

Grosse Pointer Named In U. S. Army Air Corps Graduation Exercises

On April 23, 150 flying cadets exchanged a brisk salute for a diploma and the coveted silver wings of the United States army air corps as a 30-week training period ended in graduation exercises at the Advanced Flying school, Maxwell Field, Ala., headquarters of the Southeast Air Corps training center.

Clad in blue uniforms, the men filed into Austin Hall as cadets, but filed out as second lieutenants in the air corps reserve, with the privilege of donning the more responsible garb of an officer.

The cadets, assembled in the auditorium where they had held many classes, listened to graduation addresses, and at the conclusion of the service, walked on stage to receive diplomas from Brigadier General Walter R. Weaver, commandant of the center, and the silver wings of the air corps from post commandant, Col. Albert L. Sneed. Formalities consisted traditionally of an exchange of salutes, expressions of congratulations, and a warm handshake.

With the graduation today, Maxwell Field alone has funneled 410 pilots into United States skies since February. As the men of the Advanced Class, designated SE-41-C received their commissions, Class SE-41-E, was being promoted to the Advanced school from the Basic Training school at Gunter Field, just six miles away.

The marriage of Eunice Barbara Fleming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Fleming, of 49 Hawthorne boulevard, Grosse Pointe Shores, and John James Fraser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fraser, of 516 Notre Dame avenue, City of Grosse Pointe, was held in the Iroquois Christ Lutheran church on Saturday, April 26.

Rev. George Kurz officiated at the candle light service. Mrs. Edwin Carter served as matron of honor, while Jean L. Davis, Constance Ayres, and Evelyn Wallace acted as bridesmaids. Robert J. Fleming was best man, and Frederick Jensen, Bernard A. Dorman, and Dan Sweeney, were ushers.

Miss Fleming wore a headdress of shimmering tulle, and a long torso with panel inserts. Her flowers were white water iris with sprays of orange blossoms. The bridesmaids all wore white crepe, with full skirts.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Lochmoor Country club, Grosse Pointe Woods.

Adult Groups Use Local School Buildings 57 Times During Week

Public school buildings in Grosse Pointe are in use by adult groups on 57 occasions weekly, according to a schedule prepared recently for the Grosse Pointe Board of Education by Forrest Geary, director of adult education.

The new program of the board of education to make the facilities of the schools' physical plant available to the adult public has taken hold remarkably well, Geary believes. The different adult groups range in size from 10 or 12 participants up to more than 100.

The variety and scope of the various opportunities are already considerable and the board of education hopes that next Fall the program will be expanded still further, according to Charles A. Parcells, president of the board of education.

The adult education program is of recent origin in Grosse Pointe and is largely self-supporting. Included in the list are not only the classes sponsored directly by the department of adult education in the public schools, but those sponsored by groups such as PTA and the University of Michigan club.

Pierce Junior High Band Will Present Spring Concert May 14

Twelve ninth grade students will play for the last time with the Pierce junior high school band at the Spring concert on Wednesday evening, May 14.

Those who will leave Pierce in June are: Clyde Adler, Stanley Jervis, Lulu Ege, Bob Mead, Bill Modrack, Marjorie Nevens, John and Robert Seeber, Fred Seltzer, Howard Taylor, Morris Vandebussche, and Edward Henkel.

The concert will last an hour and a half, and 14 numbers will be played under the direction of Sam Trickey. The most humorous of all is "The Old Gray Mare on a Rampage" which proves "the old gray mare ain't what she used to be."

The money secured from this ticket sale, along with funds from several other sources, will probably make possible the purchase of band uniforms before next Christmas. Charles Leavitt, Pierce principal, has announced.

The featured soloists at the concert will be Hirt, who normally plays the oboe, playing the flute; Ray Ross playing the French horn; and Allan Howell playing the bassoon. These soloists will be accompanied by William Watkins at the piano.

Beverly Dale, Joe Daugherty, Sally Grylls, Joan Fernes, James Finley, Joan McGinty and William Williford are the lucky 7Bs in the concert band. Usually new students are expected to join the reserve band unless they possess a high recommendation from their former school. Marjorie Botts is the second marimba player to join the band recently.

Local Baseball League Will Open Season This Sunday Afternoon

By DICK BODYCOMBE
The very successful Grosse Pointe Baseball league will open its second season Sunday, May 11, at two local diamonds with five teams already entered and several more expected in a heated battle for the community's Class B title and a shot at the state championship in a September tournament at Battle Creek.

Grosse Pointe Woods' entry, managed by Dovie Martin, will meet the Grosse Pointe Park nine on the Mason school field, Vernier road near Mack, at 2:30 p.m. The Park squad is directed by William Scherer, and promises to be a definite threat for the crown.

The Ulrich Lumber team (the Carrier A. C. squad of last season, will battle the new City of Grosse Pointe Merchants aggregation on the Grosse Pointe Woods diamond, under Shore road at Vernier. This contest will also get underway at 2:30 p.m.

The other new team entered, last season's championship squad — Grosse Pointe Farms, has drawn a bye. Bolstered by the return of three-fourths of last year's airtight infield and an improved hurling staff, the Farms are expected to repeat their 1940 performance. Russell Gragg, Farms manager last Summer and now a patrolman on the Grosse Pointe Shores police force, is said to be recruiting a squad from that municipality.

BLOSSOM TIME

Mother Nature is staging a show of riotous color and beauty.

Drive out along Lake St. Clair through the Pointes and witness the gorgeous array of color.

While man, befuddled with greed and selfishness, works night and day on plans of destruction for his fellowmen.

Nature works in complete harmony with the laws set down by its Creator.

Let us learn the lessons that these balmy Spring days afford us.

MOTHER'S DAY

The theme of the old song, "I Didn't Raise My Boy to be a Soldier" must be thumping on the heart strings of millions of mothers throughout the world as we approach Mother's Day.

It has always been the fervent prayer of mothers everywhere that their children would grow up to enter into a peaceful, safe and prosperous existence.

But in addition to her love and fear for her children the American mother has a love of country which is inextricably interwoven with her hopes for her children.

No mother wants war. But the American mother will face war bravely rather than permit the destruction of our way of life.

Let us hope that by some miracle the prayers of the mothers of the world will bring the destruction of life to a quick end.

THE TALKING BIBLE

Many attempts have been made in recent years to give new life to the Bible in an effort to get young people more interested in its teachings.

One of the most interesting endeavors along this line is the new Talking Bible being sponsored by The Bible Foundation of New York City.

In a recording studio, the Foundation has had talented actors and actresses bringing the Bible characters to life.

The Bible Foundation is a non-commercial, non-sectarian organization supported by donations from people interested in its work.

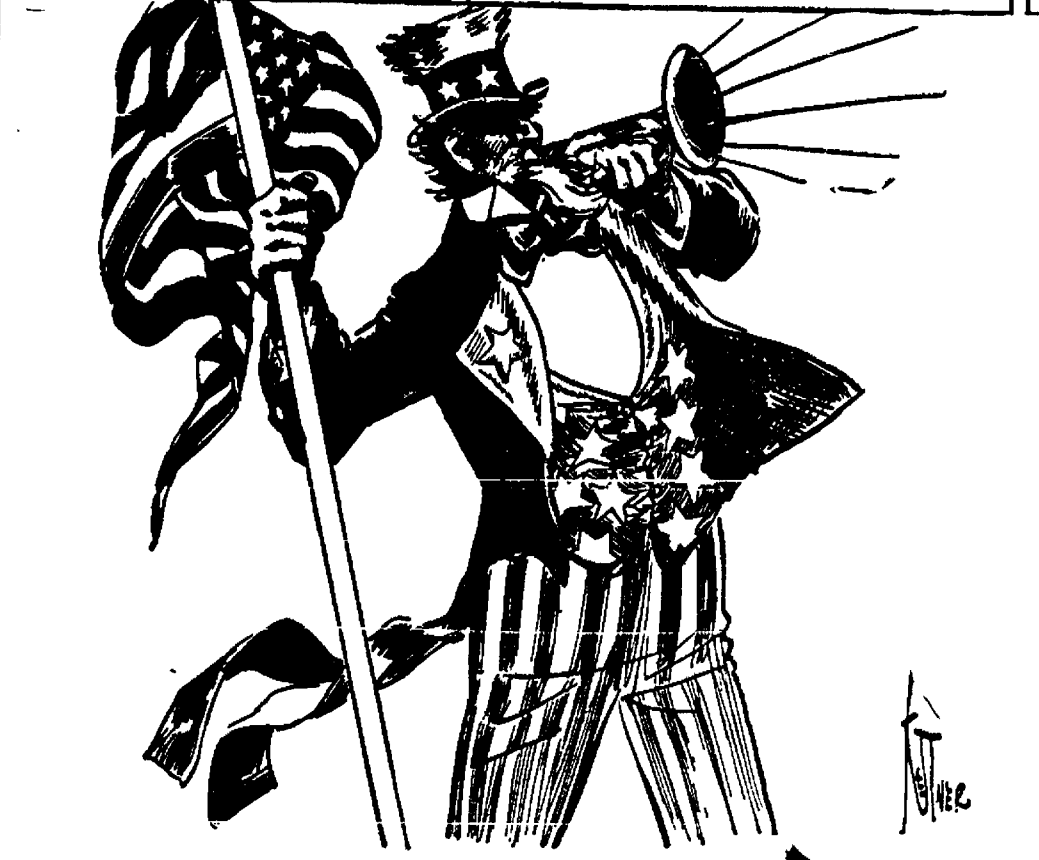

These recordings are not sold or rented but are being offered, without any charge, to interested groups.

Many of us will undoubtedly welcome the opportunity to hear the beautiful stories of the Bible brought to life.

This Week IN WASHINGTON

CONVOYS

To convoy or not to convoy? That is the question of paramount concern here following statements on the subject by President Roosevelt.

The congressional anti-convoy group, which is the anti-war group headed by Sen. Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, has repeatedly told the American people that convoys mean war.

In addition to increasing England's supply of salvaged building material, Hitler's air bombardments have furnished medical science with honest examples of human experiments.

A recent poll of congressmen showed a slight majority are now personally in favor of convoys, but it is expected that any vote on the subject will be avoided.

A statement made by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in which he asked the President to supply convoys has caused considerable stir here.

Labor problems, which seemed for a time to be lessening, have caused another flurry of demand for laws to curb strikes.

Despite delays, production is going ahead at an increasingly rapid pace.

TAX PLAN

A tax plan for paying for our $19,000,000,000 of defense orders is now being worked out and practically everything we buy or earn has been suggested as a possible source of revenue.

Income tax increases and sales taxes on specific products are expected to account for the major part of the new taxes.

In addition to taxes, the rest of the $19,000,000,000 which must be raised will be raised by borrowing and an increase in the price of goods.

"BEYOND THE BENCH"

By JUDGE THOMAS F. MAHER
Of Traffic Court

The Absent-Minded Pedestrian
They used to joke about the absent-minded professor. The stories included the man of much learning who, upon boarding a street car, threw his cigar in the coin box and his nickel out the window. But times have changed and now the joke is on the absent-minded pedestrian.

Unfortunately, however, the pedestrian problem is no laughing matter. Newspapers every day are printing box scores with black borders relating the daily death toll from vehicular traffic accidents.

The driver is not always at fault. It seems to me that a large share of blame for this disheartening record may be charged directly to carelessness and absent-mindedness on the part of those crossing a street. It has become a common occurrence to see people who wish to live long and happily leave the curb without glancing to right or left, sometimes walking directly into the path of an approaching vehicle.

The middle of the road is no place to reflect on the problems of life. But one thought should occupy the minds of people crossing a street, and that is to reach the other side in safety. The proper place to hold conversation with your friends is on the sidewalk or at a social gathering, and certainly not in the midst of traffic.

Absent-minded pedestrians keep hospitals and undertakers busy but make traffic safety authorities reach for an aspirin.

Three Local Residents Win Prizes in Drawing At "Springtime Dance"

Three local residents won valuable prizes in a drawing at the Grosse Pointe Park Firefighters Association's annual "Springtime Dance" held last Thursday and Friday, May 1 and 2, at the Maxwell Casino, 8200 Mack avenue, Detroit.

W. W. Campau, of 1267 Balfour road, received first prize, an $80.00 overnight bag. Miss Agnes Vocelle, of 1312 Devonshire road, took second prize, any combination of leather goods amounting to $40, while F. E. Rice, of 916 Grand Marais boulevard, captured third prize, $10 in cash.

Officials of the Firefighters' association have expressed their thanks to all local advertisers and ticket purchasers who donated to the success of the dance.

Employment Service Plans Registration Of Local Graduates

V. B. Steinbaugh, director of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission, today announced that the commission's Michigan State Employment service division is preparing to register thousands of junior college and high school graduates for employment prior to the annual rush of benefit claim business, expected about June 1.

Posters have been prepared in collaboration with Dr. Eugene C. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, and will be placed on bulletin boards in each of the 700 or more high schools throughout Michigan.

"We are anxious to have students register with one of our offices prior to their graduation," Steinbaugh explained, "in order that we may have their training and possible skills on hand for potential job openings in Michigan defense industries." The early registration is urged in order to avoid any possible confusion or waiting on the part of students who register with the service for the first time.

It was pointed out to the students who have already registered, that in order to keep their registrations active they must report to their local employment office once every 30 days. Each of the 50 offices operated by the commission are open week days from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and Saturdays from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

U. of M. Extension Lecturer Discusses "Season's Best Plays"

"The basic trends of the time may always be traced in the theatre by the discerning observer since it is the most sensitive of the arts," Olive Deane Hornel stated last Monday night in her lecture on "The Season's Best Plays," eighth and final one in the University of Michigan extension series on contemporary literature and drama, which has been sponsored by the University of Michigan Alumni association of Grosse Pointe.

"Unlike the holiday theatre," Miss Hornel continued, "when plays of escapism and entertainment predominated, the more recent Broadway productions plainly reflect the sick world of today. But we may take heart from the fact that they also reflect a basic determination to restore the world to health, and to a sounder health than before, which cannot be so readily corrupted and undermined."

Lillian Hellman's "Watch On The Rhine" was characterized as the most successful of recent efforts to embody in drama the basic problems precipitated by Nazi aggression, and therefore the most dramatic and the most consistent. Miss Hornel pointed out that the play remains outstandingly and eloquently, the lecture said, and is equally memorable were the children's lives as interpreted by Peter Panafiez, Anne Blith, and the others, revealing little old men and women, a crowd of old people, Miss Hornel said, passing messages from the front of the play by way of letters.

Miss Hornel said that the play's problems are not only dramatic but also human. She pointed out that the play's problems are not only dramatic but also human. She pointed out that the play's problems are not only dramatic but also human.

is in sharp contrast to Miss Cornell's play, Miss Hornel said. Canada Lee in the role of Bigger Thomas leads an excellent cast in a very fine performance which is an eloquent plea for more compassionate understanding of the victims of social maladjustment and for remedy of the conditions that produce them.

"Arsenic and Old Lace" was described as a preposterously amusing farce comedy, which in all reason should not be funny at all; "Claudia," by Rose Franken, as a sparkling drama of human relations, beautifully performed by a fine cast including Frances Starr, Dorothy Macquire as Claudia, and Donald Cook; "Mr. and Mrs. North," as a lively and entertaining mystery play based on "The New Yorker" stories by the Richard Lockridges, and dramatized by Owen Davis, starring Albert Hackett and Peggy Conklin.

Pierce Band Makes Its Debut

Photo taken at a preliminary concert given by John D. Pierce junior high band. The band will present a Spring concert at the Pierce junior high school May 14. Sam Trickey is director of the band.

Defer School Notes

In connection with a study of helpers on the farm, the Defer Kindergarten pupils participated in making butter. Cream was bought at the grocery store, and the children took turns whipping it until the butter appeared. Utensils to use in the process were contributed by Beverly Barrett, Sally Burnett, Perky Gildner, Cynthia Hobart, Arnold Schuring, and Ruth Ann Stuart. The butter was eaten on crackers, and it was agreed to be delicious.

The boys in the 3A were very interested in the marble tournament. The following boys participated: William Heath, James Jacques, Arthur Deiner, Gerald McNally, William Dumaux, Robert Latchaw, George Turnbull, William Hester, Ross Heath, and Melvyn Zamba.

Two games were played with Robert Latchaw and Ross Heath the winners. These two boys played a third game of which Ross was the winner.

Ross will represent the room in finding the school champion.

The children in 2A, Miss Haddock's room, gave a Spring play on Friday in the auditorium.

After the music of the Rhythm band and four songs, the children presented the play, "A Welcome to Spring."

Peggy Fisher was chosen to be Queen of Spring and Walter DeGree was King of Winter. Carl Weber, Donald Yerge, and Bobby Law were the suns. Betty Vanasche and Joan Hollister were butterflies. Judy MacMahon, Marilyn Walker, Caroline Gazarato, Nancy Newton, and Jean Barlow were Raindrops. Sammy Shaw, Lois Auchmuty, Anita Fallieres, and Marjorie Siebert were Cold Weather children.

The Dancing Flowers were Peggy Eiting, Annley Dale, Lucia Ann Palmer, Janet Lindsey, Mary Ann Hagg, Audrey Symons, Ann Busby, and Eileen Otto.

John Brabb, Paul DeBaekke and Jimmy Reindel were pages.

After the play, the children gave a party for their mothers in their own class room.

Mason School Notes

Mr. Jameson's 6A class has received painted posters and letters from 20 states in their project "Through the States on a Paint Brush." A program is planned for the parents on the evening of May 16.

The 4A's of Mason school have finished the unit "The Story of the Sea" in social studies.

They learned many things about ships. Some of the ships about which they studied were Vikings, Clippers, Birremes, Triremes, tramp steamers and passenger boats.

The boys drew pictures on 9x12 inch boards, painted them with enamel, then cut them into jig-saw puzzles.

The girls chose five ships about which they studied, wrote stories about them and drew pictures for booklets.

The puzzles and booklets will be given to the Junior Red Cross who will deliver them to the Children's hospital in Detroit.

Children of the 1A, 2B, and 2A grades at Mason school participated in an Arbor Day program as a pussy willow tree was planted April 25. All joined in the flag salute, poems were recited, songs were sung, and Mrs. Reading told why we have Arbor day.

Maire School Notes

The Maire school PTA is giving a picture this year to each room from the first through the sixth grade. These pictures will all be original water colors by Robert A. Herzberg, a well-known Detroit artist. Six have already been received and the other six have been promised before the end of this school year.

The pictures so far received deal with the general theme of transportation. The subjects include "Yachts on the Detroit River", "An Airplane at the Detroit Airport", "A Train at the Michigan Central Station", "An Airplane With the Detroit Airport in the Background", "Sailboats at Anchor", and "A

Hot, Dry Days Demand Skilled Care in Garden

Hot weather calls for special treatment in the garden. It is then that the skill of the gardener counts. So long as the rains are plentiful and nights cool, but not too cool, flowers and vegetables will go ahead with very little assistance, but in hot weather troubles multiply.

Growth slows up and insect attacks grow worse. Even if rains continue hot weather is always dry, because the heat evaporates an enormous amount of water. Cultivation becomes vital, not only to cut down the weeds which are competing with the crops for subterranean water and food, but to create a dust mulch, which will prevent evaporation from the surface of the soil and conserve it for the plants.

It is now that the application of plant food becomes important for stimulating the growth of plants which otherwise would be inclined to sulk. Insect attacks should be dealt with upon their first appearance, since the warm weather not only increases the number of the insects but diminishes the resistance of the plants.

Where a garden can be irrigated the complaint is often heard that water does not seem to do much good, and the reason usually given is that the water is cold. But if the water is applied in a spray which is broken up into fine particles it is warmed by the air sufficiently to overcome the objection. It is probable that the reason for disappointment in irrigation, as a rule, is not cold water but insufficient water.

The extent of evaporation during hot weather calls for an extraordinary amount of water to balance the supply available for the plants.

Cultivating With Wheel Hoe

The amount possible to apply by the ordinary garden hose is insufficient and is made less effective when sprayed through the air. It is advisable, then, that even with cold water, if the amount that can be used is limited, it be allowed to run in shallow trenches or applied directly to the soil rather than sprayed.

Instead of trying to water the entire garden on the same day, or evening, concentrate on one portion, at least a foot down. Next day, try another part. Such soaking should last a week, and the water will not be cold very long.

Group of Sailboats.

The pictures yet to be completed include: "A Grosse Pointe Landscape", "Freighters on Lake St. Clair", "A Grosse Pointe Landscape", "Sunrise On Lake St. Clair", "Shoreline With Grosse Pointe Yacht Club in Background", and "A View Along the Detroit River Showing the Ambassador Bridge."

G. P. Resident Named As State's National GOP Committeewoman

Designation of Mrs. Dudley C. Hay, of 16824 St. Paul avenue, City of Grosse Pointe, as Wayne county's 14th congressional district "harmony" candidate for Republican national committeewoman from Michigan to succeed the late Mrs. Charles B. Warren, again focuses statewide attention on a woman who for more than a decade has built a reputation of accomplishment, both at home and throughout the state, in civic, humanitarian and political activities.

An active committee of Mrs. Hay's supporters is now canvassing party leaders throughout the state to have the Republican state central committee at its next meeting recommend her for election to the national committee.

Mrs. Hay's selection is being urged on the ground "she is particularly well-fitted by her gifts of vision, organizing ability and capacity for mutual understanding of the problems and aims of people in all levels to assume party leadership and help bring victory to our party's cause in the perilous times that lie ahead."

Mrs. Hay's acceptance of the nomination for the national post was featured by her declaration that "I am distinctly not the candidate of any group or individual. As I see it, one of the most outstanding needs of our party is simply that it must make new friends and supporters. If the contacts which have been mine over so many years in many phases of our civic and community life can contribute to the Republican party's successful future, I will be only too happy to put forth every effort at my command."

Mrs. Hay's selection as Mrs. Warren's successor was ratified April 30 at a meeting of women delegates from all seven congressional districts, following her endorsement by the Wayne county council of Woman's Republican clubs, which has 27 units. Her candidacy sprang from the wishes of her friends and associates in the 14th district to replace Mrs. Warren with one of her closest friends and co-workers.

Having shown marked ability in fundraising positions because of her general organizational talent and ability to instill harmony and co-operation into every group with which she has worked, Mrs. Hay's supporters feel that much assistance will be given her candidacy by women who remember her as both membership and ways and means chairman of the Republican Women's Federation of Michigan.

She was also organizer and chairman of the Women's Division of the Michigan Republican Finance Committee in 1938-39. Mrs. Hay led the statewide women's committee for adoption of the non-partisan judiciary amendment. For many years she has taken a leading part in the work of the Disabled American Veterans' campaigns for child welfare.

Civic, patriotic and humanitarian causes in Detroit and Wayne county have known her as a leader willing to give unselfishly of her time and ability for more than a dozen years. The Goodwill Industries, Volunteers of America and the Women's Association of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra have received the bulk of her attention.

Strem, who mustached ninth grade hurler, permitted only three Grosse Pointe batters to hit safely but was given the sloppiest while the game was still scoreless, and then watched Schock offer up a home run pitch to the first batter he faced and nose dive into a three-run deficit. The blow, hammered into the Mierkovic, lanky Wyandotte first baseman, was the longest hit seen so far this year.

Christian Science Lecture by Mrs. Louise W. Cook, C. S. B.

Under the Auspices of Sixth Church of Christ, Scientist, Detroit, at the Sixth Church Edifice, Kercheval and Manistique, Friday Evening, May 2, 1941

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled Christian Science: Its Message of Joy by Louise Knight Whitley Cook, C. S. B. of Kansas City, Missouri

Dear Friends: How I hope that this lecture may mean as much to some of you as it meant to me!

As the teachings of Christian Science gradually unfolded in my consciousness, I began to realize that things are not always as they seem to be.

It is a strange sensation for me who has read the Bible since childhood to come upon an old sentence suddenly illumined; and yet the light which Christian Science throws upon the Scriptures does that very thing, renders some familiar passages new, and new meanings that he can hardly recall ever having seen it before.

free to the public, designed to meet the need of those who may desire to learn, through the authorized literature of our movement, just what Christian Science has to offer.

God The Bible says, "He that cometh to God must believe that he is." That, then, is the first step—to believe in God; but the next and equally important step is to know God.

Treatment Turning to Spirit to supply our needs, no matter what the false material evidence of the faculty may be, is really a simple definition of what is called a Christian Science treatment. It is the prayer of grateful acknowledgment of God's perfection, and the realization that man, in God's image and likeness, is not imperfect.

Let us refuse to accept mortal mind's concept of itself, as divided into so many human personalities, with human qualities and characteristics. Let us refuse to allow mortal mind to classify us after its own fancy, like specimens in a museum.

Man It is my deep desire that each one of you may go to his rest tonight with a clearer sense than ever before of the truth of Jesus' words, "I and my Father are one."

Nothing of ourselves! Our textbook says (p. 191), "By its own volition, not a blade of grass springs up, nor a tree buds within the soil, nor a leaf unfolds its frass outlines, nor a flower starts from its cloistered cell."

me, he doeth the works." That which is called "invention" is just finding out something not previously known. The human being does not invent. He reflects enough of the divine intelligence to discern some fact which no one has ever seen before, and to apply it to some human need.

Prayer Our Father, God, bestows upon His children only that which is good and perfect, and He "giveth us richly all things to enjoy." In another place the Bible says, "It is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom."

Christian Science brings to tired humanity a message of joy, and the world has come to recognize in many ways its gentle ministrations. It sees broken homes reunited, broken hearts comforted, broken hopes revived.

Salvation through Right Thinking Each man and woman in the world expresses his own thinking. Each one, humanly speaking, presents the composite picture of what the passing years have brought him, for good or ill.

The more advanced members of the medical profession are beginning more and more to stress the effect of thought upon the body. A physician who is regarded, and justly so, as one of the ablest and most humane in the United States once stated that he has more than 50,000 patients, and he is a person rather than a doctor.

If we have, however, that some here tonight are struggling with situations which are not physical, but which is nevertheless causing them some concern. To these also Christian Science brings a message of joy.

then he added, "That where I am, am"—"I am" not in matter; in Spirit, not in flesh; in soul, not in body. He was showing them that the real man—the only man there—lives—where he did, where we all do, you and I, and everyone—in Life eternal.

The Divine Us Does this seem to anyone like a somewhat bold statement to make? It is bold and revolutionary to that sense which has for centuries thought of itself as the proprietor of "worm of the dust," but it is simple and natural and inevitable to those who accept it as the basic fact from which to draw their ensuing conclusions.

Christian Science and Business A thoroughly discouraged mortal once sent the office of a Christian Science practitioner for help on a business problem. He was the picture of despair. For many weary weeks and months he had been looking vainly for employment.

Unlike little Betty perhaps we have had things happening to us which we would like to forget. Perhaps one subject which is uppermost in the minds of some just now is the thought of home.

Possibly the remembrance of some experience long past lies heavily on the heart of someone, some bitter disappointment, some mistake made in an hour of stress, something which he longs to forget, but cannot seem to do so.

Just here I am reminded of a little lady of three, of whom I once read, who is interestingly fond of stories. She likes best to tell them herself, and she tells all with the same enthusiasm. And then he went home to his mother.

as though the very universe were tottering.

What a remarkable bit of wisdom from a small person of three! For does it not embody a great truth, the deep need felt by all of us in times like these when everything else seems to fail? Some of you, perhaps, may be amused or incredulous to learn how often that little story has helped me, when I have seemed tossed on the ocean of events, not knowing which way to turn.

Christian Science and Business A thoroughly discouraged mortal once sent the office of a Christian Science practitioner for help on a business problem. He was the picture of despair. For many weary weeks and months he had been looking vainly for employment.

Because you do not know this, said the practitioner, "that does not affect the fact. It is unalterable. For science was made to change and these absolute truths of Christian Science, as well as many others, but in so doing he was not looking at the shabby figure in the chair before him, nor thinking of it; but with his eyes, his spirit, his discernment he was seeing through and beyond the false evidence of the material senses into the realm of pure reality.

In these difficult days of unrest and instability, with universal world conditions seeming to change almost every rising sun, there may be others who are also disturbed over their financial outlook. If so, the incident just related may give them reason to feel that the messenger has been doing all down the centuries. It knew no other way until Mrs. Eddy made plain, the teachings of Christ Jesus along this line, and placed them in her book, so that all might see and understand their simple and provable logic.

Since you, as man, possess by reflection every attribute and quality of God, these must necessarily be as eternal as the Mind from which they emanate; so you can never lose anything which you have once obtained. You cannot lose your position, nor get back a position. You eternally have it; for it is the place you occupy in divine Mind. Hence it can never be subject to chance, change, business depression, human will, personal animosity, rivalry, jealousy, whim, injustice, competition, nor to the distressing thing called the world situation.

An old business does not have to close the wall if the owner knows enough of his oneness with God to prevent it; and a new business may be safely launched, even in these so-called trying and uncertain times, if the owner knows enough of his oneness with God to direct it. If his business cannot come down under the almost universal uncertainty, or lack of opportunity, his business cannot be defeated, depleted, nor demoralized.

it on. The less he is in the picture, the more there will be of God. If he has a firm conviction that his business will be a blessing to many, and is giving the world something it needs, he cannot lose his happiness in it, his faith in it, nor his success in it. Because of any passing event he cannot be robbed of his courage, his cheery optimism. He is the master of circumstance. In carrying on this business he cannot get overtired, over-anxious, nor overwhelmed by anything which may occur. He cannot lose his strength, nor get back his strength. He always has it. He always has it. He can keep his sense of honesty, integrity, kindness, humanity, and justice untouched amid the noise and distracting turmoil of the world's mad money-making, money-loving, money-worshipping struggle for place and power.

Man exist at the standpoint of conscious realization that the inevitable and unalterable effect of a perfect cause. Hence his real individuality contains no destructive element, no disintegrating factor, no element of disruption, weakness, nor vulnerability. He is a complete unit, complete in his station, knowing no limitation nor boundary. He can never be deceived, victimized, tricked, nor trapped by any subtle scheme of mortal mind's invention. His right mental processes know no interruption. His capital consists of the limitless abundance of spiritual ideas, upon which he can continually draw without fear of their depletion.

Dear friends, this hour which we have spent together is almost at an end. I think the man in the hat is already well on his way, and the little candle he left behind on the table quite burnt out. But he will not need it any more, for he is now walking toward the light, and will shine on his pathway, more and more, "unto the perfect day."

So may it be with all of us. Good night.

Mrs. James H. Partlan was hostess at the Detroit Golf club yesterday, May 7, when she entertained the members of General Alexander Macomb chapter, United States Daughters of 1812, for luncheon in honor of Michigan's two charter members of the national society, Mrs. Frances C. McMath and Mrs. Charles W. Hockett.

The annual meeting of the chapter followed the luncheon with Mrs. Marylin L. Hoagland, president, in charge. A service in memory of the late Mrs. Frank H. Croul and Mrs. A. N. Marion was conducted by the chaplain, Mrs. Clarence J. Chandler. Reports of the 49th Associate Council held in Washington were given by the delegates; annual reports of the officers and committee chairmen were read. The election and installation of officers for the coming year was held.

At the associate council the Michigan Society was awarded the first prize in having located 1,300 graves of soldiers of the War of 1812 buried in Michigan; the work was compiled together with the records of each, placed in permanent form by the state chairman, Mrs. Lynn T. Miller. The work contains two volumes, copies of which have been placed in the Burton Reference Library; the State Historian was awarded second prize for her historical data and the book drive for the American Merchant Marines headed the list in number of gifts.

Pot Roast Flavor There are many ways of varying the flavor of potroast. Different kinds of liquid can be used. Spices can be added. A variety of vegetables can be cooked with it. Tomato juice adds tastiness if used as the liquid.

Uses Ball Bearings A new compressed air gun which emits only a hissing noise, was demonstrated by its inventors in Los Angeles recently, piercing airplane armor plate and cutting a three-inch oak plank in two.

Tree That Grows Sausages In Florida there is a tree that grows sausages. The tree is a native of Africa (Kigelia pinnata). It has rough pinnate leaves and peculiar flowers which hang suspended by long peduncles.

Never Repeated Only once in history, during Lincoln's term, were five living ex-Presidents of the United States known. This unusual number was a result largely of the fact that no President elected between 1836 and 1860 served more than four years.

"Points and Pointers"
The Admiration DeLuxe Method of Scalp and Hair Care, now offered by Pickering's Beauty Studio, 5021 Courville, is designed to provide the missing link between hair health and hair grooming. The method is intended for regular care and is as effective in preserving hair beauty as in achieving it. Laboratory technicians, having at their command the results of the most up-to-the-minute skin research, carefully tested each preparation in the Admiration Test Beauty Salon for a long period, noting reactions and results on all types of hair and scalp. Once the preparations themselves had been scientifically proved, a technique was devised which would permit ready adjustment to any hair need. Thus, it is now possible for every woman to guard against the hair abuses which modern living conditions impose at a minimum expenditure of effort, time and money with this new and effective method of hair care.
Treatments are as simple as they are effective, too. Many women have stated that they have been particularly pleased with Admiration "pickup" treatments because they take only a few minutes. Remember, Pickering's is located at 5021 Courville near Warren, just back of the library. For appointments dial TU. 2-7280.

Motorists - Here's a safe driving tip that may keep you out of an accident some day: When you want to turn your car around on a busy street or heavily-traveled highway, don't turn directly into an alley or side road, and then back out.
