebel you certainly should have asked him yourself in Roy Hampton's gas station to write up an article you would give him just to see how he could handle it, well how do you think he handles articles now? Certainly not offensively and definitely true in all respects explaining everything clearly without going into personalities. Hoping this will clear up my part in the whole business.

I remain, RAY JOHNSON, 20320 East Eight Mile Road.

April 1, 1941 The Grosse Pointe Review. Dear Editor: Now that Mr. Houtekier has caused the third defeat of the school issue, I'd like to ask him to come out in the open and tell the residents of District No. 2 why he is opposed to a proper school system.

Several months ago a committee was appointed by the school board to select sites for a new school in District No. 2, with East Park Manor having a large majority of the residents in this district. Two of the residents of East Park Manor, namely Don Julin and Haskell Jones were selected to act from that community and Mr. Custer from Eastwood drive. It is my understanding that several sites were picked out but the one recommended by this committee was approximately 300 feet from Roscommon street and the East Park Manor Subdivision. This was about seven acres of land and a beautiful site, close enough so that both the water and sewers in East Park Manor could be taken advantage of. Mr. Houtekier claimed it was a waste of money to purchase that large a site and made it his business to call a meeting in his store and to cause a petition to be circulated asking the residents to vote against the site, and then later a site was selected, whereby, the district would rent some property and build a portable school. Can you imagine a school district renting property?

In the first place, if the district waits a year or two to buy the property, they will then end up by paying an enormous price and probably only receiving a small site.

I believe the community should buy a respectable site and we should not be so silly as to spend money building temporary buildings. We are always going to use it, so why not build something that we can always use.

Maybe I should not have so much to say about this school business as I do not have any children going to school, but I am interested in the loved ones of my neighbors.

Mr. Houtekier, like myself, does not have any children going to this school, but he does have a child going to a Detroit school, which is his privilege. If Mr. Houtekier wants to send his child to a school in California, that's nobody's business, but just why Mr. Houtekier is opposed to the right kind of a school site is beyond this writer.

He is seeking office on a "Ten Point Platform", which is impossible to promote from any angle, and, if it were possible, it would cost the township hundreds and thousands of dollars, and, at the same time, speaks of economy on the school system. This is too large a contrast in his opinion for the residents of this district to swallow, and certainly a great contrast between he and Provo.

It is generally known that Provo permitted many children for the last five years to play in his back yard. He even fixed up the field for them, spent many hours trying to get a playground site through the tax sale and was successful. He worked many hours last Fall to obtain property for skating ponds. Two such ponds became a reality for the pleasure of our loved ones, and while Provo was working to make things comfortable for the children, Mr. Houtekier was keeping himself busy to stop anything that would become a pleasure and a necessity for our children.

MICHAEL CHASE, 18591 Washtenaw.

March 29, 1941 To the Editor: The monthly meeting of the Gratiot Township Improvement association will be held at the Eastwood school on Thursday, April 10, at 8 p.m. We shall take up the question of garbage disposal, and also in connection with this we have been approached by the people of East Park Manor about alleys. Are the alleys a nuisance and shall we proceed to have them abolished or do you people want them? Come to this meeting and give us your views. We understand some alleys in the north side have been abolished. I welcome the people to let us know their point.

Remember, by the time this meeting is held the election will be over. Come down and let's all get together and forget politics and work out a program for the next board to work on. Whoever is elected, we shall seek their co-operation. Now let me say a word about the annual meeting. You, of course, know this is the meeting when the elector's set the salaries of the township officers. We have been informed that this meeting must be held at 1 o'clock on election day, but we have been assured by our supervisor that this meeting will be adjourned until Tuesday, April 8, at 7:30 p.m. at the Eastwood school. So get out and let's set the salaries.

Now, people, there are a lot of meetings and duties to do in a country like ours, but wouldn't you just as soon do them than not be able to do so.

So let's vote on April 7, and attend the annual township meeting on April 8, and the Improvement meeting on April 10.

Yours for a United Township, GRATIOT TWP. IMPROVEMENT ASS'N George Schmuck, Secretary, 20660 Huntington Drive, Gratiot Twp.

Montante Announced As Circuit Judge Favorite At Election

According to the latest reports, James Montante looms as a favorite candidate for the office of Wayne county circuit judge at the election on Monday, April 7th.

James Montante is famed throughout the state as an authority on the Soldiers and Sailors act, which concerns the rights of draftees. He has made a number of talks before such organizations as the Detroit Bar Association, the National Lawyers Guild, the Detroit Federation of Teachers, the Lions and others on this extremely important measure. He has, along with other well known attorneys, helped to draft an amendment to the state act now pending before the state senate.

James Montante was born in Pennsylvania, the son of a coal miner and has lived in Detroit for over 30 years. He is a graduate of the Detroit public school system and after studying at Wayne university for two years, graduated from the University of Michigan, where he obtained both an A.B. and an L.L.B. degree. To earn money to complete his college education, Mr. Montante worked on the production line of the Briggs Manufacturing company, thereby obtaining a knowledge of human nature and working conditions such as few judges ever have.

James Montante is a member of the Detroit Bar Association, treasurer of the National Lawyers Guild and vice-president of the Italian Lawyers Club of Michigan. He has the endorsement of labor, the Italian Democratic Council and many civic and church organizations.

Circuit Judge Since 1917; Webster Asks Re-Election Again

Circuit Judge Clyde I. Webster, who is a candidate for re-election on Monday, April 7, has earned a reputation for the fairness and impartiality of his decisions, his common sense and competence, and his patience with the litigants appearing in his court.

Judge Webster is a graduate of the literary and law schools of the University of Michigan. Following his graduation he became associated with the law firm of the then famous Don M. Dickinson, of Detroit. He practiced law here until 1912, when he became United States attorney, serving until 1916. He was elected judge of circuit court in 1917 and has been re-elected three times since by huge popular votes.

As circuit judge, he has seen the circuit bench grow with Wayne county from six judges to 18. He has always been endorsed by the Bar Association and all prominent civic and fraternal groups. He has been repeatedly endorsed by the Detroit and Wayne County Federations of Labor, and is again endorsed by the federations for the approaching election.

MILK FIGURES Michigan's outstanding position in the dairy industry is vividly depicted in a new handbook issued by the Milk Industry Foundation. According to the book, Milk Facts, 932,000 cows valued at $60,580,000 produced $62,030,000 in cash farm milk income for Michigan farmers in 1939.

Richard PTA Hears Detroit Traveler In Talk On Southwest

The next meeting of the Richard school PTA will take place on Wednesday evening, April 9, at 7:30 p.m.

The speaker will be Dennis Glenn Cooper of the Sherrard Intermediate School in Detroit. Cooper, who spoke recently at the Mother's club meeting in the high school on Isle Royale, also has some excellent pictures of the southwest.

In addition to being an excellent photographer, Cooper has a way of presenting his pictures which is interesting and appealing. They definitely challenge one to want to travel in the territory pictured. Cooper's pictures of the southwest will include shots of dude ranches in New Mexico, and Arizona, Hollywood, and the California beaches, the big trees of central California, the Grand Canyon, Bryce, Zion, and Boulder Dam.

Refreshments will be served in the lunch room, under the direction of Ruth Goebel.

SUNDAY IS ARMY DAY On Sunday, 24 years ago, the United States entered the World War. Thousands of American boys were killed, thousands wounded and billions of dollars were spent to "make the world safe for democracy." It is not a day for celebrating. It is a day for calm meditation... and a day to make the resolution that never again shall American lives be sacrificed in vain. The Grosse Pointe Review

Judge Marschner First To Organize County's Conciliation Division

Judge Adolph F. Marschner of the Wayne county circuit court, a native-born Detroitier and educated in the schools of this city, was the first judge to organize the conciliation division of the circuit court for the settlement of lawsuits and avoiding law's delay in the trial of cases.

He has continuously served in that office with distinction, and is known for his prompt devotion to the public welfare. He is married, has two children, and is a graduate of the Detroit College of Law.

Judge Marschner has always shown a deep interest in conciliation of marriage difficulties and especially in the rights of children in divorce cases.

In seeking re-election to the circuit court in the coming April 7 election, Judge Marschner has the endorsement of labor, lawyers and civic societies, and is highly commended for his impartial attitude to litigants who come into his court.

East Side Good Friday Services 12 to 3 p.m. At Uptown Theatre

The people on the East Side again will be glad to learn that for their convenience and spiritual uplift one of the services has been planned at the Uptown Theatre, Mack at Chalmers, from 12 to 3 p.m. People no longer feel that they must go outside of their community to enjoy the best on such an occasion. Over 1,600 people proved this last year. "The best service I ever attended" was the testimony of those present. The special feature this year will be The Southern Gospel Jubilee Singers (Colored). They will also appear at the evening service at the Knox Presbyterian church, Dickerson at Mack avenues, at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Harold L. Lundquist, dean of the Moody Bible Institute, of Chicago, will be the speaker. See advertisement elsewhere in this paper.

Oberlin College Choir Will Sing At Pointe Church on Sunday

On Palm Sunday, April 6, the Oberlin college a capella choir composed of 40 voices under the direction of Olaf C. Christiansen will sing at the 11 a.m. service of the Grosse Pointe Congregational church.

The choir of men's and women's voices from Oberlin has a widespread reputation for musical ability and for skillful interpretation of sacred music.

The Grosse Pointe Congregational church, which will soon be celebrating its first birthday, meets in the Mairie school on Cadieux road near Kercheval. On Palm Sunday, the pastor, the Rev. Charles W. Scheid, will preach on "What the Bible Teaches Us About Prayer." This is the fifth in a series of six sermons dealing with the great themes of the Bible.

Typing and Shorthand Open to Pointe Adults

A course in personalized typing and Gregg shorthand will be offered to Grosse Pointe adults on Monday and Wednesday evenings, starting Monday, April 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the typing room at Grosse Pointe high school.

This course is not for stenographers or office typists, but for the man or woman who has a personal need for simple typing or shorthand skills. Mrs. Agnes Wilson, a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh school of Business Administration, will have charge of the class.

The fee for 12 class meetings will be $3.00 for residents, and $4.50 for non-residents.

For further information call Forrest Geary, director of adult education at NI. 2000.

AN EXPERT

I am an expert on To Whom It May Concern letters. I've seen all the wrong kinds and have written most of them. So, you see, I know all the ways of not writing them. Subtract these from the total number of possible ways, and you have left the right ways. Yes, I am an expert . . . by elimination. Or perhaps I am expert by default. — Walter B. Pitkin, in The Rotarian magazine.

Township Justice Tells Formation of Breakfast Club By Local Women

By C. JOSEPH BELANGER

Grosse Pointe Township Justice of the Peace, and Member Local Draft Board.

Again, as in the World War, the ladies of our community have come to the front and again are doing everything possible not only to co-operate with the government in the military training trend, but also to do everything possible to insure, insofar as they are able, the comfort of the selectees from our district who are being called to camp from time to time under the selective service act.

Real American Breakfast

These public spirited ladies have formed what is known as the Grosse Pointe Breakfast club, their only aim being to furnish the draftees with a real typical American breakfast on the day of their induction, and also to do whatever possible in order to send these draftees playing cards, sewing kits, and such other items as might from time to time add to their contentment and general welfare. These ladies are: Mrs. Richard Campau, president, 603 Neff road; Mrs. Harry Lipski, treasurer, 267 Merryweather road; Mrs. Douglas B. Crane, secretary, 956 Lincoln road; Mrs. William A. Pungs, Jr., 598 Neff road; Mrs. K. D. Brill, 582 Neff road; Mrs. Harold A. Noreen, 605 Neff road; Mrs. Cassius Teague, 936 Washington road; Mrs. A. D. Klick, 824 Neff road; Miss Carolyn Osgood, city branch library; Mrs. Leo Carrier, 822 Neff road; Mrs. Morley M. Piggott, 11040 Courville avenue; Mrs. Virginia Roemer, Cranford Lane; and Mrs. Herbert W. Mandel, 710 Rivard boulevard.

These are the ladies who prepared, furnished, and served the draftees with a breakfast and party on March 17 to some 32 who were being inducted from our locality. It might be interesting to note that the entire party was made possible by donations from citizens in business in our district.

Donations Sought

The Grosse Pointe Breakfast Club has come into being and intends to remain a permanent organization, and the ladies are giving freely of their time and must rely upon the good-heartedness of our citizens and merchants for the future success of their venture and aim. To that end these ladies are making a public call now and through this medium and are requesting those citizens and merchants to enable them to perpetuate this laudable ambition through donations of food and other items, and a call to any member of the club will be more than appreciated.

Grosse Pointe township has always led in these endeavors, and if good interested and hard work on behalf of the boys of our locality are any criterion, Grosse Pointe township will again lead, but we do need the co-operation of every citizen and merchant.

The boys of our district are freely giving of their time and efforts in behalf of national defense and must be shown by our actions that we not only appreciate them, but that we are proud of them.

The selective service board for this area is and has been co-operating with the Grosse Pointe Breakfast club and commends them for their laudable ambitions and desires.

Those Who Respect Justice Will Re-Elect
JUDGE LESTER S. MOLL
CIRCUIT JUDGE

Twice elected Judge of Circuit Court with wide public endorsement. For chief assistant prosecuting attorney and outstanding lawyer—Has successfully handled thousands of cases as lawyer and judge—Highly endorsed by Bar. World War Veteran—Member of American Legion and V. F. W. His record insures courteous and human treatment for all.

Simpliner's Nomination Example of County's "Younger" Interest

The success of Arthur W. Sempliner in winning the nomination for Wayne county circuit commissioner and securing the support and endorsement of all civic groups is an example of how the younger attorneys of the county are taking greater interest in government and civic affairs and are beginning to occupy more of executive and judicial public offices.

Although practically an unknown name to the voters of Wayne county, except for his vigorous candidacy for state senator from the first district last fall, Sempliner won the nomination for circuit court commissioner by a comfortable margin over names which have long been politically potent in Wayne county. He also led all candidates in the primary Bar Vote conducted by Detroit attorneys, registering more than three times the vote of his nearest opponent, and is the endorsed candidate of the Wayne county lawyers in their recently announced vote for the election.

As a candidate for state senator last fall, Sempliner was one of the first men to advocate a speeding-up of the workmen's compensation benefits, claiming that these benefits should be paid at the end of the third week instead of the present five-weeks period. He also campaigned to take the sales tax off food and beverages, pointing out that under the present system, the small storekeeper actually pays more than half of the sales tax out of his own pocket because he is unable to collect tax on small items from his customers.

Sempliner is a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School with a fine record and has been a successful practicing attorney in Detroit for the past several years. His candidacy for circuit court commissioner is supported by Civic and Bar groups as well as by organized labor.

His friends and supporters have presented Arthur W. Sempliner to the voters of Wayne county as a young and efficient attorney of unquestioned integrity, a capacity for hard work, a successful record in private practice, with an active interest in, and a liberal attitude toward, civic affairs.

ACCORD MADE POSSIBLE

I feel sure that the Pan-American accord of August, 1940, which will be the bulwark of democracy in the world, would not have been signed had not Rotary prepared the way by creating an ambient of mutual understanding in the preceding 24 years—Cesar D. Andrade, former minister of finance of Ecuador, in The Rotarian magazine.

Defer School Notes

Win Essay Contest

The boys and girls in Mr. Himmelmann's room wrote essays for the National Unity Essay contest. Each one in the class wrote an essay and then the class voted on the five best to send to New York City. The subject of these essays was "Why National Unity is Important to My Country." Essays entered in the contest were written by Diane Faulk, Marilyn Kaiser, George Cherpelis, Sally Holmes and Ruth Engel.

The other morning we were very happy to learn that George Cherpelis and Ruth Engel had won first and second prize respectively. George will be eligible for the state awards.

The Defer school has organized a Junior Red Cross council. A representative is sent from each room. The purpose of the meetings is to get together once each month and discuss the activities each room has accomplished. We also plan further activities.

We held our first meeting on March 27. The following are delegates of the council: Sandra Faulk, Peggy Etling, Telford Burgess, Donald Hoffister, Susan Kuhl, Alice Sellars, Julia Hibberd, Ernest Plegler, Carl Rossetti, Gail Ashton, Richard Kingswood, Bonnie Lee, Helen Stevenson, and Diane Faulk.

Our first meeting was called to order by our sponsor, Mrs. Stahl, at 11 o'clock. We later had an election of officers, which gave the following results: Diane Faulk, president; Helen Stevenson, vice-president; Alice Sellars, secretary; and Carl Rossetti, treasurer.

Our president will represent our school at a district meeting to be held April 17 at Red Cross headquarters.

Mr. Himmelmann's 6A-1 room is very busy making scrapbooks for the Junior Red Cross. We are collecting all the crossword puzzles we are able to get. We are putting them in scrapbooks which we are making.

"High Sierra" Starts At Punch and Judy Theatre Tomorrow

"High Sierra," which opens at the Punch and Judy theatre Friday and Saturday evenings only, brings with it thrills, suspense and dramatic action. Humphrey Bogart and Ida Lupino triumph in the two top roles, supported by a cast which includes Alan Curtis, Arthur Kennedy, Henry Hull and Joan Leslie.

Saturday afternoon, the Punch and Judy will give another special children's program featuring Sabu in "Elephant Boy."

"Come Live With Me," co-starring Private James Stewart and Hedy Lamarr, comes to the Punch and Judy for five days starting Sunday. The story deals with the plight of a beautiful Austrian refugee who is forced to make a choice between marrying some American citizen or being deported to her native Austria.

Australia Grows Up; Former Farm Land Now Industrial

Australia troops fighting in Africa are equipped with guns and tanks "made in Australia," writes Sir Robert Garran, former Solicitor General of Australia, in a current magazine article.

"Before the present war broke out, manufacturing had advanced from quite far down the list to first place," Garran notes. Agriculture, for so many years in second place, had dropped to third, while mining slipped from first to second place.

The story of this gradual economic evolution parallels that of the United States and Canada, thinks the Australian, a recent visitor to the United States. South Africa, he believes, will follow the same pattern. Pastoral and agricultural products vied with those from the mines while settlers came in to fill the wide open spaces of the country.

Edison Company Home Bureau Woman Lectures At Local Meeting

Mrs. Mary Dygert, of the Detroit Edison company, will speak on the topic "Lighting and Its Past in Home Decorations" at the fourth home institute lecture on Wednesday afternoon, April 9, in the Grosse Pointe high school auditorium.

Mrs. Dygert is the head of the Home Consulting Bureau of the Detroit Edison company, and is also author of a book on lighting. At the third lecture held a week ago, Mrs. Belle Farley Murray was the speaker and her topic was "Adolescence Wise and Otherwise."

"Ballad for Americans" Will Be Produced By High School Chorus

In a program interpreting the American spirit, "Ballad for Americans" by John Latouche and Earl Robinson, will be sung by the Grosse Pointe high school chorus and a guest baritone soloist in the Pierce Jr. high auditorium on Friday evening, May 28.

The chorus is a combination of the girls' glee club, boys' glee club, and a Cappella choir. "The Call of Freedom," by Victor Herbert, and "Praise Jehovah," by Felix Mendelssohn, will also sing the chorus. The soloist, who has not yet been decided upon, will contribute a half hour recital.

"Ballad for Americans" was first sung by Paul Robeson and a chorus, on the CBS Pursuit of Happiness Program, November 5, 1939. This modern and vivid cantata is based on four highlights in the history of the United States; the Revolution, the growth of the Union, the Civil War, and the Machine Age.

John Latouche, who wrote the words for "Ballad for Americans," came from Richmond, Virginia, to study at Columbia University. He won Poetry Awards at the University for two successive years, 1934 and 1935. He met Earl Robinson when both were submitting material to the Federal Theatre Project. They wrote several other compositions, but "Ballad for Americans" remains their outstanding work.

Earl Robinson, who wrote the music, played the viola in the University of Washington symphony orchestra. He sang in the Mens' Glee Club and Mixed Chorus, and finally he conducted the symphony orchestra in a program of his own compositions. It is said of the ballad, "No composition interprets so vividly so truly the character, philosophy and spirit of the American people, the human pattern for universal happiness and freedom."

NEW ADULT CLASS Defer school is sponsoring a new class in "Clothes Selection," taught by Mrs. D. Tinsman, of Wayne university. The class will discuss colors most flattering to each individual and also, styles to suit the individual personalities. The class will meet in Room 303, on Thursday, April 10, at 1 o'clock. For further information, call Mrs. J. Flaughner at NI. 4775.

AUSTRALIA GROWS UP

Yes, industrialization is the new note in Australia. Before the present war broke out, manufacturing had advanced from quite far down the list to first place in contribution to the national wealth. Agriculture, for so many years in second place, had dropped to third, while mining slipped from first to second place — Sir Robert Garran, former solicitor general of Australia, in the current Rotarian magazine.

ARE LENTEN MEALS A PROBLEM? BE WISE! - DINE OUT! Why fuss with Lenten meals when delicious Trout and White Fish, broiled to perfection, are yours for the ordering? And reasonable, too! This week bring the family to SID'S CAFE AND BREAKFAST BAR City-wide famous for Fine Food - Open Daily 8 a.m. to 1:30 a.m. S. McQUEEN, Prop. 15241 E. Warren at Barham Phone NI. 0664

At the Punch & Judy Sid's Cafe Begins Spring Campaign The city-wide famous Sid's Cafe, 15241 East Warren at Barham, begins, in this issue of The Review, its Spring advertising announcements. It is difficult to exactly define the true uniqueness of this cafe. The personality of the proprietor, modest Sid McQueen, is so inextricably bound up with the cafe's reputation for serving fine food at reasonable prices, that it is difficult to determine which is most responsible for the success of the cafe. To many people, Sid's Cafe has become a Detroit institution - A place to visit when the urge for good food becomes irresistible. And during these days of Lent, especially when the preparation of meals becomes a major problem for many a housewife, Sid's Lenten menus offer welcome relief. No wonder, then, that the trek is to Sid's, and that he counts among his friends and customers, untold numbers from Grosse Pointe communities.

Draft Problem Facing College Student Told By State Professor

New rumblings on the "selective service" front are claiming the attention of college students, as well as other persons throughout the nation.

Particularly in effect on college people, some recently expressed views have importance. Two aspects of the draft problem appear to be receiving special consideration, in the opinion of Dr. Judson W. Foust, Central State Teachers college mathematics professor and representative of the college at selective service conferences.

"The thinking of higher-ups in selective service seems to show a tendency to balk at making deferments," Doctor Foust says, basing his observation on views at a national defense program at Ann Arbor earlier this month. "There is a feeling in some quarters that the college student has received more than necessary consideration."

Whether this will bring changes in the law enabling the army to draft students in the middle of the academic year, Doctor Foust was not willing to predict. He said, however, that the general tone of the Ann Arbor meeting and of other discussions of the problem emphasized that the purpose of selective service is "to raise an army, not to defer and defer." Even though, he added, in many cases this philosophy might result in nipping an extremely valuable engineering career — valuable that is, to the army itself.

Balanced against this apparent tendency to tighten up, Doctor Foust pointed out, is the recent news story from selective service headquarters assuring the public that, except in the gravest emergency, the 12-month training period for national guardsmen and draftees will not be extended.

"Under this view," he said, "The army makes clear that its purpose is to train as many men as it can for possible future service, rather than to maintain a full-time army, once the desired quota is attained."

This would mean, he added, that the college student, even though drafted during the school year, would be able to return to his studies 12 months later at essentially the same point where he left off.

High School Exhibits New York Student Art

Grosse Pointe high school is now holding an exhibition of student work from the New York School of Fine and Applied Art (Parsons). The show is sponsored by the Senior Art club of Grosse Pointe high school.

The exhibits cover the various departments of the New York school, and include problems in interior decoration and design, poster work, window display, and other types of advertising art, fashion rendering, illustration, and painting.

The work consists of drawings and paintings, ranging from architectural detail and measured drawings, to advanced examples of water color and tempera technique.

Although most of these problems were carried out in the New York school, there are a few examples of work from the Paris ateliers. The exhibition will be open on school days until 4:00 p.m., continuing through April 10 in the Art room of the high school building.

Michigan's Secondary Roads Not Affected By Military Needs

G. Donald Kennedy, state highway commissioner, this week spiked rumors that work of bringing Michigan's military network up to war department requirements would halt construction of secondary or "farm-to-market" roads.

"In fact," Kennedy declared, "the national defense program as it relates to highways is likely to result in a stimulated construction program for both our primary and secondary systems."

The commissioner added it was significant to note that, with certain exceptions, the military network includes most of the principal mileage on the primary system. "Due to this fact," he said, "contemplated improvements to the military network will also benefit our regular trunkline routes, and will include projects that would eventually be demanded by the constantly increasing traffic over these highways."

With congress expected to appropriate funds in the near future for improvement of the military network, Kennedy said it was quite likely this would leave more funds available for the construction of secondary highways.

"Our 'farm-to-market' roads," Kennedy declared, "are equally important to a large percentage of the people of Michigan as our main primary system and we will plan our program accordingly."

In addition, Kennedy called attention to the fact that because Michigan's southern farming region has many lakes and because there is some agriculture in northerly recreational areas, these roads are frequently of equal value to farmers and tourists.

"And we must never for a moment forget," he added, "that a large part of Michigan's population is dependent upon our $400,000,000 tourist business and this industry in turn is dependent upon good highways and attractive highways."

"Traveling Kinks"
Two horses, a trained dog and Jack King, horseman, jumped into the Hot Springs, N. M., mineral baths and soaked. King explained he was riding from New York to San Francisco and thought it was a good chance to "soak out the traveling kinks."

Ernest P. LaJoie Seeks Return to Judgeship

One of the candidates for the circuit bench, who offers a splendid record of public service as justification for seeking the office of circuit judge, is former Circuit Judge Ernest P. LaJoie. He was a captain of field artillery in the United States army in France during the World War and commanded an outfit composed almost entirely of Detroit men. Upon his return from the army he was appointed civil service commissioner of Detroit by James Couzens, then mayor. He was then appointed to the circuit bench by Alex J. Groesbeck and at that time was the youngest circuit judge in Michigan.

During his term on the circuit bench Judge LaJoie was known for his sincere interest in the welfare of children and personally effected the restoration of many homes where children were involved that would otherwise have been destroyed through hasty divorce actions.

Another contribution was his sponsorship and assistance in establishing the original probation department of the recorder's court and in those early days of the probation idea the judge served as a voluntary probation officer without pay.

SAVE THOSE NEWSPAPERS
To help financially maintain the organization's new building at Mack avenue and Ridgemoor, the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club is now urging its members to save their old newspapers which will in turn be sold to waste paper companies. To arrange for the collection of these papers, call Mrs. Alice Hallead at NI. 3745.

Daughters of American Colonists

The Michigan State Society Daughters of American Colonists held their third annual state assembly on Tuesday, March 18, at the Ingleside club in Detroit. Mrs. R. E. Hofelich, Mrs. Jacob J. Lamb, and Mrs. Edward H. Eichelzer were the hostesses.

Mrs. Edward F. Dickieson, Jr., state regent, presided at the luncheon preceding the meeting. The colors of the society, blue and buff, were used in an attractive arrangement of Spring flowers, in a low blue pottery bowl. Small United States flags flanked the low centerpiece on the T-shaped luncheon table.

At the meeting, a complete summary of her year's work was given by each officer and committee head. The outstanding achievements of the state society, were those made in the field of education. Among other things were donations to the building fund for the Wakefield library at Northland college, Ashland, Wis., and to the Hoyt Henshaw Stevens library for sick children.

Delegates and alternates to the national assembly, which will be held in Washington on April 20, were elected. Those chosen to represent the Michigan state society were Mrs. Hansel D. Wilson, of Grosse Pointe, and Mrs. Curtis T. Wolford, of Grand Rapids. The alternates are Mrs. Edward H. Eichelzer, Mrs. Lyman T. Johnson, Mrs. Henry B. Joy, and Mrs. George D. Schermerhorn.

In celebration of the 20th anniversary of the founding of the national society, Mrs. Ralph E. Wisner, honorary regent, gave a brief history of the organization.

OIL ON THE WATERS
 Grudges and grievances between individuals in different nations are like the waves from a stone tossed in a pool. The initial splash is not great, but the waves spread far. Arbitration, we know, can settle trade disagreements at their source, and thus prevent waves of ill feeling from spreading at all.—Senator Jose Richling, minister of Uruguay to the United States, quoted by Cornelius

GIRL SCOUT MOTHERS MEET
 The Girl Scout Mother's club of Grosse Pointe Woods held its regular monthly meeting last week at the home of Mrs. John Stivason, 1899 Lochmoor boulevard. The hostesses, Mesdames A. Marshall, H. M. Watson, and Stivason, served tea. Mrs. E. R. Van Kleeck, assisted by Mrs. Innis, presented a talk on scouting. A card party to raise funds for a Summer camp has been planned for Friday, April 25, it was announced.

"Points and Pointers"
 Every week, more Grosse Pointe families are enjoying the newest taste thrill in ready prepared food, namely a Crock O' Beans, select navy beans deliciously prepared and seasoned, baked in earthenware crocks, and delivered to your door piping hot.
 The Crock O' Beans Co., located at 13130 Kercheval avenue, near Lenox, also features another appetite tempter. Fresh shrimp are shipped into their shop daily, where they are carefully prepared and made ready to serve. A specially prepared cocktail sauce is also available.

Schedule
 Tonight, Police and Firemen vs. Essex A. C. at 7 p.m. Friday, April 4, Indians vs. Verheyden at 8 p.m. Eastminster vs. Ann Arbor at 9 p.m.
 The Indians stamped the Eastminster cagers 49-28 to chalk up their second victory in the playoff series and established themselves as a great favorite to win the championship. Eastminster, using only five men during the entire game seemed to tire in the last half and received their worst defeat of the season. On the other hand, the ex-St. Paul boys couldn't miss and registered the highest score of the series. Bern Allor and Red Mason were the top scorers for the Redmen with 13 and 12 points respectively. Ray Cinar, Eastminster's rangy center, connected for seven hoops for 14 points to take scoring honors for the evening.
 Essex Wins Close One
 Essex, aided greatly by the all around playing of Teddy Rybicki, handed the Comets a surprise setback 28-27 and remained in the thick of the championship drive. Trailing most of the game the Essex entry overtook a six point lead held by the champs midway in the fourth quarter. A basket by Charlie Bruce with just two minutes remaining to be played proved to be the deciding factor in the Essex victory. Rybicki was the offensive star of the contest scoring over half his teams points, when he hit the meshes for six two pointers and four free tosses for 16 points. Jim Kennedy kept the St. Ambrose boys at half time but were unable to get ahead more than four points at any time during the contest. Dick Bodycombe was high for the victors with 10 points, as was Honey Marack of the "15" Club also scoring 10.

College's "Cloistered Halls" Thing of Past, Extension Idea Proves
 The "cloistered halls" of education are, for all practical purposes, things of the past.
 Not only are the colleges, through self-help programs for students, making higher learning available to vastly larger numbers of high school graduates, but the colleges are reaching out over a comparatively vast service area to bring education to millions not "on campus."
 The development of the "college extension" idea in recent years is bringing "culture to the crossroads." School teachers, housewives, office workers, who desire to continue their college education are doing so in all parts of the country, either at Saturday campus classes, or through attending the evening classes in their communities sponsored by nearby colleges.
 In upper Michigan, extension service is provided on campus and in nine off-campus centers by the extension department of Central State Teachers college. In charge of energetic Dr. M. L. Smith, Central State's extension department has expanded the scope of its operations in the 14 years since Doctor Smith came to the campus, until today the department is serving the entire northern Michigan area, from the Bay City-Muskegon line north to the Straits of Mackinac.
 Nine Cities Included
 Off campus centers in which classes have been offered, either first or second semester this school year, are West Branch, Traverse City, Cheboygan, Saginaw, Ludington, Frankfort, St. Johns, Ithaca and Houghton Lake. In several of these centers, two classes have been conducted on the same schedule.
 Members of the Central State faculty travel to these centers, once a week, conduct their classes exactly as they would do in their own classrooms, then drive home again. The class ranges from two and a half to three and a half hours in length, and thus parallels the on-campus extension program on Saturday.
 The school year 1940-41 has seen a total of 12 classes offered at the off-campus extension centers, and 46 classes on the Saturday campus program. Doctor Smith, recently elevated to full directorship of all extension activities, hopes to expand the scope of the service next year.
 "The college is not only 'for the people,'" Doctor Smith maintains, "It must also be 'of the people.' It must be a service institution — serving a specific area."
