Unity Felt Answer To Traffic Problem

Civic Leaders Urge Adoption Of Similar Ordinances

Uniform traffic regulations for the five Pointe municipalities were pressed at a meeting Monday evening in the Neighborhood Club when representatives of civic, religious and police organizations together with educational leaders and students met and adopted a resolution urging the municipalities to join in adopting "uniform traffic ordinances, the uniform disposition of traffic violations and a no-fix traffic ordinance."

The meeting was called by James Kennedy, president of the Men's Club at Grosse Pointe high school, at the urging of a number of local organizations whose members feel that the only way to reduce traffic dangers in the Pointe is by the joining together of all five municipalities in a harmonious program of traffic regulations.

Police Chiefs Thomas Trombly, of the City of Grosse Pointe and Albert Fluitt of Grosse Pointe Farms, explained some of the driving problems with which their departments are now confronted.

Discussions were also held on the following points: The need for uniform driving ordinances in the five Grosse Pointe districts, uniform disposition of cases, a no-fix ordinance, publicity, safety, engineering, qualifications of drivers and education of the public.

After formally adopting the name The Grosse Pointe Safety Council, representatives elected the following officers: James Kennedy, president; Mrs. Florence Muir, vice-president; and Vincent Peterson, secretary.

Three committees were appointed to study the various phases of the proposed plan and to report back at the next meeting with a definite and comprehensive program for carrying out the plan.

E. Van Allsburg was named chairman of the committee to study uniform ordinances and disposition of traffic cases. Victor Wehmeier and Henry Newman were appointed to serve with him.

Dr. Paul Essert will head the committee on education assisted by C. O. Page, Lambert Wheatstone and Paul Russell.

The committee on engineering will include V. R. De Petris, chairman; Dr. Marion Sheaffer and James Austin.

Committee appointments are not yet complete, Kennedy said, and more members will be added to each.

The lecture delivered by Margaret Morrison, C.S.B., at the Fifth Church of Christ, Scientist, Whitmore Road at Second Boulevard, on Sunday, Dec. 7, will be published in the issue of Dec. 23, of The Grosse Pointe Review.

Police, Firemen's Pension Haunts Park Commission

Twice defeated, once by the vote of the village commission, once by the voters of the Park, the recurring question of a firemen's and policemen's pension fund bobbed up once again at Monday night's meeting of the Grosse Pointe Park commission.

Commissioner of Police Ward S. Van Deusen reported that representatives of the police and fire departments had met with Karl B. Goddard, village president, Commissioner Arthur P. Johnson and himself in an effort to devise such a plan.

In a letter read in his absence by Commissioner Van Deusen, Commissioner Johnson recommended that a survey be made by a reliable

Restaurant Given Permit

An all night operators' license for Fridays and Saturdays was granted the Francois restaurants by the Park commission Monday night. The decision was noted by the lack of debate which has characterized the former votes on the granting of "owl permits" in the Park.

Permission for the transfer of two liquor and beer licenses was also granted by the commission. An application for the transfer of the license at the Pointe Bar from the name of Louis McDonald to Howard M. Duncanson, 268 Manistee, was approved as well as one for the transfer of the license at the Grosse Pointe Tavern from the name of Evangelos Karvalos to Peter Ladass.

At Monday's meeting the commission also:

$5,000 Goal Set for Lion's Annual Charity Drive

For the thirteenth successive year, members of the Grosse Pointe Lions Club will embark on their foremost charitable campaign, the sale of "Goodfellow Papers" on the streets of this community all day Tuesday, Dec. 16. Bright and early the Lions Club members will be out on the street corners selling copies of the special Goodfellow edition of The Grosse Pointe Review.

George Kretschmar, president of the Grosse Pointe Lions, has set $5,000 for this year's goal. Carl Schweikart, chairman of this year's sale, and Norbert Denk, co-chairman, believe that the anticipated good weather coupled with the usual generosity of the Grosse Pointe public should more than fill the quota.

As in former years, the policemen and firemen of all Pointe municipalities will assist in the sale, and with their able help every nook and cranny of the communities will be canvassed.

The Goodfellow committee is composed of George Elworthy, director of welfare; Willard Hoskings, in charge of the collection of money; and Nelson Korte and Lee Oldham, in charge of publicity.

Headquarters for the campaign will be the township offices in the municipal building of Grosse Pointe Park. Anyone who will not be at home during the time of the sale and who wishes to contribute to the Goodfellow sale may mail a check to Chairman Carl Schweikart in care of the Goodfellows at the municipal building, 15115 East Jefferson avenue.

Tax collections for the village of Grosse Pointe Park had reached a total of $476,025.07 or 94 per cent of the total roll, members of the commission learned Monday night in a report from Village Treasurer Charles Heise. This compares with a tax collection of $471,013.46 or 93 per cent of the total roll for the same date last year.

The Grosse Pointe Review is the only weekly newspaper covering all of Grosse Pointe and Gratiot Township.

Schools Urge Calmness In Emergency

With the declaration of war bringing overwhelming problems to school authorities, the administrative staff of the Grosse Pointe public schools met yesterday afternoon and outlined a 10-point program to be followed in connection with the United States' war effort.

The most important place where the schools can function at the present time is to prepare the minds and emotions of children and young people for the difficult situation they have to face," the report declared. "Probably as significant as the physical safety of our children, if not more so, is their emotional stability."

The 10 points to be carried out in the schools here include:

1. Teaching children to learn to save by giving up things that seem desirable.
2. Urging older youth and teachers to register for civilian defense.
3. Teaching children conservation of waste materials and consequent (Continued on Page Two)

Fire, Police Chiefs Meet To Plan Defense Program

Machinery for civilian defense moved into high gear in Grosse Pointe this week with police and fire chiefs and local government officials meeting to lay plans for the safety of Grosse Pointe in time of war.

Immediately following the declaration of war by this country, George Elworthy, head of the local branch of the Wayne county civilian defense unit, called a meeting of the police chiefs of the five Pointe districts, where definite plans toward police service were outlined.

A meeting of chiefs of the fire departments of the Grosse Pointe municipalities has been called for tomorrow at 2 p.m. by George F. Dansbury, fire chief of Grosse Pointe Farms.

Following this meeting, police and fire chiefs will hold a joint conference to determine cooperative measures to be taken for civilian defense.

Presidents of the four villages and Mason P. Rumney, mayor of the City of Grosse Pointe, will meet with police commissioners in another session tentatively scheduled for tomorrow night at the Neighborhood Club.

At their meeting Tuesday afternoon, police chiefs agreed that special attention should be given to guarding of the six sewage pumping stations located in the Pointe, the two water pumping stations, the township radio and the gas taps supplying the flow of gas for all of Grosse Pointe.

Three of the sewage pumping stations are located in Grosse Pointe (Continued on Page Two)

8-Year-Old Boys Confess Robberies

Petty thefts that have been bothering Grosse Pointe Woods police since last August were cleaned off the books with the arrest of a gang of six youths, ranging in age from eight to 12, on Dec. 1.

The findings developed after police picked up two boys who confessed the theft of a radio last August, a rifle on Nov. 20, and 30 gas caps from automobiles. They also involved four others in their confession.

A hearing was held at the Woods police station Dec. 5, when G. H. Weekes, probation officer from the juvenile court, released the boys on their good behavior in the custody of their parents.

November Building Hits Year's Low

The hold of national defense over building supplies was reflected this month in the building report for November. Some of the children are taking part in a pantomime called "Christmas Windows," others are learning Christmas carols to be sung between the scenes. The children not in the play are working on scenery, programs and properties.

School Urges Calmness

- Urging young people to enlist in non-uniformed home services such as air warden, fire fighters, messengers, etc.
- Training for meeting fire hazards in the schools and quick dispersal of the children to their homes in emergencies.
- A study of the history of our oriental relations should be simplified and treated with honesty and understanding, particularly our relations with Japan during the past seven months.
- Special observance of Dec. 15 as "Bill of Rights Day."
- Stress and emphasize the importance of service with the Junior Red Cross.
- Urge teachers to register for training in first aid.
- Creation of a high morale in the role of willing if not cheerful citizens. Teach the children that we are a nation of people who are facing their responsibilities without grumbling.

Woods, and one each in the Farms, the Park and the City. Both water supply stations are in the Farms. While the police departments of all five municipalities will have to be strengthened and enlarged by additions to their forces, it was emphasized that each of the police chiefs already has listed at his office a corps of volunteers sufficient to meet the emergency. No more volunteers are needed.

Even before calling this meeting of the fire department heads, Chief Dansbury had begun his campaign for civilian defense. In connection with a campaign for fire-prevention methods in the home, Chief Dansbury is sending to each home in his Farms a card seeking information on the amount, type and location of fire fighting equipment in that home. The information secured from these cards will be tabulated so that the Farms fire department will have on hand exact information on equipment for fighting fires that is available on each street of the village.

Broadcasting

tion's fascinating mobile unit will be in action, and the operating crew will be glad to explain the workings of this unusual unit.

Mr. Perkins states the broadcast will be heard on America's finest receiving sets — Stromberg-Carlson — and promises in advance the public will be astonished at the staticless, interference-free quality of the reception.

Just what is FM broadcasting? To explain this clearly to the layman is a big order. Boiled down to its essentials it is this: Radio waves, in general, have two basic characteristics. The first of these is "frequency," the number of times they vibrate per second, usually measured in kilocycles (thousands of cycles) or megacycles (millions of cycles). Frequency in radio, is like a street address. It tells you where to find a station on your dial.

The second characteristic is "amplitude," the strength or intensity of the signal. Now when we put modulation (voices and music) upon a radio wave, we have to vary something in accordance with variations of the voices and music.

The ordinary method of "amplitude modulation" varies the intensity of the signal. It gets stronger when the music is stronger, fades when the music is weaker. (This is where static comes in because, like most reception-marring noises, static is produced by variations in electric amplitude.)

FM takes another approach. An FM signal remains constant in its strength, but alters its number of vibrations slightly as it shuttles back and forth within the confines of a given channel, 200 kilocycles wide. The result is noise-free from the usual sources of interference and capable of sending over the air programs of extreme fidelity.

But, hear it for yourself! Make a date Monday evening at Perkins Radio company (remember the time — 7 to 9 o'clock) and be prepared for an astonishing and interesting experience.

RETURN FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stirling Brown, of Moran road, will return tomorrow, Dec. 12, after a five-week vacation in Del Monte, Los Angeles, Death Valley and Boulder Dam.

Architecture, Dentistry Subjects of Talks

Grosse Pointe high school students from all grades interested in dentistry or architecture heard Dr. Tex Cranson and Charles Boardman speak on their professions last Wednesday.

Formerly only 11th and 12th graders heard vocational talks, to which they were assigned by their homeroom teachers. This year students from any grade may attend any vocational talk in which they are interested.

Mr. Boardman has been an architect for the past four years in Grosse Pointe.

"In choosing architecture as a profession, the student must study diligently. A course in interior decorating is essential to enter the architectural field," he said.

Mr. Boardman also advised a course in water colors.

"The average individual is capable of entering the profession of dentistry," Doctor Cranson said. To enter this profession it is important to have good eyesight and health, it is necessary to know some Latin and takes at least five years to complete a dental course.

Mothers' Club Plans Xmas Tea Tomorrow

The Grosse Pointe Mothers' Club extends a most hearty invitation to mothers and friends of all junior and senior High School students to join them at their annual Christmas tea, Saturday afternoon, Dec. 13, at 3 o'clock in the High School dining room.

The tea tables will be in charge of Mrs. William M. Browne and her committee.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter of thanks to you. Words cannot express how much I have enjoyed receiving and reading "The Grosse Pointe Review."

After I get through reading the paper I pass it on to other men in Company "B." The men who come from all parts of the country, have commented on how they enjoyed reading the paper.

I have been at Camp Polk since

June and the camp has grown tremendously since then. There are about 15,000 men and officers stationed here. The camp is 15 miles square.

During the Summer Camp Polk was the center of all maneuvers that were going on in Louisiana. There were divisions from all over the country taking part in the maneuvers.

During the past two months the 3rd armored division has been going out every week for two or three days on maneuvers.

The men take part in athletics, such as softball, horseshoes, volleyball, basketball and football. Company B also has a regimental football team.

The last two months the temperature has ranged between 60 and 70, though the nights are cool.

Practically all men 28 years or over have been released from Camp Polk.

Before closing let me say again, thanks for everything.

Sincerely,
PVT. HODSON R. SWINK,
36th Infantry, 3rd (armored) Div.,
Camp Polk, La.

Dear Mr. Oldham:

The past few weeks have brought to my attention the returning of several Grosse Pointe boys from Uncle Sam's army.

These young men upon entering the service of the army left positions with concerns in Detroit. Upon returning they find that their employer who was so full of promises when they left for the service is not half so willing to make the changes in his employes to rehire the young men that left for the service.

We all know the government made a law saying that all jobs would be given back. Who wants to work under those conditions after a job has to be gotten back that way?

Should any Grosse Pointers upon reading this be in need of one of these young men or know of an opening, please call Grosse Pointe Draft Board No. 57 or call Charles G. Burns, 819 Barrington road, M.U. 4091 who is commissioner of the rehiring of drafted men from service.

Very truly yours,
A GROSSE POINTER.

Just a line to let you know we enjoy your articles appearing in The Review on "Catholic Information." Wishing you success in the future.

A READER.

Scouts Get Gifts From Santa

Township Clerk Carl Schweikart threw off his official duties Tuesday night to play Santa Claus at the Christmas party held by Grosse Pointe Cub Pack, 615, Boy Scouts, at the Defer school. Members of each of the six dens in the pack staged presentations showing the way the holiday is celebrated in foreign lands. Each boy received a box of candy from Santa.

Board Accepts Mason School Bids

Plans and specifications for the addition to the Mason school building, the bonds for which were voted by the taxpayers at the election on Sept. 30, were approved by the board of education last Thursday night. The board also authorized Derrick and Gamber, architects, to proceed with the advertising of bids which will probably be opened about Jan. 9, 1942.

At that time the board of education will make a definite decision as to whether the bids are satisfactory in order to proceed immediately with the building or to reconsider and call for a new bid.

It is certain that if prices of materials and cost of labor and war conditions throw the bids into too high a bracket to be reasonable or profitable to the taxpayers that the board would reject the bids on Jan. 9 and re-advertise. Supt. Paul Essert said.

The approval of the present plans was a combination work of several weeks on the part of the architects, the administrative staff, the principal, teachers and parents of the Mason school in suggesting and working out the best types of educational planning that could be devised.

On Wednesday night, Dec. 10, a committee of the Mason PTA, the principal, Miss Ethel Tucker, and representatives of the administrative staff met to review the plans in their final detail. The committee consisted of A. A. Ghesquiere, Clarence Patterson, Paul Rowe, Dr. Clarence Maguire, Herman Schroeder and Hugh McTavish. The committee gave careful study as to how the proposed plans met the needs of the community as well as the specific educational needs of the children.

The original plan for the Mason school building, drawn up in 1928, called for a wing at each end to be added to the present building. This addition will carry out one wing of the original plan. It will contain 12 rooms, six on each of the two floors, at the east or lake end of the present structure. By locating the addition on this end it was not necessary to duplicate the slate roof of the front elevation. The saving resulting was sufficient to provide an additional classroom. Nothing will be sacrificed, however, in conforming to the present architectural lines of the building, Doctor Essert said. Locating the building here also makes it unnecessary to add an additional heating plant.

The 12 rooms will provide for some 360 to 375 pupils, which will probably be sufficient to take care of the increased growth in the Mason district for at least another year or two. The plans for the present building include one large kindergarten room and a small room for instruction of pupils who are somewhat in need of special work and who should meet in small groups. The remaining classrooms will be of standard size and standard equipment, each providing for about 30 pupils. A small receiving room for supplies and equipment will be added at the rear of the building.

The interior will conform as closely as possible to that of the present building, with minor differences designed to provide as much space as the least cost possible. All in all the plans call for a modern, well-constructed, well-ventilated and lighted addition of 12 classrooms for the improvement of instruction of the children in the Mason district.

Trombly Suggests Holiday Traffic Safety Hints

With the dangers of holiday traffic ahead, Chief Thomas Trombly, of the City of Grosse Pointe police department, this week issued a list of warnings about driving and walking conditions in the business blocks between Cadieux road and Neff street. The warnings were particularly addressed to pedestrians.

A series of don'ts headed the list, as follows:

1. Do not attempt to make a turn in any one of the blocks or intersections.
2. Do not attempt to park on the opposite side of the street on which you are traveling, since this cannot be done with safety or without causing congestion due to angle parking.
3. Do not stand at the rear of angle parked cars waiting for a parking space as such a stop will cause a traffic congestion in the entire block.

A recent check up shows that the approximate average of 16 cars a minute pass through the business section during the busy period which will be almost continual until after the holidays, Chief Trombly said.

Motorists can help by:

1. Using the parking facilities in the rear of stores where possible.
2. Park within the lines designated. If the car is parked on the line it prevents the next car from parking properly, thus causing disorder.

In reference to pedestrians, Chief Trombly said that people walking can help to prevent accidents considerably by observing the green light. Walk with the green only and do not cross the street in between the blocks. Cross at intersections only.

Moreover, the chief warned, pedestrians should not be offended if an officer reminds them to wait for a green light. The police department must have the respect and cooperation of the citizens to function properly and effectually.

"Recently one of our police officers was directing traffic at Fisher road and Kercheval," Trombly related. "While helping a number of children cross the intersection safely a local resident crossed against the red light with her child and the officer told her this practice was dangerous not only to her own child but to others as well. The result was a tongue-lashing by the lady to the officer."

"Two police officers will be on duty during the busy season in the Kercheval business section, to serve you and to make your Christmas shopping as pleasant as possible," he added in asking for full cooperation during the holiday season.

In specific direction to drivers, Trombly recommended that by driving home in the evening on the east and west streets other than Kercheval, drivers will help to relieve traffic congestion on those blocks and by not attempting to drive through the blocks faster than 15 miles per hour.

On request of the chief the bus company has co-operated by having the east bound bus stop on the west side of Notre Dame and St. Clair. This will help to relieve congestion at these corners.

Conservation Club Visits Cranbrook

Miniatures of ancient people's concept of the world were one of the many exhibits in the Hall of Science seen by the Conservation Club of Grosse Pointe high school on its trip to Cranbrook a week ago Saturday.

Every science was represented in this hall. Dinosaur tracks, the time clock showing the development of the earth, the tree of life, the 402 pound clam shell, and the numerous exhibits of birds especially appealed to the club members.

Thirty-one members of the Conservation Club were taken to Cranbrook by bus. Everyone brought his lunch which was eaten in the bus. Apples, candy and soft drinks were supplied by the club treasury.

Goodfellow Paper Sale Tuesday for Kiddies

With all the committees appointed, the East Park Manor Civic League, associated clubs and its members are ready to start the sale of the Goodfellows edition, Tuesday, Dec. 16 between 5 and 8 p.m. Most of the sales will be from house to house as the township has few places to sell papers on through streets. We feel sure that the residents of the township will open their purse strings and make this, its first annual Goodfellow sale one long to be remembered.

All moneys from the sale will be used to have a Santa Claus party for all the children of Gratiot township, to be held at the Wildwood Inn on Harper avenue near Manchester.

There will be a speech by a member of the Bar Association from Detroit, then we will have Christmas carols played on the piano, and songs by the children. Cartoon comedies will also be shown, and last, but not least, old Santa Claus himself will be there standing by a big lighted Christmas tree and ready to pass out the Christmas packages to all the children.

Members of the league are asking all residents of the township to make this Goodfellow Santa party a success. Donate generously when your Goodfellow salesman appears at the door with your copy of the Goodfellows edition of The Grosse Pointe Review.

Anyone who will not be at home Tuesday evening at the time of the sale and wishes to contribute to the Goodfellow sale may bring or mail a check to William Jukuri, 19189 Kenosha, Harper station, Gratiot township, Detroit, Mich.

We wish to ask anyone who knows of any children who are destitute, that we will endeavor to do all in our power to see that they are taken care of. We wish also to state that any money not used in this party will be held in escrow in a special bank account for next year's party.

The following will be the chairmen in the respective districts: William Lowry, of the East Park Manor district from Kelly road to Harper; Morris Jenkins, the district between Vernier road and the north township line; Harry Garman, the district between Roscommon and Vernier road, including Eastwood drive.

Don't forget the date of the party, Thursday, Dec. 18, between 5 and 8 o'clock, Wildwood Inn, Harper avenue near Manchester.

Poets Corner

I meet a lot of folks each day
While traveling life's fickle way,
Who seem to me way out of style,
They just don't seem to even smile.
Folks grumble 'cause the weather's hot
And just raise Cain because it's not,
And if we have much needed rain,
Their face is lined with deepest pain.
Then, if their company fails to call,
They'll sit right down and bawl and bawl,
But if they come, you'll hear them say:
"Why didn't they stay home today?"
They don't want this, they don't want that,
They'll chase the dog or kick the cat.
They'll swear because the meat was tough,
And Dad forgot the other stuff,
And if you dare to laugh out loud,
The look they give is like a shroud.
They have a pain, a headache too,
And make the whole house look blue.
If sister wants to see a show,
It costs too much, she just can't go.
When brother wants a brand new bike,
Oh heck, he's young, just let him hike,
And on it goes from day to day,
The family's growing up that way.
Instead of learning things worth while,
And finding out just how to smile.
Just try to smile... 'twill help each day
You'll find it is an easier way.
So get constructive; learn to smile,
And make the whole world seem worthwhile.

Wagnerian Queen With Symphony

Helen Traubel, reigning American queen of Wagnerian opera, whose voice is considered one of the greatest ever developed in this country, and Reginald Stewart, founder and former conductor of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, will be the guest artists at the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's concert Thursday night, Dec. 18, in Masonic auditorium.

With the orchestra under the direction of Stewart, Miss Traubel will sing two of the most popular of Richard Strauss' songs, "Allerseelen" and "Zueignung," as well as the stirring Brunnhilde's Immolation Scene from the third act of Wagner's immortal music-drama "Dusk of the Gods" ("Gottterdammerung"). Stewart has programmed a number of first performances here for his concert: His own transcriptions of Bach's G Minor Fugue and Chorale prelude, "I Call on Thee, Lord," and Mendelssohn's Fugue in E Minor; Symphony, No. 1, by the Eighteenth Century English composer, William Boyce; and Peter Warlock's six-part Capriol Suite. Warlock, a talented young Englishman whose real name Philip Heseltine, died in 1930 at the age of 35.

Additional numbers to be played by the orchestra will be Tchaikovsky's Overture-Fantasia, "Romeo and Juliet," and Ravel's "Alborado del Gravano."

Trio of Orchestras To Feature Youth Ball

Allied Youth will greet the New Year at the Detroit Masonic Temple with their tenth annual New Year's Eve total abstinence ball. Dancing will begin at 10 p.m. and end at 2 a.m. The music of Henry Theis in the grand ballroom, Freddie Warren in the Crystal and Henry Rogers in the Fountain will make this semi-formal dance outstanding.

Radio Testers Are Needed in Defense Production Work

An urgent call for radio testers to participate in national defense production work in manufacturing radios for aircraft was issued here today by Wendell Lund, executive director of the Michigan unemployment compensation commission.

Lund declared that the commission's Michigan state employment service division has available permanent jobs paying excellent wages for men who can test, align and calibrate radio sets.

Applicants must have a thorough knowledge of radio technique; at least a high school education and must be qualified by training and experience. Successful applicants must submit to a physical examination and furnish proof of citizenship.

Lund indicated that "ham operators" who have had 10 years of such work or experience, would be considered by the employer, as well as radio station engineers. "These jobs located in Jackson, Mich.," Lund explained, "are extremely important to the national defense program and must be filled. Men who believe they meet the requirements should report at once to the nearest office of the Michigan state employment service."

The jobs will pay from 70 to 90 cents per hour, with time and a half for over 40 hours. Jobs available offer as many as 60 to 70 hours of work per week. Living quarters are available at moderate costs.

Park Car Thief Held in Nashville

Edward Sullivan, 42 years old, is being held for Park police in Nashville, Tenn., following his arrest there after having stolen a car from the Fisher Record Sales, it was learned Sunday night by Chief of Police Henry C. Piel.

Chief Piel instructed that Sullivan be turned over to FBI authorities. Giving the name of "Adams" and representing himself as chauffeur for a "Judge Harlam" of Baltimore, Md., Sullivan appeared at the Fisher Sales Saturday night, police said, and asked to take out a car for a check up before buying it.

When he failed to reappear, the company notified Park police who sent the alarm over the state police radio. He was picked up by Nashville police late Sunday afternoon.

Firemen Open Safety Drive

In a campaign to educate the people in methods of fire prevention, members of the Grosse Pointe Farms fire department this week began a house-to-house canvass of the village, leaving at each residence a paper listing 10 points of fire prevention in the home.

Occupants of each home are also being asked to fill out a card listing the number, type and location of fire fighting equipment in that home.

Among the 10 points listed by George F. Dansbury, fire chief, are the following:

1. Do not keep paper or rubbish too near a furnace or open flame.
2. Do not attempt to clean clothing with naphtha or gasoline near an open flame.
3. Do not smoke while in bed.
4. Keep matches out of the reach of small children.
5. Do not leave young children alone in the house.
6. Do not store oily rags or paint around the furnace or an open flame.
7. Do not put hot ashes in paste-board or wood boxes.

A Soldier

By PVT. GEO. A. BAMBERG
EDITOR'S NOTE — Private Bamberg, whose home is at 1219 Lakepointe avenue, Grosse Pointe Park, is now stationed at Camp Wheeler, Macon, Ga.

I am just a soldier,
Who works real hard all day.
I try to do my best
For just a buck a day.
But folks don't seem to realize
Just how much work we do;
But if it weren't for us boys,
Just what would they do?
If Hitler comes on over
To take this land from you,
You will find us waiting there
Just protecting you.
So when you see a soldier,
Don't treat him like a bum;
But take him by the hand and say:
"We're glad to see you, son."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Preserver of Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Dec. 14.

The golden text (Psalms 40:11) is: "Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord; let thy loving kindness and thy truth continually preserve me."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalms 57:1-3): "Be merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me: for my soul trusteth in thee: yea, in the shadow of thy wings I make my refuge, until these calamities be overpast. I will cry unto God most high; unto God that performeth all things for me. He shall send from heaven, and save me from the reproach of him that would swallow me up. God shall send forth his mercy and his truth."

MESSIAH LUTHERAN

"Be not offended in Christ!" This will be the theme of the sermon on the coming Sunday, Dec. 14, at 11:15 a.m.

The last of the special midweek Advent services will take place next Wednesday, Dec. 17, at 7:45 p.m. The sermon will treat "The Scapegoat."

TRAGEDY of X by Ellery Queen

CHAPTER V Synopsis

Harley Longstreet, member of DeWitt & Longstreet, brokers, and host to a party celebrating his engagement to Cherry Browne, actress, dies on a trolley from poison scratched into his hand by a needle-pierced cork in his pocket.

At this moment two men appeared at the door, led by a police captain. The newcomers were Patrick Guinness, who had driven the street-car in which Longstreet had been murdered, and a lean old man, who said he was Peter Hicks, ferryman on the New York side.

keep no record of incoming calls " "You know the person who called you?" DeWitt remained silent. Thumm grasped Bruno's arm and marched him to a corner. The two men conferred in heated whispers.
