Public Health Enemy No 1

It's a strange thing that doctors can perform operations which are miracles of skill and knowledge, but seem unable to find the remedy for a common, ordinary cold.

Probably more money is expended each year on research to find the cause and cure for colds than on any other medical study. And probably more money is spent by the public on medicines to relieve colds than on any other type of medicine.

On this very day, if the law of averages is holding out as it usually does, 10 per cent of the people in this town are suffering from this common malady, which health authorities consider Public Health Enemy No. 1.

There are of course many medicines offered for the relief of colds, and there is no doubt that some of them do make breathing easier and living more pleasant while a cold is wending its way through the human system.

But that's about as far as remedies go and that's why the federal trade commission frowns upon any advertiser who claims to be able to stop a cold or cure a cold.

One of the leading companies selling a product for the relief of colds made an extensive analysis not so long ago of thousands of people who used their particular product for a cold as compared with thousands of others who did not use it.

Some day this cold mystery probably will be solved. Meanwhile, we all might as well use our favorite remedies and hope that we have the one which makes having a cold least unpleasant.

Election Day Resolution

From the national viewpoint the coming Election Day is a comparatively unimportant one. Perhaps the most important thing about it is that it throws the spotlight on our form of government.

Election day is the people's opportunity to participate in government and to reflect on the possibilities which they have to bring about the things they want through governmental action.

For many years, while most of us have been finding life fairly comfortable, we haven't worried much about government. Some of us go to the polls and some don't on election day, but only a few of us really look into the doings of our representatives.

Foreigners coming to America most always express amazement at the lack of interest so many of us have in taking full advantage of our right to vote and to participate in government.

With the present world problem causing great changes in our government, Election Day, 1941, is a good time for all of us to resolve to take more interest in our government.

All-American Ballet Coming Feb. 17

Americanism being a vital subject these days, nothing could be more appropriate on the concert stage than the all-American Littlefield ballet which will appear on the Masonic auditorium concert series next Feb. 17.

The history of the Littlefield Ballet, by its rapid development and its recognized success, is truly extraordinary.

With each new season the Littlefield Ballet has won increasing success with new ballet presentations, mixing the classical ones with those typically American.

Travel Lectures To Feature New Series Starting November 11

Burton Holmes, Branson De Cou and Van Wormer Walsh are among the featured speakers on a new Tuesday evening series of travel lectures.

The new series aims to help Michigan people plan their next vacation. Each lecture will be illustrated with natural color motion pictures.

Of course if this was Germany, no matter how close a friend of yours that man in the new police shirt was, you'd treat him with the utmost respect when you saw that badge and gun.

But in America, the newly uniformed officer is apt to show embarrassment rather than authority when he appears before his friends.

Lorraine Dalzen, of 843 Loraine, who is a student at the U. of M., has been named co-chairman of the dance committee for the Junior Girls' Play.

Jean Gilmer, of 652 Pemberton road, who is a junior at the U. of M., is a member of the Crop and Saddle Riding club.

Small Town - Defense

The other day Governor Edison of New Jersey stepped before a microphone and said to an audience of 10,000 people in Westfield, N. J., 'I declare a state of emergency in Westfield!'

That was the signal for the two-year old defense organization of Westfield, a small town suburban New York, which has gained the reputation of being 'the best defended small town in America.'

A debris clearance squad rushed onto the demonstration field to clear logs and brush from a 'besieged' street, the volunteer fire brigade made quick work of checking a house fire lit for the occasion.

Staged with little preparation, the 'fire,' the 'riot,' the 'wounds' and so on were treated more or less lightly—but when all of the defense units of the town marched around the field behind the high school band, the whole audience thrilled to the realization that this town had done a job for America.

Frivolity - Bravery
In a small town, where everyone knows everyone else, a demonstration of this kind cannot be expected to be put on without a certain amount of frivolity.

You can't see Tom Smith, the local banker, suddenly appear in a red fireman's hat and red checked shirt without having it strike you funny.

But in America, the newly uniformed officer is apt to show embarrassment rather than authority when he appears before his friends.

Thousands of towns throughout America are now in the throes of building a defense organization like Westfield's.

In the towns along the eastern seaboard the people are more or less sold on the idea. They sense enough danger to feel it is to their interests to have an organization ready 'just in case.'

Not many of them expect German bombers suddenly to come over the horizon. But they know that even without any attack from outside, the 'arsenal of democracy' which flows to eastern ports is a potential danger to factories, storehouses, ships and railroads.

Even in the towns far away from the coast, where defense production is booming, the people are coming to the realization that it won't do any harm to be prepared for emergencies.

It is hoped that our thousands of local defense organizations will never be needed to deal with any foreign foe, but they can be invaluable in helping to keep the home fires burning.

F. H. LaGuardia, United States director of civilian defense, recently estimated that the chances are 94 per cent against any attack on this country.

He has asked for the formation of defense councils in every town throughout the land and has prepared a general plan for the formation of such local councils along uniform lines.

His plan calls for the following groups in each town: Air raid wardens, auxiliary police, bomb squads, auxiliary firemen, fire watchers, medical corps, rescue squads, nurses' aides corps, staff corps, messengers, drivers corps, emergency food and housing corps, de-contamination corps, demolition and clearance crews, and road repair crews.

Catholic Information

Is the Catholic Church The Church of the Ignorant?

Well, maybe. But note this only partial list of the many brilliant minds in the literary field alone, who in recent memory, have come into the Catholic church in adult life with eyes wide open:

'John Ayscough,' Maurice Baring, Edwin Harrison Barker, Robert Hugh Benson, Katherine Brey, Heywood Brown, Orestes Brownson, Dom Bede Camm, Cecil Chesterton, G. K. Chesterton, Isabel Clarke, Paul Claudel, John William Conybeare, Dr. Herbert E. Cory, F. Marion Crawford, Dorothy Day, Christopher Dawson, 'Richard Dehan,' Selden P. Delany, Mary Angela Dickens, Enid Dinnis, Owen Francis Dudley, Richard Lynn Edsal, Ethel Cook Elliott, and Francis Perry Elliott.

Mrs. Hug Fraser, Sir Philip Gibbs, David Goldstein, William Hard, Joel Chandler Harris, Rose Hawthorne, Carlton J. H. Hayes, Christopher Hollis, Johannes Jorgensen, Joyce Kilmer, Frederick J. Kinsman, Ronald Knox, George Parsons Lathrop, Shane Leslie, D. B. Wynham Lewis, Robert H. Lord, Arnold Lunn, Compton Mackenzie, Lucas Malet, Horace Mann, C. C. Martindale, Jacques Maritain, Bruce Marshall, Theodore Maynard, Alice Meynell, Wilfred Meynell, John Moody, Anne Nichols, Alfred Noyes, Dr. William Orchard, Giovanni Papini, Coventry Patmore, and John Howard Payne.

Max Pemberton, Alexandra Rachmanova, Ruir Reed, Daniel Sargent, Sheila Kaye-Smith, Frank H. Spearman, Cynthia Stockley, Charles W. Stoddard, John L. Stoddard, John Swinerton, 'Guy Thorne,' Ivar Tildstrom, 'Sigrid Undset, Aubrey de Vere, 'Artemis Ward,' Evelyn Waugh, Michael Williams, Sir Bertram Windle, and Norman Wise.

Yes, the Catholic church is the church of the ignorant—the church of the intelligentsia—the church for every man, no matter what his race, color, social status or type of mind.

To know more of the Catholic church—its history, its people, its beliefs and practices,—would be, we think, interesting. May we tell you briefly about these things or refer you to books that will give you the information?

Address inquiries to Catholic Information Society, St. Paul's Church, Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan.

Resolution by Commissioner Johnson
TO LICENSE AND REGULATE THE OPERATION OF RESTAURANTS GENERALLY AND AT NIGHT, THE VILLAGE OF GROSSE POINTE PARK ORDAINS:
Part I
Regulations to Protect Customers
Section 1. All Restaurants to be Licensed. No person shall at any time operate a restaurant within the Village of Grosse Pointe Park without first obtaining a Restaurant License.
Section 2. License Application and Requirements. Any person desiring to operate a restaurant shall file an application with the Village Clerk stating the name and address of the restaurant, the name and address of the owner thereof, and any other relevant information which may be requested. Such application shall be referred
(a) To the Commissioner of Health to determine whether there is or will be any unsanitary condition in regard to said restaurant or its operation;
(b) To the Chief of Police to determine if the applicant is a person of good moral character;
(c) To the Treasurer to determine whether the applicant is in default to the Village in the payment of taxes, water bills or other claims.
Section 3. Grant of License. If the Commissioner of Health, the Chief of Police and the Treasurer shall each find in favor of the applicant a Restaurant License shall be issued to the applicant in respect to the restaurant named in the application. If the aforesaid officers shall not all find in favor of the applicant the license shall be denied, provided, that in such case the applicant may demand a hearing before the Village Commission and the Restaurant License shall be issued or denied in conformity with the findings of the Commission at such hearing.
Section 4. Sanitary Regulations. Every restaurant shall -
(a) Be maintained in a clean and sanitary condition;
(b) Not serve or maintain on the premises any food or drink which is not wholesome;
(c) Not misrepresent anything served therein;
(d) Not employ any person unfit to handle food on account of physical condition or any person who has failed to pass a physical examination after having been so requested by the Commissioner of Health;
(e) Be operated in accordance with such reasonable health and police regulations as may from time to time be made.
Section 5. Right of Inspection.
1. Every restaurant shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection on order of the Chief of Police
